The King's Daughters have arranged for a dinner to be held on Thursday, April 10th, in the Y.M.C.A.building, the proceeds of which are for charity. After the dinner will be a musical evening, in which Miss Bradley, soloist, Toronto; Miss Hendren, Mrs. Cartwright-Allan, and others, will take part. Admission, 25 cents.

The New Rink.

The promoters of the new skating rink are meeting with much success in their canvas for stock. Scarcely a person who is asked to subscibe for stock refuses, although the amount may be small. At the present rate it will be only a matter of a short while before sufficient stock will be in sight to warrant the calling of tenders for the construction of the new building.

A Presentation.

Miss Bessie Ward, who has been for some time a member of Mrs. Stubbs' class in connection with George street Methodist Sunday School, intends leaving town in the course of a few days. Last night the members of the class presented Miss Ward with an address and a handsome cake dish as an evidence of their best wishes in her behalf. The presentation was made by Miss Ethel Miller.

Real Estate Change.

Mr. R. M. Roy has purchased the brick residence on the south-east corner of Sheridan and Hunter streets, from Mrs. W. C. McCrea. Mr. Roy is having the house fitted up with all modern improvements, and will move to his new residence in about 6 weeks time.

A Large Order.

Messrs. R. Hicks & Company, the enterprising lumber dealers of this town, have put through a big deal for supplying contractor Langford with 100,000 feet of maple flooring to be used on the Cereal Company's new buildings. The grade of flooring is A1 and could not be duplicated anywhere else in Canada. This is said to be the largest order for flooring that has ever passed through the hands of a local dealer, and Messrs. Hicks & Co. are to be congratulated on securing so important a contract.

No. 1 Company.

A meeting of "A" Company, 57th Regiment, P. R., will be held on Saturday evening, April 5th, at 7.30 o'clock, in the drill shed. Business—Issue of clothing for drill, Company organization, and also if any non-commissioned officer or private has any names to propose for membership in the company, it will be taken up at that meeting. It would be best that such new members be brought up that night to be outfitted and introduced to their future comrades. Every non-com. and private is expected to be present so that the company can make a good start in this year's business.

EMPLOYERS AND PRINTERS.

A Mutually Satisfactory Arrangement Arrived at.

Last evening at a conference held between the employing printers of Peterborough, Mr. H. Stevenson, organizer for the International Typographical Union, and representatives of the local Typographical Union, conclusions were reached as to the adoption of a scale of wages to prevail in the local printing offices. The scale includes the shortening of the working day to 54 hours per week, nine hours per day, and a substantial advance on wages, as specified in the scale.

Heretofore no fixed scale of wages had been mutually agreed upon, although a number of the employees in the different offices have been paid wages higher than that of the scale now adopted. Under the new conditions a minimum rate has been adopted at a substantial advance, together with the adoption of the nine-hour movement.

The arrangements throughout were conducted in a most harmonious and satisfactory manner, and the results arrived at without any friction. The reasonable disposition of the organizer, backed up by the good sense of the local members, was responsible for the speedy and amicable adjustment of the demands made by the employees, who have accepted the settlement agreed upon.

MAY LOSE HIS EYE.

An Accident That Occurred to Harry Cavanagh This Morning.

A rather serious accident occurred at about half-past six o'clock this morning to Mr. Harry Cavanagh, son of Mr. "Ted" Cavanagh of the Phelan House. Mr. Cavanagh had just arisen and was commencing his morning duties in the bar. He was bending over a case of lemon sour when one of the bottles exploded. A portion of the neck of the bottle struck Mr. Cavanagh in the left eye, and as a result he will likely lose the sight of that organ. Dr. McGrath and Dr. McCullough attended the patient, and he was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

MR. FAX HERE.

There was a good attendance last night at the entertainment in St. Andrew's Sunday school under the auspices of the Boys' Junior Guild. The chair was occupied by Rev. Mr. McCuaig, of Port Hope, and the chief artist was, of course, Mr. George Fax, of Toronto, who entertained the audience to the satisfaction of all. Mr. Fax is a most pleasing entertainer and may be sure of a warm welcome in Peterborough at all times. Miss VanEvery and Miss Tully rendered an instrumental duet as did also Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. W. D. Wilgar.

Mrs. Kerr acted as accompanist for the evening in a very acceptable manner.

T. A. S. BANQUET

Tendered to the Dramatic Section, Last Evening.

The Lecture hall of St. Peter's T.A.S. was the scene of a delightful evening's enjoyment, when the Literary section of the Society and the Ladies' Reading Circle tendered a complimentary banquet to the young people who so successfully presented the drama "Kathleen Mavourneen," on St. Patrick's night.

An excellent spread was served by Caterer Potvin, and of course ample justice was done to the good things provided.

At the conclusion of the repast, Rev. Father McColl acted as chairman, and in a neat speech he congratulated the different departments o fthe Society on the excellent work being done in the parish. Rev. Father J. O'Brien also added his quota of praise, not only to the literary but also to the dramatic portion of the T. A. S.

Speeches of an eulogistic nature were also delivered by President Joe Begley, Fred Derocher, chairman of Literary Committee, M. J. Sero, chairman of the Trustee Board; Messrs. Jas. Hickey, F. McFadden, Jos. Mahar, J. Sharpe, Angus McPherson, T. Lane, J. Sullivan, and T. J. Begley.

A pleasing feature of the programme was the oratorical efforts of the following young ladies—Misses M. Lynch, M. O'Connell, N. Casey and N. McCabe.

A delightful evening was brought to a close by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, who, in an excellent address, reviewed the year's work, and thanked all who had assisted the Society.

SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET

To be Held in the Y. M. C. A. Building, Thursday Evening, April 17th.

The next great event to mark the close of the winter season of the work of the Y. M. C. A. will be the second annual senior members' banquet, to be held in the building on Thursday evening, April 17th, at 8 p.m.

The banquet will be furnished by the Ladies' Auxiliary, as last year, and a nominal fee will be charged, which will be given to the Auxiliary fund.

The social committee of the Association have the arrangements well in hand, and every member of the Y. M. C. A. should plan to be present.

A prominent Association man, well known to Peterborough, will be present from another city. It promises to be one of the events which will be long remembered. The invitations will be issued early next week.

A MONAGHAN WEDDING.

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. Geo. Young, in North Monaghan, on Wednesday evening, April 2nd, when his daughter, Miss Maggie Ann, was joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, to Mr. James Davidson, youngest son of Mr. Archibald Davidson, of Otonabee.

The bride, who was envied by many, both in appearance and position, looked exceedingly beautiful in an attire of white lapiette muslin. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sadie Young, who was attired in blue lapiette muslin. Both the bride and the bride's maid carried beautiful bouquets.

The groom who was quite popular in the vicinity, was supported by his cousin, Mr. Jas. Weir, teacher of S. S. No. 5, Otonabee.

After the marriage ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Potter, of Peterborough, the guests sat down to a very sumptuous table. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and social talk, and the guests went away carrying pleasant remembrances of a happy wedding.

The presents of which there were many beautiful and useful ones, and of good taste, show in what respect the bride and groom were held by their friends. They all joined in wishing the newly married couple a long and prosperous life.

Gowns for Choir.

The congregation of the Dunn Avenue Methodist church in Parkdale, were rather surprised on Sunday to observe the ladies of the choir appear in their gallery without hats and all dressed in black. The report spread that this was but a preliminary to the adoption of the gown system, and that next Sunday would see the gowns introduced. Mr. A.B. Jury is the choirmaster, and is credited with leading the agitation for the gowns. The pastor of the church denies that the gown system is to be adopted, and states that they were worn on Sunday out of respect to the memory of a deceased member of the choir.

"BUILD UP ONTARIO."

The Motto of Premier Ross and His Government.

THE NEW ONTARIO POLICY.

VIGOROUS ADDRESS BY THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

—Position of the Government Ably Explained by Mr. Stratton—Speeches by Mr. Breithaupt and Mr. Bowman.

The following is the Globe's report of the address delivered by Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary at the opening of the Provincial election campaign, for North Waterloo, delivered in the town hall, Waterloo, on Wednesday:

The chairman then introduced Hon. Mr. Stratton, as a leading member of the best Government the people ever had in Canada, and perhaps in America. Mr. Stratton was received with loud cheers. In opening, he referred to the able manner in which Mr. Breithaupt had represented North Waterloo in the Legislature of this Province. He was glad to see so many ladies present. If their case was left with the ladies of Ontario the Government would go back with flying colours. (Cheers.) He then showed the magnitude of the responsibility of those who governed this Province.

Mr. Stratton went on to deal particularly with what had been accomplished by the Ross Government in the short time it had held power. The Opposition generally held that the Government had made promises that had not been kept, and Mr. Matheson at the last session had specifically declared that "the Government had promised all sorts of things, but performed nothing." In the time at his disposal Mr. Stratton said he could not enter into details of the work done by the Ross Government in fulfillment of its promises, but he would generally deal with one or two. Two years was a short space in the life of a nation, but in that time the present Government had done so much that it was not afraid of the people trusting it for the future.

THE "NEW ONTARIO" PLANK.

The first item in Premier Ross' programme was a promise "to open new Ontario by trunk lines and roads, and make homes for Ontario's sons." The Government had done much in this direction. In 1900 the Government organized a Bureau of Colonization to promote settlement. The past year alone 1,482 farms of 160 acres each had been located, in all 236,120 acres. (Hear, hear.) There has been built since 1898 in new Ontario 417 miles of colonization roads, and graded, repaired and generally improved 1,235 miles. Settlement had been and would be promoted by these means, and by improved means of access by railways aided by the Government. The Rainy River Railway had been completed by the help of the subsidies granted by the Hardy Government in 1899, and its efforts in developing the region it traversed were incalculable. It tapped the million acre farming belt on the Rainy River, and stimulated mining development its whole length to Port Arthur—the gold mines of the Lake of the Woods, and Rainy Lake District and the Atikokan and Mattiwin iron ranges. As to the principal railways aided by the present Government, there was no expenditure of public moneys.

The Hamilton Spectator, a type of the Opposition fault finders, charged, with a sneer, that there was too much "building up" of new Ontario, at the expense of the old. Was this a fact? No. A good many persons had the idea that the effective aid given to railways cost the people of old Ontario something in the way of money, and added to their burdens. The idea was entirely mistaken as regarded the important railways promoted by the present Government. Even if these cost money they would add no burdens, for the revenue of the province was raised by means that do not involve a dollar of direct general taxation. But these lines were aided by grants of land which were practically valueless without access, so that so far as these railway lines were concerned the new country was made to develop itself, and while vastly benefitting older Ontario did not cost a dollar of its revenue. What was the situation when the first railway, the Algoma Central, was thus aided? Important Industrial works at the Sault were at a practical standstill for lack of raw material and the transportation facilities represented by the Algoma Central Railway. The land grant to this railway, in which the public interests were fully protected, gave a new life to industry.

THE "SOO." INDUSTRIES.

Since then the "Soo" industries had largely expanded. Several important new industries had sprung into being, including great steel works, with buildings covering acres of ground, employing thousands of hands, and making steel rails from new Ontario ore brought from the mines by a spur of the very land-aided railway, which was to be completed by the rails made at these works, as would be the other railways, the Manitoulin and North Shore and the Temiscaming. In the enterprise stimulated by the land grant to the Algoma Central Railway millions of capital were employed, and the amount expended on preparatory work alone amounted to ten or twelve millions, with as much more needed to complete the work now under way. The present estimated pay roll in connection with the Clergue industries, for wages and supplies, was $750,000 per month, or a yearly pay roll of $9,000,000, almost one-third of the customs revenue of the Dominion, and almost enough to pay a year's interest on the national debt. (Hear, hear.) This represented an immense development of previously useless resources, and meant a corresponding benefit to older Ontario.

EMPLOYMENT FOR THOUSANDS.

Construction and operating work gave employment to thousands, and the millions for machinery and supplies must be obtained from settled Ontario, giving employment to labour, assisting our industries and stimulating trade of all kinds. His own town, Mr. Stratton said, had been benefitted hundreds of thousands of dollars in this way, and there was no visible end to the widespread results possible. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) All this sprang from the first pulp agreement, conjoined with the action of the Government in helping the construction of the Algoma Central Railway. Similar results would follow the construction of the Manitoulin & North Shore Railway, a development and colonization railway 300 miles in length, which connected new to old Ontario east and west, directed the trade of the newer regions to the settled portions of the Province, and would open about four millions of acres to settlement, and facilitate the development of immense timber and mineral resources, and a tremendous development of internal trade. Less than a year ago in the House Premier Ross promised to build the Temiskaming Railway as a Government work, and the promise had been kept. An act passed last session made the Government of this Province the pioneer in Government construction and ownership of railways. The Temiskaming Railway was to be built from the proceeds of Provincial lands, without the expenditure of a dollar of Provincial funds. That railway, 106 miles in length, would be built with public lands now comparatively valueless, and would give access to and secure the trade to old Ontario of a million acres of fertile land, giving added value to every acre, and promoting an inrush of settlement, with all the attendant advantages. Was not that good policy? Was not that progress? (Cheers.) Was not that enterprise? (Hear, hear.)

Within two years the Ross Government had provided for the construction of over 500 miles of colonization and development railways in new Ontario without a dollar of money subsidy, with public and Provincial interests fully protected, and with accompanying and accruing trade benefits that would stimulate the whole Province to new industrial and commercial life. Not only was it the policy of the Government to build up Ontario by the development of the new portions, with reflected benefit to the older portion, but with an eye to the benefit of the whole province the Government looked for increased revenue, and was able to devote a million to good roads, giving improved highway transportation and facilitating the new industry of manufacturing sugar from beets. Legislation to encourage the industry with $225,000 was passed, and the results were promising. A great interest had been aroused, and Waterloo County was to be benefitted by the establishment of a beet sugar factory, and if only farmers co-operated great results would come.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Since the act was passed in April, 1901, nine beet root sugar companies had been chartered with an aggregate capital of nearly five millions. One factory manufactured in a season 70,000 tons of beets from 5,000 acres, and with, say, ten factories in operation, at $4 per ton, the lowest price, $2,800,000 would go into the pockets of the farmers. The cost of manufacture and labour, with ten factories working up 70,000 tons each, would be $1,400,000, representing a total for one crop, with ten factories operating, of $4,200,000. This could and would be done, if the farmers helped themselves as the Government had tried to help them. A Conservative member of Parliament had called the Germans "the greediest people on earth." He (Mr. Stratton) did not believe that statement could be justified, but he did believe the Germans of Waterloo County were amongst the most enterprising people of the province, for the farmers there had shown the way to the rest of the farmers of the province by being among the first to go into the enterprise of beet root sugar growing and he hoped they would meet with the greatest success.

OUR PULPWOOD RESORCES.

Another way the Government had shown true enterprise was by encouraging the utilization of our pulpwood resources. Exploration by the Government had shown that we had north of the height of land enough pulpwood at 40 cents per cord to be of the value when utilized of $115,000,000, an asset which might be swept away in a season by forest fires. The Government had made agreements with seven pulp companies, who were given the privilege to cut pulpwood, when they had expended in buildings, etc., the large sum of $4,000,000, and if they paid 40 cents a cord for it. The companies did not get a foot of land nor a stick of pine, only the pulpwood needed for their mills. Settlers could locate in any part of the territory and have all the pulpwood on their lands which they could get to the mills. Not a stick of pulpwood could be sent out of the country in an unmanufactured condition, while in Quebec the territory was held on speculation, and the spruce could be taken out and exported, if desired to the United States on payment of a small export duty; while no one, as The Globe pointed out, could export pulpwood from Ontario if he paid $10 per cord. "Ontario for Ontarians" was the Government's motto. Our pulp agreements required the penditure of enormous sums in buildings and machinery, and this must be made within a given time or the right to cut lapsed. In the seven agreements made the companies were required to spend nearly five millions—$4,900,000—for buildings and machinery, and to employ 2,000 hands ten months in the year. What this meant ultimately could be guessed at when it was the fact that from the operation of the first pulp agreement at the Soo, where an expenditure of $400,000 was stipulated six years ago, there had already been spent in works springing from it $12,000,000, and the total expenditure would reach twenty millions. (Cheers.)

The business men of the country approved of the policy of the Government. A former leader of the Opposition, Mr. Marter, separated from his leader and supported the Government on this policy. We cannot afford to stand still and mark time. We must move on and utilize our pulpwood forests to bring settlement into the country, to give employment to our workingmen, and to give capital an opportunity for investment. It was charged, Mr. Stratton said, that the expenditure of the Province had increased. They did not deny the charge. The Government showed that the increased expenditure was directed solely to lessening the burdens of the people, and in the Province assuming obligations that were directly placed upon the people in other countries. (Hear, hear.)

WATERLOO'S SHARE.

Mr. Stratton showed that $755,133.36 had been expended to assist the County of Waterloo, nearly $50,000 being given to assist their agricultural societies, $263,000 for public, separate and high schools, $51,000 for their mechanics' institutes, $45,000 for the benefit of the deaf, dumb and blind from Waterloo County, $60,000 for the maintenance of prisoners, of boys and women in the reformatory, $216,000 for unfortunates maintained at the expense of the Province in the asylums. We cannot have this money and expend it. (Hear, hear.) The speaker had been charged by The Mail with citing these amounts to show how generously the Province deals with every constituency, and it was said by that same organ that he asked the electors to be duly grateful for the gifts. Mr. Stratton had not cited these figures for the reasons mentioned, nor did he ask the electors to be duly grateful. He simply mentioned them to show to the people in the counties that it was impossible "to have your cake and eat it too;" that the increased expenditure had been wisely made, and to show the unfairness of their political opponents in charging the increased expenditure without showing the people where the expenditure had been improperly made.

Mr. Stratton showed by a map the territory that would not have been the property of Ontario had the Opposition had their way in the Legislature. He pointed out various projected railways, and showed the extent of the pulpwood concessions and agreements, and concluded a strong speech in defence of the Government.

When the Minister resumed his seat there was enthusiastic cheering, and the successful meeting dispersed after cheers for the King, the candidate and the Ross Government.

If you are Using Brain and Muscle in the Pursuit of Your Life Work, Use

Malt Breakfast Food

Men and women who make Malt Breakfast Food their first dish at the morning meal avoid the many discomforts that come to those who use oatmeal and other starchy grain foods.

Malt Breakfast Food users go forth to the work and duties of the day with a full store of bodily and mental energy so necessary for battling the worries of business and home responsibilities. The reasons are plain and simple. Malt Breakfast Food is easily digested and quickly assimilated; it is an energy producer as well as a flesh, bone and muscle-builder. Oatmeal and other starchy grain foods tax the powers of digestion, exhaust existing energy, give rise to stomach troubles and skin eruptions.

If you are a daily worker depending upon body and brain power, make Malt Breakfast Food your regular morning dish; health, strength and happiness will be your reward. All grocers.

TENNIS.

In the report of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club meeting the statement was omitted that a new office had been created, that of Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, to which Mr. Frank Bradburn was unanimously elected.

THERE ARE MANY REASONS

Why Henry & Co. are able to hold the continuous custom of Peterborough's best people.

Courteous treatment—perfect cleanliness and order—conscientious effort to give customers precisely what they ask for, are other reasons.

A little Good Ale or Porter is as good a spring tonic as anyone could take. If we didn't keep it Good we wouldn't sell it.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 3rd.—Sr. and Ln. should be excellent purchases. We consider Penna. one of the leaders. We are strongly of the opinion that these shares will give a good account of themselves this month. The latter is working up in a fine manner, and the stock is being accumulated by friendly interests that have been identified with the property for many years. The Atchison issues should prove winners also. The Berwind pool are as bullish as ever upon the shares and hold immense lines of both the pfd. and common. Atch. continues to make a marvellous showing as far as net earnings are concerned. The road is making steady progress all the time, and preparing rapidly to enhance its facilities for doing business. St. Louis and San Francisco Stock should be mentioned when speaking of the Atchison system. The country through which it runs warrants the road's rapid progress. One stock exchange house has accumulated over 30,000 shares of the stock and are actively engaged upon the bull side.

St. Paul is another favourite that is below its customary quotation. Those shares have been extensively purchased recently by prominent Wall street interests. The rise in Rock Island and North West should indicate the way that St. Paul must travel. We are very bullish upon St. Paul. The set back in the tractions offers a good opportunity to purchase them, especially Manh. and Brt. Possibly Met. may be weak for a time more. It is the evident desire of Met. insiders not to have the stock advance much at present. Do not sell it short when weak, however. Insiders are not given to notifying outsiders what to do for their benefit. The general list of railway and industrial issues all look well. We believe stocks will rule considerably higher during April.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Murray Street Baptist Church.

Clarence Glass, boy vocalist.

The above are the artists engaged for the organ recital and sacred concert at the Murray street Baptist church on Tuesday next, 8th inst.

Speaking of the remarkable musical talent of the two lads, aged 11 and 12 respectively, the Globe says: "The soprano solos of Master Clarence Glass, with violin obligato by Master F. Williams, fairly brought down the crowded house at the Massey Hall on Monday evening, in the festival of lillies."

Beaure to hear them. Tickets 25 cents each, can be obtained at Sailsbury's bookstore, Peterborough music warehouse, Madill's drug store, C. B. Routley's, Examiner office and Review office.

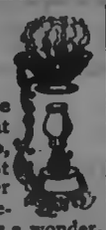
Do You See It?



Look carefully at this little picture. There's a great deal to it. There's a lamp, that makes the heat. Right over it is the vaporizer that holds the Vapo-Cresolene. This Cresolene is a wonderful medicine. It kills most kinds of disease germs, and is a most remarkable healing agent. You simply breathe in the vapor of it, that's all; it goes all through your bronchial tubes, curing asthma, croup, coughs, catarrh, whooping-cough. 11

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.5; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPO-CRESOLENE CO 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

SENATOR M'MULLEN

Complimentary Banquet to Him at Mount Forest.

A MOST SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Senator McMullen Greeted Cordially by 150 Guests, Among Whom an Enthusiastic Tone Prevailed—Some of the Big Guns Who Were Present—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Regrets Inability to Attend.

Mount Forest, April 3.—The public services of Hon. James McMullen were fittingly recognized by a complimentary banquet tendered him here last night. It was given by his old political friends, the Liberals of North Wellington, and was a most successful affair. The occasion was intended to celebrate Mr. McMullen's appointment to the Senate, and the men who had so loyally supported him during his long career in the House of Commons met to formally extend congratulations upon his elevation to the upper House. The banquet was held at the Coyne House, the dining-room of which was prettily decorated. The guests, who numbered about 150, were seated at four tables, and the seating capacity of the room was fully taxed.

Mr. Thomas Martin, President of the Liberal Association, occupied the chair, and at the head table were Hon. James McMullen, Hon. J. M. Gibson, Hon. John Dryden; Messrs. F. W. Galbraith, Guelph; George Binnie, South Grey; John Anderson, Arthur; James McEwing, Drayton; Mayor William Gruer, Rev. Dean O'Connell, Rev. W. G. Hanna, Rev. C. H. Emerson and Mr. James McCall, Mount Forest. The assemblage was most representative, and included many sturdy Liberals who had fought the battles of the party in this district for years past, and who looked forward with confidence to the political struggles of the future. Senator McMullen was cordially greeted, and throughout the evening an enthusiastic tone prevailed. An excellent repast was served, and an extensive program of toasts was begun. Many bright speeches weee made, and the visitors brought complimentary messages to the guest of the evening. Mr. McMullen, in acknowledging the kindness of his friends, briefly reviewed his course in Parliament, and the efforts he had made to advance the cause of good government in Canada.

Lotters of regret at inability to attend were received from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. James Sutherland, Hon. William Paterson and others.

MAJORITY ABOUT 6,000.

What Ministers Say About the Vote on the Manitoba Liquor Act—Hugh John Not Surprised.

Winnipeg, April 4.—Further returns of voting on the Liquor Act referendum received to-day increase the total vote to the neighborhood of 39,000, with a large number of the distant rural municipalities to hear from. The unreported places are expected to split about even, leaving a straight majority of about 6,000 against the enforcement of the act. Tache and Desalaberry give large majorities against the act. The official majority for Winnipeg is 3,406 against. The estimated totals now stand: Against the act, 17,464; for the act, 11,137; majority against 6,327.

Hon. Robert Rogers says: "I suppose we will carry out the will of the people now that we know it. The large vote polled was evidence that the Dominion Alliance non-voting policy did not carry many adherents."

"Did the result meet your anticipation?"

"I cannot say. Things were so badly mixed up that it was very hard to decide whether Manitoba really wanted prohibition or not. Now we know and know how to act."

Hon. Mr. Davidson says: "The sentiment seems to be strongly opposed to the act, judging by the result of yesterday's vote, so far as we have heard. The bad state of the roads no doubt kept many away from the polls on both sides. I voted from my home at Neepawa. There everything was carried on quietly. I found the temperance people working as hard as those on the liquor side, but Neepawa went against the act."

When questioned as to whether the Liquor Act would be repealed, Mr. Davidson replied: "I suppose there is no other course open. There will not even be a percentage to consider in the matter."

Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald says: "I am not surprised at the vote, when the position taken by the Dominion Alliance is considered."

Manchurian Convention.

Pekin, April 3.—The signing of the Russo-Chinese Manchurian convention only awaits the receipt of the information as to whether objection to it would be raised by other powers. Since the treaty has been modified as a result of the pressure exerted by the United States, Great Britain and Japan to its present form, it is not believed that any difficulty on this score will be encountered.

Two Fire Damp Explosions.

London, April 4.—Six men were killed as the result of an explosion of fire-damp Wednesday night, in a colliery at Wigan, Lancashire. A number of the men were entombed at Dunfermline, Scotland, this morning, owing to a similar accident.

A DIVISION IN THE HOUSE.

Ottawa, April 4.—Lieut.-Col. Sam Hughes arose and made a protest against aspersions cast upon Canadian soldiers in The London Daily News. The writer of a letter in that paper declared that at Faberspruit the Canadians had stripped the boots and stockings off dead Boers and pulled out their toenails as mementoes. The statement, Col. Hughes said, was utterly untrue.

The Speaker having interposed a point of order the subject had to be dropped.

Later in the day he renewed his protest against this libel, and read a letter from an English yeoman published in an English paper, denying the charge, and pointing out that the story probably arose from the fact that the Boers had taken off their boots in order to be able to creep quietly up to the British camp. Hence the story that the Canadians had stripped the enemy of their boots.

A resolution to refer back to the Committee on Railways the bill to extend the charter of the Montreal Bridge Company, which the committee had killed, was moved. After a lengthy discussion, the motion was defeated by 85 to 62.

In reply to the Opposition leader, Mr. Sifton said he expected to introduce a bill during the present session dealing with Yukon matters, and in all probability the bill would deal with representation in parliament, the matter being at present under consideration.

The debate on the budget was resumed by the Conservative whip, Mr. Taylor. The debate was continued by Mr. Walter Scott, who was replied to by Dr. Roche.

A Sufferer From Backache.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Every day adds scores of names to the long list of persons who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and among those who are now enthusiastic of this great medicine is Mr. W. Gilroy, the well-known merchant of Blenheim, Ont.

Like many others, Mr. Gilroy now wonders why he did not use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the first place, instead of experimenting with new-fangled and untried remedies. There is no doubt about the exceptional virtues of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They act directly on the kidneys, liver, and bowels, and thoroughly cure complicated ailments which cannot be reached by ordinary remedies.

Mr. W. Gilroy, general merchant, Blenheim, Ont., states:—"I am rather enthusiastic in the praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and believe I have good reason to be. For several years I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and had pains in my back almost constantly. I tried a great many remedies, but did not succeed in obtaining more than slight temporary relief.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I did so with great satisfaction. I had not taken half a box before I began to feel better, and now realise that I have entirely recovered. I often wonder now why people go after new-fangled remedies when this tried and proven medicine is so easily obtained, and so certain to cure."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have the hearty endorsement of good citizens in nearly every city, town, and village in Canada. They are probably the most popular remedy that was ever introduced into this country, and their enormous sales are due to the fact that they radically cure serious and chronic diseases. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 3

Nip Disease in the Bud.

It is difficult to eradicate a disease after it has become seated, therefore it is wise to take any ailment in its initial stages and by such remedies as are sufficient, stop it in its course. Cold is the commonest complaint of man, and when neglected leads to serious results. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will cure the severest cold or most violent cough.

Hopes For Talmage.

Washington, April 4.—Dr. G. L. Magruder, the physician in attendance on the Rev. Dewitt Talmage, said yesterday that his patient has not gained as rapidly as he might wish. He said there were no immediate alarming symptoms, however, and that while he was exceedingly anxious, he was not entirely without hope.

MUNICIPAL RAILWAY IN COLOGNE.

The city of Cologne has municipalized its street railways, not waiting for the franchises to expire—the last of which would not have fallen in until 1924—but buying out the company through a carefully conducted agreement.

The city authorities appointed in 1897 a committee to ascertain on what terms the company would dispose of the property.

The city of Cologne was to pay to the Street Railway Company: (1) An annual sum of 1,000,000 marks ($238,000) from January 1, 1899, to June 30, 1918, amounting in all to 14,500,000 marks ($3,451,000); (2) from 1908, 25,000 marks ($5,950) for each year, until June 30, 1918.

All the lines passed without any indemnity other than that specified in this contract, into the possession of the city. The city took possession of all real estate, buildings, and accessories used by the company.

The actual cost to the town, therefore, including the cost of any buildings they might subsequently take over, was, in round figures, 16,500,000 marks ($3,927,000).

For the conversion of the existing lines into electric traction and for the laying of one or two new lines, the city granted an appropriation of 18,000,000 marks ($4,284,000). The overhead wire system was decided on and one section was opened for traffic on October 15.

In 1898 the clear profits amounted to 1,028,000 marks ($244,400), and as the profits have increased regularly it is hoped that in 1914 they will amount to 2,380,000 marks ($566,400).

The fares charged at present are:

	Marks.
Yearly tickets, good on all lines	120.00	$28.56
Monthly tickets:
Good on all lines	10.00	2.38
Good on any one line	7.00	1.66
Ordinary fares:
For maximum distance	.15	.035
For minimum distance	.10	.024
Children under ten years of age, maximum distance	.05	.012

Persons attending educational institutions may secure communication tickets whereby they are allowed to ride the maximum distance for 5 pfennigs (1.2 cents).

The management of the railway is in the hands of a committee of the Town Council, the actual manager being appointed by the Council, and having the usual staff of engineers, inspectors, etc., whose salaries are the same as those paid by similar concerns.

The town may at any time let or sell the right to work the railways, should it be found that this would be most satisfactory; but the general impression is that when the final payment has been made to the old company the profits will in a short time amply repay the initial expenditure.

Fish Bites in Submarine Cables.

Interference with submarine cable service due to fish bites occurs from time to time in shallow water, but lines in deep water have not hitherto suffered from this cause. An English telegraph company, however, now reports that in repairing a fault in one of their cables at a depth of 330 fathoms the section removed was found to contain a tooth firmly fixed in the core of the cable, although the core was protected by the usual sheathing of thick iron wires and insulating material. An examination of the tooth showed it to be from some species of shark.

Progress in Taxidermy.

Of recent years great progress has been made in the reproduction of the naked skin parts of certain bird forms and mammals. This is done by the use of special preparations into which may enter wax, various pigments and other materials. By the use of these and much else employed by the skilled artist in taxidermy the wattles and combs of fowls, the practically naked heads of turkeys, vultures and condors, are reproduced so as to have every possible appearance of the structures referred to as they appear in life.

The man who can hardly crawl, and has just strength to get through a day's work, has no strength left for family life. He wants to be quiet; to be alone, out of sight and sound of everybody.

What makes the difference? Usually disease of the stomach, involving the entire digestive and nutritive system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured the hindrance to the proper nourishment of the body is removed and strength comes back again.

"I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine," writes Mr. A. J. Vanderwater, of 873 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill. "In all I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets.' They have done me worlds of good. These medicines have brought the great change in me from a slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, and could do no work. Now I can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling is all going away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little liver 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years. No other doctor for me, only Dr. Pierce."

SPRINKLING SINGAPORE.

The Solemn Procession That Accompanies the Watering Cart.

Poultney Bigelow in his description of the marvelous progress made by the city of Singapore under English rule gave a quaint picture of the manner in which the streets are watered:

The watering cart was drawn by little white bullocks and driven by Malays with turbans. It seemed to take five Malays to do this driving. One roosted aloft on top of the barrel for the purpose of controlling the outgo of water. He seemed very proud of his appointment. Another native in a big turban roosted on the pole and controlled the little cattle.

Then there was a man in thin brown legs and much turban who walked solemnly behind enjoying a footbath. He was obviously a government functionary, although his exact sphere of usefulness I could not discover. He appeared to be something in the nature of a rear guard.

Then there was a "foreloper," or advance guard, for the purpose of clearing the way. There appeared to be an idea that the little bullocks might suddenly go mad and rush ahead. At any rate, it gave congenial employment to one more native, and that was something.

There was yet another, who bent down now and then to pick up a piece of stone or brush away some irregularity unseen by ordinary eyes.

This outfit was a treat to me. It was solemn; it was full of self consciousness; it was magnificently oriental.

I have seen men in sublime moments; I have seen the red capped station master of Germany strut up and down his platform when an imperial train was about to arrive, but even that impressed me less than the watering cart of Singapore, with its municipal hierarchy of Malay ministers, each earning perhaps 2 cents a day.

Doves and Coronations.

At the ancient ceremonies of coronation of the French kings, after the anointing had been performed, some white doves were let loose in the church. This was supposed to symbolise the power of the Holy Ghost in directing the king's actions. A similar idea seems to have inspired all early kings, for among the English regalia is the rod of equity or the scepter with the dove. This is simply a golden rod with a mound at the top, which supports a cross. On this cross is a dove, fashioned of white enamel, with expanded wings. Some fine diamonds ornament the rod in various places.

Patriotic Elder-Dempster Co.

London, April 3.—Telegrams from Liverpool say that the Elder-Dempster Company announce that they are willing to carry sugar from Kingston, Jamaica, to Avonmouth, England, free of charge, in order to help the West Indian planters tide over the period until the sugar bounties are abolished and to cultivate trade between Jamaica and England.

Talmage a Sick Man.

Washington, April 3.—At the residence of Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, it was stated yesterday that his condition for the last two days has remained unchanged. He is said to be still a very sick man, and his physicians have informed the family that, if there is to be any improvement at all, it will be very slow.

Washington, April 3.—Secretary Hay and Mr. Raikes, Secretary of the British Embassy, yesterday signed a treaty extending to the British colonies the provisions of the original treaty between the United States and Great Britain for protection of industrial properties.

The Liver at the Bottom.

The liver is usually at the bottom of a great many diseases. It is the liver which abstracts the bile. It is the bile which enters chemically into the composition of the digestive ferments, and also acts as a cathartic. Merrill's System Tonic makes a strong, healthy, active liver, hence is a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Constipation and Nervous Trouble. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

One Man Horribly Burned.

Halifax, N.S., April 3.—Five men were burned, one of them fatally, by an explosion of a barrel of kerosene oil in the store room at the dry dock at 2 o'clock this morning. One of the men dropped a match into the barrel of oil. William Ogilvy, aged 23, had the flesh burned off his hand and face and all the hair off his head.

Shipping Tied Up.

Halifax, N.S., April 3.— There was no change in the situation last night of the longshoremen's strike. The men are still out, and there is no settlement of the difficulty in sight. Several steamers are tied up at their docks, no attempt being made to put the freight on board.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

No Excuse This Time.

"It was a new gun, your honor," protested the prisoner, "and I did not know it was loaded."

"But," argued the judge, "the dealer has just told us that you did not pay for the weapon."

"What has that to do with it?"

"Well, if you didn't pay for it the dealer must have charged it for you."

And the judge tried to look as much like the pictures of Solomon as he could.

Josh Billings Said of Niagara Falls

That the reason why people liked it was "Becawz nobody kin make wun jest like it." For the same reason people like Four T's, the great guaranteed cough cure. It is the only lung remedy made that cures coughs and colds in two days with perfect safety. Children like it and it cures croupy coughs. Sold in 25c. bottles by Ormond & Walsh, druggists.

Mother Killed by the News.

North Tonawanda, April 4.—Yesterday a despatch from Niagara Falls, N.Y., said: A young man, believed to be Fred C. Heintz of North Tonawanda, committed suicide by leaping over the Horseshoe Falls at Terrapin Point, on Goat Island, between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was observed by E. W. Swenson of Lansing, Mich., acting queerly. In reply to Swenson, Heintz said there was nothing in particular the matter. A minute later he had disappeared over the fall. He left his overcoat and papers behind, and these served to identify him. He was about 23 years old, and was despondent.

Later the supposed suicide turned up at home to find his aged father on a grief stricken bed and his mother dead as a result of the news that he had thrown himself over the falls.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

Touching.

"Are you a married man?" inquired the inquisitive stranger.

"No, sir," replied the other sadly.

"Oh," said the first, "I trust you will pardon me for referring to your bereavement. I should not have opened such a touching subject."

"Touching describes it beautifully," murmured the other. "It is hard to pay $15 a week alimony."

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Saves Sleepless, Nervous Despondent and Morose People From Insanity.

Medical men of the highest standing, and a host of educated men and women competent to judge, declare that Paine's Celery Compound is the only true and effective medicine for the banishment of the ills that make life miserable in springtime.

In the spring season tens of thousands are sleepless, fretful, nervous, despondent and gloomy. They find it impossible to obtain restful sleep, and soon become physically exhausted; some are already mere wrecks of humanity.

Such sufferers cannot with safety trifle with their condition. They need immediate succor and aid before nature is too severely overtaxed. The weakened exhausted and irritated system must be fortified at once.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only agent that can afford the run-down, nervous, sleepless and despondent victims prompt relief and permanent cure. If you are assured of this fact dear reader, do not hesitate a moment; putting off will certainly aggravate your condition and lead you nearer the grave. If you wisely determine to test the health-building powers of Paine's Celery Compound, do not accept a substitute or vile imitation. Your special case demands the best; you are paying for it and should get it. Ask your dealer for PAINE'S, refuse all others. See that the name is on the bottle and wrapper.

GOIN' H'UP DE SHANTEE.

Dees a long time ago I will tole you,
When de pine tree was grew everywhere,
An' dere's plainties beeg moose and black bear.

My fader, he's live at Three Rivers.
Where we see lots beeg crowd h'every day,
What was pass on portage an' small bateau,
Goin' h'up for do work en shantee.

Dere de boys from enbas at Point Levis,
An' lots beeg Scotchmans from Quebec Call, MacLaren, an' Ross, an' McTierman, MacCuaig, et son frere, Pete-Alex.

So wan day, before snow was come heavy,
Mon pere, spik' lik' dis wid ma mere,
En haut, where he'es mak' beeg timbere."

H'everyone h'on he'es place but Maxine,
An' Carlo,—caus' dat's pretty cole weather,—
Was sleep in warm place, hav' he'es dream.

Dey was talk an' sing song 'bout de camboose,
Bout dat beeg Loup-garou, dat sure will catch you,
Ab' he goes h'every place—I don't care.

When dat story was just after finish,
Ah' everywan was feel pretty scare,
De door she was very queek h'open,
An' whose dat, but young h'Alphonse Grigoire?

Date a long tim' nobody don't see heem,
He'll be gone many year,—near t'weentee.
But now he's come back for de firs' tam',

It's not long, till he show us good chances,
For all hands to make plaintee monee,
So my fader, was say "Bon Mon Johnnie,— We'll be ready for go—dats Monday."

So h'Alphonse an' me fader mak' bargeet,
I'll go h'up for work—cash forty-three,
Wid plentee fer h'eat and good blanket,
An foreman, Irishman, call MacVeigh.

Marie, dats me sister, mak' me muffler,
Ma mere, pack me bag an' valise,
But de wors' job I ever was try me,
Was say good-bye to me girl, Eloise.

But I mus' go sure enough, dats all settled,
So she promise go de church nex' Sunday,
Wit me h'on Burleau, dat's de bargeen,
Just wan trip, befor' I'm goin' away.

So nex' Sunday night we was comin'
Eloise an' me h'on small burleau-sleigh,
Ah' she say, "Pare, son va tu au shantee?"

I'll say "Yes, I'll be goin' to-morrow,
Fer what you'll be h'ak me dat, eh?
I suppose you have plentee more fellas,

Then she's cry an' seem very much trouble,
Ah' I speak her so nice I can do,
So she say, "Mon cher Pierre,
I don't lovet no wan,
I jus' care wan small piece fer you."

Ba gosh, dat mak' me feel bully,
So my h'arm, it was slip roun' he'hin',
Ah, the firs' ting I know, I'm ashame tole you so,
Its good job dat ole horse, he was bline."

So we fix dat whole blaness right dere den,
We'll be marry some tam' de nex' spring,
At de church, we mak' prayer, le bon Dieu for spare,
An' bring me safe back—everyting.

We'll, I'll start h'off the very nex' morning,
Wid beeg gang, what leav' dat same day,
All rig h'out in blue tuque and red stockin',
"Aux revoirs—Nous allons aux shantee."

Every one who would have a clear, soft, velvety skin free from pimples, blackheads, redness and disfiguring eruptions must use Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is a true food for the skin, does not clog the pores as do powders, and insures permanent benefit. There is not a single itching, burning skin disease of men, women or children that Dr. Chase's Ointment will not cure. Mothers find it invaluable for Baby Eczema, scald head and chafing on the little ones.

WERE DISAPPOINTED.

The crew of the steamer Water Lily is a disappointed crowd and there are no doubt many people along the shores of the Otonabee River and Rice Lake in the same humour. The steamer was to have made her initial trip of the season from Harwood to Peterborough this morning, but when she attempted to go down last night, the G.T.R. bridge was not ready to be opened. Just where the difficulty lies is not yet known, but the Lily had to remain on Little Lake. There were about 30 people at Harwood this morning waiting for the boat to bring them to Saturday market and it is quite probable that there were as many more persons along the river who were equally disappointed.

BAND CONCERT.

Another large audience assembled in the opera house last night to hear the concert by the band of the 57th Regiment. A programme of the usual excellence was rendered. The feature of the programme was the appearance of Mr. Jack Perle, of Kingston, the favourite comic vocalist, who was ably supported by Mr. Scott, of town.

MECHANICS' LIEN ACT.

A Measure That Has Saved Thousands of Toilers From Being Defrauded.

A GREAT BOON TO LABOUR.

How Its Scope Has Been Extended—Denounced by the Opposition as "Class Legislation."

Among the many enactments passed in the interests of the labouring classes by the Liberal Government of Ontario there is none which was more urgently needed, or has been of more practical benefit to the people, than the Mechanics' Lien Act of 1873, and its various amendments. At the time of its adoption mechanics and labourers were subject to frequent injustice and hardship at the hands of unscrupulous or irresponsible employers. After working for weeks or months on a contract they would find themselves entirely dependent upon the honesty of the employer for their arrears of pay, often amounting to a considerable sum. The contractor having drawn his money for the job might abscond, or, in case he owned nothing in his own name, might — and not infrequently did — defy his workmen to collect anything, or perhaps, taking advantage of the whip-hand he held, compromise with them for a fraction of the amount rightly due. The only remedy the workman had was that of an ordinary suit at law, which frequently meant "throwing good money after bad," and in any case involved unreasonable expense, delay and loss of time, which to a man working by the day, is money.

How Working Men Were Robbed.

It is difficult for any one living in these days, when the rights of labour have been so carefully safeguarded by a series of enactments, framed for the protection of the workers, to realize what was the frequent experience of the workingmen a quarter of a century ago. Then, as now, men often found themselves in the position of being compelled to take the first job that offered. They could not hesitate and delay until they had an opportunity to enquire into the financial standing or honesty of the man who offered them employment. They were only too glad, as a rule, to take the chances and trust to luck, on the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread; unscrupulous or unreliable men took advantage of the situation. They would obtain contracts by underbidding their rivals, pay something from time to time on account of wage bills, and then when the work was completed, the men might collect the balance if they could.

This system put the honest employer, who meant to deal fairly with his men, at a disadvantage, and was an encouragement to the scamp, the adventurer contractor and the soulless exploiter of labour.

The Abuse Suppressed.

In 1873 the Liberal Government of Ontario initiated the legislation which has proved so effective in suppressing this abuse and giving the workingman absolute security for his wages, so far as law can do it, by the enactment of the Mechanics' Lien Act. The principle of this measure, at that time entirely new in Ontario legislation, is to give to mechanics, labourers, contractors and all persons doing work or furnishing materials for the construction or repair of any building, or placing machinery of any kind in position, a lien upon the building or land for the amount due. It provided a cheap and simple means for establishing and enforcing the claims arising under its provisions.

The Conservative party at this time were posing as the special friends of labour, but this did not prevent them from adopting their usual tactics of belittling and carping at the legislation, which they were afraid to oppose openly. They ridiculed the measure, decried its utility and prophesied its failure. They urged that it was contrary to principles of sound legislation. They tried to prejudice the minds of the people against it. Hon. M. C. Cameron, then leader of the Opposition, assailed it repeatedly. When the measure came up in the House on the 18th of February, 1873, the Mail reported the Conservative leader as saying:

"He did not believe it would be found workable or that it would be of any benefit whatever to the workingmen. It was simply a sop to Cerberus. . . He admitted that this was class legislation and that the principle was open to objection, but if the House was to pass a bill of this kind at all it should be such a measure as would be workable and would confer a real and substantial, instead of an illusory, advantage."

How Things Have Improved.

Those workingmen who are old enough to remember the hardships and disabilities under which their class formerly suffered in regard to securing payment for their labour, can best realize how far the predictions of the Conservatives at that time were astray, and most accurately estimate the benefits resulting from this enactment. As was only to be expected in a new departure of this sort, as in the test of a new piece of machinery, the working of the act revealed some defects in the machinery which have been rectified from time to time by supplementary legislation. The scope of the original Act has been greatly enlarged and its operations perfected by measures passed in 1893 and 1896. One highly important section of the Act of 1893 provides that "every device by any owner or contractor, which shall be adopted to defeat the PRIORITY, OR FIRST CLAIM, of Wage-earners for their wages under the several Acts relating to Mechanics' Liens, shall, as respects such wage-earners be null and void. That is, any contractor or employer who, taking advantage of a workingman's inexperience or necessity of obtaining work, may wheedle him into an agreement to surrender his right to have his claim a first claim, (before that of all other creditors), will have that agreement declared worthless under the law, and in spite of any such agreement the working man's claim shall stand first. Another clause gives police magistrates jurisdiction in the case of wages due mechanics or labourers to the extent of thirty days' wages.

Extending the Act.

The Act of 1896, which consolidated previous legislation on the subject by adding many new provisions, was made applicable to railway companies and corporations generally so that now almost every case of mechanical labour is covered by its provisions. The Mechanics' Lien is given priority over all judgments, executions, assignments and other claims on the property. The owner of the property in respect of which a contract is undertaken, is now required to retain from the contractor, for thirty days after the completion of the contract, twenty per cent of the value of the work or materials furnished in order to satisfy any lien that may be placed on the property by mechanics or other workingmen. Many other amendments were adopted in the direction of simplifying the Act and reducing the cost of its operation; as it now stands, it has proved itself thoroughly efficient. The abuse it was designed to remedy no longer exists. The workingman who takes a job from an uncertain contractor is no longer in doubt as to whether he will receive anything for his labour. He knows that the property can be held under lien until his claim is met in full. There are no grievances or complaints as to the working of the measure from any quarter, which is the best evidence that it has served the purpose for which it was placed upon the statute book.

Protecting the Lumberman.

The same principle, which has been found to work so well in connection with building and machinery contracts, was in 1891 extended to a large class of employees, who had previously suffered considerably from losing their earnings, the result of the hardest of labour, owing to the dishonesty or business misfortunes of their employers. Under the provision of the Woodman's Lien [illegible] Act, passed in that year, any person performing labour or supplying [illegible] in connection with logs or timber in the Districts of Algoma, Thunder Bay and Rainy River, were given a first lien or charge on the timber, which took precedence of every other claim, except for money due the Crown. The Act was extended in 1895 so as to apply to other districts. Lumbermen as a class were particularly liable to be victimized by withholding their pay, as the scene of their labours is, for the most part, remote from settlement, and from the usual machinery of the law, and the employer was often inaccessible. It was, therefore, especially fitting that this large and important class of industrial toilers should be rendered secure of receiving their pay.

Further Protection to Lumbermen.

In addition to providing means to secure to lumbermen the payment of their wages, provision has been made to protect what is more important than money, the health of the workmen employed in lumbering operations. In 1901 the Provincial Secretary introduced a bill which became law, authorizing the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to make and enforce regulation to apply to lumber and other camps where large numbers of men are employed. These regulations require such camps to be kept in a cleanly and healthy condition, prevent the polution of the water supply for such camps, and provide for their inspection, and also provide for the employment of duly qualified physicians, and for the erection of permanent or temporary hospitals for the employees in such camps. The expense of carrying out these regulations for the protection of the health of working men, and preventing and checking outbreaks of disease, shall be borne by the employing firms or corporations concerned.

Which Deserves the Workingmen's Vote.

Contrasting the record of the two parties in this matter, bearing in mind the fact that while the Liberal Administration has done all in its power to carry out the wishes of the labour organizations and to provide that the worker shall receive his due with as little cost and delay as possible, the Opposition not merely lent them no aid in so doing, but opposed and criticized their action as "class legislation." The intelligent workingmen of Ontario can easily realise who are their real friends, and from which party they have most to hope, for in the way of progressive legislation. The Conservatives, while making loud professions of their zeal in the interests of labour, have always pursued the dog-in-the-manger policy of snarling and carping at the measures brought down by the Liberals, and predicting their failure. That was the attitude of Mr. Whitney last session in regard to Mr. Preston's Conciliation Bill, which he said, was a "waste of paper and ink," just as it was the attitude of his predecessor when the Mechanics' Lien measure was first brought in.

The labour electors of Ontario, we doubt not, will show as in the past, that they cannot be beguiled by election campaign professions, but prefer to judge the parties by their records. The Ontario Government should receive the support of the working classes not only for what it has done in their interests but for the spirit in which it was done, and for the hope of future benefits from the same source. The motto of the Government is progress, whether in the matter of legislation, for securing the working man his rights, or in applying a vigorous policy of development of our resources in the newer regions, which will enlist capital, and give large employment to labour, and also stimulate trade with older Ontario, making demands upon our manufacturing establishments and increasing employment.

MORGAN'S DEATH.

Fred Bryan, of St. Paul, Charged With Manslaughter.

The Chief of Police of St. Paul, Minn., has sent to Chief Rossel some newspaper clippings containing an account of the murder of Harry Morgan, formerly of Peterborough:—

Fred Bryan, proprietor of the City Hotel, No. 444 St. Peter street, who was engaged in a fight on Friday evening during which Harry Morgan was killed, was arraigned before Judge Orr in the police court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter preferred by the police. The hearing was continued until to-morrow. Bryan says that he will plead not guilty.

Bryan and Morgan came from the same part of Canada, became friends, and Morgan was engaged as his bartender. Morgan was given a room in the hotel, and as Mrs. Bryan objected, Morgan had to get out. Both men were drinking on Friday night, and quarrelled over the affair. They fought in the bar-room, and both went to the floor several times. Bryan then pushed Morgan into the street and the men clinched and fought again on the sidewalk. Morgan received a blow and fell. He was removed to the hospital, where he died. A post mortem examination showed a fracture at the base of the skull. The physicians were unable to say whether the injury was inflicted with a weapon or was caused by the fall on the sidewalk. Morgan was fifty years old, and had worked in St. Paul as a bartender for ten years. He came to St. Paul from Canada, and was unmarried.

WERE DISAPPOINTED.

The crew of the steamer Water Lily is a disappointed crowd and there are no doubt many people along the shores of the Otonabee River and Rice Lake in the same humour. The steamer was to have made her initial trip of the season from Harwood to Peterborough this morning, but when she attempted to go down last night, the G.T.R. bridge was not ready to be opened. Just where the difficulty lies is not yet known, but the Lily had to remain on Little Lake. There were about 30 people at Harwood this morning waiting for the boat to bring them to Saturday market and it is quite probable that there were as many more persons along the river who were equally disappointed.

BAND CONCERT.

Another large audience assembled in the opera house last night to hear the concert by the band of the 57th Regiment. A programme of the usual excellence was rendered. The feature of the programme was the appearance of Mr. Jack Perle, of Kingston, the favourite comic vocalist, who was ably supported by Mr. Scott, of town.

MECHANICS' LIEN ACT.

A Measure That Has Saved Thousands of Toilers From Being Defrauded.

A GREAT BOON TO LABOUR.

Among the many enactments passed in the interests of the labouring classes by the Liberal Government of Ontario there is none which was more urgently needed, or has been of more practical benefit to the people, than the Mechanics' Lien Act of 1873, and its various amendments. At the time of its adoption mechanics and labourers were subject to frequent injustice and hardship at the hands of unscrupulous or irresponsible employers. After working for weeks or months on a contract they would find themselves entirely dependent upon the honesty of the employer for their arrears of pay, often amounting to a considerable sum. The contractor having drawn his money for the job might abscond, or, in case he owned nothing in his own name, might — and not infrequently did — defy his workmen to collect anything, or perhaps, taking advantage of the whip-hand he held, compromise with them for a fraction of the amount rightly due. The only remedy the workman had was that of an ordinary suit at law, which frequently meant "throwing good money after bad," and in any case involved unreasonable expense, delay and loss of time, which to a man working by the day, is money.

How Working Men Were Robbed.

It is difficult for any one living in these days, when the rights of labour have been so carefully safeguarded by a series of enactments, framed for the protection of the workers, to realize what was the frequent experience of the workingmen a quarter of a century ago. Then, as now, men often found themselves in the position of being compelled to take the first job that offered. They could not hesitate and delay until they had an opportunity to enquire into the financial standing or honesty of the man who offered them employment. They were only too glad, as a rule, to take the chances and trust to luck, on the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread; unscrupulous or unreliable men took advantage of the situation. They would obtain contracts by underbidding their rivals, pay something from time to time on account of wage bills, and then when the work was completed, the men might collect the balance if they could.

This system put the honest employer, who meant to deal fairly with his men, at a disadvantage, and was an encouragement to the scamp, the adventurer contractor and the soulless exploiter of labour.

The Abuse Suppressed.

In 1873 the Liberal Government of Ontario initiated the legislation which has proved so effective in suppressing this abuse and giving the workingman absolute security for his wages, so far as law can do it, by the enactment of the Mechanics' Lien Act. The principle of this measure, at that time entirely new in Ontario legislation, is to give to mechanics, labourers, contractors and all persons doing work or furnishing materials for the construction or repair of any building, or placing machinery of any kind in position, a lien upon the building or land for the amount due. It provided a cheap and simple means for establishing and enforcing the claims arising under its provisions.

The Conservative party at this time were posing as the special friends of labour, but this did not prevent them from adopting their usual tactics of belittling and carping at the legislation, which they were afraid to oppose openly. They ridiculed the measure, decried its utility and prophesied its failure. They urged that it was contrary to principles of sound legislation. They tried to prejudice the minds of the people against it. Hon. M. C. Cameron, then leader of the Opposition, assailed it repeatedly. When the measure came up in the House on the 18th of February, 1873, the Mail reported the Conservative leader as saying:

"He did not believe it would be found workable or that it would be of any benefit whatever to the workingmen. It was simply a sop to Cerberus. . . He admitted that this was class legislation and that the principle was open to objection, but if the House was to pass a bill of this kind at all it should be such a measure as would be workable and would confer a real and substantial, instead of an illusory, advantage."

How Things Have Improved.

Those workingmen who are old enough to remember the hardships and disabilities under which their class formerly suffered in regard to securing payment for their labour, can best realize how far the predictions of the Conservatives at that time were astray, and most accurately estimate the benefits resulting from this enactment. As was only to be expected in a new departure of this sort, as in the test of a new piece of machinery, the working of the act revealed some defects in the machinery which have been rectified from time to time by supplementary legislation. The scope of the original Act has been greatly enlarged and its operations perfected by measures passed in 1893 and 1896. One highly important section of the Act of 1893 provides that "every device by any owner or contractor, which shall be adopted to defeat the PRIORITY, OR FIRST CLAIM, of Wage-earners for their wages under the several Acts relating to Mechanics' Liens, shall, as respects such wage-earners be null and void. That is, any contractor or employer who, taking advantage of a workingman's inexperience or necessity of obtaining work, may wheedle him into an agreement to surrender his right to have his claim a first claim, (before that of all other creditors), will have that agreement declared worthless under the law, and in spite of any such agreement the working man's claim shall stand first. Another clause gives police magistrates jurisdiction in the case of wages due mechanics or labourers to the extent of thirty days' wages.

Extending the Act.

The Act of 1896, which consolidated previous legislation on the subject by adding many new provisions, was made applicable to railway companies and corporations generally so that now almost every case of mechanical labour is covered by its provisions. The Mechanics' Lien is given priority over all judgments, executions, assignments and other claims on the property. The owner of the property in respect of which a contract is undertaken, is now required to retain from the contractor, for thirty days after the completion of the contract, twenty per cent of the value of the work or materials furnished in order to satisfy any lien that may be placed on the property by mechanics or other workingmen. Many other amendments were adopted in the direction of simplifying the Act and reducing the cost of its operation; as it now stands, it has proved itself thoroughly efficient. The abuse it was designed to remedy no longer exists. The workingman who takes a job from an uncertain contractor is no longer in doubt as to whether he will receive anything for his labour. He knows that the property can be held under lien until his claim is met in full. There are no grievances or complaints as to the working of the measure from any quarter, which is the best evidence that it has served the purpose for which it was placed upon the statute book.

Protecting the Lumberman.

The same principle, which has been found to work so well in connection with building and machinery contracts, was in 1891 extended to a large class of employees, who had previously suffered considerably from losing their earnings, the result of the hardest of labour, owing to the dishonesty or business misfortunes of their employers. Under the provision of the Woodman's Lien Act, passed in that year, any person performing labour or [illegible] connection with logs or timber [illegible] Districts of Algoma, Thunder Bay, Rainy River, were given a first lien or charge on the timber, which took precedence of every other claim except for money due the Crown. The Act was extended in 1896 so as to apply to other districts. Lumbermen as a class were particularly liable to be victimized by withholding their pay, as the scene of their labours was, for the most part, remote from settlement, and from the usual machinery of the law, and the employer was often inaccessible. It was, therefore, especially fitting that this large and important class of industrial toilers should be rendered secure of receiving their pay.

Further Protection to Lumbermen.

In addition to providing means to secure to lumbermen the payment of their wages, provision has been made to protect what is more important than money, the health of the workmen employed in lumbering operations. In 1901 the Provincial Secretary introduced a bill which became law, authorizing the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to make and enforce regulation to apply to lumber and other camps where large numbers of men are employed. These regulations require such camps to be kept in a cleanly and healthy condition, prevent the polution of the water supply for such camps, and provide for their inspection, and also provide for the employment of duly qualified physicians, and for the erection of permanent or temporary hospitals for the employees in such camps. The expense of carrying out these regulations for the protection of the health of working men, and preventing and checking outbreaks of disease, shall be borne by the employing firms or corporations concerned.

Which Deserves the Workingmen's Vote.

Contrasting the record of the two parties in this matter, bearing in mind the fact that while the Liberal Administration has done all in its power to carry out the wishes of the labour organizations and to provide that the worker shall receive his due with as little cost and delay as possible, the Opposition not merely lent them no aid in so doing, but opposed and criticized their action as "class legislation." The intelligent workingmen of Ontario can easily realize who are their real friends, and from which party they have most to hope, for in the way of progressive legislation. The Conservatives, while making loud professions of their zeal in the interests of labour, have always pursued the dog-in-the-manger policy of snarling and carping at the measures brought down by the Liberals, and predicting their failure. That was the attitude of Mr. Whitney last session in regard to Mr. Preston's Conciliation Bill, which he said, was a "waste of paper and ink," just as it was the attitude of his predecessor when the Mechanics' Lien measure was first brought in.

The labour electors of Ontario, we doubt not, will show as in the past, that they cannot be beguiled by election campaign professions, but prefer to judge the parties by their records. The Ontario Government should receive the support of the working classes not only for what it has done in their interests but for the spirit in which it was done, and for the hope of future benefits from the same source. The motto of the Government is progress, whether in the matter of legislation, for securing the working man his rights, or in applying a vigorous policy of development of our resources in the newer regions, which will enlist capital, and give large employment to labour, and also stimulate trade with older Ontario, making demands upon our manufacturing establishments and increasing employment.

MORGAN'S DEATH.

Fred Bryan, of St. Paul, Charged With Manslaughter.

The Chief of Police of St. Paul, Minn., has sent to Chief Rossel some newspaper clippings containing an account of the murder of Harry Morgan, formerly of Peterborough:—

Fred Bryan, proprietor of the City Hotel, No. 444 St. Peter street, who was engaged in a fight on Friday evening during which Harry Morgan was killed, was arraigned before Judge Orr in the police court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter preferred by the police. The hearing was continued until to-morrow. Bryan says that he will plead not guilty.

Bryan and Morgan came from the same part of Canada, became friends, and Morgan was engaged as his bartender. Morgan was given a room in the hotel, and as Mrs. Bryan objected, Morgan had to get out. Both men were drinking on Friday night, and quarrelled over the affair. They fought in the bar-room, and both went to the floor several times. Bryan then pushed Morgan into the street and the men clinched and fought again on the sidewalk. Morgan received a blow and fell. He was removed to the hospital, where he died. A post mortem examination showed a fracture at the base of the skull. The physicians were unable to say whether the injury was inflicted with a weapon or was caused by the fall on the sidewalk. Morgan was fifty years old, and had worked in St. Paul as a bartender for ten years. He came to St. Paul from Canada, and was unmarried.

PERIODS OF PAIN.

Miss Gertrude Williams, Chaplain of Woman's Christian Association of Detroit, and Two Other Women,

Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Periodic Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to have been the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It relieves the condition which produces so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

MISS GERTRUDE WILLIAMS.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—and dear friend, for such your medicine has proved to me; 'a friend in need is a friend indeed.' For several years I suffered from Menorrhagia, or profuse and painful menstruation, until my vitality was well nigh gone, and as a last resort I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was restored to health, to the surprise of my friends, and I now sing its praises. Gratefully yours, MISS GERTRUDE WILLIAMS, 75 Columbia St., West Detroit, Mich."

Two More Sufferers Relieved.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I had been a sufferer of suppression of the menses from girlhood, always appearing after time and causing great pain compelling me to keep my bed. I tried a number of doctors but without relief. Having read so many testimonies about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done, I decided to try it. After using only one bottle I felt much better. I continued its use and the health and strength that I have to-day I feel I owe to you."—MRS. CHAS. B. GILL, 1012 Winter St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to let you know how thankful I feel toward you and your remedies. Words cannot express the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had been troubled with my periods being very irregular and painful, also suffered with my back and kidneys, but now I feel like a new woman. I cheerfully recommend your remedies to any one suffering as I was."—MRS. JAMES COX, 528 Washington St., Camden, N.J.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1902.

FLAT FALSEHOOD.

Our evening contemporary seems these days to be very largely a reprint of the Mail and Empire, at least so far as political affairs are concerned. It liberally quotes from the senior Conservative organ, and thus, to a degree, makes itself responsible for the idealized political "facts" of its political prototype. Yesterday the Review reprinted the following from the Mail:

"It has been shown that in dealing with the pulpwood lands of Ontario the Ross Government, instead of selling pulp areas and placing the proceeds in the treasury, as is the course pursued in Quebec, has given these vast districts away for nothing. Altogether 15,660 square miles of land have been ceded secretly to syndicates. These syndicates can hold the land for twenty-one years. If the areas has been sold at auction, as in Quebec, and if the Quebec rental were charged, the treasury of Ontario would reap $1,990,000 from them.

The granting of all this territory, privately, and without price, is a part of the Ross scheme to "build up Ontario."

When the Mail and Empire wrote this it knew that it was false. When the Review reproduced it, it knew it was false.

In the seven pulp agreements the Ontario Government has made with as many companies, not a foot of land has been ceded, conveyed or given away. It is equally false to say that 15,660 square miles of land has been "ceded secretly to syndicates."

Every intelligent person knows that in these pulp agreements the companies dealt with do not get any right, title or property to a foot of land. All they get is the right to cut pulpwood over a certain area, sufficient to supply their mills, and this right is conditional upon the expenditure of a certain and large sum in the erection of works and buildings, and even then the companies have to pay 40 cents a cord for every cord cut, and more than that if the Government thinks the market warrants the payment of a higher price. Agreements have been made with seven companies and before they acquire a right to cut pulpwood they are bound to expend in works and buildings nearly five million dollars in the aggregate.

The companies do not get any title to the land over which they have permission to cut; for, on any part of such territory settlers can locate and and are given all the rights to the land, and the timber on the land they would have if no pulp company existed.

The Examiner has frequently presented a true statement of the conditions of these pulpwood agreements, and only calls attention to the above article from the Mail to characterize it as utterly untruthful. The Mail and Empire knowingly states an untruth deliberately, when it asserts that the Government has given immense areas of pulpwood lands to syndicates. And the Review knowingly reproduces a false statement in copying an assertion to that effect.

How the organ of a great political party can thus deliberately misstate facts and mislead the public for so paltry a stake as a petty and temporarily party advantage is beyond conception.

The Mail and Empire so frequently offends in such matters that the public have cause to accept its statements in respect of matters of fact and even of public record, with very decided reserve. A cause that depends on assumed facts has a very doubtful future.

"Talk of Direct Taxation! Thanks to Liberal efforts, to-day we own 100,000 square miles of New Ontario the revenue of which will keep the Province from direct taxation for 100 years to come."—Hon. Mr. Stratton at Hamilton.

The Kingston News goes into election prophecy, and to give its vaticinations force, reduces them roughly to rhyme. The conclusion of an article which consigns the Ross Government to utter, and as old Homer puts it, mournful perdition," is like this, (paraphrased):

The Government's tottering to its fall,
The handwriting on the wall,
Is clear.
And for the next five year
Mr. Whitney, etc.

This is wretched versification, but its contamination of character is due to its association with political prophecy of such doubtful sanity.

LAKEFIELD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

On Wednesday, March 26th, the home of Mr. Wm. Harper was the scene of a quiet but very pretty event being the occasion of the uniting in the holy bonds of matrimony of Mr. W. J. Armstrong of North Monaghan, and Miss Olive Thompson, of the village. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. McCamus, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast and after the party had done justice to the good things provided the bride and groom departed for their new home, amidst the hearty well-wishes of their many friends. The friends from a distance who were present were Miss Thompson, Peterborough, sister of the bride; Mr. Thompson, of Thompson & Co., Belleville, Mrs. Barlee, of Toronto.

Mrs. E. Rollston Tate, left on Wednesday for a trip west.

Mr. Ralph Stock leaves on Thursday of this week for the west, where he intends entering into the ranching business.

Mrs. H. LeFevre, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Louise, is visiting Mrs. Atwood of Montreal.

Mr. Reggie Blomfield, who has been home for a few days, left on Monday for Owen Sound. Reggie has been showing the people of Owen Sound how the boys play hockey in Lakefield, as he was, according to the Globe, the star player of the Owen Sound seven for the past season.

Mr. Dobie of Owen Sound, has been visiting in the village for a few days as the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. S. Butchart.

Mr. Jos. Madill, who has been visiting in Madill for the past couple of weeks, arrived home on Monday, feeling very much better for the change. Joe reports having had a most enjoyable time in Kingston.

Mr. Jas. Madill of Kingston, paid a flying visit to the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Frank Cox of Toronto, was in the village visiting friends on Saturday.

Mr. Alf Cox and Mr. Morrow of Toronto spent a few hours in the village with friends on Monday.

Those from Lakefield who attended the Golf Club dance on Tuesday evening report that it was one of the most brilliant events of the year. The music was especially fine.

A POSTMASTER'S OPINION.

No more intelligent, reasonable, and and capable public officers can be found than the postmasters of Canada.

Honest, truthful and courteous they are generally consulted by their neighbours and patrons and their opinions are universally respected and their advice followed.

The postmasters are a power in the land and they have been careful to maintain the respect of the people by not hazarding an opinion which could not be supported as a sound one.

Mr. R Jancouski, postmaster at Fesserton, Ontario, is known personally to every man, woman and child among the patrons of that office and to many others outside.

Mr. Jancouski says:—

"I have given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial and can with every confidence recommend them.

"I have known of many others who have found this remedy to be all that could be desired as a cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble."

The opinion of Mr. Jancouski is concurred in by everyone who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets anything like a fair trial.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have established themselves as an honest remedy that does everything that is claimed for them.

Of course by removing these diseases they cause all the ailments resulting from the deranged Stomach to disappear. Headache and Heart Trouble, for instance, are most frequently the results of Indigestion, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Indigestion and with it goes the Palpitation and Headache.

There are many thousands to-day in Canada to whom this experience should come as a message of hope for there is really no reason why none should suffer a moment longer with Dyspepsia or other Stomach Trouble, when such an infallible remedy as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is for sale in every drug store in the land.

Preference to Britain.

Wellington, N. Z., April 5. — The Premier, Richard J. FOR EVERY MOTHER.

A Manitoba Mother Gives Practical Advice on the Care of Babies.

It is well known that nearly all children, and will always break dered stomach. Indigestion in a child will cause at first peevishness and sleeplessness but other more serious troubles will follow fast, such as colic or cramps, constipation in some cases, diarrhoea in others, with fatal results in many cases. The mother who neglects having constantly at hand the means of treating these ills takes an awful risk. Mrs. R. L. McMillan, Logoch, Man., is one mother who is particularly well fitted to give advice on the care of babies. Her standard medicine for the minor ailments of her little ones is Baby's Own Tablets, and she says: "They are the best medicine I have ever used for infant troubles. I have given them to my baby for indigestion and stomach troubles and they are prompt and thorough in making a cure. No mother should be a single day without the Tablets in the house." Baby's Own Tablets are for children of all ages, and will cure such troubles as constipation, colic, sour stomach, diarrhoea, and simple fevers. They are invaluable for teething fant troubles spring from a disorup colds and prevent croup. Guaranteed to contain no opium or other harmful drug. Dissolved in water they can be given with perfect safety to a new born babe. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent post paid at 25 cents a box by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company., Brockville, Ont.

No Money is Wanted.

I Ask Only the Name of Some Sick One; Let Me Send My Book.

I ask from you this, as an act of humanity;
Simply write me a postal. Give me the name of a sick one. Tell me which book he needs.
I will do this in return;
I will furnish that sick one a treatment which I spent a lifetime in learning. I will give all the advice he needs. And I promise that if my method fails, he shall not have a penny to pay.

I will even do this;
With the book I will send an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will authorize him to let you take it for a month. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself. I will leave the decision with you.

That seems an impossible offer, and with any other treatment it would be. It would bankrupt the physician who made it. But I have made a prescription that strengthens the inside nerves. I have learned how to bring back the nerve power which alone operates the vital organs. When an organ is weak, I give it the power to act.
Usually that is all that is needed. And in most chronic diseases there is no other way to get well.
My book will prove that I am right.

Sometimes even the method fails, but not often. There are cases like cancer, which no man can cure; but those conditions are rare.
My success is so general that in every case, no matter how difficult, I take the entire risk.
In five years I have done this in over half a million cases; and my records show that 39 in each 40 paid for the medicine taken. That means that only one in each 40 has been disappointed.
It means that there are 39 chances in each 40 that I can cure you.
No sick person can afford to neglect an offer like this.
If the treatment succeeds, you are well. If it fails, it is free.
You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by it.
Won't you write a postal to learn about a remedy like that?

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

TO ESTABLISH UNITY

Rhodes' Colonial, American and German Scholarships.

STRONG POINTS OF HIS WILL

Mr. W. T. Stead Writes That the Will of Cecil Rhodes Is in Every Respect Worthy of Its Author—A Citizen of the United States of the English-Speaking World—A Brief Summary.

London, April 5.—The will of Cecil Rhodes provides for the establishment of colonial scholarships, as previously announced, and two American scholarships to each of the present States and Territories of the United States.

The will of Mr. Rhodes also provides for five scholarships for students of German birth at Oxford, to be nominated by Emperor William, and, commenting on the bequest, Mr. Rhodes, in a codicil telegraphed from South Africa, said:

"For a good understanding between England, Germany and the United States will secure the peace of the world and educational relations form the strongest tie."

Mr. Rhodes' will is a remarkable and voluminous document. It was executed in 1899. There is a codicil attached on the day of the deceased's last departure from England, and another, cabled from Cape Town, leaves £4,000 yearly to keep up the spot in the Matoppo Hills, where his body is to be buried. The will further directs that a railroad extension be made into the Matoppo Hills, so that visitors may go there at the week-end to inspect the majesty and glory of their surroundings.

Mr. Rhodes explicitly says he is to be buried in an aperture cut in the solid rock, surmounted by a brass tablet, bearing the words:

No one else is to be buried there who has not deserved well of his country.

Mr. Rhodes bequeaths all his landed property near Buluwayo and Salisbury (both in Matabeleland) to trustees, whom he directs to cultivate the land for the instruction of the people of Rhodesia. His celebrated country place at Groote Schuur (not far from Cape Town), Mr. Rhodes leaves as a residence for the "Prime Minister of the Federal Government of South Africa," with £100 yearly for its maintenance.

Mr. Rhodes divides the £100,000 bequeathed to Oriel College into several funds, indicating concisely how he wishes them to be applied, and adds this characteristic sentence:

"And, finally, as college authorities live secluded from the world, and so are like children as to commercial matters, I would advise them to consult my trustees regarding the investment of these various funds, so far as they would receive great help and assistance from such advice."

Regarding the American scholarships, Mr Rhodes says:

"Whereas I desire to encourage and foster an appreciation of the advantages which I implicity believe will result from a union of English-speaking peoples throughout the world and to encourage in the students from the United States who will benefit by these scholarships an attachment to the country from which they have sprung; but, without, I hope, withdrawing them or their sympathies from the land of their adoption or birth."

The will provides that the executors may at their discretion delay establishing any territorial scholarships until such time as they may think fit, but it provides also that the territorial scholarships once established shall not lapse upon the admission of the territory to statehood.

Another provision is that no student shall be qualified or disqualified for election to a scholarship on account of race or religious opinion.

Mr. Rhodes desires that the students should not patronize any particular college, but distribute themselves throughout the University. Trustees are allowed to suspend or remove any scholar at their discretion.

Mr. Rhodes expresses the hope that the trustees will arrange an annual dinner and re-union for all students and scholarship graduates who are able to attend and invite thereto as guest: "persons who have shown sympathy with the views expressed by me in my will."

W. T. Stead has written the following:

"The will of Cecil Rhodes is in every respect worthy of its author.

"What renders this will of exceptional interest to Americans is the fact that it reveals for the first time under his hand and seal, that he was no mere British Imperialist, but that he was essentially a citizen of the United States, of the English-speaking world.

"Mr. Rhodes' first will was made in September, 1877, when he was a young man of 24. At that time he was only beginning to amass the wealth which, before he died, had made him a multi-millionaire, not in dollars, but in pounds sterling. His last will was dated July 1, 1899. But, the two documents are essentially alike in sentiment. They both embody, in express terms, what was ever the master thought of this master mind, the necessity for promoting the reunion of the English-speaking race.

"Mr. Rhodes' will appoints a well-known group of seven of his friends as general executors of his estate. This group is further charged to undertake the duty of acting as trustees for the educational endowment fund of exceptional interest, which will provoke the liveliest discussion and excite the keenest interest throughout both the United States and the British Empire, for both communities share the benefit of Mr. Rhodes' bequest. Mr. Rhodes was a graduate of Oxford, and a student at Oriel College, to which, by the way, he has left a special bequest of $500,000. He has made Oxford University, in whose glories the American descendents of its founders share equally with those who still inhabit the Old Country, the centre of his educational scheme, and he has left a sum, which may be roughly capitalized as representing $10,000,000 for the foundation of Anglo-American scholarships tenable at Oxford for three years. To his thinking, the University better than any other institution, naturally affords a vivifying centre for race unity. It is free from all political complications, and a residential university, with the old traditions of Oxford, seemed to him the best fitted for the purpose he had in view."

In a codicil to his will, Cecil Rhodes settles the Dalham Hall estate on his brother, Col. Francis William Rhodes, and his male heirs, with remainder to his brother, Ernest Frederick Rhodes, and the male of his heirs. In a clause referring to this settlement, Mr. Rhodes expresses his objection to the expectant heir developing into a "loafer," and says that the essence of a proper life is that every man should have a definite occupation during a substantial period of his career. In the disposition of the Dalham Hall estate, it is provided that the successor to the estate must have been 10 years in business or in profession other than the army, or, in the case of an infant heir, he must enter business and remain there for ten years, otherwise, the entail will terminate. The will guards strictly against encumbering the estate.

Deals With $30,000,000.

London, April 5.—According to The Daily Telegraph, the will of Cecil Rhodes with a total of £6,000,000.

Surprising Results.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes, for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children, by destroying nerve sensation. The irritation in throat which causes coughing, is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics. Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus Tree, etc., when you use these Tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates, or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Mr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend to all Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches, and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for Catarrhal Headaches and Catarrhal Deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croups at the very beginning.

THE REVENUE INCREASING.

Ottawa, April 5.—Canada's revenue continues to climb steadily upwards. For the nine months ending March 31 it amounted to $41,351,818, an increase of $3,433,801 over the same period of last year. For the month of March only the receipts were $4,785,210, or nearly half a million more than for the same month of 1901. The ordinary expenditure reached a total of $30,914,135, which was $10,437,683 less than the ordinary receipts, but $2,286,000 more than the disbursements of the preceding nine months. The expenditure for the month, however, is $115,698 less than it was for a year ago. The total capital expenditure for the nine months was $8,837,451, which reduces the surplus in ordinary receipts over ordinary revenue to $1,600,000. The capital expenditure for the nine months increased by $1,536,000 over that of 1901. For the month of March, however, there is a decrease of $693,000.

THE PROVINCIAL CAMPAIGN.

Hon. E. J. Davis Enthusiastically and Unanimously Renominated at Newmarket.

Newmarket, April 5.—Yesterday was a proud day for Hon. E. J. Davis and North York. Twelve hundred Liberals, from all parts of the riding, made their way through muddy roads to attend the party convention, at which Mr. Davis was for the sixth consecutive time chosen, and again unanimously, to contest North York for the Legislature. The occasion was made memorable by the presence of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, who opened his campaign in a telling speech, and of Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General, and representative of the riding in the Dominion House. The attendance of this brilliant trio of public men, two of whom had honored their native County of York no less than it had honored them, was sufficient to draw an immense audience, and it is enough to say that each delivered a rousing speech, and the interest of the audience was maintained for nearly four hours.

If Catarrh is Your Trouble.

You will find instant relief and absolute cure in Catarrhozone, which kills the germs that cause the disease, cures the cough, prevents droppings in the throat relieves congestion and quickly heals the inflamed membranes. Catarrhozone cures perfectly the most chronic cases of Catarrh, lung and throat troubles, and is delightful, simple, and safe to use. Catarrozone is a scientific treatment highly indorsed by doctors and druggists, and sells everywhere for one dollar, small size 25 cts. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Grand Trunk Railway Guilty.

Woodstock, April 5.—The jury empanelled here yesterday to inquire into the cause of the death of John Warner, the G T R. brakeman, whose death occurred Thursday as a result of injuries received from being run over by a train while discharging his duties in the station yards, found that the car from which the deceased fell had a very defective ladder, and that the railway company were guilty of negligence in using such defective cars, thereby endangering the lives of their employes.

I come with gratitude to offer you my most sincere thanks for the unequaled preparation, Powley's Liquified Ozone. It has completely cured me of dyspepsia from which I was suffering for more than five years. After taking all kinds of medicine without result, I had been obliged to observe almost a complete fast and yet the little food I took tired me very much after each meal. I had given up all hopes of being cured, when I was advised to try Ozone. The very first bottle brought a great relief and I commenced to rest better at night, what I could not do for a long time, owing to the poor state of my health. I am now using my fourth bottle and can say in all truthfulness, that I feel completely cured. I can eat whatever is served and I have only to follow the directions of the Ozone after meals and I digest everything. With thanks once more for your charity and generosity in our behalf, I remain, dear sirs, Yours very grateful in O. L., Sister Mary Zenon.

REV. FATHER KIERNAN WRITES.

I, the undesigned, chaplain to the above named institution, most cheerfully endorse what the Reverend Sister Zenon says in regard to the effect produced in her case from the use of your scientific preparation, Powley's Liquified Ozone and herewith beg you to accept my sincerest wish for its increased success. John P. Kiernan, Priest.

THE MOTHER SUPERIOR'S STATEMENT.

Montreal, Jan. 19th, 1902.

It is with gratitude we give the present certificate, testifying that one of our sisters who had been suffering from consumption of the throat for nearly a year, has been cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone. Her case had been given up as hopeless by two clever doctors. After begging Almighty God to cure her if it was His Holy Will, a person suggested to our sick sister to try Ozone. After using it a few days she felt much better and she is now completely cured, which, once more, we are happy to testify, recommending at the same time to all sufferers the use of Ozone. Signed——— Mother Superior, Sister St. Thomas, Monastry of the Good Shepherd, 350 Fullum St.

REV. FATHER KIERNAN OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

I, the undersigned priest, chaplain to the institution referred to in the above certificate, being personally acquainted with the Reverend Sister benefited by the use of Powley's Liquified Ozone and being convinced of the effect certified to, most cheerfully endorse the contents of the Reverend Mother's certificate. John P. Kiernan, Priest, Monastry of the Good Shepherd.

ACADEMY OF THE SACRED HEART.

Montreal, Jan. 30, 1902.

We do not doubt that your preparation will produce most beneficial results, and that it will effect all that it promises. We shall certainly avail ourselves of every opportunity to recommend Powley's Liquified Ozone, and hope that it may be universally adopted. Thanking you again for your kindness and wishing you every success, we remain, Yours sincerely, T. E. Ryan, R. S. H. J., 102 St. Alexander Street.

LADIES BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

31 Berthelet St., Montreal, December 28th, 1901.

The above institution has used Powley's Liquified Ozone for several months, and as a standard preparation we find it excellent. It not only kills pain, but as a tonic it cannot be surpassed. When one is done out, either mentally or physically, a dose of Powley's Liquified Ozone gives renewed life and vigor, and fatigue is forgotten. It is very beneficial in cases of general debility, throat or lung trouble, and is very pleasing to take. I find that used either internally or externally, it is very valuable and necessary product and I would not willingly be without it. Wishing it all the success it deserves, I am, Yours very truly, A. A. Borland, Superintendent.

P. S.—I would just add, also, that several of my friends outside of the institution have used Powley's Liquified Ozone with equal success. A. A. B.

THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS SCHOOL.

I have been suffering for several years with consumption. For the last two years especially it has been a great drain upon my system, to the extent of having kept me confined in the infirmary. Since using Powley's Liquified Ozone I find myself decidedly improved. I am gaining in appetite and my digestion is greatly facilitated. I no longer suffer from the terrible nausea that proved so fatiguing to me. The Ozone seems to me to possess wonderful curative powers.

(Signed) Bro. Constant,
(Endorsed) Bro. Siebert-King,
Director The Christian Brothers School, 50 Cote St., Montreal, P. Q

Were it not for the great, scientific excellence of this "no-drug" product, Powley's Liquified Ozone, it would have been impossible for us to have received these unparalleled testimonials from so many of the prominent religious institutions of Montreal. If you have not obtained the right idea about Powley's Liquified Ozone, if you do not know it is a strictly scientific preparation, it is our fault, not that of the Ozone. Powley's Liquified Ozone increases the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, destroys the disease germs, purifies and builds up the tissues of the body. It is altogether a new and better way of treating disease, and to show you what it does, we give you the genuine statements of the people of Canada it has cured, with their street and number, so that you can ask them if their cure is absolutely as we publish it.

You may think this is the same old story, but we are content to lay the facts before you, believing that whatever prejudice you may have against medicine and drugs in general will not permit you to pass too hasty a judgment on Powley's Liquified Ozone until you have investigated it thoroughly and well.

DIAMOND DYES
Are Invaluable in the Home.

A Voice From the Gaspe Coast.

Mrs. John Gallichom, Gaspe, P.Q., after testing Diamond Dyes in her home for twenty years, says

"When I commenced house keeping twenty years ago I began the use of Diamond Dyes. In every class of dyeing, Diamond Dyes have always given me the best results. I have recently used Diamond Dyes for staining my floors and stairs; after a coat of varnish the wood looks very pretty. I may say that the people here are astonished with my work. In my hall and rooms, I have mats and rugs the materials of which were dyed with the Diamond Dyes, which give such lovely colours. They are truly the best of all dyes."

Upon receipt of post card with your address, the Wells and Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P. Q., will send you post paid sheets of new designs for making up the celebrated Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns.

Song Sermon.

The subject of the Song Sermon to be given in Charlotte street church on Sunday evening is "Stepping Stones in the Pathway of Life." The music for this service is all new, and is very attractive.

St. John's Church.

The service to-morrow at 11 a.m. will be Morning Prayer instead of Holy Communion, as on other first Sundays of the month. It is hoped that special envelopes not returned on Easter day will be placed in the offertory to-morrow. Rev. C. B. Kenrick will officiate at all services.

Baby Carriages and Go-Carts.

We are showing a large lot of the most beautiful designs of Go-carts, made by a leading manufacturer of best reed and rattan goods, at a very low figure, which enables us to put these goods on a special sale at a price below the usual. A. H. Stratton & Co.

What is Thy Name?

The topics for the Men's Meetings at the Y.M.C.A. for the month of April will be in the form of a series of "Personal Questions." Rev. J. H. Hannah will ask and answer the first to-morrow at 4.15 p.m., "What is Thy Name?" All men are cordially invited to attend.

All Saints' Church.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion Sunday at 8.30 a. m. Rev. W. L. Armitage will continue his sermons on the "Books of the New Testament" at the morning services, and in the evening will give the first of a series on "Things Pertaining to the Kingdom of God." Acts i, 3.

For Charity.

The King's Daughters have arranged for a dinner to be held on Thursday, April 10th, in the Y.M.C.A. building, the proceeds of which are for charity. After the dinner will be a musical evening, in which Miss Bradley, soloist, Toronto; Miss Hendren, Mrs. Cartwright-Allan, and others, will take part. Admission, 25 cents.

The Caledonians are Coming.

Peterborough citizens are to have the pleasure of listening to a rare evening's entertainment by four celebrated Scottish artists,—Miss Ella Walker, the famous soprano; Mr. Alfred D. Sturrock, the eminent baritone; Pipe-Major Angus M. Fraser, the champion Highland dancer, and Mr. Catheart Wallace, the distinguished violinist and pianist. The receptions which these artists have met with under their engagements with the Caledonian Concert Co., have been most flattering. They appear for one night only in Bradtburn's opera house, Thursday, April 10th. Plan of hall at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. 1d

PERSONALS.

Mr. L. Shannon, of town, is visiting his parents in Marmora.

Mr. Albert Talbot is able to be out again after a very serious illness.

Mr. John Hart, of Lindsay, is in town, spending a few days with his parents.

Mrs. Fred Barlee, of Lakefield, is visiting at the residence of Mr. H. T. Strickland.

Mrs. H. Pearce, Water street, has been confined to the house with illness for several days.

Miss Ida Herrman, of Newport, R. I., is visiting in town, the guest of Miss Annie Wood, Ashburnham.

Mr. Robert Lockie, South Monaghan, has gone to Pennsylvania to visit his sister, Mrs. Walton, who is very ill.

Miss Estella Doris has returned home after spending her Easter holidays with Miss Edna Blewett, of Lakefield.

Mrs. Peter Paul and her two children, of Port Hope, are spending a few days with their friend, Mrs. Boyce, Lake street.

Mr. Edgar Isaac, who for the past four years has been in the employ of the Peterborough Hardware Company, intends leaving in the course of a day or two to accept a responsible position with a hardware firm in Tweed. Mr. Isaac's many Peterborough friends will regret to learn of his departure from town.

ASHBURNHAM NOTES.

What is Going on Across the Otonabee—Building Operators.

It is rumoured that Mr. R. B. Rogers will shortly commence the construction of a handsome new house alongside of that of Mr. Peck's.

Ashburnham has set Peterborough an example in the matter of cleaning the streets. The streets of the village have all been put in an excellent shape.

Mr. Peter Glover, who has been in the butcher business in Peterborough for the past 40 years has retired from active business and will enjoy a well earned rest. Mr. Glover is one of Ashburnham's oldest business men.

DOOM OF THE CHOIR HAT.

Dear Sir,—To those who care for the appearance of the various mixed church choirs of the town, the large photographs of the Sherbourne street Methodist church choir, Toronto, now on exhibition in the windows of Madill's, Salisbury's and Routley's stores, will be of great interest. The fiat of the authorities went forth, and the "picture" hat and other "creations" had to be left in the choir parlor. But this was not all. The ladies and gentlemen were provided with appropriate black robes, — the general effect of which seems to be most satisfactory.

Would it not be a good thing, if we could follow this example? An inspection of the photographs will perhaps convince even the ladies that "it is time for a change," in this respect also in Peterborough.

Yours Truly,
UNIFORMITY.

Real Estate Notes.

Mr. L. D. Letellier has recently disposed of some of his Real Estate in town, viz., House and Lot on Park street, House and Lot on Stewart street, Dwelling on Aylmer street, and Store and Dwelling on corner of Lake and Aylmer streets. The above sales were made through the medium of A. Brown & Co., Real Estate Agents, who apparently are getting their share of the business in this line.

CONSERVATIVE NOMINATION.

W. J. Miller Accepts the Candidature—Election of Officers.

The annual convention of the Conservatives of West Peterborough was held this afternoon in the Opera House Hall, which was fairly well filled.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, President of the Association, occupied the chair.

The first business was the election, or, rather, the re-election, of officers, which resulted as follows:

President — Mr. T. E. Bradburn.
1st Vice-President—Mr. H. LeBrun.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald.
3rd Vice-President—Mr. John Green
Township Vice-Presidents: Smith, J. Milburn; Ennismore, C. O'Connor; South Monaghan, R. Fisher; North Monaghan, Geo. W. Bennett; Lakefield, F. J. Lillicrap; Harvey and Galway, — Johnson.
Sec.-Treasurer—F. D. McKay.
Assistant Secretary—Mr. C. H. Bradburn.

A resolution of confidence in Mr. J. P. Whitney, Conservative leader, moved by Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, seconded by Mr. L. M. Hayes, was carried with applause by a standing vote.

CANDIDATE NOMINATED.

After the nomination of Mr. J. W. Garvin, who declined the honour, Mr. James Kendry, seconded by Mr. Jas. Milburn, nominated Mr. J. W. Miller, boot and shoe maker, who in a brief speech accepted the nomination.

BROKE HIS LEG.

Joseph Farnell, a Labourer Met With an Accident To-day.

Joseph Farnell, an Italian, who was engaged as a labourer by Contractor Sheehy on the sewer excavation work on Rubidge street, between Dublin and Edinburg streets, met with a serious accident this morning. Farnell was down in the deep ditch, when a cave in occurred, and almost completely buried him. When his fellow labourers succeeded in extricating him it was found that his leg had been broken and he was otherwise bruised.

Dr. Moher and Dr. McGrath attended the unfortunate man, and he was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

CEREAL CO'S BUILDINGS.

The Main Building is Assuming a Finished Appearance.

The fine weather is of great advantage to the workmen at the Cereal Company's buildings. The work of laying the floors on the various flats of the main building is progressing rapidly, and the window sash is all being fitted. It is expected that by May first the company will commence to place their machinery in operation.

The new feed house is being rushed up at a very satisfactory rate. It will be the same height as the main building.

The brickwork of the new elevator will be commenced on Monday.

LABOURERS QUIT.

There is another small strike on at the Cereal Company's buildings to-day. The labourers went out, demanding a raise from 17 1-2 to 20c. an hour. Of course when the labourers quit the bricklayers were tied up, there being no one to carry the material.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Ashburnham village council meets on Monday night.

—License Inspector Crow of East Peterborough, was in town to-day, and states that he has collected $310 in fines this year.

—It is estimated that about eighty new cottages will be erected at Jackson's Point, Lake Simcoe, this spring.

—Mr. Harry Carveth has purchased the lot at the corner of Brown and Stewart streets and will erect three houses thereon.

—The Department of Fisheries will expend $2,000 this season in restocking the inland waters of this district with bass and trout.

—The steamer Water Lily has been steaming around the lake for the past few days. She made her first trip of the season from Rice Lake this morning.

THE Y. M. C. A. ATHLETES.

They Delighted Their Friends by Their Clever Work.

The Closing Exercises of the Year Proved Unusually Interesting—A Large Attendance.

In a few years time Peterborough will possess a grand lot of young athletes as the result of the course of training through which an army of small boys are being put in the physical department of the Y.M.C.A. The exercises incidental to the close of the season's work in the gymnasium was brought to a close, last evening, and the exhibitions of strength and dexterity given was amazing, the result of the course showing up in grandly developed chests, shoulders, arms and legs — particularly noticeable amongst those have belonged to the classes for several years.

The gallery, and even a portion of the gymnasium floor, was crowded with the relatives of the members of the various classes, and the exhibition which took place was most creditable to the boys. Instead of the parents of those participating, however, being present in such numbers, the invitations should have been sent to the parents of those boys who do not belong to the Y.M.C.A., as no one witnessing the work could fail to be impressed with its importance and and realize what it meant to the lads, who in a few years will find their physical development of inestimable value to them in fighting the great battle of life. It would take a lot of hard work to make one of those senior members acknowledge himself beaten.

Mr. James Connal, chairman of the Physical Committee, presided during the evening, and in the course of a few opening remarks spoke very warmly in praise of the work which was being done by Mr. Horace Ayers, the physical director, as the result of whose conscientious attention to his duties, he attributed the great progress which was being made by the boys. Mr. Connal also expressed the Association's appreciation of the young men who assisted Mr. Ayers as leaders.

The work done by the boys during the evening was clean cut and much admired. After going through the preliminary exercises, showing how the muscles were gradually developed in the use of dum-bells und wands, the younger members gradually dropped out until the fine senior men left to exemplify the heights to which a boy might aspire in this particuler line of athletics. The advanced apparatus work on the horizontal and the parallel bars as well as on the mat, was wonderful, causing the brain to reel and the eyes become dazed in trying to follow the movements of the flying athletes. The applause was unstinted and worded out in full measure. The exhibition given by the juniors, although not of quite so difficult and intricate a nature was very pretty to watch, marching and formation of letters being most interesting.

The full programme was as follows:
Gymnasium String Quartette.
Dumb Bell Drill—Junior boys.
Wrestling bout—Juniors.
Rifle Manual — Sgt.-Major Brittain.
Mat work—Senior men.
Instrumental Quartette.
Wand Drill—Senior boys.
Gladiatorial contest—Seniors.
Hand ball and Tug-of-War—Juniors.
Marching—Letter and Military — Senior boys.
Wrestling bout—Seniors.
Advanced Apparatus work — Senior Leaders.
God Save the King.

The numbers given by the Gymnasium String Quartette are especially worthy of mention. Light catchy music was played and the quartette can rest satisfied that it has no rivals in the town.

LIGHT WEIGHT BUTTER.

A Farmer Who is Alleged to Have Been Shy 3 Ounces Per Pound.

The Chief of Police this morning visited the market, and weighed various prints of butter. The third sample he weighed he found that the prints were three ounces to the pound light, and that while the greater portion of the butter offered for sale was good weight still there were a number of cases in which the weight was slightly below what it should be. However the benefit of the doubt was given to all cases excepting the one in which there was a defiriency of 3 oz. The butter was confiscated, and given to the Children's Aid Society.

MR. LINDSAY AND MR. BUCHANAN.

The Examiner has received a letter from Mr. H. P. Lindsay, in which he explains that the collection taken at the Opera House meeting, some $9 or $10, was turned over to Mr. Buchanan, to be taken to the Alliance treasurer. This explanation, if it is satisfactory to those concerned, should end the matter.

As to the remainder of the letter, dealing with Mr. Stratton's attitude towards temperance and moral reform, it is merely an expression of Mr. Lindsay's opinion, and that, perhaps, does not count for very much with the public. We all know the explanation of Mr. Lindsay's sudden zeal for temperance at the present time — party capital is to be made by "hook or by crook" — especially "crook," against the Government. If Mr. Lindsay is honest and in earnest to see the Liquor Law enforced, and knows of cases of infraction, he will be doing his duty better if he reports his knowledge to the Inspector, than by writing abusive letters for party purposes.

NINE CANADIANS KILLED.

And Four Officers Among the Wounded.

(Special to the Examiner)

Pretoria, Friday, April 4. — The British losses in the engagement in the neighbourhood of Hart's River, in the south-western extremity of Transvaal, March 31st, were three officers and 24 men killed and 16 officers and 131 men wounded. The Boers admit that they lost 137 men killed and wounded. The action occurred at Dornbalt Farm, a few miles south of the scene of Gen Delarey's defeat of Gen. Methuen. The Boers, who were commanded by Gen. Kemp and Potgieter, attacked with great determination, but the Canadian contingent, which was the last to arrive in South Africa from Canada, and two squadrons of Yeomanry under Colonel Cookson and the artillery and mounted rifles under Col. Keir presented such a stout front that the Burghers were finally forced to retreat. The casualty list shows that the second Canadian Mounted Rifles had four officers wounded, nine men killed and 40 wounded.

There are a number of Peterborough boys on this contingent.

The Colts' Cricket Club has Organized.

Havelock has a Golf Club—The Lacrosse Situation—Other Notes.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. last night, there being a good attendance of members. The chair was occupied by Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell, who spoke first of the interest he always felt in the affairs of the club, although he was no tin town during all the season.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The report of the Secretary, Mr. Herbert Wood, was submitted as follows,—

To the Officers and Members of the Peterborough Colts' Cricket Club.

Gentlemen,—In presenting the first annual report of the new club I think I may say that the year was a fairly successful one. Although we did not succeed in winning many of our matches, we have stirred up the old cricket spirit to some extent. We are most of us new at the game, and cannot expect to win at first, but must stick at it and I predict that in a few years we shall have a team in Peterborough that will not be an unworthy successor to the veteran exponents of the game in years gone by.

In all we played six matches, four in town and two outside. The first was in Lakefield against the Grove team, on June 8th, wheff we were defeated by a narrow margin.

On Thursday of the next week the Grove team played the return game, and then we succeeded in pulling out our only victory.

The following Saturday the T.C.S. H. played here and gave us a rather bad beating. Their constant practice and continual good coaching showing up to good advantage. After the games both teams were entertained at the residence of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, where a few hours were most enjoyably spent.

On June 15th we went to Lindsay and played the Collegiate Institute. We had a very weak team, as many of our best players were unable to go. We were beaten, but enjoyed our trip very much. We played an all-day match of two innings, and the ladies of Lindsay supplied the refreshments for the players at half time in the gymnasium.

On the 26th the Grove team played the third game here, and again beat us by a few runs.

The sixth and last game was played here against the Lindsay Collegiate Institute on July 13th, when after a close game, Lindsay won.

There are several things in connection with the past season which I think it would be well to mention. It is to be regretted that we have no better accommodation as regards grounds. The Nichol's Oval is used by too many different aggregations. Tennis, football, baseball, and cricket going on at the same time naturally results in each over running the territory of its neighbor. However, during none of our matches did we have any trouble.

The chief difficulty in our learning this game was the lack of proper coaching. We are much indebted to those gentlemen who came up to the crease and helped us, but we need coaching constantly, and I trust that this season many of the old enthusiasts will come out and boom the old game along.

Respectfully Yours,
H. S. WOOD,
Sec. Peterborough Colts' Cricket Club.

The report of the Treasurer, Mr. Jim Lundy, showed the club to have a surplus of $8.17 on hand.

CONSTITUTION.

The following constitution was then submitted and finally adopted by the meeting.

1.—The Club shall be called the Peterborough Colts' Cricket Club.

2.—The object of the Club shall be to promote amateur cricket in the Town of Peterborough.

3.—The officers shall be three patrons and patronesses, Hon. President, two Vice.-Presidents, Captain, Secretary and Treasurer, or these last two may be combined for any particular season by resolution at the annual meeting, and an assistant elected if desirable, at the annual meeting or by the Executive.

4—The Executive shall consist of the officers and a managing committee of three, of which four shall be a quorum.

5.—There shall be a team committee, consisting of the captain and two others.

7.—Membership fees shall be one dollar for all members.

8.—All elections shall be by ballot.

9.—Two auditors shall be appointed each year at the annual meeting.

10.—The constitution may be amended only at a general meeting of the Club, properly called, by giving one week's notice, and by a two-third vote.

OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected:

Patrons and Patronesses—Dr. and Mrs. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Lundy.

Hon. Pres.—J. Alex. Culverwell.

Pres.—E. M. Pousette.

Vice-Presidents.—A. A. Hollingshead and Sam Roy.

Capt.—Arthur Boucher.

Sec.-Treas.—D. J. Lundy.

Asst. Secretary—Fred Tully.

Managing Committee.—Harold Armstrong, Harry Rush, Ross Cameron.

Team Committee.—Capt. Frank Bradburn, Harold Armstrong.

Auditors.—G. Ferguson and Ceayton Stapleton.

Mr. Culverwell donated to the Club a bat, a pair of pads, a set of wickets and a ball, also a bat for the best batting average for the coming season. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Culverwell and Mr. Hollingshead for the presentations they had made to the Club last season.

The bat given last year by Mr. Culverwell for the highest batting average and the bat given by Mr. Hollingshead for the bowling were won by Messrs. Harold Armstrong and Arthur Boucher respectively.

LADIES' GOLF.

At a meeting of the ladies yesterday Mrs. McAllister was appointed convenor of the entertainment committee, and together with Mrs. W. H. Hill, will act on the House Committee. It was decided that the teas would be held fortnightly, on Thursdays, this season.

GOLF.

The golf fever has struck Havelock and a club has been organized in that village. This will give the local Colts a chance to show what they are made of. The Havelock Club's officers are as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Wm. Mathison.

Pres.—Rev. D. A. Hamilton.

Vice-Pres.—Miss K. VanNorman.

Lady patronesses—Mrs. (Rev.) Hamilton, Mrs. (Dr.) Holderoft, Mrs. H. C. Kindred, Mrs. A. C. Denike, Mrs. J. W. Thompson and Mrs. W. S. Dodd.

Treas.—Dr. Holderoft.

The membership fee was placed at $1.00 for gentlemen. Ladies to be admitted as honourary members.

LACROSSE.

The idea of a local team being entered in the Intermediate Series of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, seems to be dying a natural death. The interest in lacrosse has waned most perceptibly in Peterborough during the last couple of years, and there are not enough good men available to put a team into the C. L. A. which would do the town justice. The first draw would be with Port Hope, and as quite a number of shining lights picked from the best in the Midland District will be found playing with the team from that town, Peterborough would probably go down and out in the first round, and the National Game would in consequence receive a very considerable setback. Whereas lacrosse would again regain all its old time popularity here if interest in the game could be reawakened by the formation of a town league, composed of Vaticans, Y.M.C.A., T.A.S., and Peterboroughs. As the result of a season's play amongst the members of these four clubs, such talent would be developed as would justify a team being entered in the C.L.A., the year following, and by that time the street railway service will be in commission and good grounds will be available.

SOME MILITARY NEWS.

The second spring drill of the 57th Regiment will be held on Tuesday night. Let every officer, non-commissioned officer and man of the regiment be on hand, and have a good start made at the season's work.

• • •

Lt. McPherson, the popular subaltern of No. 6 Company, says that his company is going to be one of the strongest in the regiment. He is getting in a large number of recruits of an excellent quality at that, and while No. 6 may be last in numerical number it will be not otherwise so.

• • •

It is no secret that the 57th Regiment has received an invitation to visit Napance on July 1st. The matter, it is said, is under the careful consideration of the officers, and it would not be surprising if the invitation was accepted.

• • •

A meeting of "A" Company, 57th Regiment, P. R., will be held this Saturday evening, April 5th, at 7.30 o'clock, in the drill shed. Business—Issue of clothing for drill, Company organization, and also if any non-commissioned officer or private has any names to propose for membership in the company, it will be taken up at that meeting. It would be best that such new members be brought up that night to be outfitted and introduced to their future comrades. Every non-com. and private is expected to be present so that the company can make a good start in this year's business.

• • •

Lt.-Col. John Hughes, having completed his term as commanding officer of the 46th Regiment, has forwarded his resignation to the Minister of Militia. Major H. A. Warde, M.P., is the next senior officer, and the command of the regiment will fall upon him, and it is expected that the Gazette will soon announce his promotion to the Colonelcy.

• • •

Lt.-Colonel John Hughes, who is retiring from the command of the 46th Regt., gave a supper on Good Friday in Port Hope, to the officers of his regiment. His brother, "Col. Sam," in responding to the toast of the Dominion Parliament, and in speaking of the 46th Regiment, said "The 46th has a type of officers that will compare favourably with any regiment in Canada. This district has the right sort of men to make good officers. In 1837 this district was heard from when a body of men known as the Cavan Blazers marched to Toronto. They were seen by some one and word was sent that a horde was coming along and the Mayor of the corporation thought they were rebels, but when they saw the banners and heard the band playing a certain tune known as the Protestant Boys, they knew that they were their friends, and gave them a hearty welcome."

• • •

The examinations for the members of the Class of Instruction of the 57th Regiment, will take place in the course of a few weeks. Since the weekly drill of the regiment has commenced, the weekly drill of the Class of Instruction has been changed from Tuesday night to Wednesday night. Sergt.-Major Brittain has commenced a class for recruits. It meets each Thursday night; all are welcome.

TROOPER CONNOR WRITES

An Interesting Letter From South Africa—The Trip Across.

Mr. James Judd, of town, has received the following interesting letter from Trooper Connor, formerly of Peterborough;—

Newcastle, Feb. 26th, 1902.

Dear Sir,—We are down to the real thing now. I suppose you know that we did not land at the Cape. We sighted land about five p.m., and got into harbour about twelve o'clock. About 100 ships were in the harbour, and talk about a mountain—Table Mountain, they call it—I could not describe it, more than to say you could see the clouds forming around the crest. It was right in front of us. You would think it was half-a-mile away, but in reality it was seven miles. We received orders to proceed to Durban, and pulled out at 9 p.m. for the other side of the continent. We expected a rough voyage around Cape Horn, but it was wonderfully calm. We could see the coast nearly all the way. Arrived at last four days later at Durban—the Garden of Africa. Stayed in the harbour over night, pulled into dock early next morning, ending a voyage of 35 days.

Durban is a fine place—everything is green. We disembarked, loaded our horses on the train at the dock. Took train for Newcastle. It was a lively dock—hundred of kaffirs hauling baggage, etc., ploughing over cracked stone, cinders, and everything in bare feet, with a man over them with a whip. The fruit Jews swarmed around the ship, with their fruit—pine apples, peaches, apples and bananas. And the Zulus, hitched up in two wheel gigs, drawing people around.

Well, we started out on the hottest little train you ever saw. The track is about three feet wide, and small engines and cars, in compartments opening at the side. We were packed in there on wooden seats like sardines in a can. We went up hills, down hills, mountains, anything that went up in the air, which means nearly everything. Curves and grades—it is a wonder we are not up with angels. For two nights and a day we were penned in, except for getting out to stand up at some of the small stations. At one station a sheeney had a small store. He saw us coming, and so locked up. But he should have had thirty of forty long toms, for in went his door, and we almost cleared him out. The officers had a case of whiskey in their car, but forgot to pass it around, so we relieved them of the medicine.

The country began to gradually change, and you could see the Kaffirs in the field, some with just a loin cover, and the children naked. Then we began to get into the country where the big fighting took place, first Colenso, then Modder river, Tugella river, and Ladysmith. You could see small grave yards around those places.

Well, to cut it short, we at last arrived at Newcastle, detrained, and marched in heavy marching order, which is with the great coat rolled, haversack, bandolier with fifty rounds in it, water bottle, rifle, and leading two horses a piece, to our camp, five miles out of the town. It was roasting hot with that load on, about fifty pounds. That started the genuine work.

The camp was on a plain between a lot of hills and mountains. We picketed our horses before night, drew blankets and oilcloths, and put in our first night on the veldt without a tent, on Thursday, Feb. 20th, six days ago. The Boers are about fifteen miles away. We had to dig in and work getting the horses and camp fixed up. I tell you they don't let you sleep out here. Up at five in the morning, and going till six at night, and we have to lead our horses to water about two miles three times a day. We were here about two days when we got an order to send 150 men 18 miles out to hold Botha's pass against the Boers. There were none of the Peterborough boys but were there. They just returned last night, but didn't go through anything. The Boers got through the lines another way. Two days after they went out on another order for more men, myself with the other six from the old town being in the bunch. We started out, went about four miles, and were ordered back. The horses could not stand it for they were neither shod not clipped, and we returned back. At the present time they are shoeing them as fast as possible. We got orders to be ready on a moment's notice—saddles all packed, and ready, and so are we. We expected an attack last night, but it did not come.

One night I was pulled out of my bed during a pelting rain to walk my horse around, which was sick.

The Australians and New Zealanders are camped a few miles from us. I am writing this letter from their camp now. Had to come here to write, so you need not expect to hear from me often, for it is no cinch to write a letter here. I had to write it standing up out in the sun. Good-bye. Answer soon.

FROM SGT. HAYWARD.

He Writes Home to Friends From South Africa.

Letters have recently been received from Sergt. G. Hayward, who sailed in January on the Manhattan, for South Africa. He belongs to the first troop of D Squadron, 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles, under the command of Col. Evans. The voyage out was remarkable for the small number of horses lost, out of 420 but 7 died. This absence of mortality was largely due to the care taken of them. They were tended four and five times a day, regularly groomed and exercised twice a week when the weather permitted. In the morning each horse received two double handfuls of bran and one of oats, at noon two of carrots or three of bran, one of oats and a small cupful of linseed. In addition to this hay and water were served four times a day. Sergt Hayward says the Manhattan is the finest troopship that crosses the Atlantic. They reached Capetown on February 12th, and were ordered to proceed to Durban. Disembarking, they marched straight up to Newcastle, and encamped below a spot called Kitchener's Look-Out. The day after, 200 men including Sergt. Hayward, were told to leave their horses behind and were marched 25 miles eastward to Botha's Pass. After returning to Newcastle they had been under canvas there for a week, when Sergt. Hayward, being on a night watch, decided to wile away some of the time writing to his friends. This was on Feb. 27th. At the time of writing the squadron was under orders to proceed to the interior of the Orange Free State via Harrismith, to rejoin the columns.

The Croup.

It's a terrible thing, isn't it? Somehow, that awful cough, that hard struggle for air, can never be forgotten. Be a little forehanded and prevent it. Keep Vapo-Cresolene in the house, and when the children take cold let them breathe in the vapor during the evening. It goes right to the throat, just where the croup lies. All irritation subsides, the cough quiets down and serious trouble is prevented. It never fails to cure whooping cough.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.5 ; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

PREFER DEATH TO SURRENDER

Splendid Bravery Shown by Canadians in Severe Battle.

NINE KILLED AND 40 WOUNDED

Party Under Lieut. Bruce Carruthers Held Its Post Until Every Man Was Killed or Wounded—In Western Transvaal—Delarey's Force Repulsed—His Men Refused to Renew the Attack.

London, April 5.—There was severe fighting all day long on March 31 in the neighborhood of Hart's River, in the southwestern extremity of the Transvaal, between part of General Kitchener's force and the forces of Generals Delarey and Kemp, resulting in the repulse of the Boers, after heavy losses on both sides. The Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves, one party, commanded by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, holding its post till every man was killed or wounded.

Lord Kitchener's Story.

Lord Kitchener's official report, dated from Pretoria, Thursday evening, says:

"General Kitchener (Lord Kitchener's brother) sent Colonels Keir and Cookson from Vrieheid, Western Transvaal, March 31, to reconnoitre towards Hart's River. They soon struck the track of guns, and carried on a running fight for eight miles, following the track through the bush. Emerging on a plain, large Boer reinforcements advanced against their flanks, forcing the British troops to take up a defensive position, which they hastily entrenched. Fighting ensued at close quarters until the Boers were repulsed on all sides.

Boers Lost Heart.

"Delarey, Kemp and other leaders vainly attempted to persuade their men to renew the action. Fifteen hundred Boers participated in the engagement; but they had suffered too heavily, and cleared away to the northwest and south. The British losses were also severe.

Till Every Man Fell.

"The Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves, one party, commanded by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, holding its post till every man was killed or wounded. Others of the force showed great steadiness, allowing the Boers to advance within two hundred yards of them, and repelling them with a steady rifle fire."

It was in this engagement that nine Canadians were killed and forty wounded, as elsewhere reported.

Sketch of Heroic Officers.

Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, mentioned in the above despatches as commanding the Canadians who fought to a finish, is a Kingstonian, and son of the late John Carruthers, a former wholesale grocer in that city. This is the second time he has been in Africa, going out first as a private in the first contingent. He was married to Miss McPherson in December, just before going out with the Mounted Rifles. Mrs. Carruthers is in Kingston, and is no doubt anxiously awaiting final tidings as to her husband's fate. Lieut. Carruthers' command was Toronto and western men.

Lieut. Loudon, who is reported dangerously wounded, is a Toronto boy, a son of Mr. J. S. Loudon of the Standard Bank, and a brother of Mr. Herb Loudon of the Standard Bank, Chatham. He attended R. M. C., Kingston, until given a commission in the Mounted Rifles. Lieut. Ryan is from Nova Scotia. Lieut. McKay is a member of a well-known Montreal family, and was formerly an officer in the 5th Royal Scots. Lieut. Markham comes from St. John, N.B., and is the son of Lieut.-Col. Markham of The St. John Sun. He was a member of the first contingent.

"Prefer Death to Surrender."

Ottawa, April 5.—"They prefer death to surrender," was Hon. Dr. Borden's touching tribute to the gallant Canadians of the Second Mounted Rifles who fell at Kleiphardt's River, in South Africa, in the fierce engagement of Monday last.

It was six o'clock last night, and Mr. Deputy Speaker Macdonald was about to leave the chair, when the Minister of Militia arose in his place in the Commons and read the following cablegram, which, he said, had just been received by His Excellency the Governor-General from the Casualty Department at Cape Town:

"Cape Town, April 4.—Governor, Ottawa:

"Following casualties are reported from Kleinhardt's River, 31st March: "Second Regiment, Canadian Mounted Rifles: Severely Wounded—Lieut. R. N. Ryan, forearm. Slightly Wounded—Lieut. George Baptiste McKay, in the hand; Lieut. R. F. Markham, in arm; Lieut. W. P. Loudon, in the shoulder.

"Non-commissioned Officers and Men—Killed 9; Wounded 40. Names not yet received.

(Signed) "Casualty."

The Minister of Militia added: "While all this is very sad, indeed, there is this satisfaction to be derived from it—that Canadians are maintaining the reputation that they have already achieved in South Africa, and they prefer death to surrender."

Men drew their breaths hard when the figures were read of the killed and wounded; but as the Minister's last words of his remarks were uttered, the House broke out into a ringing cheer.

No Further News at Midnight.

Ottawa, April 5.—It is the general impression that the result of the engagement at Kleinhardt's River last Monday, in which the Canadians so distinguished themselves, will be to stimulate enthusiasm for enlistment in the fourth contingent. The incentive is not inopportune either, for if reports are to be at all credited the chiefs of the Militia Department were beginning to be anxious as to the outcome of the appeal, for the reason that the delay in issuing the orders for enlistment led to the supposition that the Imperial authorities were delaying their response to the Canadian offer, in the belief that the result of the negotiations between the Boer leaders would be the early cessation of hostilities.

It is regrettable that a fortnight has been allowed to slip away without any action being taken, inasmuch as the militia officials believe that in these two weeks at least 500 of the required 2,000 men could have been outfitted, mobilized and made ready for embarkation.

Up to midnight, no further details of the casualties at Kleinhardt's River had been received by His Excellency, but the names of the nine Canadians killed and 40 wounded are expected to be received from the Casualty Department by Saturday evening, in response to the Government's request.

HEALTH IN SPRING.

Nature Requires Assistance During These Months.

To Help Throw off the Impurities That Have Accumulated During the Winter Months—Purgatives Should not be Used—It is a Tonic That is Needed.

In this climate there are many reasons why people feel all out of gear in the spring months. Perhaps the chief of these is the long hours in imperfectly ventilated offices, shops and houses during the winter months. You may feel that there is nothing serious the matter, you are only a little tired after slight exertion, or perhaps your appetite is fickle, or little pimples or eruptions on the skin show that the blood is not as pure as it should be. If you feel this way, not only your comfort but your health demands that you take proper steps to cleanse yourself of the blood impurities that are responsible for your condition. You need a tonic, blood purifier, nerve strengthener and general up-lifter of the entire system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People meet all these requirements more perfectly than any other medicine. These are tonic pills and not violent and weakening like purgative medicines. Nature does not require a violent measure in spring, but a helping hand to throw off the impurities which have accumulated during the winter, and so toning and strengthening every organ and function that a condition of perfect health will prevail. Everyone—old and young — ought to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring. There is no other medicine will do you so much good. Mr. James Salmon, postmaster, Salmon Creek, N. B., says:—"Last spring I was feeling decidedly unwell. I was weak, dizzy at times, and continually felt tired. My appetite was poor and I was losing in weight. I tried several medicines, but nothing did me any good until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and a few boxes of these made me feel like a new person. I would advise all who feel run down and out of sorts to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also effective in the cure of all diseases due to poor, thin, watery blood or weak nerves. Do not take a substitute for these pills—it is a waste of money and a menace to health to do so. See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Takes Command July One.

Ottawa, April 5.—Gen. O'Grady-Haly's term will expire on the 30th of June, and Lord Dundonald will take command on July 1. The Dominion Government, however, will require to pass an Order-in-Council before the new general's appointment can said to be complete. Lord Dundonald is said to be a teetotaller, and in favor of enforcing temperance principles in the militia.

One Thousand Perjurers.

Winnipeg, April 4.—The vote now stands: For the enforcement of the Liquor Act, 12,814; against enforcement, 19,977; majority against, 6,263. Twenty-seven treaty Indians voted at Selkirk twice over for the act. Cases of perjury throughout the Province are estimated at considerably over 1,000.

Malt Breakfast Food

Is the Kind That Aids Digestion.

The human digestive apparatus is better understood to-day by all classes than it was ten years ago. Simple school lectures and sensibly written newspaper articles have all contributed to public benefit.

To-day the wise and prudent exercise commendable care regarding the character of the fuel used for the sustenance of life, and demand foods easily digested—nourishment for body and brain that will not waste existing energy or hamper the action of the digestive machinery.

Tests and strict chemical analysis have proven that Malt Breakfast Food is the only pure and true health food; the only form of concentrated nourishment that favours digestive vigor.

Users of Malt Breakfast Food never have their periods of gastric discord, no torments or agonies from dyspepsia, no paroxysms or fits of indigestion. Malt Breakfast Food used regularly at the morning meal is a guarantee of daily physical happiness that users of common starchy grain foods know nothing of. Ask your grocer for Malt Breakfast Food.

Justice Was Rapid.

Philadelphia, April 5.—William H. Lane, the colored servant, who, on Tuesday last, murdered Ella J. Jarden and her daughter Madeline, and so badly wounded another daughter, Eloise that she died yesterday, was convicted of murder in the first degree yesterday afternoon after a trial lasting less than one and a half hours. Lane pleaded guilty. At 2.20 o'clock Judge Biddle sentenced the murderer to death.

COLDS

LOADED UP WITH IMPURITIES.

IN THE SPRING THE SYSTEM IS LOADED UP WITH IMPURITIES.

After the hard work of the winter, the eating of rich and heavy foods, the system becomes clogged up with waste and poisonous matter, and the blood becomes thick and sluggish.

This causes Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Lack of Energy and that tired, weary, listless feeling so prevalent in the spring.

The cleansing, blood-purifying action of

eliminates all the pent-up poison from the system, starts the sluggish liver working, acts on the Kidneys and Bowels, and renders it, without exception,

The Best Spring Medicine.

A Wonder in Penmanship.

Among the curiosities preserved by the Minnesota Historical society is a lithographed copy of an engrossment of the emancipation proclamation. The engrosser, one W. H. Pratt of Davenport, Ia., was so very skillful in his manipulations of the pen that he succeeded, by careful and exact shading of the letters, in producing a very excellent portrait of Abraham Lincoln, the author of the famous document, in the center of the copy. In other words, the lettering itself is made to form a portrait of Mr. Lincoln. There were probably a large number of them originally struck off, but copies of it are now very rare. As a specimen of penwork it is certainly very unique.

Bad Indeed.

Losing flesh is a bad sign. Take Scott's Emulsion for it. For weak digestion, for defective nourishment, for consumption, take Scott's Emulsion. It restores flesh because it strikes at the cause of the loss.

A Disastrous Dream.

This story is told by a man from Harlem: He dreamed one night that there was concealed about the flat in which he lived a quantity of silver. The next night he dreamed the same dream and told it to his wife.

After a consultation they decided that there must be "something in it" and began to sound the walls for it. At one place in the dining room they came upon a space which sounded hollow. The wall there was of brick, but the husband got a pick, and the next night, with great stealthiness and care, they managed to make an opening, when they came upon an array of silver spoons and forks, cake baskets, teapots and other valuables.

These they arranged upon the dining room table and were gloating over when there came a furious ring at the doorbell, and an irate man who lived in the next flat came in to know "why in thunder they had broken into his dining room cupboard."

A Priceless Gift.

What is the good of a fortune without health to enjoy it? Why go about half-sick when Merrill's System Tonic will give you back your health? This wonderful medicine purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. It's no use to you if you are well, but invaluable if you are sick. A fifty cent bottle lasts three weeks. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

A Friendly Tip.

During his term as congressman Major William A. Smith, ex-president of the North Carolina Central railroad, made a visit to New York and stopped at one of the American plan hotels. Upon seating himself at dinner he was obsequiously handed a bill of fare by the waiter. Tossing it aside, he passed the waiter a dollar, with the remark, "Bring me a good dinner."

The dinner proving satisfactory, the congressman pursued this practice during his entire stay. As the last tip was changing hands he mentioned that he was about to return to Washington.

"Well, sir," said the waiter, "when you or any of your friends that can't read the bill of fare come to New York, just ask for Sam."

Weary Brain Workers.

Fagged out, ideas come as slowly as molasses. You think of things just a minute or two too late. Snap's gone! The buoyancy that made work a pleasure—that's gone too. The doctor would tell you that you are run down, not eating enough nor digesting enough. Your stomach needs aid, your digestion needs a bracer too. You blood requires Phosphorous and Iron that it may be formed readily. Now Ferrozone is a wonderful nerve bracer and blood maker. It's food for the blood and nerves, it will make you strong quickly and permanently. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Wood In Egyptian Stonework.

Probably the oldest timber in the world which has been subjected to the use of man is that found in the ancient temples of Egypt in connection with the stonework, which is known to be at least 4,000 years old. This, the only wood used in the construction of the temples, is in the form of ties holding the end of one stone to another. When two blocks were laid in place, an excavation about an inch deep was made in each block, in which a tie shaped like an hourglass is driven. It is therefore very difficult to force any stone from its position.

A Wrong Burial Certificate.

When a physician issues a burial certificate for one who has died of consumption or throat trouble, he should say, Cause of death, neglect, to take Four T's when the cough first started. Four T's cure a cough in 24 hours and the worst cold in two days, and you get a large bottle for 25c. at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

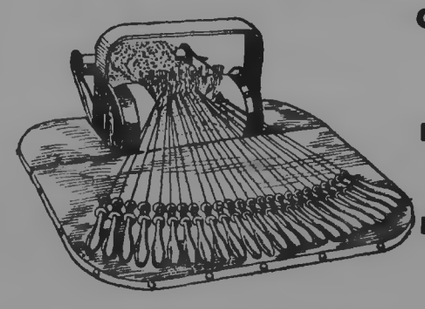
Home Work for Ladies



CONGENIAL WORK. Lace making is a fascinating employment of absorbing interest, and with our Lace Loom the finest grade of Torchon and Valenciennes Laces (hitherto almost exclusively made by the women of Germany and Sweden) can be made at home in the evenings or other spare time.

EASY TO LEARN. Our Lace Loom, though ingenious in construction, is easy to operate without a teacher as the illustrated book of instructions accompanying each machine is full and complete, and patterns are furnished free by us.

PROFITABLE. In European countries where these laces are made it forms the chief industry of the women, who make them in their own homes. By working for us in their spare time ladies can add considerably to their income or by giving more time to it can make an independent living for themselves.

THE NOTTINGHAM LACE CO., TORONTO, CANADA

WANT TO ENGAGE A FEW MORE LADIES IN ANY PART OF CANADA TO WORK FOR THE COMPANY AT THEIR OWN HOMES

Our plan is simple and is here fully explained. The work is also simple and easily performed on the Lace Loom furnished by us. With each Loom is furnished an Instruction Book with which the different kinds of lace can be made without a teacher. If you wish to make an independent living, or if you wish to add to your income by lace making in your spare time, write to us promptly, enclosing Contract Order Form given below, with remittance, and we will send the Lace Loom and outfit to begin work at once.

The market for Laces of all kinds is so large, and increasing so rapidly, that we can sell practically unlimited quantities, and we are anxious to get as many new workers as possible.

Our plan of buying material in very large quantities and employing people at their own homes working on their own Looms saves us many business expenses and, with the Customs duties, enables us to undersell foreign manufacturers.

The prices we pay our workers for making the ordinary kinds of lace that we sell, range from 3 cents per yard for the narrowest and easiest made upwards to 20 cents. With practice, very fine and beautiful laces can be made for which we pay very much higher prices.

The Loom accommodates work of from half an inch to eight inches in width, and with the number of bobbins used an immense variety of patterns can be worked. The accuracy and ease with which the work can be turned out is marvellous, and yet all the grace and beauty of handwork is retained. Lace of the most delicate and intricate texture as well as the more simple though pretty patterns can be made. The work is easily and rapidly done. You will be surprised at the speed with which the roll of finished lace grows on the Receiving Spool. As the art becomes more familiar it is done almost automatically, although the great number of beautiful patterns supplied free by us gives the work a constant variety and makes it of absorbing interest. We cannot lay too much stress upon the fact that the products of this Loom are not cheap imitations of lace, but genuine fine laces, such as are made by hand (as the machine is so constructed that one's own handiwork enters into it), and they are of the same quality as the most high class imported handmade laces which sell at the highest prices.

We supply all material, patterns, etc., free of charge, commencing with enough for the first samples to be made by beginners. When these samples have been made satisfactorily and returned to us, we send a quantity of material and patterns at our own expense for lace to be made for us to sell and we pay promptly for the making. We pay the cost of sending everything to the worker and they pay the cost of sending the finished work back to us. The cost of sending back the lace to us is very little, as many yards of lace can be sent from any distance by post for a mere trifle. The work is very simple, and rapidly done. Everything necessary for the work except the Loom is furnished free to our workers. The manufactured price of the Loom is $10, and those desiring to work for us must sign the Contract Order Form in this advertisement and send the remittance of $10 for the Loom. This is necessary to give us confidence that you mean business. Our interests are the same, and there must be mutual confidence in order that your business with us will be successful. We are in a large way of business and have a regular system from which we cannot deviate. We guarantee fair dealing and prompt payment for work. Indeed we could not remain in business otherwise than on the foregoing principles.

The Loom and all patterns and material to begin are all absolutely your own property to do what you like with after you have paid the $10; but after you have sent in your first sample satisfactorily, we send you more material for making fine laces for us to sell and for making which we pay you; these last materials will belong to us and must be returned to us when made into lace. If at any time after you commence working for us you wish to discontinue we will buy back the Loom and refund the $10 less costs of our expense, expressage, etc.

If you engage with us we will keep you supplied with work as long as you do it satisfactorily. Our workers are engaged summer and winter (whole or spare time whichever they wish), year after year. We entrust them with large quantities of valuable material, and though they may make lace for themselves or their neighbors (as the Loom and pattern and outfit are their own property), yet we expect them to take good care of the material we send them to be worked up for us, and for this work we pay well and pay promptly.

We have here stated, as briefly as possible, just what our method is, and we simply say as to the Loom, it is just what we represent it to be, and will positively do everything we claim for it, or we will refund the money.

CONTRACT ORDER FORM

To the Nottingham Lace Co., McKinnon Bld'g., Toronto, Canada:—

GENTLEMEN,—I desire to do the work as described in this advertisement and enclose $10 to pay for one Lace Loom together with patterns, instructions and everything necessary for the work. The same to be sent to me by express, charges prepaid.

It is understood and agreed that any time I wish to discontinue working for you that you will take back the machine and outfit and and refund to me the $10 less your expenses, expressage, etc.

State how much time you can devote to the work and also how you wish to be paid, weekly, monthly, or as you send in the work. Send your remittance by Express Money Order, Registered Letter, or Post Office Money Order, and we will be responsible for its safe passage to us.

UNCLE SAM'S MONEY.

THE SAFEGUARDS THAT HEDGE ABOUT ITS MANUFACTURE.

Care With Which Even the Shavings of the Peculiar Paper Used Are Handled—Counting and Recounting the Treasured Sheets.

Uncle Sam's paper money has its birth in the bureau of engraving and printing in Washington. Here a corps of engravers cut its lines into plates of steel. Five hundred men and women are in one room. It is the largest printing office in the world. Here are struck from these plates the notes which we give the butcher and the baker. Each steel plate when not in actual use is stored away in a great burglar proof vault to which only the highest officials know the combination. At the side of each printing press is a little indicator like a bicycle cyclometer, which keeps tally of every piece of paper money printed. Thus is Uncle Sam kept informed as to the exact number of paper notes of all denominations which leave his presses daily.

If there is any secret which Uncle Sam jealously guards, it is the process of manufacturing the fiber paper upon which his money notes are printed. He pays a Massachusetts firm a big price for it, and this firm does its work under the surveillance of a government agent. The paper is manufactured of the finest rags, cleaned, boiled and mashed into pulp. As it is rolled into thin sheets silk threads are introduced into it by a secret process. These are the distinguishing marks making imitation of the paper well nigh impossible.

The sheets of paper, already counted twice and placed in uniform packages at the paper mill, are stored in a treasury vault and issued to the bureau of engraving and printing as wanted. Before leaving the treasury they are counted three times more, and the receiving official at the bureau must receipt for them. Then the bundles are unwrapped, and the sheets are counted twenty-eight times by a corps of women. This is to insure that each printer gets the recorded number—no more, no less. Before any employee of the division in which this paper is kept can leave for home each night he must exhibit to a watchman at the door a pass certifying that every fragment of every sheet passing through his fingers has been accounted for.

If one sheet of this precious paper be lost, the entire force of men and women having access to the room where the misplacement has occurred are kept in, like so many school children, to find it. Each sheet is issued from the vault for the printing of a definite amount of money upon it. If the lost sheet were intended to ultimately represent $4,000 worth of notes, the group of employees to whom the responsibility of its misplacement has been traced must make good that amount if they cannot locate it within a reasonable time.

Twenty-four times more are the sheets containing the printed money counted after leaving the presses. Then they are sealed in packages of 1,000, placed on racks in a drying room of 130 degrees temperature, unpacked, thoroughly examined, smoothed in powerful hydraulic presses and packed in wooden cases. These cases are hauled to the treasury in an ironclad wagon. Six guards, heavily armed, accompany this wagon whenever it makes a trip.

No attempt to steal Uncle Sam's money while undergoing any of these stages of manufacture has yet been detected. As a matter of fact, the money would be practically useless, for its printing is not completed until after it makes this guarded journey to the treasury. There the finishing touch is added in the printing of the colored seal upon the face of each note. With the six sealing presses the same precautions are taken as with the two hundred and fifty big money presses in the other building. Each sheet coming from the former has a row of notes printed upon it. The sheets are put through small machines, operated by girls, who cut out the individual notes. Even the small strips, falling like shavings from their machines, must be carefully collected, sent to the bureau of engraving and printing and there boiled into pulp. An employee found with even one of these ribbons of waste paper is liable to imprisonment for fifteen years and a fine of $5,000.

Between these different processes the paper money has been counted and recounted six additional times. Finally the single notes are placed in stacks of 100, with all of the blue numbers printed on their faces in sequence. They are then wrapped in paper, labeled, sealed with red wax and stored in the great treasury vaults. Thus each piece of paper money now in circulation has been officially counted sixty-three times.

In our mints the system of accounting for the blank metal out of which the finished coins are stamped, of keeping tally on the coining machines' work, of counting the finished product, of packing it, of sealing it in cloth bags, of transporting it under guard, of counting it many times again and finally of storing it away is practically the same.

There is not a day in the year when any one of the seven great treasury vaults does not contain in coin, bullion, notes, certificates or bonds sufficient to make you or me one of the richest of the world's multimillionaires. The most capacious of these strong boxes are in the basement of the treasury. A large guard of men—mostly old soldiers, commanded by a captain and lieutenant—watches them day and night. These guardians are heavily armed, and they patrol their beats every quarter hour throughout the night.—Saturday Evening Post.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Doubles a Mother's Joys and Halves Her Sorrows.

It does this by a pre-natal preparation in which the mother finds herself growing stronger instead of weaker with each month. Instead of nausea and nervousness, there are healthy appetite, quiet nerves, and refreshing sleep. The mind's content keeps pace with the body's comfort. There is no anxiety, no dread of the approaching time of travail. When the birth hour comes it is practically painless, the recovery is rapid, and the mother finds herself abundantly able to nurse her child.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge, and so obtain without cost the advice of a specialist in the diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FAT NERVES.

Healthy nerves are fat nerves. It is fat in the core of a nerve that by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness,

BLACK GOWNS.

A dress of black lace edged with a thick ruching of net, gauze or chiffon is charming over white satin. The neck can be cut decollete for evening wear, and for day occasions a guimpe can be made to wear with it. These black gowns are the most useful a woman can have.

Pretty and serviceable black gowns are being made of black crepe de chine much tucked and combined with black velvet chiffon and jet.

only single and double plaits, but quite a cluster of plaits with a box plait in the center. Some of the skirts even have slight gathers. The newest slips to wear under semitransparent skirts are made with deep flounces and are put on full at the back. They are finished with a plaited frill laid on quite at the edge of the flounce.

The black crepe de chine gown in the sketch is made in semiprincess fashion. The continuous tucked effect gives it the princess look. It is cut decollete but the bare effect of the neck is partly hidden by perpendicular applications of jet held in place by means of a transparent jet collar. The sleeves pouch into a considerable fullness and are held into a cuff of jet. The skirt has a gored flounce headed by the jetted application. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Japanese Porcelain Repairs.

In the manner of repairs those wonderful followers of principle and truth in art, the Japanese, have a lesson to teach us. When a Japanese connoisseur breaks some precious piece of pottery or porcelain, he does not throw it away with disdain, neither does he try to deceive the casual observer into the belief that it is unbroken. Instead, he has it joined together, generally with gold lacquer, in such a fashion that the fracture is boldly shown and commented on, as it were, by the frank exposition of the method by which it is made good. Curious enough, a distinctly new and charmingly decorative effect is in most cases added by these irregular gold lines, while the sense of craftsmanship is tickled by the marvelous skill exhibited by the repairer in thus welding together the two dissimilar materials. Truth is preserved at no loss of artistic beauty. Indeed, once more it is made clear that the two may always walk hand in hand.

Terrible Tortures and Death Result From Acute and Chronic Rheumatism When Neglected in Spring.

Paine's Celery Compound

THE GREAT VANQUISHER OF ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism, terrible in its acute, and long enduring in its chronic form is one of the most baneful diseases that human beings suffer from. It is a disease that will not bear neglect, for if not treated promptly will remain till death to harass, torture make life miserable.

Rheumatism is also a constitutional disorder and hereditary. Because of an inactive condition of the kidneys and bowels the blood is not purified, and an acrid poison is formed and deposited in the muscles and joints, and this causes the inflamation and intense agonies that thousands are obliged to endure. Too often, the effects of rheumatism are fatal, especially when the dread disease affects the heart; then death is sudden. Many other serious complications result from this terrible disease, such as pneumonia, pleurisy, meningitis and diaphragmitis, and these often prove rapidly fatal.

Racked and tortured reader, what are you doing to get rid of your danger? Physicians candidly admit their inability to cure. The ordinary medicines of the day may give you relief for a few hours or days; they cannot banish the disease from your blood, joints and muscles; they cannot take the swellings from your knees, elbows or wrists, or make supple the stiffened and twisted limbs. You cannot longer afford to experiment; death is the sure result of experiment and neglect.

To-day, your only hope lies in the immediate use of Dr. Phelps' wonderful rheumatism banisher — Paine's Celery Compound. This tested and world-famed vanquisher of rheumatism, neuralgia and other troubles that arise from impure and poisoned blood, is now fully recognized by the medical profession as a positive and unfailing cure. The following important letter sent by Mr. H.W. Crysler, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., is but one of the thousands received from prominent Canadians who have been cured by Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. Crysler says:

"About four years since, I had a severe attack of grippe, followed by rheumatism, for which the local physician prescribed the usual remedies, which helped me at the time, but did not eliminate the disease. Becoming gradually worse, I finally became discouraged and began using "proprietary" medicines without any benefit. Then I went to Clifton Springs, took the treatment, and felt somewhat better; but after coming back I became very much worse, and was confined to bed for a time. I then went to Preston Springs, and really improved; but after returning home I got worse. I was then induced to try Paine's Celery Compound, and have gained in health and strength up to the present writing. I now walk from my house to my store, a distance of one-quarter of a mile, daily, and to church Sundays. Paine's Celery Compound has done all this for me. My friends are surprised and astonished to see me able to attend to business again. Believing that it is my duty to let other sufferers know of the great benefit I have received from Paine's Celery Compound, I cheerfully send this letter."

The Skin.

The fatty material secreted by the sebaceous glands of the skin may be normal, excessive or deficient in quantity. When normal, the skin is supple, but not greasy; when excessive, the greasiness is apparent; when deficient, the skin is dry.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

AN OLD GARDEN.

The Joy It Gives Even Though the Plot Be a Small One.

Perhaps no word of six letters concentrate so much human satisfaction as the word "garden." Not accidentally indeed did the inspired writer make paradise a garden, and still today, when a man has found all the rest of the world vanity, he retires into his garden. When man needs just one word to express in rich and poignant symbol his sense of accumulated beauty and blessedness, his first thought is of a garden. The saint speaks of "the garden of God." "A garden inclosed is my sister, my spouse!" cries the lover, or "There is a garden in her face!" he sings, and the soldier's stern dream is of a "garden of swords." The word "heaven" itself is hardly more universally expressive of human happiness than the word "garden."

And you have only to possess even quite a small garden to know why—a small old garden. So long as it be old it hardly matters how small it is, but old it must be, for a new garden is obviously not a garden at all. And most keenly to relish the joy which an old garden can give you should perhaps have been born in a city and dreamed all your life of some day owning a garden. No form of good fortune can, I am sure, give one a deeper thrill of happy ownership than that with which one thus city bred at last enters into possession of an old country garden.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

When Snow Is Smoke.

When Professor James Dewar inserted a small jet of flaming hydrogen into a vessel of liquid oxygen, the hydrogen continued to burn, giving off snow instead of smoke. The snow was formed by the instantaneous freezing of the water created by the combination of the burning hydrogen with the oxygen inclosing it. When he cooled liquid air until it became semisolid, he found he could draw the oxygen out of the mass with a maguet, leaving a jelly of pure nitrogen.

The Liver at the Bottom.

The liver is usually at the bottom of a great many diseases. It is the liver which abstracts the bile. It is the bile which enters chemically into the composition of the digestive ferments, and also acts as a cathartic. Merrill's System Tonic makes a strong, healthy, active liver, hence is a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Constipation and Nervous Trouble. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Stuttering and Stammering.

Stuttering and stammering are terms that are confounded. They are not synonymous by any means. Stammering is an inability to properly enunciate certain elementary speech words; stuttering is a vicious utterance, manifested by frequent repetitious of initial or other elementary sounds. Both are caused by improperly acting muscles of the vocal chords, soft palate, tongue, cheeks, lips, etc.

Some of these muscles are under easy control of the will. Over the muscles of the pharynx, the soft palate and at the base of the tongue, which move its root upward and downward, our power is not so complete, and this causes the affliction.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Clear Story of Most Terrible Incident of Whole War.

AUSTRALIANS MURDERED BOERS

Results of Lord Kitchener's Searching Investigation into the Whole Matter—Five Officers Tried by Court-Martial—The Sentences Inflicted Upon Them on Being Found Guilty—No Doubt of Guilt.

London, April 5.—The War Office yesterday afternoon issued an official statement of the facts in regard to the Australians sentenced for murdering Boer prisoners as follows:

"The Bushveldt Carbineers, who were recruited in South Africa, but included other colonials, were employed in July and August in the wildest part of the Transvaal, 80 miles northeast of Pietersburg, and took a certain number of prisoners. Grave irregularities on the part of certain officers of the corps came to the knowledge of the military authorities in October, and an exhaustive investigation was ordered by Lord Kitchener. As a result of the enquiry five officers were tried by court-martial at Pietersburg, in January last, and were found guilty as principals or accessories of 12 murders.

"Lieuts. Hancock and Morant were sentenced to death, which was carried out. These officers were also charged with the murder of the Rev. C. Hesse. Although there was strong suspicion that they committed the murder, the evidence was not considered sufficient to justify their conviction.

"Lieut. Witton was found guilty of murder, and was sentenced to death, but there were mitigating circumstances, and the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment at penal servitude.

"Lieut. Picton was found guilty of manslaughter, and was cashiered.

"Major Lenahan, commanding the Carbineers, who became aware of the crimes subsequent to their committal, was convicted of culpable negligence to report them, and was ordered home to Australia, his dismissal being unnecessary, owing to the disbandment of the corps.

"No doubt exists as to the guilt of the accused, whose plea, in extenuation, that a number of their corps were ill-treated by the Boers, was not sustained by the evidence at the trial. The sentences were such as would have been inflicted on any officers similarly guilty."

Where Botha Is.

London, April 5.—From Brussels, a correspondent of The Morning Post states that Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, has received a despatch from Lorenzo Marquez, saying that the force under General Botha is advancing towards the Natal frontier.

Desolate Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N.J., April 5.—The beach front between Illinois and New York avenues presents a scene of utter ruin and desolation. Of the many fine hotels, which were situated in the district visited by Thursday's conflagration, there remain standing the unburned portion of the Windsor Hotel, at the board walk and Illinois avenue, and the charred framework of the Rio Grande Hotel on New York avenue. Between these two structures lies a blackened waste scarcely a stick being left to identify any one of the numerous buildings destroyed by fire. The shell of the Academy of Music remains standing, and this is notable, as the theatre was the only brick building in the burned area.

Two Armies Destroyed.

Panama, Columbia, April 5.—This city was the scene of wild enthusiasm on the part of the Conservatives Thursday night, when Governor Salazar made public the contents of the following despatch received from President Marroquin:

"Bogota: General Gonzales Valencia has defeated and completely destroyed the armies of Generals Focion Soto and Juan McAllister. General Urie Uribe, who invaded Colombian territory via Medina, in the Department of Boyaca, was also defeated by General Nicolas Perdamo."

THE COMMONS.

Ottawa, April 5.—On the orders of the day being called in the House yesterday, Mr. R. L. Borden brought to the attention of the Premier the following press despatch:

"Washington, April 2.—Secretary Hay and Mr. Raites, secretary of the British Embassy, to-day signed a treaty extending to the British colonies the provisions of the original treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the preservation of the industrial properties."

Mr. Borden would like to know if the Premier could give the House any information on the subject.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the Government had no information whatever on the subject, but having seen the despatch, had made enquiries about it, and were at the moment expecting a reply.

Bills Introduced.

The following bills were introduced and read a first time: Respecting the Calgary and Edmonton Railway Company; to incorporate the Penny Bank; to incorporate the Manitoba and Keewatin Railway Co.; to incorporate the Dominion Railway and Power Co.; to incorporate the Montreal Subway Co.; respecting the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway Co.; to incorporate the Toronto and Niagara Power Co.; to incorporate the Nepigon Electric Railway Co.; to incorporate the Gaspe and Western Railway Co.; respecting the Lake Champlain and St. Lawrence Canal Company.

Hon. Sydney Fisher on the Census.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, resumed the debate on the budget, dealing particularly with the attacks that have been made on his department during the debate. As to Mr. Bell's challenging of Sir Richard Cartwright's statements in regard to the census of 1891, that the figures were unduly swelled, Mr. Fisher said that Sir Richard's statements were incontrovertible, even although he had not given full details. He wished to supplement what Sir Richard Cartwright had said by some specimen cases given in greater detail. It had been said by Mr. Bell that the instructions to the census takers in 1891, that only industrial establishments giving an annual output of $200 be enumerated, had been obeyed. As a matter of fact, smaller establishments were given by the enumerators and by the tabulators in Ottawa. In the first 86 pages of the 360 pages devoted to this statement there were given 339 industrial establishments with an annual output of less than $200, the total for the 339 being $44,500, an average of only $134. Instructions given that persons who had been absent from the country more than a year should not be enumerated had been wilfully disregarded in 1891, but in the last census there was no suspicion that anyone so absent had been enumerated.

In Quebec no more people had been counted in 1901 than should have been counted, but in 1891 many more were counted, and if any blame should be given for unduly swelling the population in Quebec it rested on the late and not the present Government. In 1891 in every county of Quebec official census figures were larger than the parochial census, while in 1901 in four counties the parochial census figures were larger than the official figures. In 1891 the average excess of the official over the parochial figures was 2,000, but in 1901 the average difference was only 200 to a constituency. Mr. Ficher quoted a host of instances in which French-Canadian families in Joliette, Quebec, were registerd in the census of 1891, although they had left the district, in many cases 15, 18, 20 and even 40 years ago. One family named Gilbout was enumerated, consisting of the father, aged 48, the mother, aged 50, and eight children, the eldest 24 years of age, the others ranging down by gradation of one year. This family had never resided in the municipality to which they were credited. This information was furnished by Rev. Father Morin of Joliette. Similar conditions were found to prevail in Bagot, where in one instance a family had been registerd by the same enumerator. In Rouville there were enumerated 3,123 more people in the Dominion census of 1891 than in the parochial census.

In answer to Mr. R. L. Borden, Mr. Fisher said he had not to-day any information as to which enumerators had been questioned in regard to their frauds.

INTERESTING TO TRAVELLERS, ATHLETES, CYCLISTS, ETC.

Grove Villa, Bromar Road, Denmark Park,—

Gentlemen, — I scarcely know how to express my thanks to you for the great benefits I have derived from the use of Kelpion. Being an all-round athlete, I have of course experienced some bad sprains and bruises, but my late mishap at football, which resulted in a partial dislocation of the knee, was certainly the most serious.

For five weeks I have tried various embrocations, but to no purpose, except peeling the skin off, and making my leg smart. A friend then advised me to give Kelpion a trial, which I did. In three days my knee was considerably improved, and at the end of two weeks it was as well as ever, and quite strong enough to permit of me resuming cycling, etc. I shall certainly rely upon Kelpion for the future.

Several of the Borough Polytechnic Harriers have also expressed to me their high opinion of the Ointment, having made good use of it while training for their big race. They say that but for it several of them would have been too footsore to compete. Yours truly, W. Walker,

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 4th.—Two Investment Bargains.—For either a marginal or investment purchase, we again call your attention to Penna and Ill. C. shares. Both are magnificent exponents of American Railroading, and their present prices are exceedingly low, comparing them with other stock investments, as to their earning power and value of their respective properties, both have an unusual dividend record, paying steadily even in the poorest of times, while the earnings of both are not only constantly increasing, but are far in excess of present disbursements. The Penna. is the largest gross earner in the United States, and has made remarkable strides in securing control of lines in its adjacent territory, which will increase its influence, extend its business and fortify it against any serious competition. In the next two years the increase in its earning capacity through the new properties it controls, and which it is rapidly improving and developing should be most marked. We firmly believe these shares will sell higher in the next three months than they have ever done before. The main interests controlling Ills. Centl. have done so for years as an investment, and consequently run the road in the interest of the shareholders. They being the largest, this road has always been one of the solid dies of this country, and when compared with Paul, R. I., and North West, considering its dividend record and earning capacity, is ludicrously cheap. An investor in either of these issues, should the shares temporarily recede for any now unforseen reason, may be absolutely certain that the price will recover. Being among the great railway arteries of rapidly growing country, it is a certainty that time must surely increase their intrinsic value, and constantly. In the railway world their position is analagous to choicely located property in a prosperous and rapidly growing city. Time always increases values in such cases.

MR. J. W. MILLER THE CANDIDATE

Whom the Conservatives Have Nominated to Contest the Riding.

CONVENTION ON SATURDAY.

Mr. J. J. Foy K. C., Spoke to a Large Audience in the Opera House in the Evening—Addresses by Others.

After the election of officers at Saturday afternoon's convention of the West Riding Conservatives, the matter of nominating a candidate for the Provincial Legislature, was taken up.

Major Miller stated that he had great pleasure in nominating Mr. J. W. Garvin, the gentleman who four years ago had put up such a splendid straightforward campaign.

Mr. A. P. Ponsette, K. C., seconded the nomination, stating that the Conservatives seldom had any candidate reflect as great credit on the party as had Mr. Garvin four years ago. All recognized his ability and generalship in the campaign. Three days before the election he had the Liberal party badly scared, but all had heard of the West Elgin election corruption, and no doubt the same methods had been introduced here to defeat Mr. Garvin. The party was greatly indebted to Mr. Garvin for going through the election campaign at his own expense.

Mr. Garvin thanked his nominators, and also the gathering, for the manner in which his name had been received. It was with great regret that he felt constrained to refuse the nomination. Four years ago he had accepted, and put up the best possible fight, and had been defeated. He had no reason for believing that he would poll a larger vote now. However, he felt safe in saying that up to within four or five days of the election, Mr. Stratton had not felt at all sure of victory. Had it not been for the large sums of money brought into the riding, and the other political frauds which were perpetrated, he would have been elected. He would not stoop to adopt the methods which had been adopted by Mr. Stratton, and so felt it was better to retire. He had no reason to believe that he could be elected now any more than four years ago. The enthusiasm then was intense, but it was a regrettable fact that a certain portion of the electorate of the riding of West Peterborough was purchasable. Fully fifteen or twenty per cent. of the voters were purchasable, and the man who would stoop to buy votes would be elected. He regretted that he could not enter an election contest here with the feeling of winning, but because he could not win was no reason why another Conservative could not. It was quite possible for some one else to redeem the riding. Mr. Stratton was not as strong as before, even if he had a portfolio now. In the last election, Mr. Whitney was thought to stand no chance of carrying the country, but his chances now were admitted to be excellent. Even the Liberals believed this. Some time ago the residents of Ennismore had wanted a grant for the Chemong Lake bridge, and had only been able to get $3500 from the Government, while a private company were able to get $4,000 for a dam away up in Anstruther, where there wasn't a settler within five miles. Why was this deal carried out secretly? How many people in Peterborough doubted the truth of John Duignan's statement about it? The speaker concluded by stating that he intended to get after Hon. J. R. Stratton on every possible occasion during the coming election, and making it so interesting for him that he would not want to leave the riding.

Mr. James Kendry, M. P., then placed the name of Major Miller before the meeting as a candidate. He said that he had been through certain parts of the country and the feeling was that Mr. Whitney was certain to be returned at the head of the poll. No Government should stay in power for thirty years. Changes should come more often. The country's business would be conducted better if the Governments were turned out once in a while. A Government thought it owned the whole country if it was left in power too long. He had known Major Miller for some thirty odd years, and had been connected with him in temperance and other organizations. No man could be sent to Parliament possessed of better principles. He wanted to see men returned who had been brought up in the town. He knew that Major Miller would have a strong fight to win and he had a strong man to fight. The course he followed in his own campaigns was to never abuse an opponent and he advised that in the present contest only the questions of the day be discussed. He hoped that the young men would give Major Miller their support, as an old Peterborough boy.

The nomination was seconded by Mr. Joseph Milburn, of Smith.

Major Miller on being tendered the nomination came forward and received a hearty reception. After thanking the convention for the honour done him, he stated that he regarded a nomination at this time as a special honour as he considered this a time of action. The present Government was one of expediency rather than a Government for the people, by the people and of the people. He challenged contradiction of the statement in saying that the Liberal party was carrying on a business of money changers. The men who were sent to Parliament as the servants of the people came back and lorded it over them and claimed that it was anarchy to find fault with such as they. Their policy was one of broad open corruption and defiance of inquiry. It was not Jacques Cartier who discovered Canada, but Wilfred Laurier and Ross was his prophet. Ross really discovered New Ontario, although there was some kind of a fuss over the ownership with Sir John A. Macdonald. Some of the land was parcelled out for the Veterans of 66. The Government gave the Veterans the rocks and kept the best portions for their pets. It would require a gatling gun to shoot the crop into the ground of New Ontario, which should have been left to the wolves and the few crows which fly over it. The boys of '66 didn't ask for anything, but the gratitude of the people. When the C.P.R. was being built through New Ontario Ross scouted the idea of such a barren country being opened up. The speaker in closing, advocated sending men to Parliament who were not going there just to grab up their salary of $400 a year. Man of honour should be elected. If corruption was attempted in the present election he would see that "the man who spent the money would wear a striped suit and lick the King's skillet."

Mr. J. H. Burnham closed the meeting by stating that Major Miller was a man all should be proud of. Major Miller had furnished him with his boots, and he therefore respected him in every walk of life.

THE EVENING MEETING.

The opera house was well filled in the evening, and was very prettily decorated with flags and bunting. Unfortunately Mr. J. H. Hoyle was unable to be present, and the large audience was deprived of the pleasure of hearing this pleasing speaker.

The chair was occupied by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, and the first speaker was Mr. Jas. Kendry, M.P., who spoke along much the same lines as he did at the afternoon meeting, claiming that the present Government had been in power too long.

Dr. Ford, the Conservative candidate in the East Riding, was then introduced, and referred to the pleasure it gave him to come before an audience in Peterborough, through the fact that he was born and educated in the town. He heard considerable talk to the effect that as he was a professional man, it was nonsensical for him to try to represent an agricultural riding, but he though the objection to him lay in his being a Conservative rather than a professional man. He thanked the Examiner for the character which it had given him of being a temperance man. He was proud of it, and did not believe that it would interfere in the least with his candidature in the Conservative interests. He had been identified with the Conservative party for many years and had never been asked to bury his principles. As the Conservative candidate he owed his allegiance to his party on all questions of a purely political nature, but on the great moral questions which were political, yet above all politics, he owed allegiance to no party of men but to his conscience only.

Major Miller then addressed the audience, and claimed in opening that notwithstanding the Maybee Pamphlet, the Conservative party was loyal to its leaders, and the leaders were loyal to the party. The party had reason to be loyal to its leaders, as fully 75 per cent. of the legislation which was enacted, emanated from them. Who, but Whitney, forced the adoption of the sawlog policy; who, but Whitney, brought the corruptionists to justice; who, but Foy, refused a judgship, preferring to keep his personal honour untarnished? Major Miller proceeding, claimed that the only cash surplus ever possessed by an Ontario Government was that of J. Sandfield Macdonald, although the present Government by garbled and unaudited statements attempted to make the people believe that the province possessed a surplus. "Where are the pine forests of John Sandfield Macdonald's time? Ask of the winds that whistle through the denuded stumps, that stand like whited sepulchres in the barren lands. The answer comes," the Major went on to say, "Floated across to Michigan to be cut up in American sawmills by American labour." The speaker then turned his attention to Hon. G. W. Ross's recent journey to England, stating that it cost the province $1500, and that while abroad all he had done was to tell the British how to bring the war to a close, to show the Russians how to solve the Eastern question, and to give France the bluff. He had also made arrangements to have all the buckles on British harness made of Canadian nickel, and fixed it to have a number of remount stations established in Canada. Major Miller said that if elected he would claim independence on the questions of labour and temperance. The labour party desired no friction with capital, but asked legislation to bring them together. He urged that a prohibition measure had not been given Ontario, but a makeshift in the shape of a loaded referendum at the hands of the great Christian statesman whose life, he stated, belied the name the people gave him. He, himself, had been a temperance man for thirty years and he was willing to do what was right, fair and honest by any measure that that came before his party in Toronto.

Mr. J. J. Foy, Q.C., received quite an ovation when he rose to speak. He complimented Major Miller on his nomination and stated from the reports which he had heard he had reason to believe that West Peterborough would send a Conservative representative to Toronto, as the result of the impending elections. He predicted a sweeping victory from one end of the country to the other. Major Miller might be discouraged by Mr. Stratton's big majority, but he knew now that it was the result of fraudulent practices brought to bear. The Conservatives had not expected this before in any part of the Province, but if it occurred again it would be their own fault if they did not detect it. Thousands of honest Liberals would frown down such acts and be with the Conservatives at the next election in order to purify their

REASONS WHY . . . .

This Store's Trade Grows so Rapidly.

Because we have made it clear to all who want reliable qualities that our prices are the lowest, and there are sound reasons to prove the statement.

1st.—The fact that we sell for cash only is one of the very best arguments. This policy does away with the large losses and expenses of charge accounts.

2nd.—We do not give commissions and indiscriminate discounts. Most every other house does to a greater or less extent. No special privileges or favors granted to one at the expense of another at this store.

3rd.—You are aware that this is only one of the stores operated by this firm. This gives us a purchasing strength which other stores do not possess—in a great many instances buying direct from the maker instead of the middleman.

4th.—You will always find at this store some big clearing lines bought so that we can sell them, in many instances, at half the cost of production.

5th.—The greater volume of business reduces the percentage of profit. We are everlastingly striving to see how little we can sell goods for instead of how much.

6th.—Compare our prices with the prices elsewhere, and do not forget to consider quality when doing so. We'll warrant there's a considerable saving on a $5.00 purchase.

Sutcliffe & Sons' business is organized for leadership in value giving. The popularity of this store is carried forward by the power of its facilities that enable us to offer such excellent value.

11 LIVES FOR EMPIRE

Valiant Canadians Who Died in the Hart's River Fight.

A PARTIAL LIST OF CASUALTIES

One Party Fought Until All Were Killed or Wounded—The Fighting Severe and General For Three Hours—Colonial Secretary's Congratulations and Sympathy—The List of Killed and Wounded.

Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, April 6.—Details received of the battle at Doornbalt Farm, near Hart's River, March 31, in which the British had three officers and 24 men killed and 16 officers and 131 men wounded, while the Boers had 137 men killed or wounded, show that quite 3,000 Boers opened a strong attack from different points with three guns and a pompom.

This attack was made at a moment when the British had left their baggage in a laager in charge of the Canadian contingent and were galloping across the open plain with the intention of capturing a Boer convoy which had been discovered five miles ahead.

The British retired steadily, and, having dismounted, opened a return fusilade on the Boers.

While the baggage in charge of the Canadians was sent for the British formed a camp and started digging trenches.

The shelling of the Boers stampeded the mules carrying provisions and caused confusion, but otherwise it was not very effective, many shells failing to explode.

The Canadian front was attacked in strong numbers, but they gallantly repelled every attempt made by the Boers to break through. One party of the Canadians fought until all were killed or wounded, and the last man, although mortally wounded, emptied two bandoliers of cartridges at the enemy and then broke his rifle.

The fighting was severe and general for fully three hours, but after the British had entrenched, and the guns got into action, they repelled numerous and determined attacks made under the personal exhortations of the Boer leaders.

Toward night the fire gradually ceased and the Boers retired.

The British then telegraphed for aid and further entrenched their camp for the night, and awaited the arrival of Gen. Kitchener, but the Boers made no attempt to renew the attack.

PARTIAL CASUALTY LIST.

Canadians Who Were Killed and Wounded in Fight of March 31.

Ottawa, April 6.—The list of Canadians killed and wounded in the engagement at Hart River or Kleinhardt on Monday last is as yet incomplete. The cablegram received on Friday announced that four officers had been wounded, nine non-commissioned officers and men killed and 40 non-commissioned officers and men wounded.

Yesterday afternoon a cablegram to His Excellency, the Governor-General, from the Casualty Department at Cape Town, gave the names of seven men killed and two reported by "released men" as also killed.

Two men, Pte. West and Pte. Campbell, were named as having died of their wounds after the engagement, and the names were given also of 18 non coms. and men wounded. This evidently leaves 21 wounded non-commissioned and men yet to be reported out of a total of 53 casualties to the Canadian troop.

The cablegram, giving the names of thirty killed and wounded, was received at Government House about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was given out to the press at half past three. The announcemnet had been anxiously awaited ever since Saturday morning and the corridors of the Commons had an air of activity and stir unwonted for a Sunday afternoon. Members and Senators crowded the bulletin stand, and as one after another the names of the fallen braves were read out, regretful remarks noted their recognition by sympathetic hearers, who included men from nearly all parts of the Dominion.

The casualties, too, were as widely dispersed. There were names from points scattered between Halifax and Vancouver. But the greatest number of deaths were of Ontario men. Of the six of them who gave up their lives for the Empire, there were two each from Toronto, London and Guelph. Of the five others, there was one each from Peterboro, Montreal, Revelstoke and Cranbrook, B. C., and Brandon, Manitoba.

Pte. Alexander McDonald, Fort Steele, B.C.
Pte. H. Hawes, Halifax, N.S.
Pte. J. N. Biswanger, Halifax, N. S.

All sorts of surmises are advanced as to the scope of the action at Kleinhardt and the particular part performed in it by the Canadians, but the only seeming qualification which the official cablegram gives to their splendid record as told in the press despatches is the intimation that some of them fell into the enemy's hands. The expression "released men report two officers dead" would certainly indicate that some of the British troops engaged were taken prisoners and subsequently set at liberty by the enemy. And the fact that they were able to give the names of two fallen Canadian comrades suggest that they were Canadians themselves.

But the general feeling was well expressed in the words which His Excellency the Governor-General cabled to the officer commanding the Canadians: "Hearty congratulations to all ranks on their splendid success. Deeply deplore heavy loss." Personal tributes to the fallen heroes was paid by those who had served with them in the earlier stages of the campaign.

The Canadian troops engaged were of the first detachment of the C. M. R., which arrived at Durban, Natal, under Major Marritt, and went to the front via Bloemfontein.

Up to midnight the remainder of the casualties had not been received at Government House.

Canadian Gallantry Praised.

London, April 7.—The gallantry of the Canadian troops at the engagement with the Boers near Hart's River, Southwestern Transvaal, March 31, attracts unstinted praise from the British press.

Another Account of the Battle.

Pretoria, Friday, April 4.—The British losses in the engagement in the neighborhood of Hart's River (in the southwestern extremity of the Transvaal), March 31, were three officers and 24 men killed, and 16 officers and one hundred and thirty-one men wounded. The Boers admit that they lost one hundred and thirty-seven men, killed or wounded.

The action occurred at Doornbalt Farm, a few miles south of the scene of General Delarey's defeat of General Methuen. The Boers, who were commanded by Generals Kemp and Potgieter, attacked with great determination, but the Canadian contingent, which was the last to arrive in South Africa from Canada, and two squadrons of Yeomanry, under Colonel Cookson, and the artillery and Mounted Rifles, under Colonel Keir, presented such a stout front that the burghers were finally forced to retreat.

The casualty list shows that the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles had 4 officers wounded, 9 men killed and 40 men wounded.

Relief in Kingston.

Kingston, April 7.—The receipt of the casualty list brought relief to many persons here, particularly in view of the fact that Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, in command of the famous troop, was a Kingstonian. In many of the churches prayers were offered for those in this country who had been bereaved.

Chamberlain's Message to Canada.

"Mr. Chamberlain to Lord Minto:

"London, April 5.—I congratulate Dominion on heroic conduct of Canadian Rifles in action with Delarey. Deeply regret heavy casualties, and desire to express heartfelt sympathy with relatives of those who have given their lives to maintain splendid traditions of Canadian valor.

(Signed) "Chamberlain."

Behaved Splendidly.

General O'Grady-Haly received a cable yesterday from Col. Evans, commanding the Second Canadian Mounted Infantry, stating that the Canadian troops at Kleinhardt's fight behaved splendidly.

WANT TO FIGHT.

Royal Canadian Regiment at Halifax Offers Its Services.

Halifax, N.S., April 7.—The third Special Service Battalion Royal Canadians, now stationed at Halifax, have volunteered for service in South Africa. Lieut.-Col. White states that a large percentage of the officers and men are anxious to go to the front. The regiment is composed of nearly 1,000 men, it having been strengthened recently by a large number of recruits, who enlisted at various points in the lower provinces. It is probable that the offer of the services of the regiment will be recommended to the War Office.

THE SCIENTIFIC WAY.

Drugs Couldn't Cure Mr. Hagens of Montreal, so he Tried the New No-Drug System of Curing People and was Made Well of a Running Sore Which Lasted Ten Years.

I feel it my duty to write you my testimonial to the wonderful curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone. Ten years ago I bruised my left leg between the knee and the ankle, and it broke out in a running sore. I tried every known remedy and drug, but none of them effected a cure. Sometimes my leg was so bad that I would have to lay off from my work. About the last of June it became so bad that I was confined to my house, and for eight weeks was unable to leave my room, the pain being intense. The sore was running very badly all the time, and it covered a space on my leg the size of the palm of my hand. It was very much discoloured and there was a large piece of proud flesh in it that it seemed impossible to heal. In fact, I never expected that my leg would be cured. I had heard a great deal about your no-drug preparation and I procured a bottle of Ozone and applied it to the sore and also began to take it inwardly. Before I had finished one bottle, I found the sore beginning to heal. I am happy to inform you that the sore is now completely healed up and I have no pain. I am now working every day, experiencing no inconvenience whatever from my leg. My general health is good and I have to thank you for your wonderful preparation, as I have to attribute my present good health and cure to that alone.

I shall ever praise Ozone for the good it has done me, and I shall always keep it in my house as a family standby.

I will be glad to answer any communications as to the truth of this statement, and you may publish the same for the good of others.

One night in June my leg was so bad and the pain so intense I was taken with a violent fit and my wife thought I would die. Before morning we applied Ozone freely and I was relieved. (Signed.) C. Hagens, 94 Anderson street, Montreal, P.Q.

You can secure a bottle of Powley's Liquified Ozone at your druggists for 50 cents or $1. You will never regret purchasing it. It is the scientific way of curing disease—nature's blood food and blood purifier.

King to Give Cups to Poor.

London, April 7.—At his dinner to a half million of the poor in London on Coronation Day, King Edward himself will present everyone with a memorial cup. The cup will be of cream-colored glazed Doulton ware, in the shape of an old-fashioned goblet, and without handles. It will hold half a pint, and portraits of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will be printed under the glaze.

Bank Fraud Suspect Free.

London, April 7.—The men Aitken and Roberts, who were detained in the earlier stages of the prosecutions which resulted in the conviction of Goudie, the Liverpool Bank clerk; Burge, the pugilist, and the bookmakers, Stiles and Kelly, for complicity in forgeries on the Liverpool Bank, have now been discharged.

FOR THE CORONATIONS.

Government Will Send 24 Officers and 580 N.C.O. and Men.

Ottawa, April 7.—The Canadian Government will send about 24 officers, including surgeons, and 580 non-commissioned officers and men as a contingent to the coronation ceremonies. They will leave Quebec on the Parisian on June 7, and return on the Tunisian, sailing from Liverpool on July 3. The contingent is the maximum number asked for by the Imperial authorities. The War Office will provide 300 horses, and it is taken for granted that these will be for artillery and cavalry. The contingent will consist of units from every branch of the Canadian military service, including the Northwest Mounted Police. Nothing has been definitely settled in regard to the commanding officer. The Minister of Militia's idea in the organization of the contingent is to have a body of men that will convey a fair idea of what the Canadian active militia is like. No undue prominence will be given to the permanent force or to any special class of officers.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

Lower Windsor, N. B., April 6 (Special.)—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when those came on he was almost laid up.

He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniment on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions.

"I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long.

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

Canada at the Coronation.

London, April 7.—The Mail says: The High Commissioner for Canada has received authority from the Dominion Government to offer to those in charge of the decoration of the streets of London on the occasion of the coronation festivities an arch emblematic of the resources and development of Canada.

It is understood that the formal proposal on behalf of the Ottawa Cabinet will come before the City Council of Westminster immediately after the holidays, and that it will probably be accepted. The offer, it appears, has grown out of the suggestions which have been made from to time by the architects who have been outlining a form of decoration in which the colonies could be represented, and Canada decidedly objects to being represented by snow-capped mountains and blocks of ice.

Fishing From the Shore.

St. John's, Nfld., April 7.— The sealing steamer Kite yesterday entered White Bay, near the Strait of Belle Isle, with only 2,500 seals. The ice floes are being driven against the shore by the strong winds, and the shore folks are making good catches of seals. It is believed 10,000 have been secured by a few score of the settlers.

A REARGUARD ACTION

The British Rode Straight Into a Boer Ambush.

THEY FOUGHT HAND-TO-HAND

Battle of Rifles Used—300 British and 500 Boers—Reinforcements and Daylight Brought Relief—Boers in Khaki Mixed With National Scouts—Casualties—25 Krugers Become British Subjects.

London, April 7.—The South African casualty list issued Friday evening shows that the losses sustained by the Second Dragoon Guards in their sharp rearguard action with the Boers, near Boschman's Kop, during the evening of March 31, were severe. Two officers were killed and five were wounded, and eighteen men were killed and fifty-eight were wounded.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

300 British Troops Rode Straight Into 500 Boers.

Pretoria, April 6.—Details received here of the rearguard action during the night of March 31, between the Second Dragoon Guards of Col. Lawley's column and the Boers, near Boschman's Kop, show that a force of 200 British, while endeavoring to surprise a Boer laager on a dark night, rode straight into a force of 500 Boers. The Boers were hidden in a drift, and opened fire almost under the legs of the British horses. A fierce hand-to-hand struggle ensued, in which both sides freely used the butt ends of their rifles. The British regained the ridge they had just left, and commenced a rearguard action.

In the meantime, a strong force of Boers had barred the road of the British camp. The coming of daylight enabled Col. Lawley to see that the Guards were hard pressed, and he despatched reinforcements, with two guns, to their assistance. The reinforcements soon compelled the Boers to retreat.

The Guards had a very hard fight, and were ordered to retire by squadrons. The Boers disputed every inch of the road with the Guards, and continually attempted to rush them, shouting "hands up." At each successive position taken up, the British appeared in diminished numbers, for as it grew lighter the aim of the Boers improved proportionately.

Commandant Pretorius, who was captured the previous day in a Cape cart, was in charge of some national scouts. The scouts rode into a party of Boers dressed ib khaki, supposing them to be British troops. The Boers opened fire, and Pretorius escaped in the confusion. One report says he was shot as he fled.

Commandant Prinsloo is also reported to have been killed in the fighting, as well as other Boer officers.

The British wounded who fell into the Boers' hands were well treated by the enemy.

Dr. Leyds and Natal.

London, April 7.—Dr. Leyd's rumored invasion of Natal by General Botna is not confirmed by British sources. There is no justification for the theory that Botha and Delarey were making a preconcerted movement east and west, while Schalkburger was duping the British staff in the centre with illusive peace negotiations. The Boer forces are too far apart for conferences or co-operation. Phe burghers, like the "Tommies," will make a business of fighting until peace is proclaimed.

The Peace Mission.

Kroonstad, Orange River Colony, April 6.—Owing to the great distance separating the members of the Transvaal mission here from Mr. Steyn, the former President of the Orange Free State, and Gen. Delarey, the negotiations between the Boer leaders in South Africa looking to the conclusion of the war made little progress. It is expected, however, that Mr. Schalkburger and his colleagues on the mission will shortly leave here for a more convenient centre from which to conduct the negotiations.

Seeking Peace For Boers.

Amsterdam, April 7.—A correspondent is authoritatively informed that Dr. Kuyper, in his present visit to Berlin, although he has seen the German Emperor and certain Ministers, is not engaged in making an appeal to the powers for intervention in South Africa. The Dutch Prime Minister is, however, extremely anxious to find a basis for negotiations toward the termination of hostilities.

Clerks For South Africa.

London, April 7.—The War Office has issued enlistment instructions for trained clerks for service in South Africa. They must be between the ages of 20 and 40, and be up to the army physical standard. They will receive five shillings per day, and pensions are promised in case they are wounded or disabled while on service.

Boers in the Field.

Pretoria, April 6.—Careful computation gives the total strength of the scattered Boer commandoes at between 8,000 and 9,000 men.

Loyal Krugers.

Pretoria, April 6.—Caspar Kruger, the eldest son of former President Kruger, and 24 other relatives of Mr. Kruger, bearing the same family name, are among those who have recently taken the oath of allegiance to Great Britain.

They Deserved Their Fate.

Melbourne, April 7.—A member of the Bushveldt Carbineers says that he was told by eyewitnesses that Morant and Hancock, the officers who were executed for murdering unarmed Boers, shot Boer prisoners previous to the killing of their fellow officer Hunt. He says that Hunt was shot through the heart while attacking Viljoen's house, but was not mutilated.

He confirms the report of the shooting of eight Boers who had surrendered, and adds that on other occasions six and afterwards three of them were shot under similar circumstances. He heard of no previous court-martialling of these Boers.

The general opinion in Melbourne now is that Morant and Hancock merited their fate.

THE ALGOMA TOUR.

Provincial Ministers to Visit the Soo This Week—The Program of Meetings and Receptions to Be Held.

Toronto, April 7.—The projected tour of Premier Ross and the members of his Cabinet through new Ontario as far as Sault Ste. Marie is now definitely settled to begin to-morrow. Hon. J. R. Stratton and Hon. F. R. Latchford will address a Liberal meeting at North Bay, the point at which the Temiskaming Railway will commence, to-morrow evening. Premier Ross and the remaining Ministers will leave Toronto to-morrow evening, reaching North Bay Wednesday morning, joining Messrs. Stratton and Latchford and proceeding westward at once. Hon. Mr. Dryden and Hon. Mr. Latchford will stop over at Sturgeon Falls on Wednesday for an hour or two to address the West Nipissing Liberal convention, which will be held there that day. In arrival at Sudbury at noon on Wednesday the first party, including the Premier, will be given a reception, and in a stop of an hour or so, a public meeting will be held. In the afternoon the start will be made for the Sault, stops being made at several stations, and addresses may be given from the train. Wednesday night will be spent in lying over at some small station, and Thursday will be occupied in traveling the remainder of the distance to the Sault, a number of further meeting being addressed from the car. This is a portion of new Ontario where rapid settlement and development is proceeding, and the contact between the Ministers and the settlers will doubtless be of mutual advantage.

The distinguished tourists will reach Sault Ste. Marie on Thursday evening, and Friday will be spent in pursuing the primary object of the trip, an inspection of the Clergue syndicate's immense steel plant, where the recently, inaugurated process of manufacturing steel rails will be witnessed. In the evening a public meeting will be held in the interests of the Liberal candidate in Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. C. N. Smith. The return journey will be commenced immediately after the meeting, and, it is hoped, connection will be made at North Bay with the train reaching Toronto in the afternoon of Saturday.

Guelph, April 7.—The Prohibitionists of South Wellington held a meeting here Saturday afternoon. After considerable discussion, Ald. Samuel Carter was unanimously chosen as the Prohibition candidate. Mr. Carter accepted the nomination on condition that a sum sufficient to carry on a vigorous campaign was raised A committee was appointed to secure the necessary funds.

The First in the World.

Merrill's System Tonic is the first medicine to combine the tonic with the reconstructive treatment in the cure of disease. The blood is purified, new blood is made, the nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, stomach, liver and kidneys are toned toned and strengthened, and then nature is enabled to throw off the disease which has been ravishing the body. For Constipation, Catarrh, and Chronic Rheumatism, System Tonic is a positive cure. Sold at 50¢ per bottle by Ormond & Walsh.

The Year 1881.

The year 1881 was a chronological oddity of the oddest kind, besides being a mathematical curiosity seldom equaled. From right to left and left to right it reads the same. Eighteen divided by 2 gives 9 as a quotient; 81 divided by 9 gives 9; if divided by 9, the quotient contains a 9; if multiplied by 9, the product contains two 9s; 1 and 8 are 9; 8 and 1 are 9. If the 18 be placed under the 81 and added, the sum is 99. If the figures be added thus—1, 8, 8, 1—it will give 18 as the result. Reading to the middle from right to left or from left to right it is 18, and 18 is two-ninths of 81. By adding, dividing and multiplying ten 9s are produced, being one 9 for each year to the beginning of the last decade of the nineteenth century.

No wonder the fortune tellers, the astrologers and the mathematicians weave so many strange fancies around that curious combination of figures. It may have been what induced Mother Shipton to end her prophetic jingle with, "And at last the world to an end shall come in eighteen hundred and eighty-one."

Treaty Is Satisfactory.

Pekin, April 4.—The negotiations concerning the Manchurian treaty between China and Russia have been concluded, and the negotiators are now engaged in framing a text of the agreement in the French language. The terms of the treaty are understood to be satisfactory to the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Infants too young to take medicine may be cured of croup, whooping cough and colds by using Vapo-Cresolene—they breathe it.

MANCHURIAN TREATY ON APRIL 8

Russian and Chinese Representatives Choose Date For Signing It.

Pekin, April 6.—Prince Ching and M. Paul Lessar, the Russian Minister, have fixed on April 8 as the date for the signing of the new Manchuria convention.

Mr. Conger, the American Minister, sailed from Taku for Shanghai today on the gunboat Wilmington. Mr. Conger is to represent the United States Government on the commission which is to revise the Chinese customs tariff.

A Priceless Gift.
What is the good of a fortune without health to enjoy it? Why go about half-sick when Merrill's System Tonic will give you back your health? This wonderful medicine purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. It's no use to you if you are well, but invaluable if you are sick. A fifty cent bottle lasts three weeks. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

One Kersey Found Guilty.

Sarnia, April 7.—At 7 o'clock Saturday the jury returned a verdict of guilty against Isaac Kersey, and announced Walter Kersey not guilty. Walter Kersey was thereupon discharged. Isaac Kersey was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

To Have Beautiful Skin.
Every one who would have a clear, soft, velvety skin free from pimples, blackheads, redness and disfiguring eruptions must use Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is a true food for the skin, does not clog the pores as do powders, and insures permanent benefit. There is not a single itching, burning skin disease of men, women or children that Dr. Chase's Ointment will not cure. Mothers find it invaluable for Baby Eczema, scald head and chafing on the little ones.

"MUSCLES IN KNOTS"

Joints all stiffened and swollen—dagger-like pains, sufferings that no man can describe—this is the experience of thousands of Rheumatism's victims.

Do you know that there isn't a case, no matter how acute or how long standing, that South American Rheumatic Cure will not relieve almost in a trice and work a permanent cure. Its action on a system so disordered is marvellous. It works quickly, quietly, effectually and harmlessly, and leaves no bad after effects. It does not cure all diseases, but it does cure rheumatism. 1

HEART "STARTS"

Does the slightest effort excite the Heart, quicken the breathing, induce suffocation, fluttering, palpitation or excruciating pain-spasms? You need no surer symptom of disease, for when the heart "starts" the heart is sick.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a heart specific. Under it's sway, any or all of these sensations of distress will vanish like dew before the morning sun. It is winning golden encomiums every day as a never-failing treatment. One dose gives relief in thirty minutes. A few bottle will cure the most stubborn case. 15

More Good Boot News!

We think every man, woman, boy and child in Peterborough ought to buy their Spring Footwear at COUGH'S. WHY?

BECAUSE we believe those who buy here fare better than those who don't.

BECAUSE our assortments are so complete that no one need be disappointed.

BECAUSE qualities in material as well as making, are free from all that is second-class and unworthy.

The proof is easy. Come and judge for yourself.

ORGAN RECITAL

Clarence Glass, boy vocalist.

Frank Williams, boy violinist.

The above are the artists engaged for the organ recital and sacred concert at the Murray street Baptist church on Tuesday next, 8th, inst.

Speaking of the remarkable musical talent of the two lads, aged 11 and 12 respectively, the Globe says: "The soprano solos of Master Clarence Glass, with violin obligato by Master F. Williams, fairly brought down the crowded house at the Massey Hall on Monday evening, in the Festival of Lillies."

Besure to hear them. Tickets 25 cents each, can be obtained at Sailsbury's bookstore, Peterborough music warehouse, Madill's drug store, C. B. Routley's, Examiner office and Review office.

Prof. Shortt, of Queen's University, will lecture at the Fortnightly Club on "Trusts" on Friday, April 11th, in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

The team in conenction with the Total Abstinence Society of St. Peter's Cathedral, have just received their new uniforms. They are very nobby looking, being of red with black facings. BASEBALL.

The Auburn baseball team is out with a challenge against a team from the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. They would like to play on Saturday next, or if the Wm Hamilton Co. team fails to accept the challenge the Auburns will be pleased to hear from any other team in town.

The Cobourg Post says: "Pat Mulhall may not leave Cobourg this summer. If he could be induced to get into the game again Cobourg would have a good chance to trim some of the semi-professional clubs in the province and again make a name for the town. To-day he looks to be a better man in every way than ever, should be able to throw a powerful ball. Let us take steps at once and sign him to play in the local team the coming season."

RUGBY.

Mr. Eugene Hurtibise, Peterborough's old Rugby player, is in town to-day and is being warmly received.

TOOLEY WON THE CUP.

At a meeting of the curlers on Friday evening a statement was presented showing that Mr. Mike Tooley was credited with winning the greatest number of scheduled games during the winter, and he was therefore declared the winner of the Kendry Cup for season.

CAPT. MILLIGAN AND CORP. KNISELEY

Met Their Death on the South African Veldt.

WERE WELL KNOWN HERE.

Details received of the battle at Doornbelt Farm, on March 31st, in which the British had three officers and 24 men killed and 16 officers and 131 men wounded, show that the Peterborough representatives on the 2nd Canadian Rifles, have had their first taste of actual fighting.

Whilst there are no Peterborough boys amongst the casualty list, still there are two who were recruited at this point. They are Captain W. P. Milligan, of Clarke, and Private C. N. Evans, of Port Hope.

When the news of the death of Milligan and Evans reached Peterborough yesterday there was universal sorrow, and there were also many anxious enquiries as to the fate of the Peterborough men, who no doubt were in the engagement.

W. P. Milligan, Pte. No. 13, of Newtonville, Durham county, Ont., until the date of his enlistment last January, was Capt. of the 46th Durham Regt., under Col. John Hughes, and Major H. A. Ward, M.P. Previously he had served in the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, and had been acting-Major in command of the Durham Field Battery. He was also a noted rifleman, and distinguished himself at the D.R.A., and also at Bisley and Wimbledon. When the second Mounted Rifles were being formed so great was his enthusiasm that he resigned his commission and enlisted as a private. Captain Milligan was a wealthy farmer, and leaves a wife, nee Miss Robertson, of Lindsay, and several children. When Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., was notified by the Minister that he was second in command of the Royal Canadian Regt., in 1899, and believing that a company would be raised in the third military district, he chose Capt. Milligan to command the company.

Captain Milligan was well known to Peterborough military men and was always warmly greeted while here. He was a fine looking soldier, and received a rousing send off at the C. P. R. Station here when leaving for South Africa.

Of Private Evans, of Port Hope, little is known here, there is still another name on casualty list that will be learned with sincere regret. It is that of Corp. Kniseley. His name is a familiar one to the people of Peterborough, as it will be remembered that Corp. Kinseley saved Sgt. Percy Price from falling into the hands of the Boers during an engagement with the Canadian Mounted Rifles. For this act he was given the distinction D.C.M. After returning home Corp. Kinseley was a guest at the home of Sgt. Price and a large number of Peterborough people had the pleasure of meeting him. He and Percy were fast friends and no one more than Percy will feel his untimely demise.

Corp. Kniseley, came from Selkirk, in the County of Haldimand, and was a farmer. He belonged to the 37th Regiment, Haldimand Rifles, and volunteered from it to the 1st Battalion, Canadian Mounted Rifles, afterwards known as the Royal Canadian Dragoons. At the fight at Lilliefontein Kniseley greatly distinguished himself in the affair for which Major Cockburn was awarded the V. C.; he was given the medal for distinguished conduct in the field. On returning to Canada he resumed his service in the 37th, and was made staff-sergeant and orderly-room clerk. He served in that capacity at the last Niagara camp and at the royal review. On the last occasion he received his D.C.M. from the hands of the Prince. He went to the front again with the 2nd C.M.R. Kniseley, who at the Lilliefontein fight showed desperate courage, was a very quiet and exceedingly modest man.

PERSONALS.

Miss Maloney, trained nurse, has returned from Otonabee.

Mr. W. Harrigan, Williamsport, Pa., is visiting his cousin, Mr. Jas. Harrigan, Ashburnham.

Miss Beatty, of Bowmanville, who has been spending Easter with Mrs. J. Jeffreys, Aylmer street, has returned home after a pleasant visit.

CHURCH CLOSED.

There will be no service in St. Mark's church, Otonabee, for a while at least. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, has been asked by Medical Health Officer Shaw, of Otonabee, to close the church for service until the present outbreak of small-pox has been gotten under control.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening.

—At the next regular meeting of the Royal Arcanum, to be held on Thursday evening, light refreshments will be served after the regular business. By order of the Regent.

—One of the finest collection of hydrangeas may be seen under glass at Jos. H. Cobb's Aylmer street Greenhouses. Ladies should arrange to have their afternoon outing include a visit to these greenhouses. The display of blooming plants — lilies, azalias, spiraeas, begonias, etc., is worth seeing.

MISS TURNBULL'S EXPERIENCE.

Knocked Down by a Horse and Injured on Saturday.

Miss H. Turnbull, of Hartley, Man., who is in town on a visit to her uncle, Mr. John Sims, driver for the Canadian Express Company, met with a painful accident on Saturday afternoon. Miss Turnbull was crossing Hunter street from Macdonald's drug store to the Bank of Toronto, when she was knocked down by a passing horse, and badly bruised. She was considerably cut about the face and head, and altogether her escape from more serious injury was to say the least miraculous. She was taken in to Macdonald's drug store, where her injuries were attended to, after which she was conveyed to Mr. Sims' residence.

The driver of the horse was from the country, it is believed, and his name has not been learned as yet.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with twenty-eight years' experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

The Professor Going.

Prof. O'Brien, Canada's Greatest Phrenologist and Palmist, who has been in Peterborough for the past number of weeks, intends leaving town to-morrow, after a very successful business visit. The large number of prominent people who have patronized Prof. O'Brien testify as to his standing and his methods. On his register can be seen many of Peterborough's most prominent business and professional men as well as many of our leading women. Prof. O'Brien has read the hands of over 10,000 people during his six years residence in Toronto and he is patronized by the elite from every part of the world.

CHURCH CHIMES.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The pastor occupied the pulpit in Charlotte street church yesterday at both services, and preached to large congregations, especially in the evening, when the church was crowded.

The song sermon on the subject "Stepping Stones in the Pathway of Life," was very helpful and instructive, and the music was attractive and well rendered.

The music given during the day was as follows: Morning—Anthem, "Sing to the Lord," Offertory solo, "The Two Cities"—Gray, Miss Clara Bellegham. Evening—Anthem, "Jubilate Deo," solos by Mr. Sidney Mitchell and Mr. Skitch. Song sermon solos, "I'll take my first step," Mr. Mitchell; "Let Jesus come in," Mr. Skitch; "Take God at His word" Rev. D. O. Crossley; "Shout of Victory," Miss C. Bellegham; offertory duet, "Tarry with me," Miss Bellegham and Mr. Mitchell.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The music at both services of the George street Methodist church was of a very pleasing character. In the morning two anthems were sung, "I will feed My Flock," Caleb Simper, and "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me, O Lord," Pflenger. Miss Metheral and Mr. Pearce taking the solo passages in good voice.

In the evening the choir sang the anthem "Hosanna," Mr. Pearce taking the solo and during the offertory the solo, "Man of Sorrows," was sung in excellent voice by Mr. G. W. Mulligan.

HOCKEYISTS BANQUETTED.

At McCallum's Restaurant, on Saturday Night—A Handsome Presentation to the Team.

The series of banquets to the members of the Peterborough Hockey team, intermediate champions of the O.H.A., has apparently not concluded, for last Saturday night the boys were further entertained, the host being Mr. Culverwell. In addition to the members of the victorious seven there were also present representatives of the various sister sporting organizations of the town and representatives of the press. The affair was most informal but none the less enjoyable, and a pleasant hour or so two was spent in songs, speechmaking and the offering of congratulatory remarks towards the champions.

The chair was occupied by Mr Culverwell, who expressed his pleasure in meeting the boys around the festive board. He assured them of the deep interest he had taken in their record during the past winter, and he hoped that with the advantage of having a new rink they would continue in their good work. Messrs. R. F. McWilliams spoke on behalf of the Lacrosse Club; Hal. Burnham on behalf of the Rugby Club; F. D. Kerr on behalf of the Tennis Club, and C. H. Bradburn on behalf of the Golf Club. Other speakers were Messrs. A. W. McPherson, Arthur J. McClellan, Wm. Bunton, Geo. Giroux and Dr. A. Scott.

Mr. R. M. Glover, the captain of the team, acknowledged, on behalf of his men the honour they felt in being entertained by Mr. Culverwell.

Before the proceedings were brought to a close, Mr. Culverwell presented, in trust, to Mr. H.R.H. Kenner, president of the Club, seven shares of stock in the new skating rink. He explained that should the O.H.A. decide that it would not be a proper proceedure for the members of the team to hold the stock individually, then it would be held by the Peterborough Hockey Club.

Mr. Kenner thanked Mr. Culverwell very heartily for his kindness. It was appreciated by the members of the Club and, by the team, and it would no doubt be an inspiration for them to enter the game next season with greater determination to win out than ever before.

During the evening Mr. Joe Halpany sang several comic songs.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association of the Town of Peterborough, was held this morning. There were present Rev. J. Bastow, chairman, Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. D. O. Crossley, Rev. Jos. Kilgour, Rev. William Bennett, Rev. J. H. Hannah and Rev. W. L. Armitage.

Mr. Robert Harrison, secretary of the local Lord's Day Alliance, was present, and spoke on the observance of the special week devoted throughout the world towards the work of the Alliance, which is from the 6th to the 13th of the present month. It was agreed to preach sermons on one of the two following Sundays, 13th and 20th, on the matter of Sunday observance.

Arrangements were made for the visitation of the public schools during the present term.

Rev. Mr. Potter gave a very interesting paper on "Commercialism in the Church," which was followed by discussion.

For Charity.

The King's Daughters have arranged for a dinner to be held on Thursday, April 10th, in the Y.M.C.A. building, the proceeds of which are for charity. After the dinner will be a musical evening, in which Miss Bradley, soloist, Toronto; Miss Hendren, Mrs. Cartwright-Allan, and others, will take part. Admission, 25 cents.

THE CONSERVATIVE NOMINATION.

At the convention held on Saturday, Mr. W. J. Miller was nominated on behalf of the Conservatives as a candidate to contest the representation of West Peterborough in the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Miller in accepting the candidature, has only exercised the right of every respectable citizen to aspire to the privilege and honour of serving his country in the halls of legislation. Under our free British institutions the way is open to every citizen to enter public life, and it remains with the people, who, under the same free institutions, are the real governing power, to decide the fitness of any candidate who offers, for the position he seeks. In regard to Mr. Miller in his personal capacity, we have no comment to offer, but his relations to political affairs, his relations to the people of the country, and his relations as a candidate to the electors and the interests of West Peterborough, are the legitimate subject of discussion and criticism. The question or the local aspect of the question, now before the people, is whether Mr. Miller, who is new to public life, and inexperienced in public affairs, or Hon. J. R. Stratton, who has given the riding of West Peterborough capable and faithful service for sixteen years, is the better qualified to advance the material and other interests of the town and county. That is the matter now before the electors. The wider aspect of the question is whether Mr. Miller in his political capacity, as a supporter of the "policy" of the present Ontario Opposition, is as worthy of support, and can, fettered by the unprogressive limitations of that "policy," give as good service to the Province as his opponent in this contest. Mr. Stratton is a supporter of the Ross Government, of which he is also a member, and the progressive and wide-awake policy of that Government, for whose spirit and initiation Mr. Stratton is in no small degree responsible, stands for Provincial progress, and the development of Provincial resources, unsurpassed in extent and importance in any country of equal area in the world. The development of these resources, by a wise system of encouragement as liberal as is in the powers of an administration, is the policy of the Ross Government, and such development will beneficially affect every part of the Province, bring capital into play, produce employment and improve the material condition of every class of the community. Among other things, Mr. Miller, as the candidate in the Opposition interests, is opposed to such a policy. His leader has little faith in New Ontario, of which he holds a low opinion as "the land of the stunted poplar." The question arises whether a leader, who has no faith in his country, is the best man to be trusted with the government of it, and whether a follower, who shares his lack of faith can meet the aspirations of a progressive people as well as a man who has the highest confidence in the resources and capabilities of his country and is heart and soul with a policy that will make these contribute to the growth, wealth and prosperity of the Province. It is for the people to decide; not on the narrow grounds of party advantage, but on the grounds of the greatest good to the town and county of Peterborough and the Province at large.

THE OPERA HOUSE MEETING.

The first gun in the campaign in the Conservatives interests was fired—wide of the bullseye—in the Opera House, on Saturday evening. A fairly large audience of mixed political character, was present, and addresses were delivered by several local lights, and Mr. J. J. Foy, K. C., late member of South Toronto, and described in the announcements as the "first" lieutenant of Mr. Whitney. This is a little disturbing to the belief that generally prevails that Mr. Matheson, of South Lanark, is Mr. Whitney's "first" lieutenant, who has occupied that position since Mr. Whitney's unprogressive and obstructive attitude to progress drove Mr. Marter, the former Conservative leader, from his place as "first" lieutenant to his leader. And Mr. Foy, with Mr. Whitney's facility in changing his aides-de-camp, may not find his tenure of "first" lieutenant very permanent.

But it is the address of Mr. Miller, the candidate, that demands first attention. His speech is remarkable for the unfamiliarity with public questions it disclosed, and for the reckless boldness of assertion, which makes Mr. Miller a fitting follower, in this respect, of his leader. The most rigid justice of judgment cannot assert that Mr. Miller, as the candidate, took a broad and large view of public questions, and in this respect he is also a fitting follower of his leader.

Mr. Miller made the extraordinary statement that 75 per cent. of the laws on the statute books of Ontario were due to the influence of the Opposition, including the sawlog policy of the present Government. Every school boy knows that the Opposition had no more to do with the Act, requiring the manufacture of all pine cut on Crown lands in Canada, than they had to do with the passage of the habeas corpus act, or the laws of the Medes and Persians, which were no more unalterable than is the policy of the Ross Government in regard to sawlogs and pulp wood also — not a stick of either to be exported in an unmanufactured condition.

Mr. Miller went back and dug up the Sandfield Macdonald surplus, and asked with dramatic earnestness, "Where is the cash?" Any school boy could also answer that. The Liberal Government took what was left of that surplus, after what Sandfield Macdonald had appropriated for railways, and adding more to it, distributed three and a half millions amongst the municipalities of the province as aid to building school houses, town halls and roads, something that lightened taxation, and was better than hoarding the money up in the banks.

In regard to our pine timber, Mr. Miller asked with dramatic earnestness, "Where is now that sea of green pine?" and apparently gave the conundrum up, for he invited his audience to "go ask the winds that whistled through the stumps."

Any school boy could tell Mr. Miller that those pine forests were used instead of being allowed to rot or be burned with forest fires. The pine has been cut and in the process hundreds of thousands of dollars have been paid in wages to the men employed, and these wages have been spent in our cities and towns, and Mr. Miller in his business capacity has doubtless received the benefit of many a dollar.

But these forests are still standing in another form, that of public buildings throughout the Province, for housing our afflicted and in our parliament buildings, and what has not been spent in this way, has, with millions more, been returned to the people in services that have lessened the taxes of the people.

The timber has gone no doubt, but that was only the first crop, and it has been succeeded by a crop of men—hardy settlers, better to any country than forests of pine, men who till the soil and raise crops of grain, men who have furnished our best class of citizens, from whose ranks have been drawn many a soldier boy, who has done service for the Empire. Men are better that trees; hearts of oak, better than forests of pine.

This naturally suggests Mr. Miller's disparaging remarks respecting the land grants made by the Ontario Government to the veterans of 1866, and the somewhat astonishing statement that these veterans did not want land grants, they only wanted the gratitude of the country. Speaking for them, Mr. Miller said, "We don't thank the Government for 160 acres of land."

It is to be hoped that Mr. Miller in his military capacity does not speak with authority. Gratitude is poor payment for the splendid services the boys of '66 gave to Canada, and it does not seem wrong that they should be given a share of the land they saved from the invaders. The British Government does not pay the services of the soldiers of the Empire with empty gratitude. They get pensions; and even the United States Government gives liberal pensions even to Canadians, who helped to fight the battles of the star spangled banner. Why should a man accept a pension from a foeign power which made its soldiers foreswear allegiance to Queen Victoria, and follow Mr. Miller's advice to spurn the gift of the Government of a British Colony, that makes them landholding British subjects?

We have dealt—and tried to do so fairly—with the principal topics of the opening speech of the Opposition candidate's campaign, and he has been true to his leader in not striking one high note, or establishing a single claim to the people's support. Other portions of his speech will bear future reference.

The Croup.

It's a terrible thing, isn't it? Somehow, that awful cough, that hard struggle for air, can never be forgotten. Be a little forehanded and prevent it. Keep Vapo-Cresolene in the house, and when the children take cold let them breathe in the vapor during the evening. It goes right to the throat, just where the croup lies. All irritation subsides, the cough quiets down and serious trouble is prevented. It never fails to cure whooping cough.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPO-CRESOLENE CO., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

GREAT FOOTBALL GAME MARRED

Glasgow, April 7.—The struggle of the great crowds which gathered at Ibrox Park yesterday to witness the last international association football contest between teams from England and Scotland caused the collapse of one portion of the spectators' terraces, resulting in the death of 21 persons and the injuring of 250. Nearly 200 of the latter were so seriously hurt that they were taken to infirmaries for operations and treatment, where 150 of them still remain. Several more deaths, undoubtedly, will result.

Yesterday the infirmaries were besieged by friends and relatives of the victims of the disaster, and heartrending scenes were witnessed when the names of those who died were posted outside the buildings.

The action of the authorities of Ibrox Park in averting a more general panic, by permitting the game to proceed, while they encouraged the impression that the accident was not serious, is now generally commended.

The incongruity of the yells of applause mingling with the groans of the struggling sufferers will never be forgotten by those who witnessed the scene at the rear of the terrace.

When the game began 70,000 spectators were on the grounds, and an immense crowd had gathered outside. Being unable to obtain admittance this crowd broke down some of the barriers and swarmed upon the field, whereupon the police charged and drove the intruders back upon the terraces and seats, with the result that the railings dividing the crowds were broken and the people were thrown over each other.

In the frantic struggle towards the exits, the pressure toward the upper portion of the westerly terrace was so great that a hundred feet of the highest part of the structure collapsed under the weight of the crowd of people to the ground sixty feet below. The injured were piled in heaps wedged in with broken wood

The onlookers hesitated to approach the dangling structure at first, but finally began to utilize portions of the broken barriers as stretchers. A hundred of the most seriously injured were carried to the pavilion and to spaces in the rear of the stands. A majority of the victims were suffering from broken ribs and fractured limbs, while some sustained internal injuries.

These most severely hurt were subsequently removed in ambulances to infirmaries and lesser sufferers were sent in cabs to surgeries. A few persons were thrown down and trampled upon in trying to escape from the crush when the police charged, but most of the victims sustained their injuries in the fall of the terrace.

THE BODY IDENTIFIED.

Toronto, April 7.—The body of the young man found dead on the C. P. R. track at Franktown last Wednesday has been identified as that of Frank Cahill of Montreal. The unfortunate young man left his home in Montreal on Monday, March 31, intending to go to work in the mines at Rat Portage, where he had been previously employed, though he was a steamfitter by trade, and not long since employed in the C.P.R. shops at Montreal. Miss B. Kane, the name on the card found on the body, is the name of a young lady with whom deceased kept company. Deceased was 21 years of age, and had a mother and two brothers living in Montreal. The remains have been exhumed and taken to Montreal for interment. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Thos. A. Wardell, M.P.P., Dead.

Hamilton, April 7.—T. A. Wardell, M. P. P., died late Saturday afternoon in the General Hospital. He was about to be operated on for some slight trouble and chloroform had been applied, when he collapsed and the physicians were unable to prevent death.

Mr. Wardell was elected for North Wentworth at the general election in 1898. He was a Conservative and the whip of his party under Mr. Whitney. Mr. Wardell was a Catholic in religion and a barrister by profession. He was born in 1865 and educated at St. Michael's and Toronto University. He was an enthusiastic curler.

Mr. Wardell was a member of the Masonic Order, the Canadian Order of Odd Fellows, the Macabees and Chosen Friends. He was a widower. His only child, Miss Bella, is about 12 years of age.

Major Miller Nominated.

Peterboro, April 7.—At the annual convention of the Conservatives of West Peterboro held Saturday afternoon, Mr. James Kendry, seconded by Mr. James Millburn, nominated Mr. J. W. Miller, boot and shoe maker, who in a brief speech accepted the nomination. The candidate is a major in the 57th Regiment.

Bad Indeed.

Losing flesh is a bad sign. Take Scott's Emulsion for it. For weak digestion, for defective nourishment, for consumption, take Scott's Emulsion. It restores flesh because it strikes at the cause of the loss.

CHEMISTRY OF TEARS.

Tears have their functional duty to accomplish, like every other fluid of the body, and the lachrymal gland is not placed behind the eye simply to fill space or to give expression to emotion, says an exchange.

The chemical properties of tears consist of phosphate of lime and soda, making them very salty, but never bitter. Their action on the eye is very beneficial, and here consists their prescribed duty of the body, washing thoroughly that sensitive organ, which allows no foreign fluid to do the same work. Nothing cleanses the eye like a good salty shower bath, and medical art has followed nature's law in this respect, advocating the invigorating solution for any distressed condition of the optics.

Tears do not weaken the sight, but improve it. They act as a tonic on the muscular vision, keeping the eye soft and limpid, and it will be noticed that women in whose eyes sympathetic tears gather quickly have brighter, tenderer orbs than others. When the pupils are hard and cold, the world attributes it to one's disposition, which is a mere figure of speech, implying the lack of balmy tears that are to the cornea what salve is to the skin or nourishment to the blood.

Wrath Disarmed.

A little Cambridge girl was discovered whispering in school, and the teacher asked:

"What were you saying to the girl next to you when I caught you whispering?"

The little culprit hung her head for a moment and then replied:

"Well, that—yes—I know—but we must— The class in spelling will please stand up.'

A Wrong Burial Certificate.

When a physician issues a burial certificate for one who has died of consumption or throat trouble, he should say, Cause of death, neglect, to take Four T's when the cough first started. Four T's cure a cough in 24 hours and the worst cold in two days, and you get a large bottle for 25c. at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

A Skinning Process.

"This," said the fond father to the dermatological expert, "seems to be a pretty big bill for the treatment you have given my daughter."

"It was a difficult treatment," explained the skin doctor. "You see, we had to remove all the cuticle from her cheeks and graft a new epidermis upon them."

"Well," said the father, reaching for his checkbook, "I don't know which one of us you skinned the most."

The Mace In England.

Every deliberative civil body in England, even down to the town councils, is provided with a mace, which is brought forth with solemn ceremony and placed on the table before the deliberations begin. In one or two city councils a candlestick of silver is added to the mace, and acts passed in the absence of these objects are supposed to be illegal.

Apply This Test To Your Nerves.

If You Have These Symptons Your Nerves are Weak and Exhausted—You can get Well by Using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Nervous diseases are little understood. They have long been enshrouded in more or less mystery by the medical profession. Many who are fast falling victims of nervous prostration, paralysis or locomotor ataxia think that they are merely not very well, and will soon be around again—so insidious is the approach of nervous diseases and nervous collapse.

Study these symptoms. They are for your guidance. You may not have them all, but if you have any of them your nervous system is not up to the mark, and a little extra expenditure of nerve force may bring the dreadful downfall.

Intolerance of motion, noise and light; twitching of the muscles of the face and eyelids; fatiguing sleep, sudden startings and jerkings of the limbs; dizziness and flashes of light before the eyes; irritability and restlessness in every part of the body; headache, indigestion, feelings of weariness and depression, and loss of interest in the affairs of life.

So long as the daily expenditure of nerve force is greater than the daily income, physical bankruptcy is certain to result sooner or later. Nerve force must be increased, and this can best be accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because it contains in concentrated form the very elements of nature which go directly to form nervous energy. Nervous diseases do not right themselves. They come on gradually as nerve force becomes exhausted, and can only be cured when the nerve force is restored.

No treatment for nervous diseases has ever received such universal endorsement by both physicians and people as has Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. Crapper, 37 Salem avenue, Toronto, says:—

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer from paralysis of the right side, which has confined me to the house. On recommendation of friends I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this treatment has proven of very great benefit to me. I realise that my ailment will not disappear in a few weeks, but I have improved so much already that I believe a continuation of this medicine will entirely cure me."

In the press of Canada you will find hundreds of earnest letters telling of the wonderful benefits derived from Chase's Nerve Food; 50c a box, six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 4

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Happy Reply to the Toast at the Annual Canadian Press Association Banquet.

At the annual banquet at Ottawa of the Canadian Press Association, in replying to the toast of "Canada," Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier, after some happy allusions to the newspaper men of the Press Gallery and the gentlemen who owned and published the newspapers, went on to say: "It is trite to speak of Canada, its grandeur, its natural resources and its vast possibilities. May I, however, be permitted, even if I express it to you in a very quaint way, to refer to the admiration which is entertained for Canada by those who have not the good fortune of being Canadians. It was my privilege to accompany the Prince of Wales during his tour through Canada last fall. I was anxious to know if possible from the Prince of Wales or from his staff what impression they had gathered of the different colonies which they had visited—Australia, New Zealand, and at last Canada. I am sorry to say that from His Royal Highness I could not have very much information. Neither was I surprised at his reticence. Being the future Sovereign of the whole empire, perhaps he thought, and not unnaturally, it might have been invidious if he had given his own views and expressed preference for one part of the empire or the other. The same reticence I found also in the secretaries and equerries of His Royal Highness. The Prince had, however, among his suite a gentleman whom I found more talkative, and for whom I am sure it would have been impossible to conceal his thoughts. The gentleman was Chevalier de Martino, the painter for the royal party. The Chevalier de Martino was an Italian—a Neapolitan—and had all the effusiveness of his race. He talked not so much with his tongue as with his hands—his speech consisted largely of gestures. I said to him, "Well sir, what do you think of the different countries you have visited?' and this was his answer: 'Australia—ah, no, no; I do not care for Australia. New Zealand—a fine country. But, ah; Canada, Canada, Canada!' He did not say more—(cheers)—but his gestures were very expressive, and I felt very proud of my country. I believe that if all the royal party, from the Duke downwards, had expressed their mind as did my friend the Neapolitan painter, they would have said that Canada excelled everything else they had seen. At all events I was ready to believe that, and it was a great pleasure for me to be assured that Canada excelled everything that had been visited by the royal party. And we Canadians believe not only that Canada excels everything that had been visited by the royal party. And we believe this country excels every other land in the world. (Cheers.) It has a glorious climate, as we know. It has a quality of climate, heat in summer, cold in winter, but bracing at all times. It has a duality of population, a population varying in many ways, but united in this, that it has sprung from the best blood of Europe. If I had anything to say to my friends of the Press Association it would be simply to say that they should follow up the work which has already been done by them to some extent. There is only one thing we want in Canada, and that is unity and harmony amongst us. It has been stated somewhere that he who causes two blades of grass to grow where one grew is a benefactor of mankind. I, for my part, believe that he who eradicates one prejudice and promotes harmony where discord would have been is a greater benefactor of mankind. (Cheers.) What we want is, above all, to be Canadians. British subjects we are, and proud of it, but Canadians we are also, and more proud of it yet. The members of the association have done a great deal to promote that harmony. In my own time, since I entered politics some 25 or 27 years ago, I have seen daily and yearly growing the work of unification of our country. We have still some little jarrings; sometimes we hear of this and that in one province or this and that in the other province; but beyond all that there is a steady sentiment permeating our country that we are more united as a people." (Cheers.) In conclusion, Sir Wilfrid said that this feeling would grow the more the people of the several provinces became acquainted with each other.

The Dowager Empress of Russia owns the finest collection of Russian sables in the world. Among them is a mantle which keeps her cozy in winter sledge drives and in traveling. It has a lining worth $50,000.

Emperor William is fond of modern music and modern sculpture, but he has no sympathy with modern painting and poetry. Recently he spoke rather sharply of modern art, and is believed his enmity has a political source.

Ontario Forest Reserves.

The different forest reserves—Algonquin Park, the eastern reserve, Lake Temagami, and the Sibley reserve—are all stated to be doing well. Mr. Southworth, in his Forestry Report, recommends that the unpatented part of the Township of Sibley be added to the present reserve and created a permanent reserve under the Forest Reserves Act. Algonquin Park includes 1,109,383 acres of forest land; the eastern reserve contains 80,000 acres; Sibley Township 45,000 acres; Lake Temagami 1,408,000 acres.

Doctors not seldom give up a case, but a mother never does. While life lasts, while there is a spark of vitality which love's labor may fan into a flame, she toils untiringly for the child she brought into the world. And sometimes where the doctors fail the mother succeeds. She has no prejudices. Any means she will use which will save her child.

The mother's prescription given below is a case in point. Her daughter was given up by physicians as suffering from an incurable disease, called "wasting of the digestive organs." The mother prescribed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription," and had the happiness of seeing her daughter restored to perfect health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a nerve-nourishing, flesh-forming medicine—making new blood and new life.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a true temperance medicine.

"My sister (of Arlington, Washington Co., Nebr.,) was taken very sick and had several doctors," writes Mrs. C. L. Harrison, of Elk City, Douglas Co., Nebr. They could not do her any good, and told my mother they would not come any more, as no doctor could help her, that she could not get well. She had 'wasting of the digestive organs.' My mother said to my sister: 'Well, I almost know that Dr. Pierce's medicines will cure her.' So she bought six bottles—three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' three of 'Favorite Prescription,' and some of the 'Pellets;' and now my sister is a well woman.

"We thank you for your medicine."

LACE ACESSORIES.

Guipure Lace Is Used For Waists, Jackets and Evening Wraps.

Many pretty lace boleros are easily converted into dinner waists by tacking them deftly over a white satin slip with a suggestion of chiffon and a pointed waistband. Some of the odd remnants of lace now on sale make smart little sack coats lined with silk or satin and even edged with fur. A confection of this sort makes a charming wrap for evening wear.

Louis Quinze jackets of lace are among the smart winter thin things which will be also much worn next summer. Heavy guipure lace is best for this purpose, and the jacket can be made separately to be worn with different gowns. Some of these jackets are trimmed with embroideries, others with appliqued flowers and still again others with medallions of tucked and painted chiffon.

Evening wraps of lace are cut after the fashion of very loose Chinese coats.

The Louis XV. gown in the illustration is made of pink crepe de chine and lace. There are a fichu of pink chiffon and deep elbow frills of the same. The rest of the waist is in the form of a lace jacket made of all over guipure lace. The skirt has a full flounce headed by a wide band of the lace. The belt is of panne and is passed through slits in the front of the jacket.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Good Guesser.

An elderly woman with an impediment in her speech had troubles of her own at the corner of Twelfth and Walnut streets the other day. As each car came out Walnut street she would stop it and say to the conductor, "Dud-dud-dud-does th-this kuk-kuk-car gug-gug-go"— At this juncture, and sometimes before, the conductor would impatiently exclaim, "No; take the next car." Then he would pull the strap, and the car would go ahead, leaving the woman at the crossing.

There are five different lines passing out Walnut street at this point, and if the woman could read the signs she disregarded them. Finally a conductor more considerate than the others helped her aboard and allowed her to explain afterward. After three blocks had been traversed he found that she wanted to go to Darby, and his was a Darby car. When she learned this, she beamed her joy. "Yuh-yuh-young man," she said, "yuh-yuh-you're a gug-gug-good gug-gug-gug-guesser."

Curious Old Custom.

In one of the suburbs of Paris a wealthy merchant died the other day, and on the evening of the funeral his neighbors witnessed a curious ceremony.

An hour before the body was to be taken to the cemetery the relatives of the dead man, five or six in number, went out into the garden adjoining the house and walked solemnly and silently around it. Each carried a lantern and kept his eyes fixed on the ground, as though he were looking for something. Finally they all halted in front of a large pile of stones and, laying aside their lanterns, proceeded to throw down the pile. After every stone had been removed they examined minutely the spot on which the pile had rested and then slowly and with bowed heads returned to the house.

This is an old Norman custom, and it is observed in this instance because the dead man was a native of Gison. There is a tradition in Normandy that before burying a body all the ground around his dwelling should be searched in order to make sure that the soul has not hidden itself somewhere. At one time every family in Normandy faithfully observed this tradition, but now only a few pay heed to it.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lived dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Found Guilty of Murder.

Brandon, Man., April 5.—W. Hyndman repeated the confession made by Gordon to him of having killed Smith, and Gordon's father, from Brooklin, Ont., afterwards told of his (the prisoner's) mother, when he was 19 years of age, committing suicide by cutting her throat. His brother George died insane in Whitby jail four years ago. Other evidence as to insanity was given, and the jury retired at 1.20. At 3.20 they returned with a verdict of guilty. The prisoner's father is greatly distressed over the verdict.

The Liver at the Bottom.

The liver is usually at the bottom of a great many diseases. It is the liver which abstracts the bile. It is the bile which enters chemically into the composition of the digestive ferments, and also acts as a cathartic. Merrill's System Tonic makes a strong, healthy, active liver, hence is a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Constipation and Nervous Trouble. 50 pleasant-to-take doses for 50 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

The Reason.

"Why on tiptoe?" queried Dulle.

"So as not to wake the audience," replied the professor.

MR. J. W. MILLER THE CANDIDATE.

own party. The Reformers used to parade themselves as the party of economy, but there wasn't much of this heard now. They had been increasing the taxes, selling the timber limits and subsidizing railways. They had been extravigant and wasteful and had shown it. They had paraded themselves as the party of purity, but their corruption had been exposed. They had claimed to be the party of reform but had attempted no reforms at Toronto. They refused to tackle the assessment reform, but shelved the question on the shoulders of a commission and then refused to adopt the report only bringing in a short clause as an amendment to the Assessment Act, which allowed of many different interpretations. They had claimed to be the party of progress, but had only progressed when spurred on by the Conservative party. The speaker then reviewed several of Hon. G. W. Ross' thirty-nine reasons why the Liberal Government should be returned to power, stating if all that was stated was true Mr. Ross might reasonably claim return to power. Some of these articles, Mr. Foy stated, could be met by a simple denial of their truth. In regard to the claim of Mr. Ross, that there would be no vote by ballot if the Conservatives were in power, it could be said that Mr. Macdonald had objected to the Bill introducing the ballot, but it was not to be believed that the Conservatives would not have introduced another form of ballot themselves. In regard to the claim that under Conservative rule there would have been no School of Practical Science and no efficient Agricultural College, Mr. Foy read an extract from a report of Prof. Mills of the Agricultural College, crediting Sir John Carling, Conservative, with the founding of these institutions. Mr. Ross claimed that the Conservatives would not have established Normal Schools at Ottawa and London. This was true. There were too many teachers now, resulting in the men who had the pull with the Government getting the positions instead of the men with the ability. The Model School had only been established in London in order that Colonel Leys could be elected. Mr. Ross claimed that but for the Reformers there would be no colonization roads in the new districts. This statement was a mere assumption founded on the fact that the Conservatives had voted against the grants because they did not think the money was being spent in the proper manner. In regard to the claim that there would have been no Reformatory for Females but for the Liberals, the speaker urged that Mr. Ross must have a great imagination. This was only a bald statement. In dealing with the claim that with the Conservatives in power the province would have had no terrritorial rights in New Ontario Mr. Foy said that the explanation was very simple. The Conservative party at Ottawa had said in a friendly way to leave the question to the courts for ajudication, yielding willingly, if the case was decided against them. The Liberals claimed great credit for the opening up of New Ontario, and the development at the "Soo," but as a matter of fact, Mr. Foy claimed that they had nothing to do with Mr. Clergue's decision to come to Canada. He was a capitalist who was looking for an investment, and he established the industry himself, with his own capital. The Liberal party was a party of boast and brag, trying to obtain credit for the good which somebody else accomplished and trying to screen themselves from the evil which they were doing. Mr. Ross claimed that the Conservatives would have had no minister of Agriculture, and yet in John Sandfield Macdonald's time Sir John Carling was Commissioner of Agriculture, and did his work well. Mr. Ross also claimed that the Conservatives would have had no asylum at Brockville. By this Mr. Ross might mean that there would not have been so many insane people, but who dare say that the Conservative party would not have established it. The charge was unworthy of a Minister of the Crown. The only argument which Mr. Ross presented was that if the Conservatives had been in power nothing would have been done that the Liberals had accomplished. He said that there would have been no land grant to the Algoma Central Railway. In this case, continued the speaker, Mr. Clergue wanted a railway to the Helen Mine, which Mr. Stratton says is the richest in the world. He was given 7400 acres a mile as a land grant for building it, when he would have built it anyway, and the country would not have had to pay anything for it. The speaker then took up "Pamphlet No. 6," and asked why there was no reference to the referendum in it. In conclusion Mr. Foy charged that the Reform Party could not put anything into print which would justify them. They were trying to please both the liquor and temperance elements. They should have stated what legislation they would give and have stood or fallen by that.

GRANT FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Town Council to be Asked to Give the Matter Consideration This Evening

In Connection With the Deputation, Which Waits on the Town Council on Monday Evening.

Institutions.—Muskoka Cottage Sanitarium and Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The National Sanitarium Association, Incorporated 1896.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, President; Hon. Sir Wm. Meredith, Vice President; W. J. Gage, Toronto, Chairman Executive Committee; Offices, Mail Building; J. S. Robertson, Corresponding Secretary.

Dear Sir,— . . . When a municipality undertakes to pay 40 cents a day for a patient in the Free Consumption Hospital, no further charge is made. This is just the basis on which patients are admitted into the free wards in the General and other hospitals in Toronto. Additional to this we pay the patients' fare from Toronto to Gravenhurst and return under an arrangement with the G. T. R. Of course this arrangement with the municipality does not bar that municipality from giving a cash grant to furnish a cot or room, . . . but it does not necessarily follow, that anything more than what I have named should be done to admit a free patient. . . .

J. S. ROBERTSON,
Secretary.

The other parts of the letter show that a clergyman must satisfy himself that a patient is unable to pay and the local Medical Officer issues a certificate as to their condition. Patients, however, who are deemed to be too far advanced, are not admitted.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspephic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

SERVICES APPRECIATED.

Mr. James A. Fife B. A., was Kindly Remembered at the Y.M.C.A. Last Night.

Last evening was the closing session of the class in Algebra and Trigonometry in connection with the Y.M.C.A. evening school, and the members of it took advantage of the occasion to show their appreciation of the valuable services of the instructor, Mr. Jas. A. Fife, B.A., Science Master of the Collegiate Institute, by presenting him with an address, and a presentation in the form of a handsome dress suit case. The address was read by Mr. Fred McGrath, while Mr. S. Taylor made the presentation. Mr. Fife, although much surprised, made an appropriate reply, in which he promised to assume charge of the class in the fall.

TENDERS ASKED FOR.

The American Cereal Company Will Build a Dam.

By reference to the advertising columns of the Examiner, it will be seen that the American Cereal Company is calling for tenders for the construction of a combined concrete dam and railway bridge across the Otonabee River at their premises in Peterborough. Tenders must be in by Friday, April 18th. The construction of this immense piece of work will give employment to a large number of men this summer.

REASONS WHY . . . .

This Store's Trade Grows so Rapidly.

Because we have made it clear to all who want reliable qualities that our prices are the lowest, and there are sound reasons to prove the statement.

1st.—The fact that we sell for cash only is one of the very best arguments. This policy does away with the large losses and expenses of charge accounts.

2nd.—We do not give commissions and indiscriminate discounts. Most every other house does to a greater or less extent. No special privileges or favors granted to one at the expense of another at this store.

3rd.—You are aware that this is only one of the stores operated by this firm. This gives us a purchasing strength which other stores do not possess—in a great many instances buying direct from the maker instead of the middleman.

4th.—You will always find at this store some big clearing lines bought so that we can sell them, in many instances, at half the cost of production.

5th.—The greater volume of business reduces the percentage of profit. We are everlastingly striving to see how little we can sell goods for instead of how much.

6th.—Compare our prices with the prices elsewhere, and do not forget to consider quality when doing so. We'll warrant there's a considerable saving on a $5.00 purchase.

Sutcliffe & Sons' business is organized for leadership in value giving. The popularity of this store is carried forward by the power of its facilities that enable us to offer such excellent value.

CEREAL CO'S PROPOSITION.

They Want the River Dredged and Cribbed to London Street

URGENT LETTER FROM MR. STUART.

If the Town Wont Undertake the Work the Company is Willing to Purchase the Lands Recently Acquired by the Town, and Carry out the Proposition Itself.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held last evening, with the Mayor presiding, and the following members present, Aldermen Best, Corkery, Batten, Clinkscale, Morrison, McGregor, Rush, Roger, Corkery and Edgcumbe.

A very large deputation of ladies and gentlemen was introduced to the Council by Mr. J. H. Burnham, who explained that their presence was due to the interest taken in the subject of combatting the advance of that dread disease, consumption. He enlarged on the subject at length, pointing out the necessity of immediate action being taken to cope with the white plague. The arrangement which could be made with the Gravenhurst Sanitorium for the accommodation of consumptives was thoroughly explained along the lines stated in Monday's Examiner. He made a strong plea for the Council to take the matter up in order that in course of time the disease might be stamped out.

Dr. Boucher entered into the medical aspect of the matter stating that consumption was the most infectious of diseases. For its proper treatment a high elevation surrounded by sandy soil was necessary, as was a pure, healthy atmosphere. These provisions were all observed at Gravenhurst, where a cure would be effected, if at all possible. He instanced cases under his own observation where the patient could not afford to pay for proper treatment, and stated that if the town endowed a cot at Gravenhurst, he was sure the citizens would endorse the action as a Christian one.

Dr. McClelland, Dr. Birnie and Mr. D. W. Dumble, also urged that action be taken by the Council.

Ald. Roger stated that he was sorry that the deputation had not come to the council prepared to make a definite statement as to what, in their opinion the town should do in the matter, and how it should be done. He thought the council entered fully into the feeling that some action was necessary. Some years ago the matter of charity had been removed from the jurisdiction of the council and left in the hands of an independent committee. Whether it was expected that the council now depart from the rule of leaving charity in the hands of this Committee, he could not say.

Mr. Burnham thought it was better to leave the matter of detail in the hands of the council. The deputation simply asked for consideration of the project. Forty cents a day would keep a patient in the Sanitorium.

Mrs. James Kendry deprecated the idea of assistance coming through the medium of the Charity Board. Many patients would rather die than accept charity in the sense that charity is dispensed by the Charity Committee. The aid to be given was of a nature to be classed far higher than charity.

Mr. John Green also spoke along the same lines as Mrs. Kendry.

Ald. Shortly inquired as to the cost of endowing a cot.

Mr. Burnham thought that the amount involved was left to the discretion of the giver. It would necessarily be more than $150 a year.

Mayor Denne promised the deputation that the question would receive the same careful consideration as all others which came before the council. He was heartily in accord with the project of giving aid. Great care would have to be taken in considering whether to permanently endow a cot or whether a smaller grant be made.

The matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Robt. Innis appeared, as representing the Charity Board. He stated that the Board had received a bill of $87.00 from St. Joseph's Hospital for the care of diphtheria patients. He stated that the Board would not be able to meet this account, not having sufficient funds. He asked the town to assume it.

The mayor explained the situation by stating that the diphtheria patients had been taken in at St. Joseph's Hospital, when the Nicholl's Hospital was quarantined at the time of the small pox outbreak.

The account was ordered to be paid.

Mr. John Green, on behalf of a deputation from All Saint's church, asked for an electric light to be placed in front of that edifice, dwelling at some length on the great necessity of a light in this locality, particularly on Sunday evenings.

Ald. Batten stated that a motion had been passed providing that lights be placed at both the Charlotte street and All Saint's churches, but no attention had been paid to it.

Ald. Clinkscale denied this statement, saying that the engineer had been instructed to report on this matter, and that he had reported to to the effect that no light was needed.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee will deal with the matter.

Ex-Ald. J. L. Hughes appeared before the council on his annual mission in regard to having the Charlotte street Park kept in proper condition. He explained that by a very small outlay the spot could be made a very pretty place. He offered to water the trees and cut the grass himself, if the council would put in a few trees, repair the fence and extend the water pipe.

Ald. Morrison urged that these little breathing spots be given better care and moved that the Property Committee act in the matter, the expenditure not to exceed $25. Ald. McGregor seconded the motion.

Ald. Best opposed the motion, stating that this created a bad precident. Seconded by Ald. Corkery, he moved that all of these small parks be visited by the Property Committee with a view to their improvement.

Both motions were carried.

were received and dealt with as follows:

From Louis Meehan, calling attention to the alleged unsanitary condition of the drain running from Park street through Rink street into Spaulding's Bay.—Referred to the Board of Works.

From John Montgomery, asking permission to erect a frame woodshed inside the fire limits.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee with power to act.

From Edmison & Dixon, on behalf of W. H. Roberts, notifying the town to clear Bethune street, between Murray and McDonel streets, of lumber.—Referred to the Legal Committee with power to act.

From George Pratley, calling attention to a petition from the ratepayers of Auburn, asking for the construction of a walk on the west side of River Road from Brown street to Smith street.—Referred to the Board of Works.

From T. Williams, on behalf of the Team Drivers' International Union, No. 355, asking that no license be placed on teams at present.—Referred to the License Committee.

From Alfred Simpson, Thos. Connors, Nelson Foley, E. Chatham, and Jas. Stewart re remittance of dog tax.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From W. Aldridge, Thos. McKee, T. B. McGrath and John Kincaid, asking re-appointment as assessors, and and requesting an increase in remuneration.—Referred to the Committees on Appointments and Finance.

From Robert Stewart, of the American Cereal Company, stating that he had received the assurance that the Trent Valley Canal would be completed through to Georgian Bay within 12 months and pointing out the importance of having the river dredged up as far as London street at once for canal purposes. Mr. Stuart further made the proposition that if the town is not prepared to take action in the matter, the Cereal Company would be willing to consider the purchase of the property recently acquired from the Crown by the town, along both sides of the river; or on the other hand offering co-operation in any effort likely to induce the Government to dredge the river as stated, the Government to do the dredging and the town to do the cribbing up to Hunter street, the Cereal Co. to do the cribbing from there to London street. The estimated time which it would take to do this work is twelve months, and immediate action is urged in the belief that the canal navigation referred to would do more to build up and induce manufacturers to locate in Peterborough than anything else the town can do.—Received.

From Thos. Gunn, calling attention to the condition of the roadway at the corner of London and Gilchrist streets.—Referred to the Board of Works.

From W. J. Hooper, stating the sidewalk from McDonald street to the railway on Rubidge street, to be in a dangerous condition. — Referred to the Board of Works.

From the Separate School Board, stating that the sum required for the current year will be $4400.00. — Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Town Trust Commissioners enclosing an estimate of the sum required to meet sinking fund and interest for the year, amounting to $27,169.18.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From A. Henry and A. B. Cunningham, re statute labour.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 1902.

AN APRIL WEDDING.

Herbert T. Lang, of Smith, Weds Miss Maggie May Switzer, of Emily.

On Wednesday, April 2nd, a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Switzer, Emily, when their eldest daughter, Maggie May, was joined in wedlock to Mr. Herbert T. Lang, of Smith. Rev. H. B. Rowe performed the ceremony. At 5 o'clock p.m. to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Elma Storey, of Peterborough, the bride entered the parlor, on the arm of her father. The bride was clad in a gown of white mousselaine, trimmed with tucking lace and ribbon, and carried a boquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eva Switzer, who wore white linen lawn, with lace and blue ribbon trimming, and carried a boquet of pink carnations.

The groom was ably supported by his nephew, Mr. Herbert Jones. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch. Mrs. Lang's going away dress was of heather brown serge, with hat to match.

After the ceremony and the usual congratulations were over, about forty invited guests repaired to the dining room, where a sumptous wedding supper was partaken of. The evening was spent in a most pleasing and entertaining manner by music, singing and games.

The bride, who is one of the most highly esteemed young ladies of Emily, received many beautiful presents. At a late hour the happy couple left for their new home, near Peterborough, with the best wishes of all for a happy and a prosperous future. Mr. Lang is a worthy young man, and we must congratulate him on his good success in the conjugal union.

DENNIS FOUND GUILTY

And There is Another Charge Against Him His Mother Allowed to go on Suspended Sentence.

Cobourg, April 5.— An interesting case was concluded yesterday in the County Court of Criminal Justice befor His Honour Judge Benson. It had been in progress since Wednesday morning. The prisoners, Wm. J. Dennis and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Dennis, were charged with the theft of a large quantity of goods and ready-made clothing from L. F. Clarke, assignee of the estate of O'Leary & Dennis, who conducted two stores, one near Roseneath, the other at Hastings. W. J. Dennis, one of the prisoners, was a member of the firm. An assignment was made about the first of November. The estate paid, it was alleged, about 10 1-4 cents on the dollar. Toronto houses are interested. It was stated that the amount of the stolen goods was about $1,000. A small quantity of goods, perhaps $20 in value, it was alleged, was returned the last of November.

The prisoners were found guilty of theft of goods from the store after assignment. Sentence was not pronounced on W. J. Dennis, as a further charge against him is being tried. Margaret Dennis, who apparently was merely a tool in the hands of her son, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. J. Lesher, who worked for Dennis, was acquitted, no evidence being offered against him.

Mr. John W. Kerr, County Crown Attorney, and Mr. Snow, Toronto, conducted the case for the Crown. Mr. W. L. Payne, Colborne, and Mr. W. F. Kerr, Cobourg, defended the prisoner.

Digestion Without a Stomach.

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed, proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the Kidneys, Liver and Intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter

MURDER NOT PROVED

Kritzinger at Court-Martial is Acquitted on Four Charges.

AN ORDINARY PRISONER OF WAR

During Engagements of March 31 and April 1 the Boers Lost Thirty Killed and Eighty Wounded, Among the Killed Being Commandant Erasmus—More Evidence Against the Australian Officers.

London, April 8.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated from Pretoria, says Commandant Kritzinger (who was captured by General French at Hanover Road, Cape Colony, Dec. 17 last, and who has been tried by court-martial on the charge of having committed four murders, in addition to train wrecking and cruelty to prisoners), has been acquitted, and is being well treated as an ordinary prisonor of war.

Erasmus Killed.

London, April 8.—Lord Kitchener reports that the Boer casualties during the engagements of March 31 and April 1 were at the lowest estimate, 30 men killed and 80 wounded.

Commandant Erasmus was killed near Boshof, Orange River Colony, April 3.

Tales From Boer Bureau.

Amsterdam, April 8.—The Boer Bureau here published a report which was sent by Gen. Delarey to Mr. Kruger last January. It is countersigned by Ignatius Ferreira, the acting State Attorney. This report contains numerous stories of alleged British atrocities, and is supported by affidavits. Besides the general accusations of placing women as screens around the British camps, as a result of which practice many women have been killed, it is said Gen. Delarey gives specific instances, with names and dates, of the killing of wounded prisoners and women. He complains that, owing to Lord Methuen's persecution, his own wife, with six children, has been wandering on the veldt for the past year. Gen. Delarey complains also that his mother, aged 83 years, was driven into Klerksdorp after her cattle had been stolen and her house had been burned.

Von der Merwe, late Mining Commissioner of the Rand, now fighting under Delarey, appends a further list of atrocities committed on women and children to the report of Gen. Delarey.

They Murdered 40 Persons.

Liverpool, April 8.—A former trooper of the Bushveldt Carbineers, who has returned here is quoted as saying that the convicted Australian officers, belonging to that corps, since disbanded, murdered from thirty-five to forty persons. As an instance of their cold-bloodedness, the trooper relates how three Dutch children two brothers, ten and twelve years of age respectively, and their little sister, arrived at the Carbineers camp to surrender in order to be given food. The girl and one of the boys were wounded. The uninjured boy took his little brother on his back and was carrying him off when a second shot killed both boys. The girl died shortly afterwards.

Giving General Botha Credit.

Johannesburg, April 6.—A meeting of the Chamber of Mines, the first since the beginning of the war, has been held here. The president of the chamber said in an address that it was greatly due to Gen. Botha that much wanton destruction had been avoided, as he had held the commandant of the town personally responsible for the destruction of any property which might occur.

The president of the Chamber of Mines said that it was highly probable that by next July half of the mining industry would be in operation, and that before many months full working would be resumed.

The Spion Kop Despatches.

London, April 8.—The House of Commons reassembled yesterday after the Easter recess. An early opportunity was taken to press the Government for information on the subject of peace negotiations in South Africa; but the Government leader, A. J. Balfour, declared the Ministers had nothing in that connection to impart to the House.

Answering a question about the Gen. Buller controversy, the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, said that in view of the recent statement of Mr. Balfour, it had been decided to publish all the papers and despatches relating to the Spion Kop engagement forwarded to the War Office by Lord Roberts. The order forbidding Gen. Buller to publish the documents would not, however, be rescinded.

Seven Persons Poisoned.

London, April 8.—All the members but one of the family of Mr. D. H. Gillies of 664 King street, have been confined to bed since Sunday morning, suffering from the effects of some unknown poison, which was supposedly partaken of with their food on Saturday. Yesterday they were still very ill, but are believed to be out of danger.

Killed Near Brantford.

Brantford, April 8.—A farmer named Brennerman, who lives near Drumbo, was struck and instantly killed, yesterday morning by the passenger train on the Buffalo and Goderich branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, arriving at Brantford at 10.10. His team of horses were also killed.

Fortune in Steel.

Winnipeg, April 8.—It is stated that Premier Roblin and Hon. Robt. Rogers, Minister of Public Works in the Manitoba cabinet, cleared nearly $10,000 by selling Dominion Steel Company's stock when it touched high water mark on Saturday last.

Four Persons Burned.

Boyne City, Mich., April 8.— Sunday night fire destroyed Dr. Boyne's house, burning four people to death

TARIFF DISCUSSION

VOTE LIKELY BE TAKEN TO-DAY

The Minister of Customs Will Have the Floor When the House Opens—The Bills Dealt With—Many Questions Answered—No Decision Yet in Fixing May 24 as King's Birthday.

Ottawa, April 8.—The speakers on the budget yesterday were Messrs. Lennox, Wade, Northrup, Ward and Kendry. There are still more than half a dozen speeches to be delivered, and as the vote will be taken at to-day's sitting there is every prospect of an all-night session. Hon. Wm. Paterson adjourned the debate at 11 o'clock.

Bills Dealt With.

The bill incorporating the Strait of Canso Bridge Co. was amended in committee and ordered to stand for third reading.

The bill conferring on the Commissioner of Patents certain powers for the relief of John Western was passed through its final stages.

Several bills were given second readings and referred to committee, among them the following:—To incorporate the Canadian Northern Telegraph Company—Mr. Davis; respecting the Bay of Quinte Railway Co.—Mr. Harty; respecting the Medicine Hat Railway Co.—Mr. Scott; respecting the Temagami Railway Co.—Mr. McCarthy; respecting the Calgary & Edmonton Railway Co.—Mr. Barker; respecting the Lake Champlain & St. Lawrence Ship Canal Co.—Mr. Geoffrion.

Questions Answered.

Replying to Lieut.-Col. Sam. Hughes, Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that the attention of the Government has been called to the announcement in the public press that the Government intends introducing a bill fixing 24th May as the day of official observance of the King's birthday, but no decision has yet been reached upon the matter.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, replying to Mr. Taylor, said the cost of taking the census of 1881 was $456,904.19; that of 1891 cost $570,115.54. The census of 1901 has cost $984,296.98 to date, and it was estimated would cost about $183,703.02 more to complete it, making a total of $1,170,000 as the cost of the census of 1901.

Hon. Mr. Blair informed the House that the expenditure on the St. Lawrence Canals and the revenue therefrom for the past five years was as follows: 1896—Expenditure, $148,826; revenue, $120,256. 1897—Expenditure, $137,543; revenue, $122,427. 1898—Expenditure, $145,623; revenue, $128,338. 1899—Expenditure, $130,291; revenue, $141,979. 1901—Expenditure, $190,848; revenue, $147,637.

Hon. Mr. Mulock informed Mr. Carscallen that the Gilmour postoffice was kept by Mr. Thos. Ricketts, the postmaster, in a public hotel or boarding-house, where liquor was sold. This was considered an unsuitable place, and the office was removed to a more desirable location, and it became necessary to appoint another postmaster. There were no charges against the postmaster, nor was there any investigation into the manner in which the postoffice had been conducted, as such investigation was deemed unnecessary.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, in reply to Mr. Monk, said that of 494 cases argued in the Supreme Court between the first of April, 1897, and first of April, 1902, six Judges of the Court hear the arguments in 16 cases.

OUR WIVES, MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS.

Too Many of Them are Nerveless, Weak, Pale and Anaemic.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Reaches the Root of Every Female Trouble and Makes our Women Strong and Vigorous.

It is a most regrettable fact, and a calamity too, that our women, young and old, are numbered amongst the most unhealthy of females in the civilized world. For delicacy of beauty, intellectual capacity, and for all graces that adorn the sex, they stand peerless; but it is doubtful if one in ten can be found who is functionally and organically well.

This absence of feminine health and vigourous vitality is due to a neglect of the nature's unerring laws. Immediate reformation is necessary if our nation would have women who will become true wives and mothers with an offspring that will prove a strength to the country.

For the special weaknesses to which women are now victims, Paine's Celery Compound is the surest and safest remedy. The wonderful-strengthening and building-up properties of this marvellous prescription devised by that eminent medical expert Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., and its specific action in correcting disorders of the female organism, are well known to the medical profession and to the tens of thousands of women who have been raised from weakness and disease to health and physical happiness.

Paine's Celery Compound quickly gives the true health tint to sallow and bloodless faces; it gives pure, clean blood to course through the body; it gives natural appetite, sweet sleep and that blessed cheerfulness that is the delight of men. Try a bottle or two of Paine's Celery Compound, dear suffering and rundown sister. Your condition, your family interests and the welfare of society demand this effort on your part.

Germs, Germs.

We hear a great deal about them these days, and rightly too; for they are the direct cause of whooping-cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other diseases of childhood. When any of these are in the neighborhood, you should use Vapo-Cresolene. Every evening purify their sleeping rooms with this perfectly safe remedy. It is so easy to prevent the disease in this way. For whooping cough and croup, the doctors say it is a perfect specific. 13

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPO-CRESOLENE CO., 180 Fulton St., New York. U.S.A.

WEST HURON LIBERALS.

Mr. M. G. Cameron of Goderich the Choice of the Convention.

Dungannon, April 8.—The largest and most representative convention ever held by the Liberals of West Huron took place at Dungannon yesterday. Every polling subdivision in the riding was fully represented, and in addition to the regularly accredited delegates there was a monster gathering of enthusiastic Liberals. Twenty-one names were placed before the convention, but most of the nominees withdrew, pledging themselves to support whoever should receive the nomination. The balloting resulted in the selection of Mr. M. G. Cameron, barrister, of Goderich, as the candidate. Mr. Cameron was not in a position to state with certainty that he could accept the nomination, and asked for ten days in which to consider the matter.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

Lower Windsor, N. B., April 6 (Special.)—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when these came on he was almost laid up.

He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniment on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions.

"I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long.

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

Grand Total of 57.

This additional list of 22 Canadian wounded in the Kleinhardt's fight, which was received here yesterday, brings the casualties reported to date up to eleven killed and forty-six wounded, a total of 57.

This is believed to practically complete the list of gruesome, though, as Lord Dundonald terms them: "Glorious losses" sustained by the Canadians in that engagement.

One important outcome of the affair is, as has been stated, to quicken the desire of Canadians at home to enlist in the fourth contingent. This is shown in the increased number of offers of service, which are pouring in upon the Militia Department since Friday last.

No more inciting incident has occurred in this connection than the congratulatory cablegrams received from the Colonial Secretary and the fighting generals of England.

Who Are the Six?

A letter has been received here from Dr. D. H. Baird, who is serving as a corporal with the 10th Hospital Field Corps, in which, after speaking of the smallpox outbreak among the men, says:

"Yesterday six men rode out a few miles and they did not return. A searching party was sent out and they were all found dead. I do not know what company they belong to."

How Canadians Faced Fire.

London, April 8.—Most recent advices from the front say that at the Harts River engagement the British troops were arranged in the form of a semi-circle, the Canadian Rifles holding a point somewhat in advance and across the front of the semi-circle. The Boers were following up a bold attack on the Twenty-eighth Mounted Infantry, when they were met with a heavy fire from the Canadians, who poured volleys into them at a distance of two hundred yards. Private Evans, although mortally wounded, kept in the thick of the fight, and having fired all the ammunition in his bandolier, broke his rifle.

Port Hope Man the Hero.

Private Evans above mentioned was the son of Harbor Master Evans, Port Hope. The gallant soldier was born in Port Hope, July 13, 1874. He studied at the Port Hope High School, took senior leaving certificate at Owen Sound, graduated at Ontario Normal College, taught entrance class at the Chatham Public School and was afterwards principal of the Public schools of Huntsville and Amherstburg. He took the teacher's drill course at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, in 1898, obtaining a certificate of qualification. While in the barracks he acquired a love for the study of military tactics. When the Second Mounted Rifles were called for he joined in London, Ont., and in the shooting test made three bulls eyes.

Lord Roberts to Canadians.

London, April 7.—To the Earl of Minto, Government House, Ottawa: I have telegraphed Kitchener hearty congratulations to troops who did so well at Kleinhart's River, March 31, but I would like you to acquaint the Canadian Government how much I appreciate the splendid stand of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, and how much I regret the heavy loss. (Signed) Roberts.

MENTIONED IN DESPATCHES.

London, Ont., Man Receives Praise From His Officers.

London, April 8.—The following is an extract from regimental orders issued by Lieut.-Col. T. D. B. Evans, commanding 2nd Canadian Rifles:

"The officer commanding desires to express his sincere appreciation of the excellent conduct of all ranks during the voyage and on the train from Durban to Newcastle. It has in every way reflected credit upon the good name of the regiment and Canada. He especially desires to mention the good work performed by Surgeon-Major Devine and Hospital Sergeant Niven in connection with the epidemics which occurred during the voyage. It will give him great pleasure to take steps to bring it to the notice of the Imperial and Canadian authorities."

FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Details For the Recruiting of the Fourth Canadian Contingent—Soldiers Are to Get the Preference.

Ottawa, April 8.—The new force for South Africa will be recruited for twelve months or until the termination of the war. The Imperial Government will pay cavalry rates from the date of enlistment prior to embarkation and Imperial yeomanry rates from and inclusive of the date of embarkation.

The rates of pay for non-commissioned officers and men are: Regimental Sergeant-Major, $2.19; Quartermaster Sergeant, Farrier Sergt., and Farrier Staff-Sergeant, $2.06; Company Sergeant-Major, Company Quartermaster-Sergt., $1.94; Sergeant, $1.70; Corporal appointed paid Lance-Sergt., $1.58; Corporal and paid Lance-Sergt., $1.46; private, $1.21.

The age of recruits is to be not under 20 nor over 40; height not under 5 feet 5 inches; weight not to exceed 185 pounds; chest measurement not less than 34 inches.

On the organization of the 2nd Mounted Rifles the places of enlistment were London, Hamilton, Toronto, Peterboro, Ottawa and Kingston.

Recruits must be able to ride and shoot. A preference will be given to men who have had previous service in South Africa.

Everton Wagar Was Killed.

Napanee, April 8.—Everton Wagar, a young man about 28 years old, was instantly killed about 2.30 yesterday afternoon while raising a house. The building, which was the property of William Ferguson, was standing on jack screws, and these were being lowered to bring it down to the wall. Wagar was lowering the jack on the corner faster than the man was lowering the next one. This caused the building to swerve, and Wagar, who was between it and a fence, instead of stepping aside like the other workman, attempted to crawl under into the cellar. The consequence was that the building settled on him across the chest and killed him almost instantly.

A MAN WITH TWO NAMES.

Kappelle, Buffalo Insurance Agent, Was Also King of the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 8.—A sensation burst over the City of Niagara Falls, N.Y., when it was learned yesterday morning that Edward W. King, who has occupied a luxurious furnished office in the Gluck office building as secretary-treasurer of the Nash Improvement Company of Niagara Falls, N.Y., had been arrested for obtaining money under false pretences. Mr. King, about two years ago, was ostensibly married to one of Niagara's fairest daughters, Miss Louise Green, a granddaughter of Mr. George F. Green, a well-to-do citizen of Niagara Falls, New York. The couple have lived apparently happily together at 842 Niagara avenue, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., in an elaborately furnished house. His arrest was the result of a deal King perpetrated on Grandfather Green, and the result found that King was none other than Edward W. Kappelle, the well-known insurance man of Buffalo, with a salary of $1,000 a month, maintaining a comfortable home at 302 Massachusetts avenue, in that city, where he has a wife and two children. The certificate of incorporation of the Nash Improvement Company names Albert F. Aird, Buffalo, Edward W. King, New York City, and Edward W. Kappelle, as the directors for the first year. It is quite plain, King-Kappelle has not only been living a dual wedded life, but also a dual business life. The friends of his Falls wife fear that she has been fooled into a mock marriage at Rochester, N.Y.

Two Million Victims.

It is estimated that one-third the population of Canada are victims to the pill habit. This should not be so, as Merrill's System Tonic tones the Liver, restores the natural muscular powers to the bowels, and permanently cures habitual constipation. The result is that dyspepsia, impure blood and nerve troubles disappear. One 50 cent bottle cures. Sold by Ormond and Walsh.

Chinese Exclusion Bill Passed.

Washington, April 8.—The House passed the Chinese exclusion bill yesterday after having incorporated in it several amendments which increased the drastic character of the measure. The principal one not only excludes Chinese by birth and descent, but all Chinese of mixed blood.

Hadda Mullah All Right.

Peshawar, Punjaub, April 8.—Hadda Mullah (the fanatic who was reported to be marching on Cabul with 5,000 armed followers) reached Cabul March 28, saw the Ameer, congratulated him on his accession, and expressed the intention of returning home immediately.

Tea and Concert Thursday.

The King's Daughters is a society which is deserving of every encouragement at the hands of the citizens at large. Distributing charity freely to the poor of any and every denomination, their's is truly a work deserving of kindly recognition. During the past winter assistance was extended to thirty-six poor families in Peterborough, and no less than five hundred articles of clothing were distributed. The members of the society find that their funds are now all expended and in order to refill their depleted exchequer, have decided on giving a tea and concert in the Y.M.C.A. Thursday. The tea will begin at 5.30 and last until 8 o'clock, after which the concert will take place. The admission fee has been placed at a quarter and for this small outlay a capital meal can be enjoyed and an act of practical charity performed at the same time.

PTE. MURPHY WAS WOUNDED.

More About the Recent Deadly Engagement.

Pte. Evans' Gallant Death—Capt. Milligan's Record as a Marksman.

It is now generally conceded that the Peterborough representatives on the Canadian Mounted Rifles were in the engagement at Hart's River. This belief is confirmed by the news that Private Michael Murphy, is amongst the wounded.

Private Murphy is a son of Mr. Connor Murphy, No. 32 Louis street, town, and is well known. He was prior to his departure for South Africa, a colour sergeant in "A" Co. 57th Regiment, and was always an enthusiastic soldier. His friends will be pleased to learn that his wound is reported not serious, it being only a scalp wound.

CORP. KNISELEY.

A story illustrating the unassuming nature of Corp. Kniseley, of the Canadian Dragoons, who was killed at Hart's River, was in circulation in Toronto yesterday. He enlisted in Toronto, and was very well known there, but did not reside in the city. When he was offered the £5 and match box granted by the city to each of the Toronto men, he enquired the terms upon which the gift was made, and thinking that because his home was not in Toronto, he had no right to the gifts, declined them.

CAPT. MILLIGAN.

The career of Pte. Milligan as a rifle shot was notable to the very moment he left Canada. During the few days the regiment waited at Halifax he took part in a number of competions In one he made 97 points with 8 feet of wind, and in another 98 points on a still day with the thermometer below zero, and two feet of snow on the ground. His achievements were highly praised in letters written home by Lt. F. F. Clarke at the time.

PRIVATE EVANS.

Of Private Evans, who was killed, the Port Hope Guide speaks as follows;

We deeply regret to find among those who bought victory by death at Hart's River, was our Charlie Evans. No one who recalls that face would accuse him of fighting proclivities, and yet for a long time it had lain upon him as a burden, that he should, in so far as he could, help end the weary fight. He joined the second contingent Mounted Rifles at London, and sailed with Squadron E on the steamer Manhattan, arriving at Durban Feb. 19th, and has since then up to the time of his death, been rushed towards the scene of conflict. It does seem strange that the last to reach the area of fighting, should, all unused to Boer tactics, have been put in the vanguard in the fight, but what we know not now will probably be told us some day. Charlie was one of Port Hope's brighest boys and the eldest son of our Harbour Master, Jas Evans, Esq., and was born in Port Hope, nearly twenty-eight years ago. He received his education at our public and high school, and graduated as a high school teacher. He taught in Chatham and Amherstburg, and was eminently successful in his chosen profession. His brother Will enlisted when he did in the same company, but so far as known has escaped the Boer bullets. The deceased young man was a general favourite with a large circle of acquaintances. He was a member of the Methodist church, and while at Amherstburg was superintendent of the Sunday school there. The sincerest sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Evans in the loss of their beloved son.

It was Private Evans, who, although mortally wounded, kept in the thick of the fight, and having fired all the ammunition in his bandolier, broke his rifle.

Seats for the Caledonians.

The reserved seat plan of the Opera House for the Caledonian Concert Co's entertainment on Thursday evening, April 10th, has been opened at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. This promises to be one of the most delightful musical evenings of the season. Mr. Alfred D. Sturrock, the eminent baritone, one of the four celebrated artists who is to appear, has many warm friends and admirers in Peterborough. 2d

A BIG PROPOSITION.

The letter received from Mr. Robert Stuart, of the American Cereal Company, by the Town Council, to which reference is made in another column, demands careful consideration, and immediate action. Mr. Stuart's statement that the completion of the canal to Georgian Bay means more to Peterborough than any other inducement which could be offered manufacturers, carries a great deal of weight with it, coming from such a source. That Mr. Stuart has the courage of his convictions, is shown by his offer to purchase the corporation's rights along the river banks, if the town is not prepared to undertake the cribbing, etc., which is necessary to ensure good dockage. That the aldermen are alive to the situation, is shown by a clause in the report of the Legal Committee, giving the Mayor a free hand to act in the matter. This certainly appears to be the growing time for Peterborough.

VILLAGE COUNCIL.

A Deputation From the Corporation Labourers and Teamsters in Attendance.

The village council held its regular meeting last evening, Reeve Smith in the chair, and present, Councillors Sheridan, Johnston, Pollock and Adams.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion confirmed.

The following accounts were presented, and on motion, ordered to be paid:

Peterborough Hardware Co ...	$ 9 40
H. Thompson	1 00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald	5 25
A. H. Stratton	95
Dr. Bingham, 3 months salary...	12 50
Pay sheet No. 6	62 85
Pay sheet No. 5	10 75

A communication from Civic Association was read, recommending that the council number the houses, setting forth the manner in which it should be done. —Received and left to a committee composed of Messrs. Johnston and Sheridan to enquire into cost, etc.

The statement of receipts and expenditures from March 5th to April 5th, which showed that the total receipts amounted to $1,718.39, and the total expenditure $193.78.

Tenders for street watering were received as follows:—Michael O'Brien, $259; Henry Cox, $218; Martin Kylie, $215; D. McMahon, $240; W. Fitzgerald, $219.

Considerable discussion took place as to what streets should be watered, and on motion of Councillors Adams and Pollock, the tender of Mr. Martin Kylie for $215 was accepted, and a suitable guarantee be furnished for a faithful performance of duty. —Carried.

Moved by Councillors Adams and Pollock, that the amount received for the sale of the gravel lot to Chas. Meyett be applied to bylaw No. 173.—Carried.

John S. O'Connell was present and explained that he had paid the back taxes on some village lots that were sold for taxes, and as he could not secure a title he asked that his money be refunded.

On motion of Councillors Johnston and Adams the amount, $11.99, was refunded.

Moved by Councillors Pollock and Adams, that bylaw No. 272, a bylaw to borrow $5,000.00 for current expenses, be read a first time.—Carried.

The Reeve explained to the Board what steps had been taken in regard to the agreement to be entered into with the Water Commissioners of the town, and the matter was pretty thoroughly discussed, though no action was taken.

A deputation of labourers and teamsters waited on the council, asking for an increase of wages. Mr. Jos. Whiteman acted as spokesman for the labourers, and Mr. Brisbin represented the teamsters. Mr. Whiteman stated that the labourers were entitled to an increase of 25c. a day.

Reeve Smith delivered a very eloquent address on the labour question, stating that he was not in favour of a general increase, but he would favour a rate of from $1.00 to $1.50 for a day of nine hours, the street inspector to grade the men, and $3.00 a day for a team.

After a great deal of discussion, pro. and con. Moved by Councillors Johnston and Sheridan, that this corporation establish a rate of 16 2-3c per hour for labouring work on corporation, and also that we pay for teamsters a rate of 33 1-3c per hour for 9 hours. This resolution to have force only for the year 1902, dating from the 7th of April.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Johnston and Sheridan, that an order be drawn on treasurer for the assessors' salary of $45.00 each.—Carried.

After several other minor matters had been discussed, the council adjourned.

MR. MILLER'S RESERVE.

While Mr. Miller, the Opposition candidate, is not charged with being a reserved man, he seems to be open to the imputation of being a reserving man.

In his Opera House remarks he came out as a hard and fast, thick and thin, supporter of Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Conservative Opposition, But, at the same time, he reserved the right to go his own way on two questions, those of labour and prohibition.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Miller excepts the two questions upon which he can hope for no help either from Mr. Whitney or his followers. The Opposition candidate takes the peculiar position that he will stand aloof from his leader, and stand alone on these two questions. He takes the position that only by legislation can the disabilities of the labouring man be removed.

How does he expect to get this legislation? The leader to whose support he is pledged, and the party to which he belongs, cannot be expected to do anything in this direction. All history shows the Conservative party to be the friend of the classes, and not the friend of the masses. Canadian history also shows it. In all the years of Conservative rule, we find only one measure placed on record by that party in favour of labour and its rights, and that is the statute setting apart Labour Day as a Dominion holiday. It has been the way of the Conservative party to pose as the fair-weather friends of of labour — just before an election — but when the time came to give their friendship effect, the matter was forgotten. In this province, the Conservatives, while professing friendship for labour, have steadily pursued the dog-in-the-manger policy of criticising in a hostile spirit, and obstructing, the efforts of the Liberal Government in the work of enacting legislation for the benefit of the working man and working woman.

Now, what is Mr. Miller's position? He announces himself, the hard and fast supporter of Mr. Whitney, the leader of a party which has always been the friends of the classes, and hence the virtual, if not avowed, enemy of the masses, inasmuch as while it professes the desire to do so, it has never taken any action, with all its long years of oppirtunity, to give any legislation in the interests of labour.

Mr. Miller professes to want legislation in the interests of labour. He supports the leader of a party which cannot be expected to do anything in this direction, for, in spite of its twenty years of opportunity, it has never done anything in the way of enacting legislation that will remove working men from the position of being "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

Mr. Miller supports a party which is historically and constitutionally, hostile to the work of helping the working man to rise. He opposes the Government of a party which from its very name, constitution and history, has been in all ages the friend of freedom and enfranchisement of the masses, who have suffered from the oppression of capitalistic and aristocratic classes.

Mr. Miller is the announced and bitter opponent of the Liberal Government of Ontario, which has practically, for every year of the thirty years it has been in power, placed upon the statute books of the province some law in the interest of the working man; and, perhaps, no country in the world, has a more complete and comprehensive code of labour laws than the Province of Ontario.

There is no interest which has received more full and earnest consideration at the hands of the Liberal Government than that of the wage earner. The history of labour legislation coincides with that of the Liberal administration, for previous to the advent of the Liberal party nothing has been done to protect the labourer from the many forms of injustice to which the greed of employers rendered him liable, nothing had been done to safeguard him from accident arising from dangerous surroundings, or to provide against unsanitary conditions. With these and similar objects in view a large amount of legislation has been placed upon the statute books by the Liberals. The wishes of labour have been deferred to and the best features of advanced laws in other countries have been taken advantage of in framing legislation in the interest of the working classes of Ontario. Labour laws have been amended and improved from time to time as experience suggested; and, now, it is safe to assert, there is no country where the wage earners — especially the class who most require protection — the women and children—are more thoroughly shielded, so far as laws can afford protection, against the consequences of injustice, negligence or want of consideration of employers, than in the province of Ontario.

Mr. Miller opposes the Government of a party which has done all this, and supports the leader of a party which has never done anything except make promises and pass a holiday law.

Yet Mr. Miller claims independence in the matter of labour, and poses as the advocate of legislation in the interests of the working man. How will he do anything to give effect to his ideas? He is a supporter of a party which, as shown by its past record, will not do anything for labour; He opposes a Government which, as shown by its past record of unequalled legislation in the interests of labour, will do all that its legislative powers will permit.

Mr. Miller says he will support "measures of benefit" to labour no matter where they come from. He is pledged to do his best to put out a Government friendly to labour and put in a Government that has never shown itself friendly to labour.

What will his position be if he is elected and Mr. Whitney returned? If the latter is consistent with his party's record, Mr. Miller can expect no advanced measure of labour legislation from that source. He has (let us "in a moment of weakness" suppose) put out the party that would introduce labour legislation. What then?

Mr. Miller will be a party of one, with a Government hostile to his aims, and the party friendly to his aims in the cold shades of Opposition. Will he, then, as a party of one, be able to carry out the principle he stated on Saturday evening — "the only way to settle the capital and labour question is by legislation."

In academic and debating school politics, "talking to the gallery" may be all right, but in practical politics, the serious work of legislation, "talking to the gallery," doesn't count — it can have no effect in giving laws that will receive the royal assent.

Mr. Miller's position is exactly analogous on the temperance question. He reserves his independence there also. He supports a leader who has declared himself in deadly opposition to prohibition and in favour of degrading the license law by restoring it to the unspeakable evils of municipal control. Mr. Miller opposes a Government which has given the people the only measure of prohibition the Province has ever had, and the only measure the Privy Council declared it had power to pass.

Mr. Miller says the referendum is "loaded." That is true; it is "loaded" down with the incubus of bogus apostles of temperance, who, caring more for party success than for moral reform, make the temperance question a football to be kicked about in the sordid "scrum" of party politics.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 4th.—North Western operators in bull ranks. The bull party has in the past ten days been augmented by Chicago and Western interests, which have just completed a successful bearish campaign in wheat. These interests have been aggressive purchasers of stocks. They argue most logically that the decline in wheat not only is stimulating exporters, but suggests a good crop and its consequent benefit to the railroads. The statement is officially made that Atchison earnings after providing for interest on the new issue on bonds, still are great enough to show as much earned net upon the common stock as before the issue, and this was one of the roads according to bear talk, that was going to suffer on account of the dearth of corn.

Union Pac. is showing fabulous earnings, it is earning at present about 8 pc. upon its common stock. Given a good crop, it should show net earnings of nearly 12pc. The very best kind of buying of these shares has been going on for some time.

The west has been a heavy buyer, and is bullish. We expect to see this stock sell higher than ever before.

So Pac. also is in line for remarkable improvement in both earnings, power and market values. This stock will in a short time be a six or seven pc dividend power, and will sell very much higher.

For an investment for the future it will pay better to buy and hold SP. than any stock which at present pays good dividends, and which the limits of the company's development has been nearer reached.

We are as bullish upon St. P. as when we urged its purchase.

New York, April 7th.—Crop outlook is good, labour troubles subsiding. Wall street hopeful.

The week opens with a most cheerful outlook for the bull forces. The past week has witnessed large increase in stock transactions, and public inquiry has been greatly stimulated. It now looks as if the spring rise was well underway. The large increase in Bond transactions at advancing prices heralds the incoming of the investor to the markets. The decline in the past two weeks of about six cents per bushel for wheat was a potent factor in starting the upward movement in granger shares. It will also stimulate the movement of old wheat which good authorities claim is on hand in vast quantities in first hands. Export demand has also been given extraordinary impetus through the dealing. The demand for iron and steel products continues to be so great that it is an object of interest in trade circles. The anthracite coal companies report that danger from labour troubles has subsided for the year. Money continues to work easier, despite the excess collections by the sub treasury. Exports of cotton have recently increased largely. Both stocks and cotton look as if they were going much higher. The preponderance of factors having the influence upon the markets lean heavily to the bull side. The outlook for the future appears more cheerful than for a long time past, while the attitude of the cliques and large operators is one of confidence and aggressiveness. There are times when stocks are a better purchase at a given range of prices than they are at other times, when quotations average from five to ten points lower. This looks like such a time. Times arrive when it is better to have money than stocks, also when it is better to have stocks than money. The latter proposition would appear to be with us now. The advent of spring is usually a time in Wall street when hope runs high and stocks advance. It certainly looks as if this year would not prove an exception to this time-honoured rule. We view the current market most hopefully, and believe that stocks bought now should show good profits.—Haight & Freese Co.

MARKET REPORTS.

Weekly Grain Statement Shows Decrease in Wheat and Corn—Liverpool Higher —The Latest Quotations.

Monday Evening, April 7.

Liverpool wheat futures are quoted today at an advance of ¼d to ¼d and corn futures unchanged to ⅛d lower.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, April 7.—There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 100 calves, 20 sheep and 55 spring lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. Butchers were out in full force and trade was good, but the prices of the best cattle were unusually high. A lot of choice cattle were bought by G. Martel at 6c per lb. Other sales of prime beeves were made at from 5¾c to 5¾c per lb. and good large bulls, at 4¾c per lb.; medium stock at 4c to 5c and the common stock, including a large number of milkmen's strippers, at from 3c to 4c per lb. Calves sold at from $2 to $5 each. The sheep were nearly all shorn, and three sold at about 3¾c per lb. for old sheep, and 4¾c per lb. for yearlings. Fat hogs sold at from 6c to 6¼c per lb., weighed off the cars.

Sioux Village Wiped Out.

Vancouver, B. C., April 8.—The Sioux Indian village at Portage la Prairie has been destroyed by floods. There was no loss of life. The people of the town of Souris are completely isolated from the outside world.

Plenty of Nerve.

Loss of flesh often means loss of force. It takes plenty of nerve force to carry on the work of flesh making. Scott's Emulsion brings with it new nerve strength and rich nourishment.

Arrested Under Serious Charge.

Victoria, B. C., April 8.—Acting on instructions from Northwest Mounted Police at Dawson, Supt. Hussey has caused the arrest of Joseph Glenelle, owner of the stern wheelers Genora and Mona, burnt at Dawson, who is charged with having procured the burning of the steamers. Both vessels were mortgaged to McLennan & McFeely of Dawson, and were burnt, according to charges made, to obtain the insurance.

The Sifton Trial Postponed.

London, April 8.—The Sifton murder trial has again been postponed. As was hinted some days ago, two important witnesses, James and Martin Morden, cannot be found, and it is believed that this fact has led to the postponement.

Chief Justice Falconbridge, who presides at this Assize, had only a week to spare, and this is stated to be the actual cause of postponement.

Kimberley Is Dying.

London, April 8.—The Earl of Kimberley, Liberal leader in the House of Lords, and former Foreign Secretary, who has been ill for some time past, suffered a serious relapse yesterday morning.

Nervous Dyspepsia.

How it shakes one up, invades sleep, destroys strength, adds a real misery to life. Not the stomach but the nerves are affected. Starved nerves make the whole trouble. You need Ferrozone because its a nerve food. It supplies the elements that are needed to make rich red blood. This is the savings bank of health. The richer the blood in red cells, the richer you're sure to be in health. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, strengthens the nervous system, strengthens the digestive organs and, presto! the nervous disturbance disappears. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

EFFECTS OF VIBRATION.

Wounds Have Been Healed by Sound Waves of a Violin.

A man was conveyed to a hospital in Paris suffering from an accident which resulted in a serious wound. This wound refused to heal, and all the various treatments applied to it failed to effect the desired end. The man was attacked from time to time by violent paroxysms, and death appeared certain. At length the surgeon enlisted the services of a good violin player and treated the sufferer to a musical remedy. The patient's paroxysms ceased, and from that time the wound began to heal. The violin playing was continued at intervals till recovery was assured.

In another case the wound continued to suppurate despite all that could be done. The patient was calm and resigned, but nothing could be done for the wound. The violin was called into requisition in this instance also, and the instrument was played close to the injured part, which was bared for the purpose. The surgeon soon observed a change. The wound assumed a healthier appearance, and the process of healing began and progressed rapidly.

It is an undoubted fact that certain vibrations can effect cures, but the vibrations must be strictly in accordance with the malady or nature of the wound. Some enthusiasts go so far as to assert that the character of individuals can be changed by the constant application of the proper vibration.

Are You Deaf?

All deafness is not curable, but doctors state that ninety per cent of impaired hearing is due inflammation of the Eustachian tubes, and can be treated with certainty of success by Catarrhozone, which gives instant relief to Catarrh in any part of the system. Catarrhozone is extremely pleasant and simple to use, and sufferers from any form of deafness are advised to use it. Thousands of cases are on record where Catarrhozone has perfectly restored lost hearing, and what it has done for others it can do for you. Procure Catarrhozone from your druggist. Price $1, small size 25c, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ontario.

"I do," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes. "Many is the time I would have given a great deal to play Macbeth with a real banquet."

Doctors Said Incurable.

Excruciating Pains in the Back and Loins—A Plaster Cast Necessary for Temporary Relief—How a Cure was Found in

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

We leave Mr. Demers to describe his own case as he wrote it in a letter to us. Few human beings are ever called upon to suffer as he did from kidney disease. You cannot wonder at it that he is now enthusiastic in the praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They have given him a new lease of life.

Mr. S. O. Demers, Conception Station, Labelle County, Que., writes:—"I am writing you in order that others who suffer as I did may profit by my experience. For three years I was obliged to give up all work on account of severe pains in my loins, back and sides. I ha dbecome so stiff in my body that I could not lean over without suffering the most excruciating pains.

"I consulted several doctors and specialists but all of them pronounced me incurable and could not even give me relief. One of them encased me in plaster in order to support the body, for I suffered dreadfully, but this only gave me temporary relief, and I thought myself condemned to die without being able to find a cure.

"About this time I received one of Dr. Chase's books and found my case described exactly. The sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills which came with this book gave me marked relief, so I bought some more and continued the treatment. Gradually the sharp pains in my back and sides grew less severe, and my bowels became regular and active—constipation had been one of my worst symptoms.

"I had also suffered from indigestion and gas on the stomach, pains between the shoulders, in the back, loins and side, frequent desire to urinate and pain in making water, stiffness of the body and all the accompanying derangements of the liver and kidneys.

"Since using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills these ailments have become less and less until now they have entirely disappeared. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have done so much for me that I cannot say enough in their favour. The people in this county are surprised to see me so well again and no wonder, for my cure has been almost miraculous."

LORD DUFFERIN.

A Tribute Paid to His Memory by a Toronto Writer Who Knew the Deceased Statesman and Diplomat.

The death of Lord Dufferin cannot be called either unexpected or untimely. He was near four score, and led an active, occupied life to the end. Those who knew him will be the first to resent the notion that his fame and name suffered any eclipse from the dealings of Whitaker Wright with the companies of which our ex-Governor-General was the nominal head. It cannot be urged as a charge against him that he was not a business man. Everybody knew he was not, and it went without saying. It need not even be pleaded in extenuation. There was nothing to extenuate. It was a misfortune, not a fault, and Lord Dufferin was sinned against rather than a sinner. To everybody with whom he ever had intercourse, the news of his death will come as a heart pang. Brilliant, gay, affable and agreeable are the adjectives that throng on one's mind as it reverts to his six year's stay amongst us. He was too sanguine and too generous ever to be classed with those of slower mind whose ability was of a colder and more matter-of-fact order. That he was our ablest Governor-General since Confederation is probably untrue; but let the crisis have been what it might his buoyant intellect would have seen a way to tide it over. His genius was hardly constructive, though he left traces of a practical turn of mind at both Niagara and Quebec. He was a clever, dexterous Irishman, of perfect address with the most courteous manners and a friendliness of demeanor never excelled. When reading a biography of his illustrious relative, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, one is irresistibly reminded of Lord Dufferin. I do not think he acted the part. It came naturally to him as part of his birthright. Sheridan's biography says: "The latter part of his life was embittered by misfortune, principally arising from his own improvidence. Mental anxiety completed the destruction of his health, and the famous wit and statesman, who was born in Dublin, died there in 1816." If Lord Dufferin was not improvident he was certainly very open-handed. He was the first Governor-General for some time who was not suspected of 'making a good thing out of his office.' His predecessors had laid by money to meet the requirements of their declining years in England. Lord Dufferin set an example of profuse hospitality at Ottawa, which has been followed by all his successors. He was one of the most interesting men in the world. He would recall passages in his life from the days when he was at Eton and Oxford, where he was a contemporary of Goldwin Smith, down to the day of his departure from London to assume the Governorship of Canada. Anecdote followed anecdote, now of contemporary statesmen in the Gladstone Cabinet, then of actors and actresses. He was intimate, too, with sportsmen, and had himself ridden at the Dublin Horse Show. There was no end to his experience. From the day of the Latin speech he made in Iceland half a century ago, published in his interesting "Letters from High Latitudes," down to the present time, he lived in an atmosphere of wit and epigram. He was a great admirer of Adelaide Neilson, who captivated Toronto audiences as nobody before or since has ever been able to do, and he followed her to her untimely grave. It was after he left us that he became a diplomatist, but surely he was born to play the part. Sociable, and always putting his companions at their ease, he was never undignified, and nobody ever took a liberty with him. He was thought to be one of the best letter writers of his day, and he always took time to write clearly and legibly. He considered scribbling to be an evidence of bad breeding, and used to declare that there was always time to do everything properly:

"He wore his outward best and joined
Each office of the social hour,
To noble manners, as the flower
And native growth of noble minds."

He often visited Toronto, and was the first Governor of the Dominion to take over a house and live for some weeks in a city that was neither Ottawa or Quebec. He and his family occupied the house on Wellington street west known as Holland House, or the Castle, which was placed at his disposal by Mr. Alex. Manning, and which was built by the late Henry John Boulton. It may be truly said of him that what he did as Governor-General his successors in office have all tried to imitate. Before him was a blank, without precedents. He left behind him a rich legacy of duties and social obligations, discharged with indefatigable assiduity. That they were in the right direction is proved by the fact that they have ever since been lived up to, and varied in no essential particulars. He has died splendidly poor, as did the brilliant Canadian statesman who welcomed him to the capital, and whose wit was as bright as his own. Lady Dufferin in her journal quotes her husband as saying in one of his farewell speeches: "During a period of six years I have mingled with your society, taken part in your sports and pastimes, interested myself in your affairs and business, became one of you in thought and feeling, and never have I received at your hands, whether in my public or private capacity, anything but the kindest consideration, the most indulgent sympathy and the warmest welcome," Her Ladyship adds: "This being so truly the case, no wonder that although the day (of departure) itself was lovely, it was one of the most miserable I ever spent." It is also no wonder that a man who could truly say of his term of office what he then said, corain populo, and with his judges listening and assenting, was voted "delightful" by everybody with whom he came in contact.

Look Ahead, Girls.

If young girls would look ahead it would sometimes save them from serious collision with the men they marry. It is here that ignorance is almost a crime. The young husband cannot understand it when the wife changes to a peevish, nervous, querulous woman. And the young wife does not understand it herself. She only knows that she is very miserable.

If ever there is a time when nature needs help it is when the young girl is adjusting herself to the new conditions of wifehood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It promotes regularity, dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All womanly confidences are guarded with strict professional privacy. Write without fear or fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me so much good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

ST. PETER'S IN ROME.

It Takes Many Visits to Realise Its Vastness and Splendor.

It is curious to watch the faces of people as they enter the great doors of St. Peter's at Rome and push back the heavy leathern curtains that keep out the noise and the air and find themselves in the presence of the most impressive spectacle on earth, as Byron said:

Majesty,
Power, glory, strength and beauty—all are aisled
In this eternal ark of worship.

It is easy to detect those who have never been there before and those who have become accustomed to its magnitude and gorgeousness. It requires several visits to adjust the vision and the mind to its colossal proportions and brilliant decorations and enable them to realize the vastness and the beauty of the scene. The more frequently you visit St. Peter's cathedral the greater and the more beautiful it becomes, and after a time you are enabled to drink in with complete satisfaction the fullness of its area, its altitude and its magnificence.

The cost of the building up to date has been more than $55,000,000, and the annual expense of maintaining it is about $35,000. An architect and a gang of workmen are always employed.—Rome Letter in Chicago Record-Herald.

Spiders and Alcohol.

A student of natural history had been in the habit of immersing for preservation his different specimens of spiders and ants in bottles of alcohol. He saw that they struggled for a few minutes, but he thought that sensation was soon extinguished and that they were soon free from suffering.

On one occasion he wished to preserve a large female spider and twenty-four of her young ones that he had captured. He put the mother into a bottle of alcohol and saw that after a few moments she folded up her legs upon her body and was at rest. He then put into the bottle the young ones, who, of course, manifested acute pain.

What was his surprise to see the mother arouse herself from her lethargy, dart around and gather her young ones to her bosom, fold her legs over them, again relapse into insensibility until at last death came to her relief and the limbs, no longer controlled by this maternal instinct, released their grasp and became dead! He has never since repeated the experiment, but has applied chloroform before immersion.

The Parsees.

The Parsees are sun worshipers, and it is an interesting sight to see throngs of them on the shore of the bay as the sun rises, apparently from the sea, performing the simple rites of their religion, the fluttering robes showing their fine figures to the best advantage as the day begins. Their religious practices are simple in the extreme, consisting mainly in strict dietary rules and personal cleanliness.

The rigid observance of sanitary laws produces the natural result of perfect health among the adults—large families of active, healthy children and immense numbers of old men, gray bearded, white haired, but erect and princely in their gait and attitude despite the naturally enervating character of the tropical climate.

Hard to Classify.

A local wit was one day discussing the mental incapacity of editors with the late H. C. Bunner.

"Now," said he, "what do you think of this: I used to write serious and comic matter for a certain daily, which paid me $20 a column for the humorous stuff and $10 for the serious. One day the editor asked me to mark my comic things 'C' and my serious stories 'S' with a blue pencil, that he might tell them apart. Wasn't that pretty rough on him?"

"No," replied Bunner, with a smile and a twinkle in his eye, "but it was pretty rough on you."

STRANGE BELIEF.

Savage Legends.

The savage islanders of the south Pacific believe that the world is a cocoanut shell of enormous dimensions, at the top of which is a single aperture communicating with the upper air, where human beings dwell. At the very bottom of this imaginary shell is a stem gradually tapering to a point which represents the beginning of all things. This point is a spirit or demon without human form, whose name is Root of All Existence. By him the entire fabric of creation is sustained.

In the interior of the cocoanut shell, at its very bottom, lives a female demon. So narrow is the space into which she is crowded that she is obliged to sit forever with knee and chin touching. Her name is The Very Beginning, and from her are sprung numerous spirits. They inhabit five different floors, into which the great cocoanut is divided. From certain of these spirits mankind is descended. The islanders, regarding themselves as the only real men and women, were formerly accustomed to regard strangers as evil spirits in the guise of humanity, whom they killed when they could, offering them as sacrifices.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

The Growth of Seaweed.

Seaweeds vary surprisingly in their habits of life. Some species grow altogether beneath the water, attaching themselves below the lowest tide level, other frequent heights where they are left dry at every retreating tide, while others yet are found in situations where they are scarcely ever covered by water. Whereas most of them attach themselves to rocks or solid bottom, keeping to the shallows, there are exceptions to the rule, among which the most remarkable is the sargasso or gulf weed, which floats on the surface of the ocean. Immense fields of it are seen by the navigator, extending as far as the eye can reach. It is sometimes so abundant as seriously to interfere with the progress of ships, and it was this which so alarmed the crew of Columbus on his first voyage of discovery.

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

The Indigestible Banana.

"Next to pork," says a physician, "bananas are the most indigestible thing a person can eat, and if you will notice you will see them touched very sparingly by people with weak stomachs. If you can digest them, however, and don't mind the offensive odor, they are very nourishing, and one can make a meal on them that is in every way equal to a substantial lunch of bread and meat."

The Only Chances They Have.

"All Joshua wants," said Farmer Corntossel's wife, "is a chance to show what he can do."

"Yes," said the farmer; "I s'pose so. Josh is one of those people who never seem to get a chance to do anything except something they can't do."

Afraid.

"I would marry that girl but for one thing."

"What's that—afraid to pop the question?"

"No; afraid to question pop."

As people grow older the worries that formerly affected them only at night begin to stay by them all day.—Atchison Globe.

THE LEGAL COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Ald. Edgcumbe, reported as follows:

1. We have examined the bylaw prepared by the Town Solicitor to authorize the giving of a deed to the Canadian Pacific Railway of the right of way over Island No. one, in the Otonabee River, which will be submitted to you.
2. We recommend that the Mayor be authorized to co-operate with Mr. R. Stuart in endeavouring to have the Dominion Government dredge the Otonabee River, to the extent of sending a deputation to Ottawa, if necessary, and that the expense of the same be paid on the certificate of the Mayor.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAS. EDGCUMBE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE BOARD OF WORKS

reported as appended, through its chairman, Ald. Best:

1. We recommend that the chairman be authorized to purchase gravel from Mr. F. J. Jameson from a cellar on Harvey street.
2. We recommend that the chairman be authorized to purchase a mud scraper or sweeper.
3. We recommend that the Town Engineer ask for tenders for the plank and cedar scantling and the necessary hardware for the year.
4. That having examined the petition of G. W. Hatton and others for the construction of a sewer as a local improvement on Harvey street from McDonel street to London street and found it sufficiently signed, we recommend that it be granted and that the Engineer prepare plans for it.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE ESTIMATES.

Ald. Roger introduced the bylaw fixing the rate at 18 mills for Public School supporters, and 19 mills for Separte School supporters, for the the year, and providing for the levying of taxes. It received its several readings and was passed.

On motion of Ald. Batten and Clinkscale, the agreement with T. Williams for use of land for dumping ground was renewed.

Before adjournment Mayor Denne welcomed Ex-Ald. Oke to the council chamber, and stated that he owed much to that gentleman for showing the sights of Glasgow last summer, when abroad.

Ex-Ald. Oke in the course of a few remarks, expressed the wish to thank all those from Peterborough who kindly looked him up at the Glasgow Exhibition last year. He had considered it his duty to entertain all of the Canadians with whom he came into contact.

INDUCTION AT WARSAW.

Rev. W. L. Atkinson, Formerly of Edmonton, Duly Installed in Charge.

The ceremony incidental to the induction of Rev. W. L. Atkinson, who is to take the Warsaw and Dummer Presbyterian congregations was conducted at Warsaw yesterday afternoon. The ministers present were Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Geo. Yule, Rev. Wm. Bennett, Peterborough; Rev. Mr. McIntosh, Centreville; Rev. Mr. Kannawin, Omemee; and Rev. Mr. Campbell, Lakefield.

The induction sermon was preached by Rev. J. G. Potter. Rev. Mr. Campbell put the questions to the minister to be inducted, offered the induction prayer and declared him duly appointed as the pastor of Warsaw and Dummer. Rev. Mr. Kannawin addressed the minister, and Rev. Mr. McIntosh addressed the congregation.

In the evening a tea and concert were held in the church and were very largely attended. The ministers all delivered short addresses, as did Rev. Mr. McQuaid, Methodist minister of the Warsaw circuit.

An adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held during the afternoon when it was agreed to invite a deputation from the Assembly Augmentation Committee to visit the Mill street church, Port Hope, in connection with their application for augmentation money. Rev. Mr. Potter was appointed to give all information in connection with what had been previously done in the matter.

DR. BINGHAM'S REPORT

The Board of Health of the Village of Ashburnham held its annual meeting on Monday, the following members being present—Reeve Smith, F. Adams, A. McCarthy and J. T. Wright.

Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, presented his annual report, which is as follows:—

To the chairman and members of the Ashburnham Board of Health:

Gentlemen,—I take this opportunity of presenting the annual report respecting the sanitary condition of the village for the year 1901. 22 deaths occurred in the village during the year. The cases which proved fatal were as follows:—Tuberculosis, diptheria, scarlet fever, gunshot wound, pneumonia, Bright's disease, meningitis, diarrhoea, apoplexy, bronchitis and heart disease. Last year in every village, town and city the infectious diseases were very much in excess of other years. Experts are unable to account for this condition of the public health, except by saying that it is caused by the mysterious nature of the epidemic influence, and last year Ashburnham did no teecape from the infection of disease.

Thirteen cards were put up for scarlet fever and two for diptheria, but, fortunately, these diseases were generally of a mild type.

The Sanitary Inspector had a busy time of it during the year. Many manure heaps and hog pens had to be removed to a safe distance from dwelling houses. The law is very strict on this matter and the Health Act states distinctly, "That between the 15th day of May and the 1st day of November, no hog shall be kept within the limits of this municipality, except in pens 70 feet from any house, with floors kept free from standing water, and regularly cleansed and disinfected." This is a good law, and in every case will be strictly enforced by the Board of Health—very few complaints reached us during the year about bad water. The citizens generally pay more attention now to the sanitory condition of their wells than was considered necessary in former times. This is what the Health Act says about wells:—"All wells in this municipality which are in use, whether such wells are public or private, shall be cleaned out before the 1st day of July in each year, and in case the Board of Health certifies that any well should be filled up, such well shall be forthwith filled up by the owner of the premises." These restrictions will not be considered too severe when we reflect that nothing is more conducive to the health of the rising generation and of the whole community than pure water.

No complaint has been had during the year in reference to the bone yard, and it may be said generally that the citizens of Ashburnham are exemplary in observing the sanitary rules laid down by the Public Health Act.

Of all the preventible diseases, I think diptheria is the most dangerous. It takes about an average of eight days for incubation; that is, after the infection enters the system, until the disease appears in the throat. But as prevention is better than cure, it might be well to mention some of the causes of this deadly malady. Overcrowded and ill kept sleeping apartments, from which pure air and sunlight are excluded will cause diptheria. Defective plumbing and the escape of sewer gas in the dwelling house has the same tendency. Decaying animal or vegetable substances either in the cellar or in the vicinity of the dwelling house are pretty sure to cultivate the germs of diptheria. Bad water and contaminated milk rank high as causes of the disease. The last cause I shall notice at present is one which has been recently discovered, and with which the public are not yet sufficiently familiar to lead them to guard against it. I refer to the breath of dogs and cats. The breath of these vagrant animals, after feeding upon vile garbage, is loaded with streptococcus germs, which cause diptheria of a most malignant type, hence the folly and danger of allowing children to make playmates of dogs and cats. With the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Ashburnham, the Board of Health hopes to make it the healthiest, as it is the most charming village in the banner Province of Ontario.

TOMMY ATKINS AT DRILL.

The 57th Regiment had a Splendid Turn-out.

Commanding Officer Addressed the Men —Capt. Milligan and Lieut. Murphy Praised.

The second drill of the season of the 57th Regiment took place last night, and notwithstanding the disagreeable state of the weather the parade state was very encouraging. There was a turn out of about 130 and a pleasing feature of the night's work was the swearing in of a large number of recruits, who give promise of becoming excellent soldiers. There were also several South African veterans taken on the strength. Sgt. LeBar is made Col.-Sgt. of "C." Company, in place of Sgt. Murphy, who is in South Africa, and Pte. Henderson has joined No. 4 Company.

No. 4 and No. 6 Companies showed up particularly well last light. Company and squad drill was the order of the proceedings. The Commanding Officer, Lieut.-Col. Edwards, addressed the Regiment, expressing his pleasure in seeing so splendid a turn out and in appreciation of the enthusiasm displayed. He also referred to the glory that had befallen the regiment in having two representatives of the 57th Regiment in the recent engagement in South Africa. He personally mentioned Col.-Sgt. Murphy, who had been wounded in action, and the heroism of the gallant Capt. Milligan, who was well known to local military men, was warmly praised.

The class of instruction will continue to meet on Wednesday night, and a recruit class is being organized to meet on Thursday evening of each week.

The following orders were read:

Headquarters, Peterborough.
April 9th, 1902.

Orders by Lieut.-Colonel E. B. Edwards, Commandant 57th Regiment, P.R.

No. 1.—Detail of duty for the week ending April 15th, 1902. Captain for the week, Capt. Mills. Next for duty, Capt. Clurton. Subaltern for the week, Lieut. Cameron. Next for duty Lieut. McWilliams.

No. 2.—The following are taken on the strength of the regiment: A Co., Ptes. Robertson, Brown, Ballantyne, McKee, Young, C. Ballantyne and Giles. B Co., Pte. Smith. C Co., Ptes. Grover, Dumsee, and Clute. D Co., Ptes. Howard, Bray, Henderson, Watson and Erskine. E Co., Ptes. Dummett and Plummer. F Co., Ptes. Freemer and Hendren.

No. 3.—Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Major Stevenson, Lieuts. Matthews and McLean.

No. 4.—The commanding officer has been pleased to make the following appointments and promotions:—A Co., to be Col.-Sergt., Sergt. W. H. Moore, vice Col. Sgt. Mulligan left limits. To be sergts. provisionally, Corporal Shepherd and Armstrong. To be corporal (prov.) Pte. W. H. Mather. C Co., to be col. sgt., Sgt. LeBar vice Sgt. Murphy discharged for service in South Africa. E Co., to be col. sgt., Sergt. Sturgeon vice Col. Sgt. Smith discharged June 5th, 1901. Stretcher Bearer Section, to be corporal (provisionally) Pte. R. J. Matchett vice Corp. Turner discharged for service in South Africa.

By order,
D. WALKER, Captain,
Adjutant.

Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment, has forwarded to Mrs. Milligan, widow of the late Capt. Milligan, a letter conveying the sympathy of the military regiment to her in her sad bereavement.

REMAINS OF LATE MGR. LAURENT

Were Interred This Morning in St. Mary's Cemetery, Lindsay.

On the occasion of the funeral of the late lamented Mgr. Laurent, V. G., on the 5th of November last, the body was deposited in St. Mary's cemetery mortuary chapel, Lindsay. Interment took place this morning at 11 o'clock. Grand Requiem high mass was chanted in St. Mary's church, at 9 a.m., at which His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor was present. His Lordship also witnessed the removal of the remains from the vault and their interment in the burial plot specially reserved by the deceased prelate for the priests of the parish.

ALBERT FIELD'S TROUBLES.

The Chief Will Bring Him Down From Toronto.

Chief Roszel went up to Toronto this morning to bring Albert Fields back to Peterborough. Fields was formerly an employee at the Palace Restaurant. It is alleged that last fall Fields hired a horse and buggy from Mr. R. Wolstenholm and then sold it to a resident in the north end of the town. It is alleged that he left town forthwith and the police have only now been able to locate him. He is expected in town this evening.

CHEESE BOARD QUESTION.

The Secretary of the Montreal Produce Merchants' Association has written a letter to the secretaries of several of the smaller cheese boards in the eastern section, advising them that the multiplicity of boards is detrimental to the trade, and that buyers will not attend hereafter at Chesterville, Russell, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Kemptville, Ormistown and Richmond. The members of these boards are asked to co-operate with Winchester, Finch, Cornwall, Ottawa, Vaudreuil Hill, Brockville and Perth. In view of the few transactions that took place at the boards in the western district last year, a similar reduction in their number might well be made there. Many of them became the worst kind of a farce, everybody seeming to agree that no actual business was to be done at the market. Till some arrangement can be enforced by which all selling is to be done on the board, the system of marketing might almost as well be done away with. A great deal of expense could also be saved by the amalgamation of the Lindsay, Peterborough and Campbellford boards.

LET CANADA'S ENEMIES BEWARE.

The Montreal Star's London correspondent states on authority that Lord Dundonald will succeed General O'Grady-Haly in the command of the Canadian militia. If he brings his family secret with him, our Yankee neighbours will have to be on their good behavior and it will be prudent for them to abandon their ridiculous claims with respect to the Alaska boundary and other questions in dispute between Canada and the United States, "lest a worse thing befall them." There is a class of knowledge never committed to print or manuscript, but handed down from father to son by word of mouth. Such is the recipe for making the paper on which Bank of England notes are printed, the recipe for Eau de Cologne, etc. Such a recipe is the one relating to the plan of warfare invented by Thomas Cochrane, Earl of Dundonald, who was born in 1775 and died in 1860, for the irresistible and absolute destruction of an enemy. Not only was Dundonald the Dreyfus of Britain and the liberator of South America from Spanish dominion, but he must also rank with our greatest admirals. He invented or discovered a plan by which the forces of an enemy would be utterly destroyed. What this plan or invention is, its method and means, are wrapped in the profoundest mystery. This alone is known, that it would involve the ruthless crushing or annihilation of the enemy.

In 1847 a Commission was appointed to consider the plan secretly submitted by Earl Dundonald. The Commission reported against any experiments, as the secret would be thus divulged, and further, in its opinion, would not accord with the feelings and principles of civilized warfare. Forty years before the Regent appointed a Secret Committee to consider Dundonald's plan. It reported that the method would be irresistible and infallible, but shrank from recommending its adoption. During the Crimean War, Dundonald twice urged his plan upon the Government. He was refused, first on the grounds of expediency; and later, when the War Office flirted with his offer to reduce Sebastopol by his secret invention, it laid down stipulations Dundonald would not accept. On the efficiency of his method be offered to risk life and reputation, but the Government recoiled from acceptance. What was this plan, too terrible even for war, though infallible and irresistible? There is no hint as to its nature, except that, once operated, the secret would be patent and at any nation's command. But Dundonald believed that one trial would suffice for all time and make war impossible through fear of it.

With the possessor of that secret in command of the Canadian forces, the people of this country will not have to take back talk from anybody.

That a good deal of the talk in the press which the Deering Company, of Chicago has created regarding the big factory which they were to erect in Canada, was intended for cheap advertising only, is shown by a letter from Charles Deering, in reply to an invitation to visit Ottawa, as published in the Free Press:

"I think I explained to you—but it will do no harm to repeat it—that the reports of what we propose to do in Canada are greatly exaggerated by the newspapers, and that whatever the ultimate outcome may be, the beginning will not be very large. In fact, it is not really we who are coming here, but the Mann Manufacturing Company, in which we own a controlling interest."

The Mann Manufacturing Company's works are located in Brockville, Ont., and Ogdensburg, N.Y., and if there is to be any enlargement Brockville is likely to get it. So that Western towns which have been offering inducements to the company to locate in their midst might as well reserve their offers and energies for something more tangible. There's nothin' to it, as the late lamented John Henry Pope would say.

A petitition from a number of the water taxpayers on Peterborough street, was laid before the council. It was moved by Messrs. Cuffe and Fry that the petition be laid over till next meeting for further consideration.—Carried.

A communication was received from a number of residents on Spring st. asking that an electric light be placed on the west end of Spring street.

Considerable discussion took place over the lighting of the village. Mr. Robertson thought that the expense of lighting should not be increased, but if more lights could be obtained for the same money to have them put in. Mr. Cuffe thought the present lights could be arranged so as to light the village better.

Mr. W. C. Harrison, who was present, offered to put in four new lights for $114.

Moved by Mr. Ackerman that Mr. Harrison's offer be accepted.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Fry that the matter be laid over till the rate for the year is struck, and if under 20 mills the matter be considered.

Moved by Messrs Findlay and Fry, that Messrs. Robertson and Cuffe wait on Mr. W. A. Harrison, and find out what terms they can make with him.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Robertson and Cuffe that a man be put on to repair the sidewalks and clean cess pits, and that Mr. F. Fry take charge of the same.—Carried.

The auditors' report was then presented. Moved by Messrs. Ackerman and Robertson that the report as read be accepted and printed as usual.—Carried.

The account of Mr. W. C. Harrison, for first quarter of electric light, and of the auditors for their fees, were presented and ordered to be paid.

Moved by Messrs. Cuffe and Robertson that the bylaw prohibiting cattle from running at large and the bylaw prohibiting people from dumping refuse on the street, be strictly enforced.

Council then adjourned.

Ruddy, Clear Faces are Indications of Spring Health.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Makes Pure, Red Blood and Establishes a new and Vigorous Vitality.

Men and women who have used Paine's Celery Compound, and all who have a knowledge of the wondrous cures it has wrought, particularly in springtime, unite in declaring that the great medicine is a national blessing.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this season by the weak, nervous, sleepless and those afflicted with rheumatism neuralgia, dyspepsia, liver trouble, kidney disease and impure and poisoned blood, means pure, red blood, perfect digestive vigour, ruddy, clear faces, renewed strength and permanent health.

Thousands of grateful people have sent in unsolicited letters testifying to cures made by Paine's Celery Compound after the failures of doctors and use of other medicines. The wealthy and poor, the noted and famous of our large cities and the quiet people of our rural districts have sent the glad news that at last they have found a remedy (Paine's Celery Compound) that has restored lost vitality and made them themselves again.

Mrs. Catharine Benoit, Montreal, whose life was saved by Paine's Celery Compound, writes thus: "Trusting that my experience with Paine's Celery Compound may prove of benefit to those who are sick and ailing, I wish to make the following statement:

"About seven months ago, I found myself in a very weak condition physically, and completely rundown. I was attended by four city doctors, but their treatment did not in any way improve my health. My condition was so bad, that my eyesight was affected, and I thought blindness would be the result. A lady friend, just in time, recommended me to use your Paine's Celery Compound, as she had been cured by it. I used several bottles of the Compound with grand results. To-day I find myself a different woman. My appetite is good, my sleep is sound and natural, and my strength for one advanced in years, is all I could hope for. I can truthfully say that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

Shiloh's Consumption Cure

No pay until you know it.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim, pay your druggist $5.50 for it. If it doesn't, I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can effect Rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs. It is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of every 40 who get those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine. Take it for a month, for it won't harm you anyway. If it cures, pay $5.50. I leave that entirely to you. I will mail you a book that tells how I do it.

DEATH OF LORD KIMBERLEY.

Liberal Leader in Lords Has Succumbed —Held Many Positions During His Distinguished Career.

London, April 9.—Lord Kimberley, the Liberal statesman, who had been ill for some time past, died yesterday afternoon.

The Earl of Kimberley (the Right Hon. John Wodehouse, K.G.), was born in London on January 7, 1826, and was educated at Eton and Oxford, where he graduated B.A. in 1847. He succeeded to the title of Baron Wodehouse on the death of his grandfather in 1846, and was created Earl of Kimberley in 1866, and a Knight of the Garter the year previous.

He held many very important positions of State, the chief of which were Leader of the Liberal party, 1897, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, 1852-6, 1859-61, 1894-95; Envoy to Russia 1856-58; special mission to Copenhagen, 1863: Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, 1864-66; Lord of Privy Seal, 1868-78; Secretary of State for the Colonies, 1870-74 and 1880 to 1882, and numerous others.

The honorary degree of D.C.L. was conferred upon him in 1894.

Not For Lord Rosebery.

London, April 9.—The death of Lord Kimberley will give the Liberal leadership in the House of Lords to Earl Spencer, and the many hopes expressed that Lord Rosebery would take this leadership are certain to be disappointed.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

Lower Windsor, N. B., April 6 (Special.)—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when these came on he was almost laid up.

He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniment on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions.

"I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long.

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

Ship Fired On.

Washington, April 9.—A cablegram has been received at the State Department from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas, stating that he has been informed that the Bermudez steamer has been fired upon in the River San Juan.

Engagement Denied.

Ottawa, April 9.—The reported engagement of Miss Fielding to Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, is authoritatively denied.

CHARGE OF 600 BOERS

Met With Deadly Defiance by Canadians Under Carruthers.

SHOT FIRST BOER AT 15 PACES

The Small Force of Canadians, With No Cover Except the Short Grass, by Their Steady Fire Kept the Enemy at Bay For Two Hours—The New Contingent Recruiting.

London, April 9.—The correspondent of The Standard at Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, has cabled a graphic account of the battle at Dornbalt Farm, March 31, in which the British lost three officers and 24 men killed and had 16 officers and 131 men wounded, while the Boers had 137 men killed or wounded. A small force of Canadians and mounted infantry, the correspondent says, were opposed by sevenfold their number. Six hundred Boers charged confidently, calling upon them to surrender.

Lieut. Carruthers of the Canadians sprang to his feet, and, exclaiming that he would not surrender, shot the foremost Boer with his revolver at a distance of 15 paces. The Canadians had no cover except the short grass. Lying prone upon the ground, they fired steadily, and forced the Boers to seek the shelter of a screen of trees. Many of the Boers climbed these trees, and fired down on the Canadians. The latter kept the enemy at bay for two hours.

When all but fifteen of the British troops were killed or wounded, the Boers ventured another rush, and captured the handful of survivors. Lieut. Carruthers was the only British officer who was not seriously wounded. He had several flesh wounds, but refused to go to a hospital. Some of the Boers wanted to shoot him when he was taken prisoner, but they ultimately thought better of this, saying: "He is too brave a man to die that way." All of the dead men and most of the wounded had several wounds.

RECRUITING.

Arrangements For Transporting the New Contingent—Recruiting to Begin.

Ottawa, April 9.—The British Government has been asked to send three transports to take the next Canadian contingent to South Africa. The first one is expected to arrive in three weeks, and leave during the first week in May. The other two will probably leave within a week of each other. It is expected that the four regiments constituting the contingent, will be called the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Battalions, Canadian Mounted Rifles.

Recruiting will probably commence on Thursday for the next Canadian contingent. It has been decided not to fix any quota for each recruiting centre, but to take all the men offering who possess the necessary qualifications.

British Cabinet Discusses Peace.

London, April 9.—The full British Cabinet at its meeting yesterday, with Salisbury presiding, discussed the terms of peace offered by the Boers through Schalkburger. It is said there is a strong chance for peace on the basis of limited autonomy for the Boer states.

Still Not Peace.

London, April 9.—After the cabinet meeting yesterday, A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, informed the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, in the House of Commons, that the Government had no important information regarding the peace negotiations in South Africa.

Kruger Invited to Chicago.

Chicago, April 9.—Mayor Harrison sent yesterday to President Kruger, at The Hague, an invitation to visit Chicago, and a handsomely engrossed resolution, unanimously adopted by the City Council, March 18, urging him to do so.

Another British Depot.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 9. — Near Lathrop, less than 40 miles from this city, the British Government is maintaining a horse, mule and forage supply depot for its army in South Africa. Here are stationed 10 officers of the British army and four private soldiers. With these are employed over 100 civilians to care for the stock. The number of horses and mules now on hand at Lathrop is 5,000. From May 9, 1901, to Feb. 5, 1902, 5,852 horses and 10,949 mules passed through Lathrop destined for South Africa. The largest number received in one day was 72 cars.

Rosebery's Son to Fight.

London, April 9.—The Sheffield Telegraph yesterday published a report that Lord Rosebery was going to South Africa at the request of King Edward. It was received with no credence. It probably arose from the fact that Lord Rosebery's son, Lord Dalmeny, is joining his regiment at the front.

Kingsville Man Hurt.

Windsor, April 9.—From letters received here, it is learned that Ptes. Tripp and Chalk of Kingsville of the C.M.R. were injured in South Africa. Chalk got seasick on the trip out and hurt his spine and was left at Cape Town. Tripp fell off his horse and so badly hurt his leg that he will never be able to walk again.

Woman's Priceless Pearl

The greatest menace to happiness is her health. The gravest menace to her health is Kidney Disease. Mrs. Young says South American Kidney Cure is a "priceless pearl." So it is.

Mrs. A. E. Young, Barnston, Que., says: "It is seven months since I took my last dose of South American Kidney Cure and I have not had the slightest symptom of the aggravating Kidney trouble from which I suffered so many years. I paid doctors a small fortune without any permanent results. This great remedy is a "priceless pearl" for women suffering as I did."

FORMER CANUCK MAKES A SCENE.

Rev. W. A. C. Frost, Well Known in Toronto Wants Carnegie Millions.

New York, April 9.—During a dinner given to Andrew Carnegie by the Society of American Authors last night, the proceedings were interrupted by a stranger who had entered the banquet room. He announced himself as the Rev. Crawford Frost of Baltimore, and appealed to Mr. Carnegie, as a philanthropist, to purchase an invention for transference of thought for $5,000,000. Mr. Carnegie denied being a philanthropist, and the stranger, growing excited, was induced to leave. Later the same man was removed from the Waldorf-Astoria to Bellevue Hospital. Dr. Frost is a Canadian. He was graduated from Toronto University in 1884 with first honors. He and his wife are both rich.

G.T.R. Double Tracking.

Toronto, April 9.—Chas. M. Hays, general manager of the G.T.R., Mr. McGuigan and a few other officials of the company are in the city, at the Queen's. They are on a tour of inspection and will to-day visit the portion of the road yet to be double tracked between Port Hope and Whitby and the uncompleted portion between Whitby and Port Union. When the former section is done it will complete the double track between this city and Montreal. It is said that one million dollars will be expended on the double tracking work in those two sections within the next year.

A Peculiar Landslide.

Montreal, Que., April 9.—A despatch from Ste. Genevieve de Batiscan, Que., says: There was a most peculiar land slide here yesterday morning. The farm of Joseph Baptiste St. Arnaud was completely wiped out, and the bank of the River Aveillet, where the farm stood, has been changed. The farmhouse, barns and granaries were buried and everything was demolished, with the exception of the sitting room in the house, where the farmer's wife and his six children were. The walls of this kept together and they were, with much trouble, dug out uninjured.

Three Fishermen Drowned.

Halifax, April 9.—News was received here yesterday of the drowning of three lobster fishermen at Koddore, 45 miles from this city, on the eastern shore. The names of the unforunates are: Stanley Baker, aged 26, leaving a widow and two children; Fred Baker, aged 21, unmarried. Both are sons of Enos Baker, and Edward Mitchell, about 16 years old, son of Martin Mitchell. They started out to haul lobster traps, and their boat was found bottom up on the beach.

Fell to His Death.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 9.—William Schooley, 35 years old, died at Riverside Hospital yesterday afternoon from a fractured skull. Schooley was a clerk employed in an hotel at Ridgeway, Ont. Early yesterday morning he fell down stairs and struck his head against a cement floor. He was brought to this city in an unconscious condition. He died without regaining consciousness.

A TWO DAYS' BUDGET

Mr. Balfour's Announcement Indicates Much Controversy.

A PECULIAR CUSTOMS ORDER

No Vessels Are to Be Granted Free Entry —Will Timber Be Taxed? Is a Question That Is Causing Much Speculation—The Figures of the Budget—Revenue £150,000,000.

London, April 9.—A special order was issued yesterday to the customs staffs of all the ports of the United Kingdom, forbidding them to issue the usual order for entry to all vessels carrying free goods.

This applies not only to timber, but to all cargoes at present free of duty.

The customs authorities in London are very reticent on the subject of this comprehensive regulation; but the general character of the order is believed to be intended to ensure secrecy regarding the intentions of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach.

That his budget proposals will be unusually important, is indicated by the fact announced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by the Government leader, A. J. Balfour, that the budget will occupy the House both Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Balfour's announcement that the budget will be debated for two days is regarded as indicating a very controversial budget. All kinds of rumors are afloat, but according to the best opinions the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, will not depart from his traditional free trade policy.

The war expenditure is estimated at £40,000,000, against £60,000,000 last year, while the grant to the new South African colonies is only £1,800,000, as against £6,600,000 last year. Altogether Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has to meet an estimated expenditure of £171,000,000, as against £197,000,000 last year.

It is expected that the Chancellor will endeavor to raise £6,000,000 by additional taxation, bringing the revenue, roughly speaking, up to £150,000,000, and that he will provide the remainder by a loan for the interest on which he may possibly tap the resources of the Transvaal.

A persistent rumor is current here that beisdes timber, iron ore will also be taxed.

British Duty on Timber.

London, April 9.—Anglo-Canadian timber dealers fear that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach means to impose an Imperial duty on timber generally, without exemption. The colonies' insurance rates against the imposition of the tax have risen to 80 guineas per cent.

Life Insurance for Fifty Cents.

Forty Feet to Death.

Brockville, April 9.—Ernest Nevins of Kingston, a lineman of the Bell Telephone Company here, was fatally injured yesterday. He was on a high pole heavily weighted with wire. The pole had been perforated so often with bolts that it was too weak to sustain the weight placed on it. The high wind caused the pole to break, and Nevins was dropped to the ground, a distance of 40 feet. He died at 4.45 p.m.

BOILS CURED

When oxygen is lacking in the blood it is generally impure. Oxygen is an element of Nature, and used by Nature to purify the blood and as a Nature's medicine. That's why Powley's Liquified Ozone is such a valuable preparation to cure blood disorders or system weakness of any kind. Read this evidence.

THE OZONE COMPANY, Ltd., TORONTO, ONT.

Gentlemen: I consider it my duty to inform you that having suffered for 14 years from impure blood and very painful boils, I have been completely cured by using one bottle of your preparation, "Powley's Liquified Ozone." I am thankful to you and gladly give you my testimonial, and should I have any further illness of any description, "Ozone" will be my remedy. I cheerfully recommend its use to all those suffers with whom I come in contact.

The way to treat all blood disorders is by taking Powley's Liquified Ozone in internal doses and outward applications. If you suffer from pimples, sores and boils, bathe the parts in hot water to which you have added two tablespoonfuls of Ozone. Directly after bathe in cold water to which has been added the same quantity of Ozone, i. e., two table spoonfuls. It won't take long—It's a simple treatment and you'll be cured.

MR. COFFEE MARRIED.

The marriage of Miss Madeline Hughes, daughter of the late Mr. B. B. Hughes, of 452 Jarvis street, to Mr. T. P. Coffee took place at noon yesterday, the Rev. Father Cruise of Our Lady of Lourdes, performing the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome travelling costume of blue vicuna cloth, the Eton coat having wide collar of white cloth, hemmed with fancy braid. Her bodice was of white chiffon lace over white silk. Her hat was of blue straw, and she wore a handsome ruff of white silk roses with ends of chiffon. On account of her mother's illness the wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate relatives being present.

Mr. Coffee is manager of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, of Toronto, and is well known in Peterborough.

AN APRIL WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Josephine Fairman and Mr. Daniel Holland.

A very pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock in St. Peter's cathedral, on Tuesday morning, when Miss Josephine Fairman was united in marriage to Mr. Daniel Holland, bookkeeper for the McAllister Milling Co., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father McColl.

The bride was attired in a costume of a beautiful shade of blue, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Susie Fairman, who was charmingly gowned. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Thos. Holland.

After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the residence of the bride's mother, where they partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast.

The bride was the recipient of a number of costly wedding presents, among them being a handsome dinner set from the Auburn Woollen Mills, a fruit salver from the employees of the McAllister Milling Co., and a cheque from Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McAllister.

Seats for the Caledonians.

The reserved seat plan of the Opera House for the Caledonian Concert Co's entertainment on Thursday evening, April 10th, has been opened at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. This promises to be one of the most delightful musical evening's of the season. Mr. Alfred D. Sturrock, the eminent baritone, one of the four celebrated artists who is to appear, has many warm friends and admirers in Peterborough. 2d

St. Luke's Girls' Guild.

The members of St. Luke's Girls' Guild have secured the opera house for one of their popular entertainments, to be held on Monday evening, April 21st. Two pleasing numbers of the programme will be "The Old Maids' Convention," and "The Day after the Wedding,"—the former being given at the urgent request of many who were unable to see it when given some months ago. Both pieces are "winners," and those wishing an enjoyable evening should keep this date open and secure their seats early. Further particulars later. 2d

SUCCESSFUL SACRED CONCERT

In Murray Street Baptist Church Last Night.

Three Prominent Toronto Artists That Were in Attendance—Mr. Blakeley's Brilliant Work.

Notwithstanding the inclement state of the weather the attendance at the organ recital and sacred concert in Murray street Baptist church last night was very large. There was present a good representation of the music loving public of the town, and it is quite evident that they thoroughly enjoyed the very excellent musical treat that was afforded them. It is safe in saying that almost every organist, present and past and prospective, was in attendance and listened throughout with much interest to the work in particular of Mr. Arthur Blakeley.

The three artists were, Messrs. Arthur Blakeley, organist of Sherbourne street Methodist church, Toronto, and Frank Bemrose, baritone and Master F. Williams, aged 12, a rising young violinist of the same city.

Mr. Blakeley's work on the organ was perhaps the best that has been heard in Peterborough in some time. His selections were executed in a manner most delightful and his number the "Storm" was realistic in the extreme.

Mr. Bemrose took the place of Master Clarence Glass, the boy vocalist, of Toronto, who was to have been present, but who was unavoidably detained. He had a worthy substitute in Mr. Bemrose, who possesses a beautiful rich baritone voice, over which he has great control. Mr. Bemrose has just returned from a trip to New York with the 48th Highlanders, and while away he won much prise by the rendering of a number of vocal selections. His appearance last night in Murray street church was the first in Peterborough, and that he created a favourable impression was evident from the hearty applause that accorded him in his efforts.

Master F. Williams, the boy violinist, was a great favourite, and the delicate execution of his various selections was very freely commented upon. In his violin obligatos he showed rare brilliancy in his style and bids fair to reach a high place amongst the violinists of the present time.

The programme was as follows:

PART I.

Organ, Choral, "Ein' Feste Burg".....
M. Luther
(a) Evening Melody ... ...Arthur Blakeley
(b) Transcription on the "Adeste Fideles"
Mr. Arthur Blakeley.

F. Williams.
Duet, "Messengers of Peace"...Newton
Mr. F. Bemrose and Master Williams.
Organ, "The Storm Fantasia".Lemmens
Mr. Arthur Blakeley.

The promoters of this sacred concert are entitled to credit and gratitude for bringing so excellent a trio of musicians to town, and these performers are entitled to praise for presenting an excellent programme in an artistic and musicianly manner. Mr. Blakely, the organist, is a master of this instrument of instruments, and in the programme he presented, and in the manner of presentation, he gave great delight. His numbers included two of the great old masters, Handel and Haydn; his selections from these works were of the lighter type—work of their more playful moods—giving opportunity, as did most of his selections, for a splendid display of virtuosity. He is a most expressive and delicate performer, master of the wonderful resources of the organ, a number that especially showed this being Lemmen's "Storm" fantasia, which by turns, soothed, lulled, thrilled and startled his auditors, and was no unfaithful echo of the real storm that roared outside during the performance.

Master Williams is a wonderful violinist, and has, with the development that lies in the years between a twelve-year-old boy and a man, the promise of a phenomenal future as a soloist. While his tone is not robust it is sweet, smooth and true, and will ripen into roundness with time. His bowing and technique are excellent, and his expression marvellously just for so young a lad.

Mr. Bemrose, the vocalist, gave great satisfaction. His voice is a compromise between a light baritone and a robust tenor, and is of fine range and most pleasing in the upper register. He sings with great feeling and good effect. He pleased the audience so well that he, as well as the young violinist, were compelled to give numbers extra to the programme.

Prof. Shortt, of Queen's University, will lecture at the Fortnightly Club on "Trusts" on Friday, April 11th, in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

The Prize Sweet Pea Mixture.

This mixture contains the cream of the new and standard sorts, carefully proportioned, including all the finest varieties in cultivation. It can safely be said that there is no better sweet pea mixture in existance, no matter at what price or under what name it may be offered. Can only be had in town at Jos. H. Cabb's Aylmer street Greenhouse, corner of London street.

New Hack Business.

Mr. Harry Gibbs makes the announcement that he is starting up in the hack business for himself. His headquarters will be at Noble's, on Hunter street—'phone 27. Harry has long been known as one of the most expert and careful of Peterborough drivers, and these qualities, combined with his unfailing courtesy, should ensure him a large share of the public business.

A SURPLUS OF $2,500.

Water Works' Earnings Being Turned Over to the Town.

An interesting function took place at the meeting of the Water Works Commissioners, yesterday afternoon, when the first cheque was made out in favour of the town in the way of repayment for the investment which was made in the purchase of the system. The face value of the cheque is $2,500, which amount represents the accumulated surplus of earnings over the cost of maintenance up to date since the Works were acquired. The cheque will be passed on to the Town Trust Commissioners.

PERSONALS.

Mr. W. J. Patterson, of town, has obtained his degree of M. D. at Queen's University.

Mr. George Gowland, of the Gowland Meter Company, has been home for a day or two and left for Toronto on a business trip to-day.

The Misses Beatty, of Peterborough, have returned home, after spending their Easter holidays in Lakefield, the guests of Mrs. S. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cox have returned from Clifton Springs, where they have been spending the last ten days for the benefit of the former's health.

Master Frank Williams, of Toronto, the boy violinist, who took part in the entertainment at the Baptist church last evening, is a guest of the Misses Sailsbury, 294 Rubidge street.

WHERE DOES DR. FORD STAND?

Dr. Ford, the Opposition candidate in East Peterborough, spoke in the Opera House on Saturday night, and attempted to explain where he stood in relation to prohibition, and in relation to his leader, the pronounced enemy and opponent of prohibition, who claims to be "bold enough to be honest and honest enough to be bold." But Dr. Ford did not imitate him. He trimmed with the skill of a professional man, which he claims to be.

Dr. Ford claims to be first of all a temperance man, so firm in the faith and so consistent that no one dares doubt his sincerity. Will his sincerity stand the test? Is not Dr. Ford a politician first and a temperance man afterward?

Listen to him a moment. At the Opera House meeting last Saturday, Dr. Ford said, as reported in the Review:

"As the Liberal-Conservative (Whitney) candidate for East Peterborough, I owe allegiance to the Liberal-Conservative (Whitney) party. On all political subjects they will find me loyal, because we agree on these subjects. . . . But there are other questions outside and above politics — great moral questions. On these great moral questions I claim to owe allegiance to no man or party. On these I have to account to no man, to give allegiance to no one, but to my conscience only. (Applause.)

This sounds very nice and very "bold." Dr. Ford declares he is a law unto himself—accountable on the question of prohibition and temperance to no one—not even the temperance people and the temperance cause. He claims the right to be a temperance man, and yet declares himself the thoroughpaced supporter of a political leader, who declares himself the bitter foe of prohibition.

Dr. Ford is trying to get elected to help put Mr. Whitney into power. He will cast his vote to keep him in power. Dr. Ford claims the right to vote even against prohibition and be blameless. If he voted against prohibition in the House, no one could call him to account. On prohibition and temperance he says, "I have to account to no one but to my conscience only."

This is the logical outcome of Dr. Ford's declared position, and it shows where a man lands himself when he wants to "jolly" the public with high sounding and pious, but empty flapdoodle.

Dr. Ford wants to be elected as a supporter of Mr. Whitney, to vote for his measures from start to finish. He places himself in the position of even voting against prohibition, and the temperance electors of East Peterborough have no right to call him to account—he is responsible to "his conscience only."

Can Dr. Ford, on such grounds, claim the support of the temperance electors of East Peterborough? What is the use of his being a temperance man unless he is "bold enough to be honest" and assume the responsibility of his actions to the electors and not to "his conscience only."

It looks very much as if Dr. Ford were a "political" temperance man after, all, and worse than that, a partizan temperance man.

He claims election as the supporter of a political leader who is utterly opposed to prohibition. Dr. Ford supports an anti-prohibition leader and yet insists that other candidates shall be pledged to vote for prohibition. Where is the logic, where is the consistency in that?

RUGBY.

The actual rugby season is yet far away but the local team does not intend to remain inactive. Peterborough will have to find a good live scrimmage for next fall's operations, and they are not going to leave the matter off until the cool frosty autumn days. The policy the local rugbyists intend pursuing may seem rather extraordinary, but it is deemed expedient if Peterborough intends to land the intermediate championship of the C.R.U. for another season. The rugbyists will be called out to practice forthwith and practices will be continued regularly until the middle of May. A number of new men have expressed their desire to get into the game.

THE NEW RINK.

Messrs. J. S. Knapman and R. H. Kells, the promoters of the new skating rink company, are meeting with much encouragement in their endeavour to raise the necessary amount of stock, and as soon as $8000 is subscribed a proper charter will be obtained and work commenced. A neat little prospectus has been issued by the promoters, giving the yearly estimated receipts and expenditures. The figures are based on the receipts and expenditures of the old rink, and there is reason to believe that the receipts of an up-to-date rink would be much larger than the figures below quoted. They are as follows:

Receipts.

Skating tickets	$ 400 00

LACROSSE.

The Y.M.C.A. boys have been practising somewhat of late on the Central Park and they expect to get up on the oval before long. A game between the T.A.S. team and the Y.M.C.A's should prove interesting.

The London News says:—"No person need lie awake nights wondering where London will be able to secure a team. There are as many husky men to the square inch in this district as in any other district. When London's lacrosse team cavorts into the lot, the spectators will see an aggregation that is a lacrosse team. Make no mistake about that." People are wondering where these boys come from. Surely they couldn't be the players that are being lamented by Orangeville, St. Kitts and the Caps.

THE WHEEL.

Alf. Sharritt has made his last ride. Many a time in the palmy days of the bicyclist has he sailed first under the wire, while thousands roared their applause. Often has he doffed his cap to the cheering crowds and felt that he was a hero. And he was and is. Not on the boarded track has he proved it. His last ride was not on the two-wheeled steed that answered so well the touch of his foot. Away out on the African veldt, far from applauding crowds and astride of a scraggy remount, he came to the scratch for the last time. There was no music of bands, no shouts of encouragement, only the sharp ping of the Lee-Metford, the angry bark of the answering Mauser and the deep boom of the cannon. But he rode gamely and well. And when, with comrades falling on every side, he lay with rifle to his shoulder and sent back bullet for bullet till his own little leaden messenger came he had little time to realize that he was taking part in the grandest finish bicyclist ever knew—a finish that today is ringing around the world, blending the words "Canadian" and "hero."—Toronto Telegram.

HON. WM. PATERSON'S SPEECH

Principal Event of Closing Day of Budget Debate — What Honest Comparison Shows—Liberal Financial Record Was Quite Satisfactory—Other Speakers—Vote Taken at Five Minutes to Three.

Ottawa, April 9.—The speech of Hon. William Paterson on the budget was the principal event in the House yesterday.

The motion appropriating Thursdays for Government business was adopted.

Hon. William Paterson.

Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs, resumed the budget debate, referring first to the criticisms by the Opposition of the increased expenditure of the Government. Perhaps some Liberal papers thought the Government had not been faithful to the platform of 1893 in that respect. Not only had the Finance Minister made a fair statement of the situation, but he had presented the case that might be urged against the Government more strongly than he need have done. Opposition speakers had spoken of the increase in expenditure in different departments without comparing the services. Comparing service with service, and bearing in mind the rapid development of the country in the last five years, the great increase in population and the wonderful activity that had prevailed in every sphere of industrial life, the financial record of the Liberal Government compared very favorably with that of its predecessor. He could prove that the last census redounded to the credit of the Liberal Government. Leaving aside all questions of stuffing the census, there was no doubt that the increase in the last five years of the decade had been greater than in the first; in fact, that all the increase had been in the last five years.

The Development of Canada.

He proved this by contrasting the increase in aggregate trade, in exports, in imports, chartered bank returns, freight returns, etc., giving first the aggregate foreign trade, which in 1891 was $218,000,000, in 1896 $239,000,000, and in 1901 $386,000,000. He also quoted the imports of settlers' effects, homestead entries, letters carried, letters patent for Dominion lands, and many other returns, all going to prove that the increase in population and trade had all occurred in the last five years of the census decade. A particularly striking comparison was that between the total foreign trade per day in 1896 and in 1901. In '96 it was $763,659, and in 1901 $1,236,112. These things should be considered fairly, and in judging the expenditure the conditions should be borne in mind, the increase of population and the growth of the trade of the country.

The other speakers were Mr. Clancy, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Rudolphe Lemieux and Mr. Rufus Pope.

The Amendment Lost.

It was five minutes to three when the whips entered and Mr. Speaker put the question. The division on the amendment resulted in its defeat by 117 nays to 61 yeas. The only break was the vote of Mr. Calvin (Ind. Con., Frontenac) who sided with the Government. The House rose at 3.20 a.m.

Joint Stock Companies' Act.

Ottawa, Ont., April 9.—In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Scott introduced a bill respecting the issuing of charters to joint stock company's by letters patent. The bill is intended to facilitate the issuing of charters and to make the Canadian law the same as the English law in this respect. The measure will remove restrictions imposed upon companies formed in Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of conducting operations in Canada and is expected to greatly promote the investment of foreign capital here. Under the present law joint stock companies formed outside of the Dominion must subscribe 50 per cent. of the stocks and pay 10 per cent. into the hands of the Receiver-General before obtaining a charter. A majority of the directors must also reside in Canada. These restrictions are to be done away with, and it is proposed to allow foreign companies to enter and do business here, with little or no hindrance. The bill was read a first time.

Would Cost Eighty Millions.

Ottawa, April 9.—In the Senate Railway Committee yesterday morning the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal Company's bill was reported with very slight amendment. The bill extends the time for completion to 1910, and was explained by Mr. Wisner, the company's engineer. He said the cost would be eighty million dollars, and this would give a twenty foot depth through from the lakes to the port of shipment. Only 44 miles would require canalling out of the 495 miles in all. The canals would be not less than 100 feet in width. Senator Gibson was not satisfied with 100 feet, and asked for 150 feet, to allow greater speed. In reply to questions Mr. Wisner said he thought the canal could be operated eight months in the year.

CANADA AND CANADIANS.

Boston Club Addressed by Maritime Politicians on the Subject.

Boston, Mass., April 9.—Canada and Canadians and their relations with the United States were discussed at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club of Boston at the Copley Square Hotel last night. The principal speakers were Hon. John V. Ellis of St. John, a member of the Canadian Senate; Hon. J. W. Longley of Halifax, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, and Osborne Howes of this city, prominent as an advocate of reciprocity with the Dominion. A separate banquet was tendered Mrs. Longley by the ladies of the club. President Henry W. Patterson of the club opened the after-dinner exercises, C. H. McIntyre, a New Brunswicker, acting as toastmaster. The subject of the evening was "reciprocity between the United States and Canada." Mr. Howes startled his hearers by expressing the opinion that the manifest destiny of Canada is annexation to this country. He predicted that in 10 years the number of Americans settling in Canada would be twice as great as the number of native Canadians residing in the United States. He thought, however, that a union would be impossible and undesirable without the consent of Great Britain.

Took Too Much Poison.

Chatham, April 9.—William Cruickshank, a man living alone in North Chatham, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 8.30 last evening from an overdose of laudanum administered undoubtedly by himself. Joseph Northwood, a neighbor, found Cruickshank unconscious, with an empty ounce bottle labelled laudanum by his side. Cruickshank, who lost his wife a year ago, was despondent. He has a son, W. E., a student in the medical school, Toronto. Another son, Ernest, is in Chicago.

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate the awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping and is warranted to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Troubles. Two months treatment costs $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Son of Yang Yu Dead.

St. Petersburg, April 9.—The son of Yang Yu, the former Chinese Minister to Russia (whose death occurred here Feb. 17 after a short illness), died on Saturday, and it is now admitted he committed suicide. The deceased's Minister's son came to St. Petersburg to repatriate the body of his father.

Manchurian Convention Signed.

Pekin, April 8.—The Manchurian convention was signed to-day. The ratification will take place three months from date. The Russians undertake to restore the Niu Chwang and Shan Hai Kwan Railroad to the Chinese when the British relinquish control of the railway in Chili Province.

Decrease in London's Trade

London, April 9.—The Board of Trade returns for March show the remarkable decreases of £5,528,195 in imports and £2,804,055 in exports, compared with March, 1901. This is attributed mainly to the abnormal clearances of last year in anticipation of the new duties.

Strikers Are Winning.

Halifax, April 9.—The striking longshoremen gained their first victory last night. Two of the deal-shippers agreed to pay the strikers the union scale of wages. This morning 150 men commenced work, loading the steamers Magda and Chicklade.

Dukedom For Salisbury.

London, April 9.—It is understood that King Edward is taking advantage of his cruising holiday to complete the tack of settling the list of honors to be conferred upon the occasion of his coronation. This list will include a dukedom for Lord Salisbury.

Li Hung Chang's Son Dead.

Pekin, April 8.—Li Ching Shu, Li Hung Chang's son, upon whom the Throne conferred the rank of Marquis, hereditary for 23 generations, on account of his father's services to the State, died to-day from Bright's disease. He was 41 years old.

RIOTING IN JAMAICA.

Severe Fighting With the Police—A Policeman Disembowelled.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 8.—Rioting has been taking place at Montego Bay, a seaport town at the western end of Jamaica, from Saturday night last owing to arrests made by the police. On Sunday night there was a severe fight between the police and rioters, and many on both sides were wounded. Troops have been despatched from Kingston to the scene of the disturbances.

Advices received here yesterday afternoon showed that the rioting at Montego Bay is still proceeding. Acting Governor Oliver and the general commanding the troops have arrived at the scene, and the cruiser Tribune sailed yesterday morning to land men at Montego Bay. During the fighting, one man was killed and a policeman wounded. He was disembowelled. The increased taxation and an unwise arrest was the cause of the trouble. The position is critical, but the authorities hope to quell the rising at an early date.

A Whitby Man Killed.

Port Arthur, April 8.—James Wilson, a young man whose home is in Whitby, Ont., and who has been employed in camp No. 3 of the Pigeon River Lumber Company, was killed near Stanley yesterday afternoon. Wilson was riding on the brake wheel of a box car, from which he had been warned by the brakeman, when he lost his balance and fell on the rail between the cars. The wheels of several cars and caboose passed over him, literally cutting him to pieces. He died instantly. him to pieces. He died instantly. Deceased was a telegraph operator, and in that capacity had held down ly leaving to accept work in the bush.

Pill Manufacturers Enraged.

The makers of all the various pills on the market are greatly troubled over the new medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. It is doing away with their business. System Tonic is not only a positive cure for Constipation, but a blood builder and purifier as well as a tonic for every organ in the body. One 50c bottle cures to stay cured. Sold at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

Suicide in Westmount.

Montreal, April 8.—The sudden death by shooting of Mr. T. C. Bulmer of Westmount was announced yesterday morning. He was a well-known merchant and contractor, and was until a few days ago a councillor of the town of Westmount, but resigned his seat. The deceased had been in poor health for some time. An inquest will be held to determine the cause of death.

Fatal Coal Gas.

Hamilton, April 8.—James Nebin and wife, 161 Yonge street, were found unconscious in their beds yesterday morning, suffering from coal gas poisoning. The couple, notwithstanding all that Dr. Balfe could do were still in the same condition late last night, and there is no hope for their recovery. A young son, who was also affected, has recovered.

In a Plaster OF Paris Jacket

To Relieve Excruciating Pains in Back and Loins—When Doctors Failed a Cure was Found in.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

We leave Mr. Demers to describe his own case as he wrote it in a letter to us. Few human beings are ever called upon to suffer as he did from kidney disease. You cannot wonder at it that he is now enthusiastic in the praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They have given him a new lease of life.

Mr. S. O. Demers, Conception Station, Labelle County, Que., writes:—"I am writing you in order that others who suffer as I did may profit by my experience. For three years I was obliged to give up all work on account of severe pains in my loins, back and sides. I had become so stiff in my body that I could not lean over without suffering the most excruciating pains.

"I consulted several doctors and specialists but all of them pronounced me incurable and could not even give me relief. One of them encased me in plaster in order to support the body, for I suffered dreadfully, but this only gave me temporary relief, and I thought myself condemned to die without being able to find a cure.

"About this time I received one of Dr. Chase's books and found my case described exactly. The sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills which came with this book gave me marked relief, so I bought some more and continued the treatment. Gradually the sharp pains in my back and sides grew less severe, and my bowels became regular and active—constipation had been one of my worst symptoms.

"I had also suffered from indigestion and gas on the stomach, pains between the shoulders, in the back, loins and side, frequent desire to urinate and pain in making water, stiffness of the body and all the accompanying derangements of the liver and kidneys.

"Since using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills these ailments have become less and less until now they have entirely disappeared. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have done so much for me that I cannot say enough in their favour. The people in this county are surprised to see me so well again and no wonder, for my cure has been almost miraculous."

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Cures Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections that other remedies won't touch.

Mr. Thos. J. Smith, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "A year ago I had a very severe cold which settled in my lungs and in my throat, so that I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I tried several medicines, but got no relief until I used one and a half bottles of Norway Pine Syrup, which completely cured me."

TAKE TIME TO DREAM.

A New Edition of "My Mind to Me a Kingdom Is."

Opening the door, I found him, sitting with his feet on the desk, his chair tilted, and his eyes gazing into some far-away land. He was a busy man, and when he told me that every day he snatched a few minutes to dream, I knew better why it was his life was so strong, so happy and full of hope. He is a lawyer, and when I walked into the privacy of the inner office I had brought him to earth from a crowded courtroom, where before learned judge and learned jury he threaded the intricate mazes of the law with eloquence and power.

Take time to dream.

Our lives may be narrowed to the round of daily doing. We may know but the beaten path to the shop and back and then to bed. It may be but an existence, but Lord of our Thoughts we may dream of the day when we will open a shop of our own, or possess a competence.

And, if we are true to ourselves, we will work to accomplish the gospel of the dream.

We dream of the Spring and in fancy live in balmy days again. The birds sing, and nature awakening to the glad music has clothed himself anew. And as we dream on winter seems less chill and the wind less searching than it was before.

Take time to dream, for by fancy's vision one may live above the clouds. We may become great or rich or young or old, or we may be the peer of the mighty or the companion of the lowly, because for the time we are what we dream we are. Cultivate the imagination. Treasure it as a priceless gift. Let not age blight, nor folly destroy, for it is the Ego, the master gift of God.

Take time to dream, for dreaming shapes our ends and moulds our wills. So dream that when the door is opened and we pass through to inhabit the great unknown, the realm of shade, we may leave a noble name. Dream on the lofty things in life, for it is the lofty peaks that catch the early morning ray. It is the peaks that are bright long after the foothills slumber wrapped in the folds of night. Dream on the bright side of life, on the certainty of reward for good, and the ultimate triumph of right.

Take time to dream, and as you do, your soul will widen, friends will seem friendlier and hope happier, and your whole life will have received a new joy.

How the Cobra Gives Warning.

The most dangerous reptiles of India and Africa are the cobras. No snakes, not even rattlesnakes, are more dreaded, and with reason. As the rattlesnake warns the ear by its significant "rattle," so the cobras warn the eye by the mode in which they expand the upper part of the body when irritated. This expansion is produced by a sudden movement of the ribs of that region of the body. Usually they incline backward, but the animal when irritated makes them stand out at right angles to the body and so, of course, forces outward the skin which covers them. Thus the neck, or part just behind the head, becomes greatly expanded and flattened, as it also does, though in a less degree, in the Australian blacksnake.

This expansion is called a hood, and so the animals are called hooded snakes. In some of them there is on the back of the hood a dark mark, something like a pair of spectacles, and they have therefore been called spectacle snakes.

Dirty Patagonia.

"Patagonians are not giants, as some have supposed and as the geographies teach," said a man who has traveled. "They are large in comparison with the other South American natives; that is all. Everything is relative, you know. But they are very fat. That is why they can stand the cold so well. I have seen Patagonian men and boys running around unclad while I was wrapped in warm garments, with the snow falling upon them in quantities and the wind blowing bitterly. They are kept warm by their fat—and dirt. Patagonia is one of the dirtiest places imaginable. Don't go there if you hate dirt. That is my advice to all who contemplate a journey to the jumping off place of South America."

The First False Hair.

In very early days, as now, the hair was sometimes thin, and it had to be eked out in various ways to make believe that nature had been spendthrift to all alike. About the first description extant of woman's hair speaks of plaited locks," known as "Gretchen braids" to us. To make these braids seem longer silk the color of the hair was braided in. Then they took to putting the braids in cases of silk, elongating them with all sorts of stuff till they looked like umbrellas in covers. The Chinese pigtail is a modification of this style.

The Value of the Ruby.

The ruby is valued highest when it contains the least azure. The largest ruby that history speaks of belonged to Elizabeth of Austria, the wife of Charles IX. It was almost as big as a hen's egg. The virtues attributed to rubies are to banish sadness, to repress luxury and to drive away annoying thoughts. At the same time it symbolizes cruelty, anger and carnage, as well as boldness and bravery. A change in its color announces a calamity, but when the trouble is over it regains its primitive luster.

BACK-ACHE ?

If you have Backache you have Kidney Disease. If you neglect Backache it will develop into something worse—Bright's Disease or Diabetes. There is no use rubbing and doctoring your back. Cure the kidneys. There is only one kidney medicine but it cures Backache every time—

Exposure
To cold and stormy weather opens the way to an attack of bronchitis. The man on the wagon, be he farmer, milkman or truckman, needs to pay special heed to the first symptoms of weakness or disease of the organs of respiration.
The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure bronchitis, deep-seated coughs, bleeding of the lungs, and other conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate fatally in consumption.
There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"For seven years I had been troubled with what the doctors called bronchitis," writes Mr. Arthur Manle (general merchant), of Nilestown, Middlesex Co., Ontario. "A year ago, after I had been taken sick with a severe attack, I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I rapidly recovered from the attack and felt no more of it that fall. This season I began taking the 'Discovery' in August, and have so far been perfectly well. I can go out in all kinds of weather and not feel the bronchial trouble at all. Let me say to all who are suffering from such complaints to give Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a fair trial, and I am convinced that good results will be obtained."
Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper-bound, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of customs and mailing only; or 50 stamps for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SONNET—SLEEP.

When I am tired of living and I lay
Me down, God sends His angels and they bear
My spirit to the land of dreaming, where
I walk abroad as if on holiday,
With Kings and Princes for my company;
With Queens to kiss, with maidens passing fair,
To ease my head, to trifle with my hair,
And sing sweet snatches of love's roundelay,
Ah! gentle sleep, so kind thou art to me,
I long for nothing that thou dost not give,
Riches and Fame, and priceless Liberty;
Yea, everything that makes me yearn to live.
But, ah! thy gifts are like the morning wind,
That hurrieth somewhere, leaving naught behind.
Vinemount. —Robert White.

Children's Play In Germany.

It is a common belief in south Germany that if children play soldiers very often in the street there is a war coming, and if they play "funeral" an epidemic will come over the land, and many deaths will result. The relator of this tells that, when a boy, he with others played "funeral" in front of the house of an old miser in his native town in Germany. The miser became much excited and exclaimed, "I will not die yet!" and made complaint to the mayor that the boys should be arrested and punished.

Considerate.

A tender hearted youth was once present at an Oxford supper, where the fathers of those assembled were being roundly abused for their parsimony in supplying the demands of their sons. At last, after having long kept silence, he lifted up his voice in mild protest. "After all, gentlemen," he said, "let us remember that they are our fellow creatures."

All Paper.

Hester—The theater is a world of enchantment. Nothing is what it seems to be.

Edith—That's so. Fred and I were at the theater t'other night, and Fred, after looking about the house, said it was all paper, and it looked like woodwork and fresco painting.

Wrong Was Right.

Biggs—You say Brown is enjoying very poor health. Don't you know that is incorrect?

Boggs—Not in this case. Brown is never happy unless he has something to complain about.

A Lunatic's Advice.

Mr. Lionel Brough once played a game of billiards in an asylum with one of the patients. He conceded his adversary twenty-five points, with the result that he was hopelessly beaten. Then the patient took him quietly on one side and said:

"Look here! If you go on giving points so recklessly as that you'll be in this asylum instead of me!"—London Tit-Bits.

A Malicious Exposure.

Emeline—How I should love to overhear the conversation of several highly intellectual men!

Edgar—Pooh! I've been with them. They always begin on books, but soon get to talking about something good to eat.

The Only Way.

"Ah, Reginald, dearest," she sighed, "but how can I be sure that you will not grow weary of me after we have been married a little while?"

"I don't know," he answered, "unless we get married and see."

An Unusual Contribution.

A number of years ago Mr. and Mrs Leland Stanford were traveling through the middle west incognito. They happened to be in Bloomington, Ind., one Sunday and, pursuant to their usual custom, went to church. They attended the Christian church of Bloomington, then largely in the hands of Amasi Atwater. When the plate was passed for the collection, Mrs. Stanford dropped in a ten dollar goldpiece. Mr. Atwater was the deacon in charge of the collection taking. It was noticed that the ushers held a hurried conference with him when the money was taken forward.

At its conclusion Mr. Atwater said: "Ladies and gentlemen, there has evidently been a mistake. Some one has dropped a ten dollar goldpiece into the collection. If he will pass up after the services, we will be glad to allow him to exchange it for the amount he intended to give."

It is, of course, needless to say that Mrs. Stanford did not take advantage of the opportunity.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

Recognized.

"You had a piece in the paper this mornin'," said the excited woman, "about my husband keepin' a savage dog. It ain't so."

"Madam," replied the editor, "we didn't mention anybody by name in that item. We said 'a certain man in the west part of town.'"

"That fits him to a T. You might just as well have mentioned his name. Everybody knows he's the certainest man in that part of town, and he's the most contrary."

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

Wild Horses In Russia.

In the steppes of Russia, where wolves abound and the horses lead a wild life and have to shift for themselves, it is said that a young colt will sometimes be made so furious by the persecutions of his enemies that he will rush wildly among a drove of wolves and bite and strike until he has slaughtered a large number of them. These horses are exceptionally fierce, rendered so, it is supposed, by the extreme variations in the climate. At one time of the year they suffer from the intense heat of a tropical sun and at another they live among raging snowstorms and extreme cold.

FACTORY LEGISLATION.

What the Ontario Government has Done to Protect Factory Workers.

DOMINION INVESTIGATION.

The Conservative Government Disappoints the Labour Organizations.

THE FACTORIES' ACT OF 1884.

Later Amendments—Children and Women Protected Against Overwork—Sanitary Conditions Secured—Fire Escapes, etc.

One of the most noteworthy economic changes of the last century was the general substitution of factory labour for the old process of hand work in almost every department of industrial activity. The introduction of labour-saving machinery, and the substitution of large establishments, employing hundreds, or thousands, of workers for the small factories and work shops, where production was formerly carried on, like other sweeping and important social changes, was found to have its drawbacks, as well as its advantages. The employee was made more dependent upon the employer, and was a good deal more of a "machine" than under the old system. Competition among workers was increased, and women and children were often engaged at low wages to do the work of men. Then again the crowding together of large numbers of operatives in buildings where no adequate arrangements had been made for their comfort, health, or convenience, and without protection from accident or death in case of contact with the machinery, constituted a series of grave and intolerable evils, such as no enlightened or humane administration could long ignore.

The Need for Legislative Action.

In Britain, especially, where the question had assumed a more serious aspect than elsewhere on account of her industrial leadership, and the strength of the Trades' Union movement, the attention of philanthropists and statesmen was early called to the subject. A large volume of legislation has been enacted, embracing every phase of the question, and safeguarding thoroughly the rights and interests of the workers. As the result of agitation on the part of the organized labour bodies in Canada, the Dominion Government in 1881 appointed a Commission to make enquiry into the working of mills and factories and the labour employed therein. After a thorough and exhaustive investigation, in the course of which they visited and reported upon 485 factories, they found that the existing conditions fully justified all that had been urged in favour of a factory law by the labour organizations. To show how crying and imperative was the need for reform, a few of the more striking conclusions reached by the Commission, may be briefly summarized:

Conditions Previous to the Act.

They found that "the employment of children and young persons in mills and factories is extensive, and largely on the increase." They had much difficulty in obtaining, with any degree of accuracy, the ages of the children employed, as the employers had no record thereof, and in many cases the children having no education whatever, could not tell their own ages. Some were found at work at as early an age as eight and nine years. These children invariably worked as many hours as the adults, and were often "requested" to work over time. The appearance and condition of the children, especially in the summer months, bore painful evidence to the unnatural strain to which their undeveloped frames had been subjected, being anything but inviting to desirable." "They have to be at the mill or factory at 6.30 am., necessitating their being up at from 5.30 to 6 a.m. for their morning meal, some having to walk a distance of half a mile or more to their work. This is undeniably too heavy a strain upon children of tender years, and is utterly condemned by all, except those who are being directly benefitted by such labour.". Concerning the abuses attendant on the extensive employment of female labour, without proper legislative safeguards, the Commission reported that "Female labour is very extensively employed, not only in mills and factories, but also in private houses, and what may be described as workshops, which are very difficult to find, sometimes in the attic of a four story building, at others in a low damp basement, where artificial light has to be used during the entire day.

The Conservatives did Nothing.

The effect of the publication of this report was to impart a great impetus to the agitation on the part of the Labour Unions for factory legislation along Old Country lines. It was naturally expected that the Conservative Administration at Ottawa, having (at the instance of labour organizations), set on foot the enquiry, would follow up the report by at least some measure intended to rectify the more flagrant of the abuses disclosed. They had official knowledge of the evils that selfish capital inflicted upon working men and working women; they had official proof of the urgent necessity of effective legislation that would safeguard the rights and protect and promote the health, comfort and safety from accident of men and boys, delicate women and tender children. One would have expected that the facts disclosed by the Commission was an appeal that no humane government could resist. The expectation was a vain one. The Dominion Government paraded the report as an evidence of its desire to ameliorate the conditions of the working classes, but allowed session after session to pass without taking any steps or showing any disposition to legislate on the question. But the Liberal Government of Ontario took action.

Factories Act of 1884.

Considerable uncertainty prevailed at the time as to whether the power to pass factory legislation rested with the Dominion or the Provincial Government. Consequently when in 1884 the Ontario Government took action and secured the passage by the Legislature of the Factories Act, it contained a stipulation that it should not come into force until made operative by a proclamation issued by the Lieutenant-Governor. Efforts were made to induce the Dominion Government to take measures to put an end to the doubt which existed as to jurisdiction, but nothing could be accomplished in that direction, and finally in October 1886, the proclamation was issued by which the Factories Act of 1884 became law. The provisions of this measure were directed at the worst of the abuses found to exist by the Commission, the more important being as follows:

That the employment in a factory of a child, a young girl or a woman in such a way that their health is likely to be permanently injured shall be an offence punishable by imprisonment or fine.

That no boy under 12, and no girl under 14 shall be employed in any factory, and that children under 14 and women shall not be employed more than ten hours a day or sixty hours a week.

That women and children shall not be allowed to clean machinery while it is in motion.

That working extra hours in a time of emergency shall be done only with the consent of the Inspector under the Act.

That factories shall be kept in proper sanitary condition.

That machinery and other sources of danger to employees shall be properly guarded.

That each factory shall be supplied with the means of extinguishing fires, and also with fire-escapes if the building is a high one.

That the Inspector shall be notified promptly when loss of life results to employees through fire or accident.

The Act conferred upon the Inspector the powers requisite for the efficient discharge of his duties and provided the machinery needed to enforce its provisions.

The Act Extended.

In 1889 a number of important amendments to the Act in the direction of greater stringency were made. A detailed list of the industries to which the Act applied was given. The scope of the law greatly extended so as to include all places where more than five persons were employed, places employing not more than 20 having previously been exempt from its operation.

Later Amendments.

The law was further amended in some important particulars in 1895, when more stringent provisions were made for the guarding of places dangerous to life and limb, and the providing of fire-escapes, and penalties were imposed on employers for neglecting to notify the Inspectors in cases of accident, fire or explosion. In 1901 the Ross Government procured the passing of several other amendments in the same direction. The owner of a factory who fails to provide the equipment or conveniences required within two months after receiving notice from the Inspector to do so is made liable to a fine of $500. The owner of a factory over two stories in height, or over one story high, in cases where it is deemed necessary, who fails to provide fire escapes is liable to the same penalty. Another provision, which will render the enforcement of the law much more easy and systematic in future, renders it illegal for the owner of a factory, hereafter established, to begin operations until he shall have received from the Factory Inspector a certificate that the factory has been inspected and a permit given to operate the same.

A Record to be Proud of.

This legislation places the Province of Ontario in the very front rank so far as concerns the thorough and careful protection of the health, comfort and safety, of the class least able to protect themselves. It is an exceedingly creditable record. The repeated revisions and amendments of the law, all in the direction of greater thoroughness of efficiency, show that the question has at all times, received at the hands of the Government and Legislature, the full and sympathetic consideration which its importance merits. This policy has been in accordance with the best traditions of Liberalism, and has met with the full approval and support of right-minded men of all parties. As contrasted with the empty professions of Conservatism, which has resulted in nothing tangible or practical, and would have allowed the shameful conditions, formerly prevalent, to continue indefinitely, it must command the adherence and support of Ontario working men, who have in the past record of Liberalism the best possible guarantee that their interests may be safely entrusted to them in the future.

CONTRACTS FOR STREET WATERING.

They Were Awarded by the Council Last Evening.

A Settlement of the Dispute Concerning the Lower End of Bethune Street in View.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last evening, for the purpose of awarding the contracts for the street watering. Mayor Denne presided, and the following alderman were present,—Messrs. Shortly, Roger, McGregor, Rush, Corkery, Edgcumbe and Morrison.

A communication was read from the Town Solicitor, reporting that the Water Works Debentures had been examined and found satisfactory, and Messrs. Hanson Bros., had been notified that they were awaiting delivery at the Ontario Bank.—Received.

Mr. J. Kilgour wrote asking for a culvert to be placed in front of his residence.—Referred to the Board of Works.

A number of applications for remission of dog taxes were referred to the Court of Revision.

The By-law authorizing the execution of an agreement with Thos. Williams for a refuse dumping ground was also passed.

The Legal Committee was given power to act and instruct the Town Solicitor in the matter of Lynch vs. Mercer.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE reported through Ald. Corkery as appended;—

1.—That the following tenders for street watering were received;

Southern District, T. McWilliams, $345.00, and Wm. J. Collins, $324.50.

Western District, J. H. Cameron, $295.00.

Northern District, Zimri Blodgett, $319.00.

2.—We recommend that the tenders of Wm. J. Collins, J. H. Cameron and Zimri Blodgett be accepted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. CORKERY, Chairman.

The report was adopted and the By-law confirming the same duly passed.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared before the Council to urge that action be taken in reference to settling up the matter in connection with the misunderstanding existing in connection with the title to the lower end of Bethune street. The The Legal Committee will meet with Mr. McNamara and the Cordage Co. Directors who are the principal parties effected, and try to effect an amicable settlement.

TRAVELLER FOUND DEAD IN BED.

H. L. Boyd Representative of Chase & Company.

MET DEATH BY SUFFOCATION.

Retired Last Night Apparently in Good Health—Bolted Door and Laid on the Bed.

H. L. Boyd, a commercial traveller, representing Messrs. Chase & Company, confectioners, Boston, was found dead in room No. 20, at the Oriental hotel, at noon to-day. Mr. Boyd was a man of about thirty-seven years of age, and arrived in town on the 5.30 G. T. R. train yesterday evening. It was his first trip to Peterborough, as far as is known here. He appeared in good health when he went to his room last night. This morning one of the chamber maids tried the door of his room, but it was bolted. Several times during the morning an effort to obtain admittance to the room proved inaffective. At about one o'clock the proprietor of the Hotel, Mr. George N. Graham, was notified, and upon looking over the fan light he observed the inmate of the room lying face downward, in an apparently lifeless condition. An entrance was obtained to the room, and Mr. Graham's worst fears were realized.

Coroner Gray was notified, and after enquiring into the circumstances of the case, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Graham immediately wired to the firm of Chase & Co., notifying them of the sad occurrence, and asking for instructions as to the disposal of the remains.

The opinion is that Mr. Boyd met his death by suffocation. He had apparently bolted the door and thrown himself across the bed, face downwards. His face was in fact, burried in the bed clothing, and one hand was placed across his heart. This is the first death of the kind that has occurred in the Oriental during the ninc years that Mr. Graham has been the Proprietor, and though attributable in no manner to anyone other than the deceased, no one feels the tragic affair more than does Mr. Graham.

HORSES FOR THE WAR.

Mr. Robert Beith M. P., Will Come to Peterborough to Purchase Animals.

Mr. J. Harris McClellan returned home last night after several days absence to various business centres. Mr. McClellan met Mr. Herbert Beith, M.P., West Durham, who has been appointed by the Imperial Government to superintend the purchasing of the 1,000 horses that are required for the Fourth Canadian Contingent. Mr. Beith stated that he would come to Peterborough so that local horse owners might have an opportunity of offering their animals for sale, if they so desire. Due notice of Mr. Beith's visit to Peterborough will be given.

FIELDS GOT THREE MONTHS

At the Police Court This Morning—Pleaded Guilty.

At the Police Court this morning Albert Fields was charged with stealing a buggy from Mr. R. Wolstenholm in November last. He elected to be tried summarily by His Worship Police Magistrate Dumble, and pleaded guilty to the charge. Field's said that it was his first offence, and that it would be his last, as he intended to mend his ways. He was sentenced to three months in the common jail at hard labour. It is said that Fields hired the horse and rig from Walstholm and failed to return either. He then disappeared and was a day or two ago located in Toronto.

ASHBURNHAM SCHOOL BOARD.

The Grounds of the School May be Enlarged—Other Business.

At the meeting of the Ashburnham School Board on Tuesday there were present, Mr. H. Morgan, chairman, and Messrs. Garvin, Fowler and Peck.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed..

Accounts of J. A. Fitzgerald, for wood, ($10.50,) and A. H. Stratton & Co., when certified by principal, ($8.90,) were ordered to be paid.

The monthly reports from the head master and the kindergarten instructor were received. The repairs suggested in these reports were left in the hands of the Property Committee with power to act.

The Property Committee was also requested to ascertain for what sum the lot adjoining the school property on the west, could be purchased, and report at the next meeting.

A communication from the Board of Education, Peterborough, with reference to technical instruction, etc., of children, was read, and, on motion, Mr. R. B. Rogers was appointed, to act with the Committee appointed by the town to consider the question with authority, to visit other schools at the expense of the Board.

The meeting then adjourned.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Arrangements have been made by the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, for a concert to be given in that church on the evening of May 12 by the choir of Jarvis street Baptist church, Toronto. A special train will convey the choir of Jarvis street church to and from Peterborough, and the matter is being most enthusiastically taken up in Peterborough by a number of the leading choirs of the place. The choir of St. Paul's church, Peterborough, has achieved more than a local reputation, and is conducted by Mr. John Crane, an Englishman, and an amateur of much ability, whose work as a choir director has done much for the art in Peterborough. As an indication of the interest which is now being taken throughout the Province in choir music it might be said that the choir of Jarvis street church has had no less than five similar propositions during the past few months, one coming from as far east as Perth. Owing to the difficulty in arranging for the choir to be absent from the city, the Peterborough excursion will, in all probability, be the only one it will be possible for the choir of Jarvis street church to entertain for some time.—The Globe.

LAKEFIELD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Misses Beatty, of Ashburnham, spent their Easter holidays in the village the guests of Mrs. Sam Nelson.

Miss A. Sherin left on Saturday for Barrie, after spending a week with her parents in the village.

The friends of Mrs. Duff will be sorry to hear of her very serious illness.

The third concert in aid of the Piano Fund was held in the town hall on Friday evening. The promoters have every reason to be gratified with the unqualified success of the entertainment. The town hall was crowded and Mr. Fax kept the audience in the best of humour by his clever comic songs and funny sayings. Miss Hendron also gave a couple of instrumental selections which were exceedingly well rendered and received with much applause.

Mrs. McKenzie, who has been ill with pleurisy for the last couple of weeks, is, we are pleased to report, on a fair road to recovery.

Mr. Johnson, representing J. A. Matheson & Co., Montreal, made his first trip this year year to the village on Saturday. Mr. Johnson has been off the road, owing to an attack of typhoid fever, but his many friends will be pleased to learn that he is able to resume his duties.

Miss Boucher, nurse, Peterborough, who has been attending Mrs. McKenzie, returned to her home on Monday.

Miss S. Rutherford and Miss Anderson of Peterborough were in the village this week, visiting friends.

On Tuesday morning Miss Nellie Harrigan and Mr. J. Buckley, were united in marriage in the Roman Catholic Church, Lakefield, by Rev. Father Phelan, at the hour of 9.30 a.m. The bride was assisted by her sister Miss L. Harrigan, while Mr. John Sullivan, supported the groom.

After the bridal ceremony was performed, the bridal party drove to the home of the bride, Douro, where they partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast. In the evening the event was celebrated by the many friends of the contracting parties gathering together and spending several hours dancing, after which the bride and groom left for their new home.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Robert Greig of Pickering Tp., has been visiting her son, Wm. Greig, the new blacksmith..

Dr. Carmichael of Peterborough, was here to-day on a professional visit. Those who were acquainted with him during his residence here expected a friendly call from him.

Ex-Reeve Hooton was in town today. We have not heard what he thinks of the referendum but we expect to see him on the warpath preparing for the next municipal election, or for county councillor.

The Bible Society's collectors, Miss M. Runnings, Miss M. Shield, and Mr. Rosenberg, have been out on their laudable mission in collecting funds in aid of the society. They were kindly received by those on whom they called. Financially they did very well.

AN AGED WOMAN.

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years, Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia—A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured her of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been bothered more or less with Stomach Trouble, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures but got no relief until she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow.

However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her old trouble was gone.

She used in all twenty-one boxes before she felt quite sure that her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

It seems quite a long treatment, but as Mr. Plowman himself says; "Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease!"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that very many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Everything depends on the severity of the case and the general physical condition of the patient.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has often something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption till cured, but stop the moment relief begins and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if persisted in according to directions.

Strathcona at Aberdeen.

London, April 10.—The Admiralty has ordered the cruiser Thames to search the North Atlantic for the missing Allan Line steamer Huronian.

Digestion Without a Stomach.

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed, proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the Kidneys, Liver and intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter

THE MINISTERS' TOUR

Progress and Prosperity Are Seen on Every Side.

VISITING IN NEW ONTARIO

Ministers Convinced of the Wisdom of Their Policy to Build Up Ontario—The Premier Speaks at and Makes an Important Announcement at Sudbury — The Other Speakers.

Thessalon, April 10.—The first day of the Ministerial tour of new Ontario has revealed a continuous story of progress. Mining is active, a number of new smelters having been seen for the first time. Lumbermen are cutting more pine than usual, and the employes' wages are higher than ever; pulp manufacturers are establishing new mills to employ hundreds of men, while, most important of all, the settlers are flocking in in large numbers, and their prosperity is shown by the scores of new houses and barns. These are features which have impressed themselves favorably on Premier Ross and his colleagues, and the Ministers have not been slow to say that they will return more convinced than ever of the wisdom of their policy to build up Ontario.

The Premier's Announcement.

An important meeting was held on the platform at Sudbury. The Premier announced to his hearers that he had the assurance of Mr. Mackenzie of Mackenzie & Mann that the south end of the railway between Parry Sound and Sudbury would be under contract in May, and that the whole line would be completed within twelve or eighteen months. When that was done the company intended to push on northward, skirting the west shore of Lake Wahnapitae and effecting a junction with the Government line, which will be built to and beyond Lake Temiskaming, both lines reaching the sixteen million acre clay belt. The town also stood to gain largely by the construction of the Manitoulin & North Shore Railway southward to the heart of western Ontario. In this connection he referred to Mr. Whitney's attitude of opposition to all the railway subsidies of the past session. Hon. Mr. Davis took occasion to refer to a statement made the previous evening by Mr. A. Miscampbell, that he had been refused information from the Crown Lands Department. Mr. Davis said Mr. Miscampbell had two years ago asked for a roving commission to go through the departmental books, refusing to say what account he wanted to examine, a request which under the rules was declined. He had had, however, ample opportunity to move in the Legislature for the information he wanted, a thing he had not seen fit to do. Mr. Gibson, Hon. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. C. N. Smith, Liberal candidate for the Sault Ste. Marie Division, also spoke briefly.

Malt Breakfast Food

The Delight of Every Home.

Malt Breakfast Food, delicious, appetizing and comforting to the stomach, leads and holds every man, woman and child, who has given it a trial. It has with tens of thousands taken the place of the common grain foods, full of starch and other ingredients that hamper digestion.

Malt Breakfast Food, with its wonderful health-producing virtues, is the delight of every home in which it is used. It is the pure, health-giving Malt used in combination with the choicest Wheat that gives Malt Breakfast Food its many advantages as a health food.

A breakfast begun with Malt Breakfast Food gives to men and women all needed energy for each day's work and labours, and gives to school children a vim and healthy activity for school duties. One package makes a meal for twenty-five people. Your grocer sells more of it than any other food.

Vote to Ratify Treaty.

Copenhagen, April 10.—The Landsthing (Upper House) yesterday concluded its secret debate on the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indian Islands to the United States. The majority report, which was signed by 35 members, recommends the ratification of the treaty after a secret vote of electors who are qualified to vote for members of the Colonial Council of the Danish West Indies.

10,000 Men Locked Out.

Augusta, Ga., April 10.—The outlook of all mill operatives in the Augusta district, which was threatened by the Manufacturers' Association in retaliation for the strike Monday of the employes of the King Mills, went into effect yesterday afternoon. Every mill in Augusta and in the House Creek district is closed. The lockout affects 10,000 men.

Dr. Frost Discharged.

KING LEOPOLD MOBBED.

Anti-Catholic Rioters Severely Injured and 20 Arrested.

Brussels, April 10.—King Leopold was mobbed by Socialists yesterday afternoon here. The meeting between the Socialists and the King was quite accidental, but it was none the less unpleasant for His Majesty, whose automobile was surrounded by excited Socialists, who shouted, "Long live the Republic!" "Long live universal suffrage!" and waved red flags in the King's face.

The Minister of War, Gen. Cousebant Alkemad, has ordered the militia reserves of 18 regiments to be in readiness to join the colors, and gendarmes of all the divisions are held in instant readiness to march wherever required.

The police charged the rioters with drawn swords. A number of the latter were severely injured, and 20 were arrested.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Dying.

Washington, April 10.—The prevailing symptoms in Dr. Talmage's case have been aggravated by congestion of the brain. A consultation of physicians yesterday determined that that now exists. The patient has been unconscious most of the day, and his present condition is very grave.

Buluwayo Town Deserted.

Buluwayo, April 9.—After an impressive service at the Drill Hall today, conducted by the Bishop of Mashonaland, the coffin containing the body of Cecil Rhodes was taken on the last stage of its journey, viz., to the Matoppo Hills. A remarkable demonstration of sorrow occurred at services.

Lord Dundonald G.O.C.

RAILWAY COMMISSION

Mr. Blair's Railway Bill Introduced in the Commons.

RAILWAY COMMITTEE ABOLISHED

A Consolidation and Revision of the Railway Law—Difficulties of the Situation—The New Body's Power—Regulation of Rates and Prevention of Discrimination—Findings of Fact to Be Final.

Ottawa, April 10.—Yesterday the Minister of Railways introduced his bill to abolish the Railway Committee of the Privy Council and substitute therefor a Railway Commission with more extensive powers and wider jurisdiction than has been enjoyed by the committee. Mr. Blair gave a lucid explanation of the provisions of the bill, and frankly discussed the conditions which rendered the measure necessary, pointing out the difficulties to be overcome. At some length he discussed the composition of the proposed commission, the essential qualifications of its members and the scope of their work. His remarks were listened to with close attention and warmly applauded.

The bill, he said, not only provides for the establishment of a railway commission, but it is also a complete and careful revision and consolidation of the existing railway law. The railway committee of the Privy Council is abolished and its powers, with additional jurisdiction, are transferred to the proposed commission, which would be empowered to regulate freight rates. In order to get good men it was necessary to provide for a long tenure of office and to pay a good salary.

It was proposed to constitute a board of three commissioners, who shall hold office for ten years, during which term they cannot be removed except upon an address of both Houses of Parliament. The salary of the commissioners is not fixed in the bill, but it is intended the chairman shall receive more than the other two members. One of the commissioners should be a lawyer of large experience and some knowledge of railway business, also of sufficiently high standing to qualify him for a judgeship, another would be an experienced railway man. The third should be a man with large knowledge of general business.

The board will finally decide all matters of fact, the only appeal from its judgment being to the Governor-General in Council. This board is to have power to fix all traffic rates. This is divided into three classes—ordinary traffic, commodity traffic and competitive traffic. At present the Governor in Council fixes the maximum rates, and within those limits the railways could charge as they liked. It was now proposed to enact that upon a scale being submitted to the board it shall say that it shall be the scale of rates for ordinary traffic. The commodity class of freight meant a special class to be arranged by the board. As to this the board shall fix the maximum and minimum rates, and it is only as to this class that the railway shall have power to change rates within these limits. This commodity class shall consist of goods taken out of the ordinary class at the request of the railway company perhaps. But the company, having fixed its rates within these limits, they must be adhered to and the commodity rates so fixed published for the public information.

Another class was the competitive class, embracing such goods as to which rates are bound to fluctuate. As to the competitive rates, the company must, upon making the scale, apply to the board for sanction of such rate, and they shall remain at those figures until changes are sanctioned by the board. Penalties for infraction of the law will be provided.

Provisions are made in the bill in respect of foreign traffic, a very large discretion being vested in the commission as to this traffic.

So, too, running rights will be in charge of the commission, which would also control the matter of long or short rates, it being declared that there shall be no higher rates charged upon the shorter haul than upon the longer. Exception is made, however, of special cases to which it would be unfair to apply the rule. It was proposed that the commission would take into consideration in fixing rates the charges for lake and river freight.

The commission, Mr. Blair said in reply to questions, would have nothing more to do with Government railways than with any other railway. The railway companies would continue to make their classifications and submit them to the commission. Nor would the commission have any control whatever over rates on Government railways.

Mr. Haggart favored retaining the railway committee of the Privy Council rather than appointing a railway commission over whose members parliament had no control, especially as regards dismissal. He trusted, however, that it was not intended to allow the commission to fix certain rates for our local and other rates for one road and other rates for another; but fix general distance rates applicable to all. This power, he feared, would be a serious interference with contracts existing between railways and the Government. He sympathized with Mr. Blair, who admitted that the bill was forced upon him by petitions from Ontario and Quebec, and was not the outcome of his own convictions.

Mr. Kemp asked what provision was being made for the public to be heard before the commission.

Mr. Blair replied that such provision had been made, and the commission would go where required.

The bill was then read a first time.

The Coronation Contingent.

On motion to go into supply, Mr W. H. Bennett moved: "That in the opinion of this House in the event of a military force being sent from Canada to the approaching coronation ceremonies, such force should be composed in its entirety of officers and men who have seen active service on the Canadian contingents in South Africa."

Mr. Bennett, speaking to his motion, pointed out that this was a triumphal and ceremonious event, and contended it would be unfair to pass over the men who, in the hour of danger, risked their lives in defence of the empire. They composed the true Imperial Corps of Canada, and were men who had proved themselves to be good soldiers. It did not seem to him right that men who had remained at home should be paraded in London, while the South African veterans were shut out from participation.

Mr. Borden, Minister of Militia, said that due consideration would be given to South African veterans. But, why, he asked, should not the veterans of the Northwest rebellion be included? He said the force would be representative of the corps that served in South Africa, and of all other corps of the Canadian militia, as well. It was intended to make the Coronation Corps representative of all branches of the Canadian forces. The number to be sent would be 580. They would be maintained one month in barracks by the Imperial Government, but would be paid by Canada. In view of this assurance the Minister asked Mr. Bennett to withdraw his motion, seeing that the South African corps would certainly be represented.

The Treadgold Concession.

The Minister of the Interior replied to a number of questions by the leader of the Opposition in regard to the Treadgold concession. He said that the gold commissioner of the Yukon had interpreted the Order-in-Council as not giving the exclusive right of Treadgold to re-locate claims. In this the Department of the Interior concurred. But he could give no information as to the area of the concession, as the Gold Commissioner had not yet reported on the matter.

Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to amend the Bill of Exchange Act. The bill was prepared by the Bankers' Association to set at rest some doubts about the due date of acceptances.

Mr. Loy, the re-elected member for Beauharnois, was introduced.

After dinner Dr. Roddick's bill to establish a medical council for Canada was considered in committee. After several clauses were adopted further consideration of the bill was postponed, on suggestion of the Premier, to allow interested parties to take cognizance of the changes made by the special committee.

The bill to incorporate the Nipissing and Ottawa Railway Company was read a third time and passed, and several bills were given second readings.

The House adjourned at 9.30 p.m.

Two Bills Reported.

Ottawa, April 10.—The Banking and Commerce Committee yesterday morning reported the Knapp Tubular Steamship Company's and the Crown Bank of Canada's Acts of incorporation.

Georgian Bay Canal Bill.

Ottawa, April 10.—In the Senate yesterday the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal bill was given its third reading. Mr. Josiah Wood urged that an understanding be arrived at between the Government and the company by which the work could be acquired during construction. Hon. Mr. Scott said the Government could take over the canal at any time.

THE BUDGET DIVISION.

Analysis of the Vote Shows Government's Majority Is 57.

Ottawa, April 10.—The Government secured a majority of 56 on the division yesterday morning on Mr. Borden's amendment for straight protection in Canada and reciprocal trade relations within the empire. It was not altogether a straight party vote, as Mr. Calvin of Frontenac voted with the Government. One hundred and seventy-eight members voted, and 30 were paired, leaving five to be accounted for out of a House of 213, Mr. Jabel Robinson, however, did not vote. Mr. Malouin was absent without a pair. Mr. Prefontaine represents two constituencies. Mr. Loy, who was recently elected for Beauharnois, has not yet taken his seat, and the Speaker's vote is not recorded. This accounts for the five members who were not shown on the division list. Classing Mr. Calvin, who last night voted with the Government, and Mr. Jabel Robinson as Conservatives and adding to the Ministerial strength the votes of the Speaker, Mr. Prefontaine's second constituency, Mr. Loy (Beauharnois), and Mr. Malouin, the complexion of the House is, Liberals 135, Conservatives 78, giving a Ministerial majority on a straight party vote of 57.

The pairs were, the name of the Ministerial member being given first in each case: Christie, Roddick; Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Hibbert Tupper; Fraser, Bell; Dyment, McCormick; Charlton, Maclean; Harty, Reid (Grenville); Bickerdike, Cargill; Sutherland (Essex), Northrup; Gould, Smith (Wentworth); Cowan, Richardson; Maxwell, Ourley; Holmes, Robinson (Northumberland); McCarthy, Hale; Tarte, Seagram; McCool, Ball.

What! Does the Grim Spectre Follow you Into the Joyous Springtime?

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Defeats the Work of Death by Removing Your Terrible Burden of Disease.

Are you still in suffering, misery and despondency? Does the grim spectre Death follow you closely as the joyous springtime brings happiness and blessings to others around you? Are you still clinging tenaciously to false theories of physicians or friends who persist in assuring you that time, care and the use of your present medicine will give you new health?

Be assured your present condition is a perilous one. The continuance of the medicine you are now using is a folly; you are simply trifling with life and wasting precious time.

You should remember that while nature clothes the fields with fresh grass and flowers, and while the trees with a strong life are showing bursting buds and new foliage, that human beings—old and young—drop off in thousands in springtime.

Now is the time for prompt, decided and practical action if life is to be saved. Prejudice and the erroneous theories of even medical men should be cast aside when the hand of death is upon you. It matters not what your social position be; the medicine that saves the humblest man or woman is surely the one adapted for the needs of the rich and and those in high social position.

Paine's Celery Compound has a record of life saving that no other medicine can ever equal. It has rescued rich and poor from the grasp of death when physicians and their most carefully prepared prescriptions failed in the work. If the suffering men and women of to-day could but see the happy faces and hear the kind words spoken by the tens of thousands who have been made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound, it would soon dispel their existing doubts and fears.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that reaches the root of disease; it is the only agency that can remove your terrible load of disease. Unsolicited testimonials of cures pour in every day. Young and old constantly bear witness that rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, dyspepsia and blood diseases are banished permanently when Paine's Celery Compound is faithfully used for a time. Begin its use to-day poor sufferer; delays are dangerous.

Midland, April 8.—Navigation opened here yesterday, when the steam barge Panther arrived from Milwaukee with 80,000 bushels of corn. This is the earliest shipment of grain to reach this port, and is the first to reach any port along this shore of the Georgian Bay this season.

The Editor Wins.

Bolton, April 10.—In a municipal bye-election here yesterday F. N. Leavens defeated George Irwin for council by 90 votes.

Pacific Cable Grows.

Melbourne, Victoria, April 10.—The Pacific cable has reached the Fiji Islands.

"TASTY TABLET DOSES"

An eminent physician, whose schooling has always been along the line of "strong tonics and bitters" for stomach troubles, now prescribes what he calls tasty tablet doses—Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets.

And he is only one of thousands of the medical profession who are "getting out of the rut" and taking the common-sense view of things, and instead of strong doses are prescribing the stomach troubles and the ills that are akin, this pleasant and never failing treatment. Every day sees the walls of prejudice crumbling, and nature getting the recognition she merits—for nature's cures are surest. Sixty tablets, 35 cents. 16

However, along with Mr. Buchan and Mr. MacGregor, who is not a stranger to Peterborough people, Miss Maclachlan will appear in the local opera house on Tuesday, April 22nd.

MR. STUART'S CANAL PROJECT.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear sir,—I read with much interest Mr. Stuart's application to council to get them to act in reference to the dredging of the river up to London street.

I deem the opening of the canal to Georgian Bay and to the Bay of Quinte as of very great moment. As a grain route it would demonstrate its usefulness from the day it was opened. There is no reason why the Cereal and other concerns in Peterborough should not bring western grain by barge, manufacture into flour, oat meal, etc., and pass it on to the old world, or to eastern ports. The Cereal Works are on the edge of the river, and boats could come to the mill to load and unload. Six feet of water would be required. The dredged material would fill the cribbing. Barges could be towed under the bridges without trouble. Mr. Stuart sees all this and is awake to its importance. We, too, have seen it, but we have been asleep or too lethargic to act. Mr. Stuart purposes building a new dam a little above London street, and if the river was dredged up to the new dam, it would so deepen the tail race as to greatly increase the power. Mr. Stuart may, in this move, be aiming at improvement of his power, but that is all right—what increases the available power will induce the use of that increased power, and that will benefit everyone.

From the Rogers' dam to London street would be through flag rock, and which, when raised, would be worth its cost.

The whole matter is worthy of much consideration and considerable action, for after all, consideration alone won't build even a canal lock. Let our people, then, confer with Mr. Stuart, he may help us in pushing on the canal scheme. Lat year the new railway from Parry Sound carried twenty millions of bushels of grain to the east. The development of the west will tax all available modes of carriage. Let us push again for our canal and its early completion. Unfortunately we who are so deeply interested in the scheme have no backing at Ottawa. 'Tis true Mr. Kendry is there, but if we had at Ottawa, as we have at Toronto, one whose efforts would count, this canal project would not drag as it does. It might be well for the people to begin to consider the wisdom of our persistency in sending to Ottawa one whose best efforts are a drag, rather than a pushing power.

OLD CITIZEN.

Orders to Quit.

The sale of the T.O. Rush Clothing Co.'s Bankrupt Stock in the store next to the Bank of Toronto on George must be disposed of at once. The landlord is about to begin a complete remodelling of the premises, and the edict has gone forth that the balance of the stock must be closed out at the earliest possible moment. Deep cut slaughter prices will prevail throughout the entire stock. The sale has been a Phenomenal sale, but there still remains a splendid assortment in Men's, Youths' and Boys' Suits, Men's Pants, Shirts, Hats, Caps, etc. This will positively be the last chance for Bargains at this sale, and it will not be our fault if the balance of the stock is not sold, as we have decided to let it go at 64 1-2c on the dollar. THE REVIEW'S "BABY-ACT."

Is Peterborough a country village, and is the Review a country village newspaper? One would think so by the statesmanlike way the Review conducts discussions of political matters.

Take for instance the baby talk it uses in regard to titles. It takes exception to the Examiner referring to Mr. Miller, the Review candidate, as "Mr.," instead of "Major." Could the "baby-act" be more overdone?

"Mr." is a title that fits any gentleman in the land. It was good enough for Mr. Gladstone, and fits every station of life. If the Review considers "Mr." a disrespectful term, why did the Review, in the very article in which it reproves the Examiner, use the disrespectful term? It refers to "Mr." Miller, itself.

Take the Mail and Empire, the Review's model of excellence. That journal in its report of the past Legislature's proceedings refers to "Mr." instead of "Col." Matheson; refers to "Mr.," not "Col." Gibson, "Mr." Mutrie, not "Col." Mutrie, "Mr." Jessop, not "Dr." Jessop, "Mr. Barr, not "Dr." Barr, "Mr." Robson, not "Capt." Robson. Yet nobody is journalistic calf enough to make a fuss about it, or accuse the Mail of speaking of the above gentlemen, who are most of them Conservatives, in a disrespectful manner.

How will the Review candidate be described on the ballot when the time comes? Will it be "Miller, W. J., Major?" A man's legal "addition" describes his regular occupation, not his incidental position. Mr. Miller's occupation is not that of a "Major." He follows his occupation six days in the week, and works as a military man, perhaps, on an average, one night in a week.

The Examiner has stated that it would not use disrespectful or disparaging remarks of Mr. Miller as a man and a citizen, but would treat his political opinions, his political associations, and his relations to political questions, as vigorously as we felt the circumstances demanded.

The Review whimpers like a spoiled child and seeks to obscure public questions of importance, by trying to raise prejudices and make a "workingman," as it, itself, calls its candidate, a stickler for titles, and one ashamed of his occupation, as no workingman worthy of the name is, so long as it is an honest and respectable occupation, as Mr. Miller's is.

If the Review cannot take higher ground than this, it had better go 'way back to Hudson's Bay, select a spot, and assume a sedentary position.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The Review squeezes out a few crocodile tears over the "insult" offered Mr. Miller, the Review candidaet, in calling him "Mr." the title applied to any gentleman without being considered abusive.

If the Review is so particular over titles, why does it not reprove Mr. Miller for the indecent and derogatory reference to the Premier of Ontario. In his opera house remarks, Mr. Miller referred to him with a sneer as "George Washington" Ross, and said there were two men of that name, and one of them "could not tell a lie."

But that name itself is a "lie," used by Mr. Miller after the Mail newspaper, a shameless sheet in regard to its treatment of political opponents. "George Washington" is not Hon. Mr. Ross' name. His name is George William Ross.

This is not referred to because it matters much. Mr. Ross, no matter what sneering name his detractors use, is what he is—a foremost Canadian patriot and an Imperialist to the core, known as such and respected in every part of the Empire.

The Mail and Mr. Miller call him George "Washington" Ross to convey the idea that the Premier has "Yankee" proclivities and sympathies and is not loyal to Canadian and British institutions.

Mr. Miller, before slangwanging the Premier of Ontario as a Yankee sympathizer, might reflect that the public will naturally inquire, who knows most about United States sympathies—practical or otherwise—Mr. Ross or himself.

This matter is not referred to for its intrinsic importance, but to show the hypocricy of the Review and the Review candidate in whining over the petty matter of a title and at the same time being guilty of a ten-fold more "insulting" reference.

The Examiner doesn't care a fig what Mr. Miller or the Review calls Mr. Ross. Whatever they may call him he is, and will continue to be, the honoured and able Premier of Ontario.

MR. ROSS SOUNDS THE KEY-NOTE

Of Liberals in the Coming Campaign.

'FORWARD' THE WATCHWORD

His Statesmanlike Speech at Newmarket—Review of 30 Years of Fruitful Rule—Broad and Hopeful Programme for Popular Acceptance.

At the nomination of Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, at Newmarket, on April 4th, Premier Ross delivered a great speech, both in matter, manner and spirit, in which he struck the key-note of the coming campaign—"The whole line will advance." The following is a summary of this noble oratorical deliverence:

Hon. Mr. Ross was accorded an ovation when he came forward to speak. As he reached the front of the platform a little girl presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses, and the Premier cordially acknowledged the compliment. Meanwhile the audience was giving vent to its enthusiasm by a loud outburst of cheers, and a minute or two elapsed before the Premier could begin his address. After a few introductory remarks Hon. Mr. Ross went on to say:

"I remember Mr. Marter saying in the House the otherday when he was in bad humour with his leader, 'I am sick and tired of hearing public men called thieves and robbers.' So am I. (Laughter.) I am bound to say that I am sometimes tired of the small politics we get upon our platforms, little picayune subjects, 'mint and rue and cummin, and all manner of precious herbs.' I like the politicians that can deal with the larger questions while not forgetting the minor ones. Mr. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, has been such a politician. While Mr. Davis is most watchful for his riding, he never fails to give his full share of attention to the larger questions with which we have to deal. I need not tell you we have very large questions. Mr. Davis is one of the most important trustees that the Lieutenant-Governor has ever sworn into office in the Province of Ontario. He is the trustee for all the Crown lands of the Province, over 100,000,000 acres, and no deed of land can be given to any man, white, black or brown, until Mr. Davis, as the representative of the Crown, says so. He has an immense heritage, more than the area of Great Britain and Ireland put together. (Applause.) If he lives long enough he may give a deed of all this land, although so far only about one-fifth of new Ontario has been deeded to anybody. We have deeded only about 25,000,000 acres, while there are in all about 126,000,000 acres. He is the trustee for all the timber, and we had a terrible job to save that timber some years ago, when some people in power at Ottawa wanted to get it and divide it out in parcels of fifty square miles, at a nominal rate, among their friends. We stopped that business; Sir Oliver Mowat stopped it before the Privy Council. (Cheers.) We got $1,500,000 from that timber area last year. Capitalized, that represents $50,000,000, for which Mr. Davis is trustee.

Trustee for Untold Wealth.

"He is also trustee for all the spruce lands in that great country. We are told we have 288,000,000 cords of spruce; that at 40 cents per cord would yield a revenue of $115,000,000. He is the trustee for all the mineral lands. There are the great iron mines in the neighbourhood of Michipicoten; nobody can tell their value. There are the nickel mines in the Sudbury district; there are gold mines, and your children's children will not be fully aware of the immense value of these lands. Look over that field. You will see what an important trust was committed to Mr. Davis when we gave him the trusteeship of that vast domain with its millions of untold wealth and great possibilities. All this wealth is dependent for its value to the people of Ontario upon his prudence and foresight and judgment in disposing of it. For thirty years these forests have yielded over $1,000,000 per year, and they may yield us that for a hundred years to come, if properly husbanded.

Ready for the Battle.

"We are going to have an election very soon. We are going to the country. On what claims does this Government want to go to the country? Does it want to go as the representative of a definite policy or of no policy? Does it want to go as representing the best thought of the Liberal party, and I may say at the same time the best thought of the best men in the country of both parties? We have nothing to be ashamed of that we know of. Our record has been before you. Our opponents say we have been in power too long. That is not our fault. (Laughter.) You have kept us there; and you have been just as kind to the Opposition as you have been to us—you have kept them there for 30 years. (Laughter.) You have been as fair to one side as to the other. I do not see what they are complaining of. (Renewed laughter.) You are our masters and we obey your will. When you say to us 'go,' we go, and so long as you say we shall stay, we shall stay; that is all there is about it." (Applause.)

The cry of "time for a change," Mr. Ross went on to say, was not a large cry. "Time for a change," because they had been in power for 30 years! Because they had been tried for thirty years and found fit for the place, therefore they were to go! Under our system our constitution broadened from precedent to precedent and became stronger with the lapse of years if the law was well administered. They were better qualified to govern Ontario than ever they were. They had embarked on large schemes which involved the most important issues, material, financial, social and moral, and in the midst of these great enterprises, whilt their plough was in the furrow, and while they were advancing and showing the line in which that furrow was to be drawn, somebody then comes forward who never knew particularly well how to plough a furrow, who never owned even a good plough in all his lifetime, who says "Stand aside, and let me take that plough, and plough the furrow that you have started." "It is not going to be done, ladies and gentlemen," the Premier said amid cheers.

Kept up With the Age.

How many of the 2,000,000 people in Ontario, he asked, had any substantial grievance against the Government? They had settled 150,000 people in New Ontario. Had any of them a grievance? They had spent $10,000,000 for the development of our railway system, and were doing in New Ontario what had been done in older Ontario many years ago, where they had assisted 38 different railway lines, 2,219 miles in length. They had kept pace with the wants of the country in regard to public buildings, on which they had spent $23,536,000 in the last thirty years. They had cared for the insane, the deaf and dumb, and blind, giving their expenditure in this way a larger spirit, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto Me." The expenditure in Ontario for charitable purposes was greater per head than in Great Britain or in any State of the Union. They had kept step with the progressive tendencies of the age in education. The school policy was criticized, but it would be criticized until the crack of doom. He had been an inspector under Dr. Ryerson, and Dr. Ryerson, who was one of our great Canadians, was severely criticized in his time. Our course was criticized now, but young Canadians who graduated from our schools and universities soon reached the top when they went to the United States. Everybody admitted that the University of Toronto did not stand simply at the head of the universities of Canada, but of the continent.

Agricultural Interests Looked After.

The Government had kept pace with the agricultural wants of the people. Was there anything they had not done for the farmer which they really required, which could have been done by means of legislation? They could only indicate, stimulate, encourage, advise. Was there any particular department of agriculture left that they had not fostered and encouraged? He knew of none. They had encouraged the stock trade, the fruit trade, had imparted agricultural education by means of farmers' institutes, dairy schools, inspectors of dairies, and an agricultural college. He believed the agricultural education of the Province of Ontario was being envied by many people on the continent already. (Applause.) They had left no serious grievances, and that was the strong test of the value of a government. They had kept step with the progressive spirit of the age, and what was there to find fault with, unless minor matters? which really after all, do not affect the main issue.

Higher Statesmanship.

Then there was still another point, that they had made no tactical mistakes as a government in the last thirty years, and he was speaking of what some of them might say was not much required in the province of Ontario, namely, the higher work of statesmanship. A Government that made mistakes very soon fell to pieces—everybody knew that. He asked them to turn over in their minds the history of the Liberal Party in the Province since Confederation, or since 1871, and put their fingers upon what in their judgment, was a tactical mistake in administration, something they should not have done, something that the country or the party would have been the better for if it had not been done, and he would be very much interested in what they pointed out. The statesmanship of a Government was what made it historical. If they were to ask him for the severest test to which a Government could be put, he would say it was its Parliamentary and legislative tactics, its statesmanship in that respect. Everybody knew the skill of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which had placed him at once in the front rank of statesmen. Mr. Mulock also had given evidence of statesmanship in his handling of the question of penny postage. It was these qualities that made a Government worthy of respect. Anybody could perform the common task, but when they came to deal with great questions was when the capacity of men was tested.

An Early Tactical Mistake.

Mr. Ross pointed out that, curiously enough, the administration of the Reform Government in Ontario in the handling of great issues divided itself into periods of eight years. During the first eight years of their administration the questions for discussion were largely financial, dealing with Sandfield Macdonald's surplus. The question was, should they follow his example and put it to usury? That was what the miser did, but the Liberal Government were not misers. They took that surplus and added a little to it, and distributed three and a half millions among the municipalities of the Province as aids in the construction of schoolhouses, bridges and roads. That was a far better investment of the surplus than putting it away in the banks for commercial purposes. (Applause.) And the first tactical mistake their opponents made in the early history of the Liberal party was when they resisted a policy so comprehensive and of such essential value to the people. (Applause.)

A Fight for a Province.

From 1879 to 1886, the next period of eight years, they were contending with the Dominion Government for the Provincial rights of Ontario. They made no tactical mistake in their attitude on that question, and they knew their opponents did. (Applause.) Mr. Meredith, in order to secure the support of Sir John Macdonald in the elections of 1879 and 1883, practically acquiesced in the spoliation of all the rights of Ontario as a quid pro quo for a political support that did him or will him anything, and which should not have availed him anything when he was sacrificing the rights of the Province for office. The Government fought the questions of the Provincial rights as to the boundaries as to the control of rivers and streams, and as to the control of the liquor act against the McCarthy act of 1883, and in that respect had shown themselves to be possessed of that higher class of statesmanship which would never allow a minor question to usurp the position of a major one. The Duke of Wellington said, "No great nation can afford to wage a little war." They should take hold of that thought. "No great nation can afford to wage a little war." No great man, no great party, could afford to waste its energies on trifling issues, on such small issues as they had had in the Province of Ontario during the by-elections. He was ashamed to recall them, but instanced the Humber piggery as a type. (Laughter.) No great party could afford to waste its time on small issues. They should plant themselves firmly on those larger questions which loomed up strong like some towering Gibraltar, which could be seen at a distance, and the Liberals secured their election because they presented to the people of Ontario large issues. They should not fret about little things, but should find out what was the framework of the Liberal party or what was the framework of the Conservative party, if it had a framework, and he did not think it had. (Laughter.) Having seen that, they should be sure of this—it was an infallible test of ability in a political position—that the party that had large issues, issues that reached down to the hearts of the people, to the foundation of our institutions, was the party that would hold the field against everybody, and the party that would be elected. (Applause.) The moment that they built upon the surface of the ground their foundation was unstable. They must dig deeply, and the foundation must be secure.

The Race and Religious Cry.

Now, the question of Provincial rights was the issue between 1879 and 1886. Then came the next, and the most perilous issue of all. From 1886 to 1894 the Government had gone through what to his mind was one of the most trying periods, not simply for a Government, but for a people. There were two cries raised, the race cry and the religious cry. The Government had been charged with having sacrificed the best interests of the Province of Ontario in allowing their French and German friends to teach in their own language in the schools, or to use that language in explaining the difficulties of the lessons to the pupils. He granted that national predilections were very easily touched in matters of that kind. There had been an appeal to take the side of the weak, but there was placed before them the proposition that if they did so they discredited their whole school system, discredited the English language, spoken by the majority of the people of this country, and were weakening the national fabric in its most vital part. No alien language should be used in the Province of Ontario, was the cry.

The Sectarian Cry.

Then there was the school cry. The separate school system had been defective in many respects, and the Government took the ground that the child attending the Separate School should be given as good an education as the child attending the Public School. They went to work to improve the Separate School, and every step was charged as a concession to Roman Catholicism, as a bid for political power, and the advice and discussion from platforms and pulpits during those eight years had been most distressing to every broad-minded man. What ground did the Government take? There had been only one ground for a Government to take that deserved to live forty-eight hours, and that was justice to all men, irrespective of race or creed. (Applause). And it is to the good sense of the people of Ontario that the larger question of fair play, and of justice and of broader statesmanship prevailed over intolerance, and bigotry, and racialism, so incompatible with the interests of this great country. (Applause.) Did they make a mistake there? If there were 128 languages in the British Empire, why should the Government of this Province not be generous enough to say that anything that liberty asks or toleration could grant, consistent with the security of the country, they could have in this land of the maple leaf and the beaver? (Applause.)

Pulpwood for 900 Years.

The last period from 1894 to 1902, has been a period of development. The first pulp concession was made in 1894 to Mr. Clergue, and the half-dozen men employed by him at that time had now grown to 6,000. The Opposition said the Government was wasting the pulp forests. If every pulp mill with which the Government had made an agreement worked its full time, they would consume in one year some 320,000 cords of pulp wood, and there were seven pulp concessions. That would be the consumption of one year. There were 288,000,000 cords of pulp wood in Northern Ontario. He asked how many years it would take for these seven pulp mills to consume the pulp wood supply of the province of Ontario. Just 900 years. They could therefore understand that there would be pulp wood when they were dead and gone, and that there would be pulp wood for the manufacture of paper for their children and children's children to the remotest generations. That was the "great crime" the Government had committed, because of which, Mr. Whitney said that they were great criminals.

Keeping Prosperity in Motion.

Mr. Ross also referred to the railway development in New Ontario, laying particular stress upon the Government road to the Temiscaming district. There again they were doing the right thing. He had seen the Dominion of Canada pass through various stages of discouragement and discouragement, through an ebb and flow of hope and fear, but he was free to say that he had never lived in such a hopeful era in his sixty years of living, as in the past ten years in this country. (Applause.) It was the duty of public men to let the sweep of commerce pass their door, to let the latent resources of the Province remain undeveloped? Not at all. It was the duty of public men to give judicious stimulus to still greater development, to make Canada still more prosperous, and by the bringing in of capital from abroad to secure employment to Canadians at home. The Government desired that all might be able to keep their sons and daughters at home, and would study the ways and means whereby this might be accomplished. They would take the raw material of the forest and the mine, and manufacture it by Canadian labour and skill, and so build up the towns and villages in the province, sending forth the produce to the markets of the world.

Ontario for Ontarians.

Mr. Ross went on to point out that in Ontario the pulp wood and the pine had to be manufactured within the province, contrasting this with Quebec, where pulp wood might be exported without let or hindrance. He spoke again of the Government railway to Temiscaming, in order to state that the road would be built with steel rails made from Canadian ore in the rolling mills which the Government had subsidized at Sault Ste. Marie. Was that, he asked, a good thing for Ontario? To go a little further, was it a good thing for Canada? They should not be provincial altogether. What they were do-

RECRUITING RULES

Enlistment of 4th Canadian Contingent of Mounted Rifles.

PEACE PROSPECT MORE HOPEFUL

The Transvaalers Wish to Surrender, But the Free Staters Are Doubtful—Negotiations So Far Merely Explanatory of British Intentions—Preparing More "Drives"—Steyn's Eyes Are Worse.

Ottawa, April 10.—Militia orders for the enlistment of the fourth Canadian contingent of mounted rifles have been issued:

The preamble sets forth:

"His Majesty's Government, having signified their pleasure to accept from Canada for service in South Africa four regiments of mounted rifles, to be designated the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Regiments Canadian Mounted Rifles, and to be armed, clothed and equipped as the Imperial Yeomanry of His Majesty's forces, are authorized."

The conditions of service are:

Term—12 months, or until the termination of the war.

Age—20 to 40 years;

Height—5 feet 4 inches to 5 feet 11 inches.

Weight—Not over 180 pounds.

Chest measurement—Not less than 34 inches.

Qualifications—To be able to ride and shoot.

Preference will be given to men who have served in South Africa.

Married men will be accepted, but there will be given no separate allowance.

The staff of each regiment will consist of lieut.-colonel, major, adjutant, medical officer and quartermaster and veterinary officer, sergt.-major, quartermaster-sergeant, cook and 16 privates.

The entire force will consist of 104 officers, 124 sergeants, 64 artificers, 32 buglers, 1,712 rank and file—total 2,036, with 2,174 horses.

The rates of pay will be from $2 per day to quartermaster-sergeants and farrier-sergeants, to $1.21 for privates.

Recruiting will be commenced in British Columbia, Northwest Territories and Manitoba April 24, and in Ontario and the east commencing on Tuesday next, April 18.

Recruiting in Ontario will be done at Windsor, Guelph, London, Hamilton, Brantford, St. Catharines, Toronto, Peterboro, Port Hope, Kingston and Ottawa.

Mobilization will take place at Halifax, where the recruits will be formed into four regiments of four squadrons each. The regiments will be formed, clothed, equipped and embarked in the order in which they are numbered.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

With the Transvaalers More Hopeful, But Doubtful as Regards Free Staters—The Independence Idea.

London, April 10.—The Associated Press understands that the peace negotiations are progressing satisfactorily, so far as the Transvaalers are concerned; but, the latest advices indicate that there is small probability of the Free Staters surrendering in a body.

The negotiations thus far, have been mainly explanations of British intentions. It has been made plain to the leaders that their surrender will not entail banishment, and this has a potent influence. The leading Transvaalers urge their allies to arrange peace terms. The inner circles of the War Office believe that if the present indications are fulfilled, and the Transvaalers agree to surrender, the backbone of Boer resistance will be broken, and that the Free Staters' opposition will soon be overcome.

Gerald Balfour, President of the Board of Trade, said in a speech at Leeds last night that if the Boers still insisted on independence, the present so-called peace negotiations in South Africa might as well be broken off immediately.

For King Edward.

London, April 10.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a rumor this morning that Lord Rosebery is going to South Africa to study the situation there, with a view of submitting his impressions and advice to King Edward.

Kritzinger's Trial.

From Graff Reinet, Cape Colony, comes the news that the trial of Commandant Kritzinger of the Boer army, by a British court-martial, on the charge of having committed four murders, besides train-wrecking and cruelty to prisoners, whose acquittal was announced from South Africa March 8, lasted two days. No evidence was obtained to connect the prisoner with the shooting of natives, and one scout who had been captured by Kritzinger testified that he was well treated and that a pass was granted him. The charge of train-wrecking was withdrawn, and he was acquitted without cross-examination by counsel for the defence.

More "Drives."

A despatch from Pretoria says: The British authorities are making preparations for a great series of "drives" on the arrival of reinforcements. The general outlook for the Boers is said to be most disheartening. It is thought here that the bulk of the Boers are only waiting a promise that they will not be banished to come in and surrender.

Mr. Steyn, the ex-President of the Orange Free State, who is taking part in the peace negotiations in South Africa, is suffering from severe opthalmia, and is threatened with total blindness.

Toronto Man Ill.

Ottawa, April 10.—The Casualty Department has notified His Excellency the Governor-General that James Arthur Patterson of the South African Constabulary, son of Mr. Patterson of 318 Berkeley street, Toronto, is dangerously ill of enteric fever at Pretoria.

For Soldier's Graves.

Ottawa, April 10.—The fund to erect in South Africa memorials on the graves of the Canadian soldiers now amounts to $819. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, has subscribed $75.

Benefit of the War.

Ottawa, April 10.—Mr. Walter of The London Times, England, is a guest of Lord Minto at Rideau Hall. In an interview he expressed the opinion that the Boer war was worth having, in that it had brought the colonies into closer touch with the Mother Country.

Duff in West Simcoe.

Collingwood, April 10.—At the convention held in this riding by the Liberal-Conservatice Association of West Simcoe yesterday the delegates numbered 230. Besides the president, Dr. Korkland, on the platform were: Mr. A. B. Thompson, M.P.P., Centre Simcoe; E. A. Little, Cardwell; W. B. Sanders, Mayor of Stayner; W. A. Hogg, Mayor of Collingwood; C. Cameron, ex-Warden W. H. Hamilton, Glen Huron; John Mackay, secretary, of Creemore. J. S. Duff of Cookstown was unanimously selected standard-bearer.

Fisher in North Brant.

Paris, April 10.—North Brant Conservatives met here yesterday afternoon to select a candidate to contest the constituency in the approaching provincial elections. Messrs. J. B. Howell of South Dumfries and J. H. Fisher of Paris were the only nominees. The latter being the choice of the meeting, was given the unanimous nomination. Mr. Fisher contested the riding in the Conservative interest against Mr. Burt, the present member, four years ago, being defeated by 102 votes.

Significant Concentration.

London, April 10.—The mobilization of the Black Sea fleet of Russia. The Times correspondent at Odessa wires, has been fixed for the end of July, and the depots at Sebastopol are receiving unusually large consignments of naval stores. The simultaneous mobilization of the Black Sea and Baltic fleets this summer, the correspondent continues, and the unprecedented military concentration north of Odessa are considered to be very significant.

Bishop of Keewatin Elected.

Winnipeg, Man., April 10. — The Standing Committee of the Synod of Rupert's Land and the House of Bishops have concurred in the recommendation of the Archbishop of Rupert's Land: that Ven. Archdeacon Joseph Lofthouse of Fort York, in the Diocese of Moosonee, be elected to the newly-created see, and the choice was, therefore, unanimous. The new bishop is about 45 years of age.

Fire at Ayr.

Ayr, April 10.—The manse of Stanley Street Church was burned to the ground last night.

When Frogs Are Best.

Frogs' legs are sold in Paris daintily threaded on little willow wands. People buy them for the home table instead of, as is the practice in this country, eating them exclusively in restaurants. They make a most palatable broth for invalids and convalescents, but ordinarily the legs are prepared by removing the skin, rolling them in flour, adding salt, pepper and butter, with a pinch of parsley, and cooking them gently in a frying pan or on the griddle. By Parisians it is considered that the frog is best in the fall of the year, when it is fattest and most delicate. However, large numbers of the batrachians are caught in the spring, when they are said to be more easily captured.

Thought It Was Bargain Day.

Mr. Closefist had been out walking. He returned home tired and cross. "Just what I might have expected," he whined. "I gave the only 10 cents I had in my pocket to a beggar, and it started to rain, and I had to walk home. Don't ever talk to me about the rewards of Providence."

"And did you suppose Providence would postpone a shower of rain," his wife asked, "because you gave 10 cents to a beggar? You weren't expecting much for your money, were you?"

SIR JOHN HARVEY.

Sir John Harvey, the hero of the night attack at Stoney Creek in 1813, was born in 1778 and died March 23, 1852. He was a distinguished soldier when he came to Canada in the winter of 1812-13 to assume the post of Deputy Adjutant-General. His conduct in that post confirmed his reputation as a sound and brilliant officer. Sir George Prevost took Col. Harvey on a tour of inspection from Quebec to Fort Erie, and at the latter place, having shown him the immense extent of exposed frontier to be guarded with the extremely inadequate force then at Sir George's disposal, he requested from Col. Harvey his opinion and advice as to the best mode of defence. The answer was brief and prompt: "First, by the accurate intelligence of the designs and movements of the enemy, to be procured at any price. And, secondly, by a series of bold, active, offensive operations, by which the enemy, however superior in numbers, would himself be thrown upon the defensive." The finest example of this plan of campaign was the night attack at Stoney Creek, when seven hundred men dashed into the camp of three thousand five hundred men, completely demoralized the whole force, and captured two Brigadier-Generals and four guns. Sir James Carmichael-Smyth, in his "Precis of the Wars in Canada," remarks: "The preservation of the Niagara district, and of Kingston, may with the strictest justice be fairly attributed to the attack upon the enemy at Stoney Creek. The nature of the war seems to have changed after that most manly and energetic affair, and the campaign on that frontier terminated in the capture of the American stronghold (Fort Niagara), and the destruction of all their towns and villages, together with the stores, provisions and ordnance which they had collected in that part of the country for the further prosecution of the war."

Story of a Cork Leg.

While waiting for the, judge in Chambers the other morning, says The Hamilton Times, some lawyers got into a conversation on the old Peter Hamilton mortgage, and other mortgages. They finally drifted to chattel mortgages, and one of the barristers, a member of a prominent legal firm in the city, told of a strange one. An old soldier, who had lost his leg in war and had a "peg" on the stump, confided to him one day that he was in love with a widow who had a little money. He wanted to get a cork leg, to put on style, but he had not the price. What he needed was $75. The lawyer said he would lend it to him if he would give a chattel mortgage on the leg. This was agreed to, and, more in fun than in earnest, the mortgage was drawn up, but not registered. Anyway, the soldier got the leg and won the widow. When the couple were married the lawyer's gift to the bride was the mortgage on the groom's leg.

Collapse of the Nerves.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

If you have been discouraged in seeking a cure for nervous exhaustion or prostration, the case of Mrs. C. H. Jones of Pierceton, Que., will interest you. Hers was a severe case, but is a fair example of what thousands of women are enduring, with the belief that they can never be cured.

Mrs. Jones describes her case as follows:—"For several years I had been gradually running down in health, and growing weaker and weaker. I did not know exactly what ailed me, for strange, dizzy feelings would come over me. I got a terrible fright, and it so unsettled my nerves that shaking spells would come over me, and I could not keep my feet still, and finally I had to keep the bed most all the time.

"The doctor said I had nervous prostration, and though I took his medicine from fall till spring, I did not improve in health, and could not read or sew. I would lie awake at nights and often would not get more than five or six hours' sleep in a week. My head, felt as though it would burst, and I thought I would go out of my mind.

"An uncle from New York visited me at this time, and told me of what an awful time he had gone through with his nerves. He said that he always had more faith in Dr. Chase than in any other physician, and was cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I began using this preparation, and improved from the first. Altogether I used five boxes, and it has done me more good than I ever thought medicine could do. My health is better in every way than it has been for many years, and my nervous system is strengthened and invigorated.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cannot fail to benefit any man, woman or child who is pale, weak or nervous. It contains in condensed form the most potent restoratives of nature. It does not stimulate or give false hope, but gradually and thoroughly builds up the system and effects permanent cures. Like Dr. Chase's Ointment and Kidney-Liver Pills, this preparation has the endorsement of physicians and people alike in all parts of this continent. It is the standard treatment for weakness of blood and nerves. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

THE MINISTERS' TOUR.

Hon. Mr. Latchford Addresses an Enthusiastic Meeting at North Bay.

North Bay, April 9.—The opening meeting in connection with the Provincial Ministers' tour of Nipissing and Algoma was held here last night, and was addressed by Hon. F. R. Latchford. This being the gateway to the great eastern portion of new Ontario, the discussion of the railway question, as affected by the proposed Government line, was of the greatest interest to the townspeople, and Mr. Latchford was accorded an enthusiastic reception. The meeting was held in the court house, which was crowded to the doors. During the day the Commissioner of Public Works in his tour of the town and vicinity found much evidence of activity, and a conviction among the 2,500 inhabitants that the construction of the new line will be of much further advantage in developing its industries and increasing its population. At present the town, which is only twenty years old, is a great railway centre, but the new Government line is regarded as an even more important factor for the future.

The Queen's Father Is 84.

Copenhagen, April 9.—King Christian, who was born April 8, 1818, yesterday celebrated his 84th birthday, surrounded by his children and grand-children. The octogenarian monarch, who is well preserved in mind and body, entered keenly into all the festivities. Sixty members of royal families were present for the occasion and took part in the gaieties, which included a reception, at noon, by the King, a family dinner, and, in the evening, an entertainment, with a concert by the singers of the Royal Theatre. His Majesty was the recipient of gifts from most of the royal personages of Europe. Extensive celebrations of the King's birthday took place throughout Denmark, including military parades and feasting.

Rhodes' Body at Buluwayo.

Buluwayo, Matabeleland, April 9.—The funeral train conveying the body of Cecil Rhodes, which left Cape Town April 3, arrived here yesterday. The town was draped in mourning, and practically the entire population assembled at the railroad station, and accompanied the coffin to the drill hall, where the body is now lying in state. Masses of wreaths, and other floral emblems are banked about the bier. To-day the coffin will be taken to the Rhodes' farm, in the Matoppo District, whence it will be conveyed April 10 to the hill called "The View of the World." The religious service there will synchronize with a memorial service at St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

Big B.C. Packers' Co.

New York, April 9.—The British Columbia Packers' Association, which, it is stated, will embrace practically all the packing concerns of British Columbia was incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey yesterday, with a capital stock of $4,000,000 divided into $1,500,000 preferred and $2,500,000 common.

The law firm of Blake, Lash & Cassels of Toronto, Canada, are conducting the legal end of the enterprise.

Dukedom For Cadogan.

London, April 9.—Though the matter is not yet official, it is learned from a source which may be taken as next to official that Lord Cadogan will not give up the Lord-Lieutenancy of Ireland as soon as has been reported. He is to remain in Ireland until after the coronation, when a great honor—probably a dukedom—will be conferred upon him by the King.

Revolt in China.

Tien Tsin, April 8.—Three thousand Chinese troops and a number of Krupp guns have been despatched to Southern Mongolia, where the people are in revolt against the severe indemnity taxation. Several villages have been strongly fortified and their inhabitants are determined to fight. They say they are assured of the assistance of 30,000 disaffected persons.

Offered Over a Million.

Montreal, April 9.—Mr. H. L. Frank of Frank, B.C., who is now in the city, has been offered by New York parties $1,250,000 for his copper mine at Butte, Montana, known as the Gem Group. The would-be purchasers offer to put up $20,000 as evidence of good faith, and Mr. Frank has the offer under consideration.

To Go to London.

London, April 9.—It is said here that Dr. Jameson and Col. Frank Rhodes will start from South Africa for London immediately after the funeral of Cecil Rhodes in order to consult with Lord Rosebery and Mr. Hawksley, concerning the scholarship bequests.

Four Storeys to Death.

Montreal, April 9.—Mrs. F. X. Thouin, a patient in the Hospice Au Clair, leaped from a fourth storey window of the hospital last evening and was killed. She was mentally deranged.

It Made His Election Sure.

Windsor, April 9.—Judge Horne has decided that William Irwin must get out of the council of Leamington. Irwin received more votes than the number of bona fide votors warranted.

Three to Ontario.

London, April 9.—Cecil Rhodes' scholarship proposal provides for sixty colonial scholarships, of which three go to Ontario, three to Quebec and three to Newfoundland.

Fighting in India.

Simla, April 9.—Fifteen Sepoys were ambushed April 7 on the Mahmud frontier. Eight of the soldiers were killed and three wounded.

BRITISH CATTLE MARKET.

London, April 9.—Prices firm; live cattle, 12½c to 14c, dressed weight; refrigerator beef, 12c per lb.

Mill Owner Drowned.

Dunchurch, April 10.—William Craig, Allan Craig and Thomas Simpson of this place left here yesterday morning to look after a boom of logs in Whitestone Lake. Their boat was crushed by the ice, and sank. William Craig, the mill owner, was drowned. After a two hours' struggle the other two men got to shore, very much exhausted. The body has not yet been recovered. Craig leaves a wife and ten children.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

Murder Trial Put Off.

London, April 10.—At yesterday morning's session of the Assizes, before Chief Justice Falconbridge, the trial of Dr. Alexander Graham and Miss Emma Agnes Kilbourne on the charge of murdering the latter's infant child, was postponed on the grounds that Dr. Graham's health was so precarious that the result of going on with the trial would probably be his complete physical collapse and possibly his death.

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

Vanderbilts by the Sea.

Fredericton, April 10.—Bills were read a first and second time in the House yesterday, to incorporate the Fredericton and Western Co. and the Moncton and Eastern Railway Co. The intent is to purchase existing charters. The Webb-Vanderbilt syndicate is promoting the bills.

Departure of Teachers.

Ottawa, April 10.—One-half of the Canadian teachers who go to teach in the Dark Continent will leave by the Corinthian at Halifax on April 14, and the other half by the Lake Ontario, from St. John, on April 18. There are 40 teachers in all.

Plenty of Nerve.

Loss of flesh often means loss of force. It takes plenty of nerve force to carry on the work of flesh making. Scott's Emulsion brings with it new nerve strength and rich nourishment.

What Did She Mean?

"That foolish Clarence has proposed every week for the last six months, but the way I answered him the last time will stop him, I think," said Flora in a confidential chat.

"Yes, he told me he would have to quit," said Mazie. "He thought he observed a perceptible weakening."

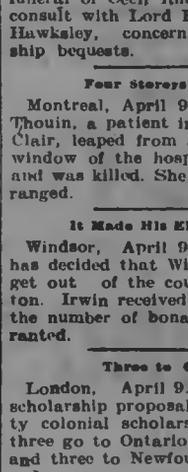
Beginning at Home.

Jasper—I understood that you had turned over a new leaf and were even going to love your enemies, but it seems to me that you love no one but yourself.

Mrs. Jasper—Well, I'm my own worst enemy.

St. Vitus's

Dance, or chorea, is one of the most pitiable afflictions humanity is called on to endure. That this disease can be cured, however, is proven by the fact that it has been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The tranquilizing effect upon the nerves exercised by this remarkable medicine is witnessed to by thousands who have found healing and strength in its use. It not only cures womanly diseases, but it promotes the health of the whole body. It is a nerve-feeding, strength-giving, sleep-inducing medicine. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.



"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. It cannot disagree with the weakest or most delicate constitution.

"When our daughter Lizzie had St. Vitus's dance, I happened to get one of your small books and read it," writes Henry L. Miller, Esq., of 1016 North 7th St., Burlington, Iowa. "Among other things I found that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured patients suffering from that trouble, so I went out and got a bottle. She was very bad at that time and could hardly talk. When I read about your medicine in that small book, I said to myself, with the help of God and that medicine we can cure our daughter. We did so. Four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' cured her, and I did not have to take her to the doctor any more. She is well, thank God and the 'Favorite Prescription' for it."

MR. ROSS SOUNDS THE KEY-NOTE.

ing to make this province great would help to make Canada great. This had its Imperial value, and every man who sought to strengthen the influence and power of the province, was adding to the power of the British Empire. That was what they had been doing. (Applause.)

If the Opposition had had Their Way.

Mr. Ross then went on to point out that if the Opposition had had its way during the past thirty years the province would not have had many of the advantages it has received from the Liberal Government. Among many instances he cited, the following may be mentioned:

There would be no distribution of the surplus. The Conservative party opposed the distribution of the surplus. The policy of the Liberals, however, prevailed, and as a result $3,878,846 was distributed among the municipalities of the province for the erection of bridges, the improvement of roads and educational purposes.

There would be no vote by ballot. The Conservatives resisted the adoption of the ballot for several years. Now it is universally considered the proper way of voting.

There would be no efficient agricultural College. The Opposition objected to the removal of the Agricultural College from the very unsuitable site at Mimico to Guelph, and at various times voted against appropriations proposed by the Government to enlarge the buildings and to add to the staff. The college has been criticised in a hostile spirit at nearly every session of the Legislature for twenty years.

There would be no separation of the liquor trade from municipal control. The Crooks Act, which removed the liquor trade from municipal control was passed in 1876. The Opposition resisted this measure most strenuously for years. It is now admitted to be one of the best systems of license laws enjoyed by any province.

There would be no Normal School at Ottawa or London. How could the country get on without the Normal School at Ottawa? About 6,000 teachers have received their training in that one school alone. The additional school at London was absolutely necessary if our schools were to be furnished with a sufficient number of trained teachers.

No New Ontario at all.

There would be no farmers' sons' franchise. The extension of the franchise to farmers' sons admitted to the electorate an influential and intelligent class of the community, and, as a step towards a wider extension of the franchise, should have been gladly received by the Opposition.

There would be no colonization roads in many new districts. The Opposition voted to reduce the grants for colonization roads in 1877 from $80,000 to $30,000, which would have prevented the building of roads in some of the newer districts.

There would be no territorial rights in a greater part of what is now known as New Ontario. Had the vie wof the Conservative Government at Ottawa prevailed, Ontario would have been robbed of 100,000 square miles, or fully one-half of its present area, containing important mineral deposits and timber lands such as pine, spruce, and hardwood of various kinds, as well as arable lands.(Cheers.)

There would be no right of property in the timber and minerals in the disputed territory. 'Sir John Macdonald said; "The boundary award in favour of Ontario is a barren victory, because though Ontario may have the jurisdiction, the Dominion has the lands, and not a stick of timber, not a lump of lead, iron, silver, or gold, shall belong to Ontario."

There would be no provincial control of liquor licenses. The Dominion Government by the McCarthy Act, took over the control of the liquor licenses. The Opposition of Ontario supported the Dominion Government at the polls with the same enthusiasm as if Ontario had suffered no injustice at its hands.

There would be no improvement in the Separate School Act. Various amendments were made to the Separate Schools Act in order to promote the efficiency of the Separate Schools and the better education of pupils in attendance thereat. These improvements the Opposition would have repealed were it not for the resistance of the Government, whose only desire was to render the Separate Schools as efficient as the Public schools.

No Minister of Agriculture.

There would be no separate Department of Agriculture, with a Minister at the head of such a Department. Agriculture, the greatest industry of the Province, required for its further development, the full time of a Minister, with a separate department; against this the whole Opposition voted.

There would be no satisfactory income from the succession duties act. In 1896 the Opposition voted to reduce the scale of duties, which would cut down the income from succession duties nearly one-half.

Protection of the Forests.

There would be no Superintendent of Forestry. The Government considered it important to appoint a Superintendent of Forestry for the purpose of looking after the reforestation of abandoned timber lands, and also directing the location of various reserves. Although our forests have yielded an average of a million dollars a year since confederation, the Opposition did not consider their preservation in this way justifiable.

There would be no Good Roads Commissioner. The improvement of our highways as a means of transportation of 90 per cent. of our people was considered of the utmost importance to the rural classes. The Opposition voted against the appointment of an officer to direct attention to the best means of improving highways, and as one result of his work the Assembly voted $1,000,000 for the improvement of roads.

There would be no Provincial Municipal Auditor. It was found that large sums of money were lost to municipalities through faulty methods of bookkeeping, by which dishonofficers manipulated their accounts and concealed their evil intentions. Over $100,000 was lost in this way. The appointment of a Municipal Auditor was intended to prevent these losses. The Opposition refused to protect the municipalities to this extent by voting against such an appointment.

There would be no revenue from taxes on corporations. In 1899 the Government introduced a bill imposing a small tax on corporations, such as insurance companies, railway and electric companies, etc. By this about a quarter of a million dollars are collected annually. Mr. Whitney, although he charges the Government with being the friend of corporations, voted against this bill.

There would be no Western Dairy School. In order to encourage dairying and secure the best quality of cheese and butter for the British market, the Minister of Agriculture established a dairy school at Guelph and another at Kingston. To meet the wants of the west, it was proposed to establish a third school at Strathroy. The Opposition voted against this.

There would be no Commissioner of Public Works. In 1899 the Opposition voted to nbolish the Department of Public Works, (a position held by the late C. F. Fraser, Mr. Harty and now by Mr. Latchford,) including the office of Commissioner, by voting against the salaries and expenses required for maintaining that department.

Against Algoma Investments.

There would be no land grant to the Algoma Central Railway. In 1900 the Opposition voted against the land grant to the Central Algoma Railway, characterizing it as 'the most phenomenal steal, the greatest attempt at public robbery, the most heinous public crime that was ever attempted by men in authority in the Dominion of Canada.' As a result of that grant the Clergue works have been established at the Sault, involving an expenditure already of at least $12,000,000, an amount which may be doubled before Mr. Clergue's schemes are fully developed.

There would be no substantial development of the pulp industry. Mr. Whitney and his colleagues in the House voted against several of the pulp concessions, although they involve the investment of $5,000,000 of capital, give employment to over 2,000 hands and are calculated to promote the settlement of the country.

There would be no railway subsidies. The railway subsidies proposed for several years were entirely for the development of New Ontario or for colonization purposes. By means of these subsidies the Canadian Northern, from Fort William to Winnipeg, has been built. In all 607 miles of railway have been constructed in the newer districts. Against nearly all of these Mr. Whitney and the majority of his friends voted."

Mr. Ross remarked that if these things, and others he had enumerated, had been taken out of the Government record of the Province, little would have been left. There was nothing to withdraw in the shape of legislation that had been found weak or ineffective—no apology to offer for any measure they had submitted to the people.

Referring to the question of prohibition, Mr. Ross said the Government had relegated the question to the electors of the Province and proposed to stand by their decision, and added: The prohibition of the liquor traffic has always been regarded by both political parties in Canada as a question for the direct action of the people, and I confess that I am neither bold enough to grant prohibition nor to refuse it in any other way. In my opinion he would be no friend of temperance who would knowingly substitute for the license laws by which we now regulate and control the traffic even a prohibitory liquor law which public sentiment might not sustain and under which the illicit sale of liquors might flourish with impunity. We live, happily, under responsible government. In its broadest sense, responsible government has a double meaning; firstly, that the Government act upon the known wishes of the people, and, secondly, that the people acquiesce in the legislation of the Government. If a Government fails to respond to the wishes of the people it fails. If it legislates in advance of the wishes of the people it will either be driven from office or its legislation will be ineffective and perhaps treated with contempt. The referendum means nothing more or less than an expression of the popular will. That expression once ascertained at the ballot box—the supreme court of the nation — the prohibition becomes the law of the people and not the ipse dixit of the Government. Who that believes in the famous expression of Burke — "Government by the people, for the people and through the people"—desires to have prohibition in any other way?

Neither do I propose discussing here the attitude of the two parties on this question. If the political phase of the question is of more importance than its real merits, by all means let it be discussed from its political standpoint. I, for one, if called upon, shall not shrink from such discussion. If, on the other hand, it is thought best to decide the pending election on those great questions of public policy which so closely affect the material prosperity of the Province outside the question of prohibition, so be it. Then after the din of party strife has subsided and the public mind is free to be directed to the issues involved in prohibition, let every man turn his attention thoughtfully and seriously to the responsibility of casting his ballot on the 4th of December as he may be directed by his judgment and his conscience in such a weighty matter, for, as Whittier puts it, "The kingliest act of freedom is the freeman's vote."

As the Premier resumed his seat the audience rose in a body and gave three hearty cheers in his honour.

THE STONY LAKE COTTAGERS MEET.

Mr. George Cochrane was Elected President.

HELD ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Canoe Wharf Again up for Discussion—The Planting of Trees—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association was held in the office of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company last night. There were present Mr. Benj. Shortly, in the chair, and Messrs. D W Dumble, R McWhinnie, Geo Cochrane, A C McCallum, R B Rogers, E B Edwards, J D Collins, J J McBain, W G Morrow, R J Winch, R F McWilliams, W A Sanderson and G M Roger.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Association were read and on motion adopted.

THE OFFICERS.

Before the election of officers was proceeded with Mr. Shortly thanked the members for the honour they had done him in the past. He had held the office for the past two years and he was not desirous of holding the office for another term.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—George Cochrane.

Vice-Presidents—Messrs. R B Rogers, Peterborough; H G Buck, Norwood and Percy Strickland, Lakefield.

Sec.-Treas.—H Brock, Toronto.

Asst. Sec.-Treas. — W G Morrow, Peterborough.

Executive Committee—The officers and members of the various Standing Committees.

Regatta Committee—Messrs. W A Sanderson, chairman, C B McAllister, John Davidson, E R Tate, B Shortly.

Sunday Committee—Sheriff Hall, chairman, T W Robinson, E B Edwards, D W Dumble, J D Collins, R J Colville and Strickland.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

A letter was received some time ago from Mr. J. W. Flavelle, Toronto, commenting upon the growth of young pine on the various islands of Stony Lake and suggesting that the planting of young pines be encouraged by the Society. He would be pleased to contribute to a fund that might be raised for such a purpose.

Considerable discussion took place on the matter. It was decided to recommend that the owners of the islands on Stony Lake be asked to encourage tree planting thereon.

Mr. Dumble thought that nature was doing about all that could be done towards the growth of young pines by distributing the seed on the ground each year.

The old matter of the ownership and maintenance of Juniper Island wharf was then taken up and discussion much the same as has been heard at former meetings of the Association took place.

It was decided to give Mr. Robinson a bonus of $5.00 each year for the maintenance of the wharf. The Society does not assume any part of the ownership thereof.

It was decided to raise the fee from 50c. to $1.00. Messrs. R. B. Rogers and A. C. McCallum were appointed a committee to design a badge and select colours that will be distinctly representative of the Society.

Mr. Dumble notified the members that Hon. Provincial Secretary Stratton had written him, stating that the society can have a supply of bass for the lakes this year. Mr. Dumble said that it cost $19 last year for this purpose.

Mr. Rogers said this was only touching the fringe of the question. The society ought to take steps towards securing a permanent hatchery. He was convinced that the Government would assist. They ought to breed not only bass, but maskinonge. There is no doubt, he said, that the lakes are very nearly depleted of fish. A discussion, regarding the causes of the comparative scarcity of bass in the waters of the lakes, followed.

Mr. B. Shortly, chairman, with Messrs. Rogers and Dumble, were named a committee to take up the hatchery question, and to take steps towards the securing of a permanent place for the propagation of fish.

Mr. Kincaid informed those present that he was prepared to give them a sail to the lakes to inspect the cottages, etc., provided they would select a convenient date. It was agreed to accept the invitation, but the selection of a date was deferred for the present.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

Mr. George Cochrane, the new president of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association is one of the oldest and most enthusiastic visitors to Stony Lake. He has always taken a deep interest in the affairs of the Association and his election to its highest office is a deserving recognition for his valuable service in years past. Mr. Cochrane is a great admirer of canoe racing and in his younger years took part in many exciting finishes. There is reason to believe that during his term of presidency the annual Regatta will receive more attention from the various officers than heretofore and that some good canoe racing events will be arranged.

SECRETARY-TREASURER.

The election of Mr. Harry Brock to the position of Secretary-Treasurer was also a popular choice. There is perhaps no more enthusiastic lover of Stony Lake than Mr. Brock, who spends the entire summer in that region. It was felt that the Sec.-Treas., who should look after the collection of fees, should be at the lake for longer periods than former secretaries have found it convenient so to be. Them, in order that the business might be carried on without interruption, during the winter season, an assistant at Peterborough was appointed.

TWO CLEARING LINES RIBBONS LACES

Two Mammoth Lots, One Consisting of 132 Pieces of Ribbons and the Other Comprising 218 Dozen Yards of Lace.

We're pretty plucky some times in clearing big lines, that we may both interest ourselves as well as our customers, for in giving you qualities at less than we could ordinarily buy them makes you frequent this store oftener—gives you confidence in the offerings here from time to time that never get mention in the newspapers, and thus do ourselves good. Now, had these two lines not been cracker-jacks, you can depend we wouldn't have them enter this store, for the quantities are big enough for a wholesale jobber to tackle. Think of 22 Cartoons full of Ribbons, in addition to our regular large assorted stock. And of 52 Boxes of Lace, 48 yards to a box, then you will commence to realize the immense quantities we have of these two lines.

RIBBONS in Colours and Black, in assorted plain stripe and rich floral effect, Ribbons that are made to sell at 25c, 35c and 50c, including silk Sash Ribbons 9 in. wide, for 15c

RIBBONS of Pure Silk, from 4½ to 8 inches wide, all soft makes, in fine Failles, Irridescent Cords, Louciene, Plain and Spot Taffeta, and a few fancy stripes, etc. The correct makes and widths for the new rosettes and neck wear, worth 50c, 75c and 90c, for, per yard 25c

LACES at clearing prices, when Laces are so much in demand.

Process of Preparing Peat for Use as Fuel.

(Detroit Free Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 25.—There are being experiments conducted in the mechanical engineering laboratory which will probably result in a product that will successfully combat the exactions of the coal barons.

Prof. Cooley and Prof. Sadler and Assistants Allen and Anderson are at work on a new peat drying process. There are millions of acres of peat bogs in this country and the chief difficulty in utilising the peat for fuel has been the cost of getting rid of the water. A pound of dry peat gives out the same amount of heat as three-quarters of a pound of of hard coal. It burns nicely and there are no clinkers or stones. By the new process it is expected that the cost of manufacturing peat fuel will be reduced to such an extent that it will prove a cheap and very acceptable substitute for coal.

About 80 per cent of the peat taken from bogs is water. Under the new process the peat will be run through rollers and one-half the water will be eliminated. The peat will then be passed upon trays kept at a high heat and blasts of hot air will be driven through the pulp. All the water will thus be evaporated. The peat will then be pressed into bricks weighing from five to ten pounds and of the density of bituminous coal.

Those conducting the experiments have every reason to believe that successful results are to be obtained, and applications have been made for patents on the machinery.

FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Recruiting for the Fourth Contingent Commences on April 15th.

Orders were issued Wednesday afternoon for the enrolment of the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of Canadian Mounted Rifles for South Africa. Recruiting will be commenced in Ontario and the eastern Provinces on the 15th instant, and in British Columbia, Manitoba and the Territories on the 24th instant, and will be continued until orders are sent from headquarters to cease recruiting. The following are the recruiting centres in Ontario nearest Peterborough, and the recruiting and medical officers:—

Port Hope—Major N. F. MacNachtan, 14th Field Battery; Surgeon-Major H. A. Turner, 46th Regt.

It will be noticed that three new recruiting points have been established in Ontario, viz., Windsor, St. Catharines and Port Hope.

Orders to Quit.

The sale of the T.O. Rush Clothing Co.'s Bankrupt Stock in the store next to the Bank of Toronto on George must be disposed of at once. The landlord is about to begin a complete remodelling of the premises, and the edict has gone forth that the balance of the stock must be closed out at the earliest possible moment. Deep cut slaughter prices will prevail throughout the entire stock. The sale has been a Phenomenal sale, but there still remains a splendid assortment in Men's, Youths' and Boys' Suits, Men's Pants, Shirts, Hats, Caps, etc. This will positively be the last chance for Bargains at this sale, and it will not be our fault if the balance of the stock is not sold, as we have decided to let it go at 64 1-2c on the dollar. WHO IS THE LEADER ?

We have been assured that there is a rivalry of the Ontario Conservatives for the leadership, Mr. Whitney not filling the bill. Mr. Carscallen of East Hamilton is a hot runner up for the position. In regard to the leadership, the Hamilton Times has the following: "After being edified by an evening's intimate association with Mr. Carscallen in Hamilton, Mr. Whitney went to North York, and held a meeting in Aurora. The Conservative candidate chosen to oppose Hon. Mr. Davis, in that riding, is Mr. T. Herbert Lennox, who began his speech by objecting to being called 'the Whitney candidate,' and proceeded to offer a bribe to the electors to vote for him. He blamed Mr. Davis for not having the Provincial Reformatory removed from Penetanguishene to North York, instead of to Oxford. 'If Mr. Whitney is returned to power,' said Mr. Lennox, 'and becomes premier of this province, I will see that he sends it (the Reformatory) to North York — Newmarket or Aurora. I stand in pretty well with Mr. Whitney, and he will do almost anything I wish him to do, because he knows I would not ask him to do anything that was not right.' The public accounts, he continued, showed that the sum of $30,000 was spent each year in North Simcoe in connection with the Reformatory, and he wanted to know if that would not be an advantage to North York. In concluding he said that Mr. Davis had represented the riding for fourteen years, and had done nothing for it during that time, and appealed for the hearty support of those who felt with him that a change should be made.

"By the time Mr. Whitney gets home he will begin to wonder why he is called leader of the party. Carscallen and Lennox evidently have no idea of being led."

IT IS LIKE OLD TIMES.

Some of the old inhabitants will recognize in the Mail and Empire this morning a recurrence of the journalistic methods that were employed a generation ago in party politics. The article about the northern trip of Hon. G. W. Ross and some of his Ministers, the way they travel, and the creature comforts they are accused of carrying with them, belongs to the class of political campaign articles which were supposed to do sledge hammer service in the crude and bitter politics of twenty-five or thirty years ago. The Mail and Empire stands alone in the present generation as a believer in the methods popular in the days of open voting and closed intellects.

The Mail seeks to make it appear that the Ministers have gone north on a wild orgy and carry enough stuff to load up all they meet with on the way. Imagine Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. E. J. Davis, Hon. John Dryden, Hon. J. M. Gibson and Hon. Richard Harcourt forming a drinking party and carrying drunkenness where they go? Think of a newspaper that could hope to benefit its party by insinuating a thing so utterly preposterous! Even its own afflicted readers could not be deceived by so absurd a political malevolence.

Twenty or thirty years ago the Mail's article would have provoked an answer in kind, and the respective attitudes and practices of the Liberal and Conservative leaders would have been publicly discussed. The Mail, however, presumes on the knowledge that it alone stands as an old-time party paper.—Toronto Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir Robert Giffen, the well-known statistician, is of the opinion that Great Britain is to-day better able to bear a taxation of $750,000,000 than she was to bear $350,000,000 forty years ago.

Who, asks the Ottawa Free Press, would give up the very solid substance of Liberal administration for the shadow offered by Mr. J. P. Whitney and his band of grumbling, cavilling followers?

"Trust me to improve your schools, says Mr. Whitney, but do not ask me to say how. Just shut your eyes, and open your mouth, and down with the dose I shall give you, asking no questions." That's the way the Hamilton Times puts it.

Mr. Walter, of the London Times, is right. The Boer war, to Britain, was worth having. An awakening by a stronger foe would have been infinitely more dangerous and costly. And if anything could accelerate politically the cementation of the British Empire, it has been that war.

There was a prohibition convention in Galt on Tuesday, at which a motion referring to "disapproval of the referendum, with its unfair conditions," was amended by striking out that phrase. At a mass meeting in the evening, Rev. Dr. Williamson, the chief speaker, "waived any personal opinions he might have had as to the referendum and its conditions, and exhorted temperance people to work for and carry the referendum. And they could do it. He had been told that in Ontario one man in every three was a Methodist, and if Methodists were true to their creed they would vote for prohibition and the referendum. And the other denominations would do likewise if they had the cause at heart. If the temperance people were true to their cause, if they would pray and labour between now and the day of voting, the votes would be polled, and the referendum passed."

UNION LABOUR ON ONTARIO WORKS.

The Order Issued by Hon. Mr. Latchford for the Government.

The Ontario Government has, through the Commissioner of Public Works, issued orders that only union men were to be employed on Ontario Government Public Works, where they can be secured. This order has had the effect of assisting the painters to arrange a settlement with the employers.

AN AGED WOMAN.

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years, Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia—A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured her of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been bothered more or less with Stomach Trouble, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures but got no relief until she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow.

However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her old trouble was gone.

She used in all twenty-one boxes before she felt quite sure that her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

It seems quite a long treatment, but as Mr. Plowman himself says; "Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease?"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that very many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Everything depends on the severity of the case and the general physical condition of the patient.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has often something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption till cured, but stop the moment relief begins and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if persisted in according to directions.

Toronto Horse Show Opened.

Toronto, April, 11.—The Horse Show opened yesterday morning with a fair-sized crowd in attendance, among whom were noticed many horse lovers from Montreal, Hamilton and other out-of-town points in Canada and the States. The Armories are tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, and present a very gay appearance. Sergt.-Major Widgery of the Dragoons officiates as ringmaster.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspephic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

SLEEPS IN THE ROCK

Cecil Rhodes' Body Interred on Top of the Matoppo Hills.

PROCESSION FIVE MILES LONG

Natives Stood Like Statues as the "Dead March" Re-echoed Through the Hills, and Tears Were in Many Onlookers' Eyes—The Bishop's Impressive Consecration of the Lonely Tomb.

Buluwayo, Matabeleland, April 10.—To-day, amid an immense throng of soldiers, civilians and natives, the body of Cecil Rhodes was committed to its rock tomb in the Matoppo Hills. The coffin was shrouded in a Union Jack, and the wreath sent by Queen Alexandra was laid upon it as it was lowered into the grave.

The funeral party started from Fuller's Hotel early this morning. The procession was five miles long as it wound through the hills and gorges. Every sort of conveyance was made use of; some were on foot, others were on horseback or on bicycles, while still others were in wagons and carriages.

When the procession was a mile from the grave everybody dismounted and concluded the journey on foot. Twelve oxen hauled the coffin to the almost inaccessible summit of the kopje, where the Chiefs Shombii, Faku and Umgula and two thousand natives had assembled to witness the Christian burial rites, which they afterwards supplemented in their own fashion, by the sacrifice of 15 oxen to the shade of the great dead chief.

Thousands of white persons congregated around the wind-swept hill. The grave was encircled by six boulders. The interment was extremely impressive. The "dead march" re-echoed through the hills, and the natives stood like statues. Tears were in the eyes of many of the onlookers. The Bishop of Mashonaland, who conducted the burial service, said:

"I consecrate this place forever, here he thought, here he lived, and died for the empire."

When the coffin was lowered into the tomb chiseled in the solid rock, all those present sang "Old Hundred" and "Now the Laborer's Task Is O'er." The remainder of the funeral service was chanted, and the band played the "Dead March in Saul." The tomb was covered with wreaths.

At the close of the ceremony those present slowly inspected the spot where Mr. Rhodes lies buried, and threw flowers upon his grave. Dr. Jameson, Col. Francis Rhodes and all of the other mourners left Buluwayo to-night on a special train.

SERVICE IN ST. PAULS.

A Distinguished Gathering in London Pays a Last Tribute.

London, April 11.—An impressive memorial service for Cecil Rhodes was held in St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday afternoon coincident with the hour of burial of his remains in the Matoppo Hills. The Cathedral was packed and large, quiet crowds of people, who were unable to secure admittance, gathered outside the railings.

King Edward was represented by Gen. Godfrey, Clerk, His Majesty's groom-in-waiting, and Sir Frederick Carrington represented the Prince of Wales, Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador; J. P. Morgan, Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary; the Duke of Abercorn, chairman of the British Chartered South Africa Company; Earl Grey, a director of the British Chartered South Africa Company; Lord Knutsford, a former Secretary of State for the Colonies; Lord Roberts, the Duke of Fife, Lord Tweedmouth, William St. John Brodrick, the Secretary of State for War; Herbert A. Asquith, formerly Home Secretary; Lord James, at one time Attorney-General; A. J. Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons; Charles T. Ritchie, the Home Secretary; Lord Halsbury, the Lord High Chancellor, and other members of the cabinet and of the nobility; Lady Sarah Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stead, Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army, the Vice Chancellor of Oxford, and the Dean of Oriel College, representing the university, and the Lord Mayor, the sheriffs of London, the corporation of London, and all colonial agents-general paid their last tribute to the dead.

Virtue of Forgiveness.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 11.—Professor Stephens in a lecture said yesterday that Cecil Rhodes had at least one great virtue—forgiveness, inasmuch as he gave to the country whose papers had reveled him, twice as many scholarships as to all the British colonies put together.

Speedy Cure for Cramps and Colic.

The most reliable cure for Cramps, Colic, Dysentery and Summer Complaints, is ten drops of Polson's Nerviline, in a little sweetened water. Nerviline removes the pain and distress at once, insures prompt relief, and a speedy cure in every case. Nerviline is an excellent remedy for all pain, whether internal or external, and should be in every household. All druggists sell and recommend Nerviline. Price 25c.

G.T.R. Annual Meeting.

Landon, April 11.—At the semi-annual meeting yesterday of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, held in the Cannon street Hotel, the president, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, said that the half-year had been uneventful, but prosperous. The volume of business had increased, more passengers and freight had been carried, the revenue had been considerably increased, and the improvements on the lines throughout the system had been continued.

RIOTS IN BRUSSELS.

Thirty Persons Hurt, Including Women and Children.

Brussels, April 11.—A general strike is expected on Tuesday. Socialists last night paraded the streets, smashing windows, firing revolvers and singing revolutionary songs. The civic guards had to use their bayonets. Thirty persons, including women and children, were injured. Over a hundred shots were fired on both sides.

Sold 17,000 Revolvers.

London, April 11.—The Brussels correspondent of The Daily Mail says in a despatch that the reservists, who were called out in consequence of the riots, arrived there yesterday singing revolutionary airs. One Antwerp firm alone, continued the correspondent, recently sold 17,000 revolvers to the Socialists.

Aid For Arsenic Production.

Ottawa, April 11.—The Government has decided to grant a bounty of $150,000 to the product of arsenic mines in Hastings, this amount to be spread over a period of seven years, at a certain amount per ton. The grant is conditional, however, upon a bounty from the Ontario Government of $100,000. The Ontario grant promised is $50,000, but the promoters of the industry are confident that Premier Ross will double the amount.

To Abandon Free Trade.

London, April 11.—Persistent rumors are current here that the forthcoming budget proposals will include an import duty of 3 pence per hundred weight on grain and 5 pence per hundred weight on flour.

Nervous, Sleepless and Exhausted.

Not sick enough to lay up, but you are out of sorts, blood is weak, nerves unstrung, kidneys deranged, vitality is low. You should take Ferrozone at once; it will enrich, strengthen and purify the blood, invigorate and pacify the nerves, and increase your energy, vitality and power. Ferrozone will renew your appetite and digestion, make you sleep soundly, in fact will make you well. Try Ferrozone. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

TALMAGE GROWS WORSE.

Evidences of Cerebral Inflammation Have Now Appeared.

Washington, April 11.—A change for the worse has again occurred in the condition of Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, and the physicians are again very apprehensive of the outcome. Last night's bulletin issued at 9 o'clock said: "There has been a marked change for the worse in Dr. Talmage's condition. Evidences of cerebral inflammation have appeared." (Signed) G. L. Magruder, A. B. Richardson.

At 1 o'clock this morning the condition of Dr. Talmage was very precarious. Fever complications have developed, which led the physicians to believe that recovery is entirely improbable.

Diplomacy Ruptured.

Berne, Switzerland, April 11.—Diplomatic relations between Switzerland and Italy have been ruptured. This actions arises from the refusal of Switzerland to give satisfaction regarding an article published in Geneva insulting the memory of murdered King Humbert.

Digestion Without a Stomach.

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed, proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the Kidneys, Liver and intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter

DOMINION DEFENCE

Estimates Before the House of the Militia Department.

DR. BORDEN'S PLAN OF REFORM

Recommendations in General O'Grady-Haly's Report — Minister of Militia Agrees in General Terms With Them —A Comprehensive Statement of the Militia of the Dominion by Mr. Borden.

Ottawa, April 11.—Yesterday was "Colonels' " day in the House, the military field day of the session. The discussion of Dr. Borden's few remaining estimates was interesting, and there was a gratifying absence of criticism of the administration of the Militia Department. The House rose at 11.30 p.m.

Hon. F. W. Borden.

Hon. F. W. Borden, Minister of Militia, complimented his predecessor in office upon the moderation and fairness of his remarks, and the interest he had displayed in the militia force. Dr. Borden, in a speech of about an hour's duration, gave the committee a comprehensive statement of the numerous proposals which have been adopted or are under consideration for improving and strengthening the military defences of Canada. He reminded the House that the great gifts which this country enjoys carry with them their responsibilities, and we should be unworthy of our grand resources if we were not prepared to defend them. He believed that in our times of prosperity this country should devote some of its revenue to the matter of defence. As to the report of the Major-General, he agreed, in the main with every suggestion it contained. The General had been given a free hand in making suggestions in regard to the militia as a professional soldier. Under the present law the permanent force is limited to 1,000 men. The General proposed to increase it to 1,500 and he himself thought it a wise proposal. He would not, however, this year ask for the necessary amendment to the Militia Act, but next session he would introduce a bill for that purpose and would have it submitted in advance to members who cared to offer suggestions upon it.

He was afraid it would not be possible to get men away from their avocations for 21 days every year. But it might be practicable once in three years to give the men a longer period of drill than twelve days.

He was quite in accord with the Major-General's proposal to form a body of reserves. At this moment, he said, the suggestion is being carried out, and it would involve very little more expenditure for the extra men, sufficient of whom would be raised to increase the present force of 35,000 up to 100,000, and this would be done by bringing them into the rifle clubs, for which provision was made last session.

"The force would thus consist of men who have experience in the art of rifle shooting. In order to give him a freer hand in apportioning the militia vote and for utilizing the riflemen this year taking the entire appropriation for musketry, clothing and stores all under the head of 'annual drill.' "

He proposed in the future to take advantage of a discovery that had recently been made of a reduced form of cartridge, by means of which practice could be had at a reduced distance without resorting to extensive and expensive rifle ranges. "And no man would be taken on as a recruit in the active militia until he had been tried with the rifle to see if there was a reasonable probability of his becoming a practical soldier."

This would bring in a grand class of men and exclude the useless men, who, he was sorry to say, were already a considerable percentage of the militia attending annual camps.

The Major-General proposed another arsenal. Undoubtedly the day is near at hand, Dr. Borden said, when we should have at least one more arsenal, situated in a central part of Canada, but as to the present. He would say that in the course of the year the output of ammunition from the present arsenal at Quebec would be increased from two millions to six or seven million rounds a year. Working on the 8-hour basis, 18 or 20 million cartridges could be turned out by the arsenal working full time. What we really needed now was two or three additional magazines, so that as fast as this ammunition was turned out at Quebec it could be moved west. As to the quantity of ammunition now on hand and where it is stored, as he had stated last year to the late Mr. Clarke Wallace, it was not wise to make such private information public, but he would give it to any hon. member who desired it. He might say there was a considerable quantity in Toronto, Kingston and London.

He could not agree to the establishment of an arsenal in the Northwest, but he might favor the creation of one in British Columbia. In time of war it would be a serious proposition to hold the great stretch of country intervening, and it would be awkward to have an arsenal in such a vulnerable situation.

Lieut.-Col. Tisdale: You might give them a magazine then in the meantime.

Dr. Borden: Yes, I think so. As to arms, continued the Minister, the Government hoped in a short time to have in operation in Canada a factory capable of turning out from 12,000 to 15,000 rifles yearly, working 8 hours per day and more than double that number when working full time.

Lieut.-Col. Tisdale: Where will it be located?

Dr. Borden: That has not been settled yet, but it will probably be established near the present arsenal in Quebec. The arm to be turned out was the Sir Charles Ross rifle. It had been carefully tested by a commission, including Col. Otter, Lieut.-Col. Hughes, Lieut.-Col. Anderson, Col. Gibson and others, and favorably reported upon. On the strength of that report it had been adopted by the Militia Department, and a contract had been entered with Sir Charles Ross for the manufacture of the rifle for the Canadian militia. Provision was made in the contract, however, that in case any discovery were made that would render the rifle obsolete, he should be under obligation to manufacture such other rifle as the department might require.

The war in South Africa had proved that, instead of being the delicate arm it was supposed to be, the Lee Enfield was a serviceable, strong rifle and so, instead of waiting till central armories were erected, the rifle would be issued at once to all rural battalions to be stored in ordinary company armories. He was now sorry he had not done this before.

It was possible to have in this country, he said, a very effective defensive force at very little more expenditure than the present outlay. This would be done, as explained already, on the lines of interesting all classes of citizens in rifle shooting and thus bring them into touch with the militia. It would bring in a body of young men well equipped and expert in the use of the rifle. There should be an efficient headquarters staff, but he believed in decentralization to the extent that there should also be effective district staffs ready to act immediately if called upon. We wanted educated, well-trained officers, and he agreed that there should be, to that end, a severe examination. There were now on the reserve of officers and the unattached list a number of valuable officers, who should be kept in touch with the militia by giving them something to do every other year. Canada had raised at headquarters a medical corps second to none in the world. That had been shown in South Africa, for they had only been landed there with the Mounted Rifles, when they were put at once to the most severe test possible, and he had received a cablegram from Col. Evans stating that they had acquitted themselves with the greatest possible credit. (Cheers.)

Lieut.-Col. Biggar was now in England taking an army service course, and when he returned an efficient army service corps would be organized. When all these things had been done, said the Minister in conclusion, we would have in Canada a force amply sufficient to protect the country from any trouble within, and with the aid of the Mother Country, to do its part in successfully resisting any foreign invasion. (Applause.)

All the militia estimates were passed.

New Post Office Bill.

Hon. Wm. Mulock introduced his Postoffice Bill. The bill applies to messengers, packers, letter carriers, porters and sorters. In their case the civil service examination has been done away with. Instead of a yearly salary a per diem allowance will be substituted. Instead of waiting for nine years to reach the maximum salary, half that time would be all that was necessary. A superintendent of city postoffices would be provided for in the bill. The first one to fill the position would be George Ross, assistant postmaster of Toronto.

There was no discussion on the first reading.

The House adjourned at 11.30.

Those who have used Laxa-Liver Pills say they have no equal for relieving and curing Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Coated Tongue, Foul Breath, Heart Burn, Water Brash or any disease or disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Mrs. George Williams, Fairfield Plains, Ont., writes as follows: "As there are so many other medicines offered for sale in substitution for Laxa-Liver Pills I am particular to get the genuine, as they far surpass anything else for regulating the bowels and correcting stomach disorders."

Laxa-Liver Pills are purely vegetable; neither gripe, weaken nor sicken, are easy to take and prompt to act.

Detained Pending Investigation into Female Pupil's Death at Detroit.

Detroit, April 11.—Prof. Joseph M. Miller, a music teacher, formerly of Woodstock, Ont., where his parents now reside, was arrested yesterday in connection with one of the most brutal murders of recent years, which occurred before midnight Wednesday night. Carrie M. Jennett of 119 Wabash avenue, a daughter of James R. Jennett, a cabinet maker, the victim of the tragedy, was a pupil of Miller. Blood was found on the professor's clothing, and when an explanation of it was asked, Miller fainted. He was revived, but fainted again when being taken to the cell.

Miss Jennett was stabbed and pounded to death. Her throat was cut from ear to ear, a knife was thrust into her brain behind the ear and a dent in her forehead showed that she had been clubbed.

Last night a blood-stained hatchet was found by the police in the drawer of a table in Miller's kitchen. A towel was found in the kitchen also with what are supposed to be blood stains on it. Miller simply insists that he knows nothing of the murder.

THE CHILDREN, HEAVEN BLESS THEM!

Are They Frail, Restless and Nervous?

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Will Make Them Vigorous, Healthy, Bright and Happy.

As a rule, parents are to blame if their children are puny, weak, nervous and irritable. The little ones may be well clothed and fed, yet still be sadly neglected from a physical point of view.

It should be remembered that the children inherit many of the troubles that parents suffer from Thousands of little ones are subjects of nerve troubles, a condition inherited from father or mother. This nervous condition begets irritableness, bad temper, headache, indigestion and stomach derangements. Such children need the best and most intelligent care, or they will grow up in misery and disease.

Give the little ones Paine's Celery Compound for the next few weeks, and note well its fortifying effect on the nervous system; watch the growth in muscle and flesh.

Thousands of thankful letters have been received from glad fathers and mothers who have had their dear ones perfectly restored to health and strength by Paine's Celery Compound.

Mr. Robert D. Templeton, Winnipeg, Man., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound for all children's troubles. Our little girl was very sick a short time ago, and we had to call in a doctor, who said he could not prescribe anything better than your Compound."

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

Held in George Street Methodist Church Last Night—The Speakers.

There was a fair attendance at the Sunday School Rally last night in George street Methodist Sunday School. The chair was occupied by Mr. T. W. Robinson, president of the Association, and the proceedings opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Mr. Crossley.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan rendered a vocal selection, which was followed by an address on Sunday School work by Rev. J. P. Wilson. He first touched upon the duties of the superintendent, but claimed that much of the success of the work depended upon the teachers. He spoke of Christ having been our first teacher, and referring to the methods of teaching, Rev. Mr. Wilson thought that we should have simplicity, should be well versed in knowledge of the scriptures and we should employ prayer.

Rev. Mr. Potter's address on "Financial Pledges" was well delivered. He urged that more support be given to the Provincial Association and he brought out many valuable suggestions as to the way in which the work might be carried on successfully.

Rev. Mr. Yule, speaking on the importance of Sunday School work, said, that it calls for all our energy and efforts. The Sunday School scholars of to-day are the future leaders in our work. Teaching is the highest vocation of the Christian work and two essentials are—Thorough preparation and experimental knowledge.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers, and the proceedings closed with prayer by Rev. Jos. Kilgour.

THE LATE H. L. BOYD.

His Remains Will be Shipped to Bangor Me., To-night.

The body of H. L. Boyd, who was found dead in room No. 20, Oriental Hotel, yesterday, will be shipped on the midnight C.P.R. express to-night to Bangor, Me. From the many telegrams that have been received from the firm of Chase & Co., Boston, in whose employ deceased was, and from his brother and wife, it would appear that the deceased's home was in Bangor. Instructions were forwarded to Mr. Graham to have the body embalmed and forwarded at once, and the bereaved wife telegraphed for particulars as to her husband's death, wanting to know if he was killed in a railway accident. His personal effects will be shipped with the body.

The physicians of the town who have inquired into the case express the belief that death was due to heart trouble.

Two New Carriages.

Mr. R. H. Leary, Peterborough's wide-awake liveryman, has just added two more expensive vehicles to his already very complete outfit. This week Mr. Leary placed in his barn a handsome new three seated carriage with rubber-tired wheels, and all other modern improvements. The carriage is a beautiful specimen of the carriage builder's art, and is the product of the McLaughlin Carriage Co., of Oshawa. The second vehicle is a very handsome Victoria, made by Dickson of Toronto, and it will undoubtedly prove to be a popular conveyance, more particularly with the ladies. It is a decidedly nobby looking carriage. Mr Leary intends keeping nothing but the best.

SUCCESSFUL DINNER AND MUSICALE

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night,

GIVEN BY KING'S DAUGHTERS.

A Pleasant Social Affair—Programme Introduced Outside Talent—Miss Cochrane's Excellent Work.

Charity is a virtue of the heart, and not of the hand. Gifts and alms are the expressions, not the essence, of this virtue. That this is true was shown last night by the goodly number, especially of ladies, who braved the threatening weather to encourage, not only with alms, but by their presence, the members of that noble organization, the King's Daughters, in their efforts to be of service to the deserving poor of the town.

Those who attended were amply repaid. From six to eight o'clock dinner was served. Tastefully decorated tables were laid in the Board and Bible Class Rooms. The young ladies were very attentive and had anticipated every want of their guests. Over two hundred and fifty were served.

The musicale introduced several artistes strange to a Peterborough audience, among whom might be mentioned, Miss Bradley, soprano soloist of the Berkeley street Methodist church choir, Toronto; Mrs. W. Cartwright Allan, Millbrook; Miss Bell, of Keene.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church, acted as chairman, and Miss L. Cochrane, organist of the same church, proved to be a capable accompanist.

The programme opened with a piano duet by Mrs. W. Cartwright Allan and Miss Cochrane, which was faultlessly rendered, as was also a similar selection by the same ladies later on.

The next number introduced Miss Bradley, a young lady who is the possessor of a very pleasing soprano voice, and a graceful platform presence. "She Wandered down the Mountain Side," was the title of the selection. It so pleased her hearers that they demanded an encore. She kindly responded with "Mighty Lak' a Rose." Miss Bell's violin solos were well rendered, especially the second, "Annie Laurie," which was given very appreciative attention. That favourite vocal duet, "O, that we Two Were Maying," (Alice Smith), by Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Mr. H. Morphet, displayed perfectly blended voices. Miss Bradley's second appearance was warmly greeted. She rendered Addison Anderson's "O For a Day of Spring." To this as to her first number, the audience would be satisfied with nothing less than an encore.

Miss Cochrane's piano solo, "Valse de Fleur," proved that young lady to be an artiste of the first rank. She plays in an easy, unaffected manner—that quality to be found only in the true musician.

Mr. Morphett brought a pleasing programme to a close by a spirited rendering of that patriotic number, "His Majesty, the King."

To the King's Daughters, who were the promoters of the affair, much praise is due, and especially to Miss Cochrane, who appeared last night for the first time on a local concert platform, and on whose shoulders rested the responsibility for the programme. As a musician, this vivacious young lady acquitted herself in such a manner that on future occasions much will be expected of her.

The proceeds of this successful evening's work, which will net a snug sum, will be dispensed to the needy, irrespective of creed or colour.

MISS JESSIE MACLACHLAN.

The following is a fac simile of Queen Victoria's letter to Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan, written by H. R. H. Princess Louise, at Her Majesty's request:

Balmoral Castle.

The Queen has desired Princess Louise to write and tell Miss Maclachlan how much pleased she has been to have heard her sing. Her Majesty admired both her voice and method of singing, and was delighted with the Scotch and Gaelic songs.

Miss Maclachlan will receive a bracelet sent from Balmoral, which is a present to her from the Queen, which Her Majesty hopes she will keep in remembrance of her visit there.

Many thanks to your husband for having sent me his charming song.

MR. WHITNEY IN TOWN.

Mr. J. P. Whitney, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and his first lieutenant, Mr. J. J. Foy arrived in town at noon to-day from Lindsay, and had dinner at the Oriental Hotel. They went down to Hastings on the 2 o'clock train.

While in town Mr. Whitney and Mr. Foy were called on by a number of the local Conservatives.

RECEIVED WITH THANKS.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir, — On behalf of my son, who is doing active service with the 2nd C. M. R. in South Africa, I wish to thank the Mayor and Town Council for a check for the sum of twenty five dollars.

MR. HAYS IN TOWN.

President Grand Trunk Officials Visited Peterborough This Morning.

Messrs. Charles M. Hays, President of the Grand Trunk Railway System; J. H. McGuigan, General Manager; F. H. Morse, 3rd Vice-President; J. W. Loud, Traffic Manager; Jas. Hobson, Chief Engineer; W. R. Tiffen, Superintendant; A. White, District Freight Agent, and several other officials were in town this morning. They came in per special train having been to North Bay on a tour of inspection of the Northern Division. None of the town officials were aware that the officials of the G.T.R. were coming.

Mr. Hays and his party engaged hacks and drove over the Cereal Company's property. They also went up the Lakefield line as far as Auburn. It is not known what to object of the visit was, but it apparently had something to do with the future of the Lakefield branch of the Grand Trunk System. The party left for Port Hope and will proceed east on the main line to Montreal.

Veal That is Veal!

Crowds of people have been visiting Kennedy's Meat Market to-day admiring a magnificent sample of veal which is displayed in the store. The calf was only three months old, and weighed over 300 lbs. Rolls of delicate looking fat decorate the thigh and flank to the thickness of three and four inches. The calf was a pure blood Durham, being only one remove from a thorough-bred, and was purchased by Mr. H. P. Kennedy from Mr Mr. William Stewart of Otonabee.

Cobb's Aylmer street Greenhouses, corner of London street.

Coughs, colds, hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

THE CALEDONIANS.

An Excellent Programme but a Small Attendance.

The Caledonian Concert Company's entertainment last evening, under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland, was unfortunately but poorly patronized. Those who were present, however, were more than delighted with the artists and the programme which they presented. Mr. Alf. Sturrock is an old favourite in Paterborough, and of course met with an unusually warm reception. His selections during the evening were all encored, and his last number is particularlyde - serving of mention. It was "Scots Wha Hae," and the spirited interpretion which Mr. Sturrock gave of it called forth, a most spontaneous burst of applause. Miss Ella Walker made a most favourable impression on the audience, as shown by the circumstance of her being recalled after every number. Her voice is a pleasing soprano of great range and under the most perfect control. It seemed peculiarly suited to Scotch selections. Pipe Major Angus Fraser in his piping and dancing was excellent. His dancing surpassed anything seen in that line here before, and his performance on the bag pipes was "beyond criticism." The Sons of Auld Scotia present invited a repeat number every time the Pipe-Major made his appearance. Mr. Cathcart Wallace proved himself a most accomplished accompanist, and gave several exquisitely rendered selections on the violin, which were fully appreciated, as shown by the unstinted applause which was so freely given. Mr. Wallace was greatly pleased with the Stanley piano which he used and this morning forwarded the subjoined unsolicited letter to Mr. Stanley:

Mr. Stanley,—
I have more pleasure than I can express in this short note to say how glad and happy I am to find that your piano is really away ahead of anything in Canada. The singing quality is not behind even the Callard & Callard Piano and the brightness of the upper notes is superb.

CATHCART WALLACE,
Caledonian Concert Co.

A tribute from one so capable of pronouncing judgment must have been a most gratifying endorsement of his instruments for Mr. Stanley to receive.

PERSONALS.

Mr. H. M. Wood, of Millbrook, was in town this morning.

Miss Marion Hall has been quite ill during the past week.

Mr. A. C. B. Poussette, of Toronto, is in town for a few days.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF.

All members of the Golf Club are requested to bear in mind that beginning the first week in May there is to be a contest for positions on the Club teams, one game on each of four successive weeks. Each member's position on the team, 1st or second, will depend entirely upon the total number of strokes taken in the best three out of four games played. It is therefore desirable that from now on every pleasant day be taken advantage of for practice at the links. The details of the revised rules will be published in a few days, and should be cut from the paper by each member for future reference.

BASEBALL.

The Sporting Editor of the Examiner is in receipt of the following report of the re-organization of the Coal Heavers' Baseball Club for the season of 1902. Manager McClellan says that he will vouch for its authenticity and thereby relieve us of any responsibility in that regard.

The annual meeting of the Coal Heavers' Baseball Club, held in the parlours of the Oriental Hotel, last evening, was very largely attended by local baseball enthusiasts and plans for the coming season were discussed. It was decided to cast in their lot with a local league if one was formed, but if not they will be open to meet all-comers throughout the province, and the baseball fans can look forward to seeing some of the fastest ball that has been witnessed on a local diamond.

Letters of regret at their inability to be present were read from Lionel King, Sam Reade, "Fish" Riley and "Scuddy" Phalen, and wishing the club every success in the future.

The treasurer then read his report, which showed the club to be in a flourishing condition financially.

If the report of the treasurer was encouraging the report of games was announced as even more so. This announcement called forth rounds of applause and the secretary had a good opportunity to collect his nerve. On finding himself able to resume he read as follows:

Games played..... 28
Games won..... 28
Games lost..... 0
Runs scored..... 279
Runs scored against... 27

The election of officers was then proceeded with:

Hon. Pres.—Sam Reade.
Pres.—Dan McCabe.
1st Vice-Pres.—Chris Graham.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Dr. Scott.
3rd Vice-Pres.—J. Mulhall.
Manager—A. J. McClellan.
Sec.—E. S. Clarry.
Treas.—H. Rush.
Committee — F. Whitcroft, J. Conners. W. Parnell, K. Dillon, C. Earle, J. Guerin, H. Dunsford, W. Meagher.

The committee was vested with the power to add to the number as the season advances and consistent with victories.

The question of grounds was the next business and the proposition of Mr. Thomas was accepted, and the team will have the pleasure of playing on one of the finest grounds in Canada.

Mr. Thomas assured the meeting that the erection of the club house and grand stand would be proceeded with immediately.

It having been learned that Sam Reade was expected to be given a trial by Toronto, Eastern League, it was unanimously resolved that such ability and self-confidence could not go unrewarded and it was decided to invite Mr. Reade to town at his earliest convenience and present him with some tangible souvenir as a token of the appreciation of the prominence he has given the club by his entry into such fast company.

The meeting then adjourned for one week, when they will meet the representatives of other clubs and have the local situation discussed.

Junior members of the Y.M.C.A. are asked to attend a meeting at the building to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, called for the purpose of organizing a junior baseball club. There are four or five junior teams in town which should compose an A1 league. Senior school boys please take notice.

Toronto Telegram.—Pat Mulhall, who has been pitching in some of the State leagues, has decided that there is more money to be made at home than abroad. For this reason Patrick will return to Cobourg, where he will pitch for the local team this season. By the way, don't forget that all who play with or against him may be professionalized.

T. A. S. ATHLETICS.

A meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. Athletic Club was held on Wednesday evening, when it was decided to hold a smoker on Wednesday evening, 23rd April. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements, and an excellent programme will be presented.

TENNIS.

The Lindsay lawn tennis club has organized for the year with the following officers:

Patron and Patroness — Dr. and Mrs. McAlpine.
Hon. Pres. — Wm. Dundas.
Pres. — G. H. Hopkins.
Vice-Pres. — E. P. Whalley.
Sec. — Fred Begg.
Treas. — Peter Kennedy.
Executive Committee — Messrs. L. V. O'Connor, C. D. Dyke, Dr. E. A. Totten and O. Hamilton.
Auditors — Dr. E. A. Totten and J. Low.

THE KENNEL.

Dr. D. C. King has sold his fine Great Dane to an Akron, Ohio, fancier. The dog won a great many prizes while in the doctor's possession.

LACROSSE.

The London News in reviewing the outlook for various kinds of sport in the Forest City this summer says:

"Lacrosse, too, is coming to the front, and of all the good games played by good men, lacrosse is the best. It is the national game of Canada, and we as Canadians owe it to ourselves to get a move on and learn the rules and principles of the pastime. The men who are behind the game in this city are good people, as are the men of the entire Canadian Lacrosse Association.

"There is one thing that we in London should strive to preserve, and that is peace and harmony upon all occasions. We have had our little troubles in hockey and football, and we should dig deep with the spade of forgetfulness and bury the past. London men are good sports, and in the Canadian lacrosse senior series they will have an excellent opportunity to demonstrate this fact. The smoother machinery runs, the better the results obtained. Let us remember this in lacrosse matters this year."

Alderman James Davidson of Ottawa, has an excellent plan by which lacrosse clubs not now in the senior lacrosse league might obtain admission thereto.

To give these clubs a chance, Ald. Davidson proposes the plan he has been advocating for years, viz., the formation of an intermediate league in conenction with the senior league, the rule laid down that the wineurs of the championship in such league should enter the seniors nex season, while the tailenders in the seniors would drop back into the intermediate ranks, and remain there until such time as they again win the intermediate championship.

Ald. Davidson stated that at the next meeting of the Capital executive he purposes moving a resolution on these lines and should it carry there he will then prepare a motion for the Capital representatives to move at the annual meeting of the senior lacrosse league to be held in Montreal on the 12th of August.

One Phase OF THE New Woman

It is quite the thing just now to make sport of the aggressiveness of the new woman, but there is one thing that the new woman is fitting herself to do, for which she must be commended, and that is, either to earn her own living or to implement her ordinary income. If the inclination of the new woman is towards independence and freedom from restraint, it is equally in the direction of improvement of her condition and betterment of her surrounding. In various honourable ways she earns money without resorting to drudgery. The Song of the Shirt has no place in her vocabulary. She may work with her pen or her brush, or her voice or her musical touch may be made to contribute to her creature comforts; but by far the larger number of women of all ages and in various walks of life earn their livelihood, in part or in whole, from the skilful employment of their needle. Knowing how to do it is the great secret, and every lady of ordinary intelligence can learn how to do the most artistic and elaborate crocheting, knitting and embroidery by following up the simple lessons in the Corticelli Home Needlework Magazine. The spring number of this admirable quarterly is now ready for delivery, and, like its predecessors, is a marvel of usefulness and beauty, and furnishes valuable instructions in the art of French lace embroidery, modern lace making, embroidered shirt waists, new centrepiece designs, crocheted purses and bags, etc.

The magazine is profusely illustrated in coloured and black prints, and is sold for 10c a number or 25c per annum. Address

Germs, Germs.

We hear a great deal about them these days, and rightly too; for they are the direct cause of whooping-cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other diseases of childhood. When any of these are in the neighborhood, you should use Vapo-Cresolene. Every evening purify their sleeping rooms with this perfectly safe remedy. It is so easy to prevent the disease in this way. For whooping cough and croup, the doctors say it is a perfect specific. 13

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. BOERS ACCEPT TERMS

Peace Arranged, Says Unofficial Report From Pretoria.

BRITISH CONDITIONS AGREED TO

The Terms Cabled to the Boer Agents in Europe—A Despatch to the London Financier and Bullionist—A Confirmatory Central News Telegram—Mr. Rutherford Harris' Latest News.

London, April 11.—The Financier and Bullionist publishes a despatch from Pretoria this morning declaring that the Boer leaders have accepted the British terms, that peace has been arranged, and that the terms of peace have been cabled to the Boer agents in Europe.

Other unconfirmed statements of a similar character were in circulation in London last night. It is said that Frederick Rutherford Harris, ex-secretary of the British Chartered South Africa Company has received a telegram to the same effect, but nothing of any official or really reliable nature concerning the matter is known.

The Central News is informed that a telegram was received in London this morning from Pretoria, saying that Mr. Steyn and Generals Dewet and Botha had agreed upon terms of peace. The telegram indicates that the British terms have been accepted, and that peace has been arranged.

In the Commons.

London, April 11.—The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, in the House of Commons yesterday, referring to the press advices from South Africa, said that Schalkburger, Reitz, Lucas Meyer and Jacob had been joined at Klerksdorp by Gen. Botha, and added that Steyn, Dewet and Delarey and three other members of the late Orange Government arrived at the same place yesterday.

No communication, Mr. Brodrick further said, had been received from the Boer leaders except regarding the safe conduct of the participators in the conference.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, added the information that no limit had been fixed for the expiration of the safe conducts. These will be extended as long as the negotiations are in progress, after which the delegates would be allowed to return to their respective districts without hindrance.

Made Known Soon.

Pretoria, Wednesday, April 9. — President Steyn of the Orange Free State, Secretary of State Reitz of the Transvaal, Acting President Schalkburger of the Transvaal and Gen. Lucas Meyer, Commander - in-Chief of the Orange Free State forces, passed through Kroonstad, Orange Free State, Sunday, April 6, on their way to Klerksdorp, Southwestern Transvaal, where General Botha, the Transvaal Commander-in-Chief, arrived Monday, April 7. It was expected that Generals Dewet and Delarey would attend the conference to take place there. It is understood that the Boer leaders are fully possessed of the British peace terms, and that the conference then assembling was to enable the leaders to discuss these terms thoroughly. It is expected that the final decision of the burghers will be made known soon.

Hotel Reserved For Them.

London, April 11.— The London Times in its second edition yesterday publishes a despatch from Klerksdorp, dated Wednesday, April 9, announcing that Acting President Schalkburger and other members of the Boer Government arrived there by train April 6, and that messages were sent out inviting President Steyn and Gen. Delarey to come in and meet them. While awaiting a reply Gen. Schalkburger and his party were occupying a hotel which had been reserved for their use.

Now at Klerksdorp.

Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, Wednesday, April 9.—Mr. Steyn and Generals Dewet and Delarey, with their staffs, arrived here at noon to-day and are quartered in the town.

A Breakfast Dish After Your Own Heart.

Thousands are now enjoying what they long wished for; the same enjoyment and luxury may be yours every morning—a breakfast after your own heart.

A breakfast dish after your own heart means physical and mental benefits. The true breakfast dish guaranteeing the blessings of health, is Malt Breakfast Food, delicious, appetizing, easily digested, strengthening and invigorating.

Malt Breakfast Food has a direct influence on the brain as well as the body. While it keeps the blood pure and at normal temperature, it also acts as a brain nutriment, imparting clearness and power.

Malt Breakfast Food which has so quickly captured the hearts and palates of young and old as a breakfast food, is as far ahead of all the ordinary grain foods of the day as the diamond is superior to cheap glass. Try a package; your grocer sells it.

B.C. Iron Companies Combine.

Vancouver, B.C., April 11.—The amalgamation of ten iron manufacturing firms in British Columbia was effected last evening. The concerns are in Victoria, Vancouver, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Westminster. The work of the province will be distributed among the different plants according to ability to handle it.

Life Insurance for Fifty Cents.

Anyone wishing to insure themselves against heart, stomach, kidney or liver troubles, can do so by taking Merrill's System Tonic. This wonderful medicine combines the blood building properties of iron with the blood purifying and nerve toning properties found in herbs—skilfully compounded by a reliable druggist. 50 doses for 50c. MARKET REPORTS.

Grain Markets Are Steady—Uncertainty of Crop Report Restricts Chicago Trading—The Latest Quotations.

Thursday Evening, April 10.

Liverpool wheat futures are quoted ¼d lower to-day and corn futures ¼d to ½d lower. Paris wheat closed to-day 5 to 10 centimes lower.

The uncertainty of the government crop report retarded business at Chicago to-day. May wheat closed ⅝c below yesterday; May corn gained ⅛c and May oats lost ⅛c.

The government crop report issued this afternoon places winter wheat at 78.7. A higher percentage was generally looked for.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, April 10.—There were about 350 head of butchers' cattle, 350 calves, 50 sheep, 30 spring lambs offered at the East End Abattoir to-day. A considerable number of cattle, sheep, spring lambs and a large number of calves were sold here yesterday. The butchers turned out in large numbers and trading was fair, considering the extremely high prices which had to be paid for cattle, being one quarter of a cent per lb. above the high prices paid here on Monday. Prime beeves were sold at from 5¾c to 6¾c per lb.; medium stock, from 4¾c to 5½c per lb., and common stock and milkmen's strippers, at from 3½c to 4¼c per lb. Prime large bulls sold at from 4¾c to 5c per lb. Calves sold at from $1.50 to $8 each. Old sheep sold at from 3½c to 4c per lb.; yearlings, from 4½c to 5c per lb., and the spring lambs at from $2.25 to $4.50 each. A lot of four very good spring lambs were sold a few days ago at $6 each. Fat hogs sold at from 6c to 6¼c per lb., weighed off the cars.

FRUITS OF DEVELOPMENT.

Sault Ste. Marie, April 11.—This "rising city of the west," as it was aptly described last night, was honored yesterday as perhaps no place outside the capital of the Province has ever been honored. That it had within its limits at one time Premier Ross and five of his Ministerial colleagues and Hon. A. F. E. Evanturel, Speaker of the Legislature for the past seven years, was a tribute to the growth as if by magic of the "Soo" to a city of 12,000 people by an industrial development unequalled in rapidity in the history of Canada. The visit was the climax of the Ministers' observations of the results of the development policy in new Ontario, and, though a careful inspection of the industries established by Mr. Clergue has been deferred until to-day, enough had been seen to open wide with astonishment the eyes of every member of the party. It was with the greatest delight and surprise that Premier Ross listened to Mr. Clergue yesterday, when he said that the original expenditure of $4,000 contemplated on a pulp mill here had been increased to beyond $20,000,000 already laid out on the Canadian side, and that, as the great capitalist put it, there is still $15,000,000 in the treasury to be invested on this side. It was therefore with great satisfaction that the Ministers heard and saw the evidences of prosperity, and as they faced the splendid audience last night pointed to the success of the Government's policy, and indulged with confidence in predictions of the greatness which will soon and surely come to the "Soo." The speakers did not fail to refer to the opposition of Mr. Whitney to the pulp concessions of the Government, and the grant to the Algoma Central Railway, the latter being the basis upon which the industries depend so largely.

At the meeting in the evening there were present probably 800 people. The chair was filled by Mr. Nelson Simpson, beside whom sat Premier Ross and his five colleagues, Hon. A. F. E. Eventurel, Mr. C. N. Smith (Liberal candidate), Mr. D. M. Brodie of Massey and Mr. C. F. Farwell, ex-M.P.P. The hall was decorated with mottoes, flags and bunting, amid the former being: "Welcome"; "Remember Ross, the builder of New Ontario"; "Develop natural resources." "Vote for Smith."

Plenty of Nerve.

Loss of flesh often means loss of force. It takes plenty of nerve force to carry on the work of flesh making. Scott's Emulsion brings with it new nerve strength and rich nourishment.

Suppress the League.

Belfast, April 11.—The Evening Telegram of this city says it believes Lord Londonderry, at a meeting of the Conservative Association of Belfast to-day, will announce that the Government decided at Monday's cabinet meeting on a firmer policy in Ireland, including the suppression of the United Irish League.

Collapse of the Nerves.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

If you have been discouraged in seeking a cure for nervous exhaustion or prostration, the case of Mrs. C. H. Jones of Pierceton, Que., will interest you. Hers was a severe case, but is a fair example of what thousands of women are enduring, with the belief that they can never be cured.

Mrs. Jones describes her case as follows:—"For several years I had been gradually running down in health, and growing weaker and weaker. I did not know exactly what ailed me, for strange, dizzy feelings would come over me. I got a terrible fright, and it so unsettled my nerves that shaking spells would come over me, and I could not keep my feet still, and finally I had to keep the bed most all the time.

"The doctor said I had nervous prostration, and though I took his medicine from fall till spring, I did not improve in health, and could not read or sew. I would lie awake at nights and often would not get more than five or six hours' sleep in a week. My head, felt as though it would burst, and I thought I would go out of my mind.

"An uncle from New York visited me at this time, and told me of what an awful time he had gone through with his nerves. He said that he always had more faith in Dr. Chase than in any other physician, and was cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I began using this preparation, and improved from the first. Altogether I used five boxes, and it has done me more good than I ever thought medicine could do. My health is better in every way than it has been for many years, and my nervous system is strengthened and invigorated.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cannot fail to benefit any man, woman or child who is pale, weak or nervous. It contains in condensed form the most potent restoratives of nature. It does not stimulate or give false hope, but gradually and thoroughly builds up the system and effects permanent cures. Like Dr. Chase's Ointment and Kidney-Liver Pills, this preparation has the endorsement of physicians and people alike in all parts of this continent. It is the standard treatment for weakness of blood and nerves. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

SECONDHAND SMOKES.

Selling Cigar Stubs Is a Lucrative Business In Naples.

Buying and selling cigar stubs is a large and lucrative business in the city of Naples, and many persons are engaged in it. Some of them have little stalls or shops near the docks, the arsenals and the manufacturing establishments where workingmen are in the habit of passing to and from their tasks. Others, with less capital, have little stands at street corners, a board laid across a saw horse, upon which their stock in trade is displayed, while the petty dealers in this line of business exhibit their stock in little piles upon the sidewalk, sometimes not even a newspaper being under them.

The supply comes from the cafes, restaurants, hotels and other public places. Men and women pick over the garbage heaps and the dust boxes, and boys run up and down the pavements in front of the hotels early every morning looking for "snipes." Some of the restaurant and cafe keepers sell the privilege of picking up the cigar stumps in their places to dealers, and the proceeds amount to a considerable sum during the year. In other places it is one of the perquisites of the head waiter.

Some of the stubs are taken to factories, where they are cut up and manufactured into cigarettes and smoking tobacco, but the greater part of them are sold to the lower classes of workingmen, sailors and dock wallopers, who smoke them in their pipes. At the entrance of the navy yard, which is upon one of the most frequented streets in Naples and in a very conspicuous place, half a dozen of these secondhand cigar dealers can be found when the men are coming out of the gates at the close of their day's work. The employees are not allowed to smoke inside, and their wages do not permit them to indulge in the luxury of cigars or even smoking tobacco at first hand, so, for a centissimo, which is the smallest coin imaginable—one-fifth of 1 cent—they buy a cigar stub, crumble it up in their hands and cram it into their pipes.

Queer Freaks of Flowers.

"Why is it," complained the man with a grouch to a restaurant keeper yesterday, "that you fellers hardly ever have any flowers in your old joints?"

The hash founder looked up. "Flowers won't live in restaurants," he said. "The smoke and odor of the cooking seems to smother them, and they never thrive. I've tried it dozens of times, and always with the same result. Put flowers in a saloon, though, and they grow and bloom in splendid shape. The tobacco smoke, I suppose, serves as a fumigator, and the fumes of the liquor apparently stimulate them. If you want to make a success of flowers, put them in a grogshop. To stunt or kill them a restaurant is the best ever."

Dogs In Patagonia.

In northern Patagonia a reward is offered for the extermination of the dogs that overrun that part of the world. The ancestors of these wild dogs were a pair of tame collies which were taken over by a Scotsman straight from his native heath. The animals have retained their natural instinct in connection with sheep, but instead of guarding them they prefer killing them; hence the farmers have always to be prepared for the sudden advance at any time of a strong herd of the wild creatures hungering after mutton.

Carlyle's View of Aprons.

Carlyle in his "Sartor Resartus" was able to find a deep philosophy in aprons. "Aprons are defenses against injury to cleanliness, to safety, to modesty, sometimes to roguery. From the thin slip of notched silk (as it were, the emblem and beatified ghost of an apron) which some highest bred housewife has gracefully fastened on to the thick tanned hide girt around him with thongs, wherein the builder builds and at evening sticks his trowel, or to those jingling sheet iron aprons wherein your otherwise half naked Vulcans hammer and smelt in their smelt furnace, is there not range enough in the fashion and uses of this vestment?"

Reassured.

The Scotch have a story of a little lad who was desperately ill, but who, for all his mother's pleading, refused to take his medicine. The mother finally gave up. "Oh, my boy will die, my boy will die!" she sobbed. "He will not take the stuff that would save him."

But presently piped up a voice from the bed. "Don't cry, mother," it said. "Father'll be home soon, and he'll make me take it."

The Light on the Isle of Pharos.

The most famous lighthouse of antiquity stood on the isle of Pharos, off the city of Alexandria, in Egypt. It was one of the seven wonders of the world and was put up during the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus. After standing up 1,600 years it was destroyed by an earthquake. It is understood to have been over 500 feet high.

A Clever Retort.

A legal dignitary who had risen from a humble rank of life was twitted by an opponent for "having begun life as a barber's boy." "It is true that I did so," was the answer, "and if you had begun in a similar station you would have remained there till the present day."

"The pitcher that goes often to the well is broken at last." There's a world of wisdom in that familiar proverb, and a sound application of it to disease, especially to such familiar forms of disease as coughs and colds. Singularly enough the very thing that ought to cause alarm is given as excuse for a feeling of safety. "It's nothing; only a cough. I've had it before." The fact that a cough recurs periodically should be warning enough to take it in time, for the most serious and disastrous of all maladies begins with a cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only stops the cough but cures the cause. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs, hemorrhages, diseases which if neglected or unskilfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for weak lungs.

"I was very sick indeed," writes Mrs. Mollie Jacobs, of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and our family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so bad. Had a bad cough, spit blood, was very short of breath, in fact could hardly get my breath at all some times. I had pains in my chest and right lung, also bad dyspepsia. Before I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' I was so weak I could not sweep a room, and now I can do a small washing. I worked in the canning factory this fall, and I feel like a new person. I believe that the Lord and your medicine have saved my life. I was sick over two years. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

THE SUMMER HATS.

They Will Have Irregular Brims and Be Worn Off the Face.

The indications are that the fashionable hats next summer will be worn off the face. The edges will be very irregular, and the hat will be tilted a little to one side by means of a band of velvet bearing a big bow. Floral trimmings are to be much used, and the inevitable bow of lace or velvet will droop over the hair in the back.

The large plateau toques, when kept flat and slightly tilted to one side, are charming in front, but hideous in the back. The prettiest toques of this style are of chiffon, draped with lace and relieved here and there by touches of fur or velvet.

Wreaths of autumn leaves are combined with roses with very good effect. Large bows of wired lace are very smart on tucked black chiffon hats.

The proper thing for summer will be to have the hat match the gown, or at least repeat in some particular the leading color of the gown.

A smart hat of chiffon is shown in the cut. It is laid in soft folds both as regards the brim and the crown, which is low and flat. The hat is tilted to one side with a wide velvet band, which is hidden by a cluster of flowers. The hat is simply trimmed with a cluster of flowers and a drooping black velvet bow. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Napoleon at Work.

Napoleon had his particular mode of meditation and work. When he was not in council, he stayed in his study, talked to himself and sung or, like a child, cut the arms of his chair, then, suddenly rising up, would give the plan of a monument to be erected or of one of the great military movements which astonished the world.

An Interesting Problem.

A celebrated explorer was the lion of the evening at a certain party. His hostess said to him, "What is the most interesting problem of a north pole expedition?"

"To get back home," was the answer.

Superstitions About Babies.

The Manx people believe that it will dwarf or wizen a baby if any one steps over it or walks around it. In some parts of England people bind the infant's right hand, so that it may have riches when it grows up. In Yorkshire a newborn babe is placed in a maiden's arms before being touched by any one else in order to insure good luck.

In South America a book, a piece of money and a bottle of liquor are placed before the infant the day it is one year old to ascertain its bent in life.

In Scotland a baby is considered lucky if it handles its spoon with its left hand, and it will be perfectly happy and successful if it has a number of falls before its first birthday. In the north of England, when a child is taken from a house for the first time, it is given an egg, some salt and a small loaf of bread and occasionally a small piece of money to insure it against coming to want.

How Oriental People Wash.

"European tourists in the east," said a traveler, "have before now remarked on the various degrees of dirtiness manifested by the oriental races. But their dirtiness is not only to be differentiated in degree, but also in kind. Your only partially civilized man is clean in spots. Civilization might be measured by the size and number of the spots until, in the perfect civilization, I suppose, it will be all clean spot. But different races put the spots in different places; so, observing this, there has grown up a saying among the Europeans in the east that the Chinese wash their clothes, but not themselves; the Japanese wash themselves, but not their clothes, and the Koreans wash neither. Were there nothing else to judge by, it might be a pretty question whether the Chinese or the Japanese are the more civilized."

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

Old Greek Coins.

The oldest of Greek coins have the figure of a horse on them.

Coffee Blindness.

The Moors are inveterate coffee drinkers, and a medical writer states that their sight begins to fail at the age of forty or forty-five, and many are blind at fifty. The number of blind in the streets of Fes is impressive, and excessive use of coffee is always given as the cause.

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 9th.—Some one buying B.R.T. Why?

Ever since Lincoln's birthday last February B.R.T. after initial weakness for one morning on the famous $150,000,000 bond announcement, has been unusually strong, though more or less sluggish. A feature of the situation is the fact that public holdings of the stock through commission houses is remarkably small, in fact barely nothing, yet the shares present phenomenal strength. Some one is certainly accumulating these shares, and it looks as if the bond announcement was made with the view to facilitate the process by creating a bearish sentiment on the stock. It is generally known that the Long Island Railroad and its associate sound steamship line, the Montauk Co., are now in the hands of the Penna. road. It has been suggested by shrewd guessers that the same interests are working in B.R.T. B.R.T. could be run more cheaply by the Long Island than independently. Its proximity to the many shore resorts patronized by the people of the Metropolis, make it an attractive property. There is very little doubt but what the Penna. road is behind the Joy line of Steamers running between New York and Providence. If so, the consolidated will have run up against a snag in their endeavours to knock out the line by running cheap steamers against them. The Penna. has great plans for Long Island. The B.R.T. would prove useful. It is understood that a new Atlantic City will be part of the programme to be created at Long Beach. Despite a series of poor financial statements issued by the B.R.T., showing it under the present regime to be a long way from the dividend basis, the stock hangs persistently around prices. There is a nigger in the wood pile somewhere. We suggest buying the stock and holding for a good advance. It may be largely a blind pool tip, but the action of the stock under adverse conditions talks plainer than anything else. The public have not got it yet. It is strong and scarce with bad news. Then some important interests are in it. The constant bad news would indicate their desire to buy more. Were the stock below fifty, largely held by the public and weak, we would anticipate it was going lower. Experience would, however, declare otherwise.

LESSON DRAWN FROM RECENT MARKET.

New York, April 10.—As outlined in our letter of Monday, stocks proved a good purchase on the reactions. They will be good to buy on each reaction, in our opinion, for some time to come. The concession in the market was short lived—recovery followed speedily. Recessions, caused by profit taking, are vastly different from those caused by liquidation; the latter injures the market and creates distrust, while the former simply gets the market into a more healthy condition, strengthening the position in every way. An important lesson can be learned from the market of the forspart of the week, while it was forging ahead, dealings ran up to over a million shares per day. On the reactions, transactions fell off enormously. Fear or a desire to liquidate holdings would have increased, instead of decreased, activity upon the decline. The argument plainly indicates the splendid strategic position of the present market. Bear in mind that the principal participants in the current manipulation are just fresh from a successful profit making campaign in the wheat pit of Chicago. Winning speculators usually tackle new propositions with more vigour than those who have been subjected to recent losses, their likelihood of success is greater. At present, developments likely to check any rise are not permanent, those likely to accelerate it are, the only tangible reason for lower values which would at present be of any account would be bad crops. Indications as to crops. Indications as to crops are of the very best. Wheat prices and increased acreage amounting to about twenty per cent prove this. In purchasing stocks for a rise, one should not be frightened should prices not immediately soar, or even if they decline somewhat, people who would worry under such a state of affairs would be certain to lose money trading in Wall street. The race is not always to the swift, the patient man with cool judgment usually bags the profits. Select the better class of shares for trading purposes, stocks that pay dividends. They are ordinarily the best ones to carry. If they decline they will rise again. Never buy a stock which has no market and on which you cannot borrow money at your brokers.

MR. FOX EXPLAINS

Why He Voted Against His Leader, Mr. Whitney, Last Session.

Lindsay, April 11.—Messrs. J. P. Whitney and J. J. Foy were the principal speakers at a mass meeting held at the opera house here last night under the auspices of the Conservative Association of West Victoria, and in the interest of Messrs. S. J. Fox and J. H. Carnegie, candidates respectively for the West and East ridings of Victoria. The Opposition leader and his "able first lieutenant," as Mr. Foy is now advertised in connection with and referred to at these meetings, spoke at considerable length, but their speeches were largely repetitions of their former addresses. Both expressed strong belief in the triumph of their party at the coming elections. Mr. Fox, who voted last session against Mr. Whitney on the railway bonus measure, explained that he did so because he thought the Bobcaygeon-Lindsay line should have a share, although he did not believe in the principle of bonuses.

Mr. Beatty in Leeds.

Delta, April 11.—A Conservative convention for South Leeds was held here yesterday to select a candidate to represent the riding in the Ontario Legislature. Walter Beatty of Delta, the present member; Dr. Preston, ex-M.P.P., of Newboro, and W. B. Carrell, barrister of Gananoque, were put in nomination. The first ballot stood 146 for Beatty, 95 for Preston, 74 for Carrell. The second ballot gave Beatty 103 of a majority.

Mr. Little in Cardwell.

Beeton, April 11.—The Conservatives of Cardwell assembled here yesterday for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the Local House. Mr. E. A. Little, the present member, was made the unanimous choice of the convention.

In West Huron.

Goderich, Ont., April 11.—Jas. Mitchell of The Goderich Star was nominated Wednesday at the Conservative convention held at Smith's Hill.

Mr. Currie in West Simcoe.

Creemore, April 11.—The independent electors of West Simcoe nominated Arch. Currie for the Legislature yesterday. L. G. McCarthy, M.P., spoke in support of Currie.

No Prohibition in Kent.

Ridgetown, April 11.—About fifty delegates from all parts of East Kent attended the prohibition convention here yesterday. After two hours' talking, a resolution as to whether a prohibition candidate be placed in the field was voted on. The resolution was voted down by a vote of 16 to 22.

A Sin Against Nature.

AUSTRALIA'S MISTAKE.

Would Not Have Been Known If They Knew Canada Well.

As to the Australian Commonwealth, Dr. Montague, in a recent lecture, said he thought that a great mistake was made by that colony through not knowing the ins and outs of the Canadian federal system. It was supposed in Australia that the United States had the freest and best system. They called their confederation a commonwealth, and not a dominion. The divisions of the country, instead of being called provinces, are called states. Their Parliament is called the House of Representatives, and their Senate is elective. They frankly followed the United States model and avoided the Canadian example. The result is that any power not specifically conferred on the federal authority belongs to the State. In this Dr. Montague sees the germs of many dangerous diseases. The lieutenant-governors are not appointed by the federal authority, but by the same imperial authority that appoints the Governor-General. The speaker found throughout Australia so many arguments in favor of this plan that he has grown reconciled to it, but Canadians generally will be disposed, by their own experience, to think that there can be no real and complete confederation while the federal authority is so largely nominal and is interrupted and intercepted and passed over in so many ways that we know not of in Canada. They have not in Australia the sound, smooth-working confederation that we have in Canada. Already Queensland talks of secession. In that province — or shall we say state?—there is a great cane sugar industry, made profitable by the importation of negro labor from the Solomon Islands. In its first session the Commonwealth has passed an educational test act, to be applied to emigrants, which will shut out these Solomon Islanders. The cry is for "a white man's Australia." But Queensland's one great industry is menaced with destruction and Queensland's Premier threatens to withdraw from the Commonwealth. Dr. Montague does not see how the matter can be adjusted. The tariff law could not have carried, he says, but that it was yoked with this "white man's Australia" bill.

Canada is in high favor with Australians, especially since the men of both colonies have fought side by side in Africa. The people out there do not hesitate to say that the Canadians were the best soldiers who took part in the war. Last year the United States sold thirty million dollars' worth of goods to Australia, of which Canada might have supplied twenty-four million dollars' worth. Canadian goods have now a good-will preference in that market, and can have a tariff preference just as soon as the two Governments get together.

APRIL DRESS GOODS

The goodness of this store shows, not here and there, but everywhere, in every part of the Golden Lion. The early coming of Easter has already set the dressmakers to work with an increased staff. SHOP REGULATION.

Legislation Enacted for the Protection of Shop Workers.

HOURS OF LABOR RESTRICTED

Provisions for Health and Safety of Employees—Sweat Shops Regulated—Bake Shops and Barber Shops Sunday Labour Prohibited.

A great improvement has been effected in the condition of a numerous and important class of workers by the various enactments passed from time to time by the Ontario Government for the regulation of shops and places other than factories. Employees in such establishments, who are largely women, and young persons of both sexes, before the relief afforded them by comparatively recent legislation, were subject to many of the same handicaps and disabilities to which factory workers were liable — more especially to overwork and unsanitary conditions. Moreover, being as a rule, unorganized, and comparatively isolated from each other, they had not the same influence or opportunity of arousing the sympathies of the public, or conducting an agitation for the betterment of their conditions, as had the factory workers. The passing of factory legislation, however, called attention to the evils attendant upon the employment of shop assistants, and in 1888 the first measure to check the abuses in conenction with the system was introduced by the Ontario Government, and adopted by the Legislature. Numerous amendments and extensions of the principle it embodies, have been adopted from time to time, until the law, as it stands, gives ample protection to this large and deserving class of workers.

Shorter Hours for Shop Assistants.

The Act of 1888 authorized municipal councils to pass bylaws compelling the early closing of shops, on the application of not less than three-fourths of the shop-keepers in any class of business. It also provided that seats should be supplied for female employees, and that no boy under fourteen, or girl under sixteen years of age, should be employed longer than 74 hours, including mealtimes, in any one week, nor longer than 14 hours, including meal hours, on any Saturday.

Health and Comfort of Employees.

Several other acts for the regulations of shops were adopted within a few years, and in 1897 this legislation was consolidated, under the title of "An Act Respecting Shops and Places other than Factories," of which the following are the leading provisions. The word "shop" is defined to mean any building or room where goods are handled, sold or manufactured to which the Ontario Factories Act does not apply, and laundries not run by steam, water-power or electric power, but does not include places where the only business carried on is that of a tobacconist, news-agent, hotel or premises where liquor is sold by retail. No person under ten years of age, shall be employed in any shop, and no child, young person or woman shall be employed on any day before seven a.m., or after six p.m., excepting on Saturdays, or the day next before a statutory holiday; nor shall they be employed on such days before seven a.m., or later than ten p.m. Every such person shall be allowed one hour for a noon day meal every day, and when employed after six p.m., 45 minutes for an evening meal. Employers who prevent by threats or rules the use of seats by female employees during the time when they are not necessarily engaged, are liable to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $25. The employer shall provide a suitable room in the shop for the purpose of a dining or eating room for his employees when directed to do so by the inspector. The provisions of the Act relating to the sanitary conditory condition of shops, the means of extinguishing fire, and providing a safe escape for the inmates, are practically the same as those of the Factories' Act in this respect. Male and Female Inspectors for enforcing the Act may be appointed as is found necessary.

An important amendment adopted in 1901 holds the owner responsible for providing the sanitary conveniences required, and renders him liable to a fine of not more than $500, on his failure or refusal to provide the same within two months after being notified by the inspector.

Sweat Shop Goods.

Among the evils which have resulted from unsanitary shops and the want of proper precautions against disease, is the spread of diseases by means of garments manufactured in sweat shops. Under the system in vogue, large quantities of cheap, ready-made goods are given out by contractors to employees, who do the work at their own homes, where the conditions are often deplorably bad from a sanitary point of view. An amendment to the Shops Regulation Act, passed in 1900, deals effectively with this danger. It compels every contractor for the manufacture of clothing to keep a written register of the names and addresses of persons to whom work is given out. The sale of any article of clothing made in a dwelling or tenement house is prohibited without a permit from the inspector stating that the place of manufacture is in good sanitary condition. If any such article is found by the inspector to be made under unclean or unhealthy conditions, or upon unregistered premises, the same is to be impounded and labelled "unsanitary." The local Board of Health is to be forthwith notified and to disinfect the article. Should the inspector find evidence of unclean conditions or infectious or contagious disease in any work shop, or place where goods are made, he is to report to the local Board of Health which shall issue such order as the public health may require, and may condemn and destroy all infectious articles or goods being made under unsanitary conditions.

Bake Shops.

Special legislation was enacted as regards bake shops in 1896, the provisions of the measure being considerably strengthened and extended in 1897. It is provided that all bake shops shall be constructed as to lighting, heating, ventilating and draining in such a manner as not to be injurious to the health of any person working therein, and shall be kept at all times in a clean and sanitary condition, so as to secure the production and preservation of all the food products therein in a good and wholesome condition. Every bake shop must be supplied with a proper washroom, closet and other conveniences necessary for the health and comfort of the employees. The sleeping places of the employees shall be entirely separate from the bake shop, and no person shall be allowed to sleep in such shop. Facilities for escape in case of fire are to be provided. No employer shall allow or require any employee to work on Sunday, nor more than twelve hours in one day, nor more than sixty hours in one week except by permission of the inspector. No employer shall knowingly require or permit any person to work in his bake shop who is afflicted with consumption, scrofula or certain other contagious disorders, and the employers and employees are required to keep themselves in a clean and healthy condition. The penalties for violation of any of these provisions are fixed at not less than $20 or more than $50 for the first offence, and not less than $50 or more than $100 for the second offence, with costs in each case, and in default of payment imprisonment for a term not less than 30 days or more than 6 months. The third and subsequent offence entails imprisonment for a period of not less than six months or more than one year.

This legislation has done much, not merely to better the condition of a class of labourers, who from the exhausting nature of their occupation and the fact that much of their labour was necessarily performed at night, were subject to special disabilities and hardships, but has proved equally beneficial to the general public by securing cleanliness and purity in the supply of bread and other food products.

Barber Shops.

Another class of workers, who have been secured a day's rest on Sunday by the legislation promoted by the Liberal administration in accordance with the views of the labour organizations, are the employees of barber shops. By an amendment to the Shops Regulation Act, adopted in 1901, it was provided that no employer shall require, permit or suffer any employee in any barber shop to work on Sunday, or permit the same to be opened to the public between the hours of twelve on Saturday night and twelve on Sunday night. A violation of this provision renders the offender liable to a penalty of from $20 to $50 with costs, or, in default of payment, imprisonment for not less than 30 days or more than six months.

The Law Rigidly Enforced.

These laws have not been allowed to remain a dead letter on the statutes, but are being rigidly enforced by the inspectors with the best results in securing more leisure, healthier surroundings and brighter lives for a very large number of work people who were formerly subjected to many abuses by unscrupulous or neglectful employers. In taking this action the administration has had many difficulties to meet and much opposition to encounter. The class in whose interests they have acted owe it to themselves to give their hearty support to a Government which has done so much to improve the lot of labour, as any want of appreciation on their part, of the enlightened policy of the Liberal administration, would naturally and necessarily increase the obstacles in the way of still more comprehensive reforms in the future.

Unless working men are prepared to stand by those who have proved themselves their friends they can hardly expect governments to incur the risk and responsibility of passing advanced labour legislation in the face of the opposition which such a policy always encounters.

LITTLE HART RIVER.

March 31, 1902.

Not in the blood of battle,
Not in the rage of strife,
Not in the muskets' rattle
That mingles death with life.

Not in the victor's story,
Not in the fight's result,
Not for mere empty glory
Do we this day exult.

But because far from our borders
Down o'er the burning line,
Canadian lads took their orders,
And poured out their lives like wine.

Just off the sea, just mustered,
Raw and unused and untried,
They lay on the veldt quite unflustered
Determined to stay till they died.

There all about were the horsemen,
The tireless Boer Centaur,
Bold as of yore were the horsemen,
Toughened and seasoned in war.

Here was the whiskered pandour,
South Africa's fierce hussar,
Matched with Canadian valor
In the sharp, fierce shock of war.

Like a dust-devil swept from windward,
Down on the line he came,
Rein-free and steed unhindered
Leaped as if fresh to the game.

But the Metford's bark was steady,
Steady and true and straight,
And the galloping foe were not ready
To rush in the face of fate.

"Give it them, lads," cried Carruthers,
And the rifles answered his words,
As the lessening band of brothers
Sighted for two hundred yards.

But the last fusilade fairly stopped them,
They staggered, then halted, then wheeled,
And Johnny just said "We've stopped them,"
And sank in the spot where he'd kneeled.

'Twas victory sure, but ghastly;
Never a man but was hit;
Nine had arrived at their "lastly,"
Forty were bleeding a bit.

Nine died, but their names are immortal
On glory's immutable rolls,
Far within death's dark portal
We follow these dauntless souls.

They could die, but they could not surrender,
Could not smirch Canada's name,
And we who survive will remember
Their deed, their death and their fame.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Being a mother of five children I have had experience with the general troubles of my sex. I was lacerated when one of my children was born and from that hour I date all my afflictions. I found that within a few months my health was impaired, I had female weakness and serious inflammation and frequent flooding. I became weak and dizzy but kept on my feet, dragging through my work without life or pleasure. A neighbor who had been helped by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound insisted that I take at least one bottle. I did so and felt so much better that I kept on the treatment. For seven months I used the Compound faithfully and gladly do I say it, health and strength are mine once more. I know how to value it now when it was so nearly lost, and I appreciate how great a debt I owe you. The few dollars I spent for the medicine cannot begin to pay what it was worth to me. ROSS' THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES.

Mr. Foy and the Mail are protesting strenuously against the striking indictment of forty counts, save one, brought against the Conservative party, by Mr. Ross at Newmarket. Let us look into the questions, beginning in the order set by the Premier.

No. 1—The surplus distribution.

On the division of the assets and liabilities of Canada West and East, at Confederation, it turned out that the new Province of Ontario became possessed of a comfortable surplus. The problem was, what was the best application for it? The then Premier, Hon. Sandfield Macdonald, at first maintained, that the best thing to do was to bank it. Finding that the common sense of the people was against him, he brought down in the session of 1870-71 another policy. He proposed that $1,000,000 of the surplus should be put in the hands of the Government, who should be empowered with it to aid such railways as they thought proper. Mr. Blake at once denounced this proposition. Among other biting remarks, he descanted on the extreme novelty of the situation. Here was a Canadian Conservative Government with a surplus, a thing unknown to gods and men. It added to the novelty of the situation, he said, that Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, who was the traditional opponent of railway schemes, the acute discover of fraud in all such schemes, should now be found as the exponent of the advantages of railways and the proposer of a scheme to aid railways. The whole proposition struck Mr. Blake as impolitic. He thought that as the surplus was the outcome of taxation, it should be returned to the people as nearly as possible in the same way as that in which it had been levied. He therefore moved an amendment that, while making necessary provision in aid of railways, "a large portion of the available surplus should be apportioned according to population, and expended in such a way as each of the counties, cities and separated towns, shall, as to its own allotment, designate in aid of railways or other permanent public improvements affecting the localities, or towards the redemption of municipal obligations already contracted for such purposes."

Hon. Sandfield Macdonald and his followers voted against Mr. Blake's amendment, defeating it by 51 to 25.

In the next session Mr. Blake defeated the Government and took office as Premier. He was shortly afterwards succeeded by Mr. Mowat, one of the first and most important of whose measures was the introduction of a surplus distribution scheme on the very lines laid down by Mr. Blake and rejected by the Conservatives by a vote of more than two to one.

No. 2—Conservative resistance to the ballot.

The ballot was not introduced into this province or this country, without a desperate struggle against the forces of reaction.

According to the Journals of the Commons in 1871 Mr. Tremblay (Lib) introduced a ballot bill, which was read a first time, but the Government (Sir John Macdonald's) did not allow it to come up again.

In 1872 Mr. Tremblay reintroduced his bill. On motion of Sir John Macdonald it received the three months' hoist.

In 1873 Mr. James Young (Lib.) introduced a bill which the Government did not allow to reach a second reading.

Then the Canadian Pacific scandal occurred. Sir John Macdonald was driven from office, and Alexander Mackenzie came in.

In 1874 Hon. Mr. Dorion introduced his election bill, which provided, among other things, for the ballot and the trial of election petitions by the courts.

It was opposed by Mr. Cameron (Cardwell,) who considered the ballot "a sneaking, un-British method of voting." Nothing which had occurred in England, he said, or any other portuion of the empire, had led him to change his opinion in that respect. He believed it would encourage corruption and dishonesty, because under that system a man would be able to take money to vote for one candidate, but go and vote for the rival candidate, and nobody but himself need know anything about it.

Several other leading Conservatives spoke against the measure, but none dared to vote against it.

In the Ontario House the ballot was first brought up by Mr. Clarke (Wellington.) This bill was bitterly opposed by Mr. M. C. Cameron (who had become leader of the Opposition,) Mr. Boultbee, Mr. Boulter, Mr. Rykert, Mr. Macdonald, of Leeds, and others. Mr. Macdonald said he was opposed to the principle of the bill, which was un-British, and moved the six months' hoist. Fourteen Conservatives voted for the hoist, against 50 in favour of the bill. The second reading was then carried, and the principle having thus been affirmed, Hon. Mr. Mowat, in the next session, made it a Government measure and it became law; not, however, without a parting protest from leader Cameron, who declared himself an out-and-out opponent of the principle of the measure.—Globe.

MR. WHITNEY'S GOOD ROADS POLICY.

Speaking at Port Hope Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition, said: "The Opposition offer the people nothing but good intentions."

The proverb says that a certain torrid spot is "paved with good intentions." Contributing another layer of pavement to this roasting region seems to be the extent of Mr. Whitney's good roads policy.

He opposed the good roads policy of the Liberal Government.

He also gave it to be understood at Port Hope, that if, at the coming elections the people did not support his return to power, they would be guilty of a more "henious crime" than even making a land grant to the Algoma Central Railway and would be qualified, (politically, of course,) to go to — where these "good intentions" are said to be used as paving material.

Electors of Ontario be warned. If you don't return Mr. Whitney to power, stand by and look out for squalls.

Such nonsense paragraphs may be absurd but not one whit(ney) more absurd than the claim, made in all seriousness, that chaos would come if the electors did not place Mr. Whitney in power at the next elections.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Months ago Mr. Whitney told us he had a policy, but declined to produce it for fear the Government would appropriate it. Now, inquires the Globe, that the entire Cabinet has gone west, would it not be quite safe to give the policy a little preliminary canter?

People are not generally, says the Kingston Whig, dismissed from service when they are doing well. On the contrary, old servants are usually esteemed. The Ross Government is not going to be dismissed simply because it has been thirty years in power. Faithfulness to a great trust ought not to count to a Government's discredit; nor will it. Ontario people have not taken leave of their senses.

Terribly Sad Fatal Accident.

Wingham, April 12.—A sad and fatal accident happened on Wednesday afternoon in Turnberry, not far from Bluevale. Arthur Magee and his son James, aged about 14, were engaged burying a large boulder. The hole had been dug, and the boy was in it, making it a little deeper, his father standing nearby. Suddenly the stone moved, slipped into the hole and crushed the life out of the unfortunate boy. Almost frantic with grief, the father was obliged to dig his son out.

"Very Remote" Chance.

London, April 12.—There is still a possibility that the discussion of the budget will be again postponed. Last night Mr. Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons, announced in the course of business that there was a "very remote" chance of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, being sufficiently recovered to deal with the budget.

AGRICULTURAL ESTIMATES.

Hon. Mr. Fisher Reviews the Work of His Department—The Canadian Northern Railway Bill Discussed.

Ottawa, April 12.—The estimates of the Agricultural Department were considered in Committee of Supply yesterday, and after some six hours' discussion two items, aggregating $240,000, passed. Hon. Mr. Fisher gave an interesting account of the operations of his department during the year. An attack was made by the Opposition upon Mr. W. A. McKinnon, Chief Fruit Inspector, and cold-storage on Canadian steamships, chicken-fattening stations and cheese-curing rooms also formed subjects for criticism.

Mr. Benjamin Russell introduced his bill to amend the criminal code, 1892.

Upon motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Loy, the newly-elected member for Beauharnois, was placed upon the committees of private bills, printing, public accounts and agriculture.

The Knapp Tubular Steamship Company and the act to incorporate the Crown Bank of Canada were read a third time and passed.

The Canadian Northern.

In the evening the Canadian Northern Railway bill was taken up in committee. Mr. F. W. McCreary objected to the bill, saying it was without precedent. It had been stated in the committee that the line would be 2,500 miles long. In his opinion rights were being granted for twice that length of line. It was simply a blanket charter. If it was the policy of the Government to grant such charters it was time it was known. He objected, too, to some of the proposed branch lines, saying that they started from any one place to any other place. One branch was proposed between Beaver Lake to Sullivan Lake. As there were probably 50 Beaver Lakes and 50 Sullivan Lakes in the west, it was easy to see how indefinite the clause was. Mr. McCreary said that he understood the conditions of the bill would increase the liability of the Province of Manitoba, incurred by the guarantee clauses of the act ratified last session. He asked to have the clause providing for the construction of a branch line near Edmonton amended, as it gave a range of 400 miles for for the selection of a starting point and 600 miles for a terminal. He also thought the capitalization clauses in the bill should be closely looked into. Dr. Sproule pointed out that the capital clause, as finally amended, provided that the liability of the Province should not be increased. Hon. Jas. Sutherland also thought that there was nothing in the bill which could possibly increase Manitoba's responsibility. Mr. McCreary argued that the Edmonton branch was simply intended to prevent other roads being constructed. The bill was talked out, and the House resumed supply at 9 o'clock.

Discussion on the agricultural items was continued until 11.45, when the House adjourned.

TROOPS FOR IRELAND.

Ten Battalions of English and Scotch Militia To Be Sent.

London, April 12.—A despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Dublin says that ten battalions of English and Scotch militia are to be embodied and sent to Ireland within a month in pursuance of the British Government's determination to apply the coercion act. The correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette understands that Lord Londonderry, the Postmaster-General, threatened to resign from the Cabinet unless active measures were taken to circumvent the United Irish League.

A Terrible Case of Eczema

Powley's Liquified Ozone Works Miracles With Vincent O'Neill of Toronto.

He Was Treated in St. Michael's Hospital Without Improvement.

No. 1. Taken February 28, 1901. when suffering from Eczema.

Vincent O'Neill, 108 Mitchell Ave., Toronto, Canada, a lad aged sixteen years, first came to the attention of our Toronto office about February 28, 1901. He was then suffering from an aggravated case of Eczema, (Lupus Erythematosis), involving the entire right side of the face, both eyes and lips. The affected parts were a mass of incrusted matter, discharging profusely, the appearance being so offensive that it was difficult to remain in the room with him. He reported as follows: The discharge began about the spring of 1899, and steadily became worse. He entered St. Michael's Hospital early in October, 1900, and remained there under treatment three months and a half, until January 27, 1901, without improvement, and was then discharged from the hospital. A month later he came to us.

Powley's Liquified Ozone was administered internally and as a local dressing in strength 1-4, gradually increasing to equal parts. The improvement was observed almost at once; the discharge gradually ceased the general health improved, and at the end of twelve weeks, his face was perfectly clear. He is now entirely well. The above photographs tell the tale better than mere words. We refer you to him.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER'S STATEMENT.

That there may be no question that the photos numbered 1 and 2 are genuine and reproduce faithfully O'Neill's features before and after taking Powley's Liquified Ozone we present herewith the solemn declaration of Mr. Fred Micklethwaite, Photographer, 11 King Street, W., Toronto, that they are absolutely as he made them. They have not been retouched in any way and represent one and the same person, namely Vincent O'Neill.

I, FRED MICKLETHWAITE, of the City of Toronto, in the county of York, Photographer, do solemnly declare that on or about the 28th day of February, 1901, the boy Vincent O'Neill was brought to my studio, and that photograph No. 1 is a correct portrait of the condition of his face, that photograph No. 2 was taken June 12th, 1901, and is a correct representation of the condition of his face at that time. That both the photos, Nos. 1 and 2 represent the same boy, and are not retouched in any way. I understand that his recovery is due solely to the use of Powley's Liquified Ozone, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force an effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893.

FRED MICKLETHWAITE.

Declared before me at the City of Toronto, in the County of York, this 27th day of Aug. in the year of our Lord, 1901. {SEAL} JAMES J. WARREN, Commissioner, Etc., Temple Bldg.

WHAT HIS FOREMAN SAYS:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: July 12th, 1901.

Vincent O'Neill is in my employ and is the young man that was cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone. He is well and works every day, and is free from his former serious face trouble.

Signed, W. D. VARRY, Foreman Tin Department, Gurney Foundry Co., Toronto.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is stable oxygen. It supplies the body with this element. It is blood food—purifying and healthening that function. It cures all forms of skin trouble, makes a pure clear complexion. Its life-giving and invigorating action is simply marvelous. The uses of Ozone are as varied as those Nature makes of it. It is the greatest discovery of the age Ozone is life.

DR. PITCHER CURES A TORONTO TOBACCONIST.

Mr. C. F. Helmkay, the Proprietor of the "New Century Cigar Store," 94 Queen St. East, Cured of Acute Kidney Trouble.

He Is Strong in His Endorsation of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

There are not a few people in the eastern portion of Toronto who know Mr. C. F. Helmkay, who keeps the New Century Cigar Store at 94 Queen street east. Hundreds who do not know him personally are at least acquainted with his place of business. For some time past Mr. Helmkay has been a victim of kidney complaint in its most acute form, and every remedy he tried seemed to be of no avail to cure him.

MR. C. F. HELMKAY.

He heard that Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets were curing cases of severe kidney complaint that other remedies seemed unable to benefit, and in consequence he decided to try them. The results were simply marvelous. A few bottles of Dr. Pitcher's Tablets soon removed every trace of the distressing kidney trouble and made Mr. Helmkay feel like a new man. When interviewed about his case, Mr. Helmkay gladly gave the following particulars:

"Yes," said he, "I suffered from kidney trouble in the most acute and tenacious form, and can never be thankful enough for what Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets did for me."

"What were the symptoms of your complaint?"

"Well, I had a terrible pain across the small of my back, an irritable condition of the bladder that caused much suffering. My appetite was poor, and when I did eat anything it gave me great distress."

"Had you been troubled that way for any length of time?"

"Yes; for some considerable time. Of course I took all sorts of remedies, hoping to be cured, but kept getting worse all the time."

"Then you say it was Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that cured you?"

"I most certainly do. I think Dr. Pitcher's Tablets are the only remedy in the world for kidney troubles. This statement may seem extravagant, but I have gone the rounds of all the advertised kidney medicines, and Dr. Pitcher's was the only one that touched the spot and cured me."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the formula of Zina Pitcher, M.D., formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich. They are the most effective, scientific treatment for backache, lame or weak back, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, dizziness, mist before the eyes, bloating, gravel, stone in the bladder, high coloured urine, sediment, scalding or smarting, irritability of the bladder, frequent calls during the day or night, rheumatism, pains in the joints or muscles, uric acid in the blood, kidney troubles of women, bed-wetting of children, and all forms of kidney, bladder, or urinary troubles of young or old.

There is no other remedy so good as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They are chocolate coated, small in size, and easy to take, and every dose helps the cure.

Price 50 cents a bottle, or three bottles for $1.25; at all druggists, or sent by mail by addressing the Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

We Are Not Alarmists!

Would Simply Direct Your Attention to Serious Symptoms Experienced by Thousands.

THEY TRULY INDICATE TERRIBLE AND DEADLY KIDNEY DISEASE.

Paine's Celery Compound

Has Cured the Most Desperate Cases and Will Assuredly Banish Your Trouble.

While we would not play the part of alarmists, and seek to frighten people by declaring that a large majority of them are already victims of kidney diseases, and liable to be hurried into untimely graves by them, still the very noticeable increase of kidney diseases in recent years, and their virulent power, is a subject that is constantly engaging the attention of the ablest medical investigators.

Have you pain in the small of the back, of dull, dragging nature, but often acute and severe? Is the urine in a disordered state, sometimes, pale in colour and very copious, at other times high coloured and scanty, with brick sediment or with settling of mucous, offensive and foul smelling? Have you a general feeling of lassitude and weakness? Do you recognize the fact that you are unable to perform the same amount of mental or physical work that you got through with months ago?

Any one of the symptoms mentioned point unmistakeably to deadly kidney disease in some form. Do not delay until it is too late. If you value life, begin this very day with Paine's Celery Compound; it is your only hope of success and safety. By the use of this wonderful remedy, tens of thousands are now enjoying perfect health who once were victims of treacherous kidney diseases. Read carefully the testimony of Mr. W. Davidson, Oliver street Quebec: he says:

"It is with pleasure and gratitude I refer to your Paine's Celery Compound, and the wonderous blessings I received from its use. I had suffered for years from kidney and liver troubles and indigestion, and I decided to give Paine's Celery Compound a thorough testing. After a fair use of the Compound I am as well as ever I was, and all my troubles have disappeared. Your medicine is a wonderful one; it is far superior to all others, as it truly gives new life."

Tell Me Somebody

Who Wants to Get Well.

Let Me Tell Him My Way. I Will Pay the Cost, if it Fails.

I want not a penny from you.

All I ask is the name of a sick one—simply a postal, stating which book I shall send.

I wish to explain a treatment that I spent a lifetime in learning. Then let the sick one decide if he wants it.

If he tries it, and it fails, I will pay every penny of the cost.

I will do this at the start;

I will send the sick one an order on his or her druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will tell that druggist to let him test it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. I will leave the decision to you.

Don't misjudge my offer, for I do just as I say.

I leave the matter to your honour. You could cheat me, if you would; but I trust you. I ask in return your confidence. There is no possible way in which I could be unfair with you.

In the past five years, I have furnished my treatment to over half a million people in just this way. My records show that 39 in each 40 paid for it, thereby admitting that it did what I claim. That means that 39 in each forty are cured.

This remarkable record results from the fact that I have learned how to strengthen the inside nerves.

I do not doctor the organ that is weak. But I bring back the nerve power which makes that organ act. I give it the strength to do its duty—nerve strength.

I know from a vast experience that in most chronic diseases there is no other way to get well. With any other remedy, the plan which I offer would bankrupt the man who made it.

Yet it cannot always succeed. Some of these troubles have causes, like cancer, which no man can cure. But those conditions are rare; and when a failure occurs, I alone am the loser. The patient is at least as well as he was, and not a penny the poorer.

If a man promised you wealth without the risk of a penny, how quick you would grasp it!

I promise you health; how much better is that!

Won't you merely write me about it?

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

HASTY CABINET CALL

Suggests That a Report Has Been Received From Kitchener.

THE KLERKSDORP CONFERENCE

Boer Representatives Deliberated on Ending the War on Wednesday and Thursday—No Communications With Outsiders Was Allowed—Speculation As to the Chances of Peace Is Hopeful

London, April 12.—Summonses were issued last evening for a Cabinet meeting to-day. This circumstance started a fresh crop of rumors to the effect that the Government had received a despatch from Lord Kitchener on the subject of the peace negotiations after Mr. Brodrick's statement in the House of Commons during the afternoon.

Should the Boers taking part in the conference decide in favor of opening peace negotiations, they will submit their proposals to Lord Kitchener, who has been instructed to forward them immediately to the Government.

Inquiries made last night at the War Office elicited the statement that that office knew nothing about the rumors of peace or the alleged telegram of Lord Roberts to Dover, in which he was reported to have said the war was over.

In the House of Commons at midnight last night, A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, replying to a question asked by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House, declared that the Government had no information concerning the peace rumors, and that there was no foundation for them.

Mr. Balfour's denial of the peace rumors was very emphatic. He said: "We have no information at all, nor, in the nature of things, could there be any."

The sudden calling of a Cabinet meeting, and the fact that King Edward rather unexpectedly terminated his cruise yesterday in order to return to London, convinces people that something important is pending, and has led to the most extraordinary rumors.

Among other things, it is reported that Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, has resigned. This is quite untrue. Mr. Chamberlain was suffering from a chill yesterday, but he expects to attend the Cabinet meeting to-day.

That the fighting continues in South Africa is shown by a casualty list given out yesterday, which contains the names of a few of the killed and wounded in an engagement which occurred at three separate points as late as the eighth and ninth of April.

Preparations here continue for the dispatch of 20,000 additional troops for the winter campaign. Lord Roberts yesterday inspected the first draft of the Guards, which will sail for South Africa next week.

PEACE CONFERENCES.

Transvaal and Free State Representatives Deliberate on Ending the War.

Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, April 11.—The representatives of the Orange Free State and the Transvaal Government had conferences yesterday afternoon and to-day. The deliberations were confined to the delegates, and no communication with outsiders was allowed.

On Wednesday, the approach of President Steyn and Generals Dewet and Delarey, with their staffs, who (as already cabled), arrived here at noon that day, was signalized at 11 o'clock a.m., by the arrival of a flag of truce at an outpost. An officer, with an escort, was sent out, and the President and the two generals rode into Klerksdorp in Cape carts.

The Orange Free State envoys were accompanied by Judge Hertzog, Commandant Olivier and six other persons. General Delarey had with him his secretary and a dozen Boers.

The Free State representatives are quartered in the old town. General Delarey joined the Transvaal party in the new town. A conference tent was pitched midway between the two towns, and free communication was permitted the Boer delegates; but they were suitably guarded.

Considerable Parleying.

London, April 12.—From Government sources the Associated Press ascertains that the peace negotiations are not expected to come to a conclusion so quickly as yesterday morning's premature reports indicated. The belief also exists in circles intimate with the Boer leaders on the Continent, who maintain that no peace can be arrived at unless the British grant some form of amnesty to the Cape rebels. Whether this contention will prove well founded or otherwise is only a matter of conjecture; but it appears certain that the Boers will hold out till all expedients of negotiation are exhausted, in an endeavor to gain this point. Some of those who are in close touch with South Africa believe that ten days may elapse before a definite conclusion is reached. In the meanwhile, the presence of such representative Boers at Klerksdorp, and other factors, creates an all-around hopeful feeling. This was reflected on the Stock Exchange yesterday in the advances of consols and Kaffirs.

War Office Silent.

London, April 12.—The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, informed the House of Commons yesterday that the Government had received no communication from the Boer leaders regarding the terms of peace, and said that no armistice would be granted during the absence of the Boer leaders from their commands.

Mr. Brodrick was asked if Lord Kitchener had been authorized to offer any terms of peace besides unconditional surrender. He replied: "I am not in a position to make any statement, nor am I able to add anything to my statement of yesterday regarding the conference between the Boers."

The despatch appearing in The Financier and Bullionist is not confirmed from any other quarter. The editor of the paper says several words of the code message received were vague, but he believes his general interpretation of the despatch to be correct.

Hamilton on the Spot.

Klerksdorp, Transvaal, April 11.—Gen. Ian Hamilton has arrived here to direct the operations against Gen. Delarey.

Trooper Patterson Dead.

Ottawa, April 12.—The Governor-General has received a cablegram dated Cape Town, April 8, announcing the death of Trooper James Arthur Patterson of the South African Constabulary, who was reported on April 8 to be dangerously ill of enteric fever at Pretoria. Trooper Patterson died on Tuesday last. His father is Mr. Patterson of 318 Berkeley street, Toronto. His illness was announced by cable two days ago.

MAJOR WILLIAMS SELECTED.

Given Command of One of the Fourth Contingent Regiments.

Ottawa, April 12.—The rumors of peace in South Africa have not affected the plans of The Militia Department for raising and equipping the fourth contingent. Preparations for the mobilization of the force proceeded yesterday with unabated vigor. Indeed, the impression in official circles is that, even should peace be proclaimed, the contingent will be despatched to South Africa, as originally intended. It is believed that a fresh force of 2,000 well appointed and well mounted men will be welcomed as substitutes for an equal number of the war-worn veterans now in the field, who will need to be returned home as soon as possible to recuperate. The only apprehension felt as to the effect of the conclusion of peace is that it will dampen the enthusiasm of the officers and men to enlist.

The Minister of Militia, in consultation during yesterday afternoon with Major-General O'Grady - Haly, in regard to the choice of commanding officers for the fourth contingent, it was announced that Major Williams of the R.C.D., Toronto, had been given the command of one of the regiments of the new force. It was not learned who will command the other three. Major Williams is a son of the late Col. Williams of Port Hope, and was out with the second contingent.

In corroboration of the belief that the contingent will be raised and forwarded to South Africa, even if peace be concluded, Hon. Dr. Borden mentioned last night that he had just received a cablegram from the War Office, stating that the funds to pay for the equipment and outfitting of the contingent were being forwarded.

The names of the officers selected to command the four regiments will be sent to the War Office for approval, but, pending receipt of the Imperial sanction, it is possible that officers of the permanent force will be sent down to Halifax to begin the work of organization.

Gordon Did Confess.

Brandon, Man., April 12.—It is now positively known that Walter Gordon has confessed to the double crime of murdering Smith and Daw at Whitewater. A written confession, signed by Walter Gordon on April 7, has been in the possession of Rev. Mr. Henry, the accused murderer's spiritual adviser, since that, and has now been made public.

Triple Alliance Renewed.

Berlin, April 12.—The conference held in Vienna by Count Von Buelow, the German Imperial Chancellor, ended in a decision that the triple alliance shall be renewed for another term of years. This news reached Berlin from Vienna last night.

Ladies and gentlemen who take Miller's Compound Iron Pills always grow younger in appearance and spirits. Sold by all druggists.

A Strong Statement.

When a mother puts a thing emphatically it is because she knows what she is talking about. Mrs. J. F. Harrigan, Huntingdon, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets in our house for over a year, and I can say that they are all that is claimed for them."

Strong Endorsation.

Mrs. Walter Brown, Milby, Que., says:—"I have never used any medicine for my baby that did him as much good as Baby's Own Tablets. I would not be without them."

A Mother's Comfort.

"I have found Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine for children of all ages," writes Mrs. H. H. Fox, Orange Ridge, Man., "and I would not be without them in the house. They are truly a comfort to baby and mother's friend."

Just The Thing for Baby.

Mrs. Ed. Jones, 25 Christie street, Ottawa, says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and find them just the thing for baby."

Satisfactory Results.

Mrs. Hunt, Dumfries, N. B., says:—"I am glad to say that I have used Baby's Own Tablets with satisfactory results."

Free to Mothers Only.

To every mother of young children who will send us her name and address plainly written on a postal card, we will send free of all charge a valuable little book on the care of infants and young children. This book has been prepared by a physician who has made the ailments of little ones a life study. With the book we will send a free sample of Baby's Own Tablets—the best medicine in the world for the minor ailments of infants and children. Mention the name of this paper and address The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Great Help.

"I have found Baby's Own Tablets a great help for my little ones," writes Mrs. James Clarke, 40 Conway street, Montreal, "and I think so much of them that I would advise mothers to keep them in the house all the time."

An Experienced Mother.

"I am the mother of nine children," writes Mrs. John Hanlan, of Mackey's Station, Ont., "and have had occasion to use some medicine for children, and I can truthfully say I have never found anything to equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are prompt in their action and just the thing for little ones."

A Cure for Constipation.

Many little ones are troubled with constipation and it is a dangerous trouble. Mrs. John Keating, Sylvan Valley, Ont., says:—"My baby has been badly troubled with constipation and I have never found any medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets. They soon put baby all right."

Surprising Results.

Mrs. William Fitzgibbon, Steenburg, Ont., says:—"My little baby, six months old, was very sick. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and was surprised to find the change they made in him in a few hours. I shall always keep the Tablets in the house after this."

Town of Whitby Wins.

Toronto, April 12.—Five more judgments were handed out yesterday by the Court of Appeal, among them was the following:

Whitby v. G.T.R., action by the town of Whitby to recover damages from the Railway Company for the removal of its car shops from the town. The Midland Railway Company, since absorbed by the Grand Trunk, had agreed, in return for assistance from the town, to establish carshops there. At the trial the town won, but as a result of yesterday's judgment it gets but a questionable advantage. The Court of Appeal finds the plaintiff's contention that the Railway Company could not remove the workshops was correct, but nothing precluded the discontinuance of work therein. The court directs a reference to the Local Master at Whitby to ascertain the damages upon payment of costs up to and including this judgment.

Pardon For Prentice.

Ottawa, April 12.—Arthur Prentice, a young English lad, five years ago was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a farmer in Western Ontario. Prentice had a quarrel with a neighboring farmer's son over a rabbit, which Prentice said belonged to him. The farmer took up the row with Prentice, and the lad shot him. The death sentence was changed to imprisonment for life, and now a pardon has been granted Prentice. There were extenuating circumstances in the first place, and a favorable report from the judge. Prentice has got friends in England, and he was released at Kingston Penitentiary yesterday, and forwarded to them.

The Cat.

An English clergyman the other day preached to the prisoners of Wormwood Scrubbs prison in support of the Church Society For the Promotion of Kindness to Animals. He announced that the cat was pre-eminently the friend of the poor man and further stated that it was specially deserving of consideration because it was weaker than man, was useful to man and could feel like man.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

At a meeting Friday the Montreal Stock Exchange voted to create five more additional seats, to be disposed of at an upset price of $20,000 apiece.

William Magee, one of Hamilton's oldest residents, died at his home Friday afternoon. He was 85 years of age, and had lived in Hamilton over 50 years.

The Halifax longshoremen's strike was settled yesterday. The steamship agents agree to recognize the union, pay 20c. per hour a day, 25c. a night, and double time for holidays and Sundays.

Lord Mount-Stephen, the former president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has given $30,000 to the Royal Infirmary at Aberdeen. He had previously paid off a debt of £25,000 on that institution.

At Leadville, Col., John Sullivan committed suicide Friday by drinking three ounces of carbolic acid. Sullivan accidentally swallowed a $20 gold piece several weeks ago. This depressed him so that he ended his life.

The attendance at the Toronto Horse Show Friday morning and evening was a little on the slim side, but in the evening, it exceeded all expectations of the management. The scene even surpassed that of the previous evening, in point of brilliancy.

W. J. Dennis was on Friday found guilty of obtaining money by false pretences from his late partner, Daniel O'Leary, Cobourg. He was also found guilty on the charge of stealing a quantity of silk from L. F. Clarry. The prisoner was sentenced to nine months in the Central Prison.

One of Toronto's oldest and most respected citizens passed away Friday, in the person of James Bellingham Boustead, at his residence, 541 Jarvis street. The deceased was identified during his lifetime with nearly every movement in the interests of the city.

Digestion Without a Stomach.

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed, proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the Kidneys, Liver and intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter.

Exposure Killed Him.

St. Thomas, April 12.—Orlando Preffer, a well known resident of Yarmouth Township, died yesterday morning at the Amasa Wood Hospital, aged 60 years. It will be remembered that the deceased, a few weeks ago, lay out all night in a swamp near Sparta and his hands and feet were severely frozen.

Talmage's Condition.

Washington, April 12.—According to the 11 o'clock statement of the physicians there is no marked change in the condition of Dr. Talmage last night. If anything he was resting a trifle easier, but his condition is very critical.

The Miss Jessie N. Maclachan Concert.

The New York Press has the following regarding Miss Maclachlan's appearance in that city:

"Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan, the Scottish prima donna, who sang for the first time in America last Tuesday, scored a perfect triumph. . . . Miss Maclachlan's fame in the British Isles, has been heralded here, and the audience certainly expected a great deal. Her superb rendition of her first numbers was not unexpected. Again and again the singer came out flower laden and bowed response to thrice repeated encores, and in vain. A long song with quaint refrain was generously given, and then another, before at a late hour, the audience could let her go"

An opportunity will be given the Peterborough public to hear this gifted singer in the opera house, on Tuesday evening, April 22nd. Reserved seat tickets, 50c; and a limited number of seats in the raise 75c. Secure your tickets now; for sale at the Examiner office, Peterborough Bookstore, Alex. Gibson's and Ormond & Walsh's drug store. Plan will be opened at 2 o'clock on Wednesday at Ormond & Walsh's.

NEWS NUGGETS.

GREAT SUCCESS OF THE "STARS."

A Large Audience Splendidly Entertained Last Night

THE AMATEUR MINSTRELS.

Exceptionally Good Talent Participated in an Excellently Rendered Programme in the Opera House.

The entertainment which was provided last evening, in the opera house by the Star Minstrels, a local organization, was patronized by the biggest house of the season and proved hugely enjoyable. The programme was run off without a hitch and rivalled anything ever put on the stage here by either amateur or professional aggregations. The singing in the first part of the programme was a surprise to the major portion of the audience, few of whom were aware that the town possessed such exceptionally good talent in the way of coon-song artists. From the moment the first notes of the Hidden Chorus were heard until the curtain dropped the Star Minstrels were in close touch with their audience. Nothing dragged and there were no waits between numbers. It was three hours of solid fun. The jokes were all new and the crowd was kept in good humour from start to finish. The opera house should be filled to the doors again this evening as any who had the pleasure of seeing the "Stars" last night cannot but give the boys a most hearty recommendation, as being capable of putting on a most humourous and refined entertainment.

At the conclusion of the singing of a hidden chorus, last evening, the curtain rose on a prettily decorated stage, Mr. Walter E. Wesley, as interlocutor, sitting under a canopy in the centre of a half circle of artists. On either side of him sat Masters Carl and Frank Halpany, prettily attired as Pages. The end men were Messrs. J. H. Halpany and Joe Guerin, tambos, and Messrs. R. Heideman and Sam Houlihan, bones. Their jokes and exchanges of repartee with the interlocuter were of the wittiest possible nature and kept the crowd in roars of laughter between the songs. The first portion of the programme was given as appended:

Hidden Chorus .... Company
"Down Where the Cotton Blossoms Grow" ... ... W. E. Wesley
"Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder" ... ...Walter Maguire
"I Ain't Goin' to Weep no More" ..... Sam Houlihan
"When You Were Sweet Sixteen" ..... Bruce Hutchinson
"My Ebony Lady" ... ...Bob Heideman
"The Rose My Mother Wore" .... Bert. Turner
"Ain't It a shame" ... ... Joe Guerin
"Don't be Ashamed to Come Back Home" ... ...Harry Milne
"Tiger Lily" ....Joe Halpany
"Every Race has a Flag but the Coon" Masters Carl and Frank Halpany

It was the individual popularity of the boys which drew the big crowd to the opera house, but as the different numbers on the programme were given the delight and enthusiasm increased and encores were demanded quick and fast, while applause was meted out to the artists between every verse of their respective songs. Each and every number is deserving of special recognition, but the same thing would have to be said of all of them—they were faultlessly given and were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. Special mention should, perhaps, be made of Master Deacon, of Ottawa, who is visiting in town and who kindly contributed a vocal solo to the programme. He sang the "Palms" in a manner which was a revelation to those present. Masters Carl and Frank Halpany's duet was also a very popular number.

The second part of the programme was opened with a talk by Jack Robinson, "The man that discovered chain-lightning." It was evident that he did more than merely discover chain-lightning for by the way he talked it was easy guessing that he had attached the chain-lightning to the end of his tongue for such an address as he gave was never heard before on any stage. Earl N. Weaver proved himself a wonder in his banjo specialties. The audience was delighted with him as evidenced by his many recalls to the stage. Sam Houlihan and Joe Guerin showed that they have forgotten none of their cunning in buck and wing dancing and both introduced a number of new and effective steps. Will Dundass cleverly played a number of tunes on graded tumblers and also on the piccolo. His baton turn was a good one and very neatly done. Master Carl Halpany's newsboy sketch was a very popular number. He sang "I'm Tired" in connection with the sketch in a very pleasing manner. Albert Doidge gave a very fine exhibition of his cleverness on the slack wire. Mr. Joe Halpany as "the leading lady from the Haymarket" was the king-pin of them all. His song could scarcely be heard on account of the shrieks of laughter which his excruciatingly funny representation evoked. The accompaniments during the evening were most ably played by Mr. Will Staples on a Stanley piano.

Y. M. C. A. Banquet.

Members are asked to secure their tickets at once for the annual members' banquet on Thursday evening, April 17th. Mrs. Hamilton, convenor of the Banquet Committee, for the Auxiliary, wishes to meet all members of the committee on Tuesday at 3 p.m. Any ladies who usually assist in contributions of provisions, and who may have been omitted in the canvas, are asked to send in refreshments on the day of the banquet.

Nurses to be Sanitary Inspectors.

The Common Council of Buffalo, N. Y., have passed an ordinance, by which the nurses engaged in district work, are made Sanitary Inspectors, to serve without compensation. These nurses are known in the Buffalo Nurses' Association as the Sanitary Aid Committee. They have power to inspect tenement houses and will interest themselves in the work of the Consumers' League. The women upon whom this honour has been conferred are Miss Annie Sawer, Miss Anna Bean, Miss Alice Myers. Miss Adelaide Colegrove and Miss Agnes S. Bell.—The American Journal of Nursing.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

Prof. Shortt of Queen's University Delivered an Interesting Address.

A meeting of the Fortnightly Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. last night, the feature of the evening being the address on Trusts by Professor Shortt, Professor of Political Economy in Queen's University, Kingston.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Sheriff Hall, the chair was occupied by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, the Secretary of the club. The attendance for various reasons, was not as large as it might have been, but the address by Prof. Shortt was most interesting. It was delivered without the aid of notes and much valuable information was given his hearers upon the subject he had in hand. He said that it was well that the matter should be thoughtfully considered before it found its way into party politics. He then proceeded to review the growth of Trusts, and the present methods of industry from the establishment of the first factory. There was a time when the factories competing against each other, cut one another's throats, with the result that the smaller of the factories went under. Within the past 25 years the factories combined on a large scale until they now control the entire trade of their respective lines. He reviewed the different forms through which these combinations had passed in the efforts of their promoters to escape the legislation that the various legislatures had enacted, with a view of preventing such combinations. First, there was the agreement amongst the capitalists known as "the Gentlemen's Agreement," which was in the nature of a private understanding, but it did not hold water. Then came the firm system, which was run on the principal of sharing the profits. This was followed by the pool system, and later what was known as Trusts. The latter system consisted in the handing over of all the factories into one management, which is governed by trustees, and the profits then divided amongst the factories in an agreed ratio, the directors of each concern in a town dividing the profits amongst their respective shareholders. The final step has in all probability been reached in the billion dollar steel corporation, which is not only a trust but a gigantic company that has absorbed all the old companies.

Speaking as to the evils of the system, Prof. Shortt said that while there were many disadvantages as far as the public was concerned, still there were also benefits. It resulted in great economy being practiced, more particularly in the matter of selling, and a large part of this saving accrues to the benefit of the consumers and the employees were better paid, so much so in fact that trade unions are beginning to form the first system.

At the conclusion of Prof. Shortt's address an opportunity was given for questions which elicited interesting discussion. In reply to questions from Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun, D. H. Burritt and R. F. McWilliams as to whether he thought the present tendancy would result in one gigantic trust that would control everything, the speaker of the evening thought that it would not from a socialistic stand-point but it might from an individualistic point of view. There is practically no limit to the possibilities of such corporations.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker on motion of Mr. H. D. Burnett, seconded by Mr. John Green.

There are still two meetings of the club to be held. Mr. H. D. Burnett will read a paper on April 29th, and Mr. D. O'Connel on May 6th.

TOO MUCH LIKE VAPO-CRESOLENE.

Toronto Company Declared to be Infringing Vapo-Cresoline.

The Vapo-Cresolene Company were plaintiffs in an action in the Non-Jury Assizes yesterday, in which they sought an injunction to prevent Jones and Company, of Toronto, from offering for sale their Carbo-Cres Vaporizer, put up in such a form as to lead people to believe that it was the same as that offered by the Vapo-Cresolene Company.

Judge Street ordered that a perpetual injunction restraining Jones & Co. from continuing to offer for sale the lamp and censer in question in such a manner as to lead purchasers to suppose that they were those sold by the Vapo-Cresolene Co., and particularly restraining them from putting up the goods in packages of a nature to lead the public into error as to the origin of the goods. Jones & Co. were also ordered to pay plaintiffs' costs, and if demanded by plaintiff to submit to an examination by the Master in Chancery of the profits made by them upon the sale of these articles in order that it might be determined what they ought to be adjudged to pay over to the Vapo-Cresolene Company. 1d

DENNIS SENTENCED.

W. J. Dennis, the Hastings merchant, who assigned for the benefit of his creditors and was afterwards arrested on a charge of stealing goods from the assignee, Mr. L. F. Clarry, barrister, was yesterday sentenced by His Honour Judge Benson at Cobourg, to nine months in the Central Prison. There were two charges against the prisoner, that of stealing goods from the assignee and of obtaining money under false pretences. He was found guilty on both charges and sentenced to nine months on the first charge and three months on the second, the terms to run concurrently. The mother was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

HARDSHIPS OF TOMMY ATKINS.

Wandsworth, S. W., England.

Gentlemen,—I am not much of a letter writer, but having seen how very useful Kelpion was to us on our long march, I think you are deserving of all the praise you can get. I am thankful to say that I never had much use for it myself but when I did have occasion I must say it was the best thing I had ever tried for sore feet and insect bites. Its praises were sung all over the camp. No matter what was wrong with a fellow, he was advised by chums to apply "Kelpion" and he would soon be all right. Our water bottles and our Kelpion were the two things treasured above all others in our marching kit. (Signed,) Pte. D. R. Price, No. 901, C. I. V.

A PRESENTATION.

Miss Maud Macfarlane, who leaves on the midnight C.P.R. train for South Africa to-night, was, last night at the conclusion of the preparatory services at St. Andrew's church, presented with a very handsome bible the gift of the church session. Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's, made a few remarks in which he spoke of the honour the session felt in having a member of the church about to engage in so noble a work as Miss Macfarlane was about to undertake. The service closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again."

Orders to Quit.

The sale of the T.O. Rush Clothing Co.'s Bankrupt Stock in the store next to the Bank of Toronto on George must be disposed of at once. The landlord is about to begin a complete remodelling of the premises, and the edict has gone forth that the balance of the stock must be closed out at the earliest possible moment. Deep cut slaughter prices will prevail throughout the entire stock. The sale has been a Phenomenal sale, but there still remains a splendid assortment in Men's, Youths' and Boys' Suits, Men's Pants, Shirts, Hats, Caps, etc. This will positively be the last chance for Bargains at this sale, and it will not be our fault if the balance of the stock is not sold, as we have decided to let it go at 64 1-2c on the dollar. NAVIGATION NOTES.

Mr. Maurice Lane of Lindsay, has been engaged as captain of the City of Peterborough for the coming season. The 'City" will be placed in service about May 1st. It is the intention of her owners to run a moonlight excursion twice a week during the full of the moon during the summer months.

The steamer Water-Lily arrived in port this morning on her first Saturday trip of the season. She had quite a few passengers.

The steamer Beaver was in port yesterday with a scow load of hogs for the George Matthews Co. The Beaver made her first Saturday trip of the season to-day.

Mr. J. Myers, formerly of the Str. Empress, of Lakefield, has been appointed chief engineer of the City of Peterborough, and Mr. Jas. Logan will be his assistant. They are two very popular appointments.

Capt. John Breen was in charge of the Steamer Water Lily to-day. Mr. Jim Tobin is acting as mate and Andy Young is engineer of the Lily.

The water in the Otonabee is very high at present.

Mr. Dan Foley and wife went down to Jubilee Point yesterday to put the house in order for the season. Dan expects a big business this summer.

Sunday Reading.

Don't forget your Sunday reading at the Peterborough Bookstore to-night. In addition to the usual attractive selections of daily, weekly, and illustrated papers, we have some rare snaps in books, worth coming for. A. H. Strattor & Co.

Seeds That Grow.

If you want reliable flower, field and garden seeds, you'll be safer to buy them right at home, from Ormond & Walsh's drug store. dw

PERSONALS.

Mr. L. F. Clarry, barrister, Hastings, is in town on business.

Mr. Thos. Eastwood of Buckhorn, has been in town for the last couple of days.

Miss Jennie Quinn, of Cobourg, is visiting her cousin, Miss Lizzie Quinn of Chemong.

Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Mrs. McAllister were in Toronto yesterday attending the Horse Show.

Master Redg. Deacon, of Ottawa, the phenomenal boy soprano will sing in St. John's church to-morrow morning and evening.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles went up to Toronto yesterday for the purpose of attending the Horse Show. Mr. Charles made no entries this year.

Mrs. T. H. Graham, who has been spending a pleasant month with Mr. Jas. McCreary, No. 11 Walton street, returned home to Smith's Falls, to-day.

Mr. George E. T. Sherry, of the Bank staff, Norwood, who was transferred to Indian Head a few days ago, has been promoted to the position of teller-accountant in the office at Yorkton, Assa.

The commencement exercises in connection with the Kingston General Hospital Training School for Nurses, are to be held on Monday evening next. Miss Gladys Owen of Peterborough, is a member of the class.

Capt. Maurice Lane, who has been appointed captain of the steamer City of Peterborough, was in town to-day. He returned to Bobcaygeon and will return about May 1st with Mrs. Lane, who will fill the position of stewardess of the "City."

Miss Emma Howden, of town, is one of the young ladies who will receive her diploma at the graduating exercises of the Kingston General Hospital on Monday evening. Miss Howden had the honour of ranking second in the class of this year, which has beaten all former records as to percentages at the graduating examinations of the Kingston General Hospital.

Hon. Pres.—B. F. Ackerman.
Pres.—Horace E. Ayers.
Vice-Pres.—Frederick Richardson.
Sec.—Bert Laing.
Capt.—Melville Robinson.
Treas.—Stewart Laing.
Manager—Edwin Daly.
Executive Committee—The officers and chairman of team committee.
Team Committee—Messrs. McGregor, Arnott, Greer, Metheral and Stanley Yelland.

The days for practice will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

GOLF.

The Executive Committee of the Golf Club has approved of the following rules which will govern the selection of the representatives teams for the coming season. The details of the rules are of interest to all players and the scheme will create quite a rivalry among the players, and give some good sport to the members in the early part of the season. The rules are:

1. The first team of the club shall consist of the ten members who in a contest as described in 3 open to all members, shall make the ten lowest scores in such contest, the one having the lowest score being the first, and so on.

2. The second team of the club shall consist of the fifteen members, who in a contest as described in 3 open to all members, shall make the fifteen lowest scores, excluding the ten scores which determine the first team; their positions on the team being decided by the scores, as in the first team.

3. The first contest each year to determine the composition of the first and second Club teams shall begin on the first Monday of May, and shall consist of one game of 18 holes, played each week for four consecutive weeks, by medal rules, the members being paired by the Captain and the Secretary by indiscriminate shuffling of the names of all members. The contest shall be decided in the case of all members by the best three out of the four games played.

4. The pairing of the members for each game shall be announced in the daily papers, not later than Friday prior to the week in which the game is to be played, and those who are unable to make engagements with the members selected will, by application to the Captain, or in the absence of the Captain, to the Secretary, be paired with such other members as are unable to play their appointed matches, and when necessary, the Captain and Secretary, may appoint a member to play a single game with any other member, but the same two members are not to be so appointed to play together for more than one game of the series. In case of rain on any Saturday of the four weeks, the week including each Saturday will be considered as extending through Monday of the following week.

5. The result of each week's contest shall be published in the daily papers of the following Tuesday, giving the names of the twenty-five members having the lowest scores, and given in the order of their excellence. The publication after the second game will give the 25 having the lowest scores, for the 36 holes played, and after the third game, the lowest scores covering the 54 holes; and after the fourth game the published list to include the 25 members having the best scores for the best three out of the four games played, this list to arrange the players in the order of their merit and to determine the teams, and each man's position therein. In case two or more players make the same gross score, such players shall each play within one week an additional game of 18 holes to decide their relative positions.

6. In playing all match games the players in each team shall take their positions as determined by the above contest, but the Captain may, at his discretion transfer a member temporarily to a lower position on the team, if such member so requests, due to any disability. In case the Captain is unable in any match game to get together a sufficient number of players belonging to the first team, he shall invite the players from the second team in the order of their rank on that team.

7. The second team shall elect their own Captain from among the members on their own team.

8. After the completion of the above contest any of the 25 qualified players may challenge the player next above him for his position on the team; rules of match play to govern; game to consist of 18 holes. The challenger shall deposit with the Secretary along with his challenge two balls of a kind to be named by the party challenged (one Haskell ball being considered equal to two of any other make), these balls to go to the challeged party in case he wins the game. One week is to be allowed for such a contest after the challenge is deposited with the Secretary. In case a member challenged fails to accept the challenge and play the game within the specified time, he shall forfeit his place to the challenger.

9. During the last three weeks in August another similar contest shall take place, conducted in like manner to the May contest, excepting that the gross scores for the entire three games of eighteen holes each shall be taken to determine each member's position on the teams.

10. Any member of the club, who at the time of either of the above contests is unable to play, may, with the consent of the Executive Committee, at any subsequent time challenge any member on either team for his position by depositing two balls, and he may take a position next above the challenged member, if in a contest of two consecutive games of eighteen holes each, by medal play, he defeat that member. If the challenger lose, the two balls shall go to the challenged member.

SCULLING.

The Canadian people will regret to learn that Mr. Jake Gaudaur, exchampion oarsman of the world, will probably be permanently prevented from taking part in future sculling races. This is the result of an accident received by Mr. Gaudaur while engaged in a curling contest during the past season, which the doctors claim will prohibit him from further work on the water. This is to be regretted as Jake had fully determined to go into training and try, if possible, to bring back to Canada the world's single scull championship.

THE WHEEL.

Nothing shows more plainly the decline of bicycle racing than the annual gathering of the C. W. A. which was held at Toronto on Godo Friday. It is a very few years since bands and banners made the city gay when the wheelmen came to town, and every part of the Dominion was represented. The contest for the various offices and the fight for the annual meet were earnest and picturesque, special trains from various cities bringing in the enthusiastic rooters from their native town. On Good Friday there were a score of delegates on hand, nearly all from Toronto. The officers were elected by acclamation, and the location of the annual meet overlooked. The convention had almost adjourned when one delegate happened to remember this piece of business and Toronto was named. And to think of the hundreds of dollars and the hundreds of thousands of words that in former years were expended in the annual efforts to secure the championship races.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 11th. Some railway dealings unfolding. As time runs on there are many railway deals of considerable magnitude gradually nearing completion. We believe there are several other sleeping Louisvilles in the market at present. One of them in our opinion is Miss. Pac., also its allied stocks that will go with it when the time comes. The shares that are interested in this case with Mop. are the Kt. issues, Tex. Pac., the Wabashes, Colo. Southern Denver and Riogrande. The Goulds and Rockefellers have these vast systems in their grip, and Gould is determined that the combine of the southwest will have an outlet to the Atlantic seaboard. The medium for this will undoubtedly be the Wabash and new line now being prepared and arranged for. The great railway combine of the southwest will shortly be heard from. The Vanderbilt and Penna. people are not idle either. The plans for further amalgamating the Vanderbilt lines are well under way, while the Penna. people are working day and night to accomplish their various consolidations and increase their grip upon their respective territories, also widening their sphere and influence. These things will all be heard from very shortly. Something is going on in the Atchison group and its allies, also in Rock Island. The outlook for a sensational market this spring is great. Union Pac. and Southern Pac. are in another corner of the market, where dealings will bear close watching. We expect to see U.P. sell higher than it did last year. We anticipate seeing Southern Pac. command par in the markets. Paul will ultimately build through to the Pacific. Its shares are always good, and likely to sell higher than ever before. In our opinion there will be no reason for complaint owing to the market inactivity. We anticipate a very lively spring in Wall street, and expect to see some very high prices recorded for good securities.

Home Testimony

Here are hosts of witnesses who bear testimony to the extraordinary curative powers of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. They are not people from foreign countries or distant provinces, but your own friends and neighbors right here at home, in the Town of Peterborough, people whom you rub shoulders with in shops and on the street. They are constituted much as you are, have the same joys and sorrows, suffer the same ills.

They don't speak from hearsay regarding Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but relate in simple, plain language actual facts from their own experience. They are earnest, grateful people, who have been sick and found relief and cure in this great presciption of Dr. Chase. Most of them have been disappointed with medicines in the past, many of them have given physicians every chance to cure them. Can you wonder at their willingness to give evidence in favour of a medicine which has proven itself so decidedly superior to all ordinary treatment?

The choice of a medical treatment is a serious matter to you. It is a matter of health, vigor and happiness, or sickness, weakness and misery. It may be a case of life or death. How can you better decide on the remedy best suited to your particular case than to judge from the experience of others? Study these letters. Investigate the cases most like yours. Call on these people personally, if possible. Ask them how they felt, what their symptoms were, and how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food benefited them.

We will forfeit $500.00 if these testimonials are not genuine.

Simcoe Street

Mrs. D. O'Connor, 276 Simcoe Street, States:

"My heart has given me a great deal of trouble lately. The least undue exertion affected it and brought on weakness and fainting spells. My nerves were also very unsteady, and I became so bad that I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which was highly recommended to me. Now I am happy to be able to say that I am completely restored to health. My nerves are strong and steady, the action of my heart regular and the dizzy spells have ceased to trouble me."

Sherbrooke Street

Mrs. J. Hatcher, 224 Sherbrooke Street Peterborough, Ont., and Whose Husband is a Moulder at the Hamilton Foundry, States:

"I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism which left me in a very run down state of health, and in fact my whole nervous system seemed exhausted and worn out. I could not sleep and at times the pains in my head were almost unbearable. As a result of these symptoms I was unable to attend to my housework, and felt miserable most of the time. On the advice of a friend I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that it has proved of very great benefit to me. I am able to do my own work now, and feel stronger and healthier than I have for years. I can truthfully state that this is due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I consider a great health builder."

Rubidge Street

Mrs. Cross, 148 Rubidge Street, Peterborough, Ont., States:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in my family, and have found it to be a great nerve builder. One of my children had been troubled with nervousness for a couple of years, and suffered greatly from dizzy, nervous headaches. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has entirely freed her of these symptoms, and today she is real strong and healthy. We do not loose an opportunity of recommending this splendid medicine."

Aylmer Street

Mrs. F. Turner, 336 Aylmer Street, Peterborough, Ont., and Whose Husband is Employed at the Hamilton Foundry, States:

"For some months past I found myself growing very nervous, and gradually becoming a victim of sleeplessness and subject to frequent attacks of nervous headache. About six weeks ago I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and cannot speak too highly of this medicine. I can sleep well now, the headaches have entirely disappeared, and I believe that my system generally has been very much improved by the use of this treatment."

Lake Street

Mrs. Geo. F. Brisbin, Lake Street, Peterborough, Ont., States:

"One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid, and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed about him, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long until we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better colour, and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along, under this treatment."

Charlotte Street

Mrs. D. Hobbins, 420 Charlotte Street, Peterborough, Ont., States:

"My daughter was troubled with a weak fluttering heart. The least excitement seemed to aggrivate her trouble, and at times she had severe racking headaches. She became so bad that it affected her nervous system, and she felt miserable most of the time. Through the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food her condition is entirely changed. Her nerves are steady, the headaches are gone and the action of her heart is strong and regular. We have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Reid Street

Mrs. B. J. Huffman, 265 Reid Street, Peterborough, Ont., and Whose Husband is Employed at the Canadian General Electric Works, States:

"For over a year I suffered with nervous headache and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do not bother me any more, and my system is entirely built up and restored."

Rubidge Street

Mrs. Smeaton, 181 Rubidge Street, Peterborough, Ont., and Whose Husband is Employed With the Canadian General Electric Co., States.

"My little son was very much run down in health, had no colour in his face, and was quite nervous. As his appetite was poor, and he seemed tired and listless, we became anxious about him and began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long before I noticed a marked change in his appearance. His appetite improved, his colour became better, and his health generally was very much better than it had been for a long time. I have much pleasure in adding my testimony to the hosts of others who are praising this medicine."

George Street

Mr. John Roszel, School Teacher, Living at 598 George Street, Peterborough, Ont., States.

"As a remedy for nervousness and nervous dizzy headaches, I consider Dr. Chase's Nerve Food excellent. I was troubled a great deal with headache, and my system was pretty well run down, but the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made a radical change in my condition. My nerves have become strong and healthy, the headaches have entirely disappeared, and I believe that the credit is entirely due to this preparation."

McDonel Street

Mrs. Nicholls, 227 McDonel Street, Peterborough, Ont., States:

"Any one who suffered as I did with nervous, sick headaches and pains in the back of the head can appreciate my feelings now when I say that I am entirely free from this trouble. The credit for this cure is due to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I began to use some time ago. I have no hesitation in recommending the Nerve Food to anyone suffering as I did."

Hunter Street

Mr. J. Law, 247 Hunter Street, Peterborough and who is Employed With the Peter Hamilton Co., States:

"For a long time I was troubled with severe splitting headaches and suffered a great deal with pains in the region of my heart, caused no doubt by indigestion. I procured a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and began this treatment. Since using this preparation for some time I can say that I feel quite different, and my health is very much improved. My digestion is good, and the headaches and pains about the heart have not troubled me at all of late. I can sincerely recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a thorough cure for nervous dyspepsia and its accompanying symptoms."

Sophia Street

Mr. Harold Crane, Sophia Street, Peterborough, Ont., and who is Employed in Hall's Store, States:

"I believe the close confinement of shop work was responsible for my becoming very nervous, and as a natural result I did not sleep and at times had severe attacks of splitting headaches. I heard of the good results obtained by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to try it. I can now say that I am more than pleased with the results, as it has benifitted me very much. It built up my system, restored my nerves, and I am now entirely free from headaches. I have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

For every symptom and every ailment which is the result or accompaniment of exhausted nerqes or thin, watery blood, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a positive, thorough and reliable cure. It is a tonic and is gentle laxative, regulating perfectly the action of the digestive organs and building up the system by instilling new richness into the blood and new vigor into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. Fifty Cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Bell Telephone Bill in Committee of the Senate.

CLAIMS OF COMPANY STATED

Motion to Postpone Till Next Session Defeated—Senator Miller's Amendment the Same as Those Offered Against the Bill of Last Year—Bill Will Be Taken Up Again on Wednesday.

Ottawa, Ont., April 12.—The Bell Telephone Company's bill came up before the Senate Railway Committee yesterday. The bill asked for power to increase the capital stock of the company. Mr. C. S. Sise, president of the Bell Telephone Company, was heard on behalf of the promoters, and explained that the capital stock of the company was now $5,000,000. All that money was expended and for the past two years the company has been borrowing money. The company started with a capital of $5,000,000, which has gradually increased until it now amounts to $5,000,000. There were 50,000 subscribers and all the money subscribed had been paid out. The demands of the company were growing, and the resources to make improvements and extend the system were exhausted. What was desired was sufficient amount to carry on the company for five years. They therefore asked for an increase from five to ten millions. The company would require to spend about $1,000,000 a year, not on buying up companies that were trying to sell out, but in improving the service and giving to the people a very low rate. Of the expenditure over $300,000 would be made in the city of Toronto alone. Without getting more capital it would be impossible to improve the service or to construct new lines.

Amendments Offered.

Senator Miller made a vigorous kick against the bill and concluded by offering the same amendments which were offered to the bill last year. These were to make the act of 1892 clear as to what was intended of it. The amendments summarized made provision for a compulsory telephone service upon application by any person, company or corporation. No increase in rates over the act of 1892 to be allowed, except for long distance phones, which were excepted. The control of rates for both local and long distance phones should be left to the Governor-General-in-Council. Mr. McDonald (British Columbia) asked that the amendments be placed in the hands of the promoters of the bill for twenty-four hours.

Mayor Howland of Toronto asked that the bill be postponed, in view of the fact that the Government was postponing its telephone bill for another session.

The Mayor of Westmount supported Mr. Howland.

Mayor Cook of Ottawa said that if the committee did decide not to postpone the bill then he hoped the committee would carefully consider the amendments which were offered by Senator Miller, which would meet the views of municipalities.

Mr. Kerr held that the act of 1892 was sufficient, and under it the Government could control rates.

Mr. Frank Arnoldi, K.C., was heard for the municipalities. He advocated delay until the next session.

As Evee Vote.

Mr. Fullerton, City Solicitor, Toronto was heard from, after which Mr. McMullen moved that the bill be postponed twelve months. There were 16 for and 16 against:

Yeas: Ellis, Ferguson, King, Lovitt, McCallum, McDonald (C.B.), McKay, (Truro), McLaren, McHugh, McMillan, McMullen, Miller, Owens, Templeman, Vidal, Wood (Hamilton).

Nays: Baker, Balduc, Casgrain, Clemow, Dever, Drummond, Gadbout, Kerr, Kirchhoffer, Landerkin, Loughheed, MacDonald (Victoria), MacKay (Montreal,) Scott, Watson and Young. The chairman, Sir Adphonse Pelletier, voted nay. It was decided to postpone the bill until Wednesday next.

Have French Translation.

Ottawa, April 12.—The Senate yesterday appointed Mr. Chapman of Ottawa as permanent translator of debates at a salary of $1,000 per year. It is the intention to have a French translation of The Hansard issued daily hereafter.

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate the awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping and is warranted to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Troubles. Two months treatment costs $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TRAINING A RIDING HORSE.

The Master Made Good His Assertion as to What He Could Do.

"Yes," said the riding master, "I have to be a horse trainer as well as a riding master. In fact, I couldn't very well be the second without being the first. I always have horses in my school stables here that are sent to me to train for my pupils. One came this morning, and if you have the time to spare I will show you how I give the first lesson in obedience."

The master then ordered one of his men to bring the horse out into the "school," a great oblong space, covered with sawdust and inclosed and roofed. The horse was a fine, spirited animal, with an intelligent and kindly eye, and the master said at once that he would be a tractable and teachable subject, explaining that he had not yet had a chance to "make his acquaintance."

"Now," said he, "you must remember that this horse has never seen me before and that I am, therefore, a perfect stranger to him, and yet I think I can establish between him and myself so good a feeling that in five minutes' time he will follow me all about the school at a word of command—perhaps without a command. Let us see."

He then approached the horse, and the man stepped away. Speaking a few words gently, he patted the animal's neck and rubbed his hand over his head. Telling the man to give him a small riding whip, long and straight, with a keen lash, he placed himself with his right shoulder close to the horse's head, holding the bridle rein near the bit with his right hand and in his left hand the whip extended back horizontally so that the lash was opposite to the horse's flank.

"Now," said he, "for our lesson." And he began leading the horse around the school, keeping his shoulder close to the animal's head. Presently he took his hand off the bridle, and the horse at once began to move away from his shoulder, but a sharp turn of the master's wrist brought the lash of the whip against his flank just hard enough to make a little sting, and at the same time the master caught hold of the bridle and gently pulled the refractory head close to his shoulder again.

This was repeated half a dozen times, and then the horse evidently reasoned out the situation somewhat in this way:

"As long as I keep my head close to this man's shoulder it's all right, but the minute I take it away something back there jumps up and sticks me. Therefore I'll not take it away any more."

That must have been the way he reasoned, for within the five minutes' time allotted by the riding master the horse was following him all around the school like a big dog, nor did the master have to touch the bridle once.

Twain and the Printer.

Mary Twain once had a trying experience with a compositor, one of those conscientious compositors who not only know, but know that they know. According to a writer in Harper's Weekly, Mr. Clemens had received from his publishers the proofs of a story which he considered as funny as anything he had ever written, but on reading the proofs he dismally discovered that the fun had been carefully eliminated. Mr. Clemens returned the proofs, congratulating the compositor upon having consumed "only one week in making sense of a story which he himself required two weeks to make nonsense of!"

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and perseverance in its use will work wonders for the most hopeless woman. If Mrs. Newton, whose letter is given below, had not persisted in its use, she might never have known the happiness of perfect health. Perhaps the reason for her persistence was because she used "Favorite Prescription" as a "last resort." Physicians had failed. If "Favorite Prescription" could not help there was nothing to hope for. It did help. It always helps and almost always cures. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It imparts strength and elasticity to the organs of maternity and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I consulted you in April, 1899, I was in poor health," writes Mrs. E. H. Newton, of Vanburen, Aroostook Co., Maine "Had been sick all winter, and, to add to my trouble was on the road to maternity, which the doctor said would end my days. I was almost discouraged; did not expect any help, but thought the end was only a matter of time, and—oh! my two poor, little, motherless children.

"It was in this condition that I began the use of your valuable medicine. On receipt of your letter of April 6th my husband purchased six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' " and I used it as you directed. When you wrote me words of encouragement on April 27th I had received no benefit from the medicine, but determined as a last resort to give it a fair trial. I am now taking the thirteenth and last bottle. I have a lovely baby girl three weeks old, that weighed 11¼ pounds at birth. My baby and I are enjoying perfect health, thanks to your wonderful medicine, to which I believe I owe my life."

People Feel Weak, Easily Tired and out of Sorts.

You Must Assist Nature in Overcoming This Feeling Before the hot Weather Months Arrive.

It is important that you should be healthy in the spring. The hot summer is coming on and you need strength, vigour and vitality to resist it. The feeling of weakness, depression and feebleness which you suffer from in spring is debilitating and dangerous. You have been indoors a good deal through the winter months, haven't taken the usual amount of exercise perhaps, your blood is sluggish and impure and you need a thorough renovation of the entire system. In other words you need a thorough course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you try them you will be surprised to note how vigourous you begin to feel, how the dull lassitude disappears, your step becomes elastic, the eye brightens and a feeling of new strength takes the place of all previous feelings. Thousands have proved the truth of these words and found renewed health through the use of these pills in spring time. One of the many is Miss Cassie Way, of Picton, Ont., who says:—"A few years ago I was cured of a very severe and prolonged attack of dyspepsia through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, after all other medicines I had tried failed. Since that time I have used the pills in the spring as a tonic and blood builder and find them the best medicine I know of for this purpose. People who feel run down at this time of the year will make no mistake in using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills are not a purgative medicine and do not weaken as all purgatives do. They are tonic in their nature and strengthen from first dose to last. They are the best medicine in the world for rheumatism, sciatica, nervous troubles, neuralgia, indigestion, anaemia, heart troubles, scrofula and humours in the blood, etc. The genuine are sold only in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Earth to Be Like the Moon.

The water of the earth is all destined to disappear from the surface of the globe by being absorbed by subterranean rocks, with which it will form chemical combinations. The heavenly spheres exhibit sufficiently striking examples of such an evolution. The planet Mars shows what will become of the earth in some thousands of centuries. Its seas are only shallow Mediterraneans of less surface than the continents, and these do not appear to be very high, and in the appearance of the moon, all cracked and dried up, we have a view of the final state of the earth, for the absorption of the water by the solid nucleus will be followed by that of the atmosphere.

Nervous, Sleepless and Exhausted.

Not sick enough to lay up, but you are out of sorts, blood is weak, nerves unstrung, kidneys deranged, vitality is low. You should take Ferrozone at once; it will enrich, strengthen and purify the blood, invigorate and pacify the nerves, and increase your energy, vitality and power. Ferrozone will renew your appetite and digestion, make you sleep soundly, in fact will make you well. Try Ferrozone. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

Norway English.

The proportion of people in Norway who speak English is larger than in any other country of the world.

Sound Sleepers.

A recent traveler in central Africa gives several instances of the capacity for sleep developed by his Arab servants. He mentions one of these men as being undisturbed by the discharge of firearms within two feet of his head.

German Beer.

Whatever the number of orders, no beer ever leaves the best German breweries until it has been standing for at least three months.

Pen Steel.

The sheets of steel for penmaking are in their original condition eight feet long and three feet wide. From these strips are cut wide enough to permit of the cutting of three or four pens.

It Cleans Jewelry.

Bank of England Notes.

A worn or soiled Bank of England note is seldom seen. This is because no note of this bank is ever reissued by the establishment. When cashed, it is kept and put aside for destruction. The average term during which a note remains in circulation is about a month.

A Sharp Curve.

Fooling the Sheep.

On an Australian sheep run, when it is desired to foist a motherless lamb on a ewe whose own lamb is dead, the defunct lamb is skinned, and the skin is sewed upon the orphan. After a little suspicious smelling the ewe welcomes the latter as her lost child.

The Aztec Language.

The Aztec language, in use in Mexico at the time of the discovery of America, lacked the sounds indicated by our letters b, d, f, g, r, l, j and v.

Purifies the Air.

A quick and easy way to change the atmosphere in an invalid's room is to pour some cologne into a soup plate and set fire to it. The spirit will make a pretty flame and impart a delightfully refreshing odor to the air.

Locusts.

Italians call locusts "little horses," and the German term for these pests is "hay horses."

Pump-kinetic Tribute.

A Conservative member of the Dominion House, who knew the late Mrs. Ross well, said of her: "I have met many of the wives of our public men in Canada, and I would put Mrs. Ross as being the most typical of what such a woman should be. She was gracious; she had a presence without affectation; she was always sympathetic and motherly, and was a devoted companion and councillor of her husband. We often read of how the wives of the public men in the States rise in an easy way to the highest position there; this was very characteristic of Mrs. Ross; she was equal to any situation and was at home in them all. You would not quite say that she was a society woman in its narrow sense; she was essentially a social woman and a social centre, and commanded the respect of all, the love and affection of the many who came to know her well. Hers was truly a lovable character. Her husband will be a broken reed by her loss; she nursed him, was his constant companion, and gave him that helpful sympathy which goes so far in making up a successful public man these days."

Gift to Toronto University.

Mr. Richard Unsworth of Fergus, a graduate of the class of 1856, and at present in the custom service, has made, through the president, an interesting gift to the university. The donation consists of an argand lamp and a medical dispensatory. The lamp was at one time the property of Prof. W. H. Balmain, noted for his invention of luminous paint, and was given by him to Mr. Unsworth, when the latter was acting as assistant in his chemical laboratory in 1847. The volume above referred to is a copy of the complete English dispensatory, dating from more than one hundred years ago. It throws an interesting light on the condition of medical science at that time, as shown by its description of some of the extraordinary remedies then in vogue.

Well ond Stylishly Clothed at all Times.

Thousands of women in Canada with limited means have discovered the secret of dressing well and stylishly in their homes and for the streets.

These fortunate women have found out that by spending ten cents for a package of one of the fashionable colours of Diamond Dyes they can re-colour any old, faded and dingy dress, so as to make it appear a new production.

A lady recently affirmed that she had not purchased new materials for dresses for two years. This same lady is always neatly and prettily dressed, because she uses the Diamond Dyes. She has several old dresses, and dyes each one twice a year, and produces as good colours with the Diamond Dyes as can be found in new bought goods. It is wonderful indeed the saving in dollars that can be effected by the judicious use of the celebrated Diamond Dyes. Would you like to make up a pretty home-made mat or rug from your old wool or cotton rags? Send post card with your address to the Wells and Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., and you will receive all the new designs to make a choice from.

Railway Rails.

Railway rails deteriorate sooner in tunnels than elsewhere because of the effect of injurious gases.

The Yellow River.

The Yellow river is styled the "Sorrow of China." During the last century it changed its source twenty-two times and now flows into the sea through a mouth 600 miles distant from that of a hundred years ago. It is estimated that its floods in the nineteenth century cost China 11,000,000 lives.

Hanby's Grave.

Racing in Scotland.

The earliest notice of racing in Scotland occurs during the reign of James IV., in 1504. On April 15 in that year the lord high treasurer of Scotland notes in his accounts payment of a sum of 18 shillings "to the boy that ran the king's horse" at Leith.

BROKEN LANGUAGE.

We Understand It Much Better Than Do the Europeans.

One is astonished that the Parisian the London man and the Berliner cannot understand any one who speaks his language brokenly. Where would we who are of Anglo-Saxon stock be if we were like that? We must understand many sorts of English not "as she is spoken," but "English as she is broken" by half a dozen sorts of wreckers of our tongue. We must understand "corner grocery" English, peanut stand and bootblack's English, the pidgin English of the laundries and the truly awful muddle of those who start with a potpourri called "yiddish" and end by massacring English with it.

In Paris if you merely shift the emphasis from the last syllable, where it is always placed in French, to the first syllable, even the most familiar French words fall like so much Greek upon the unyielding French ears. In London if you say, "I'll come back at noon," they declare you "a foreigner" because you did not say "midday," but if you took any real liberty with their tongue and should say, "I vill back again by dinner time come," you might as well ask the average Englishman to understand Chaldaic. It is the same in Berlin. You must go to Bombay, Port Said or Shanghai if you want to find English made elastic as it is in our American cities.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

Queer Beauty.

In New Holland the women cut themselves with shells and, keeping the wounds open a long time, form deep scars in the flesh, which they deem highly ornamental. Another singular mutilation is made among them, when in infancy they take off the little finger of the left hand at the second joint.

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

MARTIAL LAW NEXT

If Order Is Not Restored by Monday Government Will Act.

RIOTERS ATTACK GENDARMES

Riotous Scenes in the Chamber of Deputies—Liberals and Socialists Quarrel—Demonstrations and Encounters Also at Liege, Ghent and Elsewhere—Authorities Now in Control of Brussels.

Brussels, April 12.—Sharp fighting between strikers and Gendarmes occurred yesterday morning at Bracquegnies (near Charleroi). Several thousand strikers attacked and stoned a body of gendarmes, who retaliated by firing their revolvers. A sharp fusillade followed, and the gendarmes were compelled to retreat. A squadron of lancers however, galloped up and charged and dispersed the mob.

The Belgian Government has decided to proclaim martial law on Monday, unless order is previously restored.

VIOLENT SCENES IN THE CHAMBER.

Brussels, April 12.—Violent scenes occurred in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. The Premier denounced the Socialists, which led to a sharp discussion. At the close of the sitting, Socialist deputies, shouting "Jesuit thief!" stormed the president's tribune. Ushers were then summoned to preserve order, and a violent scene ensued, in which blows were freely exchanged.

During the evening several outbreaks took place. The police charged the rioters, and wounded 25.

Demonstrations and encounters also occurred at Liege, Ghent and elsewhere, the most serious being at Houdeng-Goegries, in the coal district. During the collision between the police and strikers at that place the latter used brickbats and firearms. The police fired upon the rioters, killing a coal miner and a young girl. Fifteen persons were wounded, including two policemen. Mounted infantry finally dispersed the mob.

So far as Brussels is concerned, it is felt that the authorities are quite masters of the situation. But should a general strike be declared, and be generally followed, a dangerous situation might arise, as the troops would be needed everywhere, and could not be massed at any particular point.

It developed yesterday morning that at a Cabinet council held Thursday at which King Leopold presided, it was decided that the discussion of the suffrage question should be fixed for next Wednesday. The King appeared to favor a conciliatory attitude, but the Government will oppose the introduction of universal suffrage.

MILLER CONFESSES MURDER.

Detroit Music Teacher Tells How He Killed Carrie M. Jennett.

Detroit, April 12.—Professor Jos. M. Miller, at 12 o'clock yesterday confessed to murdering Carrie M. Jennett.

After being in the sweatbox an hour and twenty minutes, Miller broke down and confessed to the crime. Assistant Prosecutor Merriam, three officers and the official stenographer of the Police Department were present. Miller said that he had illicit relations with the girl, and was responsible for her condition. He said he offered to send Miss Jennett to a lying-in hospital, but she refused to go, insisting that he leave his family and go to some other city with her. This he would not do. Wednesday night, when he started from home for the lodge meeting, he had an engagement with the girl, and intended to kill her. He took the hatchet that was found by the officers Thursday in the kitchen with him. He secreted this on 17th Street on his way to the meeting. When he left the lodge rooms, he secured the hatchet again, and proceeded to the corner of 14th Street and Warren avenue, where he met Miss Jennett. They walked over to 18th Street and out to where the killing was done. Miller says that they sat down on the side walk and talked for a while, the girl urging him to abandon his family and leave the city with her. He then whipped out the hatchet and struck her on the head. When asked why he mutilated her so, Miller said he had no recollection of anything after the first blow until he found himself wiping the blood off his hatchet on the grass in the vacant lot.

Miller's Record.

Woodstock, April 12.—At the jail yesterday an Express reporter found that on Feb. 5, 1897, Joseph Miller of Norwich, aged 22 years, was in custody on the charge of procuring an abortion. He was liberated on bail a month later, the matter having been fixed up by a marriage between Miller and the injured girl.

Important Libel Decision.

Toronto, April 12.—An interesting point of libel law was decided by Chief Justice Falconbridge in a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall yesterday. His Lordship held that it was publishing a libel to dictate a libellous letter to a stenographer on a typewriter, copied in the books of the office and posted.

The point arose in the libel action of Alfred Puterbaugh of Bracondale, a former employe of the Gold Medal Manufacturing Company, against the company. Puterbaugh was dismissed by the company's foreman, who sent him the letter complained of through the office. The letter was typewritten and copied in the company's office. Puterbaugh sued for damages, and the jury at the trial disagreed on the verdict. Chief Justice Meredith reserved judgment on the motion for a non-suit by the company, on the ground that the alleged libel had not been published. Yesterday His Lordship decided against the company and ordered a new trial.

Will Treat Him Well.

St. Petersburg, April 12.—The municipality will present to President Loubet of France on his forthcoming visit to Russia a splendid album, containing twelve views of the Russian capital in oils and water colors. The binding will be of gold and silver.

Pill Manufacturers Enraged.

The makers of all the various pills on the market are greatly troubled over the new medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. It is doing away with their business. System Tonic is not only a positive cure for Constipation, but a blood builder and purifier as well as a tonic for every organ in the body. One 50c bottle cures to stay cured. Sold at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

Ancient Superstitions.

The ancients peopled all distant lands with monsters and all distant seas with horrors. Unknown and distant countries were, to their superstition, peopled with "gorgons, hydras and chimeras dire." The distant seas were filled with monstrous dragons and serpents, of which the sea serpent is today perhaps a survival. The unknown oceans were filled with whirlpools that sucked in mariners who were sacrilegious enough to approach them to an awful death.

Perhaps these superstitions, as much as any one thing, kept the world for so many centuries an unexplored and unknown waste.

OBITUARY.

A Kinmount correspondent writes as follows:

As the late James Morrison was known to a large circle of friends throughout the district, the following sketch may be of interest:

James Morrison was born in Dunblane, August 11th, 1826. His parents were Alexander Morrison, of Gargunnock, and Jean Morrison, of Campsie, Scotland.

Alexander Morrison was a young man when the great Napoleon was conquering all Europe. He enlisted in the 42nd (Black Watch) Highlanders, and fought under that gallant British General, Sir John Moore in his brilliant campaign through Spain, which terminated in the glorious victory of Corunna, where General Moore was killed, and Morrison was severely wounded, being shot through the right shoulder with a musket ball and received a bayonet wound through his thigh. He used to jokingly say that though the French tried to take his life they were the means of saving it. During the British army's retreat through Spain, the soldiers were often in great distress for food. One day in passing a bread vendor's stall in a village through which they were passing, Morrison asked the proprietor for a piece of bread, the man shook his head with a scrowl and made a pass with a knife. This roused the rage of the fiery young soldier and he raised his musket and fired at the man's head intending to blow it off, but the bullet only took off the man's nose.

The soldier was arrested immediately, courtmartialed, and sentenced to be shot. His belts were taken off and a party of his own comrades were about to take him out to be executed when the bugles rang loud and clear. The French were attacking! no time to carry out a death sentence then, every man and the condemned man also, joined in the charge and drove the French back. It is said that though the French were the means of saving his life, he never charged them with greater spirit than at this time. Finally he reached his native land and settled down quietly as a peaceful citizen, enjoying a small pension as long as he lived.

James Morrison was the youngest son and after he grew up he made up his mind to emigrate. In the year 1854, James Morrison, and Miss Mary Heddle, of Edinburgh, were united in marriage. Miss Heddle was born in the Manse, Parish of Firth, Orkney, Scotland. In the year '56, he calculated to go to Australia but through some error, or mistake in getting their papers, he changed his mind and sailed for Canada, with his wife, mother and infant son, and landed in Peterborough in July. He lived in the town of Peterborough for about two years, working principally in the woollen mills, as he was a carder and spinner as well as a weaver. His partnership business in the mills not proving satisfactory, he moved into the Township of Smith, on the Communication Line, near the 4th concession, where he followed custom weaving, a business which at that time was very remunerative, and got a great deal of his work from the farmers of Ennismore. The last three years he was in Smith, he resided on the 3rd concession, nearly opposite where now stands the brick school house in S. S. No. 3, Smith.

His children were all born in Smith township, except the eldest, who was born in Scotland, and the second who was born in the town of Peterborough. The eldest daughter died at the age of nine, and was buried in the Little Lake Cemetery.

In the year 1869 he removed into the township of Verulam, having bought the west half of lot 26, in concession 10, and commenced farming, not that he cared for or liked the work, but he wanted to keep the family together. He lived there quietly, improving and cultivating his farm, and doing a little at his trade of custom weaving, until about six years ago, when he decided to give up farming and removed to Kinmount, as two of his sons and his two daughters were already settled there. He was a keen fisherman, and in summer was to be found very often on the banks of the Burnt River with his fishing rod and tackle.

Mr. Morrison was a staunch Presbyterian from his youth up, having joined the Free Church of Scotland, when a lad. He was an elder for some years in the Bobcaygeon church and also in the Kinmount Presbyterian Mission Band. He ever took a deep interest in everything pertaining to the Presbyterian cause, but he was in no wise a bigot, as he attended the meetings of other denominations, principally Methodist and Baptist, and aided them whenever he could. For years he was superintendent of the Union Sabbath School in Verulam and Harvey.

In the early fifties while in Scotland he joined the temperance movement, and always took an active interest in the cause. In politics he was a Liberal and always gave to others the same liberty of opinion that he claimed for himself.

He was a great reader, and had taken the Bobcaygeon Independent from its first issue, Mrs. Morrison having now in her possession the first copy of the first volume. Of a family of nine brothers and sisters one brother survives, Mr. David Morrison, of Falkirk, Scotland.

Notice To Creditors.

In the matter of the Estate of John Henry Roper, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Banker, deceased.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, Chapter 129, that all creditors and others having claims against the Estate of the said John Henry Roper, who died on or about the seventh day of January, 1902, are required on or before the 23th day of April, 1902, to send by post prepaid or deliver to Messrs. Roger & Bennet, of the Town of Peterborough, Solicitors for John Henry Roper and Alfred Walter Roper, the administrators of the estate of the said deceased, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims, the statement of their accounts, and the nature of the securities, if any, held by them.

And further take notice that after such last mentioned date, the said administrators will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have had notice, and that the said administrators will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claims notice shall not have been received by them at the time of such distribution.

Dated the 27th day of March, 1902.

ROGER & BENNET,
Solicitors for the Administrators.

WISHED THEM "BON VOYAGE"

School Teachers Leave Ontario for South Africa.

A Large Number of Friends Wish Them Success in Their Mission—A few Parting Words From the Deputy Minister of Education.

Miss Maud Macfarlane and Miss E. M. Yenny left on the C. P.R. midnight enroute for South Africa, where they will engage in the work of teaching the unenlightened children in that far off land. They were seen off at the station by the members of their respective families and a large number of friends all of whom wished them an pleasant voyage and an enjoyable life in their new home.

The farewell address of Mr. John Miller, Deputy Minister of Education, to the Ontario teachers who left for South Africa is as follows:—

"In behalf of the Education Department I wish to join your many friends and acquaintances in wishing you a safe journey from Toronto to South Africa.

"For some few years the attention of all British subjects, and indeed of people in all parts of the civilized world, has been directed to the country to which you are now going. We have all had reason to admire the patriotism of those who have gone from Canada, and to feel proud of their achievements on the field of battle. To secure the safety of the empire, several contingents have left Canada, and it is gratifying to know the Imperial Government has more than once recognized our loyalty. Just as you are leaving our hopes are encouraged by the despatches which lead us to believe that peace is close at hand.

"You form part of another contingent, and your mission is one of a different character. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, in his purpose to provide teachers for the children of the Boers, displays much wisdom. Indeed I may venture to say that your mission will redound to the credit of the Colonial Secretary fully as much as any other project of that statesman. You go on a mission of peace; to teach young children those principles which have contributed so much to the building up of Canada; to show to those with whom we have been at war that our object is to prove what education has done under the British flag; to prove how well a people of different races have united on Canadian soil to develop a country of marvellous resources, and to show how the principles of self-government may build up a great nation; to prove how a people possessing different creeds may live happily together and promote the common interests.

"You have enjoyed the advantages secured by the educational system of Ontario. From our public schools, our high schools, our country model schools and our normal colleges you have acquired those academic and professional attainments which by your experience as teachers, you have proved yourself to possess. This province may have confidence in the ability of you as some of its representative teachers. With your scholarship, professional knowledge and experience I anticipate your services will be fully as valuable as those performed by the teachers from other colonies who will join you in South Africa.

"Doubtless you will help one another in that far-off country, should anyone need assistance.

"The British Government will see that you have every necessary attention and protection.

"The province will await with interest to hear of your work among the children of those who were lately our enemies, but now I trust, our friends, in South Africa.

"With best wishes, I therefore bid you God-speed."

The teachers who compose the party are Misses Florence J. Wilkinson, of Toronto; Auguste Hoover, of Toronto Junction; Bertha Brydon, of King, Catharine McLennan, of Toronto; Edna E. O'Brien, of Nobleton; Maud Macfarlane of Peterborough; Eleanor Yenney, of Peterborough; and Margaret D. Scott, of Hamilton.

Every provision has been made for the comfort of the teachers while on their journey. First-class tickets have been provided them, and all expenses have been paid in full.

They passed yesterday in Montreal leaving that city for Halifax in the evening. At Halifax they will embark this evening on the Corinthian for England.

Photographs of most of the teachers who go to South Africa will be reproduced in next Saturday's Globe.

TO MEET HERE.

The Annual Meeting of the Historical Society Next June.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the Executive of the Ontario Historical Society, held at The Education Department, Toronto, on the 5th inst., it was decided to hold this year's annual meeting on the 5th, 6th and 7th days of June as follows: On the 5th of June to assemble at Peterborough, visiting points of interest, among which the Victoria Museum is named, with a meeting in the evening. On the following day journeying to Lindsay, via Lakefield and the lakes—provided suitable arrangements with the local Societies can be made, and on Saturday, 7th, to be spent at Lindsay and surroundings. This is an annual gathering of the Society held in a different place each year, where there are points of historic interest. It was held last year on Bay of Quinte, the year before on the Niagara, and this year it is to be held in the Midland Counties between Peterborough and Lindsay. The last was the first time our local Society could see its way to sending a deputation. The delegates were E. H. D. Hall, J. D. Collins and myself. When the matter of next year's meeting was discussed, we suggested that the Kawartha region would be suitable, which was backed up by Judge Dean, of Lindsay, and has been adopted, and it behoves our Society to endeavour to make the visit pleasant, and on its behalf I would now ask the assistance of our citizens to make the reception worthy of our good town.

I am Sir,
Your obedient servant,
H. C. ROGERS,
President. P.H.S.

FOREMAN FATALLY INJURED.

Alfred Edgar, of Bobcaygeon, the Victim of a sad Mishap.

Was Jolted From His Seat in a Wagon and Sustained Internal Injuries.

Mr. Alfred Edgar, a well-known citizen of Bobcaygeon, met with an accident on Tuesday last, which has since resulted in his death. Mr. Edgar was in charge of a gang of men for the Gilmour Co., of Trenton, who were on their way to Swamp Lake to drive that company's logs to Trenton. When within six miles of their destination, at a point on the Galway road nearly opposite Mr. Chas. Graney's residence, Edgar fell, or was jolted out of the wagon, and alighted on the sharp end of a log.

He was picked up in an unconscious condition, and taken back to Bobcaygeon, when Dr. Thorne was summoned. It was discovered that the unfortunate man had sustained severe internal injuries, and in spite of the best medical attendance he slowly sank until death relieved his sufferings.

LOCAL LEGAL.

BEFORE ARMOUR, C.J.O., OSLER, MACLENNAN, J. J. A.

Dover v. Denne.—Judgment (R) on appeal by plaintiffs from order of Ferguson J., dismissing appeal from report of Master at Peterborough, finding that defendant Denne, one of the three trustees under the will of Stephen Wood, who died in 1893, was not liable to make good a loss of about $5,000 incurred by reason of a breech of trust by his co-trustee, Burnham, who died in December, 1897. The Master found that Denne had no reason to suspect that Burnham, whose reputation for honesty and integrity was very high in the community, would be guilty of misappropriation of the trust funds; that when the testator was about to make his will he asked Denne to become one of the executors and trustees, but Denne refused, because, as he said, he was old and did not know about such things, whereupon the testator told him he did not want him to act in any way, because Burnham would manage everything, as he had always been theretofore doing, (Burnham having been the testator's solicitor), and that he, (testator) merely wanted Denne's name in order that if anything should happen to Burnham, Denne would communicate with testator's son-in-law in England, the defendant Carruthers; that thereupon Denne consented, honestly believing that he was not obliged to take any part in the management of the estate. The Master also found that the beneficiaries and third trustee (Carruthers) acquiesced in the sole management of the estate by Burnham. Held, that the report of the Master was right and the appeal should be dismissed. Per Maclennan, J. A.—On the passing of the accounts, all debts and charges having been paid, and the residue ascertained, the executors became trustees of the testator's estate, and the liability of the respondent must be determined in that regard; re Willey, W. N., 1880, p. 1; re Smith, 43 Chy. D. 303; re Chipman, 1894, 2 Chy. 773; Phillips v. Munnings, 2 M. & Cr. 309, 314; Dix v. Burford, 19 Beav., 409, 413. Then, regarded as a trustee, was the respondent guilty of such default as to make him liable? There is no question of the honesty of his conduct. He trusted Burnham, and had no reason to suspect him, a circumstance considered material in such cases. See in re Gasquoine, 1894, 1 Chy, 476. Of course it cannot be contended that confidence in a co-trustee, or the absence of reason for suspicion, will or ought to excuse the omission of a plain, obvious duty, but there was no such plain, obvious duty omitted or neglected by the respondent. The respondent is not responsible for the money received and misapplied by Burnham nor for the mortgages that he improperly assigned. Even if it were held that the respondent was guilty of a breech of trust, it ought also to be held that he had acted both honestly and reasonably, and ought fairly to be excused; 62 Vict., ch. 15, sec. 1, O. Altogether what passed between him and the testator would be no excuse independently of the statute, it is very material on the question whether under the circumstances his conduct was reasonable. See re Smith, 18 Times L. R., 433. Appeal dismissed with costs. A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., and E. B. Edwards, K.C., for plaintiffs. G. H. Watson, K. C., and Louis M. Hayes, Peterborough, for defendant Denne.

OBITUARY.

The death took place in Douro, on Sunday morning, of Jennie K. Hunter, daughter of Mr. Geo. Hunter, of Ashburnham, and wife of Mr. William H. McColl. The deceased has been fading away since last May, before the advances of consumption. Mr. McColl will have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 2 o'clock, from the family residence, Lot 8, Con. 11, Douro, and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

KEY-HOLE POLITICS.

Keyhole politics, though many other objectionable varieties of running elections have been in vogue, for many years have been out of fashion. Paul Pry and Listening Jimmy have not been considered respectable. Men who take an inventory of the larder the open door of which joins the apartment in which they are hospitably received, and publish their impressions as facts, are not nowadays esteemed proper persons to be politely used. Slippery Johns of this sort get no farther than the door of a club, are are not permitted to become more intimate with polite society than than that large public which always has the privilege of ringing the door bell. That the "Mail and Empire" has presented to its readers an inventory of the larder of the car which conveyed the Cabinet Ministers to New Ontario, may be a great stroke of journalism, or more likely it may be a development of an ill-bred imagination. The suggestion that $5000 worth of drinkables — carefully described — was on board, is so palpably the work of a man who ought to be in the bug-ward of a hospital, that nothing else in the article will be considered as anything but an innuendo. At a dollar a bottle this would mean five thousand bottles, a stock which no dining car would hold and leave any room for the waiters. The list of food and the prices are "off," and the suggestion that the Ministers, tired out by a hard session, were going northward to put the constituencies on the bum, is another evidence that the "Mail and Empire" needs is "not pictures, but brains," for no one will believe that a new "corkscrew brigade" could be organized out of a Cabinet which may not have been kind to prohibition, but which is admittedly composed of men who are teetotalers, or most distinctly abstemious in their habits.

WHAT THE WAR CRY SAYS.

The War Cry, the official organ of the Salvation Army says:

One of the noticeable features of Prison Gate Work is the amount of labour we can find for ex-prisoners. Two years ago the Staff-Captain found it very difficult to get business men interested enough in men coming from prison to give them employment, there being only one or two firms which responded to his appeal to give men a chance in this city; but now it is noticeable that a large number of our business men will not only take an interest in this movement, but are willing to practically assist the men coming from prison by giving them wages on a par with other men. This is the right principle, for after all, if the men coming from prison find that it is to work for almost nothing when found employment, conditions tend to embitter a man, and drive him to deeds of violence.

By the Aid of the Hon. Mr. Stratton, of Peterborough, our Prison Gate Work was brought before the Provincial Government a few weeks ago, and without any dissension $500 (five hundred dollars) was unanimously granted to our Prison Gate Work in assisting discharged prisoners.

The Kingston Freeman says.—Closing his speech at Port Hope on Friday night Mr. Whitney said: — "What do we offer you?". "We offer you nothing but the good intentions of honest men who are honest enough to be bold and bold enough to be honest. Whatever we do we will not hide behind any contemptible referendum." The electors of the Province of Ontario are not likely to take any stock in Mr. Whitney's boldness and good intentions of honest men, any more than they are likely to buy a pig in a bag. Actions speak louder than words. The Ross Government has a record for honesty, but not for boldness in the manner indicated by the Opposition leader. The greatest thing out is the Government's bold stroke in opening up New Ontario, which in time will make this Province the "Pride of America." To those interested in Ontario's progress, little will be found in Mr. Whitney's Port Hope speech to warrant the people to replace Hon. Geo. Ross by the gentleman who says he will not hide behind any contemptible referendum. Unless a more substantial declaration is put forth at once by the opponents of the Ross Government, there is little danger of a defeat of the latter at the polls.

A CHANCE FOR MR. WHITNEY.

"It's un-British" is the burden of Mr. Whitney's lament on the referendum, though his arguments on that points were bowled over completely by the array of authorities marshaled by the Premier and Attorney-General.

Mr. Whitney might choose a better vantage ground for an attack. If he will look closely enough he will find some genuinely un-British features in the Ontario Legislature.

To begin with, the Speaker at Toronto wears no wig, whereas, anyone knows that at Westminster, Mr. Speaker's peruke is one of the foundation principles of the British constitution. At Westminster they put the ladies behind a wire screen; at Toronto it is scandalous and un-British that the members are not safeguarded from the fair sex, any one of whom is at liberty to throw a bomb from the gallery. The House of Commons Chamber at Westminster is far too small for the membership. This is another precedent violated at Toronto where every man has a reserved seat. At Toronto they also fly in the face of good British custom by giving every member a desk. A stranger is never allowed on the sacred floor of the British House of Commons, but no such divinity hedges in the Provincial legislators at Toronto. At Westminster the members walk out of the chamber when they vote. At Toronto they are counted in their seats while Capt. Robson, of East Middlesex, sings a ballad—the only occasion, by the way, on which that rising young statesman is ever heard in the House.

There are some other un-British features in our parliamentary procedure upon which Mr. Whitney might train his guns and wave the old flag. Too small an issue? Not after the piggery, the tuberculous calf or the kitchen politics, with which the Opposition deluged the Province in 1894.—London Advertiser.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

One Thousand Settlers.

St. John, N. B., April 14.—The steamer Lake Ontario arrived on Saturday with 1,491 passengers, a record number. The majority, between 900 and 1,000, are for Western Canada, and include 60 or 70 English and Scotch farmers under charge of a representative of the Department of the Interior. Four special trains left for the West with them. There were 18 cases of measles on board. The afflicted were placed in quarantine.

Pill Manufacturers Enraged.

The makers of all the various pills on the market are greatly troubled over the new medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. It is doing away with their business. System Tonic is not only a positive cure for Constipation, but a blood builder and purifier as well as a tonic for every organ in the body. One 50c bottle cures to stay cured. Sold at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

Brings Home Widowed Daughter.

London, April 14.—Sir Charles Cameron, Bart, of Balclutha, Greenock, has returned from his melancholy pilgrimage to Esquimalt. He was father-in-law of Commander Clifton Sclater of the unfortunate Condor, and has brought home his widowed daughter. They reached Liverpool on Thursday afternoon by the Saxonia, and journeyed to Windsor, where Sir Charles was interviewed on Saturday.

Digestion Without a Stomach.

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed, proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the Kidneys, Liver and intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter

BOERS CLOSING UP

Leaders Leave Klerksdorp for Pretoria to See Kitchener.

MAY MAKE FORMAL PROPOSALS

Their Change of Base Interpreted to Mean Unanimity of Opinion Regarding Basis of Negotiations—Midnight Cabinet Conference—Colonial Secretary Sees the King—Kitchener Knows Boer Decision.

Pretoria, April 13.—Acting President Schalkburger, General Louis Botha, Lucas Meyer, Delarey and Dewet and Steyn arrived here this morning from Klerksdorp. The Transvaal and Orange Free State delegates journeyed on separate special trains, both of which were rushed through, the delegates traveling all night. The trains arrived close together. The two parties are not lodged together here, but are quartered in separate houses. Their mission here is to confer with Lord Kitchener. Pretoria is his headquarters.

The comparatively brief duration of the conferences at Klerksdorp is regarded as an indication that the Boer leaders found little difficulty in agreeing upon some basis of negotiation. The transfer of the negotiations to Pretoria, where both Lord Kitchener and Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa, are at present, is interpreted by the morning papers as meaning that the Boers are prepared to name formal peace proposals. The latest reports received here from the Boer headquarters at Brussels and The Hague declare that the delegates will raise no opposition if honorable terms are granted, and that the Boer leaders in South Africa have agreed to accept the maximum obtainable.

BUDGET OR PEACE.

Discussed by the British Cabinet at Midnight on Saturday.

London, April 14.—The announcement of the presence at Pretoria of the Orange Free State and Transvaal leaders and generals who have been at Klerksdorp considering terms of peace, has caused a decided increase in the hopefulness of the public concerning the possibilities of peace.

The expectations aroused by the conference at Pretoria have been further heightened by the movements of Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, and other members of the Cabinet in London, and evidences that important despatches are passing between Lord Kitchener and the Government.

A conference of members of the Cabinet was held Saturday night, at midnight in Mr. Chamberlain's house. Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Brodrick, the War Secretary; Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the Duke of Devonshire, president of the Council, were present.

The conference terminated at 1 o'clock Sunday morning and yesterday Mr. Chamberlain and several of the colonial office officials were in their offices. Messengers passed between them and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach at his residence.

At half past one o'clock Sunday afternoon Mr. Chamberlain drove to Buckingham Palace and remained with King Edward for two hours. During the afternoon messengers carried despatches from the Foreign Office to Lord Salisbury, who, with Mr. Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons, were at the Hatfield House.

These outward signs of Sunday activity have not been supplemented by an authentic or official statement. The question most discussed thus far, has been whether the peace negotiations would affect the Government's financial proposals, which promise to be submitted to Parliament to-day. The fact that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach was engaged in his office nearly all day yesterday is taken in some quarters to indicate a modification of the budget statement.

There appears to be no doubt that the Boer leaders have communicated the results of their deliberations to Lord Kitchener. Attempts will be made in Parliament to-day to draw out what information the Government has on the South African situation and to learn its intentions, but it is not known that the Government can forecast the probable outcome of the conferences.

End of War in Sight.

New York, April 14.—The London correspondent of The Herald says: It is stated that the probability of peace is now so strong that the postponement of the budget was due to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's desire, as, should peace be declared, the Government will need much less money.

I am able to say, on excellent authority, that, up to the present, everything is favorable to peace on terms very similar to those offered by Lord Kitchener at Middleberg a long time ago.

No one who has any standing here is in favor of giving back independence to the Boers; but there is a large growing section of the community which does not wish, unnecessarily, to humiliate a brave enemy, and this section includes some of the highest personages in the land.

Some of Them Loyal.

London, April 14.— A despatch from Cape Town to The Times says arrangements are being made for a number of leading Dutch colonists to wait upon the Government to disavow sympathy with the Afrikander Bund and affirm their loyalty.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

The Reason is not That They may not, but That They Will not be Free.

A Story of a Woman who Made up Her Mind That she had Suffered Long Enough—The Means Employed to Cured Her Have Cured Thousands.

She could not lift anything and was dizzy-headed all the time. After trying many medicines with no good results, she was becoming altogether discouraged so much so that she thought she would have to give up.

No wonder that she felt like giving up! Every woman who has suffered in this way will understand how low spirited and broken a woman feels when called upon to endure these extremely distressing symptoms.

But Mrs. Riley didn't give up. A friend advised her to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she began a treatment of this medicine.

After using four boxes she was much better. She felt a great deal stronger, the dizziness had gone. The pains in her back had disappeared, and she kept on using the pills.

She says:

"If it had not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills I would have had to give up. They are certainly a wonderful medicine and have done more for me and my sickness than all the other medicines I ever took.

"I can and will highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all weak women who suffer as I used to suffer."

No woman need suffer a moment longer. Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured and are curing thousands of weak women.

Many of your sisters have told their story for publication. All join in praising the remedy that has done more for the suffering womanhood of Canada than all other means combined.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are Weak Woman's Best Friend.

Toronto, April 14.—Premier Ross and his five colleagues, who spent several days touring Nipissing and Algoma last week, returned to the city on Saturday afternoon, having taken the Grand Trunk express at North Bay in the morning. On the way home they expressed themselves as greatly pleased with their trip.

DR. TALMAGE IS DEAD

The Washington Divine Passed Away on Saturday.

DIED AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

Sketch of His Career—His Celebrity Due to His Forensic Skill—His Church Trial 25 Years Ago—Samples of His Pulpit Methods—Built Three Tabernacles—How He Left New York.

Washington, April 14.—Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage died at 9 o'clock Saturday night at his home in this city. He had been ill for some time and, only a few weeks ago, experienced a change for the better, which gave hope of his recovery. Several days ago, however, his condition grew worse, caused by congestion of the brain, with catarrhal complications, and since then the family had been daily expecting his death.

Sketch of His Life.

T. DeWitt Talmage was one of the remarkable men of his time. His success financially was phenomenal for a clergyman.

Born in Bound Brook, New Jersey, on Jan. 7, 1832; educated in New York City for the law, which he quit at his parents' desire, to take a theological course at New Brunswick, the young Talmage did his first preaching at Bellaville, N.J., and went from there to Syracuse, N.Y., to get a better place in the Dutch Reformed Church there. In Syracuse he began to develop those peculiarities which, further exaggerated, were, in later years, to make him talked about.

He drew large Sunday evening audiences, partly because he amused the people, and when the crowds got so large that people were pushed down the aisles, Mr. Talmage would ask the people to come to the platform, and said that he didn't care if they came up and sat on the pulpit, with their legs hanging over.

In his Brooklyn pulpit, where he began preaching in 1869, he resorted to the tricks of manner and speech which caused him to be caricatured from one end of the country to the other. On one occasion, when it was time for him to begin his sermon, he went to the edge of the platform, buttoned his coat, raised his arms, and, wheeling suddenly about, dashed in running jumps across the platform, his arms waving like the sails of a windmill, his coattails flying behind him, and his trousers working up above his shoetops.

He had not spoken a word, and some of his congregation were ready to shriek, not knowing what to make of it, when Mr. Talmage stopped short, turned and walked back to the centre of the platform, and exclaimed, as the beginning of his sermon: "Young man, you're rushing to destruction!"

Then he preached of the dangers of city life to young men who yielded to temptation.

By such methods, he drew thousands of persons to the church, and, as it was said, the church treasurer complained that there were thousands of cents in the contribution plates.

Mr. Talmage's comment on his style of preaching was: "My positive mode of preaching seems to stir the hostilities of all earth and hell."

In telling the story of his life, he once said:

"Feeling called upon, 15 years ago, to explore underground New York City life, that I might report the evils to be combatted, I took with me two elders of my church and a New York Police Commissioner and a policeman, and I explored and reported the horrors that needed removal and the allurements that endanger our young men. There came upon me an outburst of assumed indignation that frightened almost everybody but myself. That exploration put into my church thirty or forty newspaper correspondents, from north, south, east and west, which opened for me new avenues in which to preach the Gospel that otherwise would never have been opened. Years passed on, and I preached a series of sermons on amusements, and a false report of what I did say roused a violence that threatened me with poison and dirk and pistol and other forms of extinguishment, until the Chief of the Brooklyn Police, without any suggestion from me, took possession of the church, with twenty-four policemen, to see that no harm was done.

When Mr. Talmage syndicated his sermons he prepared them a week or two in advance, as he had to do to supply the presses in time. And, when he went to Europe and the Holy Land he sold his sermons before he left New York. They were printed as having come by cable. One was printed on a Monday morning as having been delivered at Queenstown, whence Mr. Talmage sailed on the preceding Saturday, and after Mr. Talmage got there he acknowledged that it had never been delivered at all.

The Holy Land had to yield to him a sensation and the story so went over here that an American had met him there and had asked the preacher to baptize him in the Jordan, which Mr. Talmage, according to his own story, did do. But in Brooklyn Mr. Talmage's enemies said he had caught a tramp on the river bank and ducked him.

In Russia Mr. Talmage was received by the Czar. In his story of that meeting he said: "I asked the Czar as many questions as he asked me."

The most serious attack made upon him in England was by the Rev. Joseph Parker, who said that after delivering a temperance lecture, Mr. Talmage drank wine with his meal.

Mr. Talmage once boasted that he could make $1,000 a day. It was at one time estimated that he was worth $1,000,000, but his friends said that his wealth was only a quarter of that sum. Much of his money he invested in Brooklyn mortgages.

Twenty-five years ago Dr. Talmage was tried by an ecclesiastical court in Brooklyn on charges of falsehood "and deceit." He was not found guilty, but the vote of the court was a close one.

Just before Mr. Talmage left Brooklyn a call had been made upon his congregation to furnish money which the church needed to take care of its pressing debts and the response had not been what was expected. Then one of the influential trustees wanted Mr. Talmage to consent to a plan for charging 10 cents admission to the services, believing that that would bring in $6,000 or so each Sunday, but Mr. Talmage replied that he was not a 10-cent man and presently he resigned.

While Mr. Talmage was at Philadelphia, where he preached for seven years before going to Brooklyn, his first wife was drowned in the Schuylkill River.

Mr. Talmage's success in building up the membership of the Brooklyn church was such that the church building in Schermerhorn street was outgrown and the first Brooklyn Tabernacle, a wood and iron structure, seating 3,000 persons, was put up in 1870. It was enlarged in 1872, but was destroyed by fire in December of that year.

A new tabernacle, seating 5,000 persons and containing standing room for 1,000 more, was at once begun. The new building was dedicated in 1874. That, too, was burned down in 1889.

A third tabernacle was built at Clinton and Greene avenues, and it also was destroyed by fire in May, 1894.

Two years after his first wife died Mr. Talmage married Miss Susan Whittemore of Brooklyn. His son, Frank Talmage, by his first wife, followed his father's calling. Besides the Rev. Frank Talmage, four daughters survive Mr. Talmage. All of them are married except one.

Funeral on Tuesday.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Arrangements were completed yesterday for the services in this city over the body of Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Church of the Covenant, and the services will be very simple. There will be no funeral sermon, but short addresses concerning the life and works of Dr. Talmage will be made by men who have been intimately associated with him.

Silent tribute to the memory of Dr. Talmage was paid yesterday by thousands of people who walked past the residence on Mass avenue, where the visit of death was marked by a cluster of violets tied with a streamer of black hanging at the right of the entrance. Many intimate friends including the pastors of most of the Presbyterian Churches of the city were among those who called at the house. Messages of sympathy from nearly every state in union and from England, Russia and other European countries came to the family during the day.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.

Miller, the Detroit Murderer, Gets Rapid Justice.

Detroit, April 14.—The three alienists, Drs. Emersonn, Kennedy and Hitchcock, found that Miller was sane.

Prof. Miller, Miss Jennett's murderer, was sentenced to Jackson Prison for life Saturday afternoon.

Seventy-two hours after his murder of Miss Jennett, Miller was in the prison to spend the rest of his life there at hard labor.

In sentencing him, Judge Murphy called him a demon and said that he considered the sentence inadequate to the crime.

AN EARLY SAILING.

Next Month Will Probably See All the New Contingent of 2,000 Men Despatched—The Officers.

Ottawa, April 14.—Preparations for the mobilization of the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Regiments of Canadian Rifles are progressing rapidly, and it is expected that the whole contingent will be on the way to South Africa before the end of next month. The Minister of Militia proposes to leave for England about 31, and he desires to see all the regiments embarked before he sails. The names of the transports which will be detailed to convey the Rifles to South Africa and the probable date of their arrival are not yet known, and the War Office has been cabled for information on these points. Lieut.-Col. Williams has been ordered to Halifax to take charge of the temporary depot for the concentration of the troops. He will be assisted by Captain D. I. V. Eaton of the Royal Canadian Field Artillery, Kingston, who will act as adjutant.

Commanding Officers.

Offers of commissions have been made to a number of officers of the active militia. Major T. L. Boulanger of the Field Artillery, Quebec, has been asked to take command of one of the four regiments. He arrived in town yesterday and had a conference with the Minister of Militia and General O'Grady-Haly. It is understood that Major Boulanger will accept, but he has asked for a little time in order to put his affairs in order before he leaves. It is quite probable that Major Boulanger will command the first of the four regiments. Col. Williams will probably be given the command of the 6th Rifles, which will be the last regiment to embark. The command of one of the regiments will doubtless be offered to an officer in the Mounted Police. A number of non-commissioned officers and troopers from the same force is desired in order to stiffen the four regiments with experienced men. It is not yet decided whether the Government can spare any for the purpose, as the Mounted Police was heavily drawn on for previous contingents. The Canadian Dragoons and the Mounted Rifles in the west, will, however, each furnish quotas of trained men. Capt. Thomas Wallace of Woodbridge, son of the late Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, has been selected for a commission. He served as a private in the first Canadian contingent

DESPERATELY AFFLICTED.

Jos. Coron, of Montreal, Cured of Rheumatism of Ten Years' Standing, not by the use of Drugs, but Through Powley's Liquified Ozone.

It is with pleasure I give you my testimonial as to the curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone. For over two years past I have suffered very much with rheumatism; sometimes so bad I could not sleep at nights, and I had to quit work. Two years ago I was laid up nearly two months, and since February last I have been very bad.

JOS. CORON, Montreal.

I saw your Ozone advertised, the no-drug idea appealed to me, so I procured a bottle and began taking it. I had not completed the bottle when I began to get better; my rheumatic pains began to leave me. I have taken only three bottles, and my rheumatism is completely cured. I am in better health now than I have been for the last ten years.

Sometimes for weeks my feet were so swollen and pained so badly I could not walk, and my hands would swell up out of all shape. I could hardly endure the pain and could not use my hands.

I attribute my recovery entirely to the use of Ozone and gladly recommend it to all sufferers from rheumatism. Signed, Jos. Coron, 45 St. Antoine street, Montreal, P.Q.

This testimonial is attested by Mr. A. P. Reid, who writes: I enclose you testimony from Jos. Coron, 45 St. Antoine street. This gentleman has suffered for over ten years with rheumatism. About two years ago he was so bad that he had to quit work for two months, and since last February he has been so bad that sometimes he could not use his hands they were so badly swollen.

Mr. Coron says he cannot say too much in favour of Ozone, and will ever recommend it. (Signed), A. P. Reid, Montreal, P.Q.

Most people fancy that when they have an attack of rheumatism their case is incurable and resign themselves to suffer like martyrs. Your rheumatism is caused by one thing only — uric acid. There's nothing mysterious about the way this acid keeps the nerves raw and destroys the lubricating oil in your joints, so that even the bones become sore and painful. Whenever you feel the pain, remember Powley's Liquified Ozone can relieve you of it in a remarkably short time permanently and in a healthy manner. Ozone cures rheumatism in a healthy manner, because it contains no drugs to create false stimulations — give deceptive signs of recovery. When you feel the sting going, you will know that it is going for good; you're becoming cured. 50 cents and $1 a bottle at all druggists. The Ozone Company, of Toronto, Limited, Toronto. The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie street, Chicago.

One Phase OF THE New Woman

It is quite the thing just now to make sport of the aggressiveness of the new woman, but there is one thing that the new woman is fitting herself to do, for which she must be commended, and that is, either to earn her own living or to implement her ordinary income. If the inclination of the new woman is towards independence and freedom from restraint, it is equally in the direction of improvement of her condition and betterment of her surrounding. In various honourable ways she earns money without resorting to drudgery. The Song of the Shirt has no place in her vocabulary. She may work with her pen or her brush, or her voice or her musical touch may be made to contribute to her creature comforts; but by far the larger number of women of all ages and in various walks of life earn their livelihood, in part or in whole, from the skillful employment of their needle. Knowing how to do it is the great secret, and every lady of ordinary intelligence can learn how to do the most artistic and elaborate crocheting, knitting and embroidery by following up the simple lessons in the Corticelli Home Needlework Magazine. The spring number of this admirable quarterly is now ready for delivery, and, like its predecessors, is a marvel of usefulness and beauty, and furnishes valuable instructions in the art of French lace embroidery, modern lace making, embroidered shirt waists, new centrepiece designs, crocheted purses and bags, etc.

The magazine is profusely illustrated in coloured and black prints, and is sold for 10c a number or 35c per annum. Address

ADVERTISE

THE EXAMINER, Peterborough, has the largest circulation of any paper between Toronto and Ottawa, is carefully edited and neatly printed. It is read by all the thoughtful people of the Town of Peterborough and country round about. By reason of the high-class of its circulation, it is the best medium of advertising in the district. Do you think it would pay you to have a notice of your business inserted in its advertising columns? Call and let us talk the matter over: : :

THE EXAMINER

Next Premier a Commoner.

London, April 14.—Gossip about Lord Salisbury's retirement has been revived and rumor now points to Mr. A. J. Balfour of the "House of Cecil" as his uncle's successor. It is not likely that Mr. Balfour, should he don the Premier's mantle, would leave the House of Commons. There is a decided feeling in the ranks of the Conservative party that the next Prime Minister should be from the Lower House. In the House of Lords the Duke of Devonshire is the natural successor to the present Premier.

CARE-LINED FACES

Are not always the sign of mental worry, for many a person goes silently along day in and day out, suffering almost beyond telling from bodily pain, and the only sign that betrays it is the care-lined face.

Stomach out of order? Indigestion with its cutting acids making every breath you draw a dagger pain? Dyspepsia gnawing to almost the point of distraction? Can't sleep? Nerves? You needn't suffer. South American Nervine puts "all things to rights," chases the [illegible] from the brow, and instead of the care lines there'll be the glow of health. Last bottle helps: a few bottles cure. 16

A ROUSING CAMPAIGN MEETING.

Mr. Stratton Confers With His Workers.

A VERY LARGE GATHERING

Work of the Campaign—Addresses of Hon. Mr. Stratton and his Supporters—Both Provincial and Local Outlook Bright.

The campaign in Peterborough on behalf of Hon. J. R. Stratton's candidature, is going forward with an enthusiastic swing that presages a splendid victory. On Saturday evening the spacious committee rooms on Water street were crowded, although the duties incident to the time and counter attractions made such a night unfavourable for a large gathering. All sorts and conditions of electors were present, the young men and the working men being out in strong force. The confident spirit, born of the working spirit of the meeting, was its leading feature, for there was no other feeling than that with united work one of the greatest victories in the history of the riding would be achieved.

After a period of organization work, Mr. Adam Hall took the chair and a few brief, crisp, speeches were made by some of the workers present.

MR. STRATTON'S REMARKS.

Mr. Stratton, who was received with hearty applause, expressed the pleasure he felt at the large gathering present, especially on a Saturday night, and he was also much pleased with the deep interest taken by his supporters in pushing the work of the campaign. Referring to the Provincial outlook, Mr. Stratton said he had that day been speaking to the Premier, and Mr. Ross told him that the trip of himself and his colleagues to New Ontario was most successful and encouraging. It was gratifying to know that there was a reasonable certainty of all the New Ontario constituencies sending a solid phalanx in support of the Government at the coming elections. Referring to the opera house meeting on Saturday night in the interests of the Opposition, Mr. Stratton said that he was glad that there were so many Liberals present to see for themselves the poverty of the arguments of the Opposition, even when presented by the "first lieutenant" of Mr. Whitney, Mr. Foy, of Toronto. If Mr. Whitney and the Opposition were satisfied with that meeting, the Liberals were not dissatisfied. As a matter of fact, Mr. Whitney, and his lieutenants were not arousing very much enthusiasm throughout the country. They offered the people nothing new, and live electors could not be expected to grow enthusiastic over morbund issues and trivalities. During the past week, Mr. Stratton said he had "kept house," while the other members of the Cabinet were at the "Soo," and had come in contact at the Parliament Buildings with many of the Liberal candidates from different parts of the province. They spoke very hopefully of the outcome of the present campaign, and the indications were that the Ross Government would be returned to power by a large majority. Referring to the local situation, Mr. Stratton referred to his opponent in kindly terms as a good citizen, who would find his greatest usefulness in continuing to discharge the duties of citizenship. Mr. Stratton spoke in appreciation of the presence of so many of the working men, who it seemed in turn appreciated his efforts in the past to promote their interests. He had always done everything in his power to benefit them and advance their interests, both directly and indirectly, by assisting in the promotion of new industries that would furnish employment at good wages. The Ontario Government deserved well at the hands of the working men as a class, for no government in any country had placed a larger number of better laws on the statute books in the interests of labour. He was publishing in the Examiner a series of articles setting forth what the Government had done in this direction. Any working man who would read these articles without prejudice could come to no other conclusion than that the Liberal Government of Ontario had done all that could be done up to the present in the interests of labour. And what had been done was only a guarantee of what would continue to be done. Changing industrial conditions, and the changing relations of capital and labour, would call for additional legislation, and the Liberal Government would give it as freely and ungrudingly as they had done in the past. Referring to the prosperous conditions that prevailed in Peterborough, Mr. Stratton pointed out that every building ing was occupied, and a suitable committee room could not be found on George street, and there were no vacant houses in the town. With such conditions prevailing, was it time for a change in a government that had a progressive policy intended to keep things moving—to promote development which would give both capital and labour employment. Mr. Whitney offered the people nothing tangible; he simply asked the people to take him on trust. The Liberal Government desired to build up New Ontario—to continue the work that had been begun. Mr. Stratton spoke of the results of the great development at the "Soo"—of the enormous sums that had been expended in supplies of machinery and other things which had kept factories busy and increased the employment of the working men. As an example of what had been the effect; in Peterborough, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of machinery had been supplied by local manufacturing establishments. As a member of the Government, Mr. Stratton said he was heartily in accord with such a policy and in his personal capacity he had done all he could to promote the prosperity of local manufacturers and of the town generally, and he would continue to do the same in the future. He did not come to speak, but he rather perferred to hear from those who had been carrying on the work during his week of absence.

OTHER SPEAKERS.

Mr. John O'Brien, Downey street, said that when Mr. Stratton was first elected, sixteen years ago, it was the working men who elected him. If they supported him then, why not now? He had fulfilled his promises, had served the town well, had watched over and helped its interests. After referring to the excellent laws placed on the statutes in the interests of labour, Mr. O'Brien urged every man present to put his shoulder to the wheel and give Mr. Stratton his usual big majority.

Mr. J. J. Hartley felt that the great majority of the electors were in favour of returning a representative who had worked for the best interests of the town and county of Peterborough. We wanted to keep Peterborough where she was, at the head. As to the working men, where would they find a Government that had done more of what a Government can do, than the Liberal Government?

Mr. Geo. Sloan spoke briefly and hopefully of the issue of the campaigne.

Mr. E. B. Stone said he had read the report of Mr. Whitney's speech at Hastings, and found in it no acceptable substitute for the Liberal platform. With his "colossal" inconsistency he had referred to corrupt acts on the part of Liberals—who if they practised them were simply infringing on the copy right of the Conservative party which had invented the system of political corruption, and Mr. Whitney had never been heard to condemn a single one of the thousands of acts of corruption practiced by the Conservatives. In this matter, as in the matter of general policy, Mr. Whitney showed no reason why the people should elect him.

Mr. Wm. Yelland, Sr., thought the people of West Peterborough would be very foolish to make a change in representatives—a tried man for an untried one. Regarding prohibition Mr. Yelland said that while the act passed did not go as far as he would like to see it go, yet there was no temptation to him to turn to Mr. Whitney. There was no hope at all for him in that direction. He believed Mr. Ross was an honest temperance man and had gone as far as he could go in giving temperance legislation. As far as West Peterborough was concerned he had no fears of the result—Mr. Stratton would be elected with a big majority.

Mr. D. Harvey, said that sixteen years ago, though at that time he had no vote, he had worked for Mr. Stratton's return and had never regretted it. He had been spending some time at his business in West Victoria, and he found that Mr. Heyd, the Liberal candidate, was gaining strength every day and had a good chance of success. In regard to the local contest he advised all the young men to stand by the party which had done so much for them in the past. The working men should weigh the matter of casting their vote very carefully and not be persuaded to vote against their own interests.

Mr. T. M. Hunter, North Monaghan, in the course of a few practical remarks, spoke of the duty of the friends of the Government to work heartily in the interests of sustaining a representative and a Government which had done so much and could do so much to promote the best interests of West Peterborough.

Mr. N. T. Leplante thought that if the elections depended upon faithful representation and good Government there was not the slightest reason to fear the result.

Mr. Andrew Macfarlane, the energetic chairman of Ward No. 3, said he attended the Opposition meeting in the opera house to hear what reason could be offered for a change of Government or representative, and he had heard nothing new—only the same old stories—no new policy or any policy at all except fault-finding, without offering anything better. Until the Ross Government did something to forfeit his confidence he would support them. They had not done so yet and he would do all he could to promote their continuance in power.

Mr. D. Donoghue, said he was no speaker and did not need to be, the record of Mr. Stratton and the Government spoke for themselves. They suited him.

Mr. A. L. Davis said the first vote he had given in Peterborough was for the present representative. He had supported him ever since, and would do so again.

Mr. M. H. Quinlan said the first week's work in the campaign had been a good one, and with a continuation of it there was every assurance of a great victory.

Mr. H. C. Stabler had watched the Liberal Government for the past twenty years. He had attended many Conservative meetings in that time, and had never heard any good reason why the Conservatives should be placed in charge of the Government of this country. With earnest work the Liberal majority in West Peterborough should be largely increased.

Mr. J. H. McClellan spoke briefly, pointing out that the working man would stand by the Ross Government.

Remarks were also made by Mr. Wm. Faint, Ashburnham, who spoke of the good prospects in the East Riding, and by Mr. John Cronin, and others.

In conclusion of the speaking Mr. Stratton referred to several matters of local organization, and went on to deal generally with the record of achievement and the progressive policy of the Government in the interests of the country. In referring to his representative record, he said that no Conservative could say that he had ever come to him, and asked him to do anything in his official capacity, that was a proper thing to do, but that he (Mr. Stratton) had done it willingly and to the best of his ability.

The highly successful meeting closed with the usual cheers.

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS.

A Journal of Nursing Makes a Very Good Suggestion.

The American Journal of Nursing contains the following item of general interest:

"The English nursing Journals record a great many instances of women calling themselves nurses who are brought to trial in the law courts for manslaughter by giving patients the wrong medicines, for criminal neglect, and various kinds of abuses. In some instances these women are impostors; in others they are actually employed as nurses in institutions showing that there must be reprehensible lack of supervision in many cases. For instance, when we read of the death of a patient from carbolic acid administered instead of medicine, while not condoning the careless nurse, we yet blame still more the management which will allow such a hap-hazard system of keeping medicines and disinfectants mixed up together. If each had their own separate closet kept under lock and key such accidents could not happen."

—Mr. Donald C. McGregor, baritone, has appeared with Miss Maclachlan, in most of her Canadian and American engagements, and has become a foremost singer.

—Union meeting of the Epworth Leagues of the town in the George street school room this evening. All members and friends of the different societies are urged to be present.

—Mr. T. J. Parker's Bicycle and Repair Shop at the corner of Hunter and Queen street, is again in full swing. All orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to. A full stock of new and second hand wheels on hand. 30d61

—E. M. Singer & Co., have opened out a new supply store in the Dunsford Block, No. 352 Water street. A call will convince buyers that they can purchase drygoods, linens, made-up skirts, blouses, underwear, notions, fancy goods, jewelry, etc., at unusual reductions off regular store prices. A personal call is necessary to learn the extra values they are giving. Buying at close cash prices enables them to sell at closest figures. 3d

Death of Mrs. John Whitelaw.

Word was received in town this morning of the death in Cobourg, of Agnes Glover, widow of the late Mr. Whitelaw, and sister of Mr. Peter Glover, of Ashburnham, and Mr. Louis Glover, of Allandale. Mrs. Whitelaw has visited Peterborough on many occasions and a host of warm personal friends will sincerely regret to learn of her demise.

DIED

PERSONALS.

Miss Mary McKendry, has been visiting friends in Cobourg.

Mrs. W. R. Russell, and sons, Jack and Hartley, of Quebec, are visiting in town.

Miss Maud Stewart of Millbrook, who has been visiting friends in town for the past two weeks, returned home on Saturday.

Mrs. R. G. Sturgeon and family left on Saturday on a visit to Toronto, Brantford, London, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Miss Eva Gardiner also accompanied Mrs. Sturgeon, and Master Keir Sturgeon, who has been ill for some time.

Master Reginald Deacon, the boy soprano, of Ottawa, has a wonderful voice and execution for a lad of his years. His singing of the "Holy City" at St. John's last night was an exquisite treat which aroused the admiration of all and enthusiasm of many who heard him. His voice has both a wide, even range and a charming quality. In his clearness of enunciation of the words set to the music he sings with the sang froid and ease of a Sims Reeve, he sets an ample to many adult professional singers.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

An important meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. this evening at 7.30, when the future of the game in Peterborough — for this summer at least—will be decided upon. It is therefore very important that there should be a good attendance of those interested. The principal item of business will be the presentation of the report of the Grounds Committee. Let every member of the executive be on hand.

BASEBALL.

The Bloomer Baseball Team of Buffalo are going to play in Whitby, and an effort should be made to bring the team to Peterborough for a game. The members of the team are all women.

THE GUN.

It is said that an effort will be made to reorganize the Gun Club, and it would not be surprising to see a Colts' Gun Club organized. There are quite a number of young men in town who take a great deal of interest in trap shooting.

TENNIS.

The Y.M.C.A. Courts are now in condition and are being patronized by local lovers of the game.

Peterborough Opportunity.

There never was an artist coming before a Peterborough audience whose name has been more enthusiastically received than that of Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan. This is not to be wondered at as a singer of such note demands attention.

The London, England Star reports as follows:

"Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan, a Scottish singer of reputation, fairly captured the St. James' Hall audience. She possesses a splendid voice, thoroughly well trained, and a splendid presence. Miss Maclachlan would win the sympathy of any audience."

Miss Maclachlan's American and Canadian tour closes when she sails for Scotland on May 3rd, and her appearance here Tuesday April 22nd should be taken advantage of by the Peterborough people.

Reserved seats 50 and 75 cents. Plan opens Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan, Scottish Prima Donna.
Mr. Donald C. McGregor, Baritone.
Mr. Robt. Buchanan, Jr., Pianist.

Orders to Quit.

The sale of the T.O. Rush Clothing Co.'s Bankrupt Stock in the store next to the Bank of Toronto on George must be disposed of at once. The landlord is about to begin a complete remodelling of the premises, and the edict has gone forth that the balance of the stock must be closed out at the earliest possible moment. Deep cut slaughter prices will prevail throughout the entire stock. The sale has been a Phenomenal sale, but there still remains a splendid assortment in Men's, Youths' and Boys' Suits, Men's Pants, Shirts, Hats, Caps, etc. This will positively be the last chance for Bargains at this sale, and it will not be our fault if the balance of the stock is not sold, as we have decided to let it go at 64 1-2c on the dollar. H. LeBRUN & CO., Buyers of the T.O. Rush Stock.

DR. FORD AND MR. WHITNEY.

At the Conservative meeting in Hastings on Friday night, Dr. Ford, Mr. Whitney and Mr. Foy delivered addresses. The ardent prohibitionist, Dr. Ford, cheek by jowl on the same platform with his leader, an extreme anti-prohibitionist, was apparently rather confusing to the Opposition candidate, who in his remarks touched but gingerly and gently on the prohibition subject. He seemed to content himself with asserting that the referendum was un-British, and warned temperance people against hoping to gain anything if Hon. Mr. Ross is returned to power. But Dr. Ford did not state how temperance people were to hope for anything in case Mr. Whitney, the anti-prohibitionist, were returned to power, with Dr. Ford as a sworn supporter of his general "policy." This illogical position led a gentleman in the audience to make a little natural enquiry at the close of Mr. Whitney's address:

"Mr. James Welsh asked Mr. Whitney how he could reconcile his attitude on the liquor question with that of Dr. Ford, who was a pronounced prohibitionist.

Mr. Whitney — You must ask Dr. Ford himself.

Mr. Welsh — Are you not trying to catch the two votes — Dr. Ford the temperance party, and yourself the liquor party?

Mr. Whitney stated that his position had been frankly and freely stated on the platform and in the press, and he could not hope to convince Mr. Welsh as to his views."

In view of Mr. Whitney's failure to supply information to an inquirer, who is only one among many, as to the relations of Mr. Whitney and Dr. Ford, it may be suggested—

Dr. Ford is a professed temperance man and a prohibitionist.

He is a declared supporter of Mr. Whitney, who is both anti-temperance and anti-prohibitionist, and will do all he can to put him in power and keep him in power.

Dr. Ford is trying to put into power and will vote to keep in power, a leader who is bound to repeal prohibition, if the people declare for it.

Dr. Ford is trying to defeat a leader who has been a consistent temperance man and prohibitionist as long as Dr. Ford has, a leader who has given the only measure of prohibition the province has ever had, and is committed to its enforcement if the people declare that they want it.

Suppose a man should say, "I am willing to serve the Lord in everything, but one or two things which would be contrary to my worldly interests to give up."

Dr. Ford practically says, "I am willing to serve the cause of temperance and prohibition in everything but one. I must in my political interests stick to my party, and vote for my leader, even though he is so strong an opponent of the temperance and prohibition principles I have professed for years. These are great things, but loyalty to my party leader is a greater."

CHURCH CHIMES.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Wilson's sermon last evening was a most forcible one, dealing with the character of Gideon, and the similarity of the selections that are being made in business and professional life to-day. The music was appropriate to the subject, Mr. Mulligan singing the solo "Able to Deliver." The anthems "And God Said Let the Earth," with soprano solo by Miss Metheral, and "Awake Thou That Sleepest," were nicely sung by the choir.

The morning anthem was "I Am He That Liveth"—Simper, and during the offertory the solo and chorus "Have you any room for Jesus" was sung by Mr. Mulligan and the choir.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

The anthem "There is a green hill" was rendered in All Saint's at the morning service, Miss Duncan and Mr. Legg taking the alto and tenor solos respectively.

Mr. James Browne gave a fine rendering of the tenor solo "Lead Kindly Light" at the evening service.

The Bishop of Toronto will administer the rite of confirmation in All Saint's next Sunday evening.

ST. PAUL'S.

Rev. J. A. Wilson the new assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, occupied the pulpit in his official capacity for the first time last night. He preached a very interesting sermon, taking as his text the 16th verse of the 1st chaptor of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, etc."

Rev. Mr. Wilson spoke in a clear and easy manner and appeared to create a very favourable impression upon his congregation.

Brussels Police Use Ball Cartridges for First Time.

THIRTY OR MORE WOUNDED

Bloody Repression of the Disorders Have Created a Painful Impression Among All Classes—An Affective Ball Cartridge Volley by the Gendarmes—Sixteen Persons Arrested on Saturday.

Brussels, April 14.—The bloody repression of the disorders of Saturday evening has created a painful impression among all classes here. For the first time the police fired their rifles loaded with ball cartridges. Previously they had used their swords and revolvers, the latter usually loaded with blank cartridges.

The rioters were the dregs of the population, with a sprinkling of what is called the young socialist guard, made up of mere boys.

The serious troubles began when a number of roughs from a safe distance fired revolvers in the direction of the police cordons. The gendarmes charged, firing revolvers loaded with blank cartridges. They were greeted with a hail of missiles such as stones, bottles and heavy iron rivets. This happened in several streets. An officer of the gendarmes ordered the crowd to disperse, but no notice was taken of this order. Then the gendarmes fired their Mauser carbines loaded with what are called "strike cartridges," which contain a ball, but a minor charge of powder.

The gendarmes fired only one volley, but when the mob scattered several bodies were lying on the ground. Two of the wounded were mortally hurt and died while being conveyed to the hospital. The gendarmes were pelted with balls containing sulphuric acid and attacked with butchers' knives.

It is impossible to ascertain the exact number of the victims of Saturday's rioting. The director of the Hospital of St. Pierre, however, said yesterday afternoon that three rioters had died in the hospital and another was believed to be mortally injured. Thirty people who are badly hurt were received at the hospital Saturday night.

Another report says: The threatening aspect of a mob near the Maison du Peuple at 11 o'clock Saturday night caused the police and gendarmes to charge it, with the result that five of the demonstrators were wounded. One of the injured men will die. He received a bayonet thrust in the back. Sixteen arrests were made during the course of the evening. This big casualty list for a comparatively insignificant encounger is taken as evidence that the gendarmes who inflicted the injuries are inclined to handle the groups without mercy.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Premier Ross and Hon. J. R. Stratton will address a meeting at Havelock, which is in the latter's riding, on April 25.

It is rumored that the British Columbia Government will take the matter out of the Dominion Government's hands, and allow fish traps on the B. C. coast.

The North Toronto Conservative convention will be held in St. Paul's Hall this evening. The choice of the convention will likely be either ex-Mayor John Shaw or Dr. Beattie Nesbitt.

A convention of the South Brant Reformers was held at Brantford on Saturday afternoon. Mr. T. H. Preston, M.P.P., was tendered the unanimous vote of the convention to become the standard bearer for the South Brant Reformers, which he accepted, after which Mr. Preston and Hon. W. Paterson, M. P., addressed the meeting.

First Pilgrimage in Four Years.

Pekin, April 14.—The Emperor and the Dowager Empress with one hundred of the highest officials including Yuan Shai Kai, the Viceroy of Chi Li, and a retinue of 3,000 civilians and 5,000 soldiers, will start tomorrow on the first pilgrimage in four years to the eastern tombs of the dynasty one hundred miles distant, to offer sacrifices. The Imperial party will be absent from the capital a fortnight.

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate the awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping and is warranted to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Troubles. Two months treatment costs $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Italy to Get Tripoli.

Rome, April 14.—A fierce agitation is proceeding in Italy against the supposed intention of the Government to send an expedition to Tripoli. The agitation is being engineered by the Socialists and Republicans and meetings of protest have been held in most of the large towns. The majority favors the project, on the assumption that it can be accomplished without much risk, and nine-tenths of the Italian newspapers vehemently support it.

A Sin Against Nature.

When you neglect a cough you must pay the penalty nature inflicts, viz., congestion and pneumonia, and perhaps consumption. Anyway, coughing weakens lungs and makes the voice husky. Better spend 25c. for a bottle of Four T's, the great guaranteed cough cure and avoid the consequences. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

A BREATHING SPELL.

If the consumptive could only keep from getting worse it would be some encouragement.

Scott's Emulsion at least gives tired nature a breathing spell. The nourishment and strength obtained from Scott's Emulsion are a great relief to the exhausted system.

This treatment alone often enables the consumptive to gather force enough to throw off the disease altogether.

Scott's Emulsion brings strength to the lungs and flesh to the body.

Banished For Gambling.

Vienna, April 14.—The gaming scandal in the Vienna Jockey Club last December, when Count Potocki lost three million crowns in twenty minutes at baccarat to Herr Szemere, resulted in an investigation. Count Potocki, as a Russian subject, must be banished from Austria for playing games of hazard. Herr Szemere is also banished. The famous turf sportsmen, Herr Von Pechy, is also banished from Austria with several other nobles. Count Potocki and Herr Von Pechy have petitioned Emperor Francis Joseph for a remission of their sentences. Herr Szemere has appealed to a higher court against his conviction.

Tragedies Near Montreal.

Montreal, April 14.—There have been a great many violent deaths in this district of late. Mr. Louis Sylvestre, a rich farmer of St. Jacques, was killed Saturday evening by being run over by a train on the Berthierville branch of the Canadian Pacific.

The second case was that of Albert Francis Volkert, a lad, who was cut to pieces in the machinery of the Hudson Tube Works.

The young man, Lussier, who shot his father Saturday at Varennes, has been brought to the city and lodged in jail. The victim is very low, and the two balls have not yet been extracted.

Interesting St. Thomas Case.

St. Thomas, April 14.—Dr. Edmonds, veterinary surgeon, has entered action for forgery and perjury against his deceased wife's mother, sister and brother. He charges that a will purporting to leave his wife's life policy in the Chosen Friends to her mother is a forgery, and that the parties concerned perjured themselves in testifying in court to its validity. The case comes up on Tuesday.

Revolt in Goa.

Bombay, April 14.—Another revolt against the Portuguese has broken out at Goa, the colony of Portugal on the west coast of India. The leader of the Mahratta landowners has taken up arms, with five thousand followers, who have burned the military barracks at Vilpoy, where some soldiers were killed.

Russia to Back France.

London, April 14.—A despatch from Paris to The Times says that the scope of the dual alliance treaty did not originally include France, Russia, however, assured France, in order to induce her to reply to the British-Japanese agreement, that in case of need she would support her in Africa.

Life Insurance for Fifty Cents.

Anyone wishing to insure themselves against heart, stomach, kidney or liver troubles, can do so by taking Merrill's System Tonic. Brussels, April 14.—The condition of Queen Marie Henrietta is reported to be very serious. She is suffering from heart disease, which is entering upon the dropsical stage. Three doctors have been summoned to Spain in the Province of Liege to hold a consultation.

Collapse of the Nerves.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

If you have been discouraged in seeking a cure for nervous exhaustion or prostration, the case of Mrs. C. H. Jones of Pierceton, Que., will interest you. Hers was a severe case, but is a fair example of what thousands of women are enduring, with the belief that they can never be cured.

Mrs. Jones describes her case as follows:—"For several years I had been gradually running down in health, and growing weaker and weaker. I did not know exactly what ailed me, for strange, dizzy feelings would come over me. I got a terrible fright, and it so unsettled my nerves that shaking spells would come over me, and I could not keep my feet still, and finally I had to keep the bed most all the time.

"The doctor said I had nervous prostration, and though I took his medicine from fall till spring, I did not improve in health, and could not read or sew. I would lie awake at nights and often would not get more than five or six hours' sleep in a week. My head, felt as though it would burst, and I thought I would go out of my mind.

"An uncle from New York visited me at this time, and told me of what an awful time he had gone through with his nerves. He said that he always had more faith in Dr. Chase than in any other physician, and was cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve food. I began using this preparation, and improved from the first. Altogether I used five boxes, and it has done me more good than I ever thought medicine could do. My health is better in every way than it has been for many years, and my nervous system is strengthened and invigorated.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cannot fail to benefit any man, woman or child who is pale, weak or nervous. It contains in condensed form the most potent restoratives of nature. It does not stimulate or give false hope, but gradually and thoroughly builds up the system and effects permanent cures. Like Dr. Chase's Ointment and Kidney-Liver Pills, this preparation has the endorsement of physicians and people alike in all parts of this continent. It is the standard treatment for weakness of blood and nerves. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

Backaches of Women.

Not one woman in twenty has a strong back.

Backache is the cry of Weak Kidneys for help.

Backache is the warning note of much more serious trouble to come, if not attended to immediately.

Bachache can be cured quickly and permanently by using

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

The great and well known Kidney remedy. They have cured thousands of women. They will cure you.

MRS. I. STEEVES, Edgett's Landing, N.B., writes on Jan. 18th, 1901: "In the fall of 1899 I was troubled with a severe pain in the back. I could scarcely get up out of a chair and it gave me great pain to move about. I took one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured. I have not been troubled with it since."

HEAT AND DISEASE.

THE SUN'S RAYS ARE FATAL TO MANY SPECIES OF GERMS.

As a Disinfectant Sunlight Is the Greatest Agent in Nature—Temperatures at Which Disease Germs Are Destroyed.

Sunlight is fatal to some of the lower forms of living things, including certain disease germs which are the cause of some of the most fatal infectious diseases that afflict the human race. In fact, the greatest disinfectant in nature is light, or, to be more exact, the radiations of the sun, including heat rays, light rays and the invisible rays at the violet end of the solar spectrum.

An infectious disease is one which may be contracted by the introduction into the living body of living disease germs, which may be contained in different kinds of infectious material. Thus the disease germ (bacillus) which produces diphtheria is contained in the "exudate" or "false membrane" deposited in the throat or nasal passages of those suffering from this disease, and the material coughed up by a patient with diphtheria is infectious material. In cholera and in typhoid fever the discharges from the bowels contain the germ and are consequently infectious material.

Now, the object of disinfection is to prevent the extension of infectious diseases by destroying the specific infectious agents—germs—which give rise to them; and this is accomplished by the use of disinfectants. Having, as I hope, made this clear.

Any chemical agent which destroys or masks bad odors is commonly spoken of as a disinfectant, and there are a large number of so called "disinfectants" in the market which are simply deodorants and which are entirely untrustworthy for the destruction of infectious material—that is, material containing living disease germs.

These disease germs belong to the class of low vegetable organisms—microscopic plants—known as bacteria, which as a rule thrive better in the darkness than when exposed to daylight, and some of them are quickly destroyed by exposure to direct sunlight. In experiments made by me in 1893 it was demonstrated that the cholera bacillus is infallibly killed by exposure to direct sunlight for an hour or two, and the distinguished German bacteriologist, Dr. Robert Koch, has shown that the bacillus of consumption—tubercle bacillus—is destroyed by similar exposure in a time varying from a few minutes to several hours, depending upon the thickness of the layer of material in which it is imbedded.

As a result of this it is evident that the material coughed up by patients with consumption and containing tubercle bacilli in vast numbers is far less dangerous to the community in regions where the patient can live out of doors and where the sun shines nearly every day in the year.

Some disease germs which are not killed outright by exposure to the sun's rays are greatly restrained in their development. This is true of the bacillus of typhoid fever. Although it has been shown by carefully conducted experiments that certain disease germs are promptly destroyed by the luminous radiations from the sun, and especially by those at the violet end of the solar spectrum, it is also true that the heat rays play an important part in the destruction of harmful bacteria.

This is partly due to the fact that certain disease germs are quickly destroyed by being deprived of all moisture—by desiccation. Thus the germs of cholera and of pneumonia quickly perish when completely dried.

Other germs, however, as those of typhoid fever, of diphtheria and of consumption, may retain their vitality in a dried condition for several months. But the germs of all these diseases are destroyed by a comparatively low temperature. In experiments which I made several years ago I ascertained that the germs of pneumonia and of cholera were killed by exposure for a few minutes to a temperature of 126 degrees F.

A still lower temperature is effective if the time of exposure is prolonged. It is therefore evident that prolonged exposure to the direct rays of the sun would destroy these germs independently of the disinfecting power or germicidal action of the luminous rays or the fatal results of desiccation.

Other disease germs require a higher temperature for their destruction. The typhoid bacillus and the bacillus of diphtheria are killed by exposure to a temperature of 140 degrees F. for ten minutes. In general, it may be stated that this temperature is fatal to all the most important disease germs.

The facts stated furnish a scientific basis for practical disinfection, and it is evident that when sunshine is available no chemical agents are essential for the destruction of disease germs. Any article of food or drink which has been heated for a few minutes to something near the boiling point of water is absolutely safe, so far as any danger from disease germs is concerned, and any article of clothing which has been put through the ordinary operations of the laundry is as safe as if it had been placed for an hour in an expensive steam disinfector or immersed in a strong disinfecting solution.

It will be seen that scientific investigations fully justify the practice of good housewives, who at frequent intervals expose their blankets and articles of woolen clothing, which cannot be placed in boiling water without injury, to a prolonged sun bath, who scald out milk pans and kitchen utensils and place them in the sun to dry and who open up their sleeping apartments for the admission of sunlight and fresh air.—Surgeon General Sternberg in Youth's Companion.

Risking Life

To make a living! And we stand and stare up at the man in the clouds, wondering that any man can be so foolhardy. But what of the business man, who has barely time to snatch a hasty meal, and gulps down a lunch of pie and milk in a few minutes? He too, is risking his life to make a living. Life is sustained by food properly digested and assimilated. The result of hasty eating and irregular meals is "weak" stomach, and a "weak" stomach means a weak man. When the stomach is "weak" the food eaten is not properly digested and cannot be perfectly assimilated, so that there is a daily loss of nutrition, which in time will result in physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the assimilation of all the nutritive values of the food eaten, and so builds up the body into sound health and strength.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish Comedian and Mimic, of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant travelling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WRINKLES OF FASHION.

Loose Fronts, Fluffy Vests and Much Trimmed Skirts.

Everything is worn loose in front. The blouse is extensively pouched, and the new belts still pull down far below the waist line in front, giving a correspondingly short effect in the back. The coats are fashionable worn open and filled in with much lace and a pouched or cascaded vest. Even the short boleros have tabbed ends falling far below the waist or revers so arranged that the ends flare out beyond the natural lines of the body.

Wide bands of velvet are used to trim the latest tailor mades. These bands of velvet are frequently outlined by narrow braid.

Tunic skirts showing a double or triple effect are the latest cry from Paris; so is the five flounce skirt. As its name implies, this is composed of five ruffles gored and graduated from narrow to wide as they draw nearer the bottom of the skirt. The edges of these ruffles are heavily stitched.

THE LATEST BOLERO.

Panels are once more to be seen, and in lace they form a very rich decoration for the front of a ball or dinner gown.

The smart bolero in the illustration may be made by any clever woman. It is the latest Paris model. There are tucks on each shoulder, which, farther down, are held into two clusters. The top of the sleeves is laid in tucks and the fullness disposed into a tight fitting cuff. The fronts are cut long and fall over the stitched belt. This is of white cloth or taffeta to match the white appliques, which lend an air of chic to the garment. Under the open front are worn a vest and high collar of white taffeta or cloth stitched, and the fronts of the jacket are held in place over this by lacings of narrow black velvet.

A pretty model for a skirt to be worn with this should have a wide flounce headed by five folds stitched flat, the flounce being appliqued with the embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Didn't Vouch For Them Himself.

"Have you got anything that will cure rheumatism?" inquired the customer.

"Why—er," said the druggist, limping along behind the counter toward the medicine shelves, "we have several—er—remedies that are highly—er—recommended for rheumatism."

AN IMPROMPTU WHIRL.

It Scared the Chef Worse Than It Did His Assistant.

Pat was assistant cook on one of the dining cars on the Great Western road running into St. Paul. He was obstinate and ill tempered. The chef was equally so, and as a result constant warfare waged between them. One hot day Pat was making ice cream and in spite of the chef's warnings insisted upon sitting in the doorway of the pantry while he turned the freezer. The train, going up grade, made a sudden lurch, and Pat and his can of ice cream fell out the door, as his superior officer had predicted. Frantic with fright, the chef in his white cap and apron tore through the train looking for the conductor.

"Mon Dieu, M. Conductaire," he cried, wringing his hands when he found that person, "se ice cream freezaire he fall off, and Pat go wis heem! Stop se tramway or we will haf pas dessert pour le diner. Trouble, trouble always wis sat Irishman!"

The conductor pulled the bell and stopped the train, but it had already gone two miles past the spot where Pat had rolled out. They backed the train, fully expecting to find Pat's mangled body beside the track. Instead they saw him coming over the ties on a run, carrying on his back the ice cream freezer. He climbed on the train, looking foolish, but all he ever said of his miraculous escape was, "Be gosh, it jarred me some, it did thot!"

Nervous, Sleepless and Exhausted.

Not sick enough to lay up, but you are out of sorts, blood is weak, nerves unstrung, kidneys deranged, vitality is low. You should take Ferrozone at once; it will enrich, strengthen and purify the blood, invigorate and pacify the nerves, and increase your energy, vitality and power. Ferrozone will renew your appetite and digestion, make you sleep soundly, in fact will make you well. Try Ferrozone. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

A Matter of Spelling.

Those who love to study human nature often derive as much pleasure from watching the people who visit picture galleries as they receive from the pictures themselves. It is not every day, however, which produces so amusing an incident as one which an English paper reports:

Two ladies were looking at a picture by Mr. Faed in the Royal academy entitled "His Only Pair." The artist has depicted a poor boy sitting up in bed while his hardworking mother mends his only pair of trousers. The boy, although obliged to stay in bed while the repairs are under way, is contentedly eating an orange.

One of the visitors looked at the picture with searching gaze and then remarked to her companion: "'His Only Pair!' I don't call that a pear at all! It's an orange that he is eating."

At the Change of Life.

This trying period in Woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetites, forebodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine, because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

Right Side Wears Out First.

"The journals in street car trucks always wear out on the right side first," said an expert in traction mechanics the other day. "That's because the majority of people are right handed. This sounds funny, but it's a fact. Right handed people involuntarily choose a seat on the right hand side of the car, and most people standing up reach for a strap on the right. Any conductor will tell you that the right hand seats always fill up before the seats on the left, and if you make it a point to count the number of persons occupying seats in a crowded car you'll almost invariably find that there are more people squeezed into the right hand seats than in the left. This, with the majority of standing passengers holding on to the right hand straps, throws most of the weight on the right wheels, and the extra friction grinds the right side journals down before those on the left are much worn."

THE MAKING OF STEEL.

Industrial Transformation at Sault Ste. Marie.

ALGOMA CENTRAL TRIP.

A Model Settlement Shown by Mr. Clergue—Bringing out Settlers in Large Numbers.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 11.—A week of surprises for Premier Ross and his touring Ministers came to a conclusion to-night, when the party took train for Toronto shortly after 6 o'clock. This day had been reserved for an inspection of Mr. Clergue's large industries on this side, and for a trip up the Algoma Central Railway. What was seen by the party to-day exceeded the expectations of everyone, and further confirmed them in their enthusiasm over the development of new Ontario. That a series of vast enterprises, on which $20,000,000 has already been spent, each one in itself of admirable dimensions, should have grown from the investment of $400,000 in a pulp mill shows the possibilities of industrial development in Algoma. Even now Mr. Clergue, in reply to remarks of surprise, says quietly, "The half has not been told." Development is steadily going on, each month bringing some new establishment projected or completed, until now the Clergue Syndicate in its factories and railways gives employment to between 6,000 and 7,000 persons in Ontario. The industries are interdependent, and they have been so planned that scarcely anything is lost.

MAKING OF STEEL.

The day has been one of the greatest interest, and, apart from the instruction gained, it will be remembered by those who participated as revealing many industrial processes with which the visitors were not familiar. Owing to the steel plant not being yet all roofed in, the company were not able to give an example of steel rail making. The making of steel was, however, witnessed, together with the rolling of of the metal into billets, but one process removed from rails. The Ministers were so impressed with the capabilities and success that should the rails be made successfully and in time, an order will ultimately be placed here for rails for the Temiskaming Railway.

TRIP OVER THE ALGOMA CENTRAL.

While the Ministers slept this morning their train was whirled out on the Algoma Central Railway, northward from Sault Ste. Marie. They awoke in the midst of solitude, where the peal of swelling torrents fills the sky-roofed temple of the eternal hills. This great northern wilderness, fringing the east coast of Lake Superior, is now accessible for the first time since civilization dawned, and, except for the removal in many places of the pine and pulpwood, is unchanged since the time of the mythical Nanabogho. Curiosity, it must be admitted, was uppermost in the minds of the travellers to see what commercial possibilities were visible on a land so pooh-poohed as worthless waste. Fortunately, Mr. F. H. Clergue accompanied the party, and it is scarcely too much to say that that gentleman combines with his marvellous administrative capacity talents of conveying his knowledge in an interesting way in a scarcely less marked manner. As the Ministers lingered at the breakfast table Mr. Clergue conversed freely, and told of his plans, maturing and to mature, to make the desert blossom as the rose. As a fitting introduction the Ministers had, as part of the excellent table fare provided by the Canadian Pacific officials on this tour, partaken of fresh strawberries, which, it was facetiously alleged, were gathered from the valley of the Goulais River.

"The Government had already reaped $50,000 from the pine in the region and $25,000 from the pulpwood, and were going to let the land go by as useless, when we came along and built a railway in return for a grant of land." This was one of Mr. Clergue's remarks by way of preface. Then he pointed from the car windows to the continuous forest of hardwood facing the railway on both sides. This was one of the assets to be used in making charcoal for the great steel plant.

A MODEL SETTLEMENT.

Then he told of the manner of settlement along the route. He instanced Goulais as a typical town to be established along the railway, an embryo settlement which was visited a few minutes later. "Here," said Mr. Clergue, "we have laid out a town site on the most modern principles. We are building 100 neat workmen's cottages at a uniform cost of $350, a cheap price, owing to the use of lumber made at the mill at this point, which we sell at cost, giving five years in which to pay for them. We have established waterworks, electric light plant, and sewerage system, and each householder has the benefit of all these conveniences. You may say that this is extravagant furnishings for workmen's houses, but the electric light costs less than kerosene would cost him. The town is laid out on a flowing stream, so that the health conditions will be preserved by the disposal of the sewage. The plant is original, practical and philosophical."

"You have been reading Bellamy," remarked Premier Ross.

"The sawmill employs about 50 to 70 men, which will furnish a population of about 500 people. There are now over 100 farms located in the vicinity, and the occupants of these will be supported by the market they find in this and other towns, and the country will be self-supporting. For the immediate future the occupants of the farms will find profitable employment in cutting the abundant hardwood on their own property, which we will buy from them, and after that they have good soil in all the valleys for agriculture in the future. We will only settle one locality at a time. We believe in concentration and thus we will avoid the struggling nature of the settlements which you see all the way from North Bay to Sault Ste. Marie.

BRINGING OUT SETTLERS.

"We have already arranged for 3000 Scandinavian settlers, 500 of whom will arrive at Halifax on the 22nd. They are all mature men and will be followed a little later by their families. There is also a colony of Danes and one of French-Canadians to come to this vicinity."

Then we got off the train at Goulais station. The cottages and the mill were inspected, and then Mr. Clergue pointed to a fringe of trees along the river which had been reserved for park purposes in the future. Encircling the site was a range of beautiful hills, forest clad and possessing sufficient variation of outline to be most attractive. Up on one hill in the distance, 200 feet high, would be located the stand pipe of the waterworks. The plan of the town was inspected, where certain streets were set apart for business blocks, and certain others for residences only. This, Mr. Clergue said, was but one of the several towns, which would be laid out between the Sault and Missanabie, each of which would be supported by wood industries and farming in the neighbourhood.

Then the train was boarded for the return journey. A short stop was made at Bellevue, where a trestle 100 feet high, spans a pretty valley. From this point Lake Superior was visible, 15 miles away over the western hills.

INSPECTING THE INDUSTRIES.

In the afternoon the first point visited was the steel plant. Incomplete though it was, enough was seen to confirm the general impression that this will be the most modern and complete work of its kind in existence. The visitors watched with the greatest interest the rapidity with which the molten and solidified metal was handled, throwing its showers of golden sparks far and wide. By means of electric cranes, which pick billets weighing 5,600 pounds as though they were mere cords, the machinery can transform a white-hot steel bloom into comparatively cool steel rails within ten minutes.

Visits were also paid to the new car shops, now turning out one car per day, on a site which was swamp six weeks ago. The machine shop the sulphite mill, the pulp mill, the nickel plant, the iron works, the alkali works, and the other industries with which the public are more or less familiar, were each in turn inspected.—The Globe.

COMPANIONSHIP OF BOOKS.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick's Admirable Address

In St. Peter's T. A. S. Rooms Last Evening, Before a Large Audience.

"Standing room only" was the sign hung out at St. Peter's T.A.S. rooms, last evening, where Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, delivered an address on "The Companionship of Books." The discourse proved a rare intellectual treat in every particular, and the reverend gentleman held the undivided attention of the large audience until the close of his admirable address.

Mr. Fred Durocher made a very capable chairman, and seated on the platform with him were Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Father John O'Brien and Dr. Maher.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick introduced his subject by congratulating the members of the T.A.S. on the great work they were accomplishing for the cause of temperance. The prosperity of the Society, and the deep interest taken in it by all, were evidenced by their large and well furnished rooms, by the success of their entertainments, by their ever increasing numbers, and by the elvated tone, which the Society has given to our Catholic young men. These, the speaker said, were visible proofs of the good that was being wrought in their midst, but he ventured to say, that there was a greater good accomplished in the homes of the memters, a good that would last, not only through time but through eternity. Better fathers, husbands and brothers, better Christians and neighbours, were the natural and necessary result of total abstinence.

The subject for the evening's discourse was the "Companionship of Books." He first dealt of books in the abstract, as our best friends, friends who never desert us, who never change, who always receive us with the same kindness, amusing and instructing us in youth, and cheering and consoling us in old age. They introduce us into the best society, to the greatest minds that ever lived, and the entree is free to all, rich and poor alike, the ability to read and think being the only qualification necessary to enjoy the company of the great and good.

From the abstract he passed to the concrete, and dealt successively of books under the three following headings—Biography, History and Fiction. The first of these, the speaker considered the most interesting, the most instructive, and the most useful, for biography is the only true history, the only profitable fiction. "The proper study of mankind is man," the study which above all others claims our sympathies. Whatever related to human life, its trials, its joys, its sufferings, and its achievements, cannot fail to attract us beyond anything else. The records of lives well led, and deeds nobly done, fill us with hope, inspire us to action, and give us new strength, courage and faith—faith in others as well as in ourselves. This is the useful lesson which biography teaches, for we cannot mingle with good men, and enjoy their company, even in their biographies, without being the better for it. Even the Holy Bible, the great biography of Kings, Judges, patriarchs and prophets, strengthens and encourages us mainly by its recorded lives, and especially by the embodied life of the New Testament." We cannot overestimate the all-powerful influence, which the lives of good men, have exercised in elevating, enobling and dignifying human character. It is a source of great consolation to us to know, that English literature abounds in excellent biography, and a still greater source of comfort to know that Catholics at home and abroad have distinguished themselves in this most important department of letters.

History, the speaker claimed, is to a large extent falsely conceived, falsely written. It should be, what Carlyle averred, "the very essence of innumerable biographies." History deals with the masses, biography with the individuals, but the former should be a continuation of the latter. It is not in battles or treaties, dates or royal figure-heads, that men are interested, but in the moral, social and political changes, which great minds working conjointly or separately have succeeded in achieving. Man's part in elevating, governing and controlling man, should be the theme of the historian. History should make the past present, bring the distant near, call up our ancestors before us, with all their peculiarities of language, manners and garb. It should show us through their houses, seat us at their tables, and place us side by side with them at work. It should direct our judgments in the knowledge of men and events, trace the connection of causes and effects, draw from the occurrences of former times useful lessons of moral and political wisdom. It should lay before us the phenomena of our social progress, the structure, principles and methods of our central and local governments, the laws which govern our industrial systems, the past and present conditions of capital and labour, together with the progress of our people in literature, arts and science. In place of all this, we are treated to lengthy accounts of bloody battles, royal tournaments, and dates ad nauseam.

There was a time, not far removed the date, when the intellectual field was occupied almost solely by philosophy and poetry. But the times have changed, and to-day the natural sciences bid fair to outstrip philosophy, while poetry is gradually, but surely, giving place to that more popular form of literature, — "the Novel." And not only does fiction exert all the influence that formerly belonged to poetry, but it has a far broader field—for it extends not alone to the upper classes, but it finds its way into all grades and classes of society.

The rich use it to wile away the day, the poor to pass their leisure hours; it finds a place in the libraries of the refined and educated, as well as in the homes of the illiterate. Our summer resorts are strewn with novels, and they find ready sale in our factory towns. All read them, and what all read must sooner or later produce its effects.

The novel, like democracy, has come to stay, let its effects be good or bad. Our duty is to baptise it, and use it as a weapon of defence.

Here the speaker entered into a lengthy disquisition on the dangers of novels in the past, their tendency to weaken morality and to produce the most lamentable of all results, a total indifference to religion of all kinds. He treated briefly of Dickens, Thackery, Charlotte Bronte, George Elliott, Charles Lever, Ouida, and May Agnes Fleming, explaining what to his mind was the influence wielded by each on the moral and social condition of their readers. The results of German theology and philosophy, so clevely novelized by George Eliot, have left their gloomy impression on thousands of the half-educated. "Ouida," said the speaker, writing under the mask of human refinement, has invested immorality with such a sentimental charm, as to make her works a constant source of danger to the weak and unwary. May Agnes Fleming and the host of her type, have turned out more useless, silly, simpering, girl-graduates than have all the much ridiculed lady academies on the American continent. Miss Thackery or Mrs. Craik has in her one novel, "John Halifax," recorded the life, the rompings, the ambitions, the flirtations and the sufferings of what we may call the roaring girl of the present age. At best this class of novels is neither refined or ennobling, and at worst it may be described as insufferable.

Mr. Blackmore's "Lorna Doone," is without exception the best novel of the second class we have seen for some time, below those of Dickens, Thackeray or Eliot, but far above anything produced outside of these artists. Here the speaker branched off on some of the living Catholic novelists, notably Christian Reid, Rosa and Clara Mulholland, Marion Crawford, and Father Finn and the remainder of his discourse was occupied with the first and last of the above authors.

Christian Reid's works reached his standard of what a novel should be for adults, and Father Finn's could not be surpassed for boys. They were strictly moral, purged of everything, low, vulgar or dangerous to faith. Genuine goodness, honesty, and truthfulness marked the manly characters throughout the works, and at the finish you put the book aside with a silent but fervent, "God bless you!" on your lips. Such books are destined to do much good as it is impossible to read them and not feel stronger and better.

In conclusion he appealed to the members of the Literary Society to do their best to establish a good library of good books, to cultivate a taste for reading, as one of the best and surest safeguards against evil, and a certain pledge of success in whatever path of life they may choose to walk. He hoped that the T.A.S. would continue to prosper and increase until every Catholic young man in Peterborough became a member. The good they were doing could not be estimated in dollars and cents, for goodness, honesty, sobriety, and the happiness of home are priceless, and these are the visible fruits of the seeds so lately planted. He referred also to the co-operation of the ladies of the parish in the good work, and hoped that the refining influence of woman's tender nature would become a marked feature of their young but healthy society.

At the conclusion of the address, Dr. Maher in a neat speech, moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer, and short addresses were made by the clergymen present.

The programme introduced during the evening by the chairman was an excellent one, every number bringing a recall. It opened with a brilliantly rendered instrumental duet by the Misses Hurley, which was followed by a sweetly sung solo by Mr. Jas. Browne. Miss L. Dennaird in her recitation acquitted herself with credit, and Miss Lavinia Hallihan's vocal number was very sweetly sung. Mr. J. Parle proved a favourite in his songs, as was Miss Ethel Primeau in a capital recitation. Mr. T. J. Begley closed the programme with a vocal number.

The accompanists of the evening were Misses K. Hurley, A. Doris and M. Begley.

Under the Auspices of a Former Peterborough Prelate.

On the invitation of His Lordship Bishop Dowling the Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, was present at the National Fete that is being held in the drill hall, Hamilton, under the auspices of the Catholic Societies in aid of the House of Providence, Dundas, and addressed an assemblage of over two thousand people on Thursday evening last.

The Toronto Mail says referring to the occasion: "He complimented the promoters on the success of the undertaking and said many nice things about the charity of the Hamiltonians."

The fete was opened on Friday last by the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, and the Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney General. The drill hall was magnificently decorated and the various countries are represented by their booths and the whole is a fairyland after the style of the Midway at the World's Fair. The ladies were all attired in the costumes of the country they represented. The admissions on Thursday evening at 10 cents amounted to $250 representing 2,500 people.

ROSS' THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES.

Mr. Foy and the Mail are protesting strenuously against the striking indictment of forty counts, save one, brought against the Conservative party, by Mr. Ross at Newmarket. Let us continue an examination of the several counts of the indictment:

No. 4—The Agricultural College.

No other institution in this country has had to undergo such a steady siege of misrepresentation as the Agricultural College in the first fifteen years of its existence.

It so happened that the Liberal Government on acceding to office, found that an unsuitable site had been procured at Mimico. Everybody can now see that it was an unsuitable site. The standing and only really grave accusation against agricultural colleges is that they are apt to cause young men to be dissatisfied with life on the farm. How much more truly might such an accusation be brought against an agricultural college in actual sight of Toronto, on a site soon, as every good Torontonian believes, actually to be enveloped by Toronto. Intermingled with the pieces of ill-luck that have befallen the Agricultural College there have been pieces of good luck—among them the removal to Guelph and the continuity of policy consequent upon the retention of the Liberals in office during all this time.

The hostility of the Opposition to the College at Guelph, while not always open, was always in evidence. They did not for many years give up their hope of bringing it back to the unsuitable site at first chosen. In 1873 according to the Journals of the House, there was a warm fight on the question of removal. On the motion that the Guelph farm be acquired, there were amendments offered in favour of every place that could be imagined as a site; also an amendment by Dr. Boulter to the effect that "in the opinion of this House it is not desirable that at the present time the Provincial Treasury should be burdened with the cost of the construction and maintenance of an agricultural college and farm." In the end the original motion was carried.

Then followed several years of carping and snarling, which was at its height in 1877. In that year there was a long debate upon the college. Mr. Lauder thought its benefits were purely local and that it would soon have to be abandoned altogether. Mr. Scott did not think the country could stand any additional expenditure. Mr. Creighton was afraid it was a failure. Dr. Boulter thought it was mismanaged, and that there should be no additional expenditure; therefore he moved that the proposed grant be reduced from $16,800 to $6,800. Mr. Macdougall thought that if it cost so much to educate "these young farmers" the sooner the thing was abandoned the better. Gentleman farming, he said, did not suit this country, and men of scientific attainments were not required here.

In the next year, 1878, the Opposition voted to cut down the Principal's salary by $500; also to reduce the grant by $5,000; also objected to payment of a gratuity of $1,500 to the retiring Principal.

In 1879 they voted to cut down the salaries of the President and the Professor of Agriculture, by $400 each.

In 1885 they wanted to have a fishing committee appointed to look into matters.

About this time the Conservatives discovered that the college had become not only successful, but popular, that the farmers had identified themselves with it, and had begun to resent attacks upon it as upon themselves. So the Agricultural College had peace for several years.

In 1892 the attack was resumed in the shape of a flank movement; the Opposition sought to get the Government condemned for not teaching enough of agriculture in the public schools. Their amendment (see Journals of 1892) while expressing their overpowering anxiety for the welfare of the Agricultural College, administered the following vicious thrust at the institution:

"This House cannot approve of the continually increasing disproportion between the sums it is asked to provide for primary and secondary education, and desires to record the opinion that the cost of secondary education should be borne to a greater extent than at present by those who avail themselves of the means provided for obtaining it."

That is to say the cost of education at the Agricultural College should be paid by the pupils themselves to a much greater extent than is now the case—a very fine exhibition of Conservative friendship for the cause of agricultural education!

In 1893 the Conservatives moved to strike out the salary of the assistant in the natural history department.

In 1897 they moved to strike out $2,000 from the appropriation for the farm proper of the Agricultural College, and $1,400 for the Poultry Association.

No. 5—The School of Practical Science.

This has been one of the great successes of Liberal government. Like many other successful institutions, its beginnings were small, and it had to encounter the hostility of the Opposition in the Ontario House.

The Journals of the House for 1875-6 show that Mr. Merrick, a leading Conservative, moved that: "As the School of Practical Science is purely local in its benefits, costing an annual expenditure for maintenance of about $6,000, this House is of opinion that the appropriation should be discontinued."

Mr. Meredith and all his party voted for that motion. In 1879 and 1880 they repeated their offence against progress by voting against the appropriation for maintenance.

Then the thing began to grow and have friends, and the Opposition saw wisdom.

No. 6—Conservatives and Liquor Trade

When in the session of 1875-6 the Liberal Government undertook the reform of the licensing system they met the organized opposition of the Conservative party. Mr. Meredith moved to postpone the reduction of the number of licenses. Mr. Lauder moved to have the Mayors and Wardens made license commissioners—which would have left the liquor trade bound up under municipal politics. Mr. Tooley, working to the same end, wanted all the revenue from liquor licenses to be paid over to the municipalities.

In 1877, as a further means of mixing up liquor with municipal politics, the Conservatives moved that the license inspectors should be appointed by the municipalities, and that the municipalities should issue licenses. In 1880 they introduced a shower of bills designed to emasculate the Crooks Act.

In 1882-3 they declared that the County Councils should appoint the license commissioners and inspectors.

In 1884 they resisted the passage of an act forbidding, among other things, the sale of liquors to habitual drunkards and minors, and increasing the license fee and penalties.

In 1886 they declared that the increase of the license fees should go to the municipalities.

In 1889 they again objected to the method of appointing the license commissioners.

In 1890 they wanted the license commissioners in counties to be appointed by the County Councils, and in cities to be elected by the people.

In 1892, 1894 and 1895 they tried to strike out the salary of the Provincial Inspector of Licenses.

In 1896 they voted that the Boards of License Commissioners should consist of county officials.

No. 7—Licensing Jurisdiction.

Willing to assist his Ontario lieutenants, Sir John Macdonald brought the whole power of the Dominion to bear against the liquor legislation of Ontario. Speaking at Yorkville, June, 1882, Sir John said:—"If I am again returned to power, I will tell Mr. Mowat, that little tyrant who is trying to control public opinion in Ontario by getting hold of every little office from a bailiff of a Division Court to a tavernkeeper, that I will pass a bill at Ottawa by which the whole licensing power will be handed back to the municipality. The Ontario license act," he said, "was not worth the paper it was written on."

As he said, so Sir John did. He passed his Dominion license law, in defiance of constitutional law and of the temperance sentiment of the country. He threw the liquor trade into confusion for several years, until the Privy Council declared his legislation not worth the paper it was written on.

In the meantime he had the loyal and hearty support of the Ontario Opposition. They have had the misfortune to find themselves frequently following policies that were clearly against the interests of the Province. In the session of 1884 they even voted against an amendment to the effect that it is the duty of the Government of the Province to take all necessary steps to maintain the rights of the Province.

UNDER CONTRACT NEXT MONTH.

Parry Sound and Sudbury Line Likely to be Completed

WITHIN A YEAR AND A HALF.

Important Statement by Premier Ross on Authority of Mackenzie and Mann.

Sudbury, April 10.—Speaking here yesterday, Hon. Geo. W. Ross announced that he had the assurance of Mr. Mackenzie of Mackenzie and Mann, that the south end of the railway between Parry Sound and Sudbury would be under contract in May and that the whole line would be completed within twelve or eighteen months. When that was done, the company intended to push on northward, skirting the west end of Lake Wahnapitae, and effecting a junction with the Government line, which will be built to and beyond Lake Temiskaming, both lines reaching the sixteen million acre clay belt. The town also stood to gain largely by the construction of the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway southward to the heart of Western Ontario. In this connection he referred to Mr. Whitney's attitude of opposition to all the railway subsidies of the past session.

The Freshness and Deliciousness of Malt Breakfast Food Quickly Captivate Young and Old.

The large majority of breakfast cereals are simply made to sell. Malt Breakfast Food with its many health giving virtues is made to keep the well strong and vigorous and to restore health and digestive vigour to those suffering from impaired digestion and stomach derangements.

There is a freshness and deliciousness in Malt Breakfast Food that cannot be described in words. One trial of this great health food gives instant and convincing proof of its superiority over all other brands now on the market. Old and young after one serving of this kingly food, are captivated, and never have a desire to return to the starchy and indigestible grain foods, such as common oatmeal, cracked wheat, wheat grits and hominy. Try one package of Malt Breakfast Food if you have not yet used it; it will prove a delightful treat at the morning meal. Your grocer sells it.

IN MEMORIAM.

In Loving Remembrance of Thomas Fox, who was killed in Toronto, on March 28th, 1902.

Yes, dear Tom, has left us,
His toils and cares are o'er,
In Heaven we hope to meet him,
But on earth, alas! no more.

Loving brother, thou are sleeping,
In the cold and silent tomb;
Calmly sleeping, gracefully waiting
The glorious resurrection morn.

Cut down in manhood's happy prime,
Dear Tom, so kind and true,
Laid low without a moment's warning—
Without time to bid adieu.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding
O'er the spoils that death has won,
We would at this solemn parting,
Calmly say, "Thy will be done."

Though cast down, we're not forsaken,
Though afflicted, not alone,
Thou didst give and Thou hast taken,
Blessed Lord, Thy will be done.

Eternal rest grant to him, O Lord.
With deep sympathy.

Congratulatory Message From the Ladies.

The daily mail brings to the manufacturers of the Diamond Dyes congratulatory messages from ladies in every city, town and village in Canada. These letters speak of great success and triumphs with the Diamond Dyes. Such unsolicited testimony regarding the vast superiority of Diamond Dyes is conclusive proof that no other package dyes can be compared to them in strength, fastness and beauty of colours.

It is also quite evident that the Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns have increased their popularity; the present large demand is the strongest proof. If your dealer cannot furnish you with printed sheets of new designs, send your address at once to the Wells and Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., and you will be supplied free of cost.

PEACE AT BRUSSELS.

Violent Speeches Made, But the Police Were Absent.

Brussels, April 15.—The day passed here in perfect tranquility. Several meetings were held in the suburbs during the evening. M. Vandervelde and other Socialist leaders made violent speeches in the vicinity of the Maison de Peuple last evening, but order was maintained. This fact was mainly due to the conspicuous absence of the police.

Horse Trainer Fatally Injured.

Toronto, April 15.—John Gallagher, the well known horse trainer and brother of Patrick Gallagher, the successful local steeplechase jockey, met with a terrible accident in the railway yards at the foot of Bathurst street last night. Both of his legs and left arm were practically severed from his body by Grand Trunk train No. 200, which is known as the fast freight for the east. He was shipping horses at the time of the accident. It is not thought he can recover.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

The Reason is not That They may not, but That They Will not be Free.

A Story of a Woman who Made up Her Mind That she had Suffered Long Enough—The Means Employed to Cured Her Have Cured Thousands.

She had Female Weakness of a very aggravated form, causing her fearful pains. Her back pained her something dreadful.

She could not lift anything and was dizzy-headed all the time. After trying many medicines with no good results, she was becoming altogether discouraged so much so that she thought she would have to give up.

No wonder that she felt like giving up! Every woman who has suffered in this way will understand how low spirited and broken a woman feels when called upon to endure these extremely distressing symptoms.

But Mrs. Riley didn't give up. A friend advised her to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she began a treatment of this medicine.

After using four boxes she was much better. She felt a great deal stronger, the dizziness had gone. The pains in her back had disappeared, and she kept on using the pills.

She says:

"If it had not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills I would have had to give up. They are certainly a wonderful medicine and have done more for me and my sickness than all the other medicines I ever took.

"I can and will highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all weak women who suffer as I used to suffer."

No woman need suffer a moment longer. Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured and are curing thousands of weak women.

Many of your sisters have told their story for publication. All join in praising the remedy that has done more for the suffering womanhood of Canada than all other means combined.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are Weak Woman's Best Friend.

REPLY TO THE BOERS

Lord Kitchener Sent a Communication on Saturday.

PEACE THE HAGUE BOERS WANT

Last Week the Boers Lost Heavily—Commandant Potgieter Among the Killed—Kekewich Beats the Boers at Close Quarters—Colenbrander Defeats Boyers in Several Days' Hard Fighting.

London, April 15.—It is said that the communication of the Boer leaders to Lord Kitchener amounted to little more than a request for permission to use the cable in consulting Mr. Kruger and the Boer delegates in Europe regarding a basis for a peace settlement. There is a distinctly hopeful feeling in official quarters.

Replying in the House of Commons yesterday to the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who asked whether any terms of peace had been suggested by the Boer leaders in South Africa, the Government leader, Mr. A. J. Balfour, said it was impossible, at present, to say more than that a message had been received Saturday from the Boer leaders through Lord Kitchener, and that a reply had been sent to them. Further communication was expected.

Peace Proposals of the Boers.

The Hague, April 15.—From those close in touch with the Boer leaders here, it appears that the latest secret despatch from South Africa outlines the peace proposals now under discussion at Pretoria. They closely follow the summary given on Saturday last by The Evening News of Edinburgh, with the following additional details:

"The Boers accept a British Lord Commissioner, with a Boer Executive, both to be resident at Pretoria.

"The country to be divided into districts, with British district officers and a Boer committee chosen by polling, by the burghers. The veto right to be reserved to the British Government. The majority of the British officers must be conversant with the Dutch language.

"Johannesburg to be retroceded to the British with a complete British civil organization. A war indemnity of at least £10,000,000 to be distributed by mixed committees.

"Disarmament to occur when the first batch of Boer prisoners is sent back to South Africa.

"No war tax to be levied.

"Both languages to be recognized in the schools and courts, and in official documents.

"The expense of the garrisons in South Africa to be borne by Great Britain.

"The present Boer leaders to be retained in office so far as possible."

SEVERE FIGHTING.

Commandant Potgieter Among the Boer Killed—They Lost 200, But the British Had a Small Reverse.

London, April 15.—News of severe fighting in the Transvaal at the end of last week has been sent by Lord Kitchener, who report that about two hundred Boers were killed, wounded or captured. There were about a hundred British casualties. The British also captured three guns and a considerable quantity of supplies. Commandant Potgieter was among the Boers killed.

Lord Kitchener, in a despatch dated from Pretoria, Sunday, April 13, recounts how Colonel Colenbrander, after locating Commandant Beyers' laager at Pzel Kop, moved his force by different routes from Pietersburg, Transvaal Colony, blocking the principal lines of retreat. The fighting commenced April 8, when the Inniskilling Fusiliers attacked Molipspoort, covering the Boer position, and by dusk had seized a hill eastward of the poort, after considerable fighting, resulting in Colonel Murray being wounded and Lieut. Lincoln being killed. An officer and five men were wounded. Since then the operations continued daily. Colenbrander's latest report, April 12, gave the Boer losses in killed, wounded and prisoners as 108 men. The Colonel hoped to be able to report further captures.

The most severe fighting occurred April 11 in western Transvaal where General Ian Hamilton has replaced Gen. Methuen in command of the British troops The Boers attacked Colonel Kekewich's force near Rooiwal, and fighting at close quarters ensued. The Boers were repulsed, leaving on the field 44 men killed, including Commandant Potgieter, and 34 wounded The British captured 20 wounded prisoners. According to last accounts, General Ian Hamilton was pursuing the remainder of the Boer commands. The British losses in this fight were six men killed and fifty-two wounded. At the beginning of the pursuit Col. Kekewich captured two guns, a pompom, a quantity of ammunition and a number of wagons.

A force of Boers recently overwhelmed a strong British patrol sent out from Bultfontein, Orange River Colony, to clear distant farms. An officer and two men were killed, fourteen men were wounded, and the remaining members of the patrol were surrounded and captured. Lord Kitchener mentions holding an inquiry into this reverse.

New Zealanders' Heavy Loss.

The casualty list published last evening shows that the 8th New Zealand Regiment lost 13 men killed and 15 men injured on April 12, in a railroad accident, near Machivie.

New Zealand's Grievance

London, April 15.—A despatch from Wellington to The Times says that at a luncheon to the tenth contingent being sent from the colony for service in South Africa, Premier Seddon said only between twenty and thirty officers' commissions had been allotted to New Zealand. Mr. Seddon vehemently condemned what he declared was a breach of faith on the part of the Imperial War Office in refusing nominations after the patriotism which the colony had displayed.

Three Canadians Ill.

Ottawa, April 15.—A cablegram to His Excellency from Cape Town reports the following casualties: Benjamin Spring of the South African Constabulary, dangerous ill of enteric fever, at Potchfestroom; John A. Wilson of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles, dangerously ill of enteric, at Elandsfontein.

Spring's mother is Mrs. Warren of Castleton, Ont.; Wilson's father is Edward Wilson of Hamilton road, London, Ont., and Robinson belongs to Halifax, N.S.

Married Men Barred.

Ottawa, April 15.—The Militia Department yesterday issued a notice stating that married men and widowers will not be accepted for the South African contingent. Nelson, Slocan City and Grand Forks have been added to the recruiting points in British Columbia, and Macleod and Battleford to the recruiting points in the Territories. In southern Manitoba recruiting will take place at Morden, Deloraine, Souris and Carman, beginning on 24th inst.

HAVE JOINED HANDS.

Steel Company Takes Over Coal Company on a Guaranteed 8 Per Cent. Basis —New Steel Issue.

Montreal, April 15.—The details of the compromise yesterday between the Dominion Coal Company and the Dominion Iron & Steel Company will prove interesting reading. Under the terms of the deal the Steel Company takes over the Coal Company, and guaranteed 8 instead of 6 per cent. (as called for in the original option) on the common stock of the Coal Company, which makes this issue practically an 8 per cent. bond. The Coal Company, by an issue of $5,000,000 of common stock, retires the $3,000,000 preferred stock and the $8,000,000 of bonds. Thus the Steel Company will have to pay the 8 per cent. on $20,000,000 Coal common.

The Steel Company, by an issue of $5,000,000 new common stock at 60, will raise money to complete its Sydney plant. This will make the Steel Company's capitalization as follows: Bonds, $8,000,000; preferred stock, $5,000,000; common stock, $20,000,000; total, $33,000,000.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Mayor Cameron of Goderich called on Premier Ross at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cameron was nominated by the Liberals of West Huron recently, and asked for ten days to consider whether he would run or not. He has decided to accept the nomination.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt was chosen Monday night as the Conservative candidate for North Toronto at perhaps the largest and most harmonious convention ever held in the riding. He had, as his opponents, ex-Mayor Shaw and Dr. G. S. Ryerson, but easily outstripped both of them. The number of ballots cast was 226, and the number necessary to a choice was 113. Dr. Nesbitt secured 152, Dr. Ryerson 51 and Mr. Shaw 23. The choice was afterwards made unanimous.

King Presented With Medal.

London, April 15.—King Edward received Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian High Commissioner, in London yesterday, when Lord Strathcona presented His Majesty with an address and a gold medal from the citizens of Montreal in commemoration of the visit to that city made recently by the Prince of Wales.

Sugar Beet Bylaw Carried.

Baden, April 15.— The Township of Wilmot sugar beet bylaw was carried yesterday by a majority of 643 votes, the vote being: for, 663; against, 20.

Wonderful Power Over Serious Disease

These Cures of People Right In Our Midst Stand as Irrefutable Evidence of the Superior Medicinal Values of

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Of all the ailments which afflict human kind there are none so obstinate and none so difficult to cure as diseases of the nerves.

There may be some disorders of individual organs that are more painful and excite more sympathy from friends, but diseases of the nervous system affect the mind as well as the body and bring discouragement, despondency and gloom. They unfit men for business and women for the household affairs devolving upon them.

Such afflictions as paralysis, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy and even insanity itself are the common results of nervous exhaustion.

Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, muscular weakness, dizziness and irregularity of the bodily functions are merely the warning symptoms which tell of the approach of these more serious disorders.

Time and time again Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven to be the most effective creator of nerve force that medical science affords. It is not claimed that one box will cure serious and chronic disease. This great food cure is not claimed to be a miracle worker nor a cure-all, but when the system is run down and the nerves exhausted it is certain to produce beneficial results. It is bound to do so because it is composed of the most potent nerve restoratives that are to be found in all nature's realm.

EXHAUSTED AND WORN OUT.

MRS. J. HATCHER, 224 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is a moulder at the Hamilton Foundry, states,—

"I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which left me in a very run down state of health, and in fact my whole nervous system seemed exhausted and worn out. I could not sleep, and at times the pains in my head were almost unbearable. As a result of these symptoms, I was unable to attend to my housework, and felt miserable most of the time. On the advise of a friend I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that it has proved of very great benefit to me. I am able to do my own work now, and feel stronger and healthier than I have for years. I can truthfully state that this is due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I consider a great health builder."

HEADACHES.

MR. HAROLD CRANE, Sophia street, Peterborough, Ont., and who is employed in Hall's store, states,—

"I believe the close confinement of shop work was responsible for my becoming very nervous, and as a natural result I did not sleep, and at times had severe attacks of splitting headaches. I heard of the good results obtained by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to try it. I can now say that I am more than pleased with the results, as it has benefitted me very much. It built up my system, restored my nerves, and I am now entirely free from headaches. I have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

ALL RUN DOWN.

MRS. R. WAREHAM, 267 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., states,—

"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles we attributed to overstudy, and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves, and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, as the colour is returning to her face, and she is gaining in flesh and in weight."

WEAKNESS AND FAINTING SPELLS.

MRS. D. O'CONNOR, 278 SIMCOE Street, Peterborough, Ont., states,—

"My heart has given me a great deal of trouble lately. The least undue exertion affected it and brought on weakness and fainting spells. My nerves were also very unsteady, and I became so bad that I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which was highly recommended to me. Now I am happy to be able to say that I am completely restored to health. My nerves are strong and steady, the action of my heart regular, and the dizzy spells have ceased to trouble me."

You will search the medicinal world in vain for a more effective nerve restorer and system builder than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The evidences of your friends and neighbors attest this fact. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box; 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

An Ancient French Custom.

Anciently in many parts of France when a sale of land took place it was the custom to have twelve adult witnesses accompanied by twelve little boys, and when the price of the land was paid and its surrender took place the ears of the boys were pulled, and they were beaten severely, so that the pain thus inflicted should make an impression upon their memory, and, if required afterward, they might bear witness to the sale.

Heredity.

"What is heredity, mamma?" asked the little girl, spelling the word out through her falling tears and waiting to write down the meaning.

"It is—'m, how shall I explain it? Oh," said the mother, "something you get from your father or me."

And the small child wrote down on her paper of home lessons, "Heredity—spanking."

A DEATH "DODGER"

Chronicle all the escapes from death and put them in letters that all the world can see, and you'll find if history were written faithfully, Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will hold the record for having "baulked death's rampage."

It goes to the very brink and snatches from the death Angel's grip. Gives relief in thirty minutes. It is a heart specific. A few doses relieve the most stubborn of cases, and a few bottles will turn the scale of health. It never fails to relieve. 20

St. Luke's Girls' Guild.

The members of St. Luke's Girls' Guild have secured the opera house for one of their popular entertainments, to be held on Monday evening, April 21st. Two pleasing numbers of the programme will be "The Old Maids' Convention," and "The Day Before the Wedding,"—the former being given at the urgent request of many who were unable to see it when given some months ago. Both pieces are "winners," and those wishing an enjoyable evening should keep this date open and secure their seats early. Plan of hall now open at Ormond & Walsh's. Tickets 15c, reserved seats 25c.

"Side-Tracked."

Sidetracked is a production that has few duplicates as a laugh provoker, possessing, as it does, many characteristics that compel all to enjoy it, the quality of its story, and the opportunity it affords for good, clear fun and wholesome amusement. The selection of this season's company was made by Mr. Scammon with especial reference to the individual ability of each member to correctly portray the rule to which they would be alloted. As a result, the collective performance of the company has been pronounced the most satisfactory seen with any comedy this season. "Side-Tracked," may be anticipated to prove one of the "real" shows of the season. Advance sale at Ormond & prove one of the "real" showg o fthe

ALL SAINTS' VESTRY.

The Adjourned Meeting was Held Last Evening.

The adjourned vestry meeting of All Saint's was held last night. Rev. W. L. Armitage occupying the chair. Mr. James Edgar read the audited statement of the finances, which showed the total receipts for the year to have been $1,896.44, and the expenditure $157.95 less. The total receipts from all sources were $2,549.63.

The sidesmen for the ensuing year are Messrs. E. Good, W. Brundrette, T. H. Hooper, Chas. Akey, Jas. Mulholland, R. W. McFadden, G. T. Dryland and R. N. Jones, with the wardens, Jas. Edgar and W. H. Dayman. The Advisory Board will consist of the wardens and the past wardens with power to add to their number.

The reports of the various Societies were then read, and showed progressive work and active interest. Each report showed a balance on the right side of the ledger. The Sunday School has increased so that a number of classes have to be accommodated in the church. The income was some $233 and the attendance has increased to over two hundred. Various minor matters were then discussed, after which Rev. Mr. Armitage gave his adddress on the work of the parish. He pointed out the opportunities afforded the congregation to do a magnificent work for the Master. There has been an increase of twelve families and twenty-three individuals not identified with any resident families. With the present standing of the people there could be no reason why great increase could not be made in the finances. The various organizations were doing good work. Mr. Armitage here paid a tribute to the work of Mr. James Bell, who had been secretary-treasurer of the Sunday school, and expressed general regret at his retirement. Mr. W. Bullen had taken up that work and already showed his capability.

A number of the dangers to the church's progress were then pointed out, and a strong appeal made for increased devotion and faithfulness to the various works and services. The address was listened to with great interest, and a profitable insight into what may be done, was gained.

Votes of thanks were tendered to Mr. F. E. Bell for his splendid work as bookkeeper; to Messrs. R. J. Wolstenholm and A. Kennedy; to Mr. Jackson for work on the organ; to Miss Roy and Mrs. May, for the work on church drapes, and to the choir and organist.

The meeting was very largely attended and keen interest taken throughout.

THE SAINTS FRATERNIZE.

St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Entertained by the Young Men of St. Luke's.

About twenty-five members of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild, accompanied by their pastor, enjoyed the hospitality of the Men's Guild of St. Luke's church last night. It was a return visit, St. Andrew's young men having played the part of hosts some few months ago. The meeting proved both pleasant and profitable. Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., was chairman. An informal programme was rendered ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous. Mr. R. B. Rogers, superintending engineer of the Trent Valley Canal, gave a short illustrated talk on the mode of operation of the hydraulic lift-lock.

Refreshments were served in the Sunday School room by the Young Ladies' Guild. The toast list brought forth some very appropriate speeches by the young gentlemen present.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

The Vaticans will meet at the Oriental Hotel this evening and reorganize for the season. The Vaticans number amongst their players a lot of good stick handlers and hard checks, and under good management they can give the citizens some good lacrosse this season.

All who are interested in a revival of lacrosse in Peterborough are urged to attend to-night's meeting at 8 o'clock.

There will be a practice of the Y. M.C.A. Lacrosse Club at 6.30 o'clock to-morrow night.

PETERBOROUGH'S YOUNG MEN

Who Will Fight the Boers in South Africa.

THEY ENLISTED TO-DAY.

Mr. H. M. Morden, J. C. Strickland and V. E. LeBar, Amongst the Number—Leave in a Day or Two.

J. C. Strickland, Lakefield.
James A. Crossland, 57th Regiment. Peterborough.
V. E. LeBar, 57th Regiment, Peterborough.
A. J. Kemp, 57th Regiment, Peterborough.
H. M. Morden, 57th Regiment, Peterborough.
Frank Hughes, 14th Durham Field Battery.
Vance Wilson, 14th Durham Field Battery.
James Judd, 14th Durham Field Battery.

Lt.-Col. David Sutton, of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, is in town to-day superintending the enlisting of recruits for the 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian contingents to South Africa. He is assisted by Surgeon-Major Young also of the 3rd Dragoons.

There was no trouble in securing recruits. In fact there was just as much enthusiasm displayed by the young men of the community as at any time during the periods of enlistment in Peterborough. The class of men offering, too, was good, and included several who are prominently known in the community.

The martial spirit which has spread rampant amongst the young men of the town of late found a willing victim in the person of Mr. H. M. Morden, of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and when Lt.-Col. Sutton was ready to receive applications this morning, "Mack" was amongst the first to offer himself for the service of his country. He found no trouble in passing the required examination, and it will be only a few months hence until his characteristic humour will tend to cheer the hearts of the Canadian volunteers on the sunny veldt of South Africa.

Another excellent sample of young Canadian manhood, is Mr. John C. Strickland of Lakefield, who has enlisted in the ranks. Mr. Strickland is well known to the people of Peterborough and Lakefield and has spent several years in the Yukon District.

Sergt. V. LeBar requires no introduction to the people of Peterborough. He has served in South Africa before and has been resting quietly at home for the past five weeks. There was a time when Sergt. LeBar thought he was through with soldiering, but the temptation to go out and fight the Boers in their guerilla campaign was evidently too strong to withstand.

The work of enlisting will continue to-morrow and the Peterborough boys will leave almost immediately for Halifax, where they will be mobilized.

The above is the list of those who have been accepted up to noon to-day.

Lumberjack Thought to Have Been Poisoned and Robbed.

The Winnebago City Press News of April 9th, publishes the following particulars concerning the death of Eugene McGlauchlan, concerning whose relatives inquiry was made in the Examiner a few days ago,— Bemidji, Minn., April 8th.—An inquest and autopsy were held yesterday over the remains of Eugene McGlauchlan, a lumberjack. He was picked up insensible Saturday and died suddenly at the hospital. It is hinted that he was poisoned and robbed in a house. The stomach will be sent to the state laboratory to be analyzed. Eugene was a homesteader near Guthrie, Minn. He was unmarried and 43 years old.

GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION.

A Bridgenorth Boy may Lose his Eyesight as the Result.

Blake Cullen, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Thos. Cullen, of Bridgenorth, is suffering from the effect of an accident which befel him, yesterday, and as the result of which he may possibly lose his eyesight.

It appears that the boy was playing about in Miss M. Mann's yard and came across a bottle of gunpowder which she had thrown out. He poured a little of the powder out on the grounnd and put a match to it, but neglected to place the bottle at a safe distance and consequently the entire amount of powder exploded in a blinding flash, singeing off the lad's eyebrows, lashes and hair, and it is feared injuring his eyesight. He is under the care of Dr. Morgan.

Of Miss Maclachlan's appearance in Montreal, where she carried the city by storm, and hundred could not gain admittance to hear her, the following is taken from the Gazette report; "In reply to a most enthusiastic recall, Miss Maclachlan appeared and sang 'Home Sweet Home.' She gave its familiar strains with the most exquisite feeling and held her audience spell bound. As the last notes faded away for a moment or two the great hall remained silent and motionless before the applause broke out once more.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE LEADING MEAT MERCHANTS

Is Their to be a Famine in Beef.

The High Price of Cattle Causing Apprehension Among the Butchers.

From information which has been gleaned from the local dealers in meat it would appear that the scarcity and high price of cattle is becoming a serious matter. The market quotations have been gradually climbing higher and higher, and it is feared the highest has not yet been reached. There are a number of causes which have contributed to this result, as will be seen by the interviews which an Examiner representative has had with a number of the leading meat merchants in town.

Goselin Bros., of George street, state that the great scarcity of beef at present is caused by the farmers killing off so many of their cattle during the winter. Owing to the high price of feed, every head that could be spared was slaughtered. With peas selling at 90c. a bushel and hay at $10 and $12 per ton, it paid the farmer better to kill than to winter his stock. Goselin Bros. also state that many of the samples of beef brought to the market this winter were of an inferior quality. In fact some of the beef shown was not worth more than a cent a pound. Another cause of the scarcity of cattle was the keen demand from the city centres for good beef. Toronto butchers were offering as high as 12 1-2 cents per pound for all the hind quarters they could buy.

Mr. Alex. Gordon, in the Market Arcade, said he found prices very high in the country for all kinds of cattle, good cattle, especially. There have been so many stockers going out of the country, and nearly all our young cattle, calves, young heifers and steers, are being taken to the northwest by settlers and stock dealers. Few farmers have been feeding stock this winter, as feed was so dear, particularly peas, oats, chop, and barley. He had to pay a very high price for the beef cattle he bought, and do a good deal of long distance travelling as well. He was afraid that prices would go higher still.

Mr. John Mervin, on the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, said the principal reason for the scarcity of cattle just now was that the farmers had made up their minds last winthat they would sooner sell their grain than feed their cattle. The foreign market called for all the Canadian cattle obtainible, and offered higher prices than we could afford to pay. Young cattle were being shipped out by settlers going to the Northwest, and by stockmen, and local buyers were having a hard job and a long road to go to get what they needed. Mr. Mervin understood that as high as 15 cents per pound was being offered by Toronto butchers for hindquarters. In former seasons 3 1-2 and 4 cents was the usual price asked for cattle, but this season it had gone up to 5 1-2 and 6c.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, the well known stock buyer, who does a large business in shipping cattle, said the present scarcity did not originate here at all. The same state of affairs exists in England and the United States. One of the causes of the present situation was the failure of the corn crop on the American side. The price of that important article of feed is now nearly twice as high as it was in former seasons. Coarse grain of all kinds in the Canadian markets are very much higher than they have been for a number of years past. Then again, the extremely low freight rates on ocean steamships during the fall and winter enabled cattle exporters to take advantage of the situation. The consequence was that large shipments of our choicest Canadian cattle were taken to the English markets during January and February of this year—thus shortening the reserve supply of cattle which local buyers usually depended upon in former years that were wintered and fed for the May and June markets. The high price of our grain last fall led farmers to conclude that they could make more money out of selling their grain than in feeding it to their stock, and the result was that they sacrificed their cattle in order to realize on their grain. "American buyers, too," have been making large shipments of our best cattle for export purposes, as the scarcity across the boarder is even greater than here. The fact is that with prices higher in the English market than they have been for years, and with a decided shortage in American and Canadian markets, every well fed bullock will be snapped up at good prices, and the local men will have to pay the stiffest prices in years to keep supplied. "I have been anticipating this thing," said Mr. Kennedy, "for some time past, and in order to protect my interests, have been quietly looking ahead and providing for emergences, and have stock enough on hand to last me some months, though prices paid in most cases for May and June are exceptionally high." Mr. Kennedy stated that the present ruling quotations in the market, for extra choice steers and heifers was from 5 to 5 1-2 and occasionally even 6c. per pound, live weight. In answer to a question, Mr. Kennedy volunteered the information that "the beef of a good bullock costing, say, 5 1-2 c. per pound live weight, will cost nearly 10c. per pound when dressed. But as fully one-third of the whole carcass has to be sold as roughmeat, at from 2c. to 6c. per pound, you can figure for yourself what the other two-thirds of prime cuts has to be sold for in order to get a profit."

Mr. Kennedy states that the farmers might even yet relieve the local scarcity materially, and add to their own profit by feeding the cattle they were intending to fatten on the grass, on grain for the next two months.

Mr. W. J. Howden, corner of George and Brock streets, never knew cattle to be so scarce and so dear since he has been doing business for himself. He remembered hearing his father say that he had to pay 6c., live weight, for cattle many years ago, but that was on a special Easter occasion, when the local competition on such occasions was a good deal more lively than it was in these later years. He understood that the Americans had come over this winter and bought up our distillery fed cattle and took them to the other side. Besides, he knew that very few of our farmers had wintered their cattle on account of the high price of feed. "It looks as if there might be a famine in beef this summer," said Mr. Howden. "I have heard, too, that a well-known cattle dealer in North Monaghan got as high as 6c. for his cattle last Saturday. If the farmers don't start in now to feed their cattle for the June market, I don't know where the beef is to come from."

NEED OF ATHLETIC GROUNDS.

The Sub-Committee of the Lacrosse Club, Reports.

No Team in C. L. A. This Year for Want of Grounds—A Town League to be Formed for the Present.

An important meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. last night, the President, Mr. R. F. McWilliams in the chair.

The chief object of the meeting was to receive and act upon the report of the sub-committee that was appointed some time ago to inquire into the matter of obtaining suitable grounds. The Sub-committee consisted of Messrs. R. F. McWilliams, J. J. Howden, and Wm. Rudkins. Their report was in effect that they had failed to secure grounds. It had been thought that arrangements might have been made with the owners of Riverside Park, whereby these grounds might be leased for the present season, with an option to purchase at a reasonable figure later on.

Riverside Park is owned partly by the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Co., and partly by the Mark Burnham estate, represented by Mr. E. A. Peck. These grounds, which have in days gone by seen some historic struggles, have seen the old Riverside team lower the honours of visiting aggregations, to the delight of thousands of spectators, and that have been the resort of hundreds of townspeople, drawn together by many varieties of contests, are now in an almost untenantable condition, as the result of having lain idle for many years. To place them in any sort of shape for lacrosse or any other line of athletics, would cost at least several hundred dollars. This amount would have to be raised, of course, by the Club, or the athletic association that would undertake to occupy the grounds. The Lacrosse Club felt that it would be anything but a judicious move to spend this amount or even a much smaller amount in putting the Park in condition, unless, as before stated, they had assurances from the owners thereof that they could assume the full ownership at the close of the season at a reasonable price. The Lacrosse Club Executive Sub-committee thought further that should there be a probability of the grounds being taken over, they would have the co-operation of the Rugby Club, the Cricket Club, the Baseball Club, and all other such organizations that are in need of suitable homes. In short, the ultimate desire of the promoters of the scheme was that an athletic association should be formed, which would conduct the management of the Park, and should have erected thereon suitable dressing rooms, grand stands, club house, etc.

It looks as if all this is in vain. While the Calcutt Company offered their portion of the Park at a figure somewhat reasonable, still, it is said that the amount asked by the Burnham estate was too high for the Sub-committee to look at with any degree of hopefulness. No grounds are available excepting the Nicholls oval, and lack of a grand stand, dressing rooms, and proper means of collecting a gate, make it almost impossible to place a town the C. L. A., for the present season at the least.

The Executive accepted the report of the Sub-committee, and recommended that it was impossible to carry on a team in the C. L. A., this season. The management will now devote their efforts towards the formation of a Town League, for which there are several clubs available, such as the T. A. S., Y. M. C. A., Vaticans and Young Peterborough's. A trophy or set of medals will likely be offered for competition.

The severe set back lacrosse has received in Peterborough this summer, through lack of athletic grounds, should be carefully considered by the people of the town, and should be an inspiration for the citizens to unite in their effort to place at the disposal of the town an athletic ground, that would be in keeping with the successful records of the various athletic organizations. Rugby, Baseball and Lacrosse are all handicapped by reason of their being no grounds with proper means of collecting a gate, no grand stand for the accommodation of the spectators, and no dressing rooms for the accommodation of the players. How long shall such a state of affairs continue in a progressive, wide-awake town like Peterborough?

THE BRITISH BUDGET FOR 1902

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Makes His Annual Statement in the British House of Commons—One Penny Added to the Income Tax—Still Ready For War—The Grain Tax Sustained.

London, April 15.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, rose in the House of Commons at 4.25 p.m. yesterday to make the budget statement. He declared the past year had not been exceptionally prosperous, but there was nothing to depress the country. In spite of the fact that thousands of workmen had been removed from productive labor by the war, the revenue figures show no diminution of business at home, while there was a satisfactory increase of foreign trade, and there was no reason for thinking that there had been any falling off of the consuming power of the people.

There had been a heavy slump in the receipts of tobacco, spirits and beer; but there was a great increase in the consumption of tea and cocoa. The decrease in the receipts from spirits and tobacco was due to the forestalment of the duty during the previous year. He was in the exceptional position for a Chancellor of the Exchequer, holding office during a severe war, that for two years past the revenue had exceeded his anticipations, the last year by £543,000, when his total deficit, including the war expenditure of £72,102,000 for South Africa and China, was £52,544,000.

Proceeding to deal with the receipts of last year in detail, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said the sugar tax was most successful. It brought in £8,500,000 against his estimate of £5,100,000. The export duty on coal produced £1,314,000, which was also above the estimate, while the prophets of evil were so far from being justified that the exports were higher than in the case of any year, except the record year of 1899. It would be difficult to convince him that the tax should be repealed.

Passing to the wine duties, which it had been suggested to him should be increased, the Chancellor said the receipts from wine had diminished by £38,000. He thought it absolutely impossible to obtain more revenue from that source.

The tobacco receipts had fallen off. Tobacco was not a growing trade, and, therefore, the trade was not increasing. He expected a better yield, however, this year, as he would not again have to cope with a forestalment of duty.

The death duties had produced £18,898,000.

There had been a material decrease in the consumption of beer. He had seen it set forth that the brewers were covering the higher duty by decreasing the gravity of their beer. Possibly the customers had not fully appreciated the diluted article.

Though the death duties were a useful life buoy to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the real ship which bore him safely through the stormy seas of national finance was the income tax, which last year yielded £34,800,000, or £1,000,000 above the estimate. This fact led him to hope that, though the tax was a heavy burden in some cases, the instances were not quite so numerous as many people believed.

The account of the national debt was not so satisfactory. It now stood at £747,806,000, the funded debt now showing an increase of £58,000,000.

The statement of the revenue and expenditure showed a total ordinary expenditure for 1902-03, estimated at $129,159,000, with war charges amounting to £45,450,000, making a grand total of £173,609,000, which is £12,993,000 below the total for 1901-2.

The cost of the war for three years was £165,034,000. After touching on various details, the Chancellor turned to the prospects of the future. He estimated the expenditure for the coming year at £174,609,000. The revenue on the present basis of taxation was £147,785,000, leaving a deficit of £26,834,000. This would be increased by £18,500,000 by gratuities to the troops and bringing the soldiers home, the maintenance of the South African Constabulary, and the cost of the International Sugar Convention, etc., making a gross deficit of upwards of £45,000,000.

To meet this deficit he proposed:

1. Suspension of sinking fund for £4,500,000.

2. Increase income tax by a penny in the pound.

3. Tax sight bills, dividend warrants and cheques after July 1 a penny to two pence.

4. Put an import duty of 3 pence per hundred weight on all grains.

5. Enforce a co-relative duty of 5 pence per hundred weight on flour and meat.

By this means he expected to reduce the deficit by £5,150,000.

To make up the residue he would borrow £32,000,000, and find the rest by drafts on the Exchequer.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer was loudly cheered by the occupants of the Ministerial benches as he concluded.

Sir William Vernon-Harcourt (Liberal) was the next speaker. He corroborated the view expressed by the Chancellor of the Exchequer that the duty on wheat would meet with strong objection. This taxation of the people's food, he said, would bring home to the people the lesson of the war. Wheat was a thing of necessity, and he was opposed to a return to the old fallacies of protection. It was, Sir William considered, by far the most objectionable proposal made to the country in many years. This passion for expansion of territory and the annexation of independent countries involved ruinous expenditure, which, he believed, would have to be defrayed exclusively by the British taxpayers, as the security of the Transvaal would not in any way meet the expenditure.

The gigantic fortunes made in the Rand had not been produced by the mines, but by projectors selling worthless mines to the ignorant and credulous.

One of the first results of the budget announcement was that considerable sums of money changed hands at Lloyds, where for weeks past risks have been accepted against the various commodities upon which it seemed likely that the Chancellor of the Exchequer might impose a tax. The premiums demanded on sugar, grain and income tax risks were 50 guineas per cent. each, and many policies were written. On the other hand, big chances were taken. Timber paid a premium of 40 guineas per cent. each. None of the last mentioned commodities came under the announced taxation.

House Sustains Budget.

The House divided on the corn and flour duties resolution, which was adopted by a vote of 251 to 135.

Results of Interviews.

Sir Charles Dilke said: The budget is a reversion to protectionist principles, and although only trivially so, I shall oppose it on these grounds."

John Redmond said: "I can only speak from the Irish point of view. We regard the whole thing as a war tax, and Ireland has never approved of the war. We shall naturally fight it for that reason."

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND THE Great Spring Medicine.

WHILE IT DRIVES OUT THE SEEDS OF DEADLY DISEASES IT QUICKLY BUILDS UP FLESH AND MUSCLE.

A Marvellous Restoration Vouched for by a Prominent Clergyman.

THE CURED MAN SAYS:

"I Feel Like a New Man, Which Condition I Owe to the Blessing of God and Paine's Celery Compound.

Thousands of families to-day mourn the loss of near and dear ones who, when sickness first came upon them, were forced to use other medicines instead of the great disease banisher, Paine's Celery Compound.

We earnestly appeal to the relatives and friends of the suffering, to break away from the bondage of medical etiquette and dictation, in order that the suffering ones may have a surer and happier hope of a life.

The one remedy known to medicine that can bring vigor, strength and permanent health to the weak, rundown, rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic and those burdened with kidney and liver troubles, blood diseases and derangements of the digestive organism, is Dr. Phelps' great medical prescription, Paine's Celery Compound.

The following letter from Mr. R. W. Daniels, Lawrencetown, N. S., will surely inspire every suffering man and woman with fresh courage and hope. Mr. Daniels' cure is vouched for by Rev. C. M. Tyler, a prominent clergyman of the Methodist church:

"I feel constrained for the benefit of suffering humanity, to add my testimony to the wonderful effects of your Paine's Celery Compound. I was induced to try your Compound through its wonderful effects upon a Mr. Parks. I had previously used a vast quantity of patent and doctors' medicines, only to find myself growing weaker. After using your Paine's Celery Compound to the number of five bottles, I gained forty-three pounds, and I am able to work hard all day, as a mason, with comfort to myself. I feel like a new man, which condition I owe to the blessings of God and your Paine's Celery Compound."

Corn and oats were higher at Chicago to-day, the former closing ⅝c above Saturday, and the latter ⅛c higher. May wheat lost ⅝c from Saturday.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has decreased 1,800,000 bush.; corn decreased 968,000 bushels, and oats have decreased 248,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 123,414,000 bushels, against 94,734,000 bushels a week ago, and 101,457,000 bushels a year ago.

CHASING A GHOST.

The Way Whale Hunters Are Sometimes Fooled by "Spouting."

While the right whale is not so large nor so vicious as the sperm whale, the danger of hunting it is greater. In company with a fleet of ships, also bound for the arctic whaling grounds, says a writer in a contemporary, we sailed from San Francisco in February, and early in April we encountered the edge of the ice in Bering sea. The whales live far in the ice, and thither we went to find them. Occasionally a mother seal with one or two pups would dispute our way. She would not fly because of the little ones, holding her ground quietly, with fear in her eyes, while the pups barked vigorously at our presumption in disturbing them.

We had been "icing" for more than a week when we reached Cape Navarin, on the Siberian coast, a bleak, mountainous, dreary place. The next morning we saw another ship coming toward us, the dense black smoke from her try works showing she had recently caught a whale. In the afternoon we pushed on beyond the cape, and the lookout was cautioned to be extra vigilant. From his place in the crow's nest he scoured the sea with a long glass, and presently there came the welcome cry, "Blo-o-o-w off the lee bow!"

Every man strained his eyes. On the edge of the ice some two miles away was the familiar spout. The wind had died away until there was not a ripple on the sea. Boats were lowered, sails set and everything made ready. We drifted about helplessly. Every man knew that to place an oar or paddle in the water would "gally" the whale, for the big animals have a marvelously acute sense of hearing, and the minute there is an unusual sound they disappear.

One boat drifted in the direction of the spouting, which continued with clocklike regularity. Presently the sail of that boat was dropped, and the men rowed back to the ship. We had been "chasing a ghost." The spouting was caused by water spurting through a hole in the ice with each heavy swell.

Useful Men.

A well known Philadelphia society woman said the other day:

"I have come to separate the men of my acquaintance into three classes There are the dancing men, the dinner men and the corner men, and each has his own place on my list. For instance, I would never think of depending upon dancing men for a dinner. The dancing man is generally callow, and he doesn't know much else besides dancing. On the other hand, the dinner man seldom dances, but he is a good talker. 's superficially informed upon the lighter topics of the day—the opera, drama, the latest novels—and can more than hold up his end. He doesn't allow conversation to lag, and consequently he 's an important factor at a dinner. Men will accept dinner invitations quicker than invitations of other kinds, but don't think from this that they are all dinner men. Far from it.

"The corner man? Oh, he is the one who has the knack of making himself generally useful and is quite in a class by himself. He looks after the comfort of the chaperons, runs handy little errands and can even be depended upon at afternoon teas. The other men don't think much of him, but he has his own value from the feminine point of view."

Emperor Honors a Dragon Fly.

The oldest extant poem about a dragon fly is said to have been composed 1,440 years ago by the Emperor Yuriaku of Japan. One day, while this emperor was hunting, say, the ancient records, a gadfly came and bit his arm. Therewith a dragon fly pounced upon the gadfly and devoured it. Then the emperor commanded his ministers to make an ode in praise of the dragon fly. But as they hesitated how to begin he himself composed a poem in praise of the insect, ending with the words:

Even a creeping insect
Waits upon the great Lord;
Thy form it will bear,
O Yamato, land of the dragon fly!

And in honor of the dragon fly the place of the incident was called Akitsuno, or the moor of the dragon fly.—"A Japanese Miscellany."

Carvings on Easter Island.

The hard volcanic rock of Easter island is covered with carvings intended to represent human faces, birds, fishes and mythical animals. Fishes and turtles appear common among these sculptures, but the most common figure is a mythical animal, half human in form, with bowed back and long, clawlike legs and arms. According to the natives, this symbol was intended to represent the god "Meke-Meke," the great spirit of the sea.

The Soft Answer.

Mr. Editor (he wrote):

You will very kindly note there's a poem and a stamp inclosed within. If the poem stands no show, use the stamp to let me know, but I'll be a poet yet, you bet.

J. FLYNN.

Then the editor wrote back:

Although worth it doesn't lack, yet such maudlin rhymes as yours are seldom read. Here's $1 for your letter, which is infinitely better than your poem, which you'll find inclosed. THE ED.

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. R. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief, until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

THAT CHAPTER.

The gist of that chapter usually reads like this:

"Child weak and thin—began with small doses of Scott's Emulsion three times a day—after a week appetite improved—soon a little stronger—child more lively—weighs more".

And so it goes till the child is reported well and strong.

COOKING HINTS.

Don't salt cucumbers or eggplant before cooking. It makes them indigestible and unpalatable.

Avoid peeling rhubarb when it is young and tender, for it only needs wiping with a damp cloth before using.

A piece of tough meat can be very nicely stewed in a double boiler. It will take twice as long, however, as if cooked directly over the fire.

Fish which contain few bones may be converted into fillets by dividing the flesh from the backbone in long, wide strips and then removing any smaller bones. Soles supply the best fillets.

Crusts and crumbs of bread left over from the table should be dried, put aside for rolling and dipping or to be used in scalloped dishes or mixed with a few sliced apples and baked and served as a dinner dessert.

To prevent sausages bursting when cooking put them into a saucepan, cover them with cold water and bring this to a boil, after which take them out and fry them in the usual way. This, it is said, will not only prevent the sausages from bursting, but will improve their flavor.

An Atchison Lynching.

Here is a story of a lynching in the early days of Atchison: A man named Sterling was hanged first. He was a vicious fellow and did not flinch. Indeed, while the rope was around his neck he announced that he was the best man in Kansas. Sandy Corbin, one of the lynching party, was somewhat of a fighter himself and did not like Sterling's talk. "Men," he said to the lynchers, "if you will postpone proceedings ten minutes I will take the conceit out of this scoundrel." The committee thought it would not be proper to let Sandy whip Sterling before hanging him, and the lynching went on, although Sandy grumbled loud and long because Sterling's bluff was not called.

A Tiny Flower's Great Message.

The trailing arbutus has only one very near relative, and it lives in Japan. This tells to the botanist a strange story. When North America was warmer, the parent of both spread over northern America and Asia. With the descent of the ice cap, in the glacial period, the flowers were forced downward, one on the east coast of Asia and one on the east coast of America. They have been separated just long enough and under surroundings just different enough to have made a little difference in their appearance and habit, and yet their common origin is still easily traceable.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Listener at the Door.

"Did she say, 'This is so sudden?'"

"No; her mother was listening at the keyhole, and she didn't dare to throw on any frills."

"How do you know her mother was there?"

"Because stooping over shuts off her wind, and you could hear her gasping all over the room."

"Well, what did Minnie say?"

"She whispered: 'Cut it short, Jack. Ma is apoplectic.'"

Confusing.

"Ah nevah could undahstan'," said Charcoal Eph as he helped himself to a piece of corn bread, "w'y er man blow on he soup ter git hit cool, blow on he han's ter keep dem wahm an' blow on hisse'f ter heat de ban'. Hab some ob de fowl, Mistah Jackson?'—Baltimore News.

Tipping Quick Lunch Waiters.

Two men sat side by side on the high stools of one of those quick lunch places lined with pale tiles like a bathroom that abound in Philadelphia. One of them said to the other: "In a cafe like this few persons tip the waiter behind the counter. They think it would be a waste of money, because the waiter calls their orders down a tube into a kitchen somewhere under ground, and they hold that he has no jurisdiction over the portions and that they are served just the same whether they tip them or not.

"Well, they are altogether mistaken. I know, for I have made a study of this matter. The waiter here has two tones with which to speak through the tube. One tone is for the patron who tips, the other for him who doesn't. Now, watch a minute." The waiter in an ordinary voice now called three orders and then in a strange falsetto called that of the man who had been speaking. "You see?" said he to his companion. "I tip and those other fellows don't." A moment later he added triumphantly: "Look at the difference between my order of roast beef and our friend's over there. I've got a big cut out of the heart of the roast, and he's got two or three little chunks of 'end.' Oh, yes; it pays to tip in these places as well as it does anywhere!"

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate the awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping and is warranted to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Troubles. Two months treatment costs $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston., Ont.

A Parisian Recommendation.

A political critic of a former generation was engaging an apartment in one of the chief streets of Paris. The landlady, wishing, like all landladies, to make the best of her rooms, led him to one of the principal windows and as she swung back the venetian blinds remarked, "It is from this point, sir, that all of our revolutions pass."

The good woman was no cynic, but spoke from her heart and just as an English landlady who harps upon the splendid view of the sea from the two pair front.

Questions for Women.

Are you weak, nervous, irritable, easily worried and fatigued? Do you dread your daily work and feel like letting your duties go undone. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will restore your nervous system and send the thrill of new life and energy through the body. It is above all a woman's medicine, as its invigorating influence on the nerves insures regularity in the functions of the bodily organs.

Pity to Punish Both.

Strenuous Father—Tommy, this hurts me as badly as it hurts you!

Tommy—Well, then, pop (boo-hoo!) seems to me there's no use in two sufferin' for the faults of one! Let's call it off!

A Boon to Business Men.

The man who, from business pressure has to bolt his food, suffer mental worry over business and then lose his sleep, will find Merrill's System Tonic a pearl of great price. This medicine purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and is the greatest bowel regulator known. One bottle is worth fifty dollars to an over-worked man. 50 pleasant-to-take doses 50c. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

No Need to Worry.

Professor Snore is very absentminded. His son rushed into his study one morning and exclaimed:

"Just think, father! I've swallowed a pin! What shall I do?"

"Ah, well," replied the big man, "don't worry about it. Here's another pin."

Never Pleasing.

Mrs. Mitford—What do you think of this vivisection question? It must be awful to be cut up alive.

Mrs. Graham—Yes, and it is awful to be cut dead, as I was by one of my dearest friends last evening.

A UNION MEETING.

The Epworth Leaguers met in George Street Sunday School. Last Night.

The school room of the George street Methodist church was well filled last night with the Leaguers of the town and their friends, at the union meeting of the different societies, called to discuss the present situation of the temperance question. The chair was occupied by Mr. F. W. Stubbs, President of the George street Society, who in a few words explained the object of the meeting. A quartette composed of Messrs. Hendren, G. Doidge, E. Doidge and B. Turner, sang in delightful harmony "Save the Boys," after which Mr. Lindsay was called upon to explain the Referendum. Mr. Lindsay, in a number of extracts from pamphlets and articles dealing with the subject, gave a short history of the temperance reform, and the remedy now proposed. At the close of Mr. Lindsay's address Mr. Miller gave a temperance song in good voice.

Rev. Mr. Wilson then took the chair, and the meeting thrown open for discussion, in which a live interest was taken, and a number of valuable points of vital interest to the temperance question were brought out.

The prevailing opinion seemed to be that the present bill was the best ever presented, and the temperance people should put forth all their energy to roll up a good majority in favour of the bill.

To the objection that many would stay away from the poll on Dec. 4th for fear of being marked, and thus injuring their business, it was suggested that temperance people withdraw their patronage from such, and by thus uniting, prove that the temperance people are a most important factor in the community.

Handy Way to Clean Carpets.

ADJOURNED MEETING OF ST. JOHN'S VESTRY.

Very Encouraging Reports Were Received.

Mr. Glidden and Miss Cochrane Complimented on Their Very Excellent Work—The Ushers.

The adjourned Vestry Meeting of St. John's church last night, was attended by some 75 persons or more, and proved to be of the most interesting character.

The auditors, Messrs. F. D. Kerr and H. Cluxton, brought in their report on the annual financial statement, which had been carefully scrutinized, and which showed a balance to the credit of the church funds of over $900, not including the funds of the different societies.

The report was the subject of much commendation, but it was pointed out, there should be no relaxation of keeping up subscriptions, as there was much important work before them in the future.

A singular feature was the small arrearages, which amounted to only $100, every cent of which was held to be collectable. Every uncertain subscription was wiped off, and a fresh start made.

The appointment of sidesmen and ushers resulted as follows;

Sidesmen — R. M. Denniston, P. Campbell, W. H. Cluxton and Dr. Boucher.

Ushers — Wm. Salisbury, W. G. Howden, Joseph Bell, A. J. McClellan, John Comstock, John Fanning, McF. Wilson, C. H. J. Mitchell, J. E. Johnston, B. Fair, F. D. Kerr, J. Cooke, P. Campbell, H. Rush, Ed. Lush.

The reports of the various departments of church work were then submitted.

That of the Sunday school showed that there was about $140 in the bank; large additions had been made to the library, and general improvement had been effected. The good work was freely commented on.

Amongst the reports that created the greatest discussion was that of the choir. Grateful recognition was made of the fact that St. John's possessed the services of many musicians of a high order, but who were not content unless the standard of music reached the highest degree. To secure this end, further financial assistance was necessary, and it was decided that the matter be thoroughly discussed by the advisory committee and a deputation from the choir. Appreciation was also expressed of the services of Mr. Glidden and Miss Cochrane, and $50 was added to the stipend of the organist.

The report of the workingmen showed that fourteen largely attended meetings had been held during the season, when subjects pertaining to the welfare of the church and the workingmen had been freely discussed, with the result that there had been a diffusion of information on the subject of practical religion and an increase in the attendance of the workingmen in the church.

The report was read by Mr. S. W. Lowery and its adoption was seconded by Mr. J. Wilkins.

Many prejudices and misapprehensions had been removed and it was clearly demonstrated that there was the warmest welcome in the church for the world's toilers who were readily making themselves at home. One practical result of the meetings was evidenced by the high character of the discussion which was most interesting to those present, and was taken part in by seven or eight speakers. The line of action taken by Rev. J. C. Davidson was endorsed in the warmest possible terms and unmistakable evidence was given of support from all sides. Several new members of the congregation expressed favourable impressions as to the home-like character of St. John's, and one traveller remarked that though he had been around the world twice and lived in many countries, he had never seen a church more picturesque in its appearance and surroundings.

In concluding the meeting the chairman remarked that he had never been present at a meeting which had been more generally participated in by those present and more interest shown. It was at least one evidence of a new life and a determination on the part of the members who had heretofore taken little part in the business affairs of the church, whose general policy he hoped would be supported by the whole congregation.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the members of the Women's Auxiliary.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 12th.—The western contingent, under leadership of John W. Gates, through their extreme bulling of Louisville, has temporarily upset many bullish calculations through fears of the following, that the deal in L. N. might precipitate another May 9th. This has caused considerable liquidation by timorous and conservative traders. We incline to opinion that it would have been better if upward quotations for L. N. not been forced so rapidly, and to so great an extent in so short a time, nevertheless we doubt the possibility of any disastrous culmination to present speculation, as was caused by the Northern Pacific episode; inasmuch as what is generally anticipated by the rank and file of speculators seldom comes about. The people who have the courage to take advantage of the concessions brought about by the timid, who have thrown their holdings overboard, should be the ones to make the money. The Gates crowd take largely of the plunging class in their dealings in Wall street. Their methods are somewhat crude, but their power large. Many people were caught short of the stock in the large rise just engineered, and were undoubtedly compelled to liquidate some of their holdings in order to protect themselves on their short commitments. No other reason for a lower market is in sight. At present that fear as to the outcome of L. N. speculation that has become so general that most speculative parties who were in on a large scale, have put their houses in order for what so ever might happen. The result of the operation has been the market of the past three days. So much for the past.

What we are more vitally interested in is the future. We are again of the firm opinion that no disastrous end will follow in the wake of the Louisville affair, owing to general expectancy of such an event, and preparation for same by the large Wall street forces. Conditions are just as bullish as they were last week, and the reason for anticipating a rising market of as great moment.—Haight & Freese Co.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT.

In Charlotte Street Methodist Church Last Night—Well Attended.

The series of orchestral concerts which are being given in Charlotte street Methodist Sunday School room by Mr. Hodgson's orchestra are proving to be very popular. In fact Mr. Hodgson's orchestra is reaching a high state of proficiency and the entertainment last night was well worth the price of admission. There was a good attendance and the programme was thoroughly enjoyed. It was as follows:

PROGRAMME.

"A Message From Mars," ... Orchestra
Chairman's Address, ... Mr. Sorsoleil
Recitation ..... Miss A. White
Trombone Solo, "Beyond the Gates of Paradise," ... ...Mr. J. Robinson
Vocal Solo, ... Miss C. Belleghem

Recitation, "A Dutch Selection," ... ...Mr. J. Robinson
Oboe Solo, ...Mr. Hodgson
Oboe Solo, "The Palms," Mr. Hodgson
Orchestral Selection, "Scotch Airs," ... . Orchestra

God Save the King.

Nearly every number was encored, and the audience fully appreciated the splendid talent displayed throughout the evening, and also the pleasing manner in which Mr. Sorsoleil discharged his duties as chairman.

Mr. Hodgson's announcement that another orchertaral concert would be given shortly was received with applause.

The accompanists were—Mrs. L. Hodgson, Miss S. M. Campbell and Miss S. Lee.

The evening was one of special profit and enjoyment for all.

St. Luke's Girls' Guild.

The members of St. Luke's Girls' Guild have secured the opera house for one of their popular entertainments, to be held on Monday evening, April 21st. Two pleasing numbers of the programme will be "The Old Maids' Convention," and "The Day Before the Wedding,"—the former being given at the urgent request of many who were unable to see it when given some months ago. Both pieces are "winners," and those wishing an enjoyable evening should keep this date open and secure their seats early. Plan of hall now open at Ormond & Walsh's. Tickets 15c, reserved seats 25c.

THE LOCAL TOMMY ATKINS.

The 13th Regt. of Hamilton, may be Invited

To Visit Peterborough on May 24th—Last Night's Drill—A Splendid Turn-out.

The turn out of the 57th Regiment last night, resembled more than anything else a muster for inspection. The companies were well filled up and great enthusiasm prevailed. No. 1 Company is recruited up to full strength; in fact they have had to refuse a number of excellent men. No. 6, too, is in a very healthy condition, whilst No. 4 is also quite prominent.

A very short, well-conducted company drill was the order of the proceedings last night. Those of the 57th who had enlisted for South Africa the same day, were the subjects of words of praise and much commendation by their comrades in arms. In fact, the enlisting of yesterday appeared to infuse greater enthusiasm into the drill last night.

At a meeting of the rifle committee last night, arrangements were made for the commencement of the rifle practices and various competitions, which will be made a prominent feature of the regimental programme this year.

At a meeting of the officers of the regiment last night the question of inviting a regiment to Peterborough for May 24th, was fully discussed. It is felt almost certain that the 13th Regiment of Hamilton could be induced to come to Peterborough, providing the town council would make the grant necessary to entertain the western regiment.

This would mean that the 57th would have their annual outing to to Hamilton this year.

The following orders were read:—

Headquarters, Peterborough
April 15th, 1902.

Orders by Lieut.-Colonel E. B. Edwards, Commandant 57th Regiment, P.R.

No. 1.—Detail of duty for week ending April 22nd, 1902. Captain for the week, Capt. Cluxton, next for duty, Capt. Hounsell, Subaltern for the week, Lieut. McWilliams, next for duty, Lieut. Bradburn.

No. 2.—Majors Miller and Stevenson and Capt. Walker are hereby appointed a Board of Examiners to grant regimental certificates to non-commissioned officers.

No. 3.—The following are struck off the strength of the Regiment—A Co., Sgt. T. Mulligan, Sgt. Campbell, Corp. Moore, Pts. Dormer, Howland, Dasey, Morden, Honeybell, Lane, Blewett, McKinley, Macdonald, Baker, Smith. B. Co., Corporal Kemp and Pte. Buller, discharged for service in South Africa. Stetcher Bearer Section, Corp. Borland, left limits.

No. 4.—An examination will be given at the Drill Hall on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, April 17th and 18th, for those desiring to qualify for regimental non-commissioned officer's certificates. This examination will commence at eight o'clock sharp.

By order,
D. WALKER, Captain,
Adjutant.

SPEARING MASKINONGE.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir, — A number of persons who have been spearing maskinonge at the head of Stony Lake are booked. Mr. Geo. Cochrane, president of the Cottagers' Association, has received information which will make it lively for some of them. While the Government is helping the cottagers by supplying bass for the lakes, they do not intend to stand idly by and allow persons to ruthlessly spear maskinonge and bass in the spawning season.

Yours truly,
COTTAGER.

LETTER FROM PTE. MILLIGAN

Written From Newcastle on February 24th,

Was Received by Mr. Geo. Malcolm, of Stratford — His Impression of the Country—Thought the War Would Soon be Over.

The following letter was written by the late Pte. W. P. Milligan, who fell at Hart's River, on March 31, to the late Mrs. George Malcolm, Stratford, his sister. It is dated at Newcastle on Feb. 24th, and is probably the last that will be received from the brave young soldier. Pte. Milligan little dreamt that before his letter would reach his destination he would be cold in death, as he states that the general opinion in Newcastle was that the war would soon be over.

The letter is as follows:

In my last I said we had arrived at Cape Town. We remained eight hours at anchor in Table Bay, when we started for Durban. It was one of the finest sights I ever saw—Table Mountain with its "Table Cloth." We were especially favoured, as it is not often seen. We also saw Sugar Loaf Mountain and Signal Hill. Cape Town extends along the shore of Table Bay at the foot of the mountain, and looks to be a very pretty place. It was especially fine at night, as they have a great many electric lights. We left at 9.30 at night. The coast was very barren and rocky until within a short distance of Port Elizabeth, where it seemed to be a fine grazing country. We were about five miles out from Port Elizabeth.

The next place we passed was East London. The country is very fine between Port Elizabeth and East London. The latter is the prettiest place I ever saw in any country. It has about 12,000 or 14,000 inhabitants. The next place was Durban. It is quite a sized place, and has lots of business. Owing to the war, hundreds of ships are loading and unloading. I didn't see much of the town, as we were too busy loading our horses on the cars. The weather is fine here; just like the month of June in Canada. I haven't been sick a minute since I left home. We left Durban about four o'clock for Newcastle, Natal. We passed all the famous battlefields—Maritzburg, Colenzo, Tugella River—and passed over the famous bridge. I have more respect for Buller since I saw the Boer positions, as you would think it was almost impossible to force his way to Ladysmith. We arrived in Ladysmith about four o'clock, and stayed three hours. You can't see many remains of the siege, except entrenchments. We passed New Dundee and Glencoe on our way to Newcastle, at which place we arrived about five o'clock in the morning. We are encamped on a hill about three miles from Newcastle. We can see Majuba Hill from here. It is about fifteen miles distance. Botha's pass is about nineteen miles from here. We expect to be here about three weeks or a month. They think here that it will be all over shortly, as they are capturing on an average of about 700 per week. Natal is a fine grazing country. We passed thousands of sheep, cattle, and goats. The natives seem to have large herds of each.

The letter closes with a personal reference.

ARTHUR PRENTICE FREE.

The Young Man Who Shot Thos. Lingard of Hope Township, Receives His Liberty.

The Port Hope Guide says: Most *of our readers will remember the sen*sation caused in this vicinity on June 10th, 1896, by the shooting of Mr. Thomas Lingard, farmer, by an English lad named Arthur Prentice, who was in the employ of Mr. Albert Robinson, Hope Township. The tragedy was the result of a quarrel over some rabbits that Prentice thought Lingard was stealing, and meeting each other in the field, hot words passed between them with the above result. At the Fall Assizes of that year the lad was sentenced to death for his crime, but this was afterwards —on account of extenuating circumstances and a favourable report from the judge — changed to imprisonment for life. By a despatch from Ottawa we now learn that a pardon has been granted Prentice, and he was released from Kingston Penitentiary last Friday. The young man has friends in England and will be forwarded to them.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1902.

AN UNPROGRESSIVE OPPOSITION.

In his speech at Newmarket Premier Ross pointed out the various measures for the good of the Province which the Conservative party had endeavoured to defeat. They opposed:

The distribution of the John Sandfield Macdonald surplus.

Vote by ballot.

Trial by election petitions by Judges.

The establishment of the School of Practical Science.

The making of the Agricultural College more efficient.

The separation of the liquor traffic from municipal control.

The appointment of a Minister of Education.

The establishment of Normal Schools at Ottawa and London.

The extension of the franchise to farmers' sons.

The building of colonization roads in many of the new districts.

The establishment of a reformatory for females.

The extension of surveys of Crown lands.

The erection of new Parliament buildings.

The assertion of the right of the Province to property in rivers and streams.

The contention for territorial rights in the greater part of what is now known as New Ontario.

The right of property of the Province in the timber and minerals of the disputed territory.

The Provincial control of liquor licenses.

Increased representation for Algoma in 1885.

Improvement in the separate schools act.

The creation of a separate Department of Agriculture.

Expenditure on immigration.

The teaching of French or German in the public and separate schools of the Province where the language of the locality rendered it desirable in order to the better teaching of English.

The appointment of a drainage referee.

The building of the asylum at Brockville.

The passing of the succession duties act.

The appointment of a superintendent of neglected and dependent children.

The proportion of forests by the appointment of a superintendent of forestry.

The establishment of a Normal College.

lege.

County Council reform.

The appointment of a Good Roads Commissioner.

The appointment of a Provincial Municipal Auditor.

The taxing of corporations.

The establishment of a western dairy school.

The establishment of a pioneer dairy farm in order to test the agricultural character of the lands of Western Ontario between Port Arthur and Rat Portage.

The continuation of the office of Commissioner of Public Works.

The land grant to the Algoma Central Railway.

The development of the pulp industry.

Railway subsidies for the development of New Ontario.

It has been noticed that since Mr. Ross spoke certain of the Conservative newspapers deny that the Opposition were not in favour of some of these measures. In a few cases they may have withdrawn their opposition, but the general attitude taken by the Conservatives in regard to these matters justifies the Premier's formidable indictment. These things have had an important bearing on the improvement of the province, and, as the Premier said, if they were eliminated, it could be seen how little would be left and how weak the efforts of the Government would be to maintain the standard of the province.—St. Thomas Journal.

By inadvertance the Examiner omitted to credit a selection from the Toronto Saturday Night and the Toronto Globe.

PREPARATION OF CHEESE FOR EXPORT.

Timely Instructions to Dairymen and Shippers.

Co-operation in Production—Proper Cheese Boxes—Flavour and Body—Talk on Temperature—Improving Old Curing Rooms.

Professor Robertson, the Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying, has frequently urged that there is not a department in the whole of our agricultural commerce in Canada where any marked improvement has been made, resulting in an increased production and the development of our export trade, except along the lines of increasing the intelligence of the producer, of enlarging his practical ability for constructive productive work, and of bringing about co-operation between the operators in manufacturing, the operators in commerce, the operators in transportation, and the producers. It is by the application of thes fundamental principles to every class of agricultural work that PAYING RESULTS CAN BE SECURED.

Dairymen throughout the Dominion might with advantage take a leaf out of the book of their Prince Edward Island brethren in the matter of handling cheese. The dairymen there were put on right lines from the beginning, and now less than three per cent of the cheese boxes that come from that province are broken when landed in the United Kingdom, as against forty per cent. of breakage from some other parts of Canada. The boxes which are used in Prince Edward Island are made of birch instead of elm; and it makes a tougher and better box than elm. An enterprising man who will devise a really strong, light box, easily adjustable to the exact size of the cheese to be carried in it, has a fortune awaiting him. In handling a cheese it is important to make the box fit the cheese. If this rule be ignored, boxes get broken and their contents damaged to the disparagement of Canadian credit in dairying.

FLAVOUR AND BODY

are the two qualities which determine the relative market price of cheese, and the character of these qualities is largely determined by the process of curing. A fairly steady temperature, not over 60 degrees Fahrenheit in the curing room gives the best results. At that temperature loss in weight by the shrinkage of the cheese is considerably less than at higher points. A dry atmosphere causes the cheese to lose in weight by the evaporation of the moisture, and it may also cause small cracks on the surface, especially when the cheese are new. Too high a temperature in the curing rooms of many Canadian cheese factories causes many of the faults which are complained of by the cheese exporters, as well as by the receivers of cheese in Great Britain. If the temperature rises as high as 70 degrees, or higher, the cheese buyers complain of a heated flavour, or reject it altogether as being "off-flavoured."

AN OLD CURING ROOM

of the ordinary open construction may be improved materially and beneficially by adopting the following method: Thoroughly cleanse the whole inside by a liberal use of boiling water, to ten pounds of which one pound of carbolic acid should be added. The place should then be whitewashed with fresh slacked lime. To make the old floor close, it will be necessary to put two layers of building paper over it, and a new floor closely laid on the top of the paper. If the inside walls of the old curing room be of lumber or plaster, two thicknesses of building paper may be put on, and over them one thickness of matched lumber, dressed on at least one side. The ceiling should be made close in a similar way. The windows should be made close, and double doors and windows should be put on for use in summer, as well as during the late autumn and winter.

In a curing room 30 feet by 28 feet these improvements would only cost between $125 and $200 for material and labour, according to the condition of the room, the price of lumber, the cost of labour, and the like in the locality. At a factory turning out about 300 large cheeses per month, such a curing room might be so used as to in weight which would occur in an ordinary curing room where the thermometer fluctuated between 70 and 90 degrees. The saving might be one pound per cheese. The injury to the flavour and body of the cheese from over-heating might in a great measure also be prevented. The extra value which might be realized out of the cheese from diminished shrinkage and superior quality would, in a factory of the size mentioned, probably be not less than $450 during the season. Above all else, great and lasting benefit would result to the cheese trade if all the cheeses of Canada were cured in a proper manner. The demand from the consumers in Great Britain would be increased and the risk of loss to the merchants would be decreased.

HITCHES OVER PEACE

Britain Will Not Grant Amnesty to Later Rebels.

TWO OTHER POINTS SERIOUS

Will Not Grant an Armistice and Will Not Recall the Banishment Proclamation—Bruce Hamilton Still Capturing Boers in the Eastern Transvaal—His Recent Movement Accounts For 145.

London, April 16.—The Daily Mail says that the cabinet council has decided to refuse a strongly-worded request from the Boer leaders at Pretoria for an armistice pending the negotiations.

This alone is not likely to cause the Boers to withdraw from the conference, says The Daily Mail, but what threatens to stop the negotiations is the fact that the Government declines to place the later Cape rebels upon the same footing as the burghers with respect to amnesty, and is not inclined to withdraw the banishment proclamation.

In discussing the South African situation in debate in the House of Commons yesterday, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, admitted that he and the Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, had a little difference of opinion. He thought the Colonial Secretary was more sanguine and more anxious than himself to make a charge on the Transvaal.

145 Boer Casualties.

Not sanguine of Immediate Peace.

Cologne, April 16.—The Gazette publishes a London telegram which states that difficulties have arisen in the South Africa peace negotiations over the question of amnesty, with which is coupled a demand for guarantees in regard to the general laying down of arms in case rebels are not willing to quit unless they receive certain assurances. The British Government, the telegram adds, is not confident of the finality of the present negotiations.

Has No News to Hand Out.

London, April 16.—The Government leader, A. J. Balfour, replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, announced that the Ministers had no information to impart on the subject of the South African peace negotiations, nor under the circumstances could any information be imparted at the present stage of the negotiations. The Government, Mr. Balfour added, would immediately inform Parliament of the fact when they had any news to communicate.

Two Canadians Dangerously Ill.

Ottawa, April 16.—His Excellency received the following cablegram from the Casualty Department at Cape Town:

Dangerously ill, 18th April, at Charlestown, Roland Agassiz, of dysentry, and Jean Millen of gunshot wound, both of 2nd Battalion, C.M.R.

The next of kin of Pte. Agassiz is his mother, who lives in England.

Pte. Millen was wounded at Kleinhardt/March 31. His father, John Millen, lives at Wingham Centre, Ont.

Agassiz' brother lives in Toronto. He enlisted in St. Catharines.

Commissioned to Purchase Horses.

Toronto, April 16.—Robert Beith, M.P., arrived from Ottawa yesterday commissioned with the duty of purchasing horses for the fourth Canadian contingent to South Africa. Mr. Beith does not expect that his task will be an easy one, as there is a scarcity of horses, which will make it difficult to secure the number required. The scarcity is chiefly due to the fact that at this period of the year farmers want their horses for ploughing and other purposes.

The Fund Grows.

Ottawa, April 16.—The subscriptions to the Canadian South African Memorial Association Fund for the erection of distinctive memorials over graves in South Africa of deceased Canadians, amounts to $1,112.

New life for a quarter. Miller's Compound Iron Pills. Sold by all druggists.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, April 15th, 1902.—Day by day the process of absorption of railway shares goes, the great millionaires of the country being the purchasers. Road after road is being absorbed in this manner, while the major part of the public stand to one side and let their opportunities ship past. The people who are of the richer class are doing the bulk of the accumulating, buying in many instances, whole railway systems. They will be the ones to make the money, and apparently exemplify the biblical axiom—"To him that hath shall be given." These people are investing their money for the future, and where their money is invested, there will be their best efforts directed to foster its earning power and increase its value. The public would make no mistake in buying into those various properties with these large investors. By so doing they would participate in the profits to be secured through the efforts of these leviathians of finance. Yet there has always been a great mass of the people hold aloof, and they will come in very much nearer the top prices. We cannot too strongly or too persistently urge our friends and the speculative public to buy now with the big fellows, instead of buying after they have finished doing so, and when they will be looking for a market for their surplus holdings. As to crops, the U. P., Atch. and Mop. will be greatly benefitted by a good crop. After the decimation of last year, and still able to maintain large earnings, they will all make fabulous net earnings. Should the crops be up to the average, all the shares must and will, in our opinion, sell much higher.

We are, as have been for months, extremely bullish upon the coal issues. No stocks on the Exchange have a brighter or better outlook for the future or which more numerous and substantial reasons can be brought forward why they should enjoy enormous advances this spring and summer. In times of activity such as these we cannot too frequently advise operating with strong margins

A gigantic buying movement developed to-day in S. R. shares, over-shadowing the balance of the market and plainly indicating the interests of this company in the deal with L. N. The common stock sold up to 48 1-4, and the pfd. 96 1-4. Texas gained over two points on heavy inside buying. U. P. crossed 103. C. I. sold from 62 up to 67. L. N., after an early rise of 31 1-2 from last night's close, fell, under realizing sales, to 126 1-2.—Haight & Freese Company.

Declined to See Strikers.

Hamilton, April 16.—A deputation of strikers from the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company's smelter waited on C. S. Wilcox, general manager of the company, yesterday afternoon, but he declined to receive the members.

SIX MONTHS FOR JACKSON.

That was Sentence for Retaining Dominion Brewery Co's Money.

Alfred J. Jackson was sent to the Central Prison for six months on Saturday by Judge Macdougall, in the County Sessions, on his conviction of stealing $18 from the Dominion Brewing Company, by whom he had been employed. The jury had recommended him to the mercy of the court. The two other similar charges against Jackson were dropped.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND
WOMAN'S HOME FRIEND.

It Quickly Banishes the Ills and Physical Troubles That are too Common in Springtime.

A multitude of the healthiest, brightest and most active women of this North American continent are deeply indebted to Paine's Celery Compound for the blessing of health.

Women, old and young, know well that this famous medicine is specially adapted for all the ills peculiar to their sex. When it is used the sick and suffering ones are seen to gain steadily in health, strength and vigour. No room is left for doubt to the skeptic and stubborn minded individual. The joyous transformation from sickness to health through the use of Paine's Celery Compound, is constantly going on in every direction, so that those once alarmed about the safety of near and dear ones, now rejoice to see the bloom of returning health lighting up and beautifying features once pallid and wan.

Paine's Celery Compound continues to be woman's best home friend in all times of sickness. At this season, when the numberless ills of women are a source of danger and anxiety, women stand in need of a disease-banisher and life giver like Paine's Celery Compound to cleanse the blood, to restore digestive vigour, to banish sleeplessness, to brace the nerves, to banish the symptoms of deadly kidney disease, to dispel the agonies of rheumatism, and neuralgia.

This is the season, to-day is the time to begin the use of the best of medical prescriptions. There is not the slightest reason to advance why any woman should continue in suffering when Paine's Celery Compound can be so easily procured. Heaven grant that you may have faith sufficient to use at least one bottle of nature's health builder in order that you may be convinced that it is what you need.

UNFIT FOR SERVICE

Half the Men at Toronto Rejected as S. A. Recruits.

THOSE PASSED ON TUESDAY

Twenty-One Selected at Toronto, Five Accepted at St. Catharines, Fifteen at Guelph, Eleven at Port Hope, Fifteen at Brantford, and Thirteen at Peterboro—Major Henderson to Go.

Toronto, April 16.—Only about 50 per cent. of the men who went before Surgeon Lieut.-Col. Nattrass yesterday to undergo the medical examination necessary to join the fourth contingent, were pronounced fit for service. This is a higher percentage of plucked ones than on previous occasions, due, perhaps, to a little greater care being taken on the sight and hearing of the applicants.

Between 200 and 300 men were at the Armouries ready to offer their services when Col. Otter arrived at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Those who passed the medical examination up to 5 o'clock last evening, when Dr. Nattrass adjourned his task until this morning, were: Seth Stevens, J. C. Whitehead,, William H. Young, Robert M. Carmichael, William George Frost, Edmund Young, William Ewing, Andrew K. Farrell, Norman Smith, George K. McBeth, David Robinson, Joseph Rayner, Fred Mauser, Charles R. Hass, Harold D. Crate, Frank Gerhardt, Leonard Cohn, Edgar C. W. Jeffrey, William H. Partridge, Alfred H. Parrett, Fred G. Holland, Robert Dennody.

The following four non-commissioned officers of the Royal Canadian Dragoons have been ordered to Halifax with Major Williams to assist in embarkation arrangements: Sergt. Medhurst, Sergt. Steer, Corp. Bidwell and Corp. Spicer. Medhurst, Steer and Spicer have been in South Africa, and all four non-coms. will probably receive appointments in the new corps. Trooper Heron will accompany the squad as orderly to Major Williams.

Men From St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, April 16.—Recruiting Officer Col. R. W. Gregory was at the Armories of the 19th Regiment yesterday receiving applications from men desirous of joining the fourth contingent for South Africa. Up to last night only five have been accepted. Their names are Thomas H. Allerington, Niagara Falls South; William Smith, Thorold; James McCarthy, St. Catharines; Harry L. Leish, St. Catharines; William S. Stone, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Men From Guelph.

Guelph, April 16.—Up to 5 o'clock last night the following men had been sworn in for service in the fourth contingent. They were: Freeman Barber, Eramosa; F. V. Jones, Toronto; Leonard C. Armstrong, Gorrie; D. McLean, Guelph; George Dobbie, Devonshire, England; L. J. Caldwell, Durham; C. Woolrich, Palmerston; J. Melrose, Beeton; R. L. Engrim, Rutland, Vt.; Alf. Eisele, Guelph; Maxwell Brown, Holstein; W. J. Graham, Galt; C. Refield, Galt; W. Gavan, Rockwood; Stewart Young, Guelph.

Recruits at Port Hope.

Port Hope, April 16.—Recruiting for the Mounted Rifles was commenced here yesterday afternoon by Major N. F. McNachton, and examined by Dr. L. B. Powers. The following were sworn in, having passed the medical examination: Charles William Cooper, Port Hope; S. H. Grimison, Port Hope; John Lewis, Port Hope; A. T. Smith, Port Hope; John Stevens, Port Hope; Thomas Turpin, Cobourg; G. G. Cockburn, Cobourg; Thomas Ross, Cobourg; John Thomas Jones, Bowmanville; Alexander Gordon, Port Hope; Richard Swaisluno, Port Hope.

Men From Brantford.

Brantford, April 16.—Recruiting for the fourth contingent commenced here yesterday afternoon at the drill hall. There were some eighteen applicants. F. Waghorn, G. Scott, P. Bell, W. Bell, W. Babcock, J. Pratt, W. Nesbitt, J. Walters, T. D. Christie, L. Hyde, J. Jacques, W. Forse, J. Muir, J. Webster, W. Matherson. These are made up of seven from the Dufferin Rifles, two from the Royal Canadians, two from the 30th Regiment, one from the U.S. army, three never connected with military organizations.

Captain of the Third Regiment.

Ottawa, April 16.—Major Wilbur Henderson of the 48th Highlanders has been appointed captain of the Third Regiment of the fourth contingent of Mounted Rifles, and has been requested to report for duty at Halifax on the 18th inst. This will necessitate his leaving for Halifax on Wednesday evening.

Major Henderson is one of the best known military men in Canada. He has been in the service for nearly 25 years, and though comparatively a young man he has been a captain or major for twenty years. He began his military career in the 34th Regiment, Ontario County, but when the 48th Highlanders was organized joined that corps with the rank of captain. He is now senior major of the regiment. He went to the jubilee in London in charge of the Highlanders' contingent. At the camps of instruction for the past ten years he has been a prominent figure and is considered one of the best equipped officers in the Canadian service to-day.

Died From Shock.

Toronto, April 16.—John Gallagher, the well known horse trainer, who was run over by a G. T. R. freight train on Monday night at the foot of Bathurst street, died in the Emergency Hospital yesterday. Death was due to shock.

Fell to His Death.

Kingston, April 16.—Patrick Lavery was killed yesterday by falling from the masthead of the schooner "Dunmore" to the deck, a distance of 50 feet. His legs were broken and skull fractured. He was 27 years of age.

RUSSIAN MINISTER ASSASSINATED.

Student Shot M. Siplaguine in Body at Close Quarters.

St. Petersburg, April 16.— The Minister of the Interior, M. Siplaguine, was shot and fatally wounded at 1 o'clock yesterday, in the lobby of the Ministerial offices by a man who held a pistol to the Minister's person. The wounded man died at 2 p.m.

The assassin is a student who gained access to the building disguised in the uniform of an aide de camp. He met the Minister on the main stairs and emptied a revolver into his body at close quarters. The assassin was immediately arrested.

DESPERATELY AFFLICTED.

Jos. Coron, of Montreal, Cured of Rheumatism of Ten Years' Standing, not by the use of Drugs, but Through Powley's Liquified Ozone.

It is with pleasure I give you my testimonial as to the curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone. For over two years past I have suffered very much with rheumatism; sometimes so bad I could not sleep at nights, and I had to quit work. Two years ago I was laid up nearly two months, and since February last I have been very bad.

JOS. CORON, Montreal.

I saw your Ozone advertised, the no-drug idea appealed to me, so I procured a bottle and began taking it. I had not completed the bottle when I began to get better; my rheumatic pains began to leave me. I have taken only three bottles, and my rheumatism is completely cured. I am in better health now than I have been for the last ten years.

Sometimes for weeks my feet were so swollen and pained so badly, I could not walk, and my hands would swell up out of all shape. I could hardly endure the pain and could not use my hands.

I attribute my recovery entirely to the use of Ozone and gladly recommend it to all sufferers from rheumatism. Signed, Jos. Coron, 45 St. Antoine street, Montreal, P.Q.

This testimonial is attested by Mr. A. P. Reid, who writes: I enclose you testimony from Jos. Coron, 45 St. Antoine street. This gentleman has suffered for over ten years with rheumatism. About two years ago he was so bad that he had to quit work for two months, and since last February he has been so bad that sometimes he could not use his hands they were so badly swollen.

Mr. Coron says he cannot say too much in favour of Ozone, and will ever recommend it. (Signed), A. P. Reid, Montreal, P.Q.

Most people fancy that when they have an attack of rheumatism their case is incurable and resign themselves to suffer like martyrs. Your rheumatism is caused by one thing only — uric acid. There's nothing mysterious about the way this acid keeps the nerves raw and destroys the lubricating oil in your joints, so that even the bones become sore and painful. Whenever you feel the pain, remember Powley's Liquified Ozone can relieve you of it in a remarkably short time permanently and in a healthy manner. Ozone cures rheumatism in a healthy manner, because it contains no drugs to create false stimulations — give deceptive signs of recovery. When you feel the sting going, you will know that it is going for good; you're becoming cured. 50 cents and $1 a bottle at all druggists. The Ozone Company, of Toronto, Limited, Toronto. The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie street, Chicago.

Queen Wilhelmina Very Ill.

The Hague, April 16.—The indisposition of Queen Wilhelmina, which it was said Monday was due to a simple cold, is developing complications which caused the Queen Mother to start yesterday morning to visit her daughter at Castle Loo. Two physicians are in attendance on the young Queen, and a noted gyneologist, Prof. Halberberg, has been called in for consultation. The festivities arranged for the birthday of the prince consort, April 19, have been countermanded.

If your child is pale, peevish, and does not thrive, a dose of Miller's Worm Powders occasionally will cure. Sold by all druggists.

Every Woman Needs It.

There are times when every woman is tormented by itching skin and would give anything for relief. There is a preparation known as Dr. Chase's Ointment, which is a prompt relief for these sufferings. Women prize it not only for their own use and also for its wonderful effectiveness in curing Baby Eczema, Scald Head Chafing, and the various skin diseases of childhood.

One Phase OF THE New Woman

It is quite the thing just now to make sport of the aggressiveness of the new woman, but there is one thing that the new woman is fitting herself to do, for which she mus be commended, and that is, either to earn her own living or to implement her ordinary income. If the inclination of the new woman is towards independence and freedom from restraint, it is equally in the direction of improvement of her condition and betterment of her surrounding. In various honourable ways she earns money without resorting to drudgery. The Song of the Shirt has no place in her vocabulary. She may work with her pen or her brush, or her voice or her musical touch may be made to contribute to her creature comforts; but by far the larger number of women of all ages and in various walks of life earn their livelihood, in part or in whole, from the skillful employment of their needle. Knowing how to do it is the great secret, and every lady of ordinary intelligence can learn how to do the most artistic and elaborate crocheting, knitting and embroidery by following up the simple lessons in the Corticelli Home Needlework Magazine. The spring number of this admirable quarterly is now ready for delivery, and, like its predecessors, is a marvel of usefulness and beauty, and furnishes valuable instructions in the art of French lace embroidery, modern lace making, embroidered shirt waists, new centrepiece designs, crocheted purses and bags, etc.

The magazine is profusely illustrated in coloured and black prints, and is sold for 10c a number or 35c per annum. Address

All senior members of the Y.M.C.A. should be at the second annual members' banquet on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Those who have not secured their tickets can do so at the office of the Association, or from any member of the committee. Messrs. G. W. Mulligan, H. W. Morphet and Gilbert Scott will sing. Mr. Colville, a former secretary of the association, will be present.

An Exceptional Artist.

The appearance in Peterborough of such an exceptional artiste as Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan, is an occasion which has been eagerly looked for, and it is hoped that there will be a crowded house, as has been the case in every engagement both in Canada and the States. The Glasgow Evening Mail says;

"Miss Jessie N. Maclachlan sang 'Rule Britannia' at the Scottish concert in St. Andrew's Hall last night, and the patriotic audience rose to their feet and gave vent to cheers that might have been heard in Brighton. Miss Maclachlan excelled herself in her rendering of Gaelic songs, in two of which she accompanied herself on the Queen Mary harp."

BAND CONCERT
OPERA HOUSE
FRIDAY EVENING.

SPECIAL:
MASTER REGIE DEACON
THE PHENOMENAL BOY SOPRANO.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Robert Fair is in Toronto.

Mr. R. Ruddy, barrister, Millbrook, is in town to-day on business.

Rev. O. C. Elliott, of the Belleville Baptist church, is in town for a day or two.

Miss Gertie Cornell, of Omemee, is spending a few days in town, the guest of her cousin, Miss Edna Hill.

Mr. C. H. Vance will favour the Peterborough Club with an Apollo and Orpheus Recital, this evening at 9 o'clock, at the club rooms.

Mr. Harry Brock, of Toronto, writes to Mr. R. F. McWilliams, ex-secretary of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, accepting the position of secretary, and stating that he would be pleased to do what he could for the association.

Mr. C. Quinn of Lakefield, was in town to-day renewing his subscription to the Examiner. Mr. Quinn can fairly claim to have lived longer in Lakefield than any of the present residents, as it is seventy-one years since he took up land in the village. He is a native of Dublin, having been born there in 1825. His Peterborough friends were greatly pleased to see him in town to-day, looking so hale and hearty.

The "Canadian Mute," an interesting little journal published at the Provincial Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville, says: "On the two occasions of her visit, our little boys have had reason to remember kind Mrs. O'Brien of Peterborough. When she came to see us at Easter, she remembered not only her own little boy, but also his little schoolmates, and came prepared to give them a treat all round. On the afternoon after Easter Monday they had a feast up in the little boys' rooms on the top flat, and a merry party sat down to a table liberally supplied with good things. Miss Blake the little boys' attendant, saw that everything was nice and that they all enjoyed themselves. We need not add that the boys will never forget Mrs. O'Brien's kindness, and while our pupils have plenty of everything, yet a little treat of this kind is much appreciated."

NEWS NUGGETS.

—All Saints' choir practices this evening at half past seven.

—A pocket book which was found last week, has been handed to the Chief of Police.

—All members of the Y. M. C. A. should attend the annual banquet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will hold a cottage meeting to-morrow at 8 p. m., in the mission church at Auburn.

—At the police court this morning a north ender was fined two dollars for riding his wheel on the pavement.

—The members of St. Paul's church are tendering a farewell this evening to Rev. Mr. Yule, and a reception to the new assistant pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson.

—Mr. T. J. Parker's Bicycle and Repair Shop at the corner of Hunter and Queen street, is again in full swing. All orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to. A full stock of new and second hand wheels on hand. 30d61

—There was a big rush for seats at Ormond and Walsh's drug store at two o'clock this afternoon, for the Jessie Maclachlan concert. The event which takes place on Tuesday night next, promises to be one of the greatest attractions of the season.

—The Belleville school board is experimenting with Domestic Science to the extent of arranging to have a class of twelve pupils take two lessons a week from now until the summ vacation. The board pays $50, and the pupils a dollar each. These favourable terms were obtained through the fact that the teacher is engaged for the year at Albert College.

Side-Tracked.

Mr. A. Q. Scammon, whose company presents this delightful and original play, has supplied everything essential to a first-class entertainment. The play is one of positive merit. The Company is one that for collective talent is seldom seen outside of the metropolitan cities. Reserve seats are fast filling up. Plan at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

Recruiting for the Canadian Contingent to South Africa is in progress again to-day before Lieut.-Col. David Sutton, recruiting officer and Surgeon-Major Young, medical examiner. Sgt. Adam J. Hall is officiating as orderly room clerk. The flood of applications still keeps up and the class of men offering is of a splendid class. The above is a list of those who had been taken on the strength up until noon to-day.

The sensational feature of to-day's enlistment was the signing of Thos. H. Burnham, 57th Regiment. It is a well known fact that the 57th possessed no more enthusiastic man in the ranks than Tom Burnham. He scarcely ever missed a drill, has attended classes of instruction for several years and is generally recognized as an important personage in the ranks of the Rangers. But Tommy's military ambition was too much for the opportunities afforded locally, and he has decided to lend his aid in laying low the South African Boers.

Another good soldier is Miller, who was with Buller up until the relief of Ladysmith.

Russell Pearce, of Norwood, son of Mr. J. B. Pearce, is amongst the number that were enlisted this morning.

OBITUARY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry McCall, which took place on Tuesday afternoon last, to the Little Lake Cemetery, was largely attended. The many friends who assembled to pay their tribute of respect to the deceased showed the high esteem in which she was held by the people of the community. The floral offerings were beautiful in design, and showed the love which binds human hearts together. There was a handsome pillow contributed by the brothers and sisters of the deceased, also a beautiful wreath from the husband, and an anchor from the brothers and sisters of deceased's husband, besides a number of beautiful bouquets from friends and acquaintances. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Gleeson, Thos. Kemp, L. Kemp, Ed. Curtis, G. Curtis, Jos. Sedgwick.

POLICE COURT.

At the Police Court yesterday morning George and Margaret Williamson pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. They are man and wife and have resided on Stewart street, north. They promised to leave town forthwith.

James Hanlan, who claims Downyville as his home, was charged with vagrancy. James, however, contends that he is insane and that he would like to go to an asylum. He was remanded for one week pending an investigation as to his mental calibre.

MR. ANDERSON'S MEETINGS.

Mr. William Anderson, the Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, will open a series of meetings to-night at S. S. No. 3, Douro. On Friday night of this week a meeting will be held at Stewart's settlement, Otonabee. The speakers on both occasions will be Messrs. Wm. Anderson, R. F. McWilliams and G. M. Roger.

Notice for Ladies.

HANDSOME QUARTERS.

Mr. Harry Long Moved Back to No. 414 George Street, Yesterday.

Mr. Harry Long, Peterborough's well known caterer, who several months ago had his premises, at No. 414 George street, damaged by fire, yesterday moved back to his former quarters and will be found from this time forward doing business at the old stand. Whilst it may be said that Mr. Long is occupying his old store, still so completely has the interior of the premises been transformed by the painters' and decorators' art that one would hardly realize that it was the old establishment at 414 George street. A very pretty and costly looking metallic ceiling is one of the most noticeable features in connection with Mr. Long's new confectionary. It is of a most artistic pattern and of colours that harmonize most effectively with the walls which have been papered with an eye to taste that is commendable beyond measure. Two elegant chandeliers with their numerous adornments send a glow of brilliancy over the handsomely polished oak furniture and reflect continuously from the costly bevelled plate glass windows between the several appartments. Everything looks fresh, clean and stylish—and Mr. Long is in a better position to-day to cater to the wants of his patrons than he has been at any period of his business career. Mr. Long is continuing his improvements. Workmen are busily engaged in filling up a handsome banquet hall to the north of his present store, to which an entrance will be accessible by large sliding doors between the two premises. A further account of the latter apartments will be given later on.

track before the accident came which resulted fatally for him, left $6,000 at his death, though he was not miserly in life. Michael was never saving and did not know what to do with his money, except to spend it. Jimmy regrets having spent his all, but realizes that it is too late now to cry over spilt milk. "I have lived my life," says Michael, "and now I must face a life for which I have not accustomed myself. I must now, perhaps, work for $15 a week, and how in the world will I be able to get on with that sum when twice that amount has not been sufficient for one day in the past. I am forced to seek some other avenue for work, for cycling will not support me. For that reason I am going to try and be a jockey, as I may work at that until I am an old man, as long as I keep down my weight."

PING-PONG.

(Clifton Bingham, in The Sketch.)

The shades of night were falling fast
As through a London suburb passed
A youth who bore a worried look,
And muttered, as his way he took,
"Ping-Pong!"

His brow was sad, his eye annoyed,
Flashed like a globe of celluloid;
And like a wooden racket rung
The accents from his weary tongue,
"Ping-Pong!"

In happy homes he saw a blight,
Their "household fires" were out of sight,
For where the glacial globules shone
They'd quite forgot to put coals on—
"Ping-Pong!"

"Try not to serve," the old man said,
"Dark low'rs a failure on your head;
The chiffonnier is yawning wide,"
But still his weary voice replied
"Ping-Pong!"

"Oh stay," the maiden said, "and rest,
While for the ball we go make quest!"
A glare lit up his frenzied eye:
"There's plenty more left!" was his sigh—
"Ping-Pong!"

"Beware the volley mad and rash,
Beware the awful, cunning 'smash,'"
This was the p'liceman's last good-night,
A voice replied through the lamplight,
"Ping-Pong!"

At break of day as on his beat,
A constable in Oxford street,
Muttered for six o'clock a prayer,
A voice rang on the silent air,
"Ping-Pong!"

A traveller, prostrate on the ground,
Somewhere in Camden Town was found
Still clinging to a racket fast,
And wildly muttering to the last
"Ping-Pong!"

There, in the morning, cold and gray,
Brainless, yet beautiful, he lay,
And fell a voice on him from far,
"Good Lord, what asses some folks are!"
"Ping-Pong!"

WHERE DR. FORD STANDS.

Dr. Ford, the politico-temperance candidate in East Peterborough, and other candidates who fill the role of political trimmers, occupy a strange position.

Dr. Ford, and these others, vaunt themselves as temperance men of the first water; yet Dr. Ford, and these others, pledge themselves to support, to put into power, a leader, Mr. Whitney, who declares his undying hostility to prohibition — their ideal of temperance reform.

Dr. Ford, and these others, stand on the same platform with a leader who is opposed to temperance reform, and don't seem to see anything inconsistent in their attitude.

Dr. Ford gave a little address on political chemistry in the Opera House on April 5th. He expounded the process of "katalysis," and showed how enthusiasm spreads from one to another. Does he expect that his politico-temperance enthusiasm will leaven Mr. Whitney, and make him a temperance reformer?

Has Dr. Ford solved the chemical problem of making oil and water mix?

Dr. Ford, and these others, are professed temperance men. They have been such for thirty years, more or less.

Yet the first chance they have to put their temperance principles to the test, they put them in the second place, and become the candidates of a leader who is an avowed enemy of prohibition, and will work to put him in power and vote to keep him in power.

WILD ARGUMENTS OF OPPOSITION ORGANS.

An Opposition journal hints that working men will not support the Ross Ministers and "their companies and corporations." This is one of the frivolous charges so often made and so entirely without foundation.

The Opposition charge the Government with being too friendly to corporations, and so far no evidence of such friendliness has been offered. The Government is so friendly to corporations that it has imposed a tax upon corporations, and Mr. Whitney and his followers are so hostile to corporations that they voted solidly against the bill making corporations pay their fair share of the burdens of the public service.

Mr. Whitney and his friends hate corporations so cordially that they voted to relieve them of their fair share of taxation.

Mr. Foy moved the six months' hoist on the second reading and Mr. Whitney moved the six months' hoist on the third reading of the bill.

If they had had their way the corporations concerned would have been entirely relieved of taxation and the Province would have been deprived of a revenue of nearly a quarter of a million dollars a year.

In the three years since the bill making corporations pay, the revenue paid by them has amounted to $683,345.87.

This large sum—almost enough to pay the yearly grant to education—would have been lost to the Province.

Mr. Whitney's proposal is to "get our finances right" so that he will have money to carry out some misty reforms he mistly proposes. Is that a good way?—to cut off a quarter of a million dollars of revenue by relieving rich corporations from taxation.

Speaking at Aurora a week or so ago Mr. Whitney said he would repeal the bill taxing corporations and relieve the dreadful burden imposed upon these down-trodden and oppressed corporations who count their profits by millions and their assets by tens of millions.

Where does Mr. Whitney's friendship for the working man come in in this?

Do the organs who write such rot for their readers take the working men for fools? Do they think that working men can't read and can't understand what they read?

HOW IT STRIKES A STRANGER.

"The Philistine," a literary American publication, edited by Elbert Hubbard, in an appreciative article on the life and work of the late Dr. Bucke, of London, strongly eulogizes the management of the London Lunatic Asylum, drawing the following instructive comparison between that institution and similar establishments in the United States:

"In several respects I believe the asylum at London is in advance of any similar institution in the United States—three of which items might be named:

"1. Better housing at less expense per capita. The buildings at London represent an outlay of $400 for each inmate; while in New York State the rate at several institutions is over $3,000 for each inmate. Imagine a house costing $3,000 in which one person lives, and you get a condition far beyond what the average man possesses. A simpler condition, less machinery in the business of life is desirable. There is no good reason for housing insane folks in palaces.

"2. The attendants, including nurses and physicians, at London, are in the ratio of one to each fifteen patients. In many asylums they are as one to seven.

"3. The useful labour performed by the patients, I believe exceeds in value the labour done by patients in any similar institution in the world — Switzerland excepted. The industries are intensified farming, horticulture, weaving, carpentry, stock raising and building. The general work of the place, such as cooking, sewing, laundering and keeping the place in order — for the most part done by patients—accounts for the small number of paid employees and attendants. The prime object of this economy is not to save money, but is a hygienic measure, and is in the interest — physical and mental — of the patient himself."

The praise which Mr. Hubbard bestows upon the system in vogue in London, is fully borne out by the facts. But the London asylum is by no means unique in the features specified, and if the writer had visited the other Ontario Asylums, or made enquiries concerning the methods pursued there, he would have found the same judicious economy and efficient management prevalent in all the institutions. The people of Ontario are so accustomed to these characteristics that they are apt to take them as matters of course, and it is only from the impression made upon a stranger used to very different conditions that they can fully realize how exceptionally well the province has been served in connection with her public institutions.

VAITCANS RE-ORGANIZED.

Lacrosse Will Boom in Peterborough This Summer.

A Four Club Town League Will Probably be Formed—Other Sporting News of Interest

LACROSSE.

The Vaticans met last evening at the Oriental for the purpose of re-organizing for the season. The attendance was very large, as a number of players who were formerly identified with the Peterborough Juniors were present to make a proposition to the effect that the name of the Club be changed to "Athletics." As the Peterborough Juniors were in the majority a motion in accordance with the above suggestion was carried, but on the Vaticans expressing the wish to play under the old name, which they assumed when first organized, the Peterborough Juniors withdrew and will, in all probability, form another club, which will, it is understood, be known as the "Athletics."

• • •

After the withdrawal of the visitors a number of Vaticans who were late in arriving entered the room, and re-organization was proceeded with, resulting in the following officers being elected for the season:

Hon. Pres.—H. LeBrun.
Pres.—R. F. McWilliams.
1st Vice-Pres.—A. J. N. Terrill.
2nd Vice-Pres.—W. Crowley.
Sec.-Treas.—Jos. Picard.
Manager—A. Paris.
Executive Committee—James Angleaye, E. Taylor, William Lynch, W. Parnell and B. Rickey.

It was decided that the players will practice for the present on the old P. A.A.A. grounds and a strong team will be placed on the field.

• • •

A proposition which found universal favour amongst those present at the meeting was the formation of a four club town league composed of, say, the Vaticans, Y.M.C.A., T.A.S. and Athletics. Each team could elect three representatives on a Board which would act as a governing body and arrange a schedule, etc. The matches could be played on the Oval and would rouse a great deal of interest.

GOLF.

The fine weather of the last few days has brought golfing to the fore with a rush and the ladies as well as the men, are now patronizing the links in the afternoon, and arrangements are already being made for the first tea of the season.

The older players will have to bestir themselves if they intend holding their places on the first team, as some of the Colts are coming along very fast just now. Last week Mr. Robert Neill made the long course in 44, and yesterday Mr. C. B. McAllister did it in two strokes less. When the fact is taken into consideration that the greens are not being used and accurate putting is out of the question it will be realized that these figures mean a good deal.

T. A. S. ATHLETICS.

The Athletic Section of St. Peter's T.A.S. is at present busily engaged in getting the lacrosse twelve into shape. A large number of players have signified their intentions of getting into the game this season under the colours of the T.A.S., and a number of the old veterans will be on the line-up this season. Work will commence on the Separate School grounds this week, and when they are put in shape, practice will commence. The smoker to be held on Wednesday evening, April 23rd, promises to be a huge success, and a very choice programme is under preparation.

LAWN-BOWLING.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn-Bowling Club will be held on Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock in the Board Room of the Toronto Savings & Loan Co. Reports will be received concerning the Club's standing, and officers for the year will be elected. As considerable discussion will doubtless take place in connection with the proposed enlargement of the green, and several other matters of importance, the chair will be taken at eight o'clock promptly in order that business may be concluded at an early hour. A full attendance of members is urged.

TENNIS.

The Lindsay Tennis Club commenced their playing season yesterday. Lindsay is one of the most enthusiastic Tennis towns in Canada.

BASEBALL.

Mr. Wm. Marsh, son of the Rev. M. M. Marsh, while practising on the ball grounds at Lynchburg, Va., on Saturday ran to catch a fly and fell over a fifteen foot embankment. He received injuries from which he died later. He had just signed with the Wilmington, N. C., team.

A full attendance of the National Baseball Team is called for a meeting on Thursday, April 17th, at half-past six o'clock on their old practice grounds, north of the C. G. E. Works, on Park street. 2d

HE SPENT IT ALL.

Jimmy Michael spent ten years and nearly $200,000 while in the cycling game. Tom Cooper, on the other hand, was a thrifty lad and saved a good deal of money and invested it where he thought it would pay. Doctors Order It.

Doctors see at once the advantage of taking a medicine right to the part that is sick. You see the doctor orders his own medicines for the disease, and has his patient use Vapo Cresolene at the same time. It destroys all germs of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, and other contagious diseases; and there is no remedy its equal for croup, sore throat and hard colds. You now see why it often cures whooping-cough in a few days. 15

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50: extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

Recommended and sold in Peterborough by H. H. Edmison, druggist.

THE BRITISH BUDGET

Mr. W. F. Maclean Attacks the Government for Inaction.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S REPLY

Points Out That the Member For East York Does Not Know His Own Mind and That His Charge That the Government Is Pro-American Does Not Harmonize With the Known Facts.

Ottawa, April 16.—The debate on the Imperial budget in the Canadian House of Commons did not greatly exceed in length that at Westminster. The subject was brought up yesterday by Mr. W. F. Maclean on a motion to go into supply, and the most spirited debate of the session ensued, lasting till nearly midnight. At 11.30 the House got into supply on Mr. Fisher's estimates, but made very little progress, and adjourned at 2.05 a.m.

Mr. W. F. Maclean, on the motion to go into supply, began a discussion on the British budget.

The British Budget.

Mr. Maclean, in introducing the subject, read what the British Chancellor of the Exchequer said in proposing a tax on bread and flour. Now, what does that mean? he asked. It means that for the first time in over 50 years a measure has been introduced into the British Parliament proposing a tax on food products, and the disappointing thing to us in Canada is that when the opportunity came to the Parliament of Great Britain to reciprocate towards Canada the opportunity was not taken advantage of. We have given Great Britain a preference in our markets. The Canadian Government claims that as an act for which they deserved the greatest credit—as one which would bring good results. But when the opportunity came to Great Britain to reciprocate there was no reciprocity. He believed the cause of no action on England's part was the attitude of this Government. The opportunity has been presented to this Government time after time to open negotiations leading to reciprocity of trade between the Mother Country and this country, and every time it has been thrown down.

"I make this charge to-day that in these great questions where foresight and statesmanship are required the Government have shown themselves absolutely incapable."

To show the House that the view so which he had given expression was held by leading organs of public opinion in England, he read from a recent number of The Saturday Review a quotation supporting his position, and then he emphasized the great fact that there can be no discussion of Imperial defence or Imperial trade relations without the two going together. They cannot be uncoupled, as the Prime Minister has sought to do in his reply to the invitation sent to this Government. When the Government in England knows that the colonies are prepared to do their share in the way of Imperial defence, and are ready to discuss what that share is and how it is to be given, you will find England ready to give a preference to colonial products in her markets, recognizing fully the principle of protection, for that great principle the British Government has this day accepted, and the recognition of it as an Imperial bond cannot but be an advantage to the farmers of Canada, especially of our growing Northwest.

He concluded as follows: Hon. gentlemen opposite are in power, but whenever the opportunity has come to them they have allowed it to pass by. As I have said, the only explanation I can give for that is their pro-United States leanings. The Senator from Quebec and the Senator from Ontario, as they have been called in the United States, would not like to do anything to injure their friends there. But if the Government had accepted this invitation in its true significance, and had said they were ready to discuss both Imperial defence and Imperial trade relations, I believe that this proposal of threepence per hundred pounds on wheat going into the Motherland would have been modified into a proposal of a duty on foreign food products, with a preference to the wheat of the colonies.

Premier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, expressed surprise that Mr. Maclean had not given the usual notice to the Government in this matter, so they might be in a position to discuss it. But his failure to do so was, he added, due probably to the fact that probably he didn't know his own mind on the subject. Mr. Maclean's charges against the Government of having given Great Britain a preference for nothing, and of being swayed by United States proclivities, were charges that would not go together.

As to Mr. Maclean's views on the tone in which the invitation to the coronation conference had been answered, why didn't he put them before the House in the form of a motion, declaring the policy of the Opposition in the matter, if it had such a policy? The facts were that the Canadian Government were invited to discuss the commercial, the political and the military situation at that conference. The Government's answer was that they were ready to discuss Imperial commercial matters, but saw very little promise in discussing the political or military situation. The Government believed that the present relations of Canada to the Empire were satisfactory. If there were any way of improving those relations, he was prepared to discuss it.

"My hon. friend," continued the Premier, "says we made a great mistake in refusing to consider the military situation, in refusing to discuss a scheme for the general defence of the Empire. He says that the commercial question and the military question must go together. His view that commerce and war must go together is one from which I must dissent. I challenge him or any other member of this House to present a scheme whereby two things so dissimilar can be considered together. It would be a suicidal thing for the Canadian people to go into any scheme of that nature. It would be the most suicidal policy that could be devised for Canada to enter the vortex in which the nations of Europe, England included, are engaged at the present time, and which compels them to maintain great military armaments."

Great Britain, the Premier went on to say, was certainly the greatest Empire which exists to-day, and by reason of her situation has to maintain a large standing army, a principle against which the British people have fought, but which was forced upon them, and to-day the principal items on the British budget are expenditures for naval and land armaments. And now Mr. Maclean said Canada should follow the same course.

"Sir," the Premier resumed, "Canada is in a different position. Canada is a nation with an immense territory, but with a sparse population of five and one-third million souls scattered over an area of 3,000 miles in extent, from east to west. The principal items in the budget of Canada are public works, the development of the country, the construction of railways and harbors, the opening up of ways of transportation. This is the work to which we have to devote our energies, and I would look upon it as a crime to divert any part of that necessary expenditure to the supply of guns, cannons and military armaments generally."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier: I have no hesitation in saying that I have altogether the views which have been expressed by Sir Charles Tupper more than once, that Canada has done more for the defence of the British army by the construction of the I.C.R. and the C.P.R. than she could have done by spending that money in military armaments.

"Certainly we must improve our own militia. We have a scheme before us to-day for that purpose. We must look after our own defences, but there is all the difference in the world between undertaking this domestic military expenditure and embarking on that vast scheme which is embraced in my hon. friend's conceptions. I do not share his views and so long as he wants to link war and commerce he will find me unalterably opposed to him. I cannot agree to anything of the kind. We are going to London simply to discuss the commercial question, and it seems to me our decision in that is a wise one.

"Great Britain, as it appears from the budget which was delivered yesterday, has entered upon a new line of taxation. I do not care whether you call it protection or not, but for the purposes of this discussion it is sufficient to say that England has opened up new avenues of taxation; she has gone back to the old duties on corn. It is very true that this tax, which has been imposed on the English people is not large. I do not complain of that; I rather rejoice at it. But at all events there is an opening, and since the British Government has adopted this new line of taxation the field is clear now for negotiations in a new direction at London next summer. I do not despair that we may be able to lay down next summer in London the basis of a system that will improve the relations between Great Britain and the colonies, and will establish freer trade between all sections of the British Empire. That is what the people of Canada are looking for at the present time; the improvement of the trade relations between the Mother Country and the colonies. There is every reason to believe that we are facing the dawn of a new day; that peace is going to be restored at last to the British Empire; that this cruel war will soon be over, and if that be so, with conditions more favorable than they ever were before for securing the improvement in our trade relations, which we have in view, when we come back from England next summer it will be time enough for my hon. friend to find fault with the Government. If the Government shall not have done what he thinks was their duty."

Dr. Sproule, Mr. R. L. Borden, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Northrup, Mr. Kemp, Mr. Sifton, Mr. Bennett, Mr. German, Mr. Brock, Mr. Flint, Mr. Gourlay, Mr. Fraser, Mr. Paterson and Mr. Haggart having spoken on the question, the House went into supply on the agricultural estimates, and adjourned at 3.10 a.m.

Provisions For Judges Incapacitated.

Ottawa, April 16.—The Minister of Justice's bill respecting Judges of Provincial courts contains provisions for the retirement of County Court Judges who are incapacitated by reason of physical infirmity, advanced age or other cause, from properly discharging their judicial functions. There are some five or six judges in Canada to whom the act will apply.

THE SOLDIER AND HIS POT.

Fulham, Eng.

Dear Sirs,—

The pot of Kelpion issued in our C. I. V. kit, was one of the few things we took from Cape Town to the front with us.

It was very useful, indeed one of the finest and quickest remedies for cuts, sprains, skin diseases, wounds and bruises.

Your Kelpion surprised every one who used it, for the way it cured veldt sores, and it ought to command a large sale in South Africa, if advertised for that reason.

I have heard praises from all C. I. V's, and Regulars, who used it, and I guarantee that every C.I.V. will recommend it.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

Half Already Subscribed.

London, April 16.—The Standard announces in a financial article, that only £16,000,000 of the new budget loan of £32,000,000 will be issued publicly, the remaining half of the loan having been placed privately.

H. M. Whitney Resigns.

Montreal, Que., April 16.—James Ross has made the following statement: Owing to ill-health H. M. Whitney has handed in his resignation as president of the Iron and Steel Company.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars whereas 25c buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large 25c bottles at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

Painters' Strike Settled.

Toronto, April 16.—At 2 o'clock yesterday the painters' strike was settled. This morning, one day only after the formal declaration on the part of the Painters' and Decorators' Union of a strike for an eight-hour day at 30 cents an hour, the men all went back to work, the Master Painters' Association having yielded to the demands of the union.

BRONCHITIS

A SERIOUS DISEASE.

Becomes Chronic and Returns Year by Year or Develops Into Bronchial Pneumonia, Croupous Bronchitis, Asthma or Consumption.

The real dangers of bronchitis are sometimes overlooked. It is too serious a disease to trifle with, and for that reason everybody should be familiar with the symptoms.

Children are most liable to contract bronchitis, and if neglected it becomes chronic, and returns year after year, until it wears the patient out or develops into some deadly lung disease.

The approach of bronchitis is marked by chills and fever, nasal or throat catarrh, quick pulse, loss of appetite and feelings of fatique and langor.

Bronchitis is also known by pain in the upper part of the chest, which is aggravated by deep breathing or coughing until it seems to tear the delicate linings of the bronchial tubes.

The cough is dry and harsh and is accompanied by expectoration of a frothy nature, which gradually increases; is very stringy and tenacious and is frequently streaked with blood.

There is pain, not unlike rheumatism, in limbs, joints and body, constipation and extreme depression and weakness. In some people the exhaustion amounts almost to nervous collapse, delirium follows, and in young children convulsions may follow.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is, we believe, the most effective treatment for bronchitis that money will buy. This fact has been proven time and again in many thousands of cases.

It is the most effective remedy for bronchitis, because it is far reaching in its effects on the whole system, not merely relieving the cough, but actually and thoroughly curing the disease. It loosens the cough, frees the chest of tightness and pain, aids expectoration and permanently cures.

There are other preparations of turpentine and linseed put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. To be sure you are getting the genuine see the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the box you buy. 25c. a bottle; family size, three times as much. 60c. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 6

Japanese Immigration Injurious to British Columbia.

TRAINING THE CANADA MILITIA

Col. Sam Hughes Criticizes Some Features of the System—Officers' Faults—Hon. Dr. Borden's Reply—Unwarranted Statements About the Treatment of the Permanent Force—Railway Bills.

Ottawa, April 15.—Early in the present session the report of Messrs. Clute, Munn & Foley upon Chinese immigration was presented to Parliament. Yesterday the Premier laid upon the table the report of the same commissioners upon Japanese immigration. Accompanying it was the evidence taken upon both branches of the investigation, consisting of nine volumes of typewriting. In their conclusions upon Japanese immigration the commissioners say: "The consensus of opinion of the people of British Columbia is that the Japanese do not and cannot assimilate with white people, and that while in some respects they are less undesirable than the Chinese, in that they adopt more readily our habits of life and spend more of their earnings in the country, yet in all that goes to make for the permanent settlement of the country they are quite as serious a menace as the Chinese, and keener competitors against the workingmen, and as they have more energy, push and independence, more dangerous in this regard than the Chinese. Your commissioners fully appreciate the action taken by the Govesnment of Japan on 2nd August, 1900, whereby the Governors of the Prefectives of Japan were instructed to prohibit entirely for the time being the emigration of Japanese laborers for the Dominion of Canada."

Col. Hughes' Army Reforms

The principal feature of the business before the House yesterday was the discussion of the motion by Lieut.-Col. Samuel Hughes with respect to the system of training citizens of Canada for the positions of officers in the active militia. Speaking in support of his motion, Lieut.-Col. Hughes gave expression in vigorous language to his views respecting the capabilities of British officers as demonstrated in South Africa, and protested against the tendency which he observed to engraft the worst features of the British system upon the Canadian permanent force. He criticized at some length the Canadian force. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, made an effective reply and, while agreeing with Lieut.-Col. Hughes upon some points, emphatically denied the allegation that the men in the Canadian permanent force were being enslaved. He also pointed out that important changes were being made in the militia system, and his suggestion that the motion be withdrawn was accepted.

In reply to a motion by Mr. E. F. Clarke the Premier stated that the application for permission to erect a monument to General Montgomery at Quebec had been withdrawn.

The Canadian Northern.

The House went into committee on the Canadaian Northern bill, which was talked out Friday night by the member for Selkirk.

Mr. Blair agreed to amend the bill by specifically excluding from any such charges the bonds now guaranteed by the Manitoba Government. He said his engineers estimated it would require $25,000 to build and equip the road. The bill was accordingly amended as suggested in respect to the bond issue, and was then read a third time and passed.

Manitoba Northwest.

The House next went into committee on the Manitoba Northwestern Railway bill. An amendment by Mr. Davis to oblige the company to build 35 miles a year up to and including 1906 was defeated, and the bill read a third time and passed.

Read a Third Time.

The following private bills were also put through the final stages:

Respecting the James Bay Railway Company.

Respecting the Klondike Miner Railway Company.

Respecting the Northern Colonization Railway Company.

To incorporate the Northern & Ominica Railway Company.

Respecting the Ontario Power Company of Niagara Falls.

The bill to incorporate the Ross Rifle Company was read a third time and passed.

Several Senate amendments to bills were concurred in, and a number of private bills read a second time.

A number of questions by members were gone over and the House adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Sunday Newspapers in Canada.

Ottawa, April 15.—A deputation representing the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada waited upon the Minister of Customs yesterday morning and urged that the importation of Sunday newspapers into Canada should be prohibited, also that the officers of the Customs Department co-operate in preventing the landing of Sunday excursions from outside Canada.

Pension For Mrs. McKinley.

Washington, April 14.—The House Saturday passed the bill granting a pension to the widow of President McKinley at $5,000 per year. It had previously passed the Senate, and now goes to the President for signature.

Ottawa, April 15.—Prof. James W. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying, will leave to-day for England on an important mission. It is probable Prof. Robertson's trip to the Old Country has to do with the handling in England of Canadian products which are to go forward during the summer in cold storage.

General Strike Ordered.

Toronto April 15.—This morning the painters and decorators employed in the shops where their demands for an increase have not been granted go out on strike. The men who will go out on strike will number about 100 and represent 20 shops affiliated with the Master Painters' Association.

Crushed Under Wheels.

Toronto, April 15.—Three-year-old Herbert Dixon, youngest son of Herbert Dixon, a C.P.R. car checker, was crushed beneath the wheels of one of Fred Doane's carriages last evening, and died in less than half an hour. An inquest will be held.

A Montreal Suicide.

Montreal, April 15.—Henry R. Beveridge of 454 Argyle avenue, the manager of John B Ellison & Sons, dealers in wholesale woollens, of 10 Victoria square, shot and killed himself at his home about 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. B. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

First and Last House in England.

The building shown herewith is generally known as the first and last house in England. It is situated at Senner, a village at Land's End, Cornwall. The swinging sign informs the tourist walking toward the coast that the inn is "the last house in England." Strictly, it is now neither first or last, for the proprietor has built a cottage a quarter of a mile nearer the cliffs. Probably at the time the inn was erected its position justified the inscription on its signboard. The incident shows how the English landlord takes advantage of any and every situation to advertise his inn. As interesting as any romance would be the story of the names of England's famous taverns.

FIRST AND LAST HOUSE IN ENGLAND.

Roman Candles.

In making Roman candles a cylindrical case is taken and packed with a lot of stars. At the bottom of the case they put some of the composition they put in rockets, and on top of each star is some more of it. By mixing certain chemicals green and red lights are produced. Green lights like those used in death scenes on the stage at the theater are made by mixing a great quantity of nitrate of barytes with small quantities of sulphur, chlorate of potash, charcoal pulverized and arsenic.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

COLLECTION OF WAGES.

Liberal Legislation to Better the Position of Labour—Claims on Insolvent Estates.

WAGES GIVEN PREFERENCE.

Summary Proceedings Before Magistrates—Claims Against Contractors on Public Works—Liability of Directors—Wages Exempt From Seizure.

The collection of wages has been greatly simplified and the labourer rendered much more certain of receiving the reward of his toil by a series of enactments passed from time to time under the auspices of the Liberal Government of Ontario with the object of placing the working people in a better position in this respect. The principle under-lying this legislation is that wages are in altogether a different category from ordinary business debts, and constitute a prior claim which should be met with as little trouble or delay as possible. The reason for this difference is obvious—wages in the nature of things cannot be paid when the debt is incurred. In ordinary commercial transactions the cash system can be adopted, the seller can insist on receiving his money as soon as the article sold is delivered. In the case of labour the service being continuous and the payment made at longer or shorter intervals, a debt is necessarily contracted. The labouring classes as a rule are dependent upon their earnings for the means of subsistence, and, in case of any unforeseen delay in receiving their due, are liable to incur serious hardship. It is only reasonable, therefore, that claims for wages should have precedence of other debts and that labourers should be afforded a more ready and inexpensive means of collecting them than is afforded by the ordinary process of law.

Claims Against Insolvent Debtors.

Frequent cases of hardship formerly arose in connection with claims upon the estates of insolvent debtors. The law made no difference between the debts due as wages or salaries and other liabilities. The consequence was that when a debtor made an assignment for the general benefit of his creditors, working men and employees frequently received only a mere fraction of the sums due them and were unable to obtain even that until the estate was wound up. In 1885 this was changed by an act providing that when a debtor makes an assignment of real or personal property for the benefit of his creditors, an exception shall be made in favour of persons in his employment at or immediately before the time of the assignment who shall be paid in full up to three months wages or salary and be entitled to take rank as general creditors for any further amount due them. A similar provision applies to the distribution of the assets of a company in process of liquidation under the "Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Act," and to the settlement of claims under the "Creditors Relief Act, 1880." These provisions apply to all wage earners whether working by the day or week or on piece work. In 1899 an amendment was enacted making such wages payable by the assignee or other persons charged with winding up an estate one month from the time when the estate was placed in his hands.

Summary Proceedings.

An Act passed in 1889 considerably facilitates the collection of wages by proceedings taken before a Police Magistrate. Where an order has been obtained for the payment of wages and the sum has not been paid within the specified time, the act enables the creditor to take the same proceedings as may be taken by a party having an unsatisfied judgment or order in a Division Court for the payment of a debt. He may subject the judgment debtor to examination touching his estate and effects, the means he has of discharging his liability and the disposal he may have made of any of his property. The Police Magistrate is given the same power to enforce payment of the debt as is possessed by the Division Court judge in like cases. A provision which permits the working man by a cheap, simple and prompt process to recover his rights.

Section 12, chapter 139 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897 provides that an employer may be summoned before any Justice of the Peace upon the oath of a servant or labourer concerning any non-payment of wages, and upon due proof of the complaint the Justice may relieve the complainant from service and direct the payment to him of any sum found to be due not exceeding $40. The Justice may further make such order for payment as seems to him reasonable, with costs. In case of the non-payment of the same for eight days after such order a distress warrant shall issue for levying the amount due.

Claims Against Contractors on Public Works.

It frequently happened that working men employed by contractors or sub-contractors engaged in connection with Public Works sustained considerable losses by being defrauded of their pay. To remedy this injustice the Government in 1896 introduced a bill into the legislature, which was duly adopted entitled "An Act to Secure Payment of Wages for Labour performed in the Construction of Public Works." It's leading provisions are as follows:

Where a contractor or a sub-contractor for the construction of a public work makes default in the payment of the wages of his employees, if the claim for such wages be filed in the office of the Department entering into the contract, within two months after it becomes due and duly proved, the Minister may cause the claim to be paid to the extent of any money which is in the hands of the Government as security for the performance of the contract. The Government may require the contractor to file on the 15th day of each month a list showing the names of employees and the amounts due them as wages. In case of default in forwarding such list, a penalty of not more than $100, or less than $10, for every day's delay may be imposed. Where any subsidy or bonus is granted in aid of a railway, or other work, the Government may detain so much of the money as may be thought proper, to secure claims for wages. Every company incorporated under any general or special Act of the Legislature, is made liable for the payment of all workmen employed in the construction of the work by or for the company—whether the work be done through a contractor or sub-contractor, or otherwise.

Liability of Directors of Companies.

The Act respecting the incorporation of Joint Stock Companies, passed in 1874, contained a provision by which the directors of such companies are rendered jointly and severally liable to the labourers, servants and apprentices employed by the company, for all debts, not exceeding one year's wages, due for services performed by the company, whilst the directors occupied that position, in case they were unable to obtain the amount of their claim by an execution against the company. Directors, however, must be sued within one year after the debt became due, and within one year from the time of their ceasing to be directors. This provision is embodied in the amended Act in the Revised Statutes of 1897.

"Contracting Out" not Allowed.

A difficulty which frequently arises in attempting to protect working men against injustice, or unfair treatment, is that employers sometimes make it a condition of employment that the applicant shall sign a contract not to take advantage of Acts passed for his benefit. In this way the best intentions of legislators are sometimes rendered of no avail by the readiness of unemployed men to contract themselves outside of legislation passed in their interests. To meet this difficulty, a sweeping and comprehensive measure, entitled "An Act for the better protection of certain classes of workmen," was passed in 1896. It enacts that every agreement of bargain, whether verbal or written, expressed or implied, entered into on the part of any workman or other person, employed in manual labour, intended to be dealt with in the "Act Respecting Master and Servant," "The Mechanics Lien Act," "The Woodmen's Lien for Wages Act," or any other Act providing remedies for the recovery of wages, etc., by such employees, by which it is agreed that such Acts shall not apply, or the remedies provided thereby shall not be available, shall be null and void. It is therefore no longer possible for any employer to take advantage of the necessities of men in search of work, and force them to contract themselves out of the benefits of the Acts passed by the Legislature to better their position and ensure their rights.

Exemption From Seizure.

The wages ort salary due to a labourer, mechanic, or servant, by a statute passed in 1874, are exempted from seizure, attachment or garnishment, for debt, unless the sum due exceeds $25 and, are then, only liable to the amount of such excess. This places the working man in an enviable position as regards immunity from legal process, as compared with other classes, and secures him against undue pressure from creditors, who are prevented from depriving him of the means of livelihood.

The People Will Approve the Record.

The Lien Laws have been dealt with as their importance demands in a separate article. Taken in connection with the volume of legislation barely outlined above, they afford abundant evidence of the progressive, just and humane spirit, which, since the advent of the Liberal party to power, has controlled the legislation of Ontario, and the earnest desire of the Government to afford every possible protection to labour against those evils and disabilities which are incident to a dependent position. There are few, if any governments, which can show so favourable and consistent a record upon which the Government and the party, which have made themselves responsible for these enactments, can confidently appeal alike to the judgment and the sympathies of the great body of the electorate.

SAID FAREWELL TO REV. MR. YULE,

And Welcomed Rev. J. A. Wilson, Assistant Pastor.

A Representative Assemblage at St. Paul's Church Last Night—A Musical Programme Rendered.

The assemblage at St. Paul's church school room last evening was a most representative one and large in numbers. The occasion was that of bidding farewell to Rev. Mr. Yule, assistant pastor of the church for the past year and giving a welcome to his successor, Rev. J. A. Wilson. There was every indication that sociability was a marked feature of the evening, when strangers and members of the congregation had an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with one another.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Adam Hall, chairman of the Board of Managers, who filled the duties of that office most acceptably. In his opening remarks he pointed out the conditions of the church at the present time, expressing the pleasure it gave him in seeing such numbers present. He should be glad if those present would make the evening a sociable one in every respect.

Mr. R. E. Wood spoke briefly on financial conditions of the church, stating that there was every reason to believe the church would be able to increase her appropriations, and the people on every hand were giving most liberally to the fund for the building of the Mission in the south end of the town. In speaking of the departure of Mr. Yule he paid a glowing tribute to the assistant pastor in that he had taken a personal interest in individuals, which he thought was strong point. He welcomed the successor to the church in a few words, and hoped that Mr. Wilson would take up the work where Mr. Yule left off.

Mr. Crane's quartette here rendered "The Boys of the Old Brigade" most acceptably.

Mr. Horace E. Ayers spoke a few words on behalf of the young men of St. Paul's church, bidding Mr. Yule a farewell and welcoming the new assistant.

After a solo by Mr. Harry Milne, which was worthy of all the applause he received, the assemblage was served refreshments, giving an excellent opportunity for social intercourse. The young men of alcove No. 2 acted in the capacity of waiters doing their part well.

After all had done ample justice to the refreshments the chairman called upon Rev. Dr. Torrance, who made a brief address, in the course of which he said that he had heard more sermons during the last seven months than during the previous twenty-seven years of his ministry. He had found it of great help to him, stating also that he could remember the text and outline of each sermon. Mrs. W. A. Sanderson rendered a vocal solo after which Mr. Sheriff Hall gave one of his characteristic addresses. He briefly mentioned every department of the church and its present condition, even rehearsing what had been done in the years that have gone. He was glad to speak in connection with bidding farewell to Mr. Yule as he had been greatly impressed with him since his arrival in Peterborough, and thought he had done a good work during the year he had spent with the congregation. In welcoming Mr. Wilson he hoped the work would continue to grow. After a solo by Mr. Dawson Rev. J. A. Wilson was asked to speak and was warmly received. He took pleasure in voicing the sentiments which had been expressed for Mr. Yule, who he claimed possessed most estimable qualities. He was a preacher, a man and a friend. In taking hold of the work among the members of the church he hoped, under God's guidance it would continue to prosper and asked the members to have a part in it. He hoped they would work with him under the direction of their leader, Dr. Torrance, in making the church what it should be. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. Crane's quartette rendered a humourous selection which was heartily received.

The last speaker of the evening was Rev. Mr. Yule, who gave in his farewell remarks a review of the year's work. He claimed that the kind words said of him were entirely unmerited, but he thanked the speakers for their expressions of good will. The church had come to its first milestone in its era of assistant ministers, and this meeting was but a link to the next. In speaking of his successor he predicted for him great success, as he had been quite forward in making acquaintance, having publicly appeared no less than six times in six days. He (Mr. Yule) regretted the fact that he had not come in closer contact with the individual members of the church. He had endeavoured to give to the people the truth as he knew it with unshrinking fidelity. He realized that the past year had been one of profit to him, being a stronger man to-day than a year ago. He took pride in saying that every possible kindness had been shown to him since his connection with the church, making the year one of happiness as well as profit. The coming year for St. Paul's church, looked to be rich in promise and glorious with possibilities.

Mr. Yule in closing his remarks said that there would always be a warm spot in his heart for St. Paul's church and hoped that the members of the congregation would have a place in their's for him.

The gathering dispersed after Dr. Torrance pronounced the benediction.

TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL.

Formation of Another Labour Organization.

The preliminary steps which have been taken during the past month for the formation of a Trades and Labour Council for Peterborough, has resulted in accomplishing what was aimed at.

A meeting was held in the Central Labour Hall, Water street, on Wednesday evening, when the delegates from most of the Local Labour Unions were present, who deposited their credentials, and organized a new Trades and Labour Council. The chair was taken by Mr. Charles P. Murty, and Mr. Alf. Kingscotte acted as secretary, pro tem. After explaining the purpose of the organization, the chairman read the constitution of the Hamilton Council in order to inform the members of the objects of this central body. After which the following officers were duly elected for the current term:

President—Chas. P. Murty.
Vice-President—Edw. Cookson.
Recording Secretary—Thos. G. Anderson.
Financial Secretary—Fred Garden.
Treasurer—Wm. Menzies.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Fred McCarry.
Auditors—J. A. Harper, John Jayes, John T. Gerard.
Trustees — Thos. McKee, C. F. Browne, W. H. Irwin.

A discussion followed on the question of representation, and the fixing of the tax upon each union for defraying the expenses of the Council. A motion was passed authorizing a call of one dollar from each union to start a fund for preliminary expenses.

Some further business was transacted, and the meeting adjourned for two weeks.

SERGT. BIGGS' SEND-OFF.

His Fellow Employees Met at McCallum's Last Night—The Speeches.

Last evening the employees of the armature department of the C. G. E. Company, tendered a banquet to their fellow workman, Mr. Robert Biggs, who is leaving for South Africa for the third time. The affair was gotten up on a large scale, and the host, Mr. McCallum, had everything in fine shape.

The chair was occupied by Mr. J. Wilson, who filled the position most efficiently, and Mr. Jack McCabe acted as vice-chairman, with the guest, Mr. Biggs, in the centre.

After supper had been partaken of the usual toast list was run off.

Mr. Wilson proposed the toast to the King, which was duly honoured.

Mr. Jack McCabe then proposed the toast of "Our Guest," which was ably responded to by the hero of the evening, Mr. Biggs.

The chairman proposed the toast to the ladies, which was responded to by Mr. Palmer, Mr. Jeffries, and Mr. F. Derocher.

The toast of the armature winders was proposed by Mr. Robert Hay, and replied to by Messrs. Peter Cotton, W. O'Neil and W. Sherwood.

The toast to our American Cousin was ably responded to by Mr. W. Gentch.

The affair was brought to a close by the toast to Mine Host, and was ably responded to by Mr. McCallum.

The gathering had the pleasure of hearing vocal selections from Messrs. Stevenson, Hughes, Houston, Doughty, Cotton, Costello, and others.

The affair was closed by singing, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," in honour of the guest of the evening, which was followed by the National Anthem.

A LOSS TO NORWOOD.

Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, Barrister, Goes to Georgetown.

Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, barrister, Norwood, has, the Examiner is informed, disposed of his practice in that place to Mr. C. A. Ghent, of Toronto, who has taken possession. Mr. Campbell goes to Georgetown, where he will enter upon the practice of his profession.

Mr. Campbell has been practising in Norwood for about eleven years, and has conducted a large and successful business. His energy, his knowledge of his profession, his honourable dealings with his clients, his well-known devotion to their interests, and his reliability, have contributed to the professional success he has achieved. His quiet geniality, his agreeable personal qualities, his public spirit, and sterling qualities of character, have combined to make him highly respected, both socially and as a citizen. While Norwood loses a good lawyer and a good citizen, Georgetown makes a corresponding gain. The people of Norwood will regret Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's departure from the town, and will join with the Examiner in wishing them a prosperous and happy future in their new home.

WHY THERE HAS BEEN NO CHANGE.

The Liberal Government has been in power for thirty years and the Opposition has necessarily been in opposition for that length of time also. There is some reason for this. The chief reason is because the record of the Liberal Government has appealed to the people, who have it in their power, if a Government proves itself inefficient and incapable, to dismiss that Government. That the people have not done so is evidence of two things, namely, that the Government has given good administration and and enacted good laws to such an extent as to secure the support of the electors; the refusal of the people to make a change is also evidence that they thought the Opposition unworthy of their confidence. If at any time during the past thirty years, the Opposition had shown that it had a better policy, had shown that it was more progressive than the Government, the electors would not have been slow to act in their own interests. Within the past thirty years the Province has progressed and the Liberal Government has progressed with it. The Opposition in that time have remained stationary. If, as the latter declare, the Government has been a bad Government, surely the Opposition if they had been worth their salt, would have been able to demonstrate it; and their failure to show that the Government has been unworthy, proves one of two things—that the Government has been, on the whole, a good Government, or if it has not, that the Opposition, as the critics of the Government, have neglected or been unequal to their duty. The Opposition have been the opposition so long as they have been, simply because they merely sought office without having a proper regard for the welfare of the country. In the past thirty years the Opposition have never come to the people with any policy that would appeal to the support of the progressive electorate of a progressive and vigorous Province. In all of the seven general elections since 1871, the Opposition have appealed to the country upon no broad or big policy—only on some petty cry which had no resemblance to a policy, and had only an inconsequent relation to the great work of administration and legislation. For years we had the various cries, sectional and racial, which appealed to a section and awakened no sympathetic response from a people who believed that the stability of our institutions and the harmony of our population depended upon the fullest recognition of the equal rights of all classes of citizens under the law. Apart from these cries there was nothing seriously urged against the Government, nor was their any serious attempt to show that the Government fell short of their duty in respect of the efficient administration of public affairs. Then from time to time we had the statesmen-like "policies" implied in the charge that too many eggs were used in the public institutions; another election we had the tremendous issue involved in or evolved from the charge that there was in connection with the herd at the Agricultural College a "calf with a cough." At another time, the tremendous issue of diseased pigs at the "Humber piggery" was elevated to the dignity of an Opposition policy. Then the "ram Dan" had his brief innings, and so on. Nothing large, nothing pertinent to large questions of administration and policy that should be considered in relation to the government of a province, with an area of one hundred and forty million acres, with resources of illimitable extent and value, and in population, second to none in intelligence, enterprise and progressive spirit — a province with great things to be done, which require the services of an alert, live and progressive government. These petty policies of the Opposition, the picuyne policies that have been the appeal ground of the Opposition for thirty years, are a good explanation of the fact that they remain in opposition still. And the Bourbon taint still infects the Opposition — they seem to learn nothing by experience. To-day the same characteristics crop out. The Opposition is appealing to the people in this contest upon the ground of pantry politics. The Ontario Cabinet Ministers took a journey to the "Soo" to see for themselves the tremendous result of their development policy in New Ontario. There was a buffet car on the train by which the Ministers and the general public travelled; which was stocked, as it is on every "run," with provisions and liquors. Now, the Mail and Empire, the chief Opposition organ, with a smallness of soul beyond belief, tries to magnify this fact into a charge that the Government members were gluttonous and wine-bibbers. This absurd charge, which is echoed by the minor organs, completes the circle, in the history of the Opposition, and takes us back to the little day when an Opposition statesman, degenerating into a scavenger, picked a private note out of the slimy filth of a spittoon, where it had been thrown by the recipient, and gave it to the Opposition press for publication. When we remember that the last mentioned two items are thirty years apart, linking the littleness of a past generation with the puerile pettiness of the present, through the medium of sectarian and racial cries, a calf with a cough, Humber piggeries, etc., etc., we cannot wonder that the electors for the past thirty years have resented as insults to their intelligence and progressive spirit, "policies" represented by the trumpery trivalities put forward by the Opposition. These things, taken together with the good record of the Government, furnish ample explanation of why there has been no change, and why there should be no change now.

ROSS' THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES.

Mr. Foy and the Mail are protesting strenuously against the striking indictment of forty counts, save one, brought against the Conservative party, by Mr. Ross at Newmarket, showing what would have been had the Opposition been in power. Let us continue an examination of the several counts of the indictment:

No. 8—No Minister of Education.

When in 1875-76, in accordance with the recommendation of Mr. Ryerson, the Liberal Government introduced the measure constituting the Department of Education with a political head, the Conservatives opposed the reform. Hon. Wm. Macdougall, seconded by Hon. Mr. Cameron, moved an amendment to the second reading, which was supported by the whole party.

No. 9—No Normal Schools at Ottawa and London.

The Journals of the House for 1873 show that the Opposition voted, first that there was no necessity for a normal school at Ottawa, then that the vote should be reduced by nine-tenths, then that the new school should not be located near a city, then that there was no necessity for a new normal school anywhere, then that the House should not commit itself until a comprehensive scheme was before it, and, lastly, voted against the resolution appropriating the money.

In 1897 they opposed the vote of $22,000 for the normal school at London.

No. 10—No Normal College.

In 1897 the Conservatives voted to strike out the salaries of the Principal and Vice-Principal of the Ontario Normal College.

No. 11—No Improvement in the Separate School System.

The Journals of 1887, 1890 and 1891 show that the Opposition took the ground that whatever defects time had revealed in the separate school system, mere defects should not be remedied. Actuated by that idea they resisted necessary reforms in the assessment act, and themselves brought in various measures designed to weaken the separate school system.

No. 12—No French or German to be Taught in Public or Separate Schools.

In 1890 a bill, introduced by Mr. Craig, had the unanimous support of the Conservatives. It provided that no other language than English should be taught in any public or separate school, except (temporarily in French districts) French might be taught for one hour.

No. 13—No Farmers' Sons' Franchise.

When in 1877 the Liberal Government proposed to give the franchise to farmers' sons, Hon. M. C. Cameron moved in amendment that to confer upon farmers' sons this privilege, "would be to confer special privileges upon them and to discriminate between different classes of the people, contrary to the genius and spirit of our constitution and in derogation of the equal rights of all." The amendment was, of course, defeated.

No. 14—No Colonization Roads in Many New Districts.

The Journals of the House for 1877 show that the Opposition voted to reduce the grant for colonization roads from $80,000 to 30,000, which would have prevented the opening up of many new roads. And almost yearly since then have endeavoured to impose such conditions on the colonization road grants that no Government would expend money for colonization road purposes.

No. 15—No Reformatory for Women.

When in 1878, the Liberal Government proposed to expend the money derived from the escheated estate of Andrew Mercer to defray the cost of erecting a reformatory for women and an eye and ear infirmary, the Conservatives moved an amendment objecting to the expenditure of money for such a purpose.

No. 16—No Extension of Crown Lands Surveys.

In 1880 they tried to strike out the vote for moneys in the new territory; in 1893 to strike out the vote of $30,000 for new surveys; and in 1894 they voted disapprovingly of the annual expenditure for surveys, amounting to $35,000 per annum. If their policy had prevailed there could not have been any volunteer land grants, and several now flourishing settlements would not be in existence.

No. 17—No new Parliament Buildings

In 1880 the Opposition voted that there was no necessity for a new Parliament Building. In succeeding years a number of hostile motions were made.—The Globe.

EARNEST ADVICE.

A Quebec Gentleman Offers a Plain, Straightforward and Truthful Statement of His Case and its Cure for the Benefit of Other Sufferers.

There can be no more worthy motive than desire to help another.

There are but few who after having suffered and found a cure hesitate to give their fellow sufferers the benefit of their experience.

As there are many to-day whose lives are being rendered miserable by the tortures of Dyspepsia and other Stomach Troubles, the story of Ademard Coderre, of St. Jacques de L'achigan, Que., which he declares is told for the sole purpose of helping other similar sufferers, will be read with interest.

Mons. Coderre says:

"I certify to having suffered the greatest misery for two years with Dyspepsia, caused by inflammation of the stomach.

"I have taken many medicines and treatments but failed to find anything that would give me any relief.

"I was very low spirited and discouraged, and many times felt like giving up.

"At last one day I chanced to read an account of the cure of Dyspepsia performed by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after thinking the matter over I decided to commence a treatment.

"I bought two boxes and began to use them at once. I noticed an improvement almost from the very first, and was thus encouraged to continue till now I can confidently assert that I am completely and satisfactorily cured.

"I have not the slightest symptom of Dyspepsia or any form of Stomach Trouble left.

"I can eat and drink as heartily as ever and experience not the slightest distress afterwards.

"I desire to make my case known to the public so that all who may be suffering from that awful malady may know that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me of this very serious case, and that they may be led to use this remedy which I believe to be the only one that will perfectly cure Dyspepsia."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets promptly and effectually cure even the most serious and aggravated cases.

THE NORWOOD BUDGET.

What is Going on in the Village to the East.

Mr. Robert Stewart is in Springbrook this week looking after his business interests there.

The local Reformers have taken possession of the rooms recently occupied by the Public Library. This will be the headquarters of the local Liberals during the coming campaign.

Mr. R. E. Birdsall was in the village on Tuesday looking after the loading of three fine Durham cattle which he is shipping to Delbec, N. B.

Messrs. Buck and Walsh shipped a car load of calves to Toronto last week.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian church intend giving an entertainment in the town hall on Monday evening next. The ladies have been preparing for this for some time, and will present the play, "The Spinsters' Convention." If you want to have a good night's laugh take it in for it will certainly be one of the most laughable plays presented in Norwood for a long time.

What is the matter with the Norwood football club this spring—is it defunct? Surely we have enough sports in town to have a club of some kind! Peterborough, Lindsay, Lakefield, and all the other towns are organizing; why not be in the swim and have a good club here? We have the material.

The Board of Education met on the 14th inst. Present — W. E. Roxburgh, chairman, and Messrs. Breckenridge, Cummings, Pengelly, McNaughton, Waters, Robson, Squire, Stevenson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion confirmed.

The following accounts were laid before the board;

M. Knox, repairing clock	$ 1 10
Jas. Cumming, wool rug...	8 00
Robt. Stewart, telegraph	50
Finlay and Son, lumber.....	3 31
Advertising Globe and Mail... ...	1 92

Moved by Messrs. Pengelly and McNaughton that the above accounts be referred to the several committees, and if found to be correct, to be paid.—Carried.

The committee appointed to define the duties of the janitor reported.

Moved by Messrs. Squire and Breckenridge that the report be received and adopted, and that the secretary be instructed to make out four copies and have them signed by janitor.—Carried.

A communication was received from Mr. McMurric, re councils in H. S. Districts as to levying rates.

Moved by Messrs. Squire and Stevenson, that the appointment of an assistant teacher for the primary department be left in the hands of the Executive Committee.—Carried.

FAITH NO FACTOR

IN THIS MAN'S CURE.

Persuaded to try South American Rheumatic Cure it proved its potency. Seven years pains dispelled forever in twelve hours.

I was Rheumatisms victim for seven years, being confined to my bed for months at a time. I had no faith in rheumatic cures I saw advertised, but I was persuaded to try South American Rheumatic Cure and inside of twelve hours after taking the first dose I was free from pain—three bottles cured me."—J. D. McLeod, Leith, Ont. 80

An Inspiration.

A pretty girl boarded a crowded street car in Washington, and a pompous old gentleman arose and gave her a seat.

After some time a number of passengers got out, and the old gentleman sank into the nearest corner with a weary sigh.

"I wouldn't get up again," he murmured, "for an angel." And then, as he caught the eyes of the girl fixed upon him reproachfully, he added quickly, "I mean, madam, for another angel!"

A Boon to Business Men.

The man who, from business pressure has to bolt his food, suffer mental worry over business and then lose his sleep, will find Merrill's System Tonic a pearl of great price. This medicine purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and is the greatest bowel regulator known. One bottle is worth fifty dollars to an over-worked man. 50 pleasant-to-take doses 50c. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Unmistakable Signs of Catarrh.

If you have a ringing in the ears, dropping in the throat, bad breath, headache, morning weakness, bad taste in the mouth—then it's catarrh. Use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily and erradicate the awful disease from your system. Catarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed membranes, clears nose, throat and air passages by one application. Catarrhozone quickly remedies the head noises and deafness, prevents dropping and is warranted to absolutely cure all forms of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Troubles. A STRANGE TRAGEDY

East Gwillimbury's Mystery Has Not Been Solved.

IS IT A MURDER OR A SUICIDE?

Was There Foul Play in the Death of William Fowler, Who Disappeared 18 Months Ago and Whose Skeleton Was Found on Sunday Morning Last?—A Number of Bones Were Broken.

Newmarket, April 17.—The funeral of William Fowler, the East Gwillimbury farmer, who disappeared from his home on the 7th concession nearly 18 months ago, and whose body was found on Sunday morning last, would have taken place yesterday had the authorities not refused to hand over the remains. William Gilleon, nephew of deceased, came into town early yesterday morning with Coroner H. Wesley's burial certificate, issued during the progress of the inquest at the Royal Hotel on Thursday afternoon, but something had apparently transpired in the meantime, for the town undertaker had received explicit orders to retain the remains until after the investigation is concluded next Monday. The decision of the coroner, which made a postponement of the funeral neccssary, was arrived at in a conference with Acting Crown Attorney W. H. Maw and Chief of Police Savage, who has the case in hand. All the officials are anxious that the fullest possible enquiry may be made into Fowler's death.

The report of the autopsy on the body of Fowler, made by Dr. James Forrest of Mount Albert, has been made public, and is causing no end of talk here. The report goes fully into the condition of the remains after the skeleton of deceased had been removed from the marsh land to Newmarket. The bones of both hands and wrists, the breast and right collar bones are broken and a part of the latter member is also missing. In addition to the other defects in the skeleton, a bone in the upper right arm is missing. There is absolutely no trace of any injury to the skull, however. Some of the ends of bones or soft structure show signs of decay, but these are plainly distinguishable, the doctors say, from what are believed to be fractures. An attempt will be made by the authorities to account for the supposed fractures, and the absence of several of the bones. It is understood that the remains will this week be sent to an eminent pathologist of Toronto, who will be asked to give his opinion as to how such defects in a skeleton might be brought about.

Chief Savage has taken charge of deceased's boots, the peculiar shape of which afforded ample proof that the remains were those of William Fowler. Each boot has a red mark on it, but whether it is paint or blood, the authorities are unable to determine. If the outcome of the inquiry warrants it, the boots will be submitted to a chemical analysis.

Relatives of the dead man are disposed to accept the theory of suicide. They say Fowler's mind had become deranged prior to his disappearance by the effects of several accidents. According to the stories, Fowler had many miraculous escapes from death. Twice he was kicked by a horse and twice he fell from the top of a grist mill. On another occasion he was run over by a wagon and had his scalp torn off, and soon afterwards was struck by a sledge hammer. All these injuries and old age, his friends say, were more than sufficient to cause him to act strangely at intervals.

Fatal Coal Gas at St. Mary's.

St. Mary's, April 17.—A sad accident occurred at the Office Hotel here yesterday morning, by which one young girl lost her life, and another had a very narrow escape. Emma Langford and B. O'Connell, two of the hotel servants, were asphyxiated by coal gas in their rooms during the night. The stovepipe passing through their room came apart. Miss Langford was dead, when found, but Miss O'Connell is likely to recover. The dead girl's parents are both dead. Her former home was at Wellburn, in West Nissouri, where Mrs. Sager, a married sister, still resides.

A Girl's Health and Beauty.

Malt Breakfast Food

Guarantees Many Blessings.

A girl's health and beauty depend upon her home surroundings and education, her dress, her work, proper exercise, and last but not least, upon her food. It matters not if she be rich or poor, elevated or humble, if her food is not of a character to keep flesh, nerves, blood and brain in proper condition, she can have neither true health or beauty.

It has been satisfactorily demonstrated that breakfast regularly begun with delicious and health-giving Malt Breakfast Food, does much to improve a girl's health and beauty.

This marvellous health food is a perfect regulator of digestion, a builder of flesh, bone and muscle and a brain nourisher. Malt Breakfast Food keeps the blood pure, thus insuring clear, transparent skin, sparkling eyes and a face that betokens full health.

Girls and young women desiring continued good health and good looks, should use Malt Breakfast Food every morning. At all grocers.

Eighty-Eight Now Out.

Toronto, April 17.—Twenty-four of the jewelry workers in the employ of the T. W. Capp Co., 9½ East Adelaide street, went out on strike yesterday morning. These, with the 64 out in the firm of Saunders, Love & Co., made a total of 88 workers on strike.

SAIL ON THE CYMRIC

First Regiment, Fourth Contingent, Goes Early in May.

OFFICERS ON THEIR WAY TO S. A.

Col. MacDonnell, D.S.O., Chosen as One of the Commanders of a Regiment—Has Already Rendered Excellent Service in South Africa—Progress of the Recruiting Throughout Ontario—Those Chosen.

Ottawa, April 17.—The Cymric, sister ship of the steamer Victorian, which carried a battalion of the Canadian Mounted Rifles to South Africa last January, has been chartered to carry a regiment of the fourth contingent to Cape Town. She will probably sail from Halifax early next month.

Yesterday morning Hon. Dr. Borden received a cablegram from the War Office stating that the Cymric of the British Atlantic Transportation Line, now lying in Boston harbor, was available for transport service for the fourth contingent. The Minister of Militia at once telegraphed to the master of the Cymric, asking when the vessel would be ready to go into commission, and received reply to the effect that the Cymric would be ready to leave Halifax with troops early in May.

The Cymric is a fine new twin-screw steamship of 8,201 net tons, or a gross tonnage of 12,640. She was built by Harland & Wolff of Belfast in 1900, and is 585 feet long, 64 feet beam and 38 feet depth of hold.

On Their Way to S. A.

Toronto, April 17.—Colonel Williams to command the Third Regiment of the fourth contingent; Captain Straubenzie, adjutant; Major Henderson, captain; Lieut. Kingsford, senior subaltern, all of Toronto; Lieut. Charles G. Barker, junior subaltern, of Hamilton, left last night en route for Halifax, where they report for duty on April 18. The departing officers were escorted to the station by crowds of friends and citizens.

Col. MacDonnell, D.S.O., Accepts.

Ottawa, April 17.—Col. MacDonnell, D.S.O., Regina, will have command of one of the regiments of the fourth contingent. It is understood that Dr. Borden has offered a command to Col. MacDonnell and that he has accepted.

Col. MacDonnell is a Mounted Police officer with an excellent military training and rendered valuable service in South Africa. He was wounded at Diamond Hill in 1900. For his distinguished services there he was given a D.S.O. This makes three out of the four colonels required to command the fourth. The other two are Col. Williams and Col. Boulanger.

From Toronto.

Toronto, April 17.—The percentage of successful recruits yesterday was larger than on Tuesday, although Dr. Nattrass and his assistants were no less particular in their selection of men only who thoroughly fitted the bill.

Those finally sworn in yesterday by Col. Otter were: J. C. Whitehead, R. M. Carmichael, W. H. Young, S. W. Stephens, E. A. Young, W. E. Frost, Joseph Raymer, Frederick Mauser, C. R. Hass, Robert Demcody, Harold E. Crate, Frank Gerhardt, Leonard Cohn, F. G. Holland, A. H. Parrett, E. C. U. Jeffery.

The successful candidates in the medical examination yesterday were: Robert Demcody, David Hutton, W. D. Phalen, Sergt. Arthur E. Clayton, Mark J. Paulson, jr., James P. Kesall, Frank B. Johnston, Ed. Grimmings, Robert N. Allison, Arthur Fauchman, James Darwin, Charles Brown, James S. Anderson, Frederick Lawson, Charles Ricketts, Adam Kerr, Reginald Baumhauld, Charles B. Whitehead, William Woods Charles B. Whitehead, William Woods, John A. Hagarth, Harry Rogers, George Brazzee, William H. Taylor, Davisville, Ont., J. D. Cameron, William C. Garstang, Lockville, Ont., Samuel Beckett, Hamilton, George Peppiatt, Newmarket, Ont. Examination of the candidates in riding and shooting will be resumed to-day.

From Kingston.

Kingston, April 17.—Seven recruits for the fourth contingent have been examined in riding and shooting and were successful. The following have passed in every department and have been sworn in: B. H. Camp, Hartington, 4th Hussars; Thomas Murlady, Kingston; William Danias and Thos. Kelly, Brockville, 41st Regiment. Sergeants Clifford and Pierson left for Halifax Tuesday, and Sergeants Hughes and Rider went down yesterday to act as instructors to the new contingent, which will be mobilized there.

From Port Hope.

Port Hope, April 17.—The following enlisted at Port Hope yesterday for South Africa: George Charles Reid, Halifax; Ed. Warden, Bowmanville; Frank Arkless, Port Hope; Ed. German, Port Hope; Wm. Ed. Lockington, Port Hope; James L. Rowland, Port Hope; one rejected.

From Brantford.

Brantford, April 17.—There were 12 applicants accepted at the recruiting office up to noon yesterday, as follows: John Nesbit, J. S. Walters, Wm. Bell, D. L. Hyde, J. S. Christie, W. Forse, J. Jacques, W. Babcock, J. D. Muir, M. Mullin, A. White, E. Moffatt. Eighteen others failed to fill the required bill. Recruiting will be continued till the end of the week.

Nervous Dyspepsia

Can Never be Cured by Mere Temporary Aids to Digestion—The Nerves Must be Restored and Filled With Vitalizing Nerve Force.

You know that certain drugs, such as pepsin and bismuth, bring about artificial digestion, and if you have dyspepsia or indigestion, it is possible that, like hosts of others, you have taken these into the stomach hoping that they will take the place of gastric juice and other digestive fluids, digest the food and by resting the stomach effect a cure.

Did you ever hear of a bodily organ being strengthened by inactivity? It is to the organ that is exercised that the new, rich blood is conveyed in order to restore the tissues wasted by the functions of that organ, and so the stomach that is given rest does not get stornger, but the gastric juice gradually ceases to flow and you are finally compelled to resort to the continual use of artificial digestants.

If instead of these temporary aids you seek permanent cure you must treat the nerves, because, as you will understand by a study of the accompanying cut, it is the nerves that control the glands of the stomach, and only when the supply of nerve force is liberal is digestion rightly performed and the body properly nourished.

is no experiment. We recommend it for nervous dyspepsia, because it has actually cured this ailment in scores and hundreds of cases. Here are some earnest letters from people you may know. Ask them what they think of this great food cure :—

Indigestion.

MR. J. LAW, 247 Hunter street, Peterborough, Ont., and who is employed with the Peter Hamilton Co., states—

"For a long time I was troubled with severe splitting headaches, and suffered a great deal with pains in the region of my heart, caused no doubt by indigestion. I procured a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and began this treatment. Since using this preparation for some time, I can say that I feel quite different, and my health is very much improved. My digestion is good, and the headaches and pains about the heart have not troubled me at all of late. I can sincerely recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a thorough cure for nervous dyspepsia and its accompanying symptoms."

Dyspepsia.

MRS. M. A. SHARP, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states—

"For some years I was troubled with indigestion, which developed into nervous dyspepsia, and besides suffering from nervousness, strange dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine, I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed, and as a result of its use, I am quite restored to health."

Indigestion.

MR. WILLIAM LEE, retired carpenter, 710 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states,—

"For some months I was not in good health. My system seemed to be run down, I was troubled with a good deal of indigestion, and suffered from headaches and liver disorders. I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills and am pleased to state that I found both of these preparations exceedingly beneficial. In fact, I can confidently say that they have done me a lasting good, and I cannot praise them too highly."

This treatment will prove equally effective in your case, because it actually contains the most powerful restoratives known to the medical profession. It cures by building up the system and instilling new vital nerve force into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cents a box; six boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To-night's Banquet.

The Y.M.C.A. banquet to-night will begin promptly at eight o'clock, so as to conclude early. The toast list will be good, and the speeches interspersed with solos by prominent singers of the town. A special musical feature will be presented through the kindness of Mr. Chas. Stanley. Several selections on the wonderful Apollo will be given. The gymnasium has been beautifully decorated by the social committee. Every member of the Senior Department of the Y.M.C.A. is invited.

A Great Singer.

The following is taken from the St. Johns, N.B., Daily Telegraph concerning Miss Maclachlan's appearance in that city; "There never was heard in St. John a concert so thoroughly enjoyed by so many people as was that at the Opera House last night. It was in fact a great singer giving with all her soul the songs of the land she loved."

SOLDIER BOYS LEAVE TO-NIGHT.

The town has assumed a decidedly martial air during the past few days and it is more noticeable to-day than at any time during the various periods of enlistment for South Africa.

The armouries are the Mecca of military gossip, of military men, and of military admirers, some of whom while, for various reasons, they may not be going to South Africa, love to congregate and watch the other soldier boys as they participate in their riding or firing exercises. Young men walk the streets in uniforms of scarlet and khaki and bid goodbye to old friends, and at the same time receive many words of encouragement in the service they are about to enter.

When the order came this morning that the first twenty men enlisted were to leave to-night for Halifax, there was some little surprise felt, as it had been thought by many that the boys would not leave before to-morrow night, at least, when they would all go together. However, although orders from headquarters were contrary to expectations, they must be obeyed, and the list of those whose names appear above, will depart on the midnight C. P. R. to-night en route to Halifax.

The draft of twenty men that will leave Peterborough to-night will be under the command of Sergeant Vass LeBar, who has been made a Provisional Sergeant. He has two very able assistants in Sergt. Miller and Sergt. Biggs. Sergt. LeBar had his men at the drill shed at 10 o'clock this morning and put them through their facings in a very creditable manner. Squad and company drill was the order of the proceedings. Later in the day the men were given some target practice. Yesterday afternoon the boys were given a trial at horse back riding.

Sergt. Miller is without doubt the finest looking soldier that is leaving on the present occasion. He is a soldier every inch and would sooner fight than eat. His appearance is that of a smart looking regular and his manner that of a genial, good-hearted fellow. He comes originally from Port Hope and has served in the Northwest rebellion and in the Spanish-American war. He went to South Africa before the present war broke out and when hostilities broke out he immediately joined the British forces. He is a hero of Spion Kop and was with Buller at the time of the relief of Ladysmith. He is very anxious to return to South Africa.

Pte. Gibson, who is going to South Africa, is a son of Mr. John Gibson, foreman of the streets and bridges of the town.

Pte. R. R. Clinkscale, 46th Regiment, who has just enlisted for South Africa, is a son of Alderman Clinkscale, and he will be the second son that that gentleman has serving in South Africa.

The boys leave to-night on the midnight C.P.R., and it is up to the citizens of the town to give them a proper send-off. Let there be a good turn-out of townspeople and let the Peterborough representatives see that the enthusiasm is not on the wane and that while they may be engaged in the defence of their country the eyes of their former townspeople are on them.

The enlisting has been somewhat quiet to-day. Only five names were added to the strength. They were:—

John Donovan, Hastings.
Peter White, Havelock.
Frank Prior, Myrtle.
J. C. Dyer, Norwood.
H. S. Brooks, Peterborough.

To-morrow will likely be the last day for recruiting in Peterborough, and any who desire to enlist will be given an opportunity, providing of course that they pass the necessary examination. There have been 30 men recruited here, and a like number have for various reasons been rejected. When it is considered that Peterborough has previously sent about 50 young men to South Africa on various contingents, and that there were 60 applications for places on this contingent it can safely be said that Peterborough has done herself proud.

Ladies' Shirt Waists.

Some special offerings at C. G. Gemmell's, Charlotte street, in print shirt waists, in a variety of colourings, made of English print, and American percales, all fast colours, worth from 75c. to 85c., are to be cleared at about half price, 48c. Nobby, black Roman sateen button-at-the-back shirt waists — New York patterns — couldn't tell them from satin, if you're weren't told—they have such a sheen and lustre. To be sold this week at $1.50 and $2. See window display. C. G. Gemmell.

TRADING STAMP LAW HOLDS.

Legislature had Power to Enact it—Municipalties can Prohibit Operating of Stamp Concerns.

The Court of Appeal has given judgment on the stated case by the Attorney-General as to whether the Legislature had power to pass the Act of 1901 giving municipalities the power to prohibit trading stamp concerns operating within their own boundaries.

The court answers in the affirmative.

Announcements were made by the company that they had closed down temporarily until the Court of Appeal had given its decision as to the power of the Legislature to pass the Act.

LATE MR. T. B. BROPHY.

Mr. Harry Phelan, to-day received a telegram from Ottawa informing him of the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. T. B. Brophy, son of the late J. Brophy, royal engineer. The deceased gentleman was well known in Peterborough having been a resident of this town about four years ago, when here he was connected with the building of the Burleigh Falls dam and locks. He has many friends in Peterborough all of whom will regret exceedingly to hear of his demise.

SANATORIUM FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, —In view of the petition at present before the council for a grant to the Sanatorium for Consumptives, soon to be opened at Gravenhurst, the following statistics taken from an article in a recent medical journal, by A. J. Richer, M.D., may be of interest to the public:

Annual number of deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis per ten thousand of population:

City.	Pop.	1894.
Paris	3,424,000	41.3
Bordeaux	252,000	25.5
Breslau	361,000	34.9
Berlin	1,703,000	22.3
New York	1,925,000	24.1
London	5,300,000	17.3

In Portugal, where practically nothing has been done to cope with the ravages of the disease, twenty thousand deaths occur annually in a population of 4,500,000. The low death rate from the disease in England, and particularly in London, speaks well for the efforts of the last eighty years in providing special hospitals for the treatment of its victims.

Since the "National Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of Tuberculosis" has been established, we may look for even better results in another five years.

Brehmer of Goerbersdorf, father of the hygienic treatment used by different institutions the world over, gives the following statistics resulting from investigations of over five thousand cases treated in the Goerbersdorf Sanatorium:

Incipient cases (early) 59 per cent. cured.

Moderately advanced cases, 21 per cent. cured.

Far advanced cases, 3 per cent. cured.

In the following Sanatoria the results vary from 40 to 69 per cent. of cures in the early cases. Germany Falkenstein, Germany, Davos, Switzerland, Leysin, Switzerland, Canigou, France, Loomis, New York, Adirondack, New York, Muskoka, Canada, Laurentian, Canada.

It is needless to add that in all the instances quoted in these statistics the disease had been recognized beyond the shadow of a doubt.

Heubner, of Berlin, who has given us excellent statistics, draws our attention to the fact that children never die from the disease within the first three months of birth. If it were hereditary, we should have deaths within the first few days after birth. "Without exposure no hereditary tuberculosis," says Bernheim. In all his observations he never found that the reverse ever happened. No matter how far advanced the disease may have been in the parents, if the child was removed early and kept away from the parental home, there has been no inheritance of tuberculosis. His Majesty the King of England, has recently graciously consented to direct the expenditure of one million dollars which was placed at his disposal for charitable purposes. His Majesty, realizing the immediate needs of the tubercular subjects of England, decided to devote that sum to cope with the problem of Tuberculosis. His Majesty appointed the following medical gentlemen as an advisory committee: Sir Wm. Broadbent, Bart, K.C.V.O., Sir R. Douglas Powell, Bart, K.C.V.O., Sir Francis Laking, K.C.V.O., Sir Felix Semon, Sir Hermann Webber, Dr. C. Theodore Williams.

The above committee recommended that the total sum of one million dollars be devoted to constructing and equipping one or more Sanatoria in England. The recommendation made by His Majesty's select committee is the strongest proof of the absolute necessity of Sanitoria in waging war against consumption. In fact it is now recognized as the only means of properly beginning the crusade against tuberculosis in any and every country. If tuberculosis were solely a medical disease, people would not be asked to familiarize themselves with its means of prevention and cure. It is in reality a social problem, and because of this, the co-operation of the public is sought. A sanitorium is a school of training as well as a supervised institution where a cure is looked for.

Do we realize what is annually lost in our country by the death of 8,000 victims yearly, claimed by this disease? It is estimated that each life is worth to the state at least one thousand dollars. Our country then pays an annual tribute of eight millions to the disease.

Directly, Canada loses eight millions, indirectly our people pay a tribute of sixteen millions yearly, making a total annual loss of twenty-four millions. Yet it is a preventable and curable disease.

The article from which these extracts have been made, deals with the subject in all its aspects and bearings, and is most clear and convincing. Anyone wishing to obtain it may do so by writing to John Dougall and Son, Montreal, publishers of World Wide, for their issue of Feb. 15, 1902. The more widely the knowledge and information it contains is spread, the sooner may we hope for relief from the ravages of the great white plague, with all its attendant horrors and heart-breaking losses. May I advance the suggestion for the benefit of those who are worrying over the unsatisfactory increase of population in our Province, that a decreased death rate would prove as efficacious in furthering the end they have in view, as an increased birth rate, and, on the lines suggested by the present movement, is a problem, much easier to solve.

Thanking you for space, I remain,

Yours, etc.,

SUBSCRIBER.

Y. M. C. A. Lacrosse Team Hard at Work.

THE O. C. A. SEMI-ANNUAL.

Baseball News—The Auburn Team Wants to Play the Electrics—Other Notes.

LACROSSE.

It appears that the players who were about to form a team to be known as the Athletics, are somewhat dubious about being able to pick up enough men to form a team. It would be too bad to see the Athletics disband, as the chances for the formation fo a four-club town league would then be spoiled. The Athletics should have no fears about being able to pick up a good membership. They have half-a-dozen of the best stick handlers in town to start with and once they begin practice they would find plenty of others turning out with them. As at present consituted the four teams appear to be very evenly matched in strength and the games played would undoubtedly prove to be very interesting. On the other hand, if the Athletics throw in their lot in a body with either of the other three clubs, that particular aggregation would be so materially increased in strength as to place the other two teams at too great a disadvantage. Let the Athletics then get a hustle on and organize as soon as possible, and Peterborough will have a four club league that will give the citizens lots of lacrosse this summer.

Although Peterborough may not have a lacrosse team in the C.L.A. this season, still, the people of the town may reckon on seeing some good exhibitions of our national game. The turn-out at practice last night on Central Park, of the Y.M.C.A. team was a pretty and at the same time creditable sight. People had no idea that there were so many young stickhandlers in town, and again it must be remembered that those who were practising last night on Victoria Park represented only about one-third of the total number of young lacrosse players of the town. From the material that was in evidence yesterday evening the Y.M.C.A. will not have to take a back seat to any team in town.

LAWN-BOWLING.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn-Bowling Club will be held on Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock in the board room of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. Reports will be received concerning the club's standing and officers for the year will be elected. As considerable discussion will doubtless take place in connection with the proposed enlargement of the green, and several other matters of importance, the chair will be taken at 8 o'clock promptly in order that business may be concluded at an early hour. A full attendance of members is urged.

GOLF.

A meeting of the Entertainment Committee of the Ladies' Golf Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

BASEBALL.

Mr. Wally Parnell, manager of the Auburn Baseball team is endeavouring to arrange a game with the Electrics for Saturday afternoon next on the Nicholls Oval. Should the Electrics fail to accept the challenge the Auburn's will try and arrange a game with the Wm. Hamilton Co.

A full attendance of the National Baseball Team is called for a meeting on Thursday, April 17th, at half-past six o'clock on their old practice grounds, north of the C. G. E. Works, on Park street. 2d

ONTARIO CURLERS IN SESSION.

The April meeting of the Ontario Curling Association was held Tuesday afternoon at the Walker House, Toronto, the president, Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, of Peterborough, in the chair, and Secretary Macfadden at his desk.

A number of reports were presented, the first dealing with the Ontario Tankard competition. In this contest 67 clubs were entered, and all but 11 took part. In groups 1, 2 and 3 there were no defaults, but in groups 4 and 8 one defaulted and three defaulted in each of groups 5, 6 and 7. Only one protest was lodged, Port Perry in group 5 protesting against Oshawa, and the game was replayed, the latter club again winning. With this exception all the contests were carried out with great success. The finals were played on Wednesday, Feb. 5, the Lindsay club beating the Toronto Caledonians and winning the Tankard for the third time in the last six years, the score being 45 to 34. Secretary Macfadden suggested that in future the rink be roped in so as to prevent spectators from crowding on the ice in the final games.

In the District Cup competition third clubs were drawn, 31 of which played. Newmarket, Keene, Petrolea and Plattsville were the winners in Districts 1, 2, 3 and 4.

In the general competition at the points game returns have been received from four clubs only. Regret was expressed, and it was hoped that more attention would be paid to this competition by the curlers of the association. Unless this was done it was pointed out the Executive were of the opinion that it would be advisable to discontinue this prize. The following scored over 30:—

Rev. R. N. Burns, Brampton	39
W. Spalding, Guelph	37
J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay	34
Thos. Spalding, Guelph	34
W. Arnott, Seaforth	33
J. Laird, Brampton	33
Thos. Thauburn, Brampton	33
J. H. Cardy, Guelph	30
J. Congalton, Guelph	30

The executive has awarded the medal to Rev. R. N. Burns, who made the highest score.

Parry Sound sent in a report of their points competition but not until after the time set by the regulations; further the umpire was one of the competitors. On the ground of these two irregularities the Parry Sound report was not accepted for consideration for the prize.

Southampton won the Governor-General's competition, in which six winners in the Tankard primaries, three of the runners-up, and one in the District Cup competition, took part. The club was congratulated on their win, this being their first year in the Association for many seasons.

Mr. J. S. Russell, reported that the railways had refused to accede to the curlers' request for a special rate, and the secretary was instructed to press the matter this year. A vote of thanks for his efforts was tendered Mr. Russell.

In future all Past Presidents will be given life membership and privilege to vote at all meetings.

An effort to induce some of the Scotch curlers to visit Canada next winter will be made this summer.

Doctors Order It.

Doctors see at once the advantage of taking a medicine right to the part that is sick. You see the doctor orders his own medicines for the disease, and has his patient use Vapo Cresolene at the same time. It destroys all germs of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, and other contagious diseases; and there is no remedy its equal for croup, sore throat and hard colds. You now see why it often cures whooping-cough in a few days. 15

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents an bottle. "SPARRING FOR TIME"

Boer and Britain Now Fighting in the Diplomatic Arena.

THE BOERS' DEMANDS ARE BIG

They Are Now Asking For Responsible Government—Lord Milner Has Defined Certain Terms Upon Which Associated Press Says the Cabinet Disagreed—Cable and Land Telegraph Lines Kept Clear.

London, April 17.—The Associated Press has excellent authority for saying that up to a late hour last night there have been no definite developments in the matter of the Boer-British peace negotiations. The Associated Press learns that Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa, has defined certain propositions upon which peace may almost immediately be secured, but the Cabinet is said to have disagreed upon the merits of Lord Milner's terms at its meeting yesterday.

"Sparring for time" best describes the present status of the negotiations, neither side being willing to risk a decision which would break off the present conference. An agreement may be reached at any moment but this is more likely to be the result of semi-independent action by Lord Milner and Lord Kitchener at Pretoria than the rather involved conditional decisions of the Cabinet at London.

The broad lines of Great Britain's terms are now known to the Government representatives at Pretoria. Upon these representatives the Cabinet is apparently shifting the responsibility of taking advantage of all opportunities, provided no cardinal principles be sacrificed.

The Government has ordered that the cable and telegraph lines between London and Pretoria be kept clear to insure the most prompt transmission of Lord Kitchener's messages.

There is good reason to believe that the Boers are vigorously demanding a representative Government, and that this demand is opposed with equal vigor by the British representatives.

It is understood that the Boers strongly object to the long delay proposed by Great Britain before a representative Government can be granted the former Republic, and that they also insist that the number of Boer seats in the council be specified.

It is expected that the Cabinet will reassemble to-day to discuss the matter further.

SALISBURY SAW THE KING,

After Cabinet Had Considered Communications From Pretoria.

London, April 17.—The British Cabinet held another meeting yesterday for the purpose of considering a communication from the Boer representatives who are now at Pretoria and a message from Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa. The session was extremely brief.

After the Cabinet meeting Lord Salisbury, the Premier, had an audience of King Edward at Buckingham Palace and stayed to lunch with his Majesty. The latter afterwards went to Sandringham.

Later it was asserted that the communication from Lord Milner considered at the Cabinet meeting, contained the first clear statement of the attitude of the Boer leaders, who, hitherto, had not agreed on the peace terms they would accept.

The St. James' Gazette predicts an early public announcement of the progress of the peace negotiations. The paper says there is little doubt that if the British and Boers arrived at an understanding on the main points of the proposals peace will ensue, the banishment proclamation will be withdrawn, and minor points, like re-stocking the farms, will be referred to a board composed of British and Boer representatives.

130 Boers Caught.

London, April 17.—In a despatch to the War Office, dated yesterday, at Pretoria, Lord Kitchener reports the capture of 130 Boers in the Klerksdorp district since April 11.

Major Merritt Thrown.

Ottawa, April 17.—Trooper Holland, writing from South Africa on March 10, says: Major Merritt was thrown from his horse to-day, and it is reported in camp that he was seriously injured.

New Comet Discovered.

Geneva, N.Y., April 17.—Dr. W. R. Brooks, director of Smith Observatory, and Professor of Astronomy at Hobart College, announced the discovery of a new comet. It is in constellation Pegasus, and an observation secured yesterday morning made its position right ascension 23 hours 8 minutes 10 seconds declination north, 27 degrees 25 minutes. The comet has a daily motion of about 3 degrees southeasterly and toward the sun.

Speedy Cure for Cramps and Colic.

The most reliable cure for Cramps, Colic, Dysentery and Summer Complaints, is ten drops of Polson's Nerviline, in a little sweetened water. Nerviline removes the pain and distress at once, insures prompt relief, and a speedy cure in every case. Nerviline is an excellent remedy for all pain, whether internal or external, and should be in every household. All druggists sell and recommend Nerviline. Price 25c.

Conductor Indicted.

Halifax, April 17.—Conductor Craigie of the I.C.R. was to-day committed at St. Peter's C.B., to the Supreme Court on a charge of causing the death of Captain Angus Stewart. The conductor put Stewart off a train near Sydney three weeks ago, and a fast freight came along and killed him.

$60,000 OUT ON STRIKE.

Serious Disorders Have Occurred at Cockerills in the Coal Fields.

Brussels, April 17.—Last evening it was announced that 150,000 men were out on strike in the districts of Mons, Charleroi and Liege alone. Many men have stopped work in other sections of the country. A dynamite cartridge was exploded during the day on the railroad track near Arion. The explosion badly damaged the railroad bridge, but, traffic was not interrupted. Serious disorders have occurred at Cockerils, in the coal fields, of Seraing. A detachment of lancers was compelled repeatedly to charge a mob numbering about 2,000 persons engaged in throwing stones at the troops. Many people were injured. The cafes in which the rioters took refuge were sacked.

It was estimated last night that nearly 800,000 have gone on strike. The movement is well organized, but as the men are short of funds it has been arranged that in all trades in which the cessation of operations would incommode the public—such as bakers, etc.—the men shall continue working, and contribute to the support of the others. At Verviers, near Liege, the Socialists have persuaded the taverns to close their doors in order to keep the idle men from the temptation of liquor.

The Majority of People Have Impure and Poisoned Blood Coursing Through the Body in Springtime.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Is the Fountain of Health From Which the Disease Laden may Draw a Fresh Supply of Vitality and Health.

Is your blood impure, poisoned or sluggish? It must be if you have eruptions, boils, pimples, blotches, running sores, eczema, or salt rheum. With such troubles and ailments the blood is fast carrying disease and death to the body.

To be clean, sound, vigorous and healthy, you must use Paine's Celery Compound before the advent of the hot summer days. At this time the vitalizing and health-giving work of Paine's Celery Compound shows quickly upon the blood, which is purified and made rich with nutriment that builds up the nerves and tissues.

Remember that "Paine's" is the "kind that cures. At all times refuse the SOMETHING JUST AS GOOD offered by some dealers.

Mr. M. D. Arthur, Chelmsford, Ont. testifies briefly regarding his rescue from a perilous condition.

"With great pleasure I write about your wondrous medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. I was laid up with scars all over my face and neck, the result of blood poisoning. While in that condition I could not sleep at night; I had no appetite and could not attend to my work. I tested the skill of all the doctors in the district and used their medicine, but was not benefitted. I think I was miraculously saved at last. My aunt advised me to use Paine's Celery Compound. I did so to please her. In two weeks I was so much better I could go out and in three weeks I was able to work again. I bless the day I commenced with Paine's Celery Compound. I cannot say sufficient in praise of the great healing medicine. I would not be without it if I were obliged to pay ten dollars a bottle for it.

Two Lost Their Lives.

Winnipeg, Man., April 17.—A sad tragedy occurred yesterday at Overmore, about 20 miles from Emerson. Fred Fransky, a farmer, and his two small children, a girl aged five and an infant son, were severely burned, the children dying of their injuries in a few hours. The family residence took fire in the absence of the parents. Fransky returned in time to rescue the children, but the two youngest were fatally burned, and Fransky himself was so badly hurt that he is now in the hospital.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars whereas 25c buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large 25c bottles at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

The Coronation Contingent.

Ottawa, April 17.—There is a likelihood that the Queen's Own Bugle Band, numbering 40 pieces, may accompany the Coronation Contingent. In the Coronation Contingent, the Rifle Corps, the infantry regiments and the guards and Fusiliers Corps, respectively, will each be represented by a company numbering 36 men. The quota from each regiment will be in proportion to its numerical strength. The Artillery Corps will be represented by a company, and so will the cavalry. The Army Service Corps, the Army Medical Corps and the engineers will likewise have units in the contingent.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

A GIFT OF 500 ACRES

Would be no temptation to Mr. Beemer in exchange for Dr. Agnew's Ointment. Itching Piles of seven years standing took to themselves wings after a few applications.

Mr. M. Beemer, of Knotmanl, Mich., says in a letter of recent date:—"I have had Itching Piles for seven years. I have tried most everything that was ever recommended as a cure but never got the least bit of relief until I used Dr. Agnew's Ointment, and I haven't words to express the thankfulness I feel for the great cure. I would rather have the wonderful cure than 500 acres of land. 35 cents. 83

To the Weary Dyspeptic. We Ask this Question:

Why don't you remove that weight at the pit of the Stomach?

Why don't you regulate that variable appetite, and condition the digestive organs so that it will not be necessary to starve the stomach to avoid distress after eating.

The first step is to regulate the bowels.

For this purpose

CEMENTING THE EMPIRE.

Premier Ross' Views on British Budget—Preferential Trade Within Empire.

Toronto, April 16.—Asked as to his view respecting the new taxation announced Monday in the British budget, Hon. Geo. W. Ross said yesterday: "The speech by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, plainly indicates a change in the public opinion of Great Britain with respect to the financial policy of the Empire. No doubt the exigencies of the Treasury, arising out of the Boer war, are to a certain extent responsible for the small duties imposed upon grain and flour. Nevertheless, from the letters of Sir Robert Giffen, one of the greatest exponents of free trade of the present generation, it is quite evident that the Chancellor's address is in harmony with that undercurrent of public opinion on trade questions to which I made reference on my return from England about six months ago.

"To Canadians this change of policy is most significant, as it makes it much easier for us to press upon the attention of the Imperial authorities that preference for colonial produce which would be utterly impossible if England stood upon the principles of free trade as enunciated by Cobden. When Mr. Chamberlain offered free trade within the Empire five years ago he offered what Canadians felt was utterly impossible, but when Britain adopts a tariff, though it may be on food products, she puts herself in a position to give something to the colonies which the interests of the Empire might warrant her in withholding from the rest of the world. The only remaining element to bring the question of preferential trade before the people of Great Britain as an Imperial question is to prevail upon British statesmen to look upon the whole Empire as a unit. Then tariffs for the advantage of the Exchequer at home will be framed with reference to the interests of the Empire as a whole.

"Having taken the first step we may look for rapid progress in the same direction within the next few years. Certainly this action of the Imperial Government will add very much to the interest of the Colonial Conference called by Mr. Chamberlain during the coronation ceremonies."

FOR THE REVENUE ONLY.

Views at the Capital on the British Wheat Tax.

Ottawa, April 16.—None of the Ministers cares to say anything about the British import duties upon wheat and flour. A number of members of Parliament, however, were interviewed, most of whom took the ground that the new duties announced by Sir Michael Hicks-Beach were of a purely revenue character and not protective in their nature. Conservative members express their regret that the Imperial Government did not seize the opportunity to grant a preference to colonial wheat and flour. The new duties amount to a tax of 3¼ cents per bushel upon wheat and about 17½ cents a bushel upon flour. Last year Canada exported 8,630,066 bushels of wheat to Britain, valued at $6,112,230. The exportation of flour amounted to 770,714 barrels, valued at $2,702,132. Britain's total importation of wheat in 1901 was 16,296,220 quarters, of which Canada contributed about one-eighth.

BREACH BLEW OUT.

Nine Blue Jackets Killed at Gun Practice Off Berehaven.

Queenstown, April 16.—Gunnery Lieut. James H. S. Bourne, Lieut. Miller and nine Blue Jackets were instantly killed Monday afternoon by the bursting of a 12-inch gun on board the British first-class battleship Mars, during gun practic off Berehaven. In addition, several men were injured by the explosion. The breach of the gun blew out after it had missed fire twice. The bodies of the two men who were sighting the gun were scattered to pieces and blown overboard. The injured seamen were brought ashore here yesterday.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

At Kingsville, Tuesday, John A. Auld received the unanimous nomination of the Liberals of South Essex. H. J. Pettypiece, N. W. Rowell and M. Cowan, M.P., spoke.

At Mitchell Tuesday the prohibitionists of South Perth decided to run a candidate in the coming election. A committee was appointed to find one.

W. B. Rogers will be the Liberal candidate for South Toronto in the approaching provincial election. He was given the nomination unanimously at a convention of the Liberals of that division, in St. George's Ward Tuesday evening, and accepted it an a short speech.

"I accept the great trust you have placed in my hands. I fully appreciate the immense responsibilities it envolves and I will not shirk my duty towards you." In these words J. J. Foy, K.C., accepted the unanimous nomination of the South Toronto convention in Victoria Hall Tuesday night. No one opposed him, and all of the other seven nominated retired in his favor.

Gave it Up.

"Did you catch your train last night?" asked his employer of Soobarbs.

"No," replied Soobarbs wearily; "it had been gone about five minutes when I got to the station, and I didn't think it was any use to try."—Ohio State Journal.

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. B. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

THAT CHAPTER.

The gist of that chapter usually reads like this:

"Child weak and thin—began with small doses of Scott's Emulsion three times a day—after a week appetite improved—soon a little stronger—child more lively—weighs more".

And so it goes till the child is reported well and strong.

COURTESY IN MEXICO.

How a Woman Writer Was Escorted Through the Country.

Hospitality in Mexico is humorously yet gratefully described by Mrs. Tweedie, who relates her experiences in "Mexico as I Saw It." For hours the train had been pounding along between huge Texan ranches, a dusty and uninteresting journey since leaving San Antonio. Suddenly a man in uniform appeared before the traveler.

"Are you Mrs. Alec Tweedie?" he asked.

"I am," I answered, with an outward show of courage, although inwardly wondering what offense I had committed.

"I have come to help you at the frontier with your luggage."

I sighed with relief, thanked him and after his departure tried to go on with my work of manuscript reading.

We passed another junction and another man stood before me.

"Are you Mrs. Alec Tweedie?" he asked.

"I am," I replied, trembling again.

"I come," said he, "from the International railway to bid you welcome to Mexico."

I asked him to sit down, and we chatted, although not for long, because in a few minutes, "Are you Mrs. Alec Tweedie?" asked a third man. At that I laughed outright.

"I come from Mr. Cloete's ranch," he explained, "to look after and welcome you in his name."

We began chatting about my recent adventures, when a fourth man presented himself.

"Are you Mrs. Alec Tweedie?" he asked.

Convulsed with laughter, I could only nod assent.

"Mr. Barrett of Sonora asked me to meet you at the frontier and see you safely to Sabinas," was his explanation.

So, duly escorted, I went on.

He Got His Tip.

He was a tiny little fellow, surely not more than five years old, and as he called for his afternoon papers at the corner of Twelfth and Market streets many people gazed at him with mingled amusement and pity. He had long brown curls, wet with the drenching rain, and his shrill little voice had a baby lisp. A very stout, elderly woman, apparently weighing close to 200 pounds, paused at the south side of Market street and looked askance at the miniature river of water and at the passing procession of wagons and trolley cars.

The little newsboy was quick to size up the situation. Running up to her, he exclaimed: "Don't be afraid, lady. I'll help you across." Reaching up his tiny little hand, he clutched her by the arm, and together the ridiculous pair threaded their way to the opposite curb. Then the stout woman opened her purse, gravely handed the little fellow a coin and disappeared into the Reading terminal.

Not Reassuring.

"Have—have you any reason to believe that your father will exhibit violence when I ask him for your hand?" inquired the timid youth.

"I have never been present on any of these occasions," replied the lovely girl evasively. "And, to tell you the truth, I have never wanted to be present. I suppose I am foolishly sensitive about these things, but I can't help it. I remember that papa took me to a slaughter house when I was a little girl, and I dreamed about it every night for months afterward."

SCIENTIFIC TORTURERS.

Some of the Cruelties That Are Perpetrated in Vivisection.

A certain Dr. Casten, wishing to study the effect of massage upon dislocations, deliberately dislocated the limbs of numerous dogs, says Henry C. Merwin in The Atlantic. He published an account of all these experiments, and the following is a fair example of them: "Experiment 8. Poodle dog * * * replaced on the table without chloral. I dislocate his two shoulders. The animal utters screams of suffering. I hold him for twenty minutes with his two shoulders dislocated and the elbows tied together behind his back * * * ."

"Dr. Majendie," relates Dr. Elliston, "in one of his barbarous experiments which, I am ashamed to say, I witnessed, began by cutting out a large round piece from the back of a beautiful little puppy."

Majendie may have been by nature a brutal man, but even he would hardly have done that when he was young in vivisection. * * * In this country we are not quite so cruel as the French or Italians, but we are more cruel than the English, more cruel perhaps than the Germans.

A medical man in Jersey City published an account of some experiments which he made upon dogs—I will not shock the reader by describing them—and of this publication the British Medical Journal of Nov. 15, 1891, said, "It is a record of the most wanton and the stupidest cruelty we have ever seen chronicled under the guise of scientific experiments."

Questions for Women.

Are you weak, nervous, irritable, easily worried and fatigued? Do you dread your daily work and feel like letting your duties go undone. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will restore your nervous system and send the thrill of new life and energy through the body. It is above all a woman's medicine, as its invigorating influence on the nerves insures regularity in the functions of the bodily organs.

Convicts of Abyssinia.

In Abyssinia political offenders and obstructionists are arrested, chained and placed on the small tableland of Abba Salama, a high, rocky and precipitous mountain about thirty miles from Adowa. So sheer and steep are its sides that the prisoners are drawn up by ropes. Their chance of escaping is impossible, unless they run the risk of dashing themselves into eternity on the rocks below. On this lonely height there is soil on which they may grow grain, and there are wells with good water. There is no speaker to keep order, and they may, if they choose, abuse the prime ministers and crowned heads to their hearts' content, but they return no more to the ways of the world.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has prepiously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

One Divided by a Half.

If you ask the man in the street the simple question, What is one divided by a half? he will either reply that the operation is an impossible one or that the answer is a half. When you point ont that one divided by two is a half, he will see that there is something wrong somewhere, but will still be quite unable to give the right answer. When you tell him that the answer is two, he will either accept the assertion without understanding it or will dispute it tooth and nail. If you attempt to convince him of his error, you will find it is not at all an easy task.

His mistake arises through the confounding of two distinct ideas—namely, one divided into two and one divided by two. One divided into two is one divided into two parts, each part containing a half. One divided by two is the ratio of one to two or the number of times two is contained in one. To any one who has thought the matter out this seems clear enough, but to the man in the street it is sheer nonsense, and he will tell you so.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Kilsey, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, worry veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."

THE QUESTION OF ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Lakefield is now Grappling With the Problem.

MAY BE SOME COMPETITION.

An Outside Firm has Purchased the Old Plant, but a Local Company may Tender for the Village Contract.

Messrs. Farrer Bros., of Parry Sound, have purchased the electric light plant formerly owned by Messrs. Madill Bros., of the village. Messrs. Farrer Bros. are experienced men and if they are able to procure a franchise for a pole line, hope to give an all-night service at much cheaper rates than electric light users in the village have paid formerly.

Miss Grace Lillicrap, who spent her Easter vaction in the village, returned to Toronto last week to resume her studies at St. Monica's School.

Mr. Stewart Leonard, of the Toronto Bank, London, Ont., is in the village for a couple of weeks' vacation, the guest of Rev. A. W. MacKenzie.

Mr. Wallace Calder, one of our up-to-date liverymen, has been replenishing his stock of buggies by the addition of four of the best and most stylish rigs he could procure.

Mr. W. Calder was in Georgetown on business on Monday.

Mr. Robert Graham attended the meeting of the License Commissioners held at Peterborough on Monday.

Mr. Stewart Fraser of Peterborough, spent Sunday in the village with his parents.

The regular meeting of the Municipal Council was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, 14th inst. Present, Reeve Gerald Fitzgerald, in the chair, and Councillors Davis, Kelly, Fitzgerald and Wallace. Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

Communications were read from the Bank of Toronto, stating that the balance to the credit of S. Sherin, the treasurer, was $923.99, on April 3; also from Messrs. F. J. Lillicrap, and E. R. Tate, asking exemption from taxes for ten years on a new saw mill which they propose to erect; also from the Forest City Paving Co.; and from Drs. McKay and Durmin asking payment of an account for $200 for professional services to Silas Finlay.

Moved by Coun. Kelly, seconded by Counc. Davis, that the several communications be received.

The Finance Committee presented the following report;

Gentlemen, — We, your Finance Committee, having examined the following accounts properly vouched for and finding them correct, would recommend payment of the same;

Pay sheet No. 5...	16 05
J. Cooper, teaming...	6 75
John Hendren, teaming...	5 50
W. H. Casement, fire dept... ...	2 30
W. H. Casement, town hall	95
Madill Bros, lighting...	105 16
News, printing...	8 40
	$146 61

Moved by Councillors H. G. Fitzgerald and S. J. Wallace, that the report of the Finance Committee be received and adopted.—Carried.

Bylaw No. 363, entitled a bylaw to borrow money to meet the current expenditure of the village, received its several readings, was passed, signed and sealed by the Reeve and Clerk, rule of order No. 59, being on motion suspended.

Bylaw No. 364, entitled a bylaw to appoint an assistant to help the present assessor of the village to assess the Lakefield Portland Cement Co's property and plant, received its several readings, was passed, signed and sealed by the Reeve and Clerk.

A tender for street watering from John Hendren was read. Mr. Hendren agreed to sprinkle the street from bridge to the railway crossing (water and wagon furnished) from 1st May to 30th Sept. for $124.00.

Moved by Councillors J. E. Kelly and J. H. Davis, that Mr. Hendren's tender be accepted.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors H. G. Fitzgerald and J. E. Kelly, that Councillors Wallace and Davis be appointed a Charity Committee.—Carried.

Mr. Farrer addressed the Council, stating that he had purchased the electric light plant from Madill Bros., and asked that he be given a ten year franchise. He verbally stated the prices at which he was prepared to furnish an all night service.

Messrs. B. Hilliard, W. H. Casement, J. L. Lillicrap and others also addressed the Council regarding the electric light contract.

Mr. W. M. Graham stated that a local company was formed for the purpose of furnishing electric light, and that they were desirous of tendering for a franchise.

Moved by Councillors H. G. Fitzgerald and S. J. Wallace, that the Clerk notify the public that the Council is prepared and will consider same on April 29th, to grant concessions to any Electric Light Co. that will furnish satisfactory light for street, commercial and domestic use at prices satisfactory to this council.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors H. G. Fitzgerald and J. E. Kelly, that this council do hereby instruct the Clerk to notify the firm of Madill Bros. and their successors that this Council give notice that they will discontinue the use of the street lights from end of quarter ending 31st May, 1902.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

STOCK MARKETS.

Concentration of Southern Interests.

New York, April 16. — Slowly the smoke of financial strife rises from the struggle in L. N. Market indications plainly show that concentration plans are being carried out to weld all southern railway interests into one vast combine. The urgent and persistent demand for southern railway shares at advancing figures, would argue that that company were interested. The rise in Ill. Central also indicates that the company will also derive benefit. As yet the actual plans have not come to light, but the interested parties are, to a great extent, disclosed by action of the stock market for southern shares and bond issues. Several different bond issues of independent southern railways have been abnormally strong recently. Buying has been persistent and indicates that they are also going through the process of absorption in the interests of the powers dominating the railway interests of the south. The proximity of Ill. Central to the deal would give the combine direct inlet to Chicago, where it would come into the common railway centre of the United States, consequently be prepared to distribute southern products throughout the union. We would call your attention to our letter of April 1st urging the purchase of L. N. to hold for a large rise. Our letter of April 8th contained the following paragraph verbatim:—"L. N. and Southern Railway were clearly the market leaders, advancing under enormous buying. The acquisition of new lines by L. N., on face of it, looked like invasion of Southern Railway territory, the tape, however, clearly indicates to the contrary and that a deal of some kind to the advance of both issues. We now urgently request the purchase of Southern Railway shares, specially upon concession. They are, in our opinion, destined to sell much higher. Possibly they will not move in so cumbersome and slow a manner as they have done heretofore. Time, however, is bound to carry them to a much higher range of figures.

SOLDIERS LEAVE FOR THE WAR.

Peterborough Representatives Cheered by Citizens.

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION.

Sgt. LeBar was in Charge of the Local Men—The Band Played, and Fires Blazed.

The farewell demonstration which was given last night to the Peterborough representatives who will sail with the next Canadian contingent to South Africa, was quite up to that of former affairs of the kind in Peterborough as regards the attendance at the station, and the enthusiasm displayed by citizens generally. It was, in fact, a repetition of former departures of South African volunteers, and was attended with the blast of trumpets, the shouts of multitudes, the glare of bonfires and the patriotic strains of the 57th Regimental Band.

When it became known that the first 20 of Peterborough's representatives would leave last night, the news of their intended, but unexpected, early departure spread quickly around and many hours before the time of their leaving the streets of the town were alive with men, women and children.

The greater majority of those who left last night came down town early, in the uniforms of their respective corps intending to spend the intervening time in saying good-bye to their friends. When an order from Ottawa came stating that the men must leave in civilian uniform, there was general disappointment, and they were compelled to return to their homes and garb themselves in compliance with orders from headquarters. However, the local representatives were soon in the hands of their respective friends and many of them were banquetted at various places.

Lieut.-Col. Sutton issued an order for the men to report at the drill shed at 11 o'clock, and at that hour the drill shed was crowded. The men were lined up under Sgt. LeBar, and after a few instructions they proceeded down George street to the station. The procession was of the usual order on such occasions. The 57th band with that generous spirit characteristic of them on such occasions headed the march followed by thousands of townspeople, cheering wildly and setting off fireworks in profusion. The bugle band too, with the shrill notes and roar of drums was on hand, while the foghorn and tin pan were resorted to by many enthusiasts. Anything to make a noise was the motto and this appeared to be pretty well carried out. Bonfires blazed on several corners, while the sides of the streets were dense with people.

The C. P. R. Station presented a very unusual sight last night. There were several thousand people in the vicinity and the arrival of the midnight train was awaited with much interest. The South African recruits were besieged with admirers who bade them a sincere and affectionate farewell, and spoke words of encouragement to them. The huge mass of humanity surged to and fro for an hour or more, and not until the huge iron monster rolled on its journey eastward was the tension of excitement relieved. The boys took their departure amid shouts from thousands and the roar of cannon crackers.

The following is a list of those who left last night:

Sergt. V. E. LeBar.
Corp. B. Biggs.
Pte. P. R. Clinkscale.
Pte. V. Hamilton.
Pte. E. J. Hughes.
Pte. Vance Wilson.
Pte. Alf. Kemp.
Pte. Jas. A. Crossland.
Pte. H. M. Morden.
Pte. J. C. Dyer.
Pte. Frank Dyer.
Pte. Peter White.
Pte. Daniel Shanahan.
Pte. G. A. McDonald.
Pte. Wilfred Abrams.
Pte. Harry Wilson.
Pte. Charles Frost.
Pte. Jas. Judd.
Pte. Albert Gibson.
Pte. J. C. Strickland.
Pte. George Denoon.
Pte. T. H. Burnham.

NOTES.

Pte. Tom Burnham was given corporal's stripes before he left for Halifax.

Not an accident was reported as having occurred during the excitement.

Five more men were taken on the strength to-day, and two others who applied were rejected.

No. 4 Company turned out in large numbers and helped to make the demonstration a success.

A number of Lakefield gentlemen looked after Pte. Strickland, and gave him a hearty send-off.

It is not yet known when the remainder of the Peterborough contingent will go down to Halifax.

A feature of the demonstration was the great number of ladies who stayed at the station until the train pulled out.

Sergt. Miller was too good a man to let go as a corporal. He was therefore kept over until the second batch goes, of which he will be in command until they reach Halifax.

Pte. Gibson was not allowed to depart without a remembrance from his mates in the B. F. Ackerman Harness Factory, who presented him with a purse containing nineteen dollars.

A certain element in the community seems to find a great deal of fun in indulging in horse-play at the C. P. R. station every time a contingent goes to or returns from South Africa, much to the discomfort of more peaceably inclined citizens. The Chief of Police secured a number of names last evening and it is understood that the matter will be brought before the Police Magistrate. There will be trouble in store for anyone that starts a rush when the next detachment leaves.

CAMPAIGN ADDRESS.

The Provincial Secretary to Speak at Hastings.

Hon. J. R. Stratton will address the electors of East Northumberland upon the political issues of the hour at Hastings on Monday evening, April 21st.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The Junior Boys' Guild of St. Andrew's church will meet this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

—Mr. George Fitzgerald, yesterday received a letter from the late Capt. Milligan. The letter was written some time last month.

—The Nicholls Oval and the bicycle track around the same, are not yet in condition for use. Due notice of when they will be thrown open to the public will be given later.

—At the police court this morning Pte. Brooks, who will leave with the remaining Peterborough representatives for South Africa, was fined $2 and $7 costs for running down a young lady at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets some days ago.

—Mr. T. J. Parker's Bicycle and Repair Shop at the corner of Hunter and Queen street, is again in full swing. All orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to. A full stock of new and second hand wheels on hand. 30d61

THE SANATARIUM.

The appended letter has been received from Sir William Ralph Meredith:

Toronto, April 17th, 1902.

My Dear Sir,—I am glad to learn that you have good hopes that the Town Council will make a contribution in aid of the new hospital of the National Sanitarium Association. I shall be pleased to know that the grant is a liberal one. The expense attending the work of the Association is necessarily large and in view of its great importance, I know that an enterprising and progressive town like Peterborough will set a good example to the other municipalities.

Yours Very Truly,
W. R. MEREDITH.

SHALL WE KEEP OUR PROSPERITY?

In another column is printed an article from the editorial columns of the Toronto World, a Conservative journal, entitled "The Gospel of Prosperity." It points out how prosperity exists, and treats of the future of Canada in an optimistic strain.

After referring to the important part the Northwest will play in our prosperity, the World refers to the part New Ontario will play in a future of prosperity, in these words:

"We have, besides, the important developments, agricultural and otherwise, proceeding in New or Greater Ontario, the exploitation of the pulp forests, the erection of pulp and paper mills, with the wide world as the market for their output, and the immense industrial operations going on in connection with our coal and iron deposits in the far East, and iron mines in the middle west and our coal fields in the far west."

There is the right ring about the whole of the article from which the above is taken. It shows a robust faith in the great resources of our country, and a sympathy with a bold policy of development, especially in regard to New Ontario, such a policy as the Ross Government has been putting into practice, and will continue to put into practice.

The World is not too optimistic. A hopeful spirit costs nothing, and, besides, it is of value in inspiring a spirit of action and enterprise. The World might have gone much further and still have left much important truth unsaid.

The development of the resources of, and the settlement of new areas, brings great benefit to Older Ontario. Every development enterprise, whether a pulp mill or a smelter, or a saw mill, in New Ontario, creates demands for the products of our manufacturing establishments, and to produce this machinery, requires the services of mechanics and working men.

Every new settler planted in the Northwest or New Ontario, means a demand upon our factories and commercial houses. He and his family need cottons and clothing; he needs stoves and furniture; he needs ploughs; axes, chains, harrows, hoes, and, after a time, reapers, mowers, cultivators, and, as the auctioneer's posters says, other articles too numerous to mention.

Where will he get these except from older Ontario? And the Ross Government has made it certain that older Ontario will get the benefit. The Government aided by a grant of land, useless, unless opened up to settlement and commerce, the building of the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway, which will, with its direct connections with the railway systems of old Ontario, east and west of Meaford, Bruce County, as a centre, bring bring the whole tide of trade of the Ontario Northwest, into the manufacturing and trade channels of settled Ontario. The building of the Temiskaming Railway by the Government with Government lands, is another feature in the Ross Government policy of developing New Ontario for the benefit of the Old. This railway will open a million acres of splendid farming land for settlement, and Old Ontario will get the resulting trade. Without this line the trade of this region was in danger of being diverted to Montreal. We don't care how much trade Quebec gathers in from its new territory east of the Ottawa River and the provincial boundary line, but we want New Ontario trade for Old Ontario, and the Ross Government has provided that we shall have it.

Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, and the Opposition organs, as a rule, oppose the development policy of the Ross Government. He does not think "the land of the stunted poplar," worth looking after. But all level-headed electors, and some of the wiser Conservative journals, like the World and Toronto News, see in the development policy of the Ross Government, a means of keeping capital at work, turning now useless, dormant resources into commercial wealth, giving employment to labour, both on the scene of operations and in Old Ontario, the base of supplies.

The Ross Government shows that it has a sense of the responsibilities of government, while Mr. Whitney, and his following, cannot rise beyond a little petty policy of querulous fault-finding, or stretch forth a hand to grasp the situation. Which will do most to open the way to the fuller flow of the tide of prosperity now rolling over the country, the large progressive policy of the Ross Government, or the peddling policy of the Opposition, led by Mr. Whitney, with their carpet bag of political small-wares?

We shall not trouble "echo" to answer — the electors will answer at the polls, and no one doubts what the answer will be.

It's no time for a change.

ROSS' THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES.

Mr. Foy and the Mail are protesting strenuously against the striking indictment of forty counts, save one, brought against the Conservative party, by Mr. Ross at Newmarket, showing what would not have been had the Opposition been in power. Let us continue an examination of the several counts of the indictment:

No. 18—No Right of Public Property in Rivers and Streams.

The Opposition voted twice that the Dominion Government was right in disallowing the rivers and streams act. When the Privy Council had confirmed the legality of the law the Opposition voted against payment of the law costs incurred in defence of the Provincial rights.

No. 19—No New Ontario.

The boundary award rendered in 1879 confirmed to Ontario her title to all the land west of a line near Port Arthur and the land north of the divide. It suited Sir John Macdonald's purpose to refuse ratification of this award. The Conservative Opposition in Ontario sustained him to the extent of their power. In 1882, on the motion of Mr. Meredith, his party declared that the House "cannot fail to recognize the right of that body (the Dominion Parliament) in the exercise of its powers to adopt that course which, in the judgment of its members, sound policy and the rights of the people of the whole Dominion dictate."

No. 20—No Right of Property in the Land, Timber and Minerals.

When Sir John Macdonald trumped up his claim to the land, timber and minerals in new Ontario, and announced in a speech at Yorkville on June 1, 1882, that "not a stick of timber, not a pound of minerals, not an acre of the land shall ever belong to Ontario," he had again the loyal support of his allies in the Ontario Legislature.

No. 21—No Protest Against the Seizure of the Provincial Railways.

When in 1883 Sir John Macdonald seized upon the control of the railways, the Provincial Government held that railways, which had subsidized by the Province should not be removed from its control. The Opposition, however, failed to support the Provincial Government in its resistance to the usurpation.

No. 22—No Increased Representation for Algoma.

In the redistribution act of 1885 there was a clause dividing Algoma and giving it increased representation. The Opposition voted to reject the whole bill. The recent bill they did not oppose.

No. 23—No Minister of Agriculture. No Department of Agriculture.

In 1883 in recognition of the growing importance of the agricultural interests, the Government proposed to create a separate Department of Agriculture, with a Minister at its head. The Conservatives objected, and voted for a motion that the House "is of opinion that that end can be attained without incurring the expense of adding another member to the Executive Council, and the inevitable additional expense which will be consequent on such addition, and that therefore the said bill be not now read the third time."

No. 24—No Expenditure on Immigration.

The Conservatives have voted in almost every year to strike out the small vote of three or four thousand dollars necessary to keep open the office of the Government in Liverpool, the purpose of which is to give information about Ontario to persons seeking it.

No. 25—No Drainage Referee.

In 1891 the Opposition voted that it was not expedient to appoint a drainage referee. This official's services have been found invaluable in all sections where drainage works have been undertaken.

No. 26—No Western Dairy School.

In 1899 and again in 1900 the Opposition moved to strike out the grant of $2,658 for the Western Dairy School.

No. 27—No Pioneer Dairy Farm.

In 1899 they moved to strike out the grant of $1,000 for the Pioneer Dairy Farm.—Globe.

HARMONY AND PROGRESS.

We are assured that all is peace and harmony in the Conservative ranks—on the surface anyway. Why should there be harmony? There is only one reason. The party is a unit in the desire to gain office.

The Opposition has no policy except this, upon which all can unite. Each constituency seems to be "running its own show;" each has some little petty local scandal, some petty cry that takes the place of a policy.

North Toronto is a sample of the harmony that prevails and also gives evidence of the lack of policy of the Opposition, and the failure of Mr. Whitney to measure up to the standard of statesmanship.

There are two Conservatives in the field in North Toronto—an ex-leader of the Opposition and a would-be leader, Dr. Nesbitt.

Mr. G. F. Marter, the former leader of the Opposition is repudiated, because he "is sick and tired of hearing men called thieves and robbers"—a slap at Mr. Whitney, who used such violent language in reference to the development policy of the Government. Mr. Mater's remark led up to his adopting and supporting the advance policy of the Ross Government.

He is an enterprising man and his own party, offering no policy of advance, he was compelled, as a patriotic citizen of Ontario, to go with the Government on their policy.

The Opposition ranks, with the absence of a definite policy of progress, left no place for a progressive follower to stand upon. So upon this issue Mr. Marter joined with the supporters of the Ross Government.

Mr. Marter did not leave the Opposition party—that party stood still as it continues to stand. Mr. Marter went ahead. That's the reason why they are apart.

The day of small things is past with Mr. Marter. The Opposition lives in the day of small things as it has lived for the past thirty years.

That explains why it has been so long in opposition; why it remains in opposition and why it will continue to remain in opposition.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now that the price of beef has jumped so high, Mr. Whitney and the Opposition might make something even out of the "calf with a cough."

The other day the Mail and Empire said that there hadn't been a house cleaning at the Parliament buildings for thirty years and that the Opposition should be given a chance to do the job. A Collegiate Institute boy hearing the above read in the family circle appositely remarked that the Mail was right—Mr. Whitney and his followers had done so much mud-slinging in the building that the services of a street scraper was indicated.
